SOMETHING TO EAT.—Mr. Lewis Gleason has associated with him Mr. Hoge, and they will continue to sell Beef, Pork, and Fowls, at the old stand. These gentlemen intend to keep a good supply of everything in their line and will be pleased to serve those who may call on them.

FURNITURE.—Those of our friends requiring anything in the Furniture line, will not fail to examine our advertising columns. Mr. Roller, and Mr. Dodge, each have large supplies on hand and offer extra inducements to cash buyers.

THE WOOL.—We are now in fine running order, and are on the look-out for all job work that may be wanted. Cards, Bill and Letter Heads, Circulars, Posters, Labels, Pamphlets, Tax Receipts, etc., at the lowest living rates. Call and we will suit you in regard to style and price.

SELLING AT COST.—Charlie Nichols offers his stock of Dress goods at cost, until the 1st of January. Now is a fine opportunity to buy Christmas presents. He also has a good stock of Clothing which he will sell cheap. Call on him and we will guarantee he will suit you in regard to quality and price.

☞ Capt. Geo. W. Stevenson's Dramatic Company commenced a brief season of entertainments at Hangsterfer's Hall on Tuesday evening. The company is said to be good.—COURIER.

TOXOPHILITE.—Our citizens should feel proud of our little barber, Chas. Youngman, who is an old hand(ish) with the razor. He has a neat shop, sharp razors and easy chairs. Call and see how nice he can fix you up.

STOVES.—A. H. Miller in Goodyear's block has a big stock of Stoves and general Hardware which he is selling at a low figure.

WINTER.—Rugged, relentless winter has come to us, on this occasion, with her best foot forward. Now is the time to buy your Overcoats Clarkson has a good assortment which they will sell at a low figure. Also, clothing of all descriptions, in fact, anything you may want, from a Carpet tack, to a Grecian bend.

☞ Mr. Link has returned from Missouri well pleased with the trip. He has purchased lead and will settle at Knob Noster. Hammond and Boyle have gone to look at Kansas—all well.

THE WEATHER.—Cold winter weather has come once again with its winds and snows. Monday was a "quarter," Sugar, and noses were frozen in short order.

☞ The wind moaned as if disappointed at finding every one comfortably housed and the doors closed against it. We have good sleighing, and the merry jingle of the bells as they pass, should cheer everybody and his cousin are enjoying themselves mightily. We hope the snow will remain all winter as it will have a tendency to make times more lively and cheerful.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—But three weeks have passed since the ENTERPRISE was called upon to record a sad and fatal railroad accident, which cast a gloom over our quiet village. Today we are compelled to note a similar accident, which occured almost at the same place, and proved fatal to one of our young and promising citizens. Lawson W. Leap, aged 24 years, was employed as brakeman of the accommodation or freight train, and while in the act of climbing a car to adjust the breaks, at our station on Tuesday morning last, his foot slipped and the wheels crushed his left leg above the knee. Drs. Lynch and Selle were called and the unfortunate sufferer was removed to his residence. The engine immediately proceeded to Jackson and returned with Dr. Chittock, who, assisted by our Physicians, amputated the limb. Mr. Leap lingered until half past five o'clock and expired. He leaves a mother and sister, also a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely death. He was a sober, industrious, unassuming young man, the main support of a widow mother and young sister. The funeral sermon was preached Rev. Wm. Tilley, at the Baptist Church to-day, and we listened to by a large concourse of citizens.

As soon as the accident became known, a subscription was circulated and liberally signed, to defray the expenses of the unfortunate man. Conductor Curtis and his associates rendered all assistance at their command. This train is indeed unlucky. We understand that eight persons have lost their lives by it during the past year, and Mr. Curtis barely escaped death, while coupling cars last Spring. Mr Leap was upon the train that crushed Bertie Doty, also upon the train that ran over Mrs. Fox at Tecumseh, and it seems strange that he should meet his sad fate after so much warning. The bereaved friends have the warmest sympathy of our citizens, also the officers and employes of the road, who are ever ready to extend aid to relieve those who suffer by these accidents. "In the midst of life we are in death."

UNION MEETINGS.—The different denominations of our village have been holding union meetings at the Baptist Church three times each day, which are very interesting as well as beneficial to our people, and we hope the good workings have worked a change for the better in the hearts of many of the listeners. On Sunday evening the house was crowded, and while the audience listened to the words of the good Shepard, some felt that they have "strayed from their ways like lost sheep," and longed to seek the shelter of the fold of Jesus. On Tuesday evening Mr. Graves, the revivalist, preached a sermon for the benefit of the young men; the business houses were closed and the church was filled to its utmost capacity and the sermon was listened to by many who are daily treading the ragged path, and drawing nearer and nearer to the brink of destruction.—Some have experienced a change and we hope before these meetings are closed, many more will see the "folly of their ways" and become life members of the Christian family.

NEWS DEPOT.—Mrs. Rogers has purchased the News Depot and will continue Dress-making, Stamping and the News Department at the old room in Goodyear's Block. She is agent for the Howe Sewing Machine also, the Lamb Knitting Machine, and will be pleased to wait upon those who may favor her with their patronage. Dress-making a specialty.

MASONIC FESTIVAL.—Our readers will not forget that the Masons hold their Annual Festival at Goodyear's Hall, next Thursday Evening. The committee of arrangements say "a good time is expected." We endorse the sentiment and assure our readers that their expectations will be realized. We find upon the programme "a brief address," music, songs and Tableaux, which will contribute largely toward "the good time coming." There will be a Public Installation of the Officers of Meridian Chapter No. 48 of Royal Arch Masons, in full ranks.

LITERARY.—Members of the M. L. A. L. A. are requested to meet at Conklin's Hall, Tuesday evening next at 7 o'clock, to reorganize for the coming winter. A pleasant evening, entertainment will be expected, and a cordial invitation is extended to those in search of literary knowledge. J. M. McLean, Pres't.

☞ There were 21 new contracts placed in the penitentiary at Jackson during the month of November. During the same period, 16 were discharged, one pardoned and one died, leaving on the first instant, 858 inmates. The death was that of James E. Cromwell, sent from Monroe in 1853 for murder and sentenced to solitary imprisonment for life. An Asylum for insane prisoners is being built in connection with the penitentiary.

For the Enterprise.

LETTER FROM THE WEST.

KANSAS CITY, Nov 1st. 1868.

MR. EDITOR.—As I am in advance and waiting for my comrade, who are visiting some friends, I will drop you a line as per agreement.

The change of climate and water have produced some effect upon me, but nothing serious as yet. We enjoyed a very pleasant trip and have seen some beautiful country while passing through Missouri. I have conversed with men who reside in Kansas, and they say Missouri does not offer inducements to settlers equal to Kansas. I saw a gentleman who informed me that he had just purchased a farm of 400 acres, three miles south of Lawrence, 200 acres improved, 80 acres of corn and 60 ready for wheat, good house and barn, all of which he purched for $6,550. He is from Canada and is thorough farmer. There is no doubt, in my mind, but that Kansas will discount her sister States in raising grain, fruit and stock, at no very distant day. At or near Ft Scott, is several large tracts of land (Indian reserves) that will come into market as soon as Congress meets in December. Some forty or fifty of the best and mostly wealthy stock growers of Canada, are locating 30,000 acres of these "reserves." I have seen some of the most beautiful land between Xenia and this place, still I daily converse with people who inform me that it is surpassed further West. It is astonishing to note how many families are seeking homes in this beautiful country. The thermometer never reaches 100 degrees in the summer. They make grain a staple crop, and it yields from 15 to 25 bushels per acre. It is for prevailing opinion here that all real estate will double during the coming year. Generally speaking the farmers are very slack; they only plow three inches deep. Winter wheat, Barley, Oats, Corn and Potatoes grow remarkably well. Stock is very cheap, with the exception of good sheep. The extreme price of horses is $125; cows per pair $60; good sheep from $16 to $20. It requires about the same team to break this soil that is used for old jump-grass.

Today is clear, warm and pleasant, and I enjoy it very much. Had Michigan this climate, it would be all mortal man could desire but, everything considered I think Kansas offers the best inducements to those blessed with limited capital who wish to build a pleasant home.

They are building railroads in almost every direction. Hundreds of men are grading and laying rails between this place, Ft. Scott, Lawrence and other towns; but a few years will elapse before transportation will be equal to that of Eastern States.

We intend to purchase a team and prospect the State thoroughly. In my next I will endeavor to give you a better idea of the West.

WESTON.

Tuesday December 1st, at 4 p. m. Mr. Weston started from Bangor, Maine, on a march of 5,000 miles, to be completed in 100 days. By the terms of his wager, meet he is to walk to St. Paul and back to the starting point by some route that shall be the above distance, in 100 consecutive walking days. In case he succeeds he is to receive $20,000, and nothing in case of failure. In order to win he will have to walk an average of 50 miles each day. His route is due west to Buffalo; thence through Michigan to Chicago; thence to Prescott, where he will cross the Mississippi; thence up the river to St. Paul, which city he must reach on or before January 20th. To make the full distance he will make a detour through Minnesota and Iowa, down to St. Louis, and then through to Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Columbus Wheeling, Steubenville, Pittsburg Harrisburg, Baltimore and Philadelphia, to New York. He will walk through seventeen states, one hundred and eighty-eight counties, and seven hundred and twenty eight cities and towns, and take nine millions seven hundred and four thousand and nine hundred and sixty-eight steps.—TOLEDO COM.

☞ "A Louisville post writes as follows of the first appearance of a case of Grecian bend in that city:

She stepped upon the platform—
Her dress I can't intend—
For oh! that Grecian bend of hers
Clings to my memory yet.
Her sashe was like the sunbeam;
Her bonnet "mimic" too;
But that lovely Grecian bend of hers
Was the "Sacrilege" to me!
Her material was gorgeous,
And all who saw it admired
Just her grace thus never equaled
By the Graceless herd.
But alas, for sunless beauty,
Dress will return to dust,
And a most exclusive bender,
Is doomed to touch and rust.
In stooping to assume her seat,
(I hate to tell, but must,)
Some wicksidious thing that staid her up
Bust double—and then "in all"
She softly skirted, and sweetly smiled,
And then in accents tender,
As she rubbed her back, she pensly said:
"Thank Heaven I'm off my bender!"

HOW TO COOK A BEAN.

Many cooks have much trouble in cooking beans. Where hard water is used, they don't know exactly how much to "break" it, and where soft water is used they don't know just how long to boil them, &c. For the benefit of unfortunate bean-cookers we give the following excellent receipt:

Buy a bean, bathe it well, put it in twelve quarts of stenched river water (if you haven't got a river, better buy one, as they are handy to have), bile it six hours by an aveirdupois clock, take it out and wipe it thoroughly dry with a soft towel—an old skirt won't answer—lay it on its northeast side, about two degrees south of south-by-east, bake a hole carefully in each end, shutters the "innards" very quietly without moving very much, then stuff one end with soft boiled rice, and the other with rice boiled soft; the end that points towards the north should, in all instances, except in cases of extreme homesickness, be stuffed first; then take the south side of the shell off gently; then the east carefully, so the eastern people won't know it, then season with salt, and it will taste so much like rice you'd never dream it was a bean.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for January is already out; the most brilliant we have ever seen. The superb Colored Berlin Pattern alone is worth twice the price of the number. Then there are two Steel Engravings, one of them—"Mud Pies" with the cunningest little children; a double sized Colored Steel Fashion Plate and more than fifty Woodcuts of Fashions, Embroideries, and other Patterns. The stories are of the highest class—"Perdidious Flanchette," is the well-timed title of one. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens' new novelet, opens in a most masterly manner. The author of "Margaret Howth," has also a powerful tale. We do not see how any lady can do without "Peterson." Now is the time to subscribe for 1869! Terms $2.00 a year. To clubs, four copies for $6.00, with a premium engraving, "The Star of Bethlehem," to the person getting up the club, or eight copies for $12.00 with both the engraving and an extra copy for premiums. Specimens sent gratis to persons getting up clubs. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Pa.

ENCYCLOPEDIA.—We have received the first number of Zell's Popular Encyclopedia and Universal Dictionary of Art, Science, History, Biography, Geography and Language. This is really a wonderful production, and the period of it has given us great pleasure and profit. We know of no work containing anything like the same amount of valuable information. The price is marvellously low. We cannot see how the publisher can afford to give so much for so small a sum as 10 cents. Persons desiring agencies, and we think all who try must do well at it, should address the Publisher, Mr. T. Ellwood Zell, Philadelphia. We understand he sends sample copies to applicants, gratis.

☞ We will send the Enterprise one year, price $2.00, and PETERSON'S Magazine one year, price $2.00, to any person (not already a subscriber to Peterson's) for $3.00; or, we will send the Magazine one year, as a present to any one who will send us the names of three new subscribers, with the money.

Mr. Ed. Chamberlain, (Rep., Ala.) introduced a bill to amend the Constitution so as to prohibit the exercise of slavery, in the interest of the Treasury, and reasoning that it would be a great saving of money through reduction of expenditures, taxes, pensions, and greatly increased revenue, and greatly increased prosperity, with increased facilities for mail conveyance, and that Xmas would be made a national holiday, and observed. He was in favor of the Senate remaining prostrated in memory of the late President.

Mr. Wallace, (Rep., Texas) said the State of Tennessee believed the Senate should be prostrated from the high pinnacle of slavery, to the lowly and humble position of a Democratic Senate. He had hoped the Senate would be prostrated in memory of the late President.

The Law of Newspapers.

1. Subscribers who do not give the contrary order are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of the paper, they must pay all arrearages if they wish the publisher to discontinue sending it.

3. If subscribers order their papers to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send them, they are bound to pay for the whole time they take the paper, or they can have it stopped back to the time they first took it.

4. If they remove their papers to another place without informing the publisher, and they continue to receive them, they are bound to pay for them in the place they first subscribed for.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the office, and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of fraud.

6. Any person who has subscribed for a paper, and is held to be responsible for the subscription, until he has ordered it to be stopped, and has paid all arrearages.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—The Local of the Western correspondent goes into ecstacies over the inauguration of the era of buckwheat cakes, and gives vent to his "plaudits" in the following gushing language:

"Clamored to arrive—the buckwheat cakes. How are you, Sapsago? Pass that honey this way, if you please. Dear me, ain't they nice? Another one, Mary, thank you. Now I will griddle hot, dear, and do them brown, but not a shade beyond. If a fellow could had such things when a boy, he would have had fallen on them with a pitchfork. Mary, I'm in raptures. ☞ The consumption of ale and beer has become so great in this country that there is not barley enough grown on the continent to supply the demand. Canada has been drained of all her surplus barley, and yet the cry is for more. A brewery firm in near Cincinnati are buying barley in Germany, having received a few days since 2500 bushels direct from Rheinpfalz. The German barley weighs eight pounds more to the bushel than that grown in this country.

☞ If you can control the tongue so that no improper words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able to control the mind and save it from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts bursting into language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of the most religious man or refined female. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of yourself.

CANADA.—You have visited my daughter a long time," said an anxious mother to a young gentleman of our acquaintance the other day. "What are your intentions sir?"

"Honorable, entirely so," said the gentleman. "I intend backing out, as the coachman says."

"You do, do you? backing out, and pray sir, what are your reasons for desiring the poor girl?"

"I have several," said our friend.

"Well, name them, if you can, you imp of Satan—you little-whitened, brook-kissed, carrot-haired, pore-faced, pimpled-eyed, no-shouldered dolt—you thing—you scrap; you fag end of nothing; you—Your daughter," said he interrupting her, "don't wear her bustle right. I have seen it on one sided. Her dressmaker says she is padded in a dozen places, and tears two pairs of stays; her false teeth don't stay in well, and she puts castor oil on her wig, madam. I can't stand such carelessness.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—The Local of the Western correspondent goes into ecstacies over the inauguration of the era of buckwheat cakes, and gives vent to his "plaudits" in the following gushing language:

"Clamored to arrive—the buckwheat cakes. How are you, Sapsago? Pass that honey this way, if you please. Dear me, ain't they nice? Another one, Mary, thank you. Now I will griddle hot, dear, and do them brown, but not a shade beyond. If a fellow could had such things when a boy, he would have had fallen on them with a pitchfork. Mary, I'm in raptures. The mountains look to the distance. Mary, will you marry me?"

THE OUTCAST.

[From the Toledo Commercial.]

She stood by the window, gazing out into the street beneath her. Her head drooped upon her hand and her sorrowful eye betoken feelings of sadness. She was young, girlish, and pretty; but the finger of scorn was pointed at the room where she dwelt and sneering looks, more than words said it was the home of an outcast.

Who was the possessor of that young, sad face? Was she human? Had she a soul? Was every emotion of sorrow lost dead within her? Let us get a little nearer, and, unobserved, be an observer. What! a tear? What has she to do with tears? And yet a little nearer—a voice! can it be hers?—low, sweet, and mournful,—"O! my dear mother, my angel sister, loved friends, and early home: why did I ever leave you! The tempter lured me and I fell; but this suffering, this remorse—alas! it is all too late, alone in the great cold world, no loving heart to trust, no pitying hand to stay. On, on; my course will soon be run and then I hope,—yes, hope for mercy. There is one that will not spurn me. He made my soul, and knows that I am human. Till then, adieu to all that life holds dear. Away with those foolish tears, they ill become me. Were my heart to break 'twould be the same to all, save one." Gentle reader, as you gather your garments so daintily about you—as you coldly pass the outcast—do you ever think, that had the tempter lost you in your youthful innocence YOU MIGHT have fallen!

Mothers, have you daughters that are indulging in love's young dream, trusting the winning smiles and honied words of "that young man? Guard them well, else your darlings may be outcasts.

☞ The consumption of ale and beer has become so great in this country that there is not barley enough grown on the continent to supply the demand. Canada has been drained of all her surplus barley, and yet the cry is for more. A brewery firm in near Cincinnati are buying barley in Germany, having received a few days since 2500 bushels direct from Rheinpfalz. The German barley weighs eight pounds more to the bushel than that grown in this country.

CANADA.—You have visited my daughter a long time," said an anxious mother to a young gentleman of our acquaintance the other day. "What are your intentions sir?"

"Honorable, entirely so," said the gentleman. "I intend backing out, as the coachman says."

"You do, do you? backing out, and pray sir, what are your reasons for desiring the poor girl?"

"I have several," said our friend.

"Well, name them, if you can, you imp of Satan—you little-whitened, brook-kissed, carrot-haired, pore-faced, pimpled-eyed, no-shouldered dolt—you thing—you scrap; you fag end of nothing; you—Your daughter," said he interrupting her, "don't wear her bustle right. I have seen it on one sided. Her dressmaker says she is padded in a dozen places, and tears two pairs of stays; her false teeth don't stay in well, and she puts castor oil on her wig, madam. I can't stand such carelessness.
