DIED.

In Sharon, March 12th, infant and Twin-daughter of Ash and Almira Gage.

At Blackhawk, Colorado Ty., February 21st, 72, of typhoid pneumonia, Miss Mary Schillinger. Aged 24 years.

Lay me a-way,
Close beside her in the lea,
With the little shoes her energy,
There, oh, lay me when I die;
For I love to feel and hear and touch
Ever her mourn'ly around me creeps,
And when I am gone, oh! lay me
Lay me where my mother sleeps.

Lay me where my mother's sleeping,
In the quiet and silent grave,
Keep the place their watch are keeping,
Place the cypress and the flowers
For she was gentle, kind and loving
Watch'd every wish of my heart that now weeps
And when angel voices call me
Lay me where my mother sleeps.

Lay me where my mother's sleeping,
Where the shadows evermy lie,
And the sunlight's ever peeping,
Through the leaves from on high;
There the winds sigh, sadly o'er her,
And the pines and the low watch ever keeps,
And when life's sad dream is over,
Lay me where my mother sleeps.

DR. CROOK'S WINE OF TAR.

The years of a public test have proved Dr. Crook's Wine of Tar to have more merit than any similar preparation ever offered to the public. It is rich in the medicinal qualities of the Pine Tree, a specific for diseases of the Throat and Lungs, performing the MOST REMARKABLE CURES. It EFFECTUALLY cures all Coughs and Colds. It has cured many cases of Asthma and Bronchitis, that it has been pronounced a specific. For Pulmonary Complaints, for Pain in the Breast, Side or Back, Graves' or Kidney Disease, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness and any Liver Complaint it has no equal. It is also a superior Tonic, Restores the Appetite, Strengthens the System, Restores the Weak and Debilitated, Renovates the Aged in Spring or Summer, Purifies the Blood, Gives tone to your System.

That Pale, Yellow, Sickly-Looking Skin is channeled to one of freshness and health. These D'Orsay of the Sex are not deceptive. Pustules, Blotches and Eruptions are the signals of Vitiated Blood, and symptoms of the Eyes, Water Swelling, Eczema, Old Sores or any kind of Humor rapidly develop and disappear under its influence. In fact it will do you more good, and cure you more speedily than any and all other preparations combined. That will it to you to-day, and to-morrow? A sensible word of truth is sufficient to the wise. Purify your Blood and avoid all the disagreeable consequences. It will cure all diseases of the Blood, Sluggish Disease of the bowels, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Pains in Limbs or Bones, Constitutions broken down by Mercurial or other poisons, are all cured by the Wonderful Powers of this little tablet, there is nothing equal to it. The Erie Legislative Investigating Committee met in New York on Friday, and heard the statements of W. A. O'Donoghue, who disclosed nothing that has not already been made public. He exhibited photographs taken from the books of the Erie Company, showing payments by millions persons for sums received from Gen. McMahon. O'Donoghue testified that the Erie directors voted $30,000 to W. H. Vanderbilt for expenses in defeating adverse legislation. Vanderbilt refused to receive it. Jay Gould testified that about $75,000 of Decorah bonds, he spoke to W. B. Duncan and L. P. Morton about a change in the Board of Directors of the Erie Company, but he also wrote to J. S. Morgan, of London, as to the proper means for forming a new board, and the only terms of proper means in regard to reorganization was that all large railway interests should have equal interests, and the old directors were to go out voluntarily. Witness testified that if there should be any trouble in getting the old board to give way, that he should procure a majority of the existing stockholders, and get an order for a new election, the authority of the Legislature being friendly to any plan for the benefit of the Erie Road. It was agreed that Mr. Duncan should go to Europe in furtherance of his plan and if Messrs. McHenry and Hoffman should return from Europe the arrangement was still to be carried out. Witness first communicated with Mr. Hoffman on the subject after Mr. Lane had pressed a willingness to resign and to aid in forming a new organization. Mr. Lane subsequently said a conspiracy had been formed, and the last of the directors had been bought, and they were only waiting for friends from England. Think, Gilbert, witness said, he had paid $250,000 was to be paid different directors, and T. believe he mentioned George C. Hall and Justin D. Fox as among them. Mr. Sinnott was to receive $50,000 and White $25,000. Randell, he said, was the agent man to be had to bargain with. Mr. Sinnott name was also mentioned. Gould then described the secret scheme for the capture of the control in the Erie Company. Witness knew nothing personally of any money having been paid directors for resigning, but understood that it was paid by the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, and that it had not been reimbursed by Jay Gould. Witness opposed the repeal of the Classification act, but could no means other than paying the salaries of the members of the persons, and knew nothing of money being that he will suspend his functions in the case of others until his own shall have been fully investigated.

THE WAR.

The Pall Mall Gazette of a late date reports that sixty-seven bodies of the victims of the Smyrna cafe and concert-hall fire have been found, and that many more still remained in the deep mud into which they sank when the building fell into the pit. The number of the dead probably will be much larger. The Greek hospital was very pathetic indeed.

The steamship Merrimac, which arrived at New York from Havana on Thursday, brought Mr. Delmonico, who was a passenger of a party of 300, who left Englandbound on the steamship Bavaria, on the flattering promises from what represented to be a Brazilian colonization society. The whole party suffered heavily at their were victims of deception. Many died of starvation, and others were unable to leave for want of means.

Goodrich, was found in the basement of one of a row of handsome tenement dwellings on Fifty-first street, near Degraw street, near Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, with a pistol shot wound through the head and a wound over the right eye, leaving but little doubt of his death by the hands of some burglar.

A STREET IN CHINA.

A Ramble in the Heart of Cathay.

The following is an interesting extract from Mr. William Mesmer's new book, entitled "Ten Years in Cathay." A ramble along the main street of a great Chinese city shows off the signs to rare advantage, and discloses some remarkable sights. Here is the general appearance of a searlet or black and inscribed with gilt large boldly penned characters in gold. It reads, being interpreted, "Limitless production. Feasts prepared à la Parisienne, or à la Chinoise," a distinction, it may be presumed, possessed of more importance to the Celestials than to their foreign rivals. "The delicacies of the season; sea-slugs smothered in vermicelli and trimmed with finely-shred ham. Force-meat puffs, resin of boiled rice, plain or with cooked meats, lamp at all hours." This is one side of the shop; on the other is displayed a similar, but not less pretentious, board suggesting the possession of "Delicacies from the sea." Peeping into the interior of the shop, may be observed another attractive but smaller sign-board, tastefully fitted in crimson and gold, which points out to the sentimental or sociable way farer that he may be supplied with "tender-hearted girls." Not far off and on the other wall is displayed a suggestive hint, also cleverly framed, that "famous wines are within, love the wine of a thirsty customer. Each of these signs has a band of scarlet and dazzling hue from the banner, to which the shop has been lately established or enlarged, or that some accession of business or capital has accrued to the firm, scarlet being the festive color in China. The frequently seen white cotton or hemp-cloth sign observed similarly mounted, a sign that death has taken place in the family, while being the color of mourning. At New Year time the sign-boards are thickly decorated with scarlet strips, bearing more especially among the Cantonese.

The Chinese are a polite people, wise, and courteously eschewed the offer of a smothered sea-slug, we will pass farther on, and we will pass a series of "Sweet" sign-boards, backed by low upon row of bright-hued glass lanterns, all prettily painted with figures of flowers and Chinese writing. It does not need any comment to show that the Chinese were in the business done upon these premises, the little ones are in attendance, and are sedulously suggestive. Over the centre door are displayed two characters, meaning "Double-headed Phoenix." This is in the case of the characters representing "Limitless production." It appears that the birds are intended to be the designation or style of the shop.

Taking its other boards in their order, the first sets forth that "Decoctions are prepared with accuracy from fragrant materials," leaving one to infer that "John Chinaman" "likes his doses characteristically as well as his food." Then follows "Pillows, powders, ointments, and pills barefully mixed." A third announces "Drugs from every province in the empire." Then your others, by way of hint probably to the "Sweet" "Sweet" "Sweet"

A LIBRARY IN ONE VOLUME.—Among the mountains of Virginia, sometime since, the writer of this, met a man on horseback, behind him and attached to his saddle, was a large package, which he seemed to guard with a peculiar care. "You appear to have a great treasure attached to your saddle," we remarked. "Yes, sir," was the response—"Yes, sir, I have been over to Richmond and bo't myself a library." "An entire library on horseback?" "Yes, sir, I have WEBSTER UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY in this package, and it is a whole library in itself. I always get the best!"—[Iowa Tribune.

PROPOSED RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION.—On Wednesday the directors of the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana, the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw, and the Detroit, Eel River & Illinois resolved upon a consolidation of the three companies and roads, and elected P. B. Loomis of Jackson, President, and D. L. Quirk of Ypsilanti, Vice President. Before the arrangement can be fully and finally consummated, however, the stockholders will have to be consulted, and those owning stock in each of the roads will be called together at an early date to ratify the action of the directors. A special meeting of the stockholders of the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana Railroad is to be held in Ypsilanti for this purpose on June 3, at 11 a. m.

FIRE.—The citizens of our village were startled on Thursday evening last, by the alarm of fire. Immediately a large number of citizens were on the streets and it was discovered that East Manchester was the scene of the conflagation. "It's the Paper Mill" was the cry, and all took a double quick for the scene. However, as they neared the Eastern limits of the village it was ascertained that it was not the Paper Mill, but the Cooper Shop of Seymour Hammon—a description of which we gave in the ENTERPRISE last fall. In a few moments the entire building was in a sheet of flames and defied the efforts of a host of men with pails of water. It was soon evident that the shop could not be saved and attention was turned to the barrel and stock buildings on either side. The intensity of the heat drove the men away for a time and fears were entertained all of the buildings would be swept away. Fortunately the wind was in the north-west and the stock-building was saved. Mr. Hammon had $600 insurance on the buildings and $600 on the stock, in the Detroit Fire & Marine. His loss will be from $800 to $1000; he has the sympathy of the entire community. This was the first fire we have had in this village in five years.

DIED.

At Blackhawk, Colorado Ter., February 21st 1873, of typhoid pneumonia, Miss Mary Schillinger, aged 24 years. Her remains were brought to Freedom for interment, March 18th, 1873.

Lay me where my mother's sleeping,
Close beside her let me lie,
With the flow'rs above her creeping,
There, oh, lay me when I die;
For I lov'd her fond and dearly,
Ever her mem'ry around me creeps,
And when I am gone, oh! lay me,
Lay me where my mother sleeps.

Lay me where my mother's sleeping,
In the cold unpeopled grave,
Where the stars their watch are keeping,
And the grasses o'er her wave;
She was gentle, kind and loving,
Watch'd every wish of my heart that now weeps
And when angel voices call me,
Lay me where my mother sleeps.

Lay me where my mother's sleeping,
Where the shadows sweetly lie,
And the sunlight's ever peeping
Through the leaflets green on high;
Then the winds sigh sadly o'er her,
And the pale moon its lone watch ever keeps,
And when life's sad dream is over,
Lay me where my mother sleeps.
