MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

AN INDEPENDENT, LIVE, LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

VOL. 33.—NO. 48. Entered at Post-Office at Manchester, Mich., as Second-Class Matter. MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1900. WHOLE NUMBER 1764.

AS THE WORLD MOVES ROUND

PRICE 25 CENTS

Wearin' Sandals in London.

The women of London have taken to the Grecian and Roman sandals this year and at the watering places the most fashionable dames and misses are wearing them. "It is children who wear them principally," a maker of these sandals acknowledged, "children and women. Women have been mad for infant wear, but the children's sandals are for general use, and it is astonishing how enormously popular they have grown during the last few years. Personally I have an idea this sandal-wearing is more of a passing fancy than a permanent institution. Yous see, this climate is so changeable. It might rain at any moment, and the child's feet get very wet, and if in the summer it is not wet it is usually extremely dusty, and the dust gets in the stockings to the feet and is very uncomfortable, especially as first or get wet in the sandals, the sole of the sandal, and that hurts the child's feet."

WEARING SANDALS.

Statue of John Brown

Much pleasure is expressed by colored people of Chicago over the proposition of John Brown, the hero of Harper's Ferry is to be erected in Lincoln park. The matter has just been settled by the action of the Lincoln park commissioners in formally accepting the order of the statue of John Brown. The movement originated with a few prominent colored men who have raised enough money for the purpose of erecting a statue of the martyr abolitionist. It will be of bronze, six feet in height, and will represent the colored race toward the white race in the person of a child protectingly in his bosom while in his right hand he holds a drawn sword. The sculptor of the statue is to be of Vermont granite. The movement to erect the statue originated with Hon. J. H. Foley of St. Paul, Minn., who is president of the monument association, and of which the Rev. G. Ogden Gaines of Chicago is first vice-president.

HEALTHY WOMEN.

Mary J. Kennedy, manager of Arcade & Co. Exhibit at the Pan-American Mississippi Exposition at Omaha, Neb., writes the following of Peruna, as a cure for that common phase of summer catarrh, known as indigestion. Miss Kennedy says:

"I found the continual change of diet incidental to my duties as a traveling company, plainly upset my digestive system. In consulting an eminent physician, I decided I suffered with catarrh of the stomach.

"The prescriptions did not seem to help me any; so, reading of the remarkable cures effected by the use of Peruna, I decided to try it and very soon felt well again.

"I have now used Peruna for about three years and feel completely rejuvenated. I believe I am permanently cured, and do not hesitate to give unstinted praise to your great remedy, Peruna."

The 4 uses of summer catarrh are first, chronic catarrh, second, derangements of the stomach and liver; third, impure blood.

Such is the case anyone who knows anything whatever about the operations of Peruna can understand why this remedy is a permanent cure for summer catarrh. It strengthens the system, invigorates the stomach and liver, purifies the blood and imparts a healthy tone for permanently cures by removing the cause. It is the best medicine for all the symptoms of summer catarrh. Write a complete statement of your case and address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Resources of Culture.

A distinguished lecturer once told a story of an engagement he had made to deliver a discourse in one of the interior towns, on the subject of "The Beacon Lights of Civilization." He reached the place, he said, "a little behind time, and went directly to the hall. A large audience had assembled, I was introduced in due form by the president of the literary society under whose auspices I was to appear, and laying my manuscript on the desk before me I opened it and waited a moment for the applause to subside. Imagine my horror when I found I had accidentally brought along the wrong lecture—one on the Wonders of modern mechanism. Some people did you do?" asked one of the group of whom he was narrating the incident, "I went right ahead." he replied. The audience didn't know the difference.—Youths' Companion.

Supreme Court Sustains the Foot-Ease Trade-Mark.

Justice Lanning, in Supreme Court, Buffalo, has ordered a permanent injunction issued restraining Frank Pierce, of Lockport, from selling Paul R. Hudson's celebrated Foot-Ease Powders, accompanied by Clark's Foot-Powder, and restraining them from making, selling or representing their foot-powder, which he declared, in the decision, to be a very inferior article, and to be a fraud on the public. Hudson's Foot-Ease powders are for relief, aching feet, now so large-selling proprietary specialties. Mr. Hudson, Allen S. Olmsted, of Le Roy, N. Y., has recently moved to Buffalo, N. Y., Lake, and he is the most distinguished advertiser of proprietary specialties over the country. He will send a sample free to any one who writes for it. The decision in this case upholds Hudson's trade-mark against imitators liable who fraudulently put up their "Foot-Ease" advertising, in imitation of Hudson's advertising, and similar advertisements, and boxes like Foot-Ease. Similar suits have been brought against others who are now infringing on the Foot-Ease trade-mark and compelled to take up.

A Curious Story of Complications.

The marriage of Isaac Williams and Mrs. Lydia Ruby, at Oklahoma City, brings into print a curious story of complications which arose out of the maladministration of the territory's divorce laws. Some years ago Mrs. Ruby procured a divorce from Mr. Ruby in the probate court. She then married Mr. Williams, and they lived together happily for two years. At the end of that time it was decided by the supreme court that the probate judges had no jurisdiction in divorce cases, and that all decrees issued by them were null and void. Mr. and Mrs. Williams at once separated, and she brought suit in the district court for divorce from her former husband. In due time this was granted, and, after the lawful time had elapsed, she was married again to Williams.

Bait for the Bowels.

No matter what ails you, headache to a cancer, you will never get well until your bowels are put right. CASCARETS help nature, tone the liver, stomach and pelvic parts, produce easy natural movements, cost you just 10 cents to start getting your health back. CASCARETS Candy Cathartic, the genuine, put up in metal boxes, every tablet has C. C. C. stamped on it. Beware of imitations.

Illiteracy in North Carolina.

Illiteracy in North Carolina is increasing, particularly among the whites. By the census of 1870 there were 56,111 illiterate white voters in North Carolina; in 1880, 44,420; in 1890, 49,570—an average increase of 106 illiterate voters a year, and a total of 21 per cent of the entire white voting population.

Thermometer Bursts.

Arizona Has Summer Weather That Has Not Been Recorded.

The cottonwoods have shed their caterpillars, there has been a thunderstorm, mesquite wood has fallen in price, Indians are selling bows and arrows, the rose and the oleander have long been out, oranges are in bloom, the umbrella tree is putting out its leaves, last summer's salt has melted and passed away, the small boy has gone swimming in the canal, the wise man stays up nights and steals irrigation water from his neighbors, alfalfa is almost ready to cut, strawberries have been shipped, mulberries are nearly ripe, summer will soon be here and the Phoenix summer bedroom will soon be necessary. Phoenix sleeps out of doors in the summer and the bedroom is born out of that necessity. It is an attic, is built of wire screen of fine mesh, for the Phoenix mosquito is microscopic in size. It is furnished according to the taste of the owner, part, with interior curtains to keep out the morning sun, the gaze of the curious and the sand storm. The bed is a cot of canvas or woven wire, covered, perhaps, with a sheet, but ever and anon it feels like a feathered bed—Phoenix summer night. The bed covering is the roof of the bedroom, and careless folks who commit their souls for only don't wear nightshirts. Phoenix is proud of its climate during eight months of the year. It doesn't talk much in public about its midsummer. It is a right warm day when the government weather bureau doesn't know what the sun temperature is and is unable to determine it, and that is why it gets its name. A. J. Davis.

I called on Observer Burns one day last July and asked him what the "official" temperature was. He said it was 124 in the shade, but that the government weather bureau was not responsible for it, that it was a mere guess, it could not afford to expert, and that it was impossible to get a thermometer to stand it. I suggested that it was reported to have burst in Texas and Arizona last summer, and he admitted that it had burst, but that it was because it was filled with quicksilver and that it was impossible to get a thermometer to stand it, so he had filled it with alcohol, which would not freeze, and then took it in, fearing it would break. The dryness of the atmosphere is so intense that it causes terrors to all living things except women and cats.—Phoenix Graphic.

WANTED 500

Men, Women and Children to try the best and cheapest preparation ever offered the public for the hair, namely, Parker's Hair Balsam. There are many imitations. Parker's Hair Balsam is not a dye. It restores the color of the hair, stops the hair from falling, prevents baldness, cures scalp diseases, and is a delicious dressing. Sold by druggists.

Senator Sawyer in Paternoster.

Few men were in public life at Washington longer than the late Senator Sawyer, and few ever exercised the influence that he did. He was a great peacemaker. He had a remarkable talent for bringing antagonists together. He probably settled more quarrels and decided more disputes than any man who ever lived in Washington. Everybody had the greatest confidence in his honesty, sincerity and wisdom, and the result was that his accurate way in which he got at the truth and justice.—Washington letter.

Hair's Catarrh Cure

Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

Dear Average Reader or Sinner.

In the back of Lord Granlist, at Wonersh, near Guildford, a fawn, drinking, suddenly was pounced upon by one of the swans, which pulled the animal into the water and held it under until drowned. This was observed by the other deer in the park. Shortly after this swan, which had hitherto never been molested by any deer, was singled out when on land and furiously attacked by a herd, which surrounded and killed it.—Weekly Telegraph.

To Cure Dandruff Quickly

use Coke Dandruff Cure. Money refunded if it fails, so why not try it?

Blessed is the man who lifts for the purpose of lifting his burden to others.

To tickling the palate of a dyspeptic is to tickle a rattlesnake with a straw.

Fits Permanently Cured. No fits or convulsions after first day. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle and treatise free to epileptics. Address, Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

It isn't fair to measure other people in your half bushel, but you probably do it.

The whole world is kin to the love of comfort is not to be deemed a sickly.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

"It's man has money he can get into society; he has brains he can get out of it."

Happiness results from being content with what you have.

Did You Ever Buy a Pen

on the strength of a high-sounding name, only to find it a disappointing scratcher? Gillott's Pens have been Carter's ink for it Gillott's Pens.

Some people have faith in odd numbers—and the favorite number is 13.

An honest man always keeps his credit a little that he has not used.

Many cases induce gray hair, but PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM brings back the original color. Incomparable for the toilet.

Lots of men get rich by helping other men make fools of themselves.

Pleasure is the best medicine we ever used and we advise everybody to take it.—W. M. O. ENDELEY, Vanburen, Ind., Feb. 10, 1900.

A tender feeling for the wife of another man isn't legal jealousy.

When writing, take a bar of White's Vermian. You can ride further and easier.

Ignorant men are a good while in finding out what ails them.

SEND 47 cts. for the 10 Best Selling Articles of the world. CASH'S ART SHOP, 1 Cosmic Building, Detroit, Mich.

SPECIAL OFFER! Cut this ad. out and send 10c. (coin or stamps) and we will send you 10 cards, 5 different styles, with name on, and 100 other beautiful samples, and our 1900 wonderful agent's outfit, all postpaid. Agents wanted. Agents make big money selling our cards. 1000 Styles. CONN CARD CO., Box 1, Clinton, Conn.

BUY A DOUBLE BARREL BREECH LOADING SIX SHOT GUN FOR $7.97. NEW WINCHESTER RIFLES, $3.00, NEW WINCHESTER LOADED SHELLS, 25c. PER DOZ. NEW WINCHESTER SHOT GUNS, $12.87. DIAL OFFER PRICE, $3.87 CASH. 32 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE. WE SELL GUNS, BICYCLES, TOOLS, SUNDRIES, ETC., AT WHOLESALE PRICES TO CONSUMERS. SEND 2c. STAMP FOR CATALOGUE. THE CHICAGO SCALE & TOOL CO., 160 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS' HEIRS Write Claims for Soldiers who made homesteads of not than 160 acres before June 22, 1874 (no matter where located) or their heirs (widows included) are now entitled to Government Land or Scrip, which is worth $1.25 per acre. Address, with stamp, THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF CLAIMS, Washington, D. C.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK. Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1423 New York Avenue, Washington, D. C. Mention Advertisement Quick. Mention This Paper.

USE THE GENUINE MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER

THE UNIVERSAL PERFUME. THE HANDKERCHIEF, TOILET & BATH. REFUSE ALL SUBSTITUTES.

THE STANDARD SEWING MACHINE COMPANY Make Strictly High Grade Sewing Machines. Sold direct to the consumer. Prices lowest consistent with perfect workmanship. Write for catalogues and prices. F. E. ALDRICH, State Mgr. 10 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

FARM MORTGAGE LOANS In amounts ranging from $500 to $10,000. Interest collected and remitted free. Loans made in the Western part of North Dakota. Write us if you have money to invest and we will send you full description of loans, rates of interest, and the best of references we have in all towns. We have invested nearly $500,000 for our eastern patrons without the loss of a dollar. NORTH DAKOTA LAND & LOAN CO., Hoople, N. D.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills. Must Bear Signature of Brent Good. 25c Pocket Size. Very small and as easy to take as sugar. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. FOR HEADACHE, FOR BILIOUSNESS, FOR DYSPEPSIA, FOR TORPID LIVER, FOR CONSTIPATION, FOR SALLOW SKIN, FOR THE COMPLEXION. Purely Vegetable. CURE SICK HEADACHE.

BOCKLETS FREE. BENNE PLANT. Wilmington, N. C. Cures Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Impotency, Blood Poison, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Varicocele, Piles, Kidney and Urinary Diseases. Guaranteed Cures. Cures Permanent. Cures Quick. Cures Cheap. Cures Cures. Cures Cures. Cures Cures

Manchester Enterprise

By MAT G. PROSSER.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1900.

At Annapolis, Md., the women who pay taxes appeared for the first time at voters a few weeks ago. Of the 679 votes cast only twenty-two were by women.

The managers of Glasgow's Exhibition of next year will have a big job distributing the space without hurting international susceptibilities. The applications for floor space are already 40,000 feet beyond the accommodation.

Overhead trolley system not only damages underground pipes, but it also injures trees. Wherever a cable touches a branch it rapidly decays and the tree eventually dies. Serious complaints of this nature are made at Bay Ridge, N. Y.

Collis P. Huntington, now that he has "cut out" his association in the Southern Pacific railroad, is sole owner of a system embracing ferries, terminals, river and ocean steamboat lines and 7,690 miles of railroad, represented by $350,000,000 of securities and annual earnings gross at $60,000,000.

Five hundred elk teeth were sold in Seattle, Wash., the other day for $10. The demands of the members of the Order of Elks and the growing scarcity have increased the value of the elk tooth. Fourteen years ago a Montana publication paid $50 for an Indian headdress that contained 800 elk teeth. Later a similar headdress contained only 200 teeth sold for $500.

Mantino Maes, the Italian archaeologist, says that 3,000 bronze tablets constituting the records of Rome, its foundation to the time of Virgil, were buried in the marsh at Ostia when Rome, having been carried to the north after being rescued from the Gauls, devoted the capital in the fall of the Christian era. Sig. Maes says that the marsh should be drained in order to recover historic treasure.

A Chicago physician has invented for his house which he claims to be absolutely noiseproof, that is thoroughly against the inquisitive street dins, which persist in the sleepless of an anti-noise house. He has stuffed all the keyholes, doors and windows with rubber, and in order to ventilate it has perforated these holes. The sound waves are thus cut by repeated refections and consequently passed.

Several towns have just destroyed large piles of interesting Roman antiquities. Pharasia, in Southern Italy, has been regarded as the birthplace of Vespasian, who will have the dominion of the world into the hands of Caesar. According to the report of the Neapolitan archaeological journal, Capt. Doussmais, of the Greek Red Cross, after an exhaustive study of the ancient battle fields of Thessaly, affirms that beyond question the battle between Pompey and Caesar was not fought at Pharsala, but near the modern Kandiza which is about 34 miles to the northward.

When public spirit and philanthropy go hand in hand the progress of a country is beyond question. Germany is advancing in a business way. Her trade operations show increase not merely for planning and fuller scope or performance. But with the development of material things is seen an increase in gifts for the benefit of schools, libraries, charitable institutions and other objects. The provision of corporations and private manufacturers in aid of employees is a further token of a keener sense of responsibility for the proper use of wealth. The world abounds with articles marked "Made in Germany." Let not the world forget the good deeds which may be labeled "Done in Germany."

The writer of a short story in the Century Magazine has invented two phrases that may find a permanent place in political slang. Party platforms do not always express the real sentiments of the intentions of those who subscribe to them. It is easier to promise than to perform the promise. This writer speaks of a "reversed word" as one that sucks the meaning out of another which is beside it, just as a weasel sucks an egg, leaving only the shell. "Weasling," he says, is highly expedient because one class of voters will like the weasel, and the other the word that has been weseled—the egg. The other phrase is "gerrymandering," meaning "dancing through the window at one point a dog looks in, and not until it reaches the door does the open can soon actually see what the dog is." Of course windows are not made of "jimmies" which one can look through—but let that pass.

Chief Wilkie of the United States secret service has received from the Penn National Bank of Philadelphia one of the most dangerous counterfeit $20 notes that have appeared in a long time, and second only to this celebrated $100 Monroe head silver certificate, the character of which the treasury experts were for some time unable to definitely determine. The note is of the series of 1880, check letter A, plate number 7, Tillman register, Morgan treasurer. It is a fifth shorter than the genuine. But the most notable defects are in the portrait of Hamilton.

The war in South Africa has taken so many English farm-hands away from their work that electricity is employed on several dairy farms in England in feeding cattle. An automatic mechanism set for a desired time, delivers the proper quantity of feed from the hoppers over the stalls. An alarm rings to wake the farmer at the same time. "Mary" does not yet "call the cattle home" by telephone, but that automatic process may be in store for us. Even the cows must feel that we are living in a realistic age.

Viceroy Li Hung Chang's Private Army.

Any European statesman who, at a critical moment in the affairs of his country began to raise a private army without making it clear that it was for the good of the government, would speedily find himself in serious trouble. Not so with Li Hung Chang, however.

For some time China's greatest statesman has been busily raising and equipping a large force of soldiers, whom he will pay and perhaps direct himself; and no one knows whether his intention is good or evil.

Probably this is the first time in history that a statesman of nearly four-score has set himself the arduous task of recruiting an army for personal use.

Li Hung Chang, however, is an old hand at this particular species of effort. It is understood he keeps among his private papers a voluminous list of fighting men who are attached by interest and affection to his person, and when he starts to raise his army these people form the nucleus of his force.

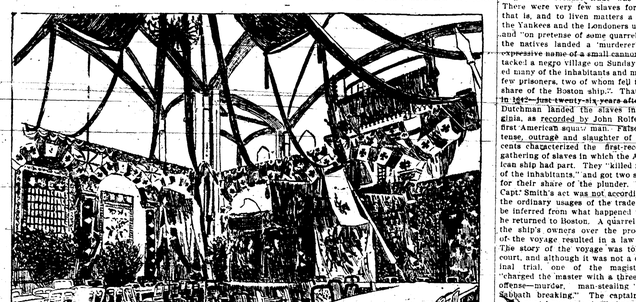
One thing may be taken for granted. Li Hung Chang's private army will be composed of brave, men, admirably equipped and well led.

Since he was a young man the statesman has raised several private armies. Although he is not a gifted military commander himself he knows almost instinctively a capable general when he meets one, and lucky has it been for China that he possesses this capability. He can obtain excellent soldiers, moreover. The men who enlist under Li's banner know that their pay is sure, and that their food will not be stinted. They also know that if they happen to do anything notable and worthy their employer is sure to be generous in reward.

From his earliest years, as a man interested in military matters, Li Hung Chang has been a persistent advocate of modern armaments. If his advice had been carried out before the war with Japan China would not have been struck down so easily. It is believed that Li, out of his vast wealth, has accumulated a great store of modern weapons for his private army, and it is unlikely to be deficient in transport, commissariat, or even in medical service. His force is certain to be stiffened by drilled men who have been long in his employ, who have served in his household and who have probably been put in his service before. Every big official of the Imperial Chinese railway owes his place to Li. It was through Li that this road was built.

In the principal section of the Chinese army, known as "the Eight Banners," the force forms a kind of hereditary profession, within which intermarriage is compulsory. It is gird around by other hard and fast rules, including the now famous I-Ho-Tuan, or Boxers. Many of these agents have been trained in the schools of Europe and America, and have high degrees from foreign universities. All work under Li Hung Chang. They have studied the secret service systems abroad especially in Germany and France, and know how to collect information to the best advantage. As engineers and surveyors they have made accurate maps of the country such as China herself does not possess, and they have gathered complete data as to possible supplies and routes for the military and naval departments. They have done all this without the slightest suspicion of what they were about reaching official ears in China. They have kept in touch with the consular and the diplomatic service and with the bureau of information in Tokio, where the reports of the agents are arranged for ready reference. So Japan knows, China, and other nations do not.

Senator Platt of New York went to have a prescription filled in a New York drug shop recently. The young clerk was longer than he thought he should have to do it, and the Senator asked what was the matter. "Here, I'll do it. I used to be a druggist myself." And going back of the counter he made up the prescription in a very short time.



LI HUNG CHANG'S BANQUETING HALL AT CANTON.

TRAIN ON THE CHINESE IMPERIAL RAILWAY. THIS ROAD WAS BUILT BY ADVICE OF LI HUNG CHANG.

AFRICAN SLAV TRADE.

Capture of Negroes in 1615 by an American Ship's Crew.

The story of the first American voyage to Africa, of which we have a definite record, tells us somewhat of the methods employed in obtaining slavage cargoes. A Boston ship, commanded by one Capt. Smith, went away to Maderia with salt fish and staves. Sailing thence, with the proceeds of her sale, she "conched on the coast of Guinea," for slaves. She found some London slave vessels already there, with their captains very much disgruntled because trade was dull. There were very few slaves for sale, that is, and to live matters a little, the Yankees and the Londoners united, and "on pretense of some quarrel with the native lands a gunner"—the expressive name of a small cannon—attacked a negro village on Sunday, killed many of the inhabitants and made a few prisoners, two of whom fell to the share of the Boston ship." That was in 1615—just twenty-six years after the Dutchman landed the slaves in Virginia, as recorded by John Rolfe, the first American squire. Rolfe's pretense, outrage and slaughter of innocents characterized the first recorded gathering of slaves in which the American ship had part. They "killed many of the inhabitants," and got two slaves for their share of the plunder. That Capt. Smith's act was not according to the ordinary usages of the trade may be inferred from what happened when he returned to Boston. A quarrel with the ship's owners over the proceeds of the voyage resulted in a law suit. The story of the voyage was told in court, and although it was not a criminal trial one of the magistrates "charged the master with a three-fold offense—murder, man-stealing and Sabbath breaking." The captain escaped punishment on these charges on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction over crimes committed in Africa in decision that was typical of what was to come, but his slaves were returned home. "The Slave Trade in America," by John H. Spears in Scribner's.

SHOES OF SOUTHERNER

As a Rule Shorter Than the Northerner's, with Higher Instep.

"There is no doubt a marked difference," said a New Orleans shoe manufacturer, "in the size and shape of the average foot north and south of Mason and Dixon's line. A great deal of nonsense has been written about the so-called Creole last, but the shoe best adapted to high-class southern trade does possess certain distinguishing features of its own. It is shorter than the northern shoe, to begin with, and has a much higher instep. The difference in the instep varies from one-sixteenth inch and a half inch, which is equivalent to saying that a man with a typical southern foot could not get into a shoe made on a typical northern last. The Creole model cuts less of a figure in the trade now than it did formerly, for the reason that people wear looser, roomier at present than they used to, and the distinctive points are not so noticeable, and, second, an immense number of northern folks have come into the south, and their patronage has taken away from their patronage with a considerable percentage of the factory output. But the native southern country still calls for a short high-arched shoe. In the old days every southern gentleman had his boots and shoes made to order, and the impression is even now pretty general that no factory-made article can possibly be as good as the hand-built wares turned out by the gentlemanly craftsmen. That is a great mistake. A high-class, machine-made shoe is better than anything produced by hand, for the reason that the uniformity is absolutely uniform throughout. In handwork no two stitches are of exactly the same length, but on the machine they are as like as so many peas. The result of this uniformity is that the shoe holds its shape and wears much longer. That is one point out of many. The only question is that of being dazed and fascinated by the appeal addressed to such an exact science that there is no difficulty with any foot not absolutely deformed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Peter's Pence of Pilgrims.

During the first six months of the "Holy Year," 490,000 pilgrims from every part of the Christian world have made their way to Rome. They brought with them in Peter's pence £1,520,000, and hopes are expressed in the Vatican that the ordinary haystacking £4,000,000 before the end of the year. The institution of Pope Boniface VIII. in the middle ages is proving its usefulness at the end of the nineteenth century.—London Daily Mail.

Queer Street Music.

James Anthony, whose death is noticed in another column, was one of our pioneers. Down the river are the remains of a little kiln, where he burned the lime used in the construction of the first brick building in the village. Every school boy knows where the old lime kiln is. Up the railroad, above the target, is another kiln where he burned bog lime, which was sold by him in the early settlers.

Considerable interest has been manifest in the work of F. W. Shute of Ypsilanti, inventor of an acetylene gas machine, which he claims is superior to any other in many respects, one of which is that it is non explosive. He set up the machine in the building south of George Purdom's harness shop and ran pipes to the corner of Exchange Place and Railroad street and to the corner of Railroad street and the alley, in order to show the lights.

E. E. Cultice of Ann Arbor, apparently taking the EXPRESS'S old hits as legitimate in our base about the Sunday school meeting. We are sorry. He says: "We are coming to Manchester to help the Manchester Sunday schools to do better work," and to organize, if possible, a local association that will hold institutes for the benefit of the S. S. teachers. The rifles "shoot" well here. We can't afford anything more costly.

A Strange Pledge.

Pawnbrokers take some curious pledges, but it is not often that they receive one from another world. A London pawnshop, however, exhibits in its window, as an unredeemed pledge, a magnificent aerolite, a mass of fused metal that, as it fell were, from heaven, to provide a poor man with his beer. A ticket bears the statement that it was brought from the arctic regions by a sailor.—New York Tribune.

Origin of Word "Silhouette."

It is said that the word "silhouette" originated from the slaggadiness of a French minister of finance, named M. Silhouette. Under his rule the meanest tricks of economy were practiced, and the courtiers had their portraits painted entirely in black with profile view, claiming that M. Silhouette had set them up for our time, they could not afford anything more costly.

GEN. YATABE.

VICE ADMIRAL SEYMOUR.

Japan's Secret Service.

Here is a portrait of a man who has done much to organize the superb secret service of Japan. He is Gen. Yatabe, and was educated in the United States. An army of secret emissaries has been at work for years, disguised as Chinese priests, teachers in the colleges, students, as servants in great houses, as wandering beggars, as merchants and manufacturers, and as members of many of the secret societies, including the now famous I-Ho-Tuan, or Boxers. Many of these agents have been trained in the schools of Europe and America, and have high degrees from foreign universities. All work under Gen. Yatabe. They have studied the secret service systems abroad especially in Germany and France, and know how to collect information to the best advantage. As engineers and surveyors they have made accurate maps of the country such as China herself does not possess, and they have gathered complete data as to possible supplies and routes for the military and naval departments. They have done all this without the slightest suspicion of what they were about reaching official ears in China. They have kept in touch with the consular and the diplomatic service and with the bureau of information in Tokio, where the reports of the agents are arranged for ready reference. So Japan knows, China, and other nations do not.

Vice Admiral Seymour.

Vice Admiral Sir Edward Hobart Seymour, K. C. B., is one of the most prominent figures in the Chinese trouble. By seniority he became, according to the custom, commander-of-the allied naval forces at the time of the outbreak, and the leader of the force which attempted the relief of the legations.

A letter from Stephen Crane to Richard Harvey sold in London last week for $50.

TYPES OF FOREIGN SOLDIERS IN CHINA.

GERMAN. AMERICAN. FRENCH. RUSSIAN. ITALIAN. BRITISH. JAPANESE.

Mme. Janauschek Ill.

Mme. Fanny Janauschek, the tragedienne, is a patient in St. Mary's hospital, Brooklyn, suffering from almost total paralysis of the left side. She was attacked during the recent hot spell, and her illness is due in part to her weakened condition caused by the excessive heat.

Big Drop In Coal

For July Delivery.

Egg, Stove and Chestnut, per ton, $5.75.

Leave Orders Early and avoid the Rush.

COAL GUARANTEED.

We also have on hand a good supply of THRASHING COAL.

WURSTER BROS. & CO.

A Pure, Permanent Well is what everyone should have. They are cheap in the end and prevent sickness.

TUBULAR DRIVE WELLS

put down by me are the very best obtainable. They go down to a pure and plentiful supply of water, are free from sewerage and surface water, and they last for generations. I get

WATER OR NO PAY.

That is certainly a fair plan. Let me put down one for you. That old well may be the cause of much sickness in your family. Typhoid fever generally comes from bad drinking water. You cannot afford to run the risk.

CHAS. KREITNER.

Cleaning Time

has arrived and with it the need of many new things, among them

A NEW CARPET,

and we want you to see our bright, fresh line of samples.

A BIT OF FURNITURE

will also be needed and we ask you to come to us. Our assortment is good and prices low.

JENTER & RAUSCHENBERGER.

German. Do You Read Do You Study Do You Teach ? If so Send for New 1897 Edition of SELECT GERMAN STORIES With Notes by Geo. Storme, Lyceum I. Hanover. 50 Cts. By Mail. Enterprise Publishing House, MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN. Used in Schools and Colleges

Come or send to the ENTERPRISE for your Printing and BINDING.

Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Statements, Circulars, Cards, Placards, Posters, Hand Bills, Booklets, Blank Receipt Books, Blank Note Books, Blank Order Books for all purposes. Also Calendars, Fans, &c, &c.

..MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE..

SUMMER SIGHS

Breathed Audibly to Our Readers.

More rain needed.

What has become of our band?

The corn crop will be immense.

We are having cool evenings now.

We have had more delightful weather this week.

There is talk of trying to organize a ball team here.

Gallup & Lewis' new advertisement claims your attention.

Chas. Kretzner will put down a drive well for B. G. Lovejoy.

Wm. Waller and family of Jackson, visited at Fred J. Kern's over Sunday.

Green corn, cucumbers, water melons etc., are likely to make internal discussion.

"Mid the bean fields of Manchester," would be a good name for a granger's song.

The Freme-Whitaker Co., have some tempting prices in their advertisement this week.

Oats will probably be considerable cheaper on account of the abundant crop just harvested.

Wurster Bros. & Co., sold a fine horse to a Mr. Tripp of Boston. It is to be shipped from Tecumseh, Monday.

The windy shower on Sunday laid the dust nicely, so those who wished to drive in the afternoon could enjoy it more.

Carpenters are at work making repairs at the central school building. A hand rail will be put against the wall on each of the stairways.

Emanuel's church Sunday school held its annual picnic at Schmid's grove, yesterday. The universalist Sunday school went to Sand lake.

Tramps continue to make their morning calls for something to eat. There is no excuse for this as there is plenty of work at good wages.

A member of our citizens drove to Tecumseh, Monday to see the ball game between the Columbian Giants and the 20th Century team of Tecumseh.

Some of our citizens were awakened by the locomotive drawing Buffalo Bill's show which it passed through here Saturday morning, and were quite entertained.

The ball game last Thursday afternoon between the "sore heads" and "never sweats" was amusing if not exciting, and resulted in a score of 22 to 10 in favor of the former.

The reputation of the Manchester Roller Mills for turning out fine brands of flour, is spreading. Mr. Lonier has customers in every town on the Ypsilanti branch, at Detroit and many places about the state, besides a number of places in neighboring states.

When the Lake Shore Co., had competition, they could sell tickets to Detroit by way of Monroe for $1.65, but since they have it all their own way the rate is higher. People are leaving a cheaper way. They go to Salem on the freight or passenger train and take the electric car to Detroit and back. The round trip from Salem is 90 cents.

There will probably be a large amount of stock shipped here to be fattened, this fall. Jason Hogan of Adrian, was here, going west to purchase sheep and others will do likewise. Wm. Amspoker received a load of cattle and Bortlese & Amspoker received two carloads of lambs, a few days ago, while Wm. Rehfuss has brought in one carload of sheep and expects more.

These are not very lively days for news. Our correspondents have hard work to make a showing when there is nothing out of the ordinary happening in the country, and it is almost impossible to make a newsy paper. If people would only tell us about things they know, we might do better. Again, if people would let us tell what we know, we could cause a sensation occasionally.

James Anthony, whose death is noticed in another column, was one of our pioneers. Down the river are the remains of a little kiln, where he burned the lime used in the construction of the first brick building in the village. Every school boy knows where the old lime kiln is. Up the railroad, above the target, is another kiln where he burned bog lime, which was sold by him to the early settlers.

Considerable interest has been manifest in the work of F. W. Shute of Ypsilanti, inventor of an acetylene gas machine, which he claims is superior to any other in many respects, one of which is that it is non explosive. He set up the machine in the building south of George Purdom's harness shop and ran pipes to the corner of Exchange Place and Railroad street and to the corner of Railroad street and the alley, in order to show the lights.

E. E. Cultice of Ann Arbor, apparently taking the EXPRESS'S old hits as legitimate in our base about the Sunday school meeting. We are sorry. He says: "We are coming to Manchester to help the Manchester Sunday schools to do better work," and to organize, if possible, a local association that will hold institutes for the benefit of the S. S. teachers. The rifles "shoot" well here. We can't afford anything more costly.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

FREEDOM.

Herbert Carter rides a new wheel.

Lambert Reno has built an addition to his house.

Tramps and thieves are very frequent visitors here.

Chas. Gehringer of Ypsilanti, visited his parents here Sunday.

Geo. Dettling and son Chauncey, were in Ann Arbor, Monday on business.

Geo. Nordman and family of Lima, spent Friday at the Gulnan homestead.

Frank, Fred and Ed. Kleinsmith, of Ann Arbor, were visitors here, Sunday.

Judge Newkirk appointed F. H. Koebbe guardian of the Wm. Bodi minors.

Drs. Lynch and Kloptenstein of Manchester, spent Tuesday at Pleasant lake.

Eugene Gulnan returned to Cleveland, Friday, and Thomas went Saturday.

Wm. Koebbe and family of Manchester, visited at his brother Calvin's last Friday.

Mr. & Mrs. Sebastian Gehringer of Ann Arbor, spent last week with friends Sero and in Bridgewater.

A thief entered the house of Henry Esch and took a silver watch, belonging to Henry Kruger, last Thursday.

Mr. & Mrs. John Reno accompanied by Mr. & Mrs. J. G. Schafer of Ida, spent Tuesday at Ann Arbor.

Miss Bertha Hoopes returned to her home at Sylvania, Ohio, on Monday, accompanied by her brother and wife.

Mr. & Mrs. Henry Zeller had entertained about 40 of their friends last Sunday in honor of Mr. & Mrs. W. H. Mair of Texarkana, Tex.

Misses Tillie Weis and Mary Lans, of Ann Arbor, returned Saturday from a week's visit at Adrian and are visiting at Geo. Weis'.

Henry Bertke and family, Mr. & Mrs. Herbert Hoopes and Miss Bertha Hoopes spent Sunday with Mr. & Mrs. Henry Jacobs and Mr. & Mrs. Henry Hines, at Grass Lake.

WAMPLER'S LAKE.

Mrs. B. Fay is in Jackson visiting friends.

John Boller of Tecumseh, visited friends here about Sunday.

Ralph Denning spent the latter part of last week in Adrian.

Several from here attended the wild west show at Adrian, on Friday last.

Miss Jessie Miller is spending a few weeks with friends in Jackson.

Miss Ethel Deming is spending a few weeks with friends in South Manchester and Tecumseh.

Miss Jennie Mierr is spending a week with friends in South Manchester and Tecumseh.

Miss Ethel Deming is being further instructed in music by Miss Leo Sheridan of Brooklyn.

Mrs Parmelee and Miss Betty Bowen, of Quincy, are at the home of Wm. Osborn for a few weeks' visit.

H. S. Lawrence of Jackson, is here visiting the family of Will Lawrence, and other friends for a few days.

Alanco T. Stitt was in Jackson a few days ago. He was chosen commissioner and appraiser of the Jones Crumb estate.

Mr. & Mrs. John Felowell and daughter Mary visited at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Richard Green in Manchester, on Sunday.

A large neighborhood picnic was held at Willow Grove on Saturday last, and all who were fortunate enough to go enjoyed a day long to be remembered.

The social at D. S. Fuller's last Friday night was well patronized. The cream was of fine quality, but the night was almost too cool and the ladies had to wear their wraps while eating the cream.

SHARON.

Miss Clara and Esther Reno called on Chelsea friends last Friday.

The North Sharon debating club will hold their picnic at Wolf lake, Saturday of this week.

Miss Sophia Rearwin and Christine Overmiht went to Detroit last Saturday, to visit friends.

Mrs. Clara Parmeter and daughter of Elkhart, Ind., came Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. & Mrs. E. K. Fellows.

Miss Florina Reazon, who is attending the institute at Ann Arbor, spent Sunday at home, accompanied by her friend, George Schafer of Salem.

The social given for the benefit of the church, a week ago, at the home of Miss Mamie Fletcher, netted $14.55. Everyone reports an excellent time.

Mr. & Mrs. H. B. Ordaway and little daughter Lena, of Jackson, who had been spending a week with Mrs. Ordaway's parents, returned to Jackson, Tuesday.

NORVELL.

A. J. Austin is excavating a cellar for a new house.

Mrs. Wm. Reynolds was called to Hubbardston a few days ago, by the serious illness of her father.

C. Hebridge and G. B. Hurlbutt went to Toledo, Sunday, via the C. J. & M., from Pentwater Station.

The people on the south plains and from the south part of town will have a picnic at Eagle Point, Clark's lake, Saturday.

The Norvell Sunday school held a picnic at Clark's lake, Wednesday. The day was fine and a jolly lot of children, we well as grown-up children, attended.

Japanese Napkins for picnics, lunches, etc., for sale at this office.

Pay Village Taxes at A. Jaeger's.

For Sale Cheap—House and lot in village. MRS. H. VOLLAND.

Shell corn 45c, Ear corn 23c, at Manchester Roller Mills. L. LONIER & CO.

Watch found near Walter Stevens', which the owner can have by paying for this notice. FRANK SPAFARD.

Lost—Last Friday evening on Chelsea road, a lady's purse. Finder rewarded by leaving same at ENTERPRISE office.

Card Of Thanks.

Words cannot express our thanks to the many friends who have been so kind during the long sickness, and death, of our dear wife and mother, and especially to the neighbors, who have been untiring in efforts for the comfort of the departed.

A. J. ROBSON AND CHILDREN.

Born.

WINT—In this village on Monday, July 23, 1900, to Mr. & Mrs. E. H. Wint, twin a son and daughter.

Died.

ANTHONY—In this village, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Sherwood, on Monday, July 30, 1900, of old age, James Anthony, aged 92 years.

Mr. Anthony was born in Madison county, N. Y. In 1835 he married Martha Wheeler and had ten children, seven of whom are still living. In 1837 they moved to Michigan and lived at Napoleon until 1848, when they came here, where he has since lived, with the exception of a few years that he lived in Clare, where he owned a small farm. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Geo. B. Sherwood, Rev. Merrifield officiating.

Home Market.

BEEF—Fair demand. Heifers, 3.75@4.00; cows, $2.50@$3.25; best steers, $4.25@$4.50; common, $3.50@$4.00.

BUTTER—Good demand, 13c@14c lb.

CALVES—$5.00@$5.25 ⅌ cwt.

CORN—Good demand. Ear, 23c@25c; shelled, 60c@62c ⅌ bu.

EGGS—10c@11c ⅌ doz.

HAMS—10c@11c; shoulders, 8c@9c ⅌ lb.

HOGS—Better demand, $4.90@$5.00 cwt.

HONEY—In comb, 10c@11c ⅌ lb.

HUCKLEBERRIES—$2.25 ⅌ bu.

LARDS—Yearlings, compound, $4.00@$4.25; spring lambs, $4.75@$5.25 ⅌ cwt.

LARD—7c@7½c ⅌ lb.

OATS—Dull, 23c@24c; New, 18c@20c ⅌ bu.

ONIONS—New, 50c ⅌ bu.

POTATOES—Good demand. New, 25c@30c ⅌ bu.

SHEEP—Are now lower. Ewes, $2.50@$3.00; wethers and yearlings, clipped, $3.75@$4.00 ⅌ cwt.

WHEAT—Lower. Red, 74c@76c; white 74c@76c; No. 1 northern, 75c.

WOOL—Dull and lower. Unwashed, fine, 14c@15c; coarse 17c@18c ⅌ lb. Washed, fine 18c@19c; coarse, 22c@24c.

Closing Out Sale.

Best Table Salt, in lb. $2.50 Barrels for $1.50. Linseed Oil, 60c. G. Sugar, 6c lb. 32 pairs Boots, Shoes and Slippers, at cost. Cash sale. Come early.

W. L. WATKINS.

News of the death of Fred Mueller of Lansing, was received here Tuesday by Fred M. Freeman. Mr. Mueller was a clerk in the office of the state tax commission and had several friends here. He committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. It was his third attempt. He had a wife, but lately became infatuated with a Lansing school teacher. Rev. D. R. Shier went up to attend the funeral.

For the accommodation of our readers we give the time of closing of mails at the Manchester postoffice, standard time:

6:27 a. m., for Jackson branch train north, leaving at 6:47.

9:45 a. m., for Jackson branch train north, leaving at 10:03.

2:40 p. m., for Ypsilanti branch train west, leaving at 10:12.

2:10 p. m., for Jackson branch train south, leaving at 2:30.

8:58 p. m., for Ypsilanti branch train leaving at 3:58.

7:30 p. m., for Jackson, branch train north, leaving at 8:45.

LOUIS KUEBLER,

..TINSMITH..

Railroad Street, Manchester, Mich.

Will be glad to

Put on Eavestrough, Conductor Pipes, do Roofing, make Tin, Copper and Iron Water Tanks, do Plumbing and all

REPAIR WORK in my line. Have some Tinware for sale at the store. Please call.

Bicycles Made to Order.

BRAZING, ENAMELING, and General Repairing done promptly.

SUNDRIES of all kinds constantly on hand.

A BARGAIN—Chicago Tube Co.'s $40 Bicycle $21.50 Cash. Come and see sample.

We are agents for first-class WATCH and CLOCK REPAIRING at prices as low as ever. All work warranted.

COSMER & MAHRLE.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York. Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

15 Days' Sale!

Commencing Saturday, July 21st 1900 and continuing for 15 days, we will offer our entire stock of merchandise as follows:

25 per cent. off

on all Shirt Waists, Dimities, Organdies, Lawns, Etc.

20 per cent. off

on all Fancy Silks, Dress Skirts, Light Colored Percales, Piques, Challies, Fans, Colored Parasols, Lace Curtains, Rugs, and our entire stock of Shoes [excepting M. A. Packard's line of Men's Shoes, which will be sold at 10 per cent. discount.] Everything else will be sold at a discount of 10 per cent.

Groceries Not Included.

Special Lots of Ladies' and Men's Shoes, also different lines of Dry Goods will be offered at very low prices.

Terms Cash.

Respectfully,

Yocum, Marx & Co.

Try Our Flour.

Try our Corn Meal, our Graham Flour, Bran, and Middlings. If, any of our products are not satisfactory we want to know it.

THE MANCHESTER FLOURING MILLS

are now equipped with latest machinery and with our long experience we are turning out products that are the best that can be made. We are anxious for every family to try them.

FEED GRINDING!

Farmers, we want to do your Feed Grinding. We are centrally located, ready to do business every minute and to deal squarely.

Lewis Lonier & Co.

Summer Goods

We are running.

A Little Campaign

Light Underwear, Hosiery, Work Shoes, Ladies' Wrappers, Men's Shirts, Ladies' Shoes,

These and many other goods at lowest prices.

J. FRED SCHAIBLE.

Our Platform

is built of LUMBER and every Plank is reliable. Good quality. Honest quality. Yours...

WESTGATE.

20 Per Cent. Discount Off

All Our Shoes

For a Week. The opportunity that is well worth taking.

THE EAST SIDE STORE.

A. JAEGER.

Cool Cooking

and Cool Baking is what the housewife desires these summer days. Comfort in the kitchen can be had by using

A Quick Meal or Jewel GASOLINE STOVE.....

"Quick Meal" and "Jewel" are the very best made and I have them in various styles. They are economical, durable, reliable, beautiful and the price is no higher than for inferior stoves.

FRED. WIDMAYER.

See the Deering Mower before you buy. Deering Binder Twine at lowest market price.

Manchester Enterprise

By MAT D. BLOSSER

Notice to the Public.

Advertisers wishing to change their advertising matter, must get the copy to us on or before Tuesday noon of each week, or it will not be in time for the paper printed and in the hands of the subscribers the next week.

Advertisers doubtful about the proper time to inform us of a change in their advertisements, should err on the safe side by getting the copy in before noon of the day before.

Notices of church socials and concerts, for which an admission fee is charged, are to be classed as business notices and will be charged for at the usual advertising rates.

The Publishing Office of the Enterprise is located on the Chicago road, one block west of the Kalamazoo corner.

Births, Marriages and Death notices, free. Obituary notices, two cents a line.

Card of Thanks, five cents a line.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1900.

That yellow fellow is a wonder.

Politicians have not started out yet, but don't get impatient, they will be here in time.

The Brooklyn band, which gave such good satisfaction at Manchester, July 4th will play for Clinton's sports day, Saturday.

The Beardsell hotel property at Devil's lake was bought at mortgage sale yesterday by the Boles bank of Hudson, for $4,200.16.

The tax commission reviewed the assessment roll of Jackson and 64 property owners had their assessments raised. The total increase is $848,725.

Maude Muller on a summer's day, raked the meadow sweet with hay. The sun beat down as she bent to her task, in the familiar way of his, until she got the prickly heat—then Maudie's language shocked the wheat.

We learn that Miss Libbie Scott of Detroit, who was visiting here with Dr. Hunter's family, died Tuesday from the effects of the grip. The remains were taken to Jackson for burial, today. Miss Scott was Mrs. Jennie Hudson of Jackson, were at M. D. Case's on July 4th.

Authorities warn the people of the country about consuming fish in England have cause. One pair of these hares will raise a family of over 100 in a year, and it may be the English sparrow placed over again, only much worse. Australia can attest to the truth of this statement.

"Doc" Nagele, for fifty years connected with the medical department of the university at Ann Arbor, died Saturday afternoon aged 70 years. No man connected with the university was better known to its thousands of graduates than the odd character who has just passed away.

Farmers who have standing timber on their farms should not be too anxious to get rid of it. It is well enough to cut down the trees that are dead, and perhaps a few more, but good timber will always be in demand and it is better to save the best. If you do consider it worth standing timber see that the young trees are not ruined in felling the large ones.

We are in receipt of the July and August numbers of The Michigan Veterinary Review, published monthly by the Review Pub. Co., Grand Rapids, at $1 a year. It is a neatly gotten up pamphlet of 18 pages and is edited by L. L. Conkright, the president of the company, and devoted the experiments to prove anthrax in sheep, last winter, mention of which is made in the Review.

In the report of the republican convention The Times says: "The seats for delegates were all filled except those from Manchester, Lyndon, Sylvan, Dexter and Lima. Ever these seats were soon filled by about 50 from the teachers' institute, and there were some who were unkind enough to insinuate that they were a better looking crowd than the delegations who, usually come from the outlying towns." This is accounted for by the fact that the institute is made up mostly of teachers from these towns.

The following item clipped from a Two Harbors, Minn., paper will no doubt prove of interest to many readers of the ENTERPRISE. "Dr. C. W. Taylor, a son of Dr. A. C. Taylor, Duluth, has been engaged by Dr. Badd as his second assistant, his practice having grown too great for himself and Dr. Goldsworty to handle. Dr. Taylor is a young physician whose professional education has been most carefully planned. He is a graduate of the North-western university and has had considerable hospital practice. The many friends and admirers of his father's professional skill here, are pleased to welcome him."

Burglars visited Van Tuyle's bank in Clinton, Tuesday morning, between one and four o'clock. People claim that they heard an explosion during the night, but do not know at what hour. No one was seen and it was not known whether the robbers got anything or not, as the vault door was found closed in the morning, with the spindle broken off and it could not be opened. An expert from Detroit came there but failed to open the door. They then sent to the safe works for a workman, to see if he could open the door, which he did yesterday afternoon, and the safe was found to be undisturbed. The office desk and furniture were bespattered with soap, etc., which it is supposed was used in making an explosion with nitro glycerine, but the matter is yet as much of a puzzle as the Chinese question.

Jackson County.

The Jackson street railway is to be sold at auction, Sept. 13.

The Jackson county coal mines produced 21,650 tons of coal in 1899.

Real estate transfers: Chas. T. Mac shal to Elias J. Waterstreet, land on section 1, Napoleon, $375. Aurora M. Vinkle and Asahel P. Walker to Ada E. Walker, lot in village of Grass Lake, $800.

Chas. Akin, proprietor of the popular Wolf lake resort, reports that he never had a better business than he has this year. Sunday his son Bennie had the misfortune to fall from a hammock, breaking his left arm at the elbow.

While handling coal at the Hachnle brewery recently, the workmen found a piece which attracted attention. Upon examination they found in the lump a couple of petrified clam shells. After examining the shells, which were very hard, they opened them and found the meat portion of the clam perfectly represented, even the natural color being well preserved. This portion was not as hard as the shell, being more of the nature of hard wood. The coal from which these petrified bivalves were taken, was mined only a few miles from this city.—Citizen.

The prohibition party held a mass convention at Jackson, Tuesday, attended by about 30 people, and nominated a county ticket as follows: Sheriff, Frank E. Titus of Jackson; county clerk, Geo. D. Pretty of Spring Arbor; register of deeds, Chas. E. Bailey of Sandstone; county treasurer, Lot F. Keeler of Concord; probate judge, Ira D. Kress of Jackson; circuit court commissioners, Jas. A. Porter of Brooklyn, Edward J. Curtis of Rives Junction; school commissioner, Chas. R. Price of Tompkins; coroners, Dr. C. E. Beagel, city, and Jasper Tucker of Spring Arbor.

Washtenaw County.

It is not unusual to see women at work in the fields, even in wealthy old Washtenaw.

The state board of education will conduct teachers' examinations in Ypsilanti, on August 14, 15, 16 and 17.

Saline will have another trial at a day of sports, on Saturday afternoon, and we hope that the weather will be favorable.

The two local telephone exchanges in Ann Arbor, are to be consolidated under the management of the very efficient Bell telephone manager, T. J. Keech.

The Judson republicans have called a convention to meet in Ann Arbor, Sept. 5, to nominate a county ticket. We elect delegates to the senatorial convention, etc.

The anti-Judson republicans held their convention at Ann Arbor, Tuesday, and placed the following in nomination: Judge of probate—Henry S. Dean, Ann Arbor; Sheriff—G. D. Darling, Ann Arbor; Clerk—Wm. Boyd; Treasurer—Register of Deeds—Chas. O. Barnes, Ypsilanti; Treasurer—David E. Waite, Salem; Prosecuting attorney—Frank E. Jones, Ann Arbor; Surveyor—W. E. Bailey, Northfield; Eber Owen, Ypsilanti; Coroners—John Slayton, Ann Arbor, H. B. Jenks, Ypsilanti; Surveyor—Jerome Allen, Ypsilanti; Representative of the Judson element were present to effect a compromise, but were turned down. The scheme was to save Judge Newkirk, but it failed.

Lenawee County.

Clinton has a day of sports on Saturday, with ball games and balloon ascension.

The republican convention for the purpose of nominating county officers and choosing delegates to the senatorial convention, will be held at the court house in Adrian, Thursday, Aug. 23.

Jas. Bradley of Adrian, while threshing passed his vest over the machine, when it was caught and carried through. Pieces of a watch and $40 in bills, which were in the pockets, were gathered up after the machine was stopped.

Mrs. Daniel Bruce of Dundee, who had one-half her stomach removed at the university hospital a year ago, is dead. She was getting along all right without a stomach and was able to partake of hearty food, but the old cancer took a new foot and caused her death.

Announcements.

Next week Friday evening the star chapter holds its regular meeting.

The next regular convocation of Mer. Lodge, F. & A. M., occurs next Wednesday evening.

The M. E. church and Sunday school will hold their annual picnic at Sand lake, Friday of this week.

Monday evening next occurs the regular communication of Manchester lodge F. & A. M. There will be work in the master degree.

Anyone wishing profitable work should address the Wolverine Soap Co., of Portland, Mich., who are desirous of securing an agent in this vicinity to sell their toilet and laundry soaps, for which they are selling to pay $3 a day.

Next Sunday the universalist, baptist and methodist church services will be given up to the combly Sunday school association. The morning session will be held in the methodist church and the afternoon session in the baptist church.

Bring your magazines to the ENTERPRISE office and have them bound. We shall be pleased to show samples of work and quote reasonable prices.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Fred Freeman drove to Ann Arbor, Tuesday on business.

Miss Lilla M. Schaffer of Saline, is visiting at Enoch Sikworth's.

Mr. & Mrs. I. M. Robison drove to Jackson, Tuesday to visit friends.

Dr. Sabin has gone to North Adams on professional business this week.

Mr. & Mrs. W. D. VanTuyle of Clinton, visited at Wm. Bartless', Sunday.

Payson Crafts of Grass Lake, was in town last Friday visiting old friends.

Mrs. Anna Calkins of Chelsea, is visiting at her brother's, J. H. Kingsley's.

Mrs. J. C. Gordander of Clare, came yesterday to attend her father's funeral.

Raynor Hausmier returned Tuesday from a pleasant visit at Saginaw and Detroit.

Misses Elizabeth and Marian Farrell left yesterday for Howell, to visit relatives.

Mrs. Beebee of Clare, came yesterday to attend the funeral of her father, James Anthony.

Wm. Peabody of Ypsilanti, was here Tuesday helping P. W. Shute install his goods.

Master Willie Sillsworth has returned from a two weeks' visit with his grandparents at Johnson.

Mrs. Ed. Leavenworth of Grand Rapids has been visiting her father, O. A. Waite, the past week.

Mrs. La May Brown and daughter Genevieve went to Litchfield, Saturday to visit her brother, Will Hough.

Mrs. Frank Dorr and children visited at Fred Leach's over Sunday and left Monday for their home in Detroit.

Herbert Earle of Detroit, who is now selling life insurance, was in town last Friday visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Addie Wetherbee of Fairmount, N. D., is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Goodell and her daughter Maude.

Mrs. A. W. Ackerson returned Friday from a week's visit with relatives in Chelsea, Stockbridge, Unadilla and White Oak.

Mr. & Mrs. Chas. Kramer of Kansas City, Kan., and his sister, Mrs. Crouch of Detroit, came here Tuesday to visit friends.

Miss Edith Kapp returned from Ann Arbor last Friday, accompanied by Miss Lena Kuenzler, who visited here until Monday.

Lawyer Waters returned Saturday from a nearly six weeks' trip through England.

Mrs. Ed. Leavenworth of Grand Rapids has been visiting her father, O. A. Waite, the past week.

Mrs. La May Brown and daughter Genevieve went to Litchfield, Saturday to visit her brother, Will Hough.

Mrs. Frank Dorr and children visited at Fred Leach's over Sunday and left Monday for their home in Detroit.

Herbert Earle of Detroit, who is now selling life insurance, was in town last Friday visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Addie Wetherbee of Fairmount, N. D., is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Goodell and her daughter Maude.

Mrs. A. W. Ackerson returned Friday from a week's visit with relatives in Chelsea, Stockbridge, Unadilla and White Oak.

Mr. & Mrs. Chas. Kramer of Kansas City, Kan., and his sister, Mrs. Crouch of Detroit, came here Tuesday to visit friends.

Miss Edith Kapp returned from Ann Arbor last Friday, accompanied by Miss Lena Kuenzler, who visited here until Monday.

Lawyer Waters returned Saturday from a nearly six weeks' trip through England.

Mrs. J. F. Nestell is visiting in Ypsilanti.

Miss Minnie Carroll of Clinton, is visiting Mrs. Geo. Miller this week.

Mrs. Lucy A. Conklin of Chicago, came here to attend the funeral of her father, Jas. Anthony.

Little Estella Case went to Ypsilanti alone Tuesday, to visit her aunt, Mrs. Barrett Robison.

Mrs. Bert Logan and children, who have been visiting her parents and friends here, returned to Jackson Sunday.

Dr. & Mrs. Miller and daughter, of Whitewater, Wis., arrived here today and are visiting at Warren Kimble's.

Death of John Engel.

Considerable excitement was created on the street Friday afternoon about 2 o'clock by the sudden death of an old and respected citizen, John Engel. He was sitting in the office of his son, John E. Engel, wood and coal dealer, at No. 11 South Huron street, Ypsilanti, just south of the bank building, when he suddenly threw back his head and gasped. The son immediately summoned Dr. Wilcoxson and together they laid him upon a blanket on the floor and placed a support under his head, but he was dead. The cause of his death was heart disease. It seems he has been suffering from heart trouble for a long time and two years ago his physician warned him that he was liable to go at any time. The other members of the family were notified and soon arrived. Undertakers Wallace & Clarke were also called and removed the body.

Mr. Engel was born in Germany in 1835 and at the age of 14 years came with his parents to the United States. He remained in New York state until '65, when he removed to Michigan, and settled at Manchester. About four years ago he and his family became Ypsilanti residents, where he has become well known as a shoemaker and cobbler. He leaves a wife, two sons, John of this city and William of Dexter, and five daughters, Miss Anna Engel, Mrs. Emma Hayes, Mrs. Rose Kittinger, Mrs. Olive Krayske and Mrs. Minnie Heidenslinger.—Washtenaw Times, July 28.

The news of the death was telephoned to friends here and on Sunday morning Rev. Schoettle of Emanuel's church and a delegation from the arbeiter verein, of which deceased was a member, and a large number of relatives and friends, drove to Ypsilanti to attend the funeral, at which Rev. Schoettle officiated.

Card Of Thanks.

We wish to express to the people of Manchester our gratitude for their kindness and sympathy in our late bereavement. MRS. JOHN ENGEL AND FAMILY.

We Carry Reliable Makes

and all sizes of the following named

READY TO WEAR GARMENTS.

LADIES' HOUSE DRESSES, well made and neatly trimmed, $1.00 each

GEM WORK SHIRTS, none better, 50c each

GEM OVERALLS, double stitched, 60c each

GEM OVER JACKETS, 50c each

All "Gem" goods are made full size and with ample room where most needed.

LADIES DRESSING SACQUES, 25c each

SUN BONNETS, 25c each

BOSS Watch Cases and Best Movements also Repairing.

H. L. ROOT.

The Freese-Whittelsey Co.

Clinton, Mich.

...AN AMUSING WEEK...

The past week has been pleasing, and a profitable one to us. Many dealers in Jackson have been writing ads, and telling the people about 50 and 25 per cent. discount on everything. Goods if they were sold right that never had more than 10 per cent. in them, didn't amount to anything is sold at cost prices that you are actually paid to take the stuff away.

On the strength of such talk many people are out investigating matters. After getting such "awful cut" prices as some have made, they find that their customers did not seem to be satisfied, they would come to us and ask us what we asked for this and that, and on our telling them they would stand sort of dazed and say that they couldn't see how it was. The common, every-day price at our place and cheaper than the 1 off price at another place. If you prefer the best values, and you like our methods best, use us.

W. H. Lehr,

Dealer in GROCERIES, Crockery, Glassware, Notions, Tobaccos, &c. PURE WINES AND LIQUORS. FRESH LACER BEER Always on Draught. South side of Exchange Place, Manchester.

HAMMOCK SALE

Hammock Sale for the next Thirty Days. I will sell Hammocks I have left for the regular plain marked price. Don't fail to improve this chance, as I have a nice assortment and it will pay you to buy.

1-4 OFF

Yours resp'y

F. STEINKOHL.

Do You Want A Wheel?

I have a Gent's high grade wheel left over, to close out. It is yours

For $20.

Also a LADIES' IDEAL reduced to $25.00.

All Bicycle Sundries at Sacrifice Prices to close them out.

Geo. J. Haeussler.

MORE { LAP DUSTERS, LIGHT FLY NETS, DRIVING WHIPS

Our Assortments are complete, and it is hardly necessary for us to say prices are low, because Horse owners are finding out that they can get good goods here than any other place in the country. We suspect that is the reason we have to order more goods; but that's all right, we are satisfied with quick sales and small profits.

CHEAPER

GEO. D. PARDEE.

International Poultry and Stock Food always on hand.

We thought we ordered a plenty of Summer Goods but we have been obliged to order more. We have

SALE OF JACKETS, CAPES, FURS.

Every Jacket, Cape, Child's Coat Marked Down.

| | |
|---|---|
| All $7.50 and 8.00 Jackets marked down, | $5.00 |
| All $10 and $11 Jackets, marked down, | 7.50 |
| All 13.50 and 15.00 Jackets, marked down, | 10.00 |
| All Golf Capes and Furs, | 25 per cent. Off |

GALLUP & LEWIS, Jackson.

Seaton W. Anderson.

The White Front.

Seaton W. Anderson. Tecumseh, Mich.

S. B. SABIN, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Treatment of Piles a Specialty. Office over Seiler & Co's Store. Hours 7 to 8 a. m., 1 to 2 and 5 to 7 p. m. Manchester, Michigan

Jas. W. Ackerson, VETERINARY SURGEON.

Treats all diseases of Domesticated Animals. Special attention given to Lameness and Horse Dentistry.

OFFICE—Opposite Marx's Blacksmith Shop. Residence, near Lake Shore Depot, MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

GIVES SOME HINTS ON WHAT TO READ.

Says That the Greatest Blessing of a Nation Is an Elevated Literature. Its Greatest Curse an Impure Literature—Some Timely Suggestions.

(Copyright, 1900, by Louis Klopsch.)

In few days in St. Petersburg, Russia, the following report of a discourse, which will be acceptable to those who have an appetite for literature and would like some rules to guide them in the selection of books and newspapers, text, Acts xix. 19, "Many also of them also which used curious arts brought their books together and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them and found it fifty pieces of silver."

The text gives glowing up Ephesus with some lively sermons about the sins of literature. Among the most important results was the fact that the citizens brought out their bad books and put a public place inside a bonfire. Of course, the people coming out with their gems full of Ephesian literature and tossing it into the fire made an economical bonfire who is standing by saying: "Stop this waste! Here are $1,500 worth of books. Do you think we can afford to burn all this? If you don't want to read them yourselves, sell them and let somebody else read them." Nobody said the people; "if these books are not good for us, they are not good for anybody else, and we will burn them." And on until the last book was hurled to ashes. They have in this world of harm, and the fire of eternal burning will burn. Hear the prophecy of the end roar!

Well, my friends, one of the wants of the cities is a good bonfire of bad books and newspapers. We have enough foul to make a blaze 200 feet high. Many of the best of humanity would be well to throw into the blaze their entire stock of goods. Bring forth the Christian literature, and put it into the fire and let it be known in the presence of God and angels and men that you are going to burn every thing which is overstepping and underlying curse of profligate literature.

The printing press is the mightest agent on earth for good and for evil. The minister of the gospel standing in a pulpit has a responsibility position, but I do not think it is as responsible as the position of an editor of a publisher. At that distant point of time when far out of eternity will trace the influence of a Henry J. Raymond or a Horace Greeley—Mr. Raymond, founder of the New York Webb, or an Erastus Brooks, or a Thomas Kinsella? Take the overwhelming structure of the influence of the daily and weekly newspapers and then cipher if you can, how far up and far down it will go, how far out reach the influences of the American printing press.

What is to be the issue of all this? I believe the Lord intends the printing press to be the chief means for the world's rescue and the evangelization and I think that the great first battle of the world will not be fought with bayonets and guns, but with type and press, a purified and gospel literature triumphing over, trampling down and crushing out forever that which is depraved. The only way to overcome unclean literature is by flattening abroad that which is healthful. May God speed the cylinders of an honest, intelligent, aggressive, Christian printing press.

Good Books a Blessing.

I have to tell you that the greatest blessing that ever came to the nations is that of an elevated literature and the greatest scourge that has been of unclean literature. This has been the ruin of nations and of families. Now, I say, books like these, read at right times and read in right proportion with other books, cannot help but be ennobling and purifying; but, alas, for the inelegant and impure literature that has come in the shape of novels, like a fresher overflowing all the tanks of decay and corruption! They are coming from some of the most celebrated gold shing houses. They are coming with recommendations of some of our religious newspapers. They lie on your center tables while your children and your wives read them. In the last five generations unborn. You find these books in the hands of the young men in the drug stores of the young men, in the steamboat cabin, on the table of the hotel reception room. You see a light in your child's room late at night. You suddenly go in and say, "What are you doing?" I am reading." "What are you reading?" "A book." You look at the book. It is a bad book. "Where did you get it?" "I borrowed it." Alas, there are always those abroad who would like to loan your son or daughter a bad book! Everywhere, everywhere, an unclean literature. I charge upon it the destruction of 10,000 immortal souls, and I bid you wake up to the magnitude of the evil.

I shall take all the world's literature—good novels and bad, "true stories" and false, histories faithful and incorrect, legends beautiful and monstrous, all tracts, all chronicles, all poetry, all fiction, all the great sensational literature—and pile them up in a pyramid of literature, and then I shall take the torch of God and set it to the pile and let it be known from the world that the Christian principles. God help us to make the magnitude of the evil last account and help you to listen.

I charge you in the first place to the duties of those who make the stuff. Shall our minds be the receptacle of everything that an author has a mind to write? Shall food be a dumping ground for the refuse of the kitchen? Shall we stoop down and drink out of the trough which is the wickedness of men by the hogs? Pollution and shame! Shall we mire in impurity and chew fantastic without the swips across the lips? Shall we might walk in the blooming gardens of God? Oh no! For the sake of our present and future eternity we must make an intelligent and Christian choice.

Standing, as we do, on the plain in fictitious literature, the question that young people are asking is, "Shall we read novels?" I reply, There are novels that are pure, good, Christian, elevating to the heart and ennobling to the life. But I have still further to say that I believe that seventy-five out of the 100 novels in this day are baleful and destructive to the last degree. A pure work of fiction is that in my opinion, which I can give to my children and to the young men and the assumed names of poetry. The world can never pay the debt which it owes to such writers of fiction as Hawthorne and McKenzie and Lenhoo and Hunt and Arthur and others whose names are familiar to all. The follies of high life were never better rebuked than by Miss Edgeworth. The memories of the past were never more faithfully embalmed than in the writings of Walter Scott. Cooper's novels are beautifully redolent with the aroma of nature. I will not say that the American Dickens, Charles Kingsley has smitten the moribundity of the world and led a great many to appreciate the poetry of sound healthy, strong muscles and fresh air. Thackeray did a grand work in caricaturing the follies of life, but he did it with blood. Dickens has built his own monument in his books, which are a plea for the poor and an anathema of injustice, and there are a score of novelists' pens today doing mighty work for God and right.

Amusing and Purifying.

Now, I say, books like these, read at right times and read in right proportion with other books, cannot help but be ennobling and purifying; but, alas, for the inelegant and impure literature that has come in the shape of novels, like a fresher overflowing all the tanks of decay and corruption! They are coming from some of the most celebrated gold shing houses. They are coming with recommendations of some of our religious newspapers. They lie on your center tables while your children and your wives read them. In the last five generations unborn. You find these books in the hands of the young men in the drug stores of the young men, in the steamboat cabin, on the table of the hotel reception room. You see a light in your child's room late at night. You suddenly go in and say, "What are you doing?" I am reading." "What are you reading?" "A book." You look at the book. It is a bad book. "Where did you get it?" "I borrowed it." Alas, there are always those abroad who would like to loan your son or daughter a bad book! Everywhere, everywhere, an unclean literature. I charge upon it the destruction of 10,000 immortal souls, and I bid you wake up to the magnitude of the evil.

I shall take all the world's literature—good novels and bad, "true stories" and false, histories faithful and incorrect, legends beautiful and monstrous, all tracts, all chronicles, all poetry, all fiction, all the great sensational literature—and pile them up in a pyramid of literature, and then I shall take the torch of God and set it to the pile and let it be known from the world that the Christian principles. God help us to make the magnitude of the evil last account and help you to listen.

I charge you in the first place to the duties of those who make the stuff. Shall our minds be the receptacle of everything that an author has a mind to write? Shall food be a dumping ground for the refuse of the kitchen? Shall we stoop down and drink out of the trough which is the wickedness of men by the hogs? Pollution and shame! Shall we mire in impurity and chew fantastic without the swips across the lips? Shall we might walk in the blooming gardens of God? Oh no! For the sake of our present and future eternity we must make an intelligent and Christian choice.

Standing, as we do, on the plain in fictitious literature, the question that young people are asking is, "Shall we read novels?" I reply, There are novels that are pure, good, Christian, elevating to the heart and ennobling to the life. But I have still further to say that I believe that seventy-five out of the 100 novels in this day are baleful and destructive to the last degree. A pure work of fiction is that in my opinion, which I can give to my children and to the young men and the assumed names of poetry. The world can never pay the debt which it owes to such writers of fiction as Hawthorne and McKenzie and Lenhoo and Hunt and Arthur and others whose names are familiar to all. The follies of high life were never better rebuked than by Miss Edgeworth. The memories of the past were never more faithfully embalmed than in the writings of Walter Scott. Cooper's novels are beautifully redolent with the aroma of nature. I will not say that the American Dickens, Charles Kingsley has smitten the moribundity of the world and led a great many to appreciate the poetry of sound healthy, strong muscles and fresh air. Thackeray did a grand work in caricaturing the follies of life, but he did it with blood. Dickens has built his own monument in his books, which are a plea for the poor and an anathema of injustice, and there are a score of novelists' pens today doing mighty work for God and right.

Fascinating and Purifying.

Now, I say, books like these, read at right times and read in right proportion with other books, cannot help but be ennobling and purifying; but, alas, for the inelegant and impure literature that has come in the shape of novels, like a fresher overflowing all the tanks of decay and corruption! They are coming from some of the most celebrated gold shing houses. They are coming with recommendations of some of our religious newspapers. They lie on your center tables while your children and your wives read them. In the last five generations unborn. You find these books in the hands of the young men in the drug stores of the young men, in the steamboat cabin, on the table of the hotel reception room. You see a light in your child's room late at night. You suddenly go in and say, "What are you doing?" I am reading." "What are you reading?" "A book." You look at the book. It is a bad book. "Where did you get it?" "I borrowed it." Alas, there are always those abroad who would like to loan your son or daughter a bad book! Everywhere, everywhere, an unclean literature. I charge upon it the destruction of 10,000 immortal souls, and I bid you wake up to the magnitude of the evil.

I shall take all the world's literature—good novels and bad, "true stories" and false, histories faithful and incorrect, legends beautiful and monstrous, all tracts, all chronicles, all poetry, all fiction, all the great sensational literature—and pile them up in a pyramid of literature, and then I shall take the torch of God and set it to the pile and let it be known from the world that the Christian principles. God help us to make the magnitude of the evil last account and help you to listen.

I charge you in the first place to the duties of those who make the stuff. Shall our minds be the receptacle of everything that an author has a mind to write? Shall food be a dumping ground for the refuse of the kitchen? Shall we stoop down and drink out of the trough which is the wickedness of men by the hogs? Pollution and shame! Shall we mire in impurity and chew fantastic without the swips across the lips? Shall we might walk in the blooming gardens of God? Oh no! For the sake of our present and future eternity we must make an intelligent and Christian choice.

Standing, as we do, on the plain in fictitious literature, the question that young people are asking is, "Shall we read novels?" I reply, There are novels that are pure, good, Christian, elevating to the heart and ennobling to the life. But I have still further to say that I believe that seventy-five out of the 100 novels in this day are baleful and destructive to the last degree. A pure work of fiction is that in my opinion, which I can give to my children and to the young men and the assumed names of poetry. The world can never pay the debt which it owes to such writers of fiction as Hawthorne and McKenzie and Lenhoo and Hunt and Arthur and others whose names are familiar to all. The follies of high life were never better rebuked than by Miss Edgeworth. The memories of the past were never more faithfully embalmed than in the writings of Walter Scott. Cooper's novels are beautifully redolent with the aroma of nature. I will not say that the American Dickens, Charles Kingsley has smitten the moribundity of the world and led a great many to appreciate the poetry of sound healthy, strong muscles and fresh air. Thackeray did a grand work in caricaturing the follies of life, but he did it with blood. Dickens has built his own monument in his books, which are a plea for the poor and an anathema of injustice, and there are a score of novelists' pens today doing mighty work for God and right.

Fascinating and Purifying.

Now, I say, books like these, read at right times and read in right proportion with other books, cannot help but be ennobling and purifying; but, alas, for the inelegant and impure literature that has come in the shape of novels, like a fresher overflowing all the tanks of decay and corruption! They are coming from some of the most celebrated gold shing houses. They are coming with recommendations of some of our religious newspapers. They lie on your center tables while your children and your wives read them. In the last five generations unborn. You find these books in the hands of the young men in the drug stores of the young men, in the steamboat cabin, on the table of the hotel reception room. You see a light in your child's room late at night. You suddenly go in and say, "What are you doing?" I am reading." "What are you reading?" "A book." You look at the book. It is a bad book. "Where did you get it?" "I borrowed it." Alas, there are always those abroad who would like to loan your son or daughter a bad book! Everywhere, everywhere, an unclean literature. I charge upon it the destruction of 10,000 immortal souls, and I bid you wake up to the magnitude of the evil.

I shall take all the world's literature—good novels and bad, "true stories" and false, histories faithful and incorrect, legends beautiful and monstrous, all tracts, all chronicles, all poetry, all fiction, all the great sensational literature—and pile them up in a pyramid of literature, and then I shall take the torch of God and set it to the pile and let it be known from the world that the Christian principles. God help us to make the magnitude of the evil last account and help you to listen.

I charge you in the first place to the duties of those who make the stuff. Shall our minds be the receptacle of everything that an author has a mind to write? Shall food be a dumping ground for the refuse of the kitchen? Shall we stoop down and drink out of the trough which is the wickedness of men by the hogs? Pollution and shame! Shall we mire in impurity and chew fantastic without the swips across the lips? Shall we might walk in the blooming gardens of God? Oh no! For the sake of our present and future eternity we must make an intelligent and Christian choice.

Standing, as we do, on the plain in fictitious literature, the question that young people are asking is, "Shall we read novels?" I reply, There are novels that are pure, good, Christian, elevating to the heart and ennobling to the life. But I have still further to say that I believe that seventy-five out of the 100 novels in this day are baleful and destructive to the last degree. A pure work of fiction is that in my opinion, which I can give to my children and to the young men and the assumed names of poetry. The world can never pay the debt which it owes to such writers of fiction as Hawthorne and McKenzie and Lenhoo and Hunt and Arthur and others whose names are familiar to all. The follies of high life were never better rebuked than by Miss Edgeworth. The memories of the past were never more faithfully embalmed than in the writings of Walter Scott. Cooper's novels are beautifully redolent with

Don't Be Duped

There have been placed upon the market a cheap imitation of our celebrated Dandelion and Waterfield Harness Dressing, which we are offered under various names at a low price.

Our Book Is Blessing.

By dry goods dealers, grocers, agents, etc., and have been offered as a premium for subscriptions to papers.

Announcements are misleading.

Worthless

reprints are very misleading, for instance, they are advertised to be the substantial and popular book of Dandelion Dressing, notoriety, so far as we know and believe, they have never been.

Reprint Dictionaries, phototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which is in the Washington Jackson $5.00, and which was much superior in paper, print and binding to the reprint, and yet India's work of some merit instead of one.

Long Since Obsolete.

Dandelion Dressing (10,000 advertised "genuine" words," which some of these books are advertised to contain, was compiled by a gentleman who died over forty years ago, and was published in a large quarto. Other minor additions are probably of more or less value.

The Genuine Dandelion Dressing Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, which is the only meritorious one published in this generation, contains over 300 pages with illustrations on nearly every page, and bears our imprint on the title page. It is protected by copyright and cannot be sold by others.

Dandelion Dressing book is, as we said, explains published a thoroughly revised unabridged edition of Webster's Unabridged INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY.

Send for our 32 page pamphlet free.

C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Springfield, Mass., U. S. A.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE IN THE TERMS and conditions of a certain mortgage made by Mary Ann Kimball, of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan to Seneca Green, Attorney of Ann Arbor, County and state aforesaid, dated the eighth day of February, 1887, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on the 15th day of February, 1887, in Liber 67 of Mortgages, on page 24, which said mortgage was duly assigned by the said Seneca Green to Mary E. Foster, by Warranty Deed of assignment bearing date the 15th day of February, 1887, and by Assignments of Mortgages on page 27, Washtenaw County Records, to Jerome Allen, which is claimed to be at the date of this notice the sum of Two Hundred Dollars (200) principal and Twenty-Five Dollars (25) attorney fee and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Tuesday the eleventh day of September, 1900, at one o'clock in the afternoon (Eastern Time) I will sell at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the south front door of the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said County of Washtenaw is held) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with 7 days per cent. interest, and the costs and charges of sale, which said premises are described in the mortgage as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point 1 rod west of the south-east section corner of section thirty-two (32), town ship one (1) north, range three (3) east, and running west fourteen (14) rods on the section line; thence north parallel with the east line of said section six (6) rods; thence east parallel with the south line of said section fourteen (14) rods; thence north six (6) rods to the place of beginning, containing one (1) acre of land, more or less, being a part of the south-east fractional quarter of the south-east quarter of said section thirty-two (32), in the Township of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, State of Michigan; running thence south thirty (30) rods and twenty (20) rods in the east line of said section; running thence south thirty (30) rods parallel with the east line of the south-east fractional fourteen (14) rods, parallel with the south line of said section; thence north twenty (20) rods parallel with the east line of said section; thence west to the place of beginning, containing one (1) acre, more or less, being a part of the south-east fractional quarter of said section thirty-two (32), in the Township of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan.

Dated, Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 29, 1900.

WM. W. NEWKIRK, Judge of Probate.

(A true copy.)

F. J. LAZARE, Probate Register.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Monday, the 23rd day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred.

Present, W. W. NEWKIRK, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Gudge Harris deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Mabel Smith, praying that the administration of said estate be granted to Grover Walters, or some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered that Tuesday, the 28th day of August next, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Manchester Enterprise, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

WM. W. NEWKIRK, Judge of Probate.

(A true copy.)

F. J. LAZARE, Probate Register.

J. J. WATSON, Attorney for Assignee. JOHN STEGMAIER, Assignee of Mortgage.

Current Notes of Events and Persons

Cure for Brain Fag.

President Jordan of Stanford university, California, is a hard worker himself, and has but little patience with a person who is indolent. He says: "If everything, however, the tasks imposed on the students under his care have proven. Too much for them. Here and there one or two would drop out of the race and were soon forgotten by almost everybody at the university. These failings by the wayside were the subject of frequent thought on the part of John J. Lewis, chief electrician of the university, whose misfortune it was to have a special friend drop out. Through inability to maintain the pace, Mr. Lewis set himself to the task of discovering some way of giving backward students such aid as would prevent them from falling behind. That was five years ago, and Mr. Lewis is now ready to give the necessary stimulant in such cases. His investigations have convinced him that electricity is a sort of elixir of youth; that it is a tonic for the brain, that it will invigorate the mind of youth and stimulate the wisdom of age. Mr. Lewis has produced a device which he is verifying just now all these miracles may be performed, but the young men at the university express the opinion that they prefer to the treatment as "hitting the brush." They unanimously agree that by touching the electrician's instructions the human brain's ability to withstand the fatigue of labor is vastly increased. Those who have taken the treatment declare at one in the assertion that no harm comes therefrom.

HITTING THE BRISH.

Grant's Grandchild.

Princess Cantacuzene, to whom a son was born in Paris the other day, was the Miss Dent Grant, the granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant and Julia Dent Grant. Miss Grant became the Princess Cantacuzene in January, 1899. The wedding was solemnized in New York and was the event of the principal events of the season. The Prince is a young woman of striking beauty. The Grant lines in the features of the Dent are reproduced in the face of his grandchild, softened and beautified, of course, by her Russian blood. The Princess

MAYBURY TO GOVERNOR.

Detroit Man Mentioned by the Democrats for Governor.

WASHINGTON ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Platform

All the Other Officers Being Whole Tickets Are Expected to Be Put Up by the Democrats.

The Democratic State Convention, for the purpose of placing in nomination the candidates for the various state offices, was called to order in the auditorium, Detroit, at noon on the 25th.

It was the feeling of the convention from the first that Wm. C. Maybury, mayor of Detroit, could poll more votes than any other candidate, and it was this confidence, together with the good work performed by Judge Justin R. Whiting of St. Clair, that the Democrats put forward as the nominee of the Michigan Democracy.

The convention was one of the few great political conventions that did its work without the delegatecy of money or the dictation of bosses. There was not any disposition to dictate it was abundoned in the face of overwhelming sentiment.

It was not an enthusiastic gathering. Its tone was one of hope. There was a feeling that if a big natural Republican majority would have to be overcome, as it will, as the lie is in the cap, but the bad record of the last Republican legislature, exposed by the Democrats, has put the party of money in the recent Republican primaries in a position where it knows that they had a fighting chance to win in the state, and they are fighting desperately, anxious to put forward their best material.

It took but a few o'clock at night to reach a nomination for governor, but after an hour's recess the convention went on with its work and completed their ticket.

The nomination of Mr. Maybury was not the only one that indicated that the Michigan democracy is for reform. Mr. Maybury is a German, and the Traverse City, named for lieutenant-governor, is a Scandinavian. There was in 1896, but the mention of that fact in the convention had little effect on the delegates, the Hollandaise, who opposed by a strong man like Phillip Wenckel.

The other other hand, Populism was recognized in the nomination for one years of state of John T. Ewing, of Grand Ledge, exchairman the Populist state committee.

The old soldiers are represented in the nomination of Hiram B. Hudson, of Wayne, for auditor general.

It was not until the convention got down to naming candidates for presidential electors at large that the slight of the Germans was noticed and their own issue of that nationality. It placed on the ticket for electors-at-large Fred Gauss, of Saginaw.

To demonstrate that there is no feud between Judge Tarsney and Mayor Maybury, the former was chairman of Mr. Maybury for state chairman with a few days and Mr. Tarsney will direct Maybury's campaign.

One of the highlights of the convention was the speech of Judge Whiting, who was nominated the week before and has been stumping the state ever since. He was one of the ablest men in the convention, and his speech was one of the strongest of the campaign.

The following is the new Democratic State Central Committee:

First district—Wm. Moore Ed. Swain Henderson, Detroit.

Second district—Jas. R. Thom, Lenawee; Elber L. Swan, Monroe.

Third district—John H. Burke, Kalamazoo; Thomas S. Adams, Allegan.

Fourth district—Thos. Cook, Allegan; A. C. Himebaugh, St. Joseph.

Fifth district—Geo. Gallup, Grand Rapids; Geo. F. Hummer, Ionia.

Sixth district—Geo. Gallup, Lansing; Arthur P. Tripp, Pontiac.

Seventh district—Jas. Bagnell, Jesper; Henry Mass, St. Clair.

Eighth district—E. W. Meager, Saginaw; Clark H. Smith, Cadillac.

Ninth district—Geo. Wanty, Muskegon; J. J. Cole, Ludington.

Tenth district—J. E. Kinnane, Bay City; Casper Algeier, Alpena.

Eleventh district—C. H. Brown, Ithaca; Alfred V. Friedlich, Traverse City.

Twelfth district—Paul Perrine, Mt. Pleasant; Hugh Culver, Marquette.

For Secretary of State—Jonathan G. Ramsdell, of Lapeer.

For Auditor General—Hiram B. Hudson, of Wayne.

For Commissioner of Public Instruction—Stephen H. Langdon, of Monroe.

For Member of the State Board of Education—James McLinge, M. Pelham, Mt. Pleasant.

For Presidential Electors—At large, Philip Wenckel, Leroy; Lewis H. Bingham, Saginaw; Fred C. Gauss, Thomas Tarsney, Traverse City.

First District, Orrin R. Peters, Hudson; Henry Hook, Adrian.

Second District, Hiram Hook, 4th district, Thos. A. Walker, Benton Harbor; 5th district, H. Alex. Crawford, Flint; 7th district, Wm. Baker, Mount Pleasant; 8th district, Thomas S. Adams, 9th district, Geo. S. Sandy, Cadillac; 10th district, Jas. Bagnell, Jesper; 11th district, W. H. Nichols, Bay City; 12th district, Paul Perrine, Mt. Pleasant; 13th district, Hugh Culver, Marquette.

Chairman—Colin Campbell, Lansing.

Secretary—A. Campau, Detroit.

THE REDEMPTION OF RALPH MORTON

When Mrs. Amy Worden, only child of the wealthy Judge Cornelius Worden, tripped into her father's office one December afternoon she was the embodiment of beautiful Christmas. Nodding kindly toward the clerks, who had for a moment ceased their scribbling, she approached the door of her father's private office. A privileged character, as she well knew, turned the door softly, intending to surprise him in the usual way.

As she peeped into the dimly lighted room she paused in a trance that her father was not there, but his confidential clerk, Ralph Morton, a good-looking young man of twenty-five, was standing before the desk. For a space she was puzzled by the young man's peculiar actions for he raised his hand twice to the side of his head, then, as if undecided, slowly lowered it again, and each time she caught the gleam of polished metal as it flashed in the rays from the electric bulb. Then, as if fully decided upon his action, he partly turned his face toward her; but she, noticing the tenseness of the white features, and the look of the awful import of his action, and darting across the room, snatched the deadly weapon from his hand and hid it behind her. For a space he stood, regarding with half-dazed, half-terrified face before him, then, utterly

RECREATION AND HEALTH.

Both Can Be Secured at the Indiana Mineral Springs, Indiana.

Like the young man in springtime, whose fancy "lightly turns to thoughts of love," when summertime comes we all turn our thoughts to the consideration of the important question of where we shall go for rest, recreation and health.

There are all kinds of health and pleasure resorts throughout this broad land of ours, some of them, unfortunately, anything but what their names imply, and apparently operated for no other purpose than to relieve the invalid and pleasure seeker, financially. So much so is this the case that it is indeed gratifying to the one seeking rest and recuperation from the cares of the business and social world, as well as the pain racked invalid, that it is fortunate enough to discover a place where to use a popular expression, he "gets his money's worth."

One of the most interesting, unique and delightful places in this country is undoubtedly the resort known as the Mineral Mud and Lithia Water Cure, located at Indiana Mineral Springs, Indiana. Here come the overworked business man, the anxious devotee of society and the professional man on the verge of nervous prostration, as well as the invalid from rheumatism, kidney and skin diseases for which the baths are especially beneficial. The place is also largely patronized by those who only seek pleasure and recreation, its location making it particularly adapted for this purpose. There are many romantic and beautiful spots and places of interest in and about Mineral Springs, to be had to find a section of country containing so many beautiful drives, and streets in such fine shape. The roads are all gravel or macadamized in good condition. The climate is one of the finest in the country, making it attractive to those in office work who

Ralph Morton almost dropped the light bowlder he gazed at. "It is she Amy! O, Fred, think heaven I have found her at last!"

"Was it in the doctor's cozy house, after he and his wife left them alone, that he said: "You will continue the angel once, Amy; will you continue to be such? The debt I owe you can never be repaid, but I will be devoted. Will you accept it in marriage?"

"And she whispered: "I believe I have loved you from the beginning, and sorry to have you go."—Boston Post.

Eyes Without Shells.

In the report of the chief of Italy for the years 1888 and 1889, by Sir George Bonham, secretary to her majesty's embassy at Rome, there is an interesting paragraph describing the system adopted for the exportation of eggs to England from Italy. The egg is removed, and the interior of the egg—white and yolk together—is packed in air-tight tins, each regular containing 1,000 eggs. Great care is taken to ensure the eggs being fresh, and to exclude the air, one bad egg spoils all the remainder, and renders the consignment unsalable. The new system has the advantage of removing the risk of breakage, and is also preferred by the pastry cook for whose use they are intended, or drinks cooking, and for the purpose of making an almost impossible to escape if the wayfarer is caught in the bed of the creek. Campers in the mountain regions know that the ground under shade of the creek rather than pitch their tent beside the gently rippling water, which at night gives forth a soothing effect, sleep sweeping them to dreamland before they know that danger is near. It is a well known fact, and a precaution that many lives were lost in a cloudburst near Morrison, Colo., a few years ago, when a dozen people were camping along the borders of the stream, and, as it was just after dark, they had located in the creek bed, had sought the shelter of their tents. Suddenly they heard the awful and peculiar roar of the approaching cloud burst. It grew louder every second. Realizing what had happened, the unfortunate campers, women and even children—rushed from their tents and tried to reach the higher ground. In the dark and confusion and the hurried turn ed the wrong way, and were soon struggling in mad torrents, battling with tree trunks and wrecks of cabins and immense masses of moving stone in the boom of the torrent. Thirteen lives were lost in that dire night. The bodies found later showed the marks of buffeting with the debris in the flood of waters and it is believed that

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY,

Notre Dame, Indiana.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of St. Mary's Academy which appears in another column of this paper. The 46th year opens September 4th, 1900. We do not need to expatiate upon the scholastic advantages of St. Mary's for the care bestowed on the school and the amount of work included in its curriculum, which is of the same high standard as that of our universities. The Sisters have carried out faithfully in the class rooms. We simply emphasize the spirit of earnest devotion which marks every teacher at St. Mary's loyally affire to develop each young girl attendant there into the truest, noblest, and most intelligent womanhood. Every advantage of equipment in the class rooms, laboratories and study halls, every care in the matter of food and clothing, and exceptional excellence of climate and surroundings all of these features are found at St. Mary's, in the perfection of development only to be obtained in the direction of devotion of devoted lives to educational Christian work, in a spot favored by the Lord.—The Fine Arts Journal.

Where Hippocrates Still Reigns.

Cardinia, although one of the regions most loyal to the Italian sovereign, is one of the least contented. Poverty, squalor and malaria have in one way or other depopulated the island, which has an average of 28 inhabitants to every square kilometer, while in the peninsula the average is over 104 and in Sicily 93. It is the only part of Italy where it has not yet been possible to uproot brigandage.

BEAR STORIES

Are always interesting. The bears in Yellowstone Park afford intense delight to the tourists who visit Wonderland. There are black bears, brown bears and grizzly bears. There are the big bears and the little bears, the young and the little wee bears of the story of childhood days. These bears live in the hills and valleys and come down to the park hotels in the evening to eat from the refuse heaps. The way they eat and the fun they evidently have, are very funny to the park tourists who go out to photograph them with their kodaks.

The bears never hurt any one and are easily scared.

Tourists are allowed to throw sticks or stones at them under penalty of arrest by the soldiers in the park.

A little volume entitled "Bears" which tells about these park bears will be sent to any one who will send six cents in stamps to the Hon. Chas. J. Pete, Pass Agent of the Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minn. The bear pictures are printed in the chapter on Yellowstone Park.

The church cannot be without its outcasts.

Yesterday's entries of the proceedings of the Ann Arbor Magnetic Medicine Company, of Ann Arbor, Mich., are interesting in stating to the public that they have received a letter from the Chief of the Navy. Established in 1841 they have steadily grown in 59 years, and now have having one failure to report in fifty-nine years. Their Sleep Plant, Cyndinnamon, Cascarets, Seven Sealed Mixture, Celery Nerve Tonic, and if you every see the big broken tree, and if you every see the Blue Blue Green Plant, write for your will be convinced. Every article made by the Magnetic Medicine Company is guaranteed to do what is claimed for it.

Holiness on earth is better than innocence in Eden.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet. Sold by all druggists, 25c. Accept no substitute. Sample FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Jealousy is the emptiness of power to our superiors.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

Only the needy are known at the Bank of Faith.

Each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYES colors either Silk, Wool or Cotton perfectly.

A church without charity forms but either for gain or falsehood.

Stop Your Hair From Falling.

Coke Dandruff Cure will restore any gray hair to its original color. $1.00.

A life spent worthily should be measured by deeds, not years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Love rather than legislation rules in the kingdom of heaven.

Remove the causes that make your blood sluggish and your liver inactive with PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

Men and women agree oftener in love than in money matters.

Pluck's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a remedy for Ague and Fever.—Richard Tabor, Ind. Ter., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 3, 1900.

Love is a disease of which one physician is not sufficient.

Baseball players, golf players, all players, drink White's Vanilla Wintergreen.

The gospel is the heart of God seeking the heart of man.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

No man ever found fame by looking for it.

Man is dust but still divine.

Painful Periods

are overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fifty thousand happy women testify to this in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful something is wrong which will promptly set right if excessive or irregular with its train of ills. Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Evidence abounds that Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine have for many years been helping women to be strong. No other advice is so universally accurate, no other medicine has such a record of cure.

FREAKS OF CLOUD-BURSTS.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN CAMPERS CAUGHT IN ONE OF THEM

Cloudbursts are sometimes very destructive of life as well as of property. They come up so suddenly that it is almost impossible to escape if the wayfarer is caught in the bed of the creek. Campers in the mountain regions know that the ground under shade of the creek rather than pitch their tent beside the gently rippling water, which at night gives forth a soothing effect while they sleep, sweeping them to dreamland before they know that danger is near. It is a well known fact, and a precaution that many lives were lost in a cloudburst near Morrison, Colo., a few years ago, when a dozen people were camping along the borders of the stream, and, as it was just after dark, they had located in the creek bed, had sought the shelter of their tents. Suddenly they heard the awful and peculiar roar of the approaching cloud burst. It grew louder every second. Realizing what had happened the unfortunate campers, women and even children—rushed from their tents and tried to reach the higher ground. In the dark and confusion and the hurried turn ed the wrong way, and were soon struggling in mad torrents, battling with tree trunks and wrecks of cabins and immense masses of moving stone in the boom of the torrent. Thirteen lives were lost in that dire night. The bodies found later showed the marks of buffeting with the debris in the flood of waters and it is believed that

UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME,

Notre Dame, Ind.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Notre Dame University, one of the great educational institutions of the West, which opens its next scholastic year on the 13th inst. The fine catalogue of this institution may be obtained free by addressing the President, Father Morrissey, C.S.C., President.

The church cannot be without its outcasts.

Yesterday's entries of the proceedings of the Ann Arbor Magnetic Medicine Company, of Ann Arbor, Mich., are interesting in stating to the public that they have received a letter from the Chief of the Navy. Established in 1841 they have steadily grown in 59 years, and now have having one failure to report in fifty-nine years. Their Sleep Plant, Cyndinnamon, Cascarets, Seven Sealed Mixture, Celery Nerve Tonic, and if you every see the big broken tree, and if you every see the Blue Blue Green Plant, write for your will be convinced. Every article made by the Magnetic Medicine Company is guaranteed to do what is claimed for it.

Holiness on earth is better than innocence in Eden.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet. Sold by all druggists, 25c. Accept no substitute. Sample FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Jealousy is the emptiness of power to our superiors.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

Only the needy are known at the Bank of Faith.

Each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYES colors either Silk, Wool or Cotton perfectly.

A church without charity forms but either for gain or falsehood.

Stop Your Hair From Falling.

Coke Dandruff Cure will restore any gray hair to its original color. $1.00.

A life spent worthily should be measured by deeds, not years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Love rather than legislation rules in the kingdom of heaven.

Remove the causes that make your blood sluggish and your liver inactive with PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

Men and women agree oftener in love than in money matters.

Pluck's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a remedy for Ague and Fever.—Richard Tabor, Ind. Ter., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 3, 1900.

Love is a disease of which one physician is not sufficient.

Baseball players, golf players, all players, drink White's Vanilla Wintergreen.

The gospel is the heart of God seeking the heart of man.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

No man ever found fame by looking for it.

Man is dust but still divine.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

AN INDEPENDENT, LIVE, LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

VOL. 32—NO. 49. [Entered at Manchester Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.] MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1900. WHOLE NUMBER 1765.

Manchester Enterprise

By MAT D. BLOSSER.

Societies.

ADONIRAM COUNCIL NO. 34, R. & S. M. assemble at Masonic Hall, Tuesday evening after each full moon. All visiting companions invited. J. H. KINGSLEY, T. I. M. ALFRED BIGELOW, Recorder.

ANCIENT ORDER OF UNITED WORKMEN meet 2nd and 4th Tuesdays at Maccabee Hall. Visiting brothers welcome. JOHN J. HAEUSLER, M. W. A. BLUM, Recorder.

CORSTOCK POST NO. 352 G. A. R. meet every first and third Tuesday evenings of each month at their hall over G. P. Tinkham's store. Visiting comrades invited. W. H. TERTEL, Commander. SAMUEL SHERMAN, Adjutant.

CORSTOCK W. R. C. NO. 230 meet first and third Tuesday afternoons of each month at their hall. Visiting comrades welcome. MISS NELLIE STEVENSON, Pres. MRS. LIZZIE D. NASH, Sec'y.

MANCHESTER LODGE NO. 165 F. & A. M. Meet at Masonic Hall, Monday evening on or before each full moon. Visiting brothers are invited. T. D. BAILEY, W. M. CHAS. J. ROBISON, Secretary.

MERIDIAN CHAPTER NO. 48 R. A. M. Meet at Masonic Hall, Friday evening on or before each full moon. Companions are invited. T. D. BAILEY, H. P. CHAS. J. ROBISON, Secretary.

MANCHESTER CHAPTER NO. 101 O. E. S. Meet at Masonic Hall, Monday evening on or before full moon. Visiting members are invited. MRS. ELLA BIGELOW, W. M. MRS. EFFIE L. HALL, Secretary.

MANCHESTER HIVE NO. 686 L. O. T. M. Meet in Masonic Hall, every other Tuesday evening of month. Visiting ladies are invited. MRS. MINNIE HAEUSLER, Lady Commander. MRS. JOHANNA SCHMID, L. Record Keeper.

MANCHESTER TENT NO. 96 K. O. T. M. Meet every first and third Tuesday evenings and 3rd Tuesday in month. Visiting Knights are invited. JOHN W. MORRIS, Commander. GEO. J. NIELE, Record Keeper.

MANCHESTER LODGE NO. 84, FRATERNAL ARCANUM, meets 2nd and 4th Thursday evening of month, in Deer hall over Kapp's Drug Store. ALBERT A. MAN, Prefect. HENRY VAN GORDER, Secretary.

$803 Monthly Salary 33

Paid Salesmen to introduce our goods. Position permanent. Salary paid weekly. With expenses, $60 a week. Address, Mac-a-Watch Co. Dept. 3, Chicago. MEN WANTED. NO CANVASSING. Business Honorable. NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY. Give age, occupation, and name of employer. MAC-A-WATCH CO., CORPORATION, Chicago.

THE STANDARD SEWING MACHINE COMPANY makes 1000 Five Different styles, including the latest, prized best, and best selling. Send for catalogue and prices. Agents wanted. E. B. ALDRICH, State Mgr. 90 Woodward Ave., DETROIT, MICH.

A. J. WATERS. ATTORNEY And Counselor at Law. Office over Union Bank. MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN.

E. M. CONKLIN, M. D. GENERAL PRACTITIONER Particular attention given to the treatment of Rectal Diseases. Office, Main St. MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN.

C. F. KAPP, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office at Residence, On Clinton street. Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 p. m. MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN.

B. C. THOMAS, M. D. PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, AND OCULIST Special attention to Diseases of Women and Children. Office and Residence, Main Street. MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN.

W. A. KLOPFENSTEIN, HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office and Residence, Whitlock block, 2d floor, opposite Postoffice. Hours: 9 to 11 a. m. 1 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m.

G. KUHL, D. D. S. Will be in Manchester every Wednesday and Thursday to practice DENTISTRY in all its branches, at reasonable prices. Office over Union Savings Bank.

GEO. A. SERVIS, D. D. S. Is prepared to do all kinds of work in DENTAL WORK. General and Local Anesthetics for Painless Extraction. Office in Kapp's Drug Store Building. In Clinton every Tuesday.

F. D. MERITHEW, LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Sales in village or country will be promptly attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed. Dates can be made at the ENTERPRISE Office.

GRANT R. SUTTON, LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Real Estate, Farm or Village Property sold on reasonable terms. Dates made at ENTERPRISE Office, Manchester, Mich.

KNORPP & MAYER, THE CITY MARKET. First-class Sausage Makers. Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats. Wholesale and Retail. EAST SIDE OF RIVER.

ALBERT M. KIEBLER, CENTRAL MEAT MARKET. Steam Sausage Maker. Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats. Wholesale and Retail. NO. 2 PEARL STREET.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME, NOTRE DAME, INDIANA. Classical, Literary, Scientific, Law, Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Engineering, Journalism, Art, Science, Pharmacy, Law, Preparatory, Commercial, Music, Drawing. Tuition, $100 per year. Board and Tuition, $150 per year. Preparatory Department students carried in separate quarters. Separate Department for Catholic Boys under 13 years of age. Catalogue Free. Address, REV. WM. CORBY, C.S.C., President.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY, NOTRE DAME, INDIANA. Conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Chartered 1855. Thorough English and Classical education. Regular Collegiate Degrees. Preparatory Department students carefully prepared for Collegiate course. Payne's Music Method. Pupils thoroughly equipped. Conservatory of Music and School of Art. Gymnasium supplied with Apparatus. Physical culture under direction of Graduate of Sargent's Normal School of Physical Culture. Boarding pupils provided with a nourishing diet under the supervision of a competent dietitian. Pupils of Preparatory Department have their own separate dormitory, under the supervision of a Mother. Kalisthenic Drills and Physical Culture Exercises daily. Pupils of Collegiate Department have the privilege of a Lake Resort, with Boats, Bathing Beach, etc.,