Optimist Student of the Month

The Winner Is....

Peter Schulte, the son of Carol and Thomas Schulte, has been selected as the February "Student of the Month" by the Manchester Optimist Club. During Peter's high school years, he has been involved in many school and community activities.

Peter has been an active member of the National Honor Society, where he has been on the A and B Honor Roll throughout his high school years. Involved in Marching Band, he has earned the "Outstanding Rank" award. He is also a Concert Band Section Leader. Recently, Pete was awarded the acknowledgment of being a National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

He is the Drama Club President, and has participated in many plays during his four years at the High School. He was recently voted the Coming-Home King for 1999. For the past two years he participated as a Storer Camp Counselor. He also participated in a three week exchange program as a student in Berlin, Germany.

Jim King, of Uniloy Milacron, was the $7000 cash winner at the Kiwanis Krazy Kash Knight last Saturday. The event raised an estimated $18,000 for the Klager Playscape. More photos and winners on page 12.

His future plans include studying at Brigham Young University.

Haarer's to Change

Changes in the Wind at Haarer's Meeting Place

- Marsha Johnson Chartrand

In the summer of 1989, Neil and Paula Haarer were working on the outside of their new restaurant, getting ready to open. Someone passing by commented, "You're not even from Manchester." Well, ten years later, Neil and Paula and their family restaurant are as much a part of the Manchester scene as one could ask for, although it should be noted that Neil recalls spending many summers in Manchester with relatives during his childhood. "We've more than fulfilled our vision for this," said Neil. "We've made friends, we have good employees, and the business has done extremely well. It's been a good ten years."

Soon Neil and Paula will reap the rewards of these "ten good years" as they hand over the reins of Haarer's Meeting Place to local residents Dan and Carol Huntsbarger, also owners of Ann Arbor's renowned Moveable Feast. The restaurant will close for about a month, and will re-open as Dan's River Grill, with many of the same familiar faces in a redecorated setting. The exact time of the change over has not been announced, and Haarer's will still be around for a few weeks to come.

"It's always been in the back of our minds to have more than one restaurant," says Dan. "We've been talking with Neil about this since last fall." The Huntsbargers are looking forward to having a restaurant in the town they've called home for the past twelve years. "It's a great location, with a beautiful river view," Dan notes, "and we intend to make the most of that river frontage," which will include expanding the glass in the riverfront room on the west side of the restaurant.

Many of the changes that Carol and Dan intend

Dan & Carol Huntsbarger have purchased Haarer's Restaurant from current owners Neil & Paula Haarer. Neil plans to spend more time devoted to his photography, which currently decorates the walls at the Manchester landmark. We also hear he has been challenged to a round of golf, by gar.

to make in the restaurant will be just the ones that reflect a new "personality" for the establishment. "It's a very personal thing," says Carol, "you make it personal because you literally live there." The new look will retain a historic theme, and many of the antiques you're used to seeing in Haarer's will find their new home in Dan's River Grill.

Dan adds, "You don't try to recreate 'Mom's apple pie,' because 99% of the people are bound to be disappointed. Everyone's mom's apple pie tastes a little different. This restaurant will be sort of like 'Dan's apple pie.'" And Dan's "apple pie" will be unique as he describes food as not only his business, but his passion.

The Huntsbargers intend to keep a similar price range as people have become accustomed to, and a similar menu as well. "At lunches, we'll have salads, sandwiches, grill specialties, pasta, and seafood," suggested Dan. They intend to keep the restaurant open for lunches and dinners, six days a week - Monday through Saturday. They're also considering utilizing the downstairs as a meeting space and for possible entertainment on a regular basis. "Neil has had a few comedy nights here," said Dan. "We'll have to see if there is a demand for that kind of live entertainment in the community."

Visiting with Neil, Dan and Carol, I surmised that after ten years in business, he was putting a lot of trust in the Huntsbargers. "Paula and I feel so lucky that these people want to buy our restaurant and make it their restaurant," agreed Neil. "It was what both of us needed."

Out & About

- by gar

In Honor of gar's "retirement..."

After Christmas break, a teacher asked her young pupils how they spent their holidays. One small boy wrote the following.

'Round and About

- by Toby

Saturday morning, I made the mistake of looking for something in the "junk drawer," an institution without which no family should be. Normally, I just reach in and fish around until I find what I want, re-pile the drawer and hope to get it closed before something crawly escapes.

Not this time. I wasn't sure what I needed, so I began to pull stuff out. After awhile, I began to wonder if the contents of junk drawers aren't an index to the junkies' personalities, living habits or perhaps worse.

Let's see. Eight flashlights, several candles, long nosed butane lighter, and matches. Okay, those people 1) live where the power goes out with some frequency and 2) like to know where they are headed in the dark and 3) have a propane grill.

A roll of light nylon rope. Nylon strapping tape and 4 rolls of black electrician's tape.

We like to have loose ends tied up?

Dog nail clippers and spare blades, two leash end clips, a cat collar and tags from a kitty who now rests permanently in the back yard, and two small tin boxes labeled "miscellaneous stuff," which contain more leash end clips, some buckles, "s" hooks, odd screws and nuts and a marble. We have pets, we tend to keep them close to us and we never throw anything away.

Four pruners, an awl, several screwdrivers, a small hammer, a large hammer, several different sizes and styles of pliers, two pairs of safety glasses, and diagonal clippers. Metal tape. A thingamabob that fits on the baseboard heating system. Pencils, pens, a broken ruler, a box of newspaper clip blades, graphite lubricant, a hole puncher, and double stick mounting tape. Utility knife and blades. Masking tape. Check valve. Not sure what all this means other than we wind up fixing a lot of things and don't like to have to go to the basement to get tools. We should have a filing system?

There's actually much more in the junk drawer, but at this pace, I already know 1) I'll never get it all back into the drawer and 2) I'll never understand why we have some things in the drawer and 3) I don't even want to think about cleaning it.

However, it does demonstrate one thing: Now I know where my marble is and I can prove I still have it.

Heart's-ease Gardens Application Approved

The Bridgewater Township Planning Commission voted Tuesday to approve the application of Ben and Cindy Bodewes for a special land use permit for a perennial plant nursery. The nursery is planned for eleven acres at 14108 Austin Road that has been known as the Black Sheep Farm. The Bodewes' plan to rename the property "Heart's-ease Gardens."

The Bridgewater Township Hall was filled, with many people there to state their concerns about the proposed nursery. Austin Road traffic was the most common concern. Other worries included the use of herbicides and pesticides, water supply and changes in the view neighbors will have.

Nurseries and greenhouses with sales facilities are permitted under the agricultural zoning that has been in place since 1957. Planning Commission Chair Jim Fish explained that "In their site plans and application, the Bodewes have complied with all standards of our zoning ordinance - screening, set backs, parking areas, heights and the like. The fact is, many uses for the farm that might involve much larger buildings, would not require a special land use permit. This is zoned for agricultural use."

There was confusion about the difference between zoning and the Township's general development plan that indicates the area along Austin Road, may be rezoned to a more residential use at some time in the future. The present zoning, however, remains agricultural. Wade Peacock, Secretary of the Planning Commission, pointed out that residences are a permitted activity in agricultural areas, but residential use does not change the zoning.

Several houses have been built on the various parcels created from much of the old farm and more parcels remain for sale. Neighbors of the area urged denial of the application for several reasons, including use of fertilizers and pesticides, traffic, water use, change of scenery, and devaluation of nearby property.

Austin Road traffic was a major item of discussion. Area residents are very concerned about any decision that may add traffic to the hilly, narrow and curving road that tends to be a race-track during rush hour. Planning Commission Vice Chair Heidi Cobb pointed out that she has lived on Austin Road for twenty years and has seen traffic steadily increase, but that it would be inappropriate to deny this use based on a hypothetical increase in traffic. "Every use increases traffic." Planning Commission members urged the audience to talk with the Washtenaw County Road Commission and enforcement officials.

A petition with 14 signatures objecting to the permit was brought to the meeting. Letters from seven residents opposed to the permit and one in support were made a part of the official record.

In approving the application, the Planning Commission adopted several conditions, including licensing, pesticides, Road Commission approval of the driveway, widening the driveway, hours of operation, limited the security lighting to the one existing, and specified a process for determining landscaping screening.

By the end of the meeting, the Bodewes' new neighbors seemed to believe the new use for the old Black Sheep Farm would work out, expressing the desire to be included in the future decision about visual screening of the hoop buildings. Ben and Cindy Bodewes were very pleased with the outcome and looking forward to moving their plants to their new home in the country.

Community Included In Park Planning

Fred Barkley, Director of the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission, spoke to an audience of about 30 people who attended the March 8 session of the Bridgewater Township Planning Commission. Mr. Barkley explained the kind of land the Commission is interested in finding in southwest Washtenaw County for a new park.

"We don't have a minimum or maximum amount of acres, but we are looking for a parcel that could become a park with little disruption to neighboring uses. Access is important, for example." He emphasized that a park is developed in a way that is appropriate to the land. Most parks in the county, he explained, are more "passive," in that people entertain themselves - picnics, fishing, swimming, paddle boats and canoes, hiking trails and nature areas. Rolling Hills is an example of a very active park - including water slides, a wave action pool, ice-skating and toboggan runs.

He said that while purchase at Columbia Lake wasn't possible now, the family that owns a large parcel on the lake had assured the Commission they would like to sell to the Commission at a later time. Jan Raab, whose family owns land on Columbia Lake, expressed considerable concern about the impact a park would have on neighboring properties. Her family rents access to the lake, including cabins, and worries about the impact of a public park. Another person living near Columbia Lake asked how the public would know what is being planned so they could have input. Jim Fish, Chair of the Planning Commission, assured her that a county park locating in Bridgewater Township would be required to have at least a special land use permit and that the public would be notified through notices in The Manchester Enterprise, the newspaper of record.

Mr. Barkley concluded by saying that the Park Commission is not limited to Bridgewater Township, but would like to find land for a park in this area of the county. "Call me if you know of something. We'll keep looking too."

Notice of All Sharon Township Residents Amendments to Sharon Township Ordinance

The following amendments to the Sharon Township Zoning Ordinance was approved by unanimous vote of the Sharon Township Board during a regular monthly meeting held on Thursday, March 4, 1999. A public hearing on this amendment was held on Thursday, January 21, 1999 by the Sharon Township Planning Commission. They recommended approval as did the Washtenaw County Planning Commission.

A summary of the amendments are as follows.

To amend Article 23 Nonconformities: to remove Section 23.09 Non conforming Extraction Operations, because these provisions are now contained within a new general ordinance regulating gravel extraction operations.

To amend Article 21 Special Uses: to rewrite Section 21.01 General Provisions, to rename Section 21.08 from "Conditions of Approval" to "Approval with Conditions" and to make minor grammatical corrections.

To amend Article 3 General Provisions: to add Section 3.01 Establishment of Districts, the addition of two overlay zone districts: open space community and commercial tower to the list of established districts.

The complete text of the amendments are available for examination by any person at the office of the Sharon Township Clerk. Please call (734) 428-7002 for an appointment. The zoning ordinance amendments may take effect not earlier than 7 days after publication. During that 7 day period, any registered elector may file with the Clerk a Notice of Intent to file a referendum petition. A referendum petition must be filed 30 days after publication.

In absence of a Notice of Intent, these amendments will take effect 30 days after publication

Village Election Results - Where was Everyone?

Monday, March 8 was the annual Village election. With 51 votes cast in 13 hours, the election officials can attest to a very LONG, slow day.

Total votes cast - 51

One year term (one seat available):

Marty Way - 45 votes

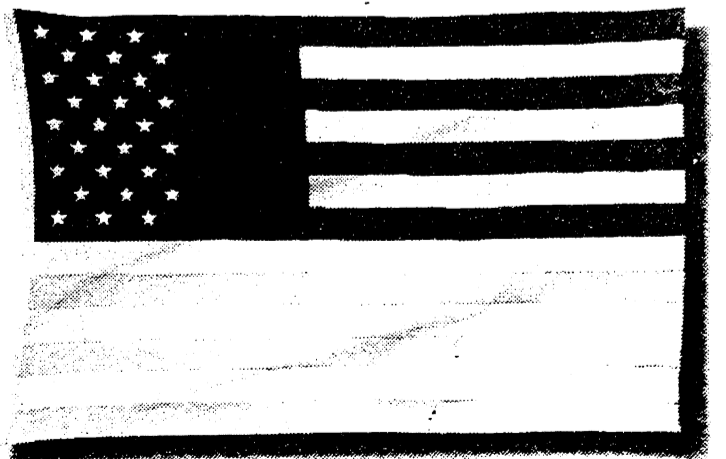

Two year terms (three seats available):

Jack Conaway, incumbent - 38 votes

Jim Dzengeleski - 41 votes

Pat Vaillencourt - 43 votes

Clerk Karen Tucker estimated that the cost of the election averaged out to conservatively $10 per vote. There are approximately 1520 registered voters in the village, for a voter turnout ratio of 3%.

Manchester Residents Against Rezoning Strategize

Calling themselves "Residents Against Rezoning" about 25 people met on a sunny Sunday afternoon to discuss what they regard as a dark future - rezoning a 40-acre parcel of land located at M-52 and Hogan Road in Manchester Township. Under the application filed last November, the land now zoned for agricultural use would be rezoned to community manufacturing. Manchester's general development plan, adopted in 1991, designated the land as potential for community manufacturing zoning. Don Limpert recently sold the land to developers Larry Byrne and Jim Lozelle.

Most of the attendees live within a mile or two of the land that would extend the industrial park area south of the Village. People are devoting a lot of time and effort to, as George Jones put it, "Stop this at any cost." Arriving at the meeting, residents were asked to sign petitions and take form letters, complete with a pre-addressed envelope, to be sent to Manchester Township to urge denial of the application.

They were also greeted with an opportunity to read a section of the day's Ann Arbor News saying the property was already rezoned by the Village, quoting Village Manager Jeff Wallace as saying the 'paperwork was done and the land is available for business.' Mr. Wallace said the quote was incorrect. "I told the reporter the application was under consideration by the Township and that the paperwork completing the sale of the property was done."

The meeting was informally chaired by Tim Timoszyk who lives on Cedar Lane, a small subdivision off Hogan Road, and Jeanette Spencer, a resident of Novi who, with her husband Jeff purchased 15 acres of land abutting the Limpert property. The group met to formulate "strong logical arguments why the land should not be rezoned from agricultural to commercial." Tim Timoszyk identified a primary concern as a "fear of the unknown - nobody wants to tell us what will go there. Larry Byrne said he didn't know, but why would they have purchased the land? They had to have some kind of guarantee the land would be rezoned."

Jeanette Spencer urged the group to arrive at logical arguments against the rezoning that would avoid "emotional and personal" discussions. Mike Fusilier, former Chair of Manchester Township's Planning Commission, said the best thing citizens could do was to attend meetings, telephone Planning Commission members, and tell the Township Board of their concerns. He also suggested that the Township's general development plan was not being followed consistently and that it did not reflect the survey taken as part of the process in 1990. Finally, Mr. Fusilier assured the attendees that if the Township rezoned this piece for community manufacturing, they would soon look to designate another parcel for potential industrial use. After considerable discussion, the group came to several conclusions. They will:

- Protest the rezoning on the basis of environmental concerns, including pollution, drainage, runoff and noise
- Ask that the application be redone as a planned unit development application
- Research and cite inconsistent application of the Township's general development plan
- Express major concern about increased traffic
- Research the amount of employment for immediate area residents that would be added
- Investigate if any tax abatements are involved
- Inform the public and urge people to speak up in writing and telephone calls to township officials, in letters to the editor, in person and by telephone
- Attend all meetings of the Planning Commission and Township Board and voice their opinions.

A public hearing on the rezoning application will be held at the Manchester Township Hall at 7:30 PM on March 18.

Successful Art Show at Black Sheep

A very well attended afternoon reception for the members of the Chelsea Painters, included 25 artists and a wide variety of interested folks from as far away as Ann Arbor, Brighton and Detroit, was hosted by the Black Sheep Tavern this past Sunday. "It was a wonderful Sunday afternoon," commented Black Sheep co-owner Tracey Reed. "We'd like to make this a continuing event." Several paintings were sold at the reception, and most of the remainder are for sale.

The paintings will be on display for the next two months. Contact the Black Sheep at 428-7000 for information on how to purchase these artists' works.

NOW YOU CAN COMPLAIN ON-LINE

Michigan's Attorney General is now on-line for complaints. With about 60,000 complaints a year received primarily by telephone, the AG's office hopes to divert some of the flow to its new web site: www.ag.state.mi.us. Doing so, the AG hopes to make the system more efficient.

Top complaints in Michigan include: telemarketing, telephone service, mail orders, warranties, home improvement, credit repair schemes, fitness clubs and travel fraud.

The wide variety of paintings made the decisions difficult to chose just one.

Stop by the Black Sheep and enjoy the wonderful artwork.

Obituaries

LoRen Trolz

LoRen R. Trolz, aged 89 of Manchester, died March 7, 1999. Mr. Trolz was born August 6, 1909 in Franklin Twp., the son of Albert and Mina (Alber) Trolz. He married Margaret Lowery on June 30, 1934 and she preceded him in death on April 26, 1986. Mr. Trolz was retired from farming.

LoRen attended the Iron Creek Community Church, was a member of the Washtenaw Farm Bureau, and served on the Manchester School Board as well as the Church Board. LoRen was also active in the Manchester Board of Review and the election board. He was the subject of many recent news articles about his years of community service.

Mr. Trolz is survived by two sons: Roger (Ruth) Trolz of Napoleon; Gerald (Barbara) Trolz of Elkhart, Ind., one daughter, Joan (John) Dobben of Jackson; six grandchildren; and five great grandchildren. Besides his wife, he was preceded in death by four sisters and two bothers.

Visitation was held Tuesday, March 9, at the Jenter Braun Funeral Home. Funeral Services will be held Wednesday at 11 AM at the funeral home with the Reverend Tom Butterfield and Reverend Ralph Janofski officiating. Burial in Oak Grove Cemetery, Manchester.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that memorials be made to the Iron Creek Community Church, or to the charity of the donor's choice.

Kenneth Finfrock Jr.

Kenneth Finfrock, Jr. of Manchester, age 79, went to be with his Lord on March 1, 1999. He was born June 24, 1919 in Vanderbilt, Michigan, the son of Kenneth and Ida Finfrock. On January 9, 1940 he married Estella Ratkowiak in Lucas County, Ohio. They lived most of their married life around the Manchester area. He worked several years for Feiner Glass Co. as a Glazier.

Kenneth was a lifetime member of American Disabled Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Chapter #13, Washtenaw County.

On August 23, 1943 he was enlisted in the U.S. Army. He served in World War II and was involved in the 82nd Airborne Division and 608th Ordinance Battalion. During the Normandy, Northern France and Rhineland campaign he was wounded in action, for which he received two Purple Hearts and spent three months in an American hospital in England. He was honorably discharged on December 26, 1945 and received the European Theatre Ribbon with three Bronze Stars, Good Conduct Medal and World War II Victory Medal. Kenneth served his country three years in the Army and two years as Military Police in the National Guard.

He was a loving father of five children: Daniel Finfrock of Saline, (Sandra) and Stan Dauber of Stockbridge, (Fayetta) and Donald Haft of Milan, Deborah Powers of Garden City and Barbara Kwiarkowski of Saline. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and three great grandchildren, several nephews and nieces. He was preceded in death by his parents; two sisters Fayette Johnson of Roseville, MI and Marabelle Anderson of Laferia, Texas; one infant son and one grandson.

Graveside services will be March 20, 1999 at 11 AM at the Norvell Cemetery. Expressions of sympathy may be given to the Finfrock family. Arrangements by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home in Chelsea.

Social Studies Fair

Another Successful Science and Social Studies Fair

5th Grader Raya Cooper's project on the Anasazi won second place
Jeff Galaska, 8th Grade, won a first place with his project on Aspartame

Kristin Guenther, 7th Grader, did her project on Michigan Lighthouses

With well over 100 adults and almost 400 students involved in this year's Science and Social Studies Fair, there is every reason to consider this another successful year. It seems there is always a lot going on in everyone's life at this time of the year, and it's not always easy to fit in "one more thing." But with over 1/3 of the projects being named as finalists, and another 1/3 being very worthy of note, it's obvious that the vast majority of the middle school students and their parents are taking advantage of this wonderful learning opportunity.

The drop off times for projects had to be changed this year, due to the Legion's fund-raiser on Sunday afternoon. Although this may have caused some inconvenience for some people, Mary Ann Fielder notes that "The Middle School community needs to show our appreciation to the American Legion for generously allowing us to monopolize their facilities for one week every year at no expense to us. Without their support, there would be no fair, since there is no other facility in town large enough to hold all of the projects."

And it seems likely that there will come a time when the Fair will outgrow even this facility! On Thursday evening, this seemed to be the social event at which to be seen in Manchester. The aisles were so crowded it was difficult to get down some of them to see the projects.

Fielder said, "The complaints from parents before the Fair can be very discouraging. The effort that it requires from parents in encouraging their students to complete the project, is what education is supposed to be all about. This annual Fair involves effort from all Middle School students, all Middle School parents, all Middle School staff, as well as many Klager and High School staff, and a large number of community volunteers who judge the projects. Didn't someone once say that "it takes a community to raise a child?" There are also a large number of community members who have no children in the Middle School who look forward to visiting the fair each year.

In addition, the comments heard during the setting up of projects and from the judges, are very encouraging. Some parents commented on how they enjoy this opportunity to work with their child. Many people commented on the terrific job done by our students, on the variety of projects, on the new and interesting topics, and on how much they enjoy the Fair each year. "And believe it or not," smiled Mary Ann, "one parent is even worried that the fair might be discontinued!" (She intends to dispel that rumor.)

Fielder continued, "Having a completed project on display is not the whole purpose of the Fair. Many other aspects of learning go into developing the project. This is also a wonderful opportunity for children and parents to work together on something of interest, that is entirely different from the average daily homework routine." Working things in, that are important, while you're busy with other things, is an important aspect of real-life learning that helps the students prepare for the future.

"This is a community effort, that touches a lot of people," said Fielder. From the staff - Chris Honer spends as many hours working on the Fair as Fielder does, not to mention the remainder of the Middle School Staff who are already heavily involved - to the Manchester Township Library, who report that they were busier during the last two weeks of February than any other time this year.

"Yes, it is a time-consuming project that interrupts our busy lives, but aren't the children worth it?"

Kiwanis Kash Knight

Lots of Winners having a good Time!

Approximately 325 people turned out for the Kiwanis Krazy Kash Knight last Saturday at the American legion. Co-chairs Amy Fielder and Pat Vaillencourt from the Kiwanis Club and Janine Falk and GiGi Voegeding from Klager PTO did a great job in orchestrating a well thought out evening packed with lots of excitement.

A delicious prime rib and chicken cordon bleu dinner was only the beginning of an evening filled with fun and

Smith & Hilma Tervo, Barb & Curt Fielder. A Colorado Blue Spruce won by Jeff Schaffer and a group of friends, was donated to the par. A white Pine won by Tom Ford was donated to the fire station.

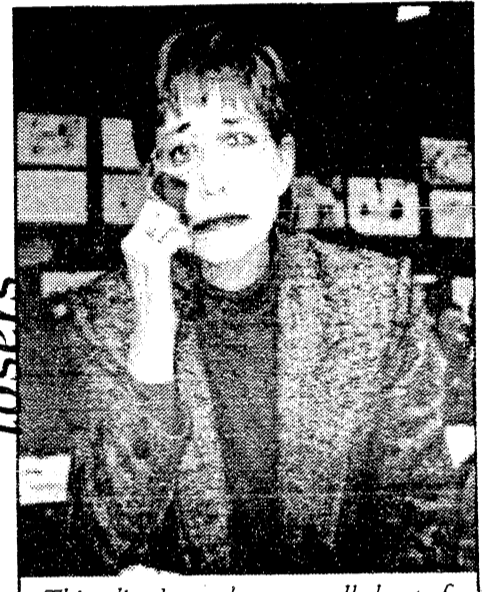

Though there were many winners Saturday night, the biggest winner of all is the Klager playground. Thanks to the many, many supporters who helped make the evening a tremendous success.

Mary Clark and Sharon Sears were the lucky winners of the 50/50 drawings, they split $900 with the other half going the American Legion for the use of the building.

Juliette Crawford of Manchester Floors was very excited on winning the Beanie Ark filled with Beanie Babies.

This editor's number was pulled out of the running for the $7000 prize way too early in the evening!

laughter. The many prizes were exciting and added to the event's pleasure.

The estimated profit from the evening was $18,000. "With additional corporate and personal donations, we have a good chance of raising the $25,000 required for the material for the ground foundation and all three phases of the playscape," said Pat Vaillencourt.

Other winners, not pictured, included Deborah Engelbert $1,000; Linda & Corey Schmitt $250; Todd Reinhart - Sawzall; and $100 winners - Craig Little, Tim Schriber, Marti Bondy, Mary

Dawn Jackson won the sideboard containing the TV/VCR.

Jennifer Parisho won the Sony CD shelf unit Sideboard.

Co-chair Pat Vaillencourt with MC Glen Lukas pulling the winning number.

And this is the group of local Kiwanians who put the Krazy Kash Knight together!

Varsity Basketball

Last week saw the Flying Dutchmen boy's basketball team finish their regular season with a split. On Tuesday, the Napoleon Pirates came to town and went home losers, 49-40.

Brent Leverett came up to the varsity because of Jason Flint's ankle injury. He fired in two three-point shots at the beginning of the game and the Dutchmen never looked back as they led the rest of the game.

The Dutch were led in scoring by Derrick Hanewald with 15 points. Jason Schaible contributed 9 points and seven rebounds. The victory brings the Dutch record to 9-10.

On Friday, the Dutchmen tangled with the Grass Lake Warriors. Brent Leverett got the Dutch off to a fast start in the first quarter hitting two quick three pointers, but unlike Tuesday, they could not hold the lead. Scoring 4 points as a team in the second quarter, the Dutch trailed 30-23 at the half.

The Dutchmen picked up the tempo and intensity in the third quarter and led by Brett Maki were in the lead at quarter's end, 41-40. The Dutchmen had another slow quarter, only scoring eight points, and eventually lost to the Warriors, 54-49. This loss finishes the regular season at 3-11 in the Cascades Blue Division and 9-11 overall.

The Dutchmen were led by Derrick Hanewald with 17 points. Jeff Panches and Brett Maki each chipped in 9 points; Hanewald also added seven rebounds.

This Wednesday, March 10, the Dutch begin District tournament play at Clinton. They will play the winner of Monday's game between the Clinton Redskins and the Concord Yellowjackets. Game time is 7 PM in Clinton. Hope to see you there.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION TWO SEATS OPEN

The annual school election for the purpose of electing school board members will be held on Monday, June 14, 1999. Two seats on the Board of Education will be vacant. The four year terms held by Wayne Winzenz and Paul Kluwe, who was appointed to complete Bruce Abbott's term, will expire in June.

Nominating petitions for these Board of Education positions may be obtained from the Manchester Community Schools, Central Administration Office at 710 East Main Street, upon request, between the hours of 8:00 AM and 3:30 PM Monday through Friday. Completed petitions and affidavits of identity are due no later than Monday, April 12, 1999 at 4:00 PM.

Mathcounts Mathletes Take 4th Place

On Saturday, February 20, four Manchester eighth graders took fourth place in the regional Mathcounts competition held at Washtenaw Community College. The team members were Ashley Brannock, Adam DeConinck, Amy Hough and Elizabeth Okey. The team was coached by Mary Ann Fielder.

Each student received a trophy of their own and the school received a plaque to display in our trophy case. Manchester students compete with students from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti plus some Lenawee and Livingston County schools.

MATHCOUNTS is a national coaching and competition program designed to stimulate 7th and 8th grade students' interest in achievement in mathematics. Teachers and volunteers coach student mathletes beginning each fall and continuing through the first semester. Each middle school can select four students to compete as teams and individuals in the regional competition. First place winners advance to the State competition.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS NEWS
artwork by Dorothy Willingham

- by T.V. Ludwick

Chairman Dorothy Willingham gives us the following thoughts. "February, the valentine month, has swiftly passed and March is right upon us demanding its blustery attention. Still, in retrospect, we want to take time to remember our many dedicated friends. Each performed a "work of heart" during February.

"The following people from St. Mary's deserve our recognition and heartfelt thanks. They cared and shared with us at our senior dinners. The list reads: Vernie Kastl, Loretta Widmayer, Dorie Bersuder, Kim Edgerly, Mary Diver, Marlene Lentz, Wilma Lentz, Sandy Kwolek, Ella Landini, Helen Fisher, Joyce Stein and Margaret Chase. We can't say enough in appreciation for these marvelous people and the many faithful others who give of their time to make our senior program special!

"Also, we extend a 'thank you' to St. Thomas' Reverend John Kayser for his thoughtful and uplifting presentation February 16th. And because we may have missed thanking Rev. Richard E. Hardy (January 19) for his interesting and beneficial session on Tai Chi. We, too, are grateful for his participation in our clergy program. We look forward to future visits from them both. We are blessed!"

And, in the thank-you department, this one comes from Marion Ahrens: "I'd like to say thank you to Jean Little for delivering meals to shut ins while I was gone." Glad you're back with us, Marion.

Thursday, March 11: Senior Council meeting will be held at the Center today starting at 9:30. You are welcome with your ideas! And, be gorra, we will enjoy our Irishman's love of corned beef and cabbage (hope this is a true statement, ha), just a wee bit early! This tasty treat will be enjoyed by all of us who are 55 or older at Emanuel UCC Fellowship Hall at 12 noon, cooked and served by Sue Miller and her trusty crew. These meals are made for our senior appetites and some are tremendous! The price is right each Tuesday and Thursday during the school year (unless otherwise notified). Call Sharman at 428-8359 ahead, or our cook, Sue at 428-7630 between the hours of 9-11 AM on meal days for your reservation or to cancel if you can't make it. Then, enjoy bingo at the Center at 12:30.

Sunday, March 14: Our senior bus departs from the Center at 12 noon for a 2 PM matinee comedy of "Harvey." Call Marion Ahrens at 428-7865 for information and/or reservations. Welcome back, Marion!

Monday, March 15: Bus pickup begins at 9 AM to go on a shopping trip to Jackson. Call Marion for this and all trips to be placed on the list!

Tuesday, March 16: Here is a chance to stretch those bodies to feel better...yoga is just the ticket beginning at 9:30 each Tuesday morning at the Manchester Methodist Church. And, what an education we are getting with words of wisdom from our instructor Donna (whose pet name for 'pinching an inch' is "Fluff")! Other pearls of wisdom come forth from her class, too, come join in on the fun. Then, at 11:30, Reverend Carter Garrigues-Cortelyou, Pastor of Sharon United Methodist, will give the clergy presentation. Noon lunch is chicken and biscuit (as tender as Sue's daily bread?), come see. Cards will be played at the Center for your pleasure at 12:30.

Happy St. Patrick's Day to all while you're wearin' your green!

Thursday, March 18: Chinese on the menu today for all us lucky seniors, come!

Happy Birthday, Seniors!

Manchester Area Historical Society

Manchester Historical Society

The next meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society will be held Tuesday, March 16th at 7:30 PM at the Blacksmith Shop and will feature a program on farming.

Garry Ostrander, our speaker, admits this is a broad-based subject and therefore will focus on the historical perspective of farming and how farming has changed through time. He'll talk about how he started farming and why, and where he is today and why. He'll cover modern problems of farming and how these problems differ from those of our ancestors and from those of different locales. This is a unique area and consequently has unique problems. Garry also has many anecdotes about farming and life on the farm.

The public is encouraged to join us for this interesting program and to bring any antique farm implements that you have for display, especially if you don't know what it is! We'll play "Stump the Farmer" and, as always, enjoy refreshments after the meeting.

Community Resource Center

The Community Resource Center is searching for enthusiastic volunteers and board members. The CRC is currently involved in brainstorming and the long-term planning of its role in the Manchester Community. Blackout!

Despite the rumors circulating through town that Consumer's Power experienced an early Y2K glitch in their system, the Village was notified on Wednesday, March 3, that the blackout the previous week had been caused by vandalism.

No suspects have yet been identified in the incident, where power was cut to nearly 2,000 people in Manchester Village and township for about an hour on February 25. Consumers Energy is offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of vandals who damaged equipment on a 46,000 volt transmission line serving Manchester.

The culprits attempted to remove a light fixture from a motor-operated, air brake line device located on Waterman Road just west of Antcliff Road in Norvell Township. Tampering was discovered while Consumers workers were performing routine maintenance at the Brooklyn Junction substation. When that work was performed the protection devices tripped and power was cut.

"If someone had not played with the equipment, Manchester would not have had a service interruption," said Kevin Keane, a utility spokesman. "Beyond the criminality of this incident, there is a safety issue as well. Untrained individuals should never approach or attempt to operate the high voltage equipment of Consumers Energy." Consumers is asking anyone with information on the incident to contact the utility at 1-800/477-5060 or call your local law enforcement agency.

Developmental Asset Workshop: What Kids Need to Succeed

Dr. Donald R. Draayer, Ed.D. Search Institute Trainer will be the presenter for an exciting and powerful workshop Saturday, March 20, 1999 in the Manchester High School Band Room. Registration is 8:30 to 9:00. Cost is $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for teens. Pre-registration is preferred but walk-ins will be welcome.

The workshop agenda will include two presentations. The first one is Introduction to Developmental Assets and the second is What's Up With Our Kids.

The objectives for the workshop are:

(1) To share potent research done by the Search Institute nationally and locally and describe the power of asset development in youth. To Know . . . To Understand

(2) To broaden the vision of youth development and what stakeholders should be so engaged. To Accept . . . To Embrace

(3) To challenge all of us in youth organizations and the community-at-large to act in new and positive directions on behalf of children and youth. To Act . . . To Love

Dr. Draayer has 39 years experience in elementary, middle, high school and post-secondary education in the United States and Japan. He is widely recognized and respected as a teacher, principal, superintendent and graduate school professor. He was Superintendent of Schools in Minnetonka, Minn. for 22 years and was selected as Superintendent of the Year in 1990 and Distinguished Service Award in 1998. He has worked with many local and national organizations including the National School Board Associated and Suburban School Superintendents, USA. Dr. Draayer's audience for the Search Institute have varied in size from 2500 residents in Fairmont, Minn to several hundred people in various group setting, to small planning groups in seminar settings. He has addressed a score of audiences including parents, educators, health professionals, law enforcement officials, pediatricians, youth organizations leaders and State Governors. Participants frequently cite three contributions as benefits of this workshops: Information, inspiration and perspiration (clear follow-through.)

Dr. Draayer is author and co-author of many articles and booklets including "Asset Framework Uniting Entire Communities," "Learning and Living, Integrating Asset Building Into a Schools Mission," and "A Purpose for Every Life."

Winter(!?) Blood Drive

Although the headline reads "Winter", I would rather think of this as our SPRING Blood Drive. It will be held at Emanuel United Church of Christ on Monday, March 15 and will go from 1:00 PM until 7:00 PM.

The chairperson of the day is Marti Vassoff. There will be four of the people who were certified working that day. Besides Marti, there will be Kathy Gagneau, Kim Kirkland and Beth Coutts. The other workers are part of Emanuel's Women Fellowship group.

If you have been out and about town, you have probably seen the signs up in the local businesses and the Red Cross boxes at the three local banks, Manchester Market, Baker's Dozen and Kleinschmidt's Hardware. Also, there are posters in our local industries.

If you belong to one of the local churches or work at one of the local industries, you SHOULD have a recruiter to sign you up for donating. BUT, if you do not, then you can sign up by filling out one of the cards in the boxes and leaving it there, making sure to include your phone number. As always, we welcome walk-ins.

To make an appointment, you can call Marti Vassoff at 428-7254. She would be glad to hear from you.

It is no secret that there is GREAT NEED for blood. Won't you PLEASE choose to be a blood donor? What greater gift can you give to some one, than to help their life be saved.

See you at Emanuel Church on Monday, March 15.

The Basics of Mutual Fund Investing

- By Tim Schriber, Equitable Life Assurance Society

You may be one of the record number of investors flocking to the mutual fund marketplace these days, seeking the potential for higher rates of return. Or, perhaps you have invested in mutual funds for many years. In either case, this back-to-basics discussion of mutual fund investing may benefit you.

funds, individuals enjoy a level of diversification and professional money management they may otherwise find difficult to achieve. Diversification, or owning a wide assortment of securities in various industries and companies, can help protect against large losses. That's because, even if some securities falter, others may perform well. In addition, the full-time professional management inherent in most mutual funds appeal to investors because many people lack the time, know-how or commitment to manage their own portfolio.

pal and high income by investing in high yield common stocks and bonds. Investors who desire both current income and capital gains can invest in balanced funds. Specialty funds typically concentrate their holdings in a specific industry or geographic area and usually provide long-term growth potential with some current income.

the fund's underlying investments increase in value, and investors sell their fund shares at a price higher than the purchase price.

mutual funds are not federally insured (even if sold through a bank), although certain types of funds invest in securities that are insured.

A mutual fund pools assets of people seeking similar investment objectives. By joining the "Pool", these individuals own "shares" of the fund in proportion to the amount they invest. Each investor has a partial interest in each of the fund's underlying investments and shares in any profits. Professional money managers invest this pool of money in a variety of stocks, bonds or other securities that are consistent with the fund's stated objective, such as maximum capital growth of tax-exempt income.

Usually, mutual funds are characterized by their investment objective. Growth funds offer capital appreciation potential by investing primarily in various types of stock. Because growth funds have a higher degree of risk, they should be considered long-term investments. Income funds seek to provide more safety or princi-

The objective of a particular mutual fund often affects its risk level. Typically, the higher the desired return, the more risk a fund manager takes in the investments. Returns on the more conservative funds may be lower than those of the more aggressive funds.

Of course, investors can lose money if the fund managers are not successful with their investments. There is no guarantee that investment objectives will be achieved. Also, it is important to realize that

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider your goals, risk profile and investment time horizon. Then select a fund that matches your objectives. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

By investing in mutual

Investors may make money from mutual funds in basically three ways: dividend income, capital gain distributions and growth in capital. Dividend income payments are dividends and interest earned on the fund's investments. Capital gain distributions are payments made from profits realized on the sale of securities held by the fund. Growth in capital occurs when
