DAIRY DEPARTMENT ADDS INSTRUCTOR

Since Hagadone Will Teach Buttermaking to Short Course Students.

James Hagadone of the state department of agriculture has been introduced as the new instructor in the dairy department. He will be in charge of the buttermaking short course which will be held in the dairy department.

INSTRUCTORS GO TO CHEMISTRY MEET

Mason of the Local Staff Will Direct Closing Discussion.

The chemistry department of the Michigan State College has been visited by a group of instructors from the University of Wisconsin. They will be in the chemistry department for a short time.

FIRST SERVICE IN NEW CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Mr. Warner is Speaker at First Religious Service in New Church.

The first religious services of any kind to be held in the new church building will be held next Sunday. The services will be held in the new church building.

Can't Dance to "Chin" Music

Honest, I didn't know that there wasn't going to be any music. It's a year old man.

That was the typical conversation between the gallant youths and their lady friends, at the Union building Saturday night, after they had waited two hours for the orchestra to arrive for the Union dances.

Coming to the dance in the heat of summer at 11, they left in the depths of winter two hours later, because it proved impossible to Charleston or to even dance one of Henry Ford's square dances.

Yes, it was a mean trick, "Chin" music, which the Union management played on us.

But the management of the Union had no other choice. They simply forgot to hire an orchestra, after they had scheduled the dance, sold the tickets and made all other arrangements.

G. N. Swanson, one of the managers of the Union, offered the explanation that one of the three committees which have a definite task to perform at each dance, failed to function.

According to Swanson, the Union social affairs are managed by three committees. The entertainment committee schedules the social function, the house committee supervises the affair, and the music committee provides the orchestra.

VARSITY QUARTETTE BOOKED IN LANSING

Will Give Entertainment Tonight at Michigan Avenue M. E. Church.

Prominent among January's musical treats for Lansing and East Lansing music lovers is a concert to be given by the Michigan State College Varsity quartet at the Michigan Avenue M. E. church Tuesday evening, Jan. 26.

This is the first appearance of the M. S. C. quartet in Lansing this season, so it promises to be novel entertainment for the local audience.

They have even refused to broadcast over station WKAR in order that the work might preserve its novelty for converts about the state.

The last two weeks of January are full ones for the quartet. In Grosse Pointe they sang to an audience of more than 700. In Grand Lodge they were greeted by a full house last week.

ANNUAL MILITARY BALL TO BE HELD FRIDAY IS A TWO O'CLOCK PARTY

One hundred and sixty-five couples eagerly await the opening strains of the music to be played Friday night in the 11th Field Artillery armory in Lansing, where one of the most entertaining and impressive formal military social functions, to be sponsored by the college cadet officers' club, will hold sway until 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

Edith Place, chairman of the general arrangements committee of this annual military ball, announced Monday that the LaForge 16-piece orchestra of Bay City has been engaged for the occasion, a group of the most entertaining and impressive formal military social functions, to be sponsored by the college cadet officers' club, will hold sway until 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

The following honor guests have been invited to the annual military ball: Mrs. Alex Greenberg, President Butterfield, Dean J. P. Phelan, Dean Jean Krueger, Dean H. C. Black, Dean G. W. Russell, Dean P. A. Reed, Dean E. H. Hyder, Dean W. Gilchrist, General Wilson, head of the 12nd division of Flint, Prof. J. F. Cox, commander of the local branch of the American Legion, Dr. Weinburg, head of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Vern Eagle, president of the Army and Navy club of Lansing, and J. B. Persey, state adjutant general.

J-HOP BANQUET TO BE SERVED BY M. S. C. UNION

Building Offers Adequate Facilities for Excellent Service.

Arrangements have been completed with the Union to serve the J-Hop banquet according to Jane Hanes, chairman of the banquet committee, who promises that the service will excel that of any previous J-Hop banquet with the complete facilities which the building affords to make this part of the event a success.

The banquet will consist of four courses and will be served by 50 waiters furnished by the Union. It will be held in the ballroom and will start at 5:30 sharp. There will be tables for four, six and eight, and groups wishing to sit together may do so by paying their fees at the same time and arranging with the eligibility committee for their table.

EXTENSION WORKERS MEET FARMERS' WEEK

County Agents Will Give Results of Methods at Conference.

Extension conference of county agents, club workers, and extension specialists of Michigan will jump the gun on the Farmers' Week program when they open their annual session in the Little Theater Friday morning. The conference will last through Saturday and Monday.

Important speakers from outside the state include Prof. J. H. Kolb of the University of Wisconsin, who will have as his subject "Rural Groups and Their Organization," and Director John D. Willard of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, who will discuss some of the strength and weaknesses of the extension work.

A new feature of this year's conference is that several county agents have an assigned part in the program to tell of certain phases of the work which they have successfully carried through. This will somewhat displace the old method of general discussion.

The meetings will also be addressed by President Butterfield, Dean Phelan, H. J. Baldwin, director of extension, Dean Shaw, and Miss Grace Fryberger, Ray Turner and George E. Farrell of the United States department of agriculture.

General sessions will be held each half day for an hour or two, and then the various groups, county agents and specialists, club workers and home economics extension section, will hold their special meetings.

Jimmie's Voice WKAR Favorite

A man may sit at home and take his religion via the radio and thereby evade the inevitable collection box. But the spirit of loyalty aroused by a running account of a basketball game broadcast over WKAR proved irresistible in at least one case and the listener, an alumnus of the college, sat down and wrote out a substantial check forthwith to apply on his pledge to the Union.

Who can say but that a new use has been found for athletic contests and radio transmission in supplementing the use of oratorical eloquence and typewritten statements.

A letter recently received at the office of the college radio department follows in part: "Recently, as I was trying to get something interesting on the radio, I heard someone announcing a basketball game and I told my wife that I would bet any prize I was Jimmie Haselmann. I enjoyed the game to the finish and was able to follow every move on the floor. I am enclosing a check, which is all that I can spare for my pledge to the Memorial building."

BURNHAM TO MEET SENIORS

VOCATIONAL EXPERT TO DISCUSS LIFE-PLANNING
COURSE FOR SENIORS.

A. C. Burnham of Chicago will address the seniors at a special class meeting which will be held Wednesday at 11 o'clock in the auditorium located on the second floor of the new horticultural building according to announcement made by D. J. Stouffer, class president.

Mr. Burnham is a vocational expert. He will discuss plans for a life-planning course. It is said that there has long been a need for offering expert guidance to seniors regarding their life work. For this reason Mr. Burnham will outline such a course and if the senior class endorses his project, he will teach the course next spring term.

J. H. Haselmann, director of State publicity, is expected to give a short talk in which he will make clear the present situation of the 1925 Wolverine.

The Wolverine question concerns every senior and the condition of the yearbook of last year warrants attention by every individual of the class, says D. J. Stouffer in way of an appeal for a large attendance.

CHARLES BAKER MEETS TRUSTEES

Business Committee Awards Lighting Contract to East Lansing Firm.

Charles H. Baker of the National Congressional Building Association of New York City met with the trustees of the People's church at dinner Friday at six o'clock in the Union building. He brought with him a paper which corrects the title on the old church property. He and the association of which he is secretary have always been interested in the People's church and the new church project engages their attention, inasmuch as the association makes loans to congregations.

Mr. Baker stopped off here on his way back to New York from Chicago where he has been attending a national assembly. He was conducted through the new church and showed much interest in it.

The business committee met at four o'clock Friday in the church to consider letting the contracts for the new church. They recommended to the trustees that the contract be awarded to the East Lansing Electric company whose bid was approximately $10,000. It is expected that a business meeting of the trustees will be held this week to award the contract.

WOLVERINE FLYER TO BE DISTRIBUTED

CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS JOIN IN CONDUCTING SALES CAMPAIGN.

TO UNVEIL STATUE

Wolverine Sponsors Presentation of Sculptoring Masterpiece.

Keith Hinchbaugh, 27, Between the hours of eleven and twelve Wednesday, Jan. 27, the Wolverine Flyer, a strictly Wolverine publication, will appear on the campus and be distributed to each member of the faculty and student body at all the exits and at the class meetings.

It will contain all the news of interest about the college and progress of the work this year and will be the signal for the opening of Wolverine Week, which will take the form of an intensive sales campaign offering every student an opportunity to subscribe.

More than 100 salesmen and saleswomen have offered their services in order that the campaign and likewise the Wolverine may be a success. Four leading student organizations will be represented in this campaign, namely Student Government, Women's Student Government Association, Student and Exchange.

Representatives of the Wolverine will speak at noon Wednesday, which will take the form of separate assemblies of the four classes. These speakers will be outstanding persons on the campus who know the problems and the value of the Wolverine and who are competent to talk on the subject.

New features which are being introduced in the annual year will be explained in the Wolverine Flyer. "The Year's Villain" contest is expected to create a great deal of interest among those who have friends and enemies which they wish to promote for honored positions. An election will be held in the near future in which the entire student body will have an opportunity to vote.

Due to the circumstantial finances of last year's Wolverine it is necessary that a certain number of subscriptions be taken in order to secure a publication of this year's Wolverine, so it is up to the student body to subscribe.

WELLS LECTURES BEFORE SOCIETIES

Large Audience Hears Lecture On "The Chemistry of Immunity."

H. Gordon Wells of the University of Chicago lectured before the American Chemistry, American Bacteriology and Ingham County societies last Thursday evening in Kedzie Chemistry laboratory. The subject of his lecture was "The Chemistry of Immunity." A large audience was assembled to hear what is considered one of the best scientific lectures of the year.

WILL GIVE TWO WEEKS COURSE IN BEEKEEPING

Course in Bee Culture Will Be Given From February Eighth to Nineteenth.

Two weeks short course, given by the entomology department, starting Feb. 8, and ending Feb. 19, is announced by the department of entomology.

The course will enable bee keepers of Michigan to study the principles of beekeeping and the problems confronting the industry. Special emphasis will be laid on bee-activity, sources of nectar, methods of protecting comb and extracting honey, causes of swarming and prevention, diseases, queen rearing, wintering the bees and the marketing of honey.

A special program will be presented Feb. 18, which is visitors' day. The department is making a great effort to make the course as interesting and beneficial as possible.

There will be a meeting of the home economics club in the Little Theatre of the H. E. building Wednesday at 5:00 p. m.

Tickets which were sold for the Union party last Saturday night will be honored for admission to the next Union party, according to Robert J. McCord, manager of the Union building.

TAXICABS FOR THE MILITARY BALL

A special cab service will be provided by the Mackey Cab Company. There will be a dispatching service at the Union Building at 6:30 p. m. and cabs will be stationed there from that hour until 8:30 p. m. Call 21-444 in placing orders before 6:30 p. m. and the Union phone, 9069 after that hour.

Plenty of cabs at 119th Field Artillery Armory during the party. No charge for extra passengers.

SUBSCRIPTION—$2.50 THE SCHOOL YEAR

PAUL H. ENGLE, MANAGING EDITOR FOR JANUARY

BONES! BONES!

"Any rags, any bottles, any bones today?"—the cry of the peddler is still in my ears. But it has taken new meaning since that long ago time. "Any bones today?" Then it meant real bones, white horny things that a small boy could pile together and sell. It meant money with which to buy fish hooks and steel traps and shells for the twenty-two. Now it means many things: human heads, certain lank traditions, and, among other things, words, words, words.

Words from which all flesh has withered away! Dry words, horribly brown words, mummified things, shriveled with the aridity of time,—things like the discovered bodies of cliff dwellers that I once saw on show in the store windows of Denver. Once there was life in them, and about them swept swift muscles. Over them ran hot pulses, and through them hit and fired the pains and thrills of flesh. But not, bones, bones.

The flesh is the beauty and meaning and purpose of the bone. And connotations (pardon me, you must look it up) connotations are the beauty and meaning and purpose of words. But they like flesh, dry and wither away. The language of some people, then, is nothing but bones. Living meaning is no longer attached to the tibia of their sentences. When they speak one sees grey skeletons in slow Charleston parade.

But institutions—institutions are more likely to have a language of death than are individuals. We shall not speak of colleges, nor use that thigh-bone of the saurian known as education. For the moment campus connotations must stay with those who have the zest, the mirth, the hardihood to deal with them.

The church, however, the church! What a variety of modifications of bony matter meets you at the door and conducts you through the service. "Dead, dead, long dead!" you murmur to yourself as you listen. Here are the vast GobiTIONS. Lo, they sit in the congregations themselves! And they over-bend even the denominATIONS. Let a paleontologist of language hunt for these bones of Adam, and he will find strata of TIONS in Greece and Italy—the vast saurians of the past.

But the TIONS are not the bones that most suggest death. There is the monster sin. And beside him, in imagination, you can see the great marche-stepper, SALVATION. Bones! Their meaning is withered and sere. Back of them still we see roaming the mesas of the agone and the plateaus of the paleontological past such giant reptiles as HELL and HEAVEN. What are these, we say. What is their meaning or their beauty? They are bones, bones. But the great TION, DamaTION, rattles his mandibles, and we grow silent with awe and fear.

This, of course, is pleasantry. To be plain, we need to freshen up our words, or language. Especially in churches we need new, raw, large words that will carry nothing of the connotations of the past, but will carry the meaning and the imagination of the present. Until we get a language that will be lively with meaning for college men and women, we can not expect them to listen. They are not philologists. And still worse, they lack humor and imagination. In time the new language will grow. We should culture it with courage.

WOLVERINE WEEK

In order to make any publication on the campus a success, student financial support is necessary. Tomorrow, the WOLVERINE subscription campaign begins. This year the annual is an all college yearbook making its success of equal importance to all classes.

It is obvious then, that your money as well as your picture is needed to make this very worthwhile book a successful enterprise.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS

Human nature changes very little as man's march through time points out. The trophy hunting habit or instinct is still with us. However, instead of collecting the skulls of our enemies, we dabble in street car hangers, dance programs, and posters.

The artists who paint posters advertising dances, yearbooks, and special events should certainly feel flattered on seeing their creations so highly appreciated by the collegiate connoisseurs. But then art of this kind is rather for the masses than for the "collector".

Let posters serve their purpose before removing them to your cosmopolitan art gallery.

CLASS MEETINGS

Here's hoping that Wednesday morning will see every student on the campus flock to his kind. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and seniors need to develop a greater consciousness of their fellow classmates. Go to your class meeting and get acquainted with the activities of your class.

Co-ed Edna

These last few cold nights, the houses where the students sleep in dormitories report a good many casualties through the students either freezing to death or being blown out of bed right through the window and hurled onto the ground.

Several deaths have been reported as a result of the fall taken.

But campus photographers cheerfully remark that the campus is becoming overpopulated, anyway.

I have just heard the latest scheme for keeping poor students from cluttering up the campus. It has been suggested that we follow the scheme of Jonathan Swift and use them for food.

This would be a fine money-saving scheme for the Commons, and would perhaps reduce the price of board there.

If the price were reduced materially, the students who are to serve as food could think what a great good they were doing the world by furnishing a way for deserving students to live without such a great strain on their pocketbooks.

Also, it might be quite an incentive to study.

But after you were dead, it would be said of you: "He gave his life that others might have food for thought."

This may seem unnecessarily cruel to you, but I am sure that after you have considered the matter from all angles you will see what a fine idea it really is.

I have always prophesied that the girls would soon outdo the fellows in athletics. At last the great day is here.

For what mere man would have thought of a basketball game in the water, such as you witnessed Wednesday night? All for the price of two white tickets.

And having thought of it, which of you weaklings could have executed the feat?

Girls have to be clever, to make up for the dumbness of a good many of the fellows.

I see by the Harvard Crimson that college men are being urged to enter the movies.

What a wonderful thing it would be if some of our present day campus actors would find their place on the screen.

I am sure a great many of them are waiting their talent upon us. Co-eds really don't appreciate great art, you know.

In this article, which is by Samuel Goldwyn, there is also the statement that the college man of today is the smartest member of the population.

I should like to agree with Mr. Goldwyn, but unfortunately we must be honest.

Therefore it is my plain duty to say that the college woman of today is the smartest member of the population. If you don't believe it come over and meet me.

I wish some of you co-eds would write Mr. Goldwyn and ask him to come down and see for himself how wonderful a college woman really is.

The goal of the University of Denver swimming class is to be a perfect mermaid.

We don't need any such goal. All of our mermaids are already perfect.

KAMPUS KUESTIONS

Do you think the methods of fraternity initiations are too severe?

"Mickey" Conn, 27E

I don't think there is any harm in the initiations, if they are limited to one week's duration.

T. J. Ramsdell, 29L

From the standpoint of the fraternity, I do not. The pledge appreciates it more. From the standpoint of the college, I really think it is too severe because not enough time is available to devote to studies.

L. C. Greene, 28L

I do not, providing the initiation takes place the first of the term. I think they should be severe and long remembered while they are being served.

Gwin Goodwin, 26H

Informal fraternity initiations may not necessarily be dangerous, but they are often very inconsiderate in that they tend to consider the mental or physical makeup of the initiate. They are apt to expose him to too severe a strain.

Margaret Mathews, 28H

I don't think so. A fellow appreciates it more if he has to work hard to make his fraternity. Initiation isn't to see how much one can do but rather to test his sportsmanship.

day night will be "College night," when all the students of the college will be expected to attend. President Kenyon L. Bitterfeld, together with several of the deans, will be the guests of the Union association. And Saturday night will be known as "Lansing night." At that time Mayor Alfred E. Doughty, Chief of Police Seymour and Fire Chief Belts will occupy the boxes as guests of the Union.

Prices which will be charged for the vaudeville will be moderate, according to the manager. Seats will range from 50 cents up to $1.25 for the best in the house, according to the chart which is now being prepared. Matinee performances will be given on Friday and Saturday afternoon with but one performance each night.

After the dance
and P. A.

WHEN you've kicked off the pumps and tossed the collar on the table, while the music is still singing in your brain and memories of one dancing deb in particular crowd your thoughts, fill your pipe with Prince Albert and light up. Make it a night of nights.

P. A. is so genuinely friendly. It hits your smoke-spot in deep center right off the bat. Doesn't bite your tongue or parch your throat, because the Prince Albert process said "nix on the rough stuff" at the very beginning. Just cool contentment in every perfect puff.

Don't put off till tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. now. Snap back the hinged lid and release that wonderful fragrance. Tamp a load into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Now you've got it... that taste. Say—ain't that the goods now?

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half-pound tin tins, and round crystal-glass hand-drawn pipes, and always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

The Social Whirl

Edited by
ERVA PRESCOTT
Kappa Delta House

Formal initiations are giving way for the regular round of social activities which characterize winter term. This week-end saw only two initiations, those of the Pi Kappa Phi and Epsilon Chi. Friday night the benefit dance given by the Alpha Gamma Deltas in the Union building and the Epsilon Chi open house. Saturday night ushered in the formal dinner dance at Morrill hall, an informal party staged by the Columbian society and an open house held at the Phylean house. The Themanian society and the girls in Practice house entertained with teas Saturday afternoon.

Strong House

Misses Flossie Lough, Cayle Ferrell, Agnes Baynes and Lee Irene both were hostesses at a dinner given at the house last Sunday evening. The following girls spent the week-end at their respective homes: Thera Ann Sprinkle, Dorothy Portz, Florence Rahn, Lura Steinmetz, Agnes Baynes and Mabel Greenough. Mrs. Roth of Mt. Clemens was a visitor at the house over the week-end.

Pythian

Pledges of the society are having formal initiation this week. Formal initiation will be held Saturday afternoon with a formal dinner dance following. Thelma Webster underwent a minor surgical operation this week. Evelyn Keyes, who has been confined for some time with typhoid fever, is steadily improving.

Phi Kappa Tau

George Woodbury spent the week-end in Detroit and E. T. Linebach was in Ypsilanti.

Sororian

Mrs. E. P. MacEachron spent the week-end as the guest of her daughter Dorothy.

Alice McWood was at her home in Detroit for the week-end while Madeline Alger was in Clarkston and Olga Bird at Olivette.

Hermian

The annual winter term formal of the society will be held at the Hotel Kerns March 13. Col. and Mrs. T. L. Sherburne and Secretary and Mrs. H. H. Halladay will act as patrons while the guest list includes the names of Prof. A. Schiele and C. J.

MORRILL HALL FORMAL PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Woman's Building Gaily Decorated for Event; More than 100 Couples Attend.

The woman's building was a transfiguration of ferns, flowers and leaves of evergreen for the formal dinner dance which took place Saturday evening. About 100 couples attended the party. The dinner was served in the main dining room and it consisted of three courses. Melody makers for the affair were the Amphion Revolvers, who also played during the dinner.

The dining room was very prettily decorated and candles furnished the light. Two-couple tables were used, which were daintily decorated. Silver cigarette cases were given as favors to the men. After the dinner, all adjourned to the main parlor on the first floor, where dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

The recreation room in the basement was well adapted as a rest room and was furnished with many davenport and rockers. From the parlor, the halls on the first floor were dimly lighted and rockers, floor and bridge lamps were placed here and there, creating a very beautiful effect. The patron list included Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Slack and Prof. and Mrs. H. Hartsch. Guests were Dean Jean Kreuger, President and Mrs. K. L. Butterfield and Mrs. Harriet Sebring.

Sponsor, Batteria's orchestra, will furnish music for the occasion. Carl Baynes spent Sunday at his home in Birmingham while Carleton J. McDonald was in Brighton. Gordon Whitburn at Detroit and Walter Studley went to Grand Rapids.

Union Literary

George Wagner spent the week-end in Grand Rapids. Jack Cook in Okemos, Mortimer Plack in Kalamazoo, Sid Hall in Detroit and R. Hancock in Ann Arbor.

Lambda Chi Alpha

A formal initiation banquet will be held at the chapter house Wednesday night. The following initiates will be taken into the fraternity: Ted Elmer, James Warren, John Lamond and Joe Harris.

James McCosh and Forest Pierce spent the week-end in Detroit. James Warren in Flint, while Clay Jones and Paul Purdy visited in Grand Rapids.

Alpha Gamma Delta

One of the most colorful events of the season was the benefit dance given by the local chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta Friday evening at the Union hall. About one hundred fifty couples were in attendance and enjoyed the music given by the Amphion Revolvers. Various popular features were given while patrons included Dean and Mrs. H. Shaw and Dean and Mrs. J. H. Ryder.

Four pledges were initiated Saturday afternoon at the ceremony held at the Hotel Kerns. Immediately following initiation the formal banquet was held. The song book furnished the basis for the toasts. Ross Gates spoke for the initiates, on the Pledge Song. Hazel Lamb on Initiation, Merla Gill on Loyalty. Edith Lavelle on Success and Emily Butterfield on Alpha Gamma Delta. Ruth Elmer presented as toastmistress. Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Baumer were guests.

Alvina, who was present at the initiation, editor-in-chief of the Quarterly, Kathleen Leacock, Mrs. Alva Boehringer, Gustav, Joan Wasenar, Grace Austin, Stella Wood, Dorothy Dunsmore and Martin Baumgarten.

The local alumnae organization was entertained by Mrs. Lucille Johnson at her home in Lansing.

Pi Kappa Phi

Six pledges were made members of the fraternity at the initiation ceremony held at the chapter house Saturday afternoon. A dinner was held at the Union building immediately following at which G. A. Chisbert acted as toastmaster. J. J. Somers spoke on behalf of the members while the pledges were represented by W. L. Olson and C. W. McIntire acted for the passives. J. C. Davis, an alumnae from Nebraska, also gave a short talk.

Guests for the week-end included J. C. Davis, Howell, James Selzer and George Pramo of Jackson.

Epsilon Chi

Initiation was held for H. Fischer, G. Northrop, P. Millema, P. Olin, P. Locke, F. Wargowsky, B. Mapes, N. Goodwin, C. Byrne and B. Alm Saturday. The banquet was held at the Downey hotel in Lansing. Following the dinner an open house was staged with the Carl Cross orchestra furnishing the music. Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Souder and Mr. and Mrs. A. Skiver acted as patrons.

NEW SKATING RINK POPULAR ATTRACTION

Enthusiasts Include Many Co-eds.

Michigan State's new skating rink is vying with the gymnasium for premier honors in time spent for the use of the students. Fourteen hours seem to be long enough to utilize one building on the campus, such as the gym is, but the rink seems to have the best of the battle at present.

Skaters are to be found on the rink at all times of the day, and far into the night the flooded arena is busy accommodating the many ice enthusiasts on the State campus.

The rink is kept in excellent condition during freezing weather by a large squad of attendants who keep the surface free from excess snow that usually proves a bugaboo to skate enthusiasts. Large flood lights have been added for the convenience of the skaters, making the rink a much appreciated addition to the campus.

STATE MEN TO REPRESENT ENGINEERS AT DETROIT

Professors Hitchcock, Gould, Miller and Mr. Rothberg and Mr. Slaughter expect to represent the civil engineering department at the engineering conference to be held in Detroit February 1 and 5.

CLAY MODELING OFFERED

Shaw Lorado Taft's visit many in quires have been made of the art department about clay modeling courses at the college.

Three new clay modeling courses in clay modeling offered. A class in landscape architecture is now doing some clay modeling, along with their regular drawing classes.

It is thought that if Mr. Taft's lectures still holds over next fall there will be quite a demand for these courses.

Practice House

About thirty guests were entertained at a tea Saturday afternoon. The girls are planning to have their mother's requests for dinner Thursday night.

Phylean

The second Phylean open house of the winter term was held Saturday night with Wilson's orchestra accompanying. The patrons for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mallman and Prof. Elton Hill. Refreshments were served at 11:30.

Carlisle P. Davis, 23, of Grand Rapids, was a visitor at the house last night.

Karen J. Doughner and Stewart Green spent the week-end at their respective homes in Saginaw and Lapeer.

Columbian

The society staged an informal dance at Ag hall Saturday evening which was attended by 50 couples. The South orchestra of Detroit, made makers for the occasion, and the floor was decorated in the society colors of red and gold. Patrons were Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Finney and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Sager. Forest Smith of Charlotte, spent the week-end at the house.

Themanian

The Themanians entertained other society members at a tea Saturday afternoon. The house was decorated in ferns and flowers and was dimly lighted with green tapers carrying out the society colors of green and white. Mrs. H. M. Bates presided. Alice Bates spent the week-end in Detroit as a guest of Florence Pangborn, who is attending Merrill Palmer.

Alice Parr was in St. Johns over the weekend.

Sesame

Ruth Zimmerman was a guest for the week-end. Mary Mixer spent the week-end at her home in Baraboo. Doris Chisholm visited in Charlotte and Hazel Kelly was a week-end guest at her sister in Ypsilanti.

Chess and checker enthusiasts are requested to attend a meeting at the Michigan State Union Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Plans for organizing a club will be discussed.

About twenty people have signed up for either chess or checkers, so the organization of a club seems assured. Faculty members and students, both men and women are requested to attend the meeting.

GLEE CLUB PLANS EXTENSIVE TOUR

Gave Program at Charlotte Thursday Night.

Extensive plans are being made for the regular spring vacation tour of the varsity glee club, which has already started giving entertainments and is making plans for other engagements in the vicinity of Lansing during the winter term.

Last Thursday night the glee club gave a program for a Masonic banquet at Charlotte which was attended by members of all Masonic lodges in that vicinity.

Both the glee club and the varsity quartet have a distinct advantage this year in that nearly all of last year's members are in these organizations this year. There are only four new members in the glee club and one new member of the quartet.

Special numbers are given by Frederick Taylor on the xylophone in connection with the glee club entertainments and he is accompanied by Professor Taylor on the piano.

The varsity quartet, composed of Ralph Toaz, L. G. Morse, Forest Hubert and Harold Edwards, gave their first concert of the season at Owosso last Saturday night.

The personnel of the glee club is as follows: First tenors, P. Kenyon, L. C. Wilson and R. Toaz; second tenors, L. Lyons, L. G. Morse, W. R. McLean and R. Eggert; first base, S. Blair, W. Butterfield, V. Stockman, M. C. Peterson, W. B. Spurrier; second base, L. Strobel, R. Dixon, L. S. Edwards, C. G. Sweet, J. E. Crawford and F. Hubert.

LOST: A pair of glasses within case, between H. E. building and Themanian house, Thursday, January 8. Please notify Marian Bennett at the Themanian house. Reward.

LOST: Top of Shaffer Lifetime pen between Abbot Road and Ag building. Reward to finder. M. Sanford, Themanian House.

IN TITAN STRONGHOLD TONIGHTGREEN AND WHITE CAGERS LOSE TO IRISHMEN BY 33 TO 14 COUNT.

University of Detroit will be engaged in a basketball game for State during the third out of town game for State during the past ten days.

In clashing with the U. of D. State will meet a very capable foe, led by Captain "Eddie" Harrigan, captain of the Titans. Harrigan is a former University of Pennsylvania man. Fosse was in a large measure responsible for the Titans' victory over M. S. C. here last year, when the teams struggled through an entire time period.

At the guard positions the Catholics will have "Bill" Ross, last year's captain, and Frank McElhargue, grid star for the U. of D.

Fredericks may jump center instead of forward. No matter which performs in this capacity he will have a stiff battle on his hands against the Titan pilot. Captain Harrigan tips the scales at about 190 and reaches the basket at six foot three.

Saturday night of this week will see the State court on the home court against Michigan State Normal of Ypsilanti. This will be the first home focus in four weeks.

Michigan State's chances against Detroit tonight are a most encouraging one. The South Bend Irishmen Friday night, as the count of 33-14 will testify. Coach Kobs entertains some hope of a victory, however, and counts the Notre Dame contest as the best defensive game the Green and White has put up in a season.

The guarding of Fosse and Cole and the floor work of Fredericks were bright spots in Michigan State's last out-of-town game. Coach Kobs expects improvement in the team if he can get his scoring machine into action. Fosse and Cole were on the defensive nearly all the time. Notre Dame having possession of the ball the majority of the time.

In consideration of this, Kobs was fully pleased with the defensive work and may now devote his time to developing scoring power.

Drew and Fredericks led the State scoring. Lay and Doctoryn featuring for the Irishmen.

STATE GRAPPLERS
LOSE TO PURDUE

Berquist Only Stater to Win Match.

The Michigan State wrestling team journeyed to Lafayette, Indiana, for a wrestling match with the Purdue university matmen, and returned with the verdict against them 12 to 2. The State grapplers succeeded in coping but one match. Berquist won from Dillingham with a 1:09 minutes time advantage in an overtime match.

The Purdue wrestlers, despite the fact that they were able to copy six of a possible seven matches from Coach Burton's proteges, failed to secure one match on a fall.

The results were as follows:
115 pound class: Mohardt lost to Moore, time advantage, 2 min. 5 sec.
125 pound class: Landley lost to Jones, time advantage 3 min. 11 sec.
145 pound class: Conners lost to Malone, time advantage 5 min. 52 sec.
165 pound class: Berquist won from Dillingham, overtime, time advantage, 1 min. 9 sec.
175 pound class: Black lost to Hackett, time advantage, 1 min. 41 sec.

FRESHMEN WIN OVER SOPHOMORES
IN ANNUAL INDOOR TRACK CLASSICFIVE RECORDS BROKEN; DILLER STARS FOR FRESHMEN; MATTISON FOR SOPHOMORE.

Michigan State's indomitable freshman experienced little difficulty Saturday afternoon in running up a record score over the soph in the indoor classic meet, 65-21. The fresh scored four wins and broke five records in running the track on the second year men. Diller, yearling track luminary, was the outstanding performer in the meet, scoring two firsts and a second place. Mattison with a first and a second led the sophs.

The Tillotson of Potosky broke the shot put record established in 1919 by Atkins with a heave of 39 feet, 6 inches. Atkins mark was 39 feet, 6 inches. A freshman, won over Tillotson in his mark does not effect the varsity record. His record will count however in the freshman records, breaking the mark of 40 feet, 11 inches set by Paul Smith in 1924. Barratt's attempt was good for 41 feet 11 inches.

Diller broke the fresh high hurdle mark with a 6 flat for his time in one of the preliminaries. Mattison set the old record in 6:2 in 1924.

The record for the 440 was shattered by Krell who did the distance in 58.22 seconds, under the old mark established in 1924 by Freshy Alhman. Krell broke the record in 58.22 seconds. Frank Haven held the 100 yard record in 2:14.2 made in 1924.

Krell led the 60 yard low hurdle mark and Diller tied the high jump record.

Pole vault: Diller (F), Burke (S) and Olson (F) tied for second and third. Height 19 feet.
100 yard dash: Helman (F), Helman (F), Long (F), Time 5 sec.
100 yard run: Krell (F), Rossman (F), Williams (F), Time 35.5.
100 yard low hurdles: Miller (S), Morrison (S), Kuyven (F), Time 43.5.
Shot put: Barratt (F), Tillotson (S), Helman (F), Distance 41 ft. 11 in.
220 yard dash: Helman (F), Helman (F), Long (F), Time 29.6.Foote's Auto Laundry
