CO-EDS SCORE IN WINTER TERM HONOR ROLL

Nine Out of Fourteen All "A" Students Are of Feminine Sex.

Coads of Michigan State College scored a scholastic victory over the men students of the college during the winter term, according to the winter term honor roll, which is the result of the records which have been compiled by Miss Elida Rakely, registrar.

Nine of the 14 students who received A grades in every subject during the winter term were co-eds. Four of these, while they did not receive A grades in activities such as military and band, for which credit is given, did receive A grades in all academic work.

Those who received all A's are as follows: Lolah Horning '29; Henriette Scovell '29; Mary A. Darshall '28; Gladys Burrington '00; Jeanette Smith '27; Simon Wolf '26; Lowell Teeter '26; Florence Coskran special; Margaret Krogness, special; and Mabel Norton, special.

Those receiving A's in academic work only were: John Forsyth '29; John Brislin '28; Lyle Brundage '28; and Marion Dammon '29.

Freshmen were in the majority among those taking full academic courses, with four members of the class of '29 placing on the honor roll, while sophomores boasted three, while the seniors had two members to be honored, and the juniors one. In the case of special students, only four or six credits were taken during the term.

No announcement has been made as to the students receiving only A's and B's, but it is expected that this list, when completed, will contain a large number of students, as usual in the fall term.

Half of the students named on the honor roll are from either Lansing or East Lansing.

CO-ED DEBATERS END SEASON THURSDAY

Detroit City College to Be Met in Finale.

State college co-ed debaters will end the season Thursday night with a dual program on a home and abroad basis.

Detroit City college will send a trio of debaters representing the affirmative side of the child labor controversy against State's negative team comprised of Ellen Farley, '20, Florence Allbright, '21, and Dorothy Robinson, '22. This contest will be held in the Little Theatre at eight o'clock, and following the completion of the presentation, the audience will cast its vote. An open forum discussion will be in vogue against the Detroiters. The co-eds named to uphold the visiting school are Rose Sosnoski, daughter of former Congressman Sosnoski, of Detroit, Clara Hurwitz, and Edythe Rumber.

While Michigan State debate follows turn their attention to the last home contest, State will also have its affirmative trio at Detroit to clash with the City College opponents of the proposed labor amendment to the federal constitution. The M. S. C. affirmative team is made up of Elizabeth Seckert, '20, Thelma Estelle, '21, and John Thompson, '20.

OBSEVANCE OF AMERICAN FOREST WEEK IS URGED

Prof. Chittenden Calls Attention to Its Purpose.

Professor A. K. Chittenden, head of the forestry department, wishes to call attention to Forestry week, which comes this year from April 18 to 24.

The idea of devoting several days in the year to forestry education originated in 1920. One of the most serious "wastes" this is the only one to which the government has given such recognition and support for five consecutive years.

American Forest week is all inclusive for its purpose is to give opportunity for every form of interest in trees and forests, and is not a time for advancing the views or serving the purposes of any special group or organization. "It is strictly and wholly educational in plan and purpose," says Mr. Chittenden.

Scenes to Be Reenacted at Prom

Co-ed Prom Is Cloaked in Mysterious Diversions

The co-ed prom is almost upon us! That gay, mysterious evening, with its gorgeous decorations, and weird looking costumes, so anxiously awaited by all the Michigan State co-eds, is only three days away. Whispered confabs have been going on for days, dark secrets are in the wind; and on Friday evening heavily cloaked forms will be seen stealing up to the door of the Union building, as secretly admitted, and swallowed up inside. The world will never know what becomes of them; one thing is sure: the co-eds will never disclose the mystery.

Prizes will be sought for and carried away—the best individual and group costumes will receive recognition, as will the best stunt offered. It is rumored that the sororities are working long after midnight in secret inner rooms, to prepare their entries. No one may predict what queer sights are to be seen. Perhaps there will be pirates (such things have happened); Uncle Sam may be there; maybe an elephant or two. Men, the horrid creatures, are not admitted to this great event; however, the uninitiated would be surprised at the astonishingly manlike individuals to be seen dancing with their "lady friends" in all corners of the room—for some of us can impersonate the never-to-be-too-much-deplored other sex surprisingly well!

But men had better not try to force an entrance into the sacred portals. This ancient institution is to be kept as free from the taint of masculine acquaintance as is within the power of Michigan State co-eds—and they are a powerful lot when acting in mob formation. A word to the wise is sufficient.

We said no men, but at times a masculine orchestra has been allowed the distinction of furnishing the music for this great prom. Also a photographer or two for we never cease loving to have our picture taken in weird costumes. But the ordinary, common run of men, without any especial talent for adding to the pleasure of our evening, are forbidden entrance.

The co-ed who misses the evening lives to regret it. Fifty cents is the price charged for the affair, and the girls announce that tickets are for sale almost everywhere that one wishes to ask for them. Several of them have proclaimed their willingness to take up the work of the men who regularly officiate in the Union, in order to prohibit these creatures from enjoying the girls' party. There may be co-eds stationed at the main desk and running the check room. The guests are told not to be astonished or angry if they are given the wrong coat, or if the line at the desk is unusually long and slow; we are simply not used to the work, and will improve with time.

The secret is a deep one. What happens to all those lovely girls once they have entered that dark

FORESTERS WILL MAKE MERRY SATURDAY NIGHT

Annual Fracas Eagerly Awaited; Alumni-Union Party Same Night.

Two open dances will be in vogue on the campus this week Saturday. While the Foresters are holding sway at their annual "shindig" in the armory, grade and students will be joined at the union for the annual spring term Alumni-Union party.

The Foresters affair is sponsored by Ray Hendrick and Ray Thomasma, and one of the features of this annual occasion is the miniature "old time favorite skoon bar." Full forestry dress for the "lumberjacks" and their janes is imperative, and to supplement the setting for the event, will be an evidence of pines and spruces.

Customs Give Eds Effeminate Rating

Since the fair co-eds can no longer experience a thrill by cutting off their flowing locks, the only tonorial diversion they can have is in trimming their remaining hair shorter and shorter each time they visit their barbe. Just what effect this growing tendency toward masculine haircuts will have upon the boys is problematical. As yet the age, the foresters or the engineers have not realized the fact that they are becoming effeminate; but who knows how soon they will break out with a new style "Paderewski" or the "Father of Our Country."

It has been roughly estimated that an average of 275 eds and co-eds daily patronize the shops. Now don't all of you change your course and take up the barbering trade, for in some cases tipping is forbidden and most generally it is a forgotten act of appreciation on the part of the customers.

Single Copies of State News Available.

For the benefit of the students of the college who are not regular subscribers to the Michigan State News, extra copies of the paper will be printed and placed on sale at the rate of 5 cents per copy.

The extra papers will be on sale at the following places: The main desk in the lobby of the Union building, the College Book store, and the Smoke Shop.

Watch for Friday's paper. There will be something of interest to every student in every issue. If you are not a subscriber you can buy single copies for the remainder of the term.

Extra copies will be placed on sale for the first time Friday afternoon.

SPANISH CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Membership to Consist of "A" and "B" Spanish Students.

The Spanish club, a new group to be organized on the campus, will hold its first meeting Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 213, Ag hall. All Spanish students who have an A or B standing will be admitted to the club.

The new organization is being sponsored by Mrs. Alice Leathers, L. M. Shout, Miss Margaret Miles and R. G. Frounck of the language department of the college.

WELL KNOWN ORGANIZATION TO ENTERTAIN

Organization Composed of Ninety-four Players; Has Long and Envious Record.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, which is scheduled to appear at Michigan State college May 16, has a long and enviable record as one of the finest musical organizations of its kind in the world. Composed of 94 players and directed by Frederick Stock, assisted by Eric DeLamarter, formerly of Lansing, the symphony promises to give East Lansing a musical treat such as has not been enjoyed here for years.

The Chicago Symphony is now in its 35th year and during its existence has had but two conductors—Theodore Thomas for 14 years and Mr. Stock, the present director, who has been in that position for the last 21 years. It is the third oldest orchestra in America and is controlled by a governing body of 40 men, known as the "Orchestral association." Appointment to that body is for life, and membership is considered an honorable distinction.

Mr. Stock has had one of the most remarkable careers of modern musicians. His father was a bandmaster in Jullich, Germany, and was his son's first tutor. At 14 the young man entered the Cologne conservatory from which institution he was graduated as a violinist. He later studied theory and composition under Humperdinck, Ziegler, Jensen and Weollner. Coming to America in 1895 he became a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra and four years later was made assistant director. On the death of Theodore Thomas in 1905 Mr. Stock succeeded him in the conductorship.

Both concerts, afternoon and evening, will be given in the new People's church auditorium. The entertainment is sponsored by the college band, glee club and chorus.

CLASS MEETINGS TO BE HELD WED. MORNING

Dean Phelan to Address Freshmen Convocation.

Divisional convocation Wednesday morning will take the form of class meetings. The various classes will meet as follows:

Seniors: The new Hort building.

Juniors: The second floor of the Union building.

Sophomores: The Little Theater.

Mr. Adendorf will speak.

Freshmen: East lecture room of Chemistry building. Dean Phelan will talk on freshmen problems of interest to all members of the class. Juniors and seniors will hold regular business meetings at this time.

ALUMNI MAKE CHANGES IN M. S. C. RECORD

Size of Publication Is Increased; To Be Issued Monthly Next Year.

Following an overwhelming alumni vote last year in favor of changing the M. S. C. Record from a weekly to a monthly publication, the executive committee of the M. S. C. association passed the proposal with equal favor here Saturday afternoon. The committee in meeting Saturday at the Union under the chairmanship of Frank Rogers, state highway commissioner, made a careful perusal of the facts concerned in altering the publication schedule.

The result of the committee investigation means a monthly periodical will be in vogue starting next September. The same policy of management of the Record will remain under the new schedule. The magazine will be increased in size from 5x8 to 7x10. Another constructive change expected to result under the new plan, will be greater advertising possibilities.

R. J. McCarthy, manager of the Union, states that the reason for the alteration in the publication work is purely economical. The subscription rate of $2.50 a year has been insufficient to enable the publishing of the 35 issues, as in the past, on a sound financial basis. The alumni organization feels that on a monthly schedule the burden would be more fairly distributed.

The M. A. C. Record was founded in 1896, and since that time has seen a varied growth, and undergone many changes. Until 1913 the Record was published by the college, through affiliations with B. A. Faunce, present East Lansing business man, and at that time secretary to President Snyder. Mr. Faunce was also secretary to Acting President Kedzie.

The other phases of alumni activity and responsibility, such as the Union management, under R. J. McCarthy, were discussed by the executive committee Saturday.

Members of the committee present for the spring meeting were President Frank Rogers, '83; Harris Thomas, '85; Turner Broughton, '15, and C. W. McKibbin, '11, all of Lansing; Luther H. Baker, '93, of East Lansing; E. W. Ranney, '00, of Greenville; H. F. Ross, '04, of Milford; A. C. Mackinnon, '95, of Bay City; E. C. Krehl, '08, and G. B. Branch, '12, both of Detroit. Among this group are two former presidents of the association, E. W. Ranney and Harris Thomas.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Organization Will Initiate About Twenty New Members.

The Cosmopolitan club of Michigan State college will have its first social meeting for this term on April 23, at 7:30 p. m. at the People's church building. About 20 new members will be initiated at that time, and will conduct an unusual program.

A play entitled "The Tailor's Trouble" will be presented by the new members, besides musical and humorous acts. The club will have guests from various organizations of the campus.

Students and faculty are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

CRITICS AND CRITICIZED

Perhaps no other group of society is subject to as much adverse and unfair criticism as the college student. Immediately some one or a few of our entire student population oversteps the bounds of decorum there is a great hue and cry about the "degradation" and "depravity" of all students everywhere. In a burst of misdirected enthusiasm, in a moment of thoughtlessness, or even in a moment of rank inconsideration for the rights of others, one or more students may act in a manner entirely unbecoming to their high calling, and at once an entire student body is derided and scathed. The great majority of this same student body will frown upon the actions of the few and, if the offense is serious enough, will take steps to punish it.

Folks seem always to take a suspicious attitude toward the college student. Perhaps the main difficulty lies in the fact that too little is expected and too much is suspected of him. Seldom do we read or hear commendable things of the college student unless he makes a home run or a touchdown.

An individual cannot be exposed to culture and learning, cannot have contact with people who are striving to increase their value to society, without absorbing something of civility, something of respect for the rights of others, and something of appreciation for law and order. The facts of the matter are that our students of the present and our students of the past are the very backbone of society.

The following incident may not be of any great moment in itself, but it may prove that there is a spark of civility burning in the breasts of at least a few of our "inconsiderate, disrespectful college men." This incident took place on a college car going downtown. Two college students were sitting in a seat near which two co-eds were standing. This proves conclusively that these two fellows were not gentlemen. The car was traveling quite rapidly and the conductor did not see an old lady with a heavy bag running down a side street to catch the car. One of the two students did see her. He jumped to his feet, ran down the length of the car, and asked the conductor to stop. The car stopped. The student walked back half a block, carried the old lady's bag, and helped her onto the car. She was a shabby old lady and one whom he had never seen before, but he evidently had not thought of that. Only a few moments before he had allowed a co-ed to stand while he occupied a seat and had proclaimed himself not a gentleman according to a certain code. Now he has done an act of courtesy and a very commendable thing. Surely one who would find fault with him in the first instance must admire him in the second instance. It is a serious thing to pass judgment hastily.

In spite of criticism and misunderstanding, the average college student can generally be depended upon to do the right thing at the right time. It seems unfair that so large a group of society must suffer criticism for the acts of a few. It has always been thus and the modern student must bear up under it until after four years he passes on from the ranks of the criticized to the ranks of the critics.

THE PURPOSE OF YOUR EDUCATION

In an address at the Harvard commencement dinner, June 25, 1902, Theodore Roosevelt said:

"If a college education means anything, it means fitting a man to do better service than he could do without it; if it does not mean that it means nothing, and if a man does not get that out of it, he gets less than nothing out of it. No man has a right to arrogate to himself one particle of superiority or consideration because he has had a college education, but he is bound, if he is in truth a man, to feel that the fact of his having had a college education imposes upon him a heavier burden of responsibility, that it makes it doubly incumbent upon him to do well and nobly in his life, private and public."

ALUMNI GOLD STAR MEN TO BE HONORED

Washington, D. C. Association Gives Union Bronze Memorial.

Future years will see the main lobby of the Union graced by the presence of a bronze tablet memorial dedicated to the alumni who have given their lives in any of the great war struggles of the nation.

The tablet is now in the basement of the Union and is the gift of the Washington, D. C., chapter of the M. S. C. Alumni association. It bears the names of State college graduates who died on the battlefields of the Spanish-American, Civil and World wars. It is believed that the list is complete, and the memorial will be placed on the wall between the fireplace and the main desk in the Union lobby, at a cost of $600. A representative of the Washington association will be present on June 19, for the dedication ceremonies, and at that time the tablet will be placed in its permanent position.

SPARTANS POUND FOUR BRADLEY MOUNDMEN FOR 13-3 VICTORY

Kobeson Garner 19 Base Hits in Downright Bradley; Kuhn Holds Visitors to Seven Hits; Fleser Has Perfect Day at Bat.

Three Bradley Tech moundmen were badly mauled Saturday afternoon and a fourth severely manhandled before Coach Koba's Spartans finally decided it time to close the festivities and repair to the gymnasium. The final score was Michigan State 13, Bradley Tech 3, accumulated through the medium of 19 base hits, including a triple from the willow of Perry Fremont and two base clouts donated by George Kuhn and Roy Spiekerman.

The game was one of the most complete routs seen on the East Lansing diamond in many seasons, the Spartans scoring in every frame but the sixth and seventh and leaving men on the sacks in these innings. The State attack seemed to know no limit, and pitcher after pitcher for Bradley was relieved in favor of another gunner to take up the useless task. Coupled with the heavy clouting, five Bradley errors contributed to the Spartan cause, besides several misplays.

State lost no time in getting to Metzger, the first hurler to face the Green and White. Fleser beat out an infield hit to start the massacre. Haskins singled him to third and they both scored on Kiebler's bingle after Tolles had rolled out. Kiebler took second on the throw-in and scored on Bayne's single. Rowley rolled to the pitcher.

State again found Metzger for a brace of counters in the second inning. Kuhn walked after Spiekerman fanned, went to third on Don Fleser's second infield hit when he tried to sacrifice but beat out the hit, and Kuhn scored on Haskins' sacrifice fly to left. Fleser stole second and counted on Tolles' hit for a base.

The fireworks continued in the third chapter when four runs crossed the plate. Kiebler hit to short and was thrown out but Bayne walked, went to second on Rowley's clout to left and they both scored on Spiekerman's double. Metzger decided he had enough for the afternoon and was relieved by Elmira. Elmira passed Kuhn but Spiekerman scored on Fleser's third infield hit. He rolled to Gingrich who teined a throw to third to hold Spiekerman as turned to find Fleser crouching the sack. Haskins walked, forcing in Kuhn, but Tolles and Fremont fled out, ending the inning.

Another run was produced in the fourth on Kiebler's hit, taking second and third on infield out, and the completion of a double steal after Spiekerman walked. Kiebler scoring on the play. The fifth set saw State cut loose with real baseball and base running, amassing five runs out of only three hits, which were aided somewhat by three fielding errors. Fleser led off with his fourth consecutive hit of the afternoon and went to third on Haskins' second hit. Fleser scored on Carlson's blob and after Tolles and Fremont were exterminated Kiebler was passed and went to third when Bland dropped Bayne's easy fly. Bayne and Kiebler worked a double steal, Kiebler counting on the play and Bayne going to second. Rowley got a hit to left, stole

V. A. A. ADOPTS REVISION IN CONSTITUTION

Plans Are Being Made for Tea Dance.

A special meeting of the Women's Athletic association was held Thursday night for the purpose of accepting the revised constitution. As the constitution now stands one unexcused absence will drop a girl from the membership roll, although one week will be allowed to get excuses to June Rainey, vice-president. Plans were also discussed for a tea dance which will be held in the future.

second and scored when Dixon muffed Spiekerman's hit. Spiekerman was out, Kiebler to Smith, in attempting to steal.

State went scoreless in the sixth and seventh, but added two more in the eighth to finish up the day's work. After Metzger had struck out and Kuhn rolled to Gingrich, Fleser found his fifth it, a liner to center, stole second and went to third when Smith hit Kiebler's peg get away. He scored on Rinehart's single, who immediately stole second. Rinehart and Tolles were passed and they both scored when Fremont tripled to right center. Fremont was left stranded as Kiebler was thrown out, Dekromer to Gingrich.

Bradley counted a run in the fourth, fifth and seventh innings. Bayne threw Carlson's grounder away and he counted on Dekromer's triple for the visitors' initial counter. Shaffer singled in the fifth, went to second when Dixon was hit and scored on Carlson's bingle. Their final counter came in the seventh when another error this time by Kuhn, followed by successive singles by Dekromer and Smith, allowed Thompson to score.

Big George Kuhn was the principal factor why the Bradley sluggers did not take more liberties in denting the plate than they did. He pitched shutout ball and with airtight support as he deserved, he undoubtedly would rank with Wakefield as shutout artists of the present season.

The hitting of Fleser was also outstanding. He collected five hits, three of them infield hits, out of six times at bat. He walked on one occasion. "Lefty" Tolles pulled a good catch in the eighth when he took Kiebler's long fly back of the right field stands. Perry Fremont was unusually active Saturday in chasing up foul flies.

Bradley came here with victories over Armour Tech, 9-0, and Notre Dame, 6-4, but fell Friday to Western State Normal by the count of 19-1. By comparative scores, State should be an equal to the Teachers and the game which is scheduled here for May 27 with the Kasooks should be an even battle.

State goes to Ann Arbor tomorrow to lock horns with her traditional rival, Michigan. The Maize and Blue has just finished a southern trip which resulted very successfully the first five games played, taking Kentucky, Vanderbilt twice and Mercer twice into camp. They lost two games, however, to Georgia Tech by large scores, and the battle should be practically even when the two rivals meet.

MICHIGAN STATE PLACES IN FOUR RELAYS AT COLUMBUS CLASSIC

Smith and Tillotson Take Points in Weights; Alder and Grim Disappoint in Century.

Michigan State's track team, by placing in four relays on the card at the Ohio State relays held at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday, made more than a fair showing considering the class of competition that the Green and White was facing. Besides placing in the relays, Smith scored a third in the shot put. Tillotson a fourth in the discus, and VanNoppen fourth in the preliminary high hurdles. From the Spartans' viewpoint, the biggest upset of the meet was the placing of Grim and Alderman fifth and tenth respectively in the fifth and tenth relays in the century. Both men are rated better than this and were expected to either cop or place in the first four in the event. The time was 10 flat.

State won the 440 yard relay, Farley, VanNoppen, Grim and Alderman stepping the distance in good time. The same relay team took second place in the half mile relay, which was run against time. Ypsilanti Normal took first. Ripper, VanArman, Wylie and Harper scored a third in the medley relay, in 10:57.7 for a new college record. The old record was 11:03. VanArman, Waterman, Ripper and Wylie were fourth in the two mile relay, being clocked at :826. Wylie ran his half in 2 flat.

Paul Smith took a third in the shot, and Ike Tillotson a fourth in the discus, both doing well in their respective events. Although VanNoppen qualified for the finals in the high hurdles, he was unable to keep step with the leaders. A new record was set in this event.

The track was in fair condition and an unusual number of records were broken, including the university mile relay by Wisconsin with 4 minutes 26.3 seconds; the 120 yard high hurdles by Guthrie of Ohio State with 15 seconds; the javelin triathlon by Kruse of Wisconsin with 193 feet 9 1/2 inches; the university distance medley relay by Illinois, 46.4 seconds; the university mile relay by Michigan with 3 minutes, 23.1 seconds; the triathlon shot put, Lyon, Illinois, 44 feet 6 1/2 inches; the open high jump by Anson of Ohio State, 6 feet 3 1-16 inches; the college 100 yard dash, Charles of Colgate, Iowa, 10 seconds; the college high jump, Ellis, Ohio Wesleyan, 5 feet 10 1-8 inches; the college two mile relays, Cornell, 3 minutes 16 1-10 seconds; the case B mile relay, Otterbein, 3 minutes 39.1 seconds; the college sprint medley relay, Urbana, Ill., 2 minutes 36.3 seconds; the high school jump, Coffee of Salem, 5 feet

10 inches; high jump, Coffee of Salem, 5 feet 6 inches. Ellis of Ohio Wesleyan tied the meet record for the 120 high hurdles for colleges with 16 seconds.
