APPOINTMENT OF CADET OFFICERS NEARLY FINISHED

Selection of Cavalry and Artillery Officers Are Still to Be Made.

TRAIN TRICK RIDERS

May Organize Crack Section of Drill Troops for Exhibition Purposes.

Announcement of the appointment of the cadet officers for the current school year of the infantry division of the Michigan State R. O. T. C. unit was made Saturday by Captain Barnes John after trials in command and leadership were given the candidates.

James A. Bands, John A. Reuling, and Harold P. Torsey were named captains in the unit while Walter F. Muhlinger, Joseph Blaske, Gerald Reynolds, A. Cowles Wheeler, Frank Hayes and James D. Salmon were given the rank of lieutenants.

With the appointment of G. Ivan Collett as cadet-colonel, Theodore Oldenburg as lieutenant and adjutant colonel, Gordon Jarman as the infantry major, G. Green and M. Coan as artillery majors, and James K. McElroy as the cavalry major, the list of cadet officer appointments is very near complete. The division officers of the cavalry and the artillery aside from the majors is still open to some query.

A movement is under way, sponsored by Seaboard and Blade, to organize a crack section of drill troops from the infantry to be known as the "Pershing Rifles". A canvass of the class is being made to determine the amount of support that the idea will receive. If sufficient interest is shown, the plan will receive the backing of the regular officers, and a new field of campus activity will be thrown open to the students.

The section will act in the capacity of an exhibition outfit and will display its prowess before all parades. This is planned to create a greater interest and goal for the underclassman military student and may actually be given the status of an underclassman honorary.

Plans for a similar organization are being put into practice in the cavalry division. A crack troop of trick riders is being trained to be made up of the most accomplished members of the sophomore classes. Roman riding, vaulting in its various forms, and a galaxy of stunts familiar to cavalry school riders, will be practiced for use in exhibition parades and special occasions.

VOUCHER SYSTEM ON STUDENT FEES

All Publications Funds to Be Released Through a Supervised System Each Month.

A voucher system for releasing the funds secured through the student publication fee was adopted by the administration committee on student fees at a meeting held Thursday afternoon.

A committee of three chosen from the board of publications with a faculty member as chairman will supervise each student publication and vouchers for the payment of bills will be signed by the faculty chairman. Prof. A. H. Nelson is the faculty chairman of the Wolverine committee; Dean R. S. Shaw, chairman of the Agricultural committee; and J. B. Hasseman, chairman of the Michigan State News committee.

An accurate record of all money received and paid out by each publication will be kept by each publication business manager. Each month the board of publications will meet with the administration committee for an audit.

Under the new student publications fee system, each student pays at the time of fall term registration $1.50 for a year's subscription to the Michigan State News and $3.50 for the Wolverine. This system has reduced the total price from $7.50 to $5. Agriculture students pay 50 cents for a year's subscription to the Agriculturist, published by the students of the agricultural division of the college.

The administration committee also considered plans for releasing other funds collected under the student fee system.

EASTERN STAR ORDER TO MEET IN EAST LANSING

Eastern Star orders will hold their 20th annual meeting in East Lansing according to announcement by Mrs. John Baker president. The sessions will be held in the Masonic Temple, starting at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

All members of the association will be invited to attend the meeting. There will be about 10 chapters represented at the meeting, and the grand chapter will have as its representative, the worthy grand matron. Members of the Red Cedar chapter of the East Lansing Eastern Star will act as hostesses.

CANDIDATES ARE SELECTED FOR RHODES AWARD

Committee Chooses Fred Alderman and Robert Walter to Represent Mich. State.

BOTH MEN OUTSTANDING

Alderman is Senior Engineer; Walter a Senior of the Liberal Arts Division.

Robert H. Walter, of Highland Park, and Frederick Alderman, of East Lansing, were chosen yesterday by a committee of Michigan State College professors as candidates from this college for the Rhodes Scholarship.

Every alternate two years, the colleges of Michigan which meet the requirements, are allowed to send a number of applicants (the number depending upon the size of the college or university) to the state committee. This committee picks two individuals, whom they believe to be outstanding, for the scholarship.

Alderman is a student of the engineering division and has been outstanding since his entrance in college both in athletics and scholarship. Alderman holds the western conference record in the 220-yard dash out-of-doors, and is joint holder of the world's record in the 300-yard run indoors.

Walter received his high school training in Highland Park and then entered Highland Park Junior College. He was one of the most outstanding men in the Highland Park college and was president of his class both freshman and sophomore years. He entered Michigan State last year at the beginning of the winter term in the liberal arts division.

Both men are seniors. Walter is a member of the Eclectic society and Alderman is a member of the Cubanian society.

The candidates are chosen on a basis of all around excellence, including literary and scholastic ability and attainments, qualities of manhood, character, public spirit, and leadership; physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports and in other ways.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE HONOR ROYALTY

Mrs. K. L. Butterfield Appointed Hostess to Queen Marie of Roumania.

Mrs. K. L. Butterfield, wife of President Kenyon L. Butterfield, is one of the committee of Michigan women who will greet Queen Marie of Roumania when she visits Michigan. Queen Marie has accepted the invitation of Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University of Michigan, to visit Ann Arbor on her visit to Michigan. The student body of the university will participate in the entertainment of the queen in Ann Arbor.

The committee which includes Mrs. Henry Ford, Mrs. Edsel Ford, Mrs. James Converse, and Mrs. Clarence Cook Little, was appointed by Donald Travis, a Detroit attorney, as representing the leaders in the society of Saginaw which is handling the chemistry building.

Members of the women's committee will receive official invitations to all functions given for Queen Marie during her visit to Michigan.

The major staff of the 1927 book is completed and has already been announced. Several additional staff positions are still vacant as well as numerous general assistantships on the book. Those who are interested in the editorial or regular production work on the book are asked to call the editor at either 6008 or 6182, while any students who desire to aid in the business phase are requested to call the business manager at 9182.

WELLS BOARDING CLUB USES QUANTITY OF FOOD

Fifteen Bushels of Potatoes, 200 Pounds of Meat, 78 Pies Consumed Each Meal.

With a larger group of fellows than usual, Club A at Wells Hall is consuming more food than at any previous time.

According to Mrs. K. A. Joslyn, manager of the club, the 450 who eat there are served over 200 pounds of meat, 15 bushels of potatoes, 3 or 4 cases of vegetables, and 78 pies each meal. Also about 160 two-pound loaves of bread and 45 gallons of milk are used each day, and 360 pounds of butter and 500 pounds of sugar per week.

Those who manage the club are Mrs. K. A. Joslyn, manager; H. D. Lakin, steward; J. R. Burns, E. D. McLean, and K. E. Post, assistant stewards of the freshmen, sophomore, and senior rooms respectively; two women assistants for Mrs. Joslyn; and 53 boys for general work.

Individuality of College Town Shown at Midnight

To the worldly wise traveler who wanders from place to place and from city to city, many interesting things come to his notice to distinguish one place from another, although in the main, little difference marks the time trodden path of the workman which leads to a habitat called "home" in one place over that of another. However to the stranger who strolls into the college town, many distinctive features bear out an exception to this rule. The jaunty grace of the "college" victim throws a cocky, sort of aggravating jest into the face of the newcomer and spreads a rather contagious air of devil-take-care good will abroad. But the thing which distinguishes a college town is the spread of darkness.

With the work of a day cared for, the average workman, whether the dirt laborer or the white-collared-job office man, is bent upon his slumbers as the clock on the mantle nears the hour of ten. Some of the more reckless of this set may remain afterwards to listen to radio or celebrate their monthly pay check after an appropriate fashion.

Not so bad in the college town. Long after the lights would customarily be dimmed the college students' Emerson's essays from an overloaded shelf of dusty volumes moves aside the recently discarded

Green and White Warriors Given a Rousing Welcome

Behind the war cry "Follow the lead", students of Michigan State college both male and female rallied to the support of the Green and White gridiron team on their return to East Lansing early Monday morning after a fashion that has not been witnessed at Michigan State in many years.

A bit after six o'clock, the State grid team was aroused from somber dreams by a demonstration of college spirit which was best given vent in a somewhat noisy manner. The railroad coaches were surrounded by some 500 students who were assembled for the occasion and mid yell and loud salutations, the homecoming team was escorted from the train into the impromptu chariot procured for the occasion and driven in state behind the shiny mules.

Operations for the reception were started before 5:30 o'clock in East Lansing, and as Paul Revere ventured forth of to arouse the surrounding hillsides, the trumpeters set forth with equal enthusiasm and louder evidence of the idea involved to arouse the student body. Sorority houses, girls' dormitories, fraternities, independents, and in fact practically all representative members of the student body turned out for the celebration. The drizzling rain presented no hindrance to the enthusiastic student body.

In a varying number of conveyances, the group of students made the way to the Michigan Central depot. Lansing was somewhat alarmed at the early morning outburst on the part of the college but settled back in repose when no concrete evidence of violence was indicated. Lined along the railroad tracks, the students gave their surprising reception to the train as it pulled in to the station.

Needless to say, the football team was really alarmed at the reception, thinking either that they were due for violence at their failure to win the game, or that a false report of the outcome had been circulated to stir up such enthusiasm.

However, when the mules were backed up to the coaches and the footballers were lifted cordially into the "chariot" with assurances of the well meaning of the occasion, the surprise had a marvelous effect upon the football team as an appreciation of their efforts.

A fine honorable mention is due Barney Traxnor, the line coach, for the inspiration of the affair last week, and to the Student Council, Excalibur, and Green Key for the sponsoring of the reception.

CAMPUS IN MIDST OF MUCH BUILDING

Present Projects Planned Will Take Five More Years for Completion.

The charter of the riveter, the noise of the steam shovel, the creak of the wagons and the shouts of the workmen have rudely interrupted the usual serene quiet and march of events on the campus. The college is now in the midst of one of the largest building and improvement programs in its history. Campus surroundings will not return to normal for another five years, since the project started this fall cannot possibly be completed before that time. A. H. Lavers, building and grounds superintendent, stated.

The training schedule rules are:

- Three regular meals each day.
- Nothing between meals except fruit, graham crackers, milk, or molasses milk.
- Sleep eight consecutive hours, starting not later than 11 o'clock at night except Friday, Saturday and holidays.

4. Take a shower after each practice and game.

5. Drink but one cup of tea, coffee or cocoanut milk a day.

6. No smoking.

One infringement of this last order rules any candidate out automatically.

If the co-eds live up to this schedule they will show the doubtful men students that they can take athletics as seriously as men and they should also have the finest aggregation of women athletes of any institution in the country.

FAMOUS BOOKS BEING RECEIVED IN SERIES

Students of M. S. C. are turning out in fairly large numbers to hear Rev. McNamee Sunday evening talks on "Voices That Cannot Be Silenced." The series deals with books which are destined to go down in history as being great literature.

Last Sunday evening he spoke on "Resurrection," by Tolstoy. It was by far the most interesting of any of the addresses yet given.

These book talks should be of special interest to students who are majoring in English because they bring out many points in famous books which might otherwise be overlooked.

LATENT ENERGY

Everything that does, everything that grows, possesses potential energy, his struggle against the world be it, but if this Sherman's useless, unless from college college according to Rev. some know he brought so dear to us. O. W. Osvald, Orthodox Baptist leader, loses that energy. A student may of Grand Rapids.

This pastor has seen fit to openly criticize the perfectly terrible misdeemers of the students, which have actually been sponsored by the faculty, such as dancing, destructive criticism of the Bible, and organdy.

The college in question is Kalamazoo college and the announcement brings immediate apprehension to our minds as to whether we are not contaminated or in some way sullied by our recent relations with these satanized students from Kalamazoo. However, Mr. Osvald admits that so-called religious institution in Kalamazoo is no worse than the state institutions.

We are very much grieved over the terrible calamity that has come to our friend. However, there may be something to the charge, anyway, something that had Kalumazoo team under control when he met them on the gridiron, maybe it was sad, they played like it, and maybe it was some other internal influence.

We are certainly sorry to hear of the bad conditions existing in this perfectly normal college, but no remedy has been found to condemn teaching which is striving in reverse to the laws of society. Let onward the truth.

From our position as a wicked sister institution of the state, it would be unadvisable for us to criticize, but may we offer consolation.

PLAN EVENING CLASSES ON CONCRETE MIXTURES

An invitation will be extended to engineers, architects, contractors and material dealers to attend a series of evening classes January 18 to 29 on the design and control of concrete mixtures.

Classes are being sponsored jointly by the engineering department of the College and the Portland Cement Association. Col. J. W. Kelley, of Chicago, will conduct the lectures.

Similar classes have been held all over the country during the past few weeks. The Portland Cement Association has perfected a formula which makes a better concrete at less cost and demonstrations of the new product will be given at the classes.

VAN ALSTYNE HANDS OUT STIFF DRILLS ON COURT

Candidates for the varsity basketball team are drilling three times per week at the present time under the direction of Benjamin VanAlstyne, former Ohio Wesleyan mentor.

VanAlstyne gave the men a short scrummage session this week. His protégés are said to be rounding into condition rapidly. Fundamentals still take up most of the time of the Spartan bucketeers, however.

A CORRECTION

An erroneous statement to the effect that Claire Cazier had been commissioned to the regular army and at present was stationed at M. S. C. appeared in the Tuesday issue of the News. Cazier is merely taking an additional year of training at the college and his rank is that of a Cadet officer.

Rumboldt, who has received his regular commission, has been stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison and not at Fort Sheridan as was stated, while the report as to foreign service during four years is without grounds.

INDIVIDUALITY OF COLLEGE TOWN SHOWN AT MIDNIGHT

(Continued from page 1) their property in the presence of their seniors. Should the chill of the waters of the Red Cedar be discarded in due time, the wayward fresh may retire to his slumbers and resolve to better ways.

In the more torrid seasons of the year, the enhancing strain of the banjo or guitar and the aggravating gurgle of the masculine voice announces the erstwhile "Cyrano de Bergerac" in the modern collegiate costume. Beneath the windows of the feminine retreat the cavalier college man serenades the "athletic and thoroughly sophisticated coed."

The hours are whiled away somehow, and before the last light flickers and is no more, the busy city man is on the last stages of a night's rest and may muse with a smattering of a troubled day to come. The college man catches his bit of sleep, rises surprisingly refreshed, and a new day is on. The jaunty graces is apparent again, an interesting feature of the college student, but the weariness of the night are necessary to really illustrate the nervousness energy and endurance of the "collegiate".

NO MORE EXTRAS

Passes of this company no longer make the 20¢ each charge for extra passengers.

Therefore, two, three, four or five passengers may now ride for the price of one.

This should appeal to students as groups of five may now use taxicabs at but slightly more than street car fare.

Service after 250 Years

A HUNDRED years before Napoleon was born, before his wars scourged Europe, before the French Revolution raged, this Cast Iron Pipe was laid, in the reign of Louis XIV, to supply water to the fountains of Versailles.

A report from the Director of the Water Service says: "From their actual state of preservation, which is excellent, excepting the assembly iron bolts, these conduits seem to be able to furnish service for a very considerable time longer."

The high resistance of this Cast Iron Pipe to corrosion may be judged from the clearness of the fine "parting line" produced by the old horizontal method of casting.

SOMETHING NEW IN CONVERSATIONS

The Michigan Institute of Technology is about to try out a new system for conversations. They are going to choose the speakers and then choose the audience for them.

A similar method at Michigan State might have a tendency to improve conversation. We have had good speakers and bad speakers, speakers who talked on interesting subjects and those who chose abstruse subjects quite tiresome and boring. Some good speakers in conversations in the past did not increase the average college student.

The first requisite for successful college conversations is good speakers. The second is interesting topics. The third subject which they have chosen to start with at Michigan Tech is "The Spirit of Football" and "The Responsibility of the University."

We read an item in the Ohio Wesleyan Transcript that should appeal to any student's sense of humor. It was entitled a round to parents and profs—may they never meet.

Isn't life terrible? If it isn't one thing it's another even worse. How do we ever stand it?

Yes, I'll admit, I have a grudge. After having come back to school this fall with the full intention of having a good time, I suddenly find that I am taking four courses whose teachers insist that I study. If that isn't the height of meanness!

Honestly, no kidding, it gets worse every term. It wasn't so bad when I was a freshman. They didn't expect so much of us then. But now—gee, I'm supposed to know everything!

And was I don't know anything, I have to go right to the library and look it up. If we didn't have such a good library it would be easier for me. The teachers could tell us everything they wanted us to know and we wouldn't have to look it up.

But then, of course, no mere teacher knows everything that is in all of the books in that horrid place—though I have had a few who thought they knew most of it.

But, anyway, college life is getting to be all work and no diversions. At least, every time I try to divert my mind, they charge me up with double cuts.

And another thing, I wish a few of you people would stop getting married just about this time of year there's a regular rush of weddings and I have exhausted the supply of appropriate gifts that the ten cent store carries. It's all bosh anyway. So lots have it stopped immediately.

STATE NEWS TO BE MAILED SOON

Student List and Addresses To Be Revised; Make Stencils for Addressing Machine.

Preparations for mailing the Michigan State News to each subscriber have been started and the mailing will be begun as soon as the addressing stencils can be made.

It cannot be said at the present time just how long it will take to make the stencils as it requires a great deal of time and work to prepare these stencils so that the addressing of 2,500 can be done quickly and economically. A complete list of the students was made for the State News at the registrar's office last week.

Students who have changed their address since enrollment at the beginning of the term and have not notified the registrar, should notify the State News at once so that the stencils can all be made with the correct address. This will also eliminate the expense of making a new stencil. The stencils are made on steel plates and the addressing done by a machine in a manner that is similar to printing.

Because of the fact that this is the first year that the student fee system has been tried out at Michigan State, the distribution system was not decided upon definitely until after the beginning of the school year.

At some other schools where the fee system is in use, the papers are distributed as they are at Michigan State, but this system of distribution has not proved entirely satisfactory here.

The mailing will add a large additional cost but it is believed that with the present financial condition of the State News, which is the best for several years due to the fee system, that it can be done without causing the paper to lose financially.

EXPERIMENTAL LAB. INSTALLS HUGE MOTOR

New 50 K. W. Motor Generating Set Installation Practically Completed.

The installation of a new 50 k. w. motor generating set in the engineering experimental laboratory is practically completed.

Last spring the work was started by building concrete piers for the motor base and although the switch board is not fully installed, by temporary wiring the motor can be used.

The Westinghouse motor operates directly from a 2,300 volt alternating current generated at the State power house and supplies a 125 to 250 volt direct current for use in the laboratories.

According to Prof. B. K. Osborn, the generating set is one of the largest found in experimental laboratories.

FIRST SENIOR PARTY AT UNION SATURDAY

The first big party of the year will be held in the Union ballroom Saturday night Oct. 23 when the senior graduating class will hold sway with the senior open full term party.

The Blue Moon orchestra has been promised to furnish the music for the occasion. This band of musicians has been rendering the music for the Union parties thus far this term. The ticket sale is to be restricted to facilitate plenty of dancing space.

The senior committee in charge of the occasion is headed by June Ranney. Assisting her are Gerald Reynolds, Walter Meofsky, and Monty Price.

This party will come the evening of the game with Lake Forest and is seen as a fitting place to give vent to the joys of an anticipated victory.

HAVE YOU CHANGED YOUR ADDRESS?

If you have changed your address since you registered and have not notified the registrar of the change, write the Michigan State News at once and give your new address. Preparations are being made to mail the State News to each subscriber and the correct address of each subscriber must be given at once in order that the list of students and their addresses may be revised and brought up to date.

COMPLETE PLANS STATE GRANGE MEET

People's Church to Be Scene Practically All Meetings; Sessions to Open Today.

Plans are rapidly being completed for the annual meeting of the Michigan State Grange, who will visit the campus October 26 to 29.

The People's church will be the place where practically all of the meetings will be held. Sessions are to open at ten o'clock Tuesday with an address by A. B. Cook, master of the grange, and reports of other state officers.

Each morning there will be a state master's conference at 8 o'clock, followed by a regular business meeting. At 1 o'clock Wednesday, the state lecturer's report will be given, and Michigan State College will offer an entertainment tour. A feature of the program will be the annual banquet in the church dining hall, at 6 o'clock Wednesday night.

Mrs. Bernice Curtis, a member of the executive committee, will confer fifth and sixth degrees Thursday evening. The sessions will close Saturday with election and installation of new officers.

Mrs. Dora Stockman, lecturer for the state grange, is in charge of the program, aided by local committees. The college and city will extend their hospitality to the visitors.

Three programs will be broadcasted over WKAR.

FACULTY RECEPTION TO BE HELD NOV. 1

Pres. and Mrs. Butterfield Mr. and Mrs. John D. Willard and Mrs. Powell to Receive Guests.

The annual faculty reception is to be held on Monday evening November 1, in the Union ball room and invitations are being mailed out to more than 400 guests according to announcement Thursday by Mrs. Butterfield.

This year's affair will be in the form of a masquerade with dancing. At 9:30 the masquerade will close and the reception will begin. In the receiving line will be President and Mrs. Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Willard, and Mrs. Powell. Mr. Willard and Mrs. Powell are now members of the college staff, and will formally meet the other members of the faculty on this occasion.

An orchestra composed of musicians from the college faculty will furnish the music for the dancing. The affair will last for 8 until 11 o'clock. Further plans will be announced later according to Mrs. Butterfield.

MILITARY SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Only 236 Not in Military of 1411 Men Enrolled; Advanced Students More Numerous.

The largest enrollment ever to enter the military department during its regime at Michigan State is taking its tri-weekly workouts now under the stern guidance of the regular army officers.

Including the men in the band, of whom there are 110, the number of men in all departments is 1,085. This is the largest number of men ever entered at the military department.

In the infantry, 165 freshmen, 85 sophomores, 18 advanced students are enrolled, making a total of 268. The cavalry division drew 203 freshmen, 8 sophomores and 25 advanced students for a total of 236. In the artillery, 202 freshmen, 111 sophomores and 69 advanced students bring the biggest total of a single division at 381. The band of 110 members boasts 47 freshmen, 27 sophomores, 36 upperclassmen.

Out of 1,411 men enrolled in the whole college, only 226 are not taking military. The advanced students are becoming more numerous, but they are just about in proportion to the increase of freshmen and sophomores. The artillery seems to be the preference of advanced students, as they have more than twice as many as the other two departments put together.

The freshmen seem to have taken the cavalry as their favorite division, 203 men having entered. The artillery is second with 201 men and the infantry is last with 165 men.

UNION COMMITTEES ARE ANNOUNCED

Name Music and House Committees for Year.

Two standing committees of the Michigan State College Union were announced Thursday by the president of the Union, Ruth Ketcham.

Charles Doyle was named as the head of the music committee along with Harold Marsh, Frederick Taylor, Frederick Warzowski, and R. H. Ashley.

On the house committee Franklin Howland was selected as the chairman with Katherine Phillips, Ralph Kirby, and Jack Gould, assistants.

The Forestry department has just sent 375 four year old white pine trees as prizes to the club boys near Munising for good work in identification of trees.
