CAVALRY CADETS MAKE READY FOR LONG NIGHT RIDE

Men Condition Horses and Investigate Roads In Surrounding Country.

35 CADETS ENTERED

Winner to Be Awarded Silver Loving Cup and Fifty Per Cent
of Entrance Fees

By Bill Miller, '29

Tonight, at 8 o'clock, 35 juniors and seniors, advanced students in military training at the college, will start on a 22 mile night ride over an unknown route in competition for a silver cup and three sweepstakes.

For some time these cavalrymen have been conditioning their mounts, familiarizing themselves with their horses and investigating the various travel and dirt roads about the surrounding country. Every little detail every expedient known to experienced horsemen has been used to prepare these men for the grind of readiness for the start, which is to be made from the cavalry stables.

Sealed Orders Feature Ride

Riders will be given their orders in sealed envelopes as they mount some of the men know anything about the direction, checking posts, one other than that of the start, or road conditions of the ride. No rider may carry a watch or assist another as to place or direction. As soon as the riders mount, they will find in their orders road maps concerning the direction they are to take and showing the location of all checking posts which they must visit at which they will be checked for age, condition of horses, and time of departure.

The ride will end where it started, at the cavalry stable. Points will be scored on each competitor according to the number of minutes he may be late or early at each checking post. Two points will be deducted against each competitor for each minutes deviation either way. All horses are to be inspected at each post during the ride at the finish and at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Lateness of any of these times will disqualify the rider.

Silver Cup Is Trophy

Prize of the event is a silver loving cup which has been shown in Bassett's window this week. This, together with 50 per cent of the sweepstakes goes to the winner. Second and third places get $5 and 25 per cent respectively of the entrance fees.

Seniors entered in the event are: Paul Hart, Peterson, Corbin, Marsh, McElroy, Daniels, Collett, Lakin, Drake, Roscoe, Morosky, Olson, Gossell, Husted and Grunberg. Junior entrants are: Kiebler, Merritt, Schuster, Converse, Bower, Padack, Bean, Lyon, Bernberger, Lutz, Collins, Hitchcock, Sparks, Mann, Day, Menger, Olin, Frye and Kirk.

GREAT CAMPUS INTEREST
Try-out System to Be Used This Year; Schedule Univ. of Utah for Men.

By J. D. Medill, '28

With the most intense interest in foreseen noted in many years on the campus of State college, first steps in the selection of both men and co-ed
teams will take place the coming week.

It has been announced by Coaches
Wise and Blodget.

The red men will not attend at tired in varicolored blankets and feathered headress, but as the American colleagues, which they are. The men, arriving in special pullmans and now quartered at the Hotel Olds, are without the accoutrements usually suggested at the mention of Indians.

The native Americans will be the guests of the college at this ceremony through the invitation extended by the Green Key, and may take some part in the evening proceedings.

The ceremony customary on this occasion will be somewhat akin to that held at the huge dedicatory services of their new stadium. The "fresh" may even feature a peace or war dance for them, providing a few tom-toms can be located.

DR. BISHOP CALLS PEACE NORMALCY

League of Nations Authority Spoke to Large Audience Tuesday
On Geneva Conflab

By Russel M. Drane, '29

Rev. Dr. Bishop of the Plymouth church of Lansing gave his second lecture on "Christian Internationalism" at the People's church, Tuesday evening. The lecture was very well attended in fact more students were present than at the previous lecture perhaps due to the interest created in reports of the initial talk by Dr. Bishop.

Dr. Bishop took as the phase of the question for discussion "Building the House of World Peace." He began his talk by a brief but concise definition of peace. Peace is adjustment, "state of peace." Peace is adjustment stated thing, because it is normalize. Peace is the normal situation, set those in favor of armaments state that their object is to gain a state of peace," said Dr. Bishop. He continued by saying "Women are very much in favor of peace, and youth also wants peace, because even though they admire the heroism of the soldier, they find that they have a moral equivalent for war in their own life on earth. Next in favor of world peace are the artisans who are the ones called upon to fight
the battles of the rulers above them.
They fight battles for which they have no cause or reason. Colleges and universities are also favoring a world peace program, because of the justness
being taken upon the situation."

Human nature in itself is not an enormous population therefore, we will always have war however," terminated
Dr. Bishop's talk on the point.

Turning next to the main theme of his lecture, that of building the house of world peace, he continued by saying that the people are practicing cooperation today, rather than competing as they were in the past. When one nation has difficulties the others should step in and offer their aid as in the case when a bank meets with a financial difficulty, and other banks transfer currency to stem the tide of depression.

The manner in which Dr. Bishop further utilized his knowledge of the league of nations and world court in the second lecture of his series, will be treated in the next issue.

Green Key to Sponsor

Open Party in Gym After

Barbecue Ceremonies

With a hospitable air, acquired at the annual sophomore barbecue, and the content which barbecue, sandwiches and cider fosters, Michigan State college students will be given the opportunity to give vent to their spirit in the only open affair of the weekend in a party sponsored by the Green Key campus hosts and entertainers in the gymnasium.

Socially bent individuals may turn into the gymnasium at the completion of the barbecue ceremonies and embark upon an evening under the spell of the music by Wally Bennett's entertainers. Novelties are planned for the affair and indications point to a successful culmination of the air created by the traditional barbecue.

An admission will be charged totalling, as the sponsors advertise
"two bits per head." The party will be open to both sexes and couples and should assume the proportions of the old-time all-college parties.

ATTENTION DEBATERS

Tuesday, Nov. 23 is deadline for college debate team candidates.
Tryouts and first eliminations to be made Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. in Little Theater. Home Economics
bldg. Those who have not yet signed up, see Coach Wise immediately, room one, Woodsophs
bldg., adjoining Olds Hall.

HONORARY BAND CLUB INITIATES

Held Formal Services Wednesday

Night at Union for Four

New Men.

Fourteen members of the Band
club, including four new initiates, Harry Aten, Fred Warzowsky, Garnet Honsberger and James Hands, were present at the club's formal initiation at the Union Wednes-
nesday evening.

Toastsman of the occasion was Forrest Rinchart. The active members' spokesman was Charles Doyle, the faculty's Prof. A. J. Clark, and the initiates' James Hands.

Secretary H. H. Halladay also appeared as a faculty representative.

PI DELTA EPSILON HOLDS INITIATION

Four New Members Are Taken In
at Formal Initiation; Banquet Follows.

Initiation of four new members by Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, was announced Wednesday. Formal initiation and the initiation banquet were held Tuesday evening in the Union building.

The informal initiation consisted of publishing and selling the "Exponent" which appeared Nov. 6. Fall term initiation was staged by Pi Delta Epsilon this year for the first time. It is expected that another initiation will be held during the spring term.

The new members are as follows:
Arthur Hannah, '27, editor-in-chief of the Wolverine; Robert Wilson,
'27, associate editor of the 1926
Wolverine; George Harma, '27, business manager of the Agriculturist;
and J. F. Trott, special whose cartoons have appeared in practically all campus publications for the last two years. Trott is humor editor of the 1927 Wolverine.

ATTENTION MILITARY MEN

Col. T. L. Sherburne announced today that all members of the R.
O. T. C. unit should meet at the armory at 1:45 p.m. Saturday.
Parade to the stadium will start from there. All men in uniform and possessed with their student tickets and athletic books. (L. L.
Primodig has announced that all men in parade must present ticket, at conclusion of exhibition on the field.)

The program was broadcast by radio station WKAR by special permission obtained from Mr. Drake, the artist of the evening.

PROF. FORSBERG TO ATTEND

FOOTBALL PEP MEETING

C. E. Holmes, Superintendent of Blind School is Main Speaker.

By Leaven Horton, '28

Amid the warm, inviting crackle
of the huge bonfire, the appetizing odor of roasting meat, and the compromising air of the occasion, the underclassmen will claim the interest of the campus tonight in the annual sophomore barbecue. In connection with the usual barbecue ceremony,
a final pep meeting of the football season will be held for the Haskell Indian game to be played tomorrow.

The program is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock with Max Goodwin, chairman of the committee arranging the barbecue, acting as toastmaster.
With the Michigan State college military band out in uniform and the quintet of varsity cheer leaders on hand, the pep meeting will occupy the interest of the spectators during the first portion of the program.

Barney Traynor, assistant football coach and a popular speaker at State pep meetings, will be the first speaker on the platform. Howard Rather, an alumnus of Michigan State popularly associated with occasions of this kind,
will deliver the second pep talk.

The main speaker of the occasion in connection with the barbecue will be C. E. Holmes, superintendent of the State School for the Blind. Mr.
Holmes is well known for his ability as an interesting speaker and is expected to prove highly entertaining
in the main address of the evening.

The traditional burying of the hatchet as a signal of cessation of hostilities between the freshmen and sophomores will be the final event of the evening from the platform. Will Hann Moeller, president of the sophomore class, and Cecil Turner, the freshmen president, are the parties
in this ceremony.

The program will end around the huge bonfire which is the result of the efforts of many scurrying frosh and dictatorial sophomores, with the customary distribution of barbecue
and wieners and sweet cider.

SPONSORS TO BE INSTALLED SOON

Ceremony to Take Place December
3 in Gymnasium; All-College
Dance to Follow.

Sponsors for the various military units, the band and the corps sponsor, will be installed on the evening of Dec. 3 in the gymnasium, with the Pershing Rifles acting as guard of honor.

Contrary to the usual custom,
members of the various military departments will not appear in their uniforms for it is planned that the new campus units, the Pershing Rifles, will act as honor guard.

All-College Dance on Program

As in former years, the event will be followed by an all-college dance,
but this year the number of "roister"
dances will be limited while there will be a special ruling as to stags.

Previously there has always been trouble as to the crowding on the gym door. This year the members of the senior class of R. O. T. C. have taken it upon themselves to work out some plan whereby dancing space
will be kept clear.

As yet the orchestra has not been engaged, while most of the events scheduled for the evening are only in a tentative form.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 THE SCHOOL YEAR

MICHIGAN STATE WILL DO HER SHARE

Michigan State will do her share toward the erection of the Walter Camp Memorial at the advent of the Haskell game Saturday. "Walter Camp Day" is being celebrated this year in every section of the country as a signal mark of respect to the memory of the man who did so much to make football the pre-eminent American college game.

The observance of Walter Camp day is a part of the plan whereby the colleges and universities of the entire nation are uniting under the auspices of the National Collegiate Athletic association with the alumni of Yale to raise a fund of $100,000 for the erection of a monumental Walter Camp Memorial gateway as an entrance to the Yale bowl and other athletic fields in New Haven. On either side of the huge gateway will be great bronze panels on which will be cut the names of every college and university contributing to the fund. Efforts are being made to secure contributions from every college and university in America where football is played. Michigan State is going to help to make this tribute to the memory of the "Father of American Football" a truly national memorial.

Walter Camp's name will be forever linked with all that is clean and wholesome in college athletics. Walter Camp's creative mind developed the "Eleven" and "settimeage" and the "quarterback" before he had reached the age of 20. Later he created other innovations that are now in use on every field.

In a sense it is a duty, as well as a privilege, to help keep alive the memory of a man who played the game hard, but always clean and fair—the man who gave us our most popular college game.

WOULD THE PROPOSED HARVARD REMEDY WORK HERE?

Modern civilization moves along spasmodically, carrying with it innumerable institutions and organs, which incur daily the criticisms of would-be missionaries. Near the front in the matter of attack which it suffers is the modern system of education. Attacks are showered upon it from all directions. Slurs and jabs are hurled at random without any apparent gain forthcoming. From this center of storm, practical by no one steps out and points his finger at the cause or proffers a remedy. The student council of Harvard university, bent along these lines, does curriculum "a series of chopped-up courses, each sufficient unto itself, and not related to the larger whole," they have been gradually divorced from their primary function.

As a remedy, the rendering of all teaching more human, and the adoption of a course in philosophy which would include the teachings of Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics, Kant, and the philosophy of Christianity is advanced. The course was specified not to be metaphysics but vital philosophy.

Applied within our own realm, we wonder how near it would come to settling existing troubles. It is not uncommon for Michigan State college students with depth of thought to express the realization of something vital lacking in the prevailing atmosphere of the college. We wonder whether that lack may not be the very thing asserted by the Harvard men. We wonder if the process of attending classes on an academic basis with a grade shadowing us as an incentive to our only end, the process of accumulating facts and filling notebooks with dry material, is in the slang phrase only a "bum steer" as far as the attainment of the desired goal in life, success, is concerned.

We are inclined to feel that out of this muddle of courses and lectures, a rational view of life is not forthcoming. We visualize no intellectual orientation from the process. We question our competency to step into the world at large and assume any place with an understanding.

Undoubtedly the adoption of a course in philosophy would not remedy all of the existing evils in our education. But we are inclined to think it would account for some of them. We feel that today our college education is not reaching out beyond the range of our instructors' notebook. Our intellectual activity is limited to the disseminating of his important revelations.

proffer an interesting theory and a solution of some intent. Undergraduates, irritated by an unnatural railing at their mental poise and balance, advanced ideas after five months' study.

We are inclined to wonder at the truth of their accusations and more than that to speculate on the application of their remedies within our own circle at Michigan State college. At the foot of religion and science and their relation to education, the Harvard students lay the irritation of the modern educational fashions. They deplore the decline of religion to make room for science, not religion in the sense of creeds or sects, but religion taken as a conception of life.

Colleges and universities assume the role of technical schools or vocational institutions under the spell of scientific processes, they assert. With the professor assuming the proportions of a specialist, his eye glued to a microscope, and the college

Campus Forum

Campus Forum:

What follows here concerns a time-worn and aged subject. So when I start to talk about college spirit, many of the readers will sigh and say, "Somebody else is crowing about the old school spirit." Yes, it is an old subject, but it is immensely vital. By a little thought you may be able to double your enjoyment of college life. All I ask is that you read this with unprejudiced minds.

The student body here is an exceptionally fine one. We care for our old institution as few other students bodies care for theirs. And M. S. C. merits our respect and love as well as any other college. But is it not a very serious state of affairs when the debating coach must seduce most of the debaters away because of lack of support of members? Isn't it serious when the attendance at some mass meetings is a mere handful of the entire student body? How many of you have supported the cross-country team in its gallant uphill battle?

Even though we are most unfair to our school when we act with cold indifference, even though we owe M. S. C. our most enthusiastic loyalty, I am nevertheless not arguing in behalf of the school. What I want to show is this: Students who do not enter into the college support are cheating themselves almost immediately. We should realize the pleasure the enjoyment that will come as the result of loyal support of the Green and White when you give all you have to your college.

It is very true that many times the teams lose, but let us cheer them even louder for fighting in a losing battle. Fraternity and sorority loyalty is fine stuff, but let us give our real and undivided support to the college which makes it possible for us to be here.

Let's snap out of it all red-blooded students so that we can sing, "Hail hail, the gang's all here!" with 100 percent truth.

Broadcasting from C.R.H.

NEVER heard of station C.R.H., you say. Quite naturally, for C.R.H. is not a station. C.R.H. is Clinton R. Hanna, age 27, but of Painesville less than five years, a Research Engineer with Westinghouse at East Pittsburgh.

Any time you're listening to your radio, however, you may be getting better reception, a clearer program, because of C.R.H. and the improvements in reproducing apparatus to which he contributed.

That story goes back to undergraduate days at Lafayette. Hanna, as a student, developed an intense interest in radio, and, making capital out of his hobby, his thesis was entitled, "Interrupter Type of Radio Transmitter."

To carry on his experiments, it was logical that Hanna should find his way into the Westinghouse Graduate Students' Course immediately after graduation. There he received varied practical shop training. Then, in less than a year, he was busily at work on What's the future with a large transmitter? That's what you want to know, right? The question is best answered by the accomplishments of those with similar interests and like objectives. This is the kind of information preserving the progress at Westinghouse of typical college graduates of the past ten years.

his favored radio subject at the Westinghouse Research Laboratories.

One of his accomplishments has been the development of an improved microphone. He has introduced the electro-dynamic principle, in place of the condenser-transmitter type of microphone in earlier use. Hanna's development assures good quality of speech and music with greater continuity of operation than other types, because of its ruggedness and sensitivity.

For this inventive spirit and its result in microphones, Hanna's alma mater in 1926 honored him with a degree of Bachelor of Science degree of four years earlier.

And these are studies which still go on. There is no end to progress. It is because Westinghouse offers both facilities and appreciation for practical study that Research Engineers find satisfying careers in the Company's laboratories.

The Social Whirl

Edited by Dorothy Shoemith

A decided contrast to the slump in social activities last weekend is the host of affairs which are scheduled to take place over the coming week-end. Although Saturday holds the most interest socially, Friday boasts three open houses which are to be staged at the Phi Delta house, the Phylem house, and at Collingwood.

Saturday evening the Kappa Alpha Thetas will dance at their fall term party in the Little Theatre. The Union Lits will hold sway in the Armory and the Ero Alphians will entertain in the Masonic temple. The Union ballroom is to be the scene of the Phi Kappa Tau party, while the Grecians will dance in Ag hall. Open houses on Saturday night will be sponsored by the Eumenians, Delphies, Trismoirians and Aethaeans, while the Columbian fall term affair will take place that night at the fraternity house.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Baker were guests at dinner Tuesday evening, while the sorority entertained Miss Neva Lovewell at dinner Thursday evening.

Ae Theon

The fraternity is to hold an open house Saturday evening, at which Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fabian and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Caswell will serve as patrons.

Chi Omega

Miss Mabel Gettel entertained Florence Gray of Detroit last weekend.

Alumnae who returned for the weekend were Marie Voltz, Ovid; Eva Rupp, Detroit; Martha Griswold, Flint, and Janette Walker, Chicago.

Phi Delta

An open house is planned for Friday night with Prof. and Mrs. Charles Dunford, Major and Mrs. E. O. Grey, and Barrett Lyons as patrons.

Phylem

Donald Ovalt of Midland spent the first part of the week at the house.

The fraternity will stage an open house Friday evening.

Dean Ward Giltnan, associate member of the fraternity, spoke to the chapter Monday evening.

K. K. Christensen is confined to the college hospital.

Trismoiria

William Spurrier is confined to the college hospital.

An open house is scheduled for Saturday evening.

Clystan

LaMar Wood of Detroit has been a guest at the house during the past week.

Delta Sigma Phi

Graham Edly spent the weekend in Chicago. Herbert Schmidt in Jackson, and Edward O'Rourke in Saginaw.

Practice House

A tea will be served from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday for all freshmen girls.

Harriet VanWinden and Florence Patterson were guests of the house Monday.

Thetam

Marian Green has returned to the house, after two days spent in the college hospital.

W. A. A. WILL MAKE AWARDS AT BANQUET

Affair to Be Held in Dining Room of Women's Building; To Take Place Dec. 4.

The term banquet of the Women's Athletic association will be held in the dining room of the Women's building Saturday noon, Dec. 4. The affair will be in charge of Flossie Pangborn.

The banquet is the W. A. A. social event of the term, and it is at that time that the honor teams in hockey, soccer and bowling are named and also the various individual awards are made to the men who have made 500, 1000 or 1500 points. The girls who have made 500 points will receive a W. A. A. monogram, while the 1000 point winners will be given a block "S."

Honor Roll to Be Posted

The 1500 point award has never been made, but probably will be this year, and will consist in placing of the names on an honor roll in the gymnasium. Talks will be given by the physical education instructors as well as some of the girls. W. A. A. songs which have been written by the recent initiates will be sung.

Co-ed Edna Says:

Things are not what they seem. Here I kept thinking all Tuesday evening that there was some kind of a riot going on over on the campus, and I was too scared to go out of the house.

And then when I was inquiring after the number killed and wounded, the next morning, somebody kindly informed me that it wasn't a battle at all! Just Scabbard and Blade initiation! That was a terrible comedown.

Wouldn't it be exciting if a war should suddenly break out on the campus? Perhaps between the students who had been failed in a course and the instructors who had done the dirty job. All of our valiant warriors would immediately rush home to get out their uniforms and pin their shiny medals on the front. Of course, most of them would have to be rather careful to stay away from the actual fighting, on account of some previous engagement or other, but how wonderful they would look!

And we girls could all be nurses and bind up the wounds of the injured. Rushing from wounded to wounded, we would find the one man whom fate had destined for us—and everything would be beautifully romantic. Why, it would even be worth a war to get some of us married off and out of the freshman's way.

Oh, well, don't get too excited about it girls. Nothing like it will ever happen during your time probably, so you'd better hunt your own husband and not wait for fate to step in.

ATTENTION CO-EDS

Last call for co-ed debate candidates has been sounded. Tryouts and first eliminations to be held Monday evening, Nov. 22 in Little Theatre. Home Economics Bldg., at 7:00. Those who have not yet signed up, see Coach Blake immediately, room one, Woodshops Bldg., adjoining Olds Hall.

POSTPONE MOST OF CO-ED INTERCLASS GAMES

Because of the rainy weather this week many of the inter-class games had to be postponed. Wednesday, however, two games were played. The teams were well matched, for the sophomores defeated the freshmen with only a 2-1 score in the hockey game, while the junior-senior soccer game was a 0-0 tie. The senior team was handicapped by the fact that there were only eight players on the team while the junior team had the required number. Although the soccer game was prolonged several minutes, neither team managed to make a score.

WHEN Greek or calculus gets you into a tight corner, tie a tin to trouble—a tidy red tin of Prince Albert! Tamp a load of this really friendly tobacco into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Watch the sun crash through the clouds with every puff!

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat, no matter how fast you feed it, because the Prince Albert process gave Bite and Parch the air at the start. Cool as a Laplander's lap. Sweet as apple cider. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert!

One pipe-load invites another. And . . . you can hit P. A. from morning till midnight and it won't hit back. Don't put off to tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. and turn on the sunshine . . . now!

P. A. is sold everywhere, in

SPORTING ELEVEN CHANTS SWAN SONG

HASKELL CLOSES 1926 SCHEDULE HERE SATURDAY

Four Staters Take Part in Last Game for College; Regular End Stricken.

By Dale B. Stafford

Another grid season will become history at Michigan State college Saturday when the Spartan eleven closes its 1926 schedule against the Haskell Indians of Lawrence, Kan.

There is every reason to believe that the foe who will sing the swan song on the Spartan year is equally as strong as Wisconsin, the team that closed for State in 1925.

Three Spartans will be playing their last game for the Green and White while a fourth will be forced to sit on the bench. Victim of an unfortunate automobile accident last summer, Captain Rummel has been unable to assume his birth all year. He probably will not be back in school next season.

Garver Finishes

John Garver winds up three seasons as a regular on the State eleven. Garver's work has been outstanding during the last two years. He is without a doubt one of the most finished linemen that ever laced on the cleated shoe for State. There is a possibility that Garver may not play the whole game as the result of an injury received in scrummage early in the week.

"Rudy" Boehringer, acting captain of the team all season, winds up a three year career under the Green and White colors. Boehringer, while far from sensational, has been one of the most valuable pig-skin toters State has ever had. He has acted as quarterback this season and has been very successful for a man who never played there before.

John Grim, hailed as the fastest 75-yard dash man in America, will also graduate next June. Grim has been a varsity man for three years,avoring at an end both.

"Pip" Wenner, a tackle, also closes his career tomorrow. He has aided the team materially in the line this year.

The other members of the squad are largely sophomores who will be back next season.

The Haskell team arrived in camp Thursday morning and participated in several drills on our field.

Christensen Out of Game

Indications Wednesday that Keddy Christensen, sophomore end, would be out of the game Saturday because of injuries were pronounced positive late last night, when the regular Spartan end was stricken with sciatic fever. Christensen has been confined to the college hospital since Monday, but his condition was not pronounced serious until last night. It was previously thought that his leg injuries would improve enough to permit play against the Haskell Indians.

The rest of the lineup is expected to be the regular one. This consists of Hartbeck—at one end; Hinchings and Kautz, tackles; Ross and Garver, guards; Crabbill or Barratt, center; Boehringer, quarter; Smith and McFetrich on Deacons—halfbacks—and Kurke, full.

While the girls are meeting their opponents through the states of Illinois and Wisconsin, the men's team will take a jaunt through Indiana, and Ohio.

Additional announcement relative to the schedule framing will be forthcoming soon and will perhaps decide further contests on the road. The trip through Indiana and Ohio this year will be an intensive one rather than

YEARLINGS PLAY GAME SATURDAY

Anticipate Hot Battle Between "Green" and "Blue" Elevens; Tilt In Morning.

Saturday morning in the stadium the Michigan State college freshmen are going to demonstrate their wares again. This time it will not be against an outside foe but will be between two picked yearling elevens.

Coach John Kols is handling the "greens" while Coach Ben Van Alstyne is tutoring the "blues". The men have worked hard all week since the division was made and are said to be in excellent shape.

Coach Kols announced his starting eleven as consisting of Craft and older ends; Doyle and Griffith or Sanders tackles; L. Smith and Jackson guards; Carpenter center; Delaney, Dwyer and Barnum, halves; and Schau, fullback.

Coach Van Alstyne has elected Lewis and O'Keefe to start at the ends; Joslin and Farren, tackles; C. Smith and Esselkason guards; Tromper, center; Morris, quarterback; Turner and Stearns, halves; and Leonard, fullback. There is a possibility that Leonard may not play because of an injured ankle.

MARQUETTE FAVORED TO WIN
Marquette is generally favored to win the meet, with Captain Melvin Shimcock dopoed to take first place honors. Pfleiger, a teammate, will also be up in the running, as will probably be Captain Severance and Wylie of State and Young of Notre Dame. Not much is known of the strength of Butler.

State has had this year what is probably the strongest cross-country team in the history of the college, but the Spartans have been forced to bow by narrow margins to three of the best teams in the nation—Marquette, Notre Dame and Michigan. In every meet, however, Coach Mason's men have emerged with their share of the honor.
