Y. M. C. A. NAMES NEW COMMITTEE

Maps Out Program for Coming Year; Membership Shows Rapid Increase.

The initial move in the launching of a new program for the coming year by the Y. M. C. A. has been the appointment of the new committee. The program is marked with a rapidly growing membership.

Walter Neider, president, M. H. Neider, vice-president, and E. J. Neider, secretary, and treasurer, are the new officers of the Y. M. C. A.

The old functions of the organization have been divided into several new mediums through which plans to serve the student.

Walter Neider names the following: Administration, W. W. Neider, M. H. Neider, membership, Robert Neider, Max Neider, Max Neider, Leon Greene, F. W. Neider, Max Neider, B. O. Neider, E. D. Neider, Leo E. Neider, E. D. Neider, Ralph Neider, W. M. Neider, Arthur Neider, Lancel Wall, community service, R. B. Neider, R. B. Neider, M. H. Neider.

Memorial Tablets to Be Dedicated at Armory Ceremony

The memorial tablets, one contributed by East Lansing, commemorating William Liker Johnson, war hero and Michigan general, and the other, contributed by Jackson, honoring General W. H. Withington, will be unveiled and dedicated as a feature of the dedication of the new armory, Friday afternoon, May 13.

According to Colonel Sherburne, several other memorials offering tribute to Michigan generals who have won fame and glory on the field of battle will be presented to the college and will be placed in the new armory.

Remember the Convocation

Friday has been set aside as a school holiday in which the twentieth anniversary of Michigan State College will be commemorated. An excellent opportunity is provided for students to participate in the day due to the fact that there will be no classes. However, it is hoped by the college officials that the student body will respect this day as a school holiday, a holiday in which every student views himself as a participant. It is a celebration which marks a world of progress, too great to be easily grasped, but the student body should enter into the spirit of the thing. President Kenyon L. Butterfield especially urges that the all-college convocation be accepted as an exceptional school venture which no student should miss. Students may leave the college for other places over the weekend. Nothing hinders them. But the student who does this is failing to assume his obligations to his school. We hope that they are taken seriously.

ANNIVERSARY DAY

Thursday and Friday, May 12 and 13, have been set aside to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the oldest agricultural school in the world and one of the finest educational institutions in the state of Michigan. Michigan State College, seventy years ago pioneers of Michigan broke ground in a thick forest several miles from a railroad and set up three buildings which were to form the nucleus for a college. One building, "Saints' Rest," as a dormitory. Old College hall, where the first classes were held, and a barn in which the college stock was kept. Today, a thriving little community in which new buildings are rising, a widespread campus with a well kept lawn, some 25 scientifically equipped and managed buildings, a faculty of some 300 trained men, and a student body of 2,000 people including both men and women, greet the visitors at East Lansing. Seventy years ago, braving the discomforts of bad roads, drawn by either horses or oxen, several hundred people gathered in the college chapel to celebrate the opening of the new institution. Thursday and Friday, several thousand people will pour into East Lansing, either by luxurious motor cars or by railroad transportation. New buildings, striking edifices, will supplant the dedication ceremonies of 70 years ago in the celebration.

The striking progress which has been made over that span of years is remarkable. Students of Michigan State College fail to gain the significance of the whole thing. The anniversary day program, especially the all college convocation for Friday morning, is designed especially for the student body, to bring home the significance of the comforts which we enjoy and the prosperity in our midst. Students of Michigan State College owe a couple of hours to themselves to carry home this remarkable lesson. It is the especial hope of the officials responsible for arranging this program that the student body will enter into it as a student and catch the meaning of the venture.

new building. Col. William B. Wallace of the general staff, Washington, D. C., will act as representative of the general staff, and Maj. Gen. Guy Wilson will attend as a guest.

Judge Ben Williams of Jackson will present to the college the memorial to General W. H. Wellington, purchased by Jackson county. Inauguration will be pronounced by Rt. Rev. Patrick Donagan, war chaplain of the 32nd division of the United States army.

Following the ceremony, the base ball game between Michigan State and Bradley college will entertain the crowd.

The Army and Navy club of Lansing will be hosts to the military visitors at a banquet at 5:30. The evening program will consist of an elaborate review by the R. O. T. C. to start at 8 p. m. A parade of the entire cadet corps will take place. This will be followed by demonstrations by the three units in the corps. The cavalry will present a musical drill in which 40 mounted cadets will maneuver to the music of the band without remounting. Well scaling by 30 picked men will be the work of the artillery unit, and the infantry division will give exhibitions of tent pitching, physical drill and the use of the one-pounder machine gun. An equipment race between squads of infantry and artillery cadets will also be staged.

Cadets will take their part in the demonstration when the women's physical education classes will give exhibitions of aesthetic dancing and girls from the advanced equitation class demonstrate their horsemanship.

Events of the day will be closed by an anniversary ball in the gymnasium at 10 p. m. Entrance to this may be obtained by student athletic books and cards presented to the alumni at the Union desk.

stern warring between 65 and 70. And it is altogether doubtful if he wore a coonskin coat from one class to another.

The men who went down to attend chapel exercises and worked for their living in the woods didn't attend Union parties the night before, but took his excess energy out in blanket tossing and practical jokes. If ball had been in vogue at the college then, there sure would have been wonderful timber here for the line of a college team.

It was such men as these who originated the traditions of the college, imbued them with a spirit of fun and a spirit of wisdom. When they fought they put their souls into the battle and their victims remembered their punishment for the rest of their college lives. In later years this same spirit indelibly wrote itself in the battered doors and corridors of Williams and Abbott halls.

FROSH DEFEAT CENTRAL NORMAL

Yearling Victory Marked by Close Fought Struggle; Meet Ends with Points 71-60.

The yearling squad of thinechads fought their way to a neat victory over the Central Normal school of Mt. Pleasant last Saturday to the tune of 71 to 60.

The meet was closely fought over the whole route and the freshmen gave a good account of themselves fighting every step over a strange track that was far from being in decent condition to stage a meet. Points of the meet assessed back and forth till near its end, when a victory in the mile relay gave the yearlings a lead from which they were not headed.

Score Slam in Mile

Led by Roosien, the yearling millers ran to a splendid slam victory in the mile in the fair time of 1:45.9. Deering and Harper staged a pretty fight for second honors, fighting most of the way very evenly most of the distance. Roosien came back a short while later to take the half mile in easy fashion, staging a fine sprint at the finish to win by 15 yards.

Lumen Brown logged to an easy victory in the two mile, having things all his way over the entire route, taking the lead at the start and slowly increasing it until he led by three quarters of a lap at the finish.

The yearling mile relay team ran a very creditable race, winning by about 20 yards in what was very fair time considering the condition of the track on which they ran.

ALDERMAN TIES NATIONAL MARK

State featured largely in the meet by virtue of slams in the 100, 220, and pole vault. McAtee of State was not pushed to extend himself, and won an easy victory at 12 feet, the City college vaulters being unable to better 10 feet.

Through the courtesy of Coach D. L. Holmes of City college the half mile relay was substituted for the mile to give the crowd a chance to watch the famous Spartan team in action. The speedy quartet of runners, sparkling fielding play, notable among them being a circus catch by Rinehart out in deep left field, easily the fielding feature of the game. He also starred in his work with the stick, grabbing off a triple and single in three times at bat.

The summary:

STATE TO RENEW NOTRE DAME WAR

Expect Much Competition in All Classes; State Doped to Win.

Renewing a track rivalry of more than two decades, the Spartan thinechads journey to Notre Dame next Saturday for a dual meet on the elder path. For about twenty-five years, State and Notre Dame have been staging fights for track supremacy, and this year Coach Young sends down a well balanced aggregation, confident of this time taking the measure of the Irishmen.

Rivalry in Dashes

In Della Maria, Notre Dame has a sprinter of first class ability, who will give the Spartans plenty of competition, aided by the Riley brothers, at so famous as dashesmen. Although Della Maria is rated very highly in collegiate circles, Alderman beat him both the 100 and 220 last year in the dual meet. He is favored to repeat his victories again this year.

Notre Dame has a leading quarter-miler in MacDonald, and he should give Grim and Kroll plenty of work in that event, but they should be able to beat him over the distance.

Notre Dame has an edge in the hurdles this year, but State can overcome this weakness by their work in the pole vault and weights. Harold McAtee will perform in his usual stellar manner, this time assisted by Bob Olson, who has been flashing very good form in the last few weeks, scoring over the 12 foot mark on some occasions.

A battle royal is promised in the mile event, when two great runners will oppose each other. Henry Wylie of State, and Charley Judge of Notre Dame, both flashy milers, with Judge having the edge in previous encounters, with three victories in four starts. Wylie has been coming up fast this season, and the mile should be a nip and tuck affair from the start to the finish.

Since the schools have never had a relay event on their programs in the past it is not probable that the event will be run this year as State would be sure of victories in what have been probably their strongest events.

Frenger Came Here to Sell

What's the future with a large organization? That is what college men want to know, first of all. The question is best answered by the accomplishments of others with similar training and life opportunities. This is one of a series of advertisements portraying the progress of Westinghouse college graduates, of the campus some five-eight-ten years.

WHEN R. F. Frenger was at New Mexico State, in 1915, automatic control for substations, hydro-electric generating plants, railway and mine substation systems, was a hazy dream. Even five years later, when Frenger was working in the Switchgear Sales Section of the Westinghouse Company, automatic switching was far, far away.

Today, however, Frenger, still in his thirties, finds himself in effect the Sales Manager of an automatic switching business—a business that runs up into seven figures every year.

Frenger came to Westinghouse to sell. He expected to sell steam apparatus, since he had taken an M. E. degree.

After a period in the Westinghouse sales school, he became interested in switching apparatus. He spent many months on the engineering side of the work. He spent several years as a sales specialist in the Westinghouse Chicago Office.

Then, as automatic switching grew in importance, Frenger grew along with it. Today he is head of the Automatic Switching Section of the Switchgear Sales Department.

Frenger's work is pioneering in a very real sense, for the automatic control business, lusty as it is, still is in its infancy. Engineering ways and means must be supplied as well as specialized sales skill. The whole world is the market.

Not long ago, Frenger ran out to San Antonio to help the local Westinghouse salesman land an order that puts the San Antonio sub-stations under automatic control. When the Holland vehicular tunnel opens, and connects Manhattan with the Jersey shore, Frenger can point to the traffic signaling system as coming from his section.

At Cleveland one man in a downtown office building turns off and on eleven different sub-stations scattered throughout the city and its suburbs to operate the railway system—all without leaving his chair. Frenger's section again.

It is another case of a well trained man in a pioneering organization.
