WE ARE SAFE AGAIN
Protecting protector on the East Lansing police force is back again after losing his trigger finger for a long time and the open season on safety will open the first of December. Faculty members wishing to keep their students in tact had better find a way to initiate or begin giving out the milk bath method. No punishment will be tolerated even from the good hunters. However, we are sure the roughnecks who try any

LOW DEATH RATE
Most of the students seemed to have gone from their annual Thanksgiving battle with the subject of religion rather fearing to offend the students when a few of the religious stragglers crept into the room it will be a tough world for them to find they have a negative credits and several marks to the point of failure.

The day a little incident happened should be looked into as it was a coincident but never something must be done to prevent such an occurrence.

All members of the hotel and of the telephone system around the city. A proof in the English room was giving an intelligence to groups of freshmen when the telephone was ringing on the main desk and admitted. Have those men been tested yet? It was found that the call was intended for the English room.

ANOTHER STEP
Another step has been taken by the department of this college to secure the leading musical culture in America, when Ernestine Schumann-Heink was invited to teach voice here. Prof. Schumann-Heink has done fine things in teaching that goal and the students will do well to watch this and maybe start warming up their throat so long wanting

AN EXAMPLE
An example for the good of the system for the kickers to follow. The parade to the armory one of the biggest things caused her to teach here. Few have ever had the chance that she enjoys.

YOUR LUCKY

the last football game and a series of basketball games combined with other classes will make up this year and the next when we can all have a much deserved rest from the strenuous labor of our school hours. Of course we cannot include basketball for that is just another fun and race for a degree. But Christmas is coming and with it comes to start all over again May 1st in this college but anyway something's going on. How are you getting in the game Saturday? You may be told if you bet that way.

THE HOME STRETCH

Thanksgiving vacation is over. The weekend holiday allotted by the administration enabled most State students to spend Thanksgiving at home and to enjoy a brief respite from their classrooms. The few days vacation did a lot to break up the monotony of the longest term of the school year.

Now that most of the students have returned from their holiday, it would be well to remember that there are only two more weeks of school and one week of exams before this fall term will be history. This is a grand chance for every Spartan to dig in for the next two weeks and bring his average up to snuff.

Nearly everyone has been putting off a lot of work and slacking a lot more, so that a few weeks of concentrated endeavor would hurt no one. This is the home stretch of the fall term. Some of us got off to a poor start, while others have gradually fallen behind. This is the chance for those who are behind to come ahead by sprinting in on some good hard study.

Most of us want to return next term. We like it here at Michigan State. But in order to return it is imperative that we put in our work for this term. This may seem hopeless to some who are already very low, but no matter how low you are, two weeks of hard work will bring you up into the running.

If Michigan men want to act in such an insipid manner, they had better migrate to Wisconsin where such actions are favorably looked upon and not stay in a state and a college where the memory of the brave boys of the 32nd division still burns bright in the hearts of the people.

The aim of Michigan State College is to make a man of a fellow. If the "young gentlemen" about the campus do not wish to make men of themselves it seems to me that the military department is doing them a service by making at least half men of them in spite of themselves and regardless of whether they wish to be made or not.

Along with this process, unless the student is exceedingly dull and hence is mentally incapable of appreciating the course comes a certain knowledge of military tactics. If war comes, would it not be better for the college men who are considered the flower of American manhood to know something more of military affairs than a cow does about a musket, and so not deliberately make cannon fodder of themselves?

"Be Prepared" is a motto considered as advantageous to follow. By this I do not mean to say, as Pissinck said, that the best way to keep peace is to prepare for war. I want it distinctly understood that I do not advocate militarism in any form. Military training, however, need do any harm and it is good discipline, which we certainly all need, as anyone who is fair minded will agree.

The defense rest.

HAROLD B. MENO '29

We are concerned here with compulsory military service in the college and we challenge you, T. J. Hamill, and your colleagues to debate the question. Resolved: That the present system of compulsory military service at Michigan State College should be abolished.

GILBERT VANDERMALE

I am greatly grieved at the attitude taken on the compulsory military question by certain students on the campus. I do not think it possible that any American could take such an attitude stand on the subject.

In other words, I am of the opinion that the majority of my contemporaries, that is, men professing such heroic doctrines as have been expounded on the campus of late by some of the local "Boys Braemore," should be given a pass and put to bed.

It has been said that the opposing to compulsory military training comes from within the student body. It seems hardly creditable that the magnificent inspiration which prompted the literary effusions of Mr. Webster, appearing in the State News these last few weeks could have come from one or even a group of student pacifists. Such stately lines and grandiloquent phrases such pompous, bombastic oration could hardly have come from our own down-to-earth victims of militarism.

It is quite evident that our more die-hard friends have come from the same camp as the students of a neighboring college, the University of Wisconsin, which has been lead up to this by the national press.

The Wisconsin boys have many ultra patriotic ideas and seemingly have drawn an application to the illustrious motherland of pacifism while the latter is uninterested and forgotten.

If Michigan men want to act in such

I stood by two platoons of freshmen ed. The pin was presented by William and Mary college of Virginia and the poll taken on the question of compulsory military training. Southern Team Only Defeated
Once This Season; Five State Men Play Last Game.

Michigan State's football squad will entrain for Raleigh, North Carolina tomorrow, on the longest trip a Spartan grid squad has ever taken, to meet one of the leading teams in the south and one of the strongest in the country. North Carolina State will be the opponent and according to advance dope will live up to the fullest extent of the word.

The game will mark the close of the grid careers of five seniors who will graduate in June. Captain Paul Smith, "Pot" Ross, Pat Grimes, Ken Drew and Jim McGehee are the men playing their last game for the Green and White. All five men will see action some time during the game and much is expected of them in their final appearance.

North Carolina, with eight victories and one defeat, will undoubtedly be a tough obstacle for the Spartans to hurdle. The Carolinians have 197 points to their opponents' 98 in winning eight games. The Southerners defeated Elon 39-0, Clemson 18-6, Wake Forest 39-4, University of Florida 12-5, University of North Carolina 19-6, Davidson 25-0, Duke 20-18 and University of South Carolina 34-0. Furman is the only machine to trap North Carolina this year and that was accomplished in their second engagement of the season 20-0.

The two schools are similar with about the same enrollment. The defeat handed to the University of North Carolina was the first set back handed to them by State in six years. Their rivalry is much the same as Michigan State and Michigan.

According to scouts who have seen Carolina in action this year, State has the heavier team. The lines are about

BROWN WILL LEAD STATE HARRIERS

Undefeated Cross Country Team

son; Indoor Season Next.

Loren Brown, of Detroit, Spartan cross country star, will lead the Spartan Indians next year as captain. It was announced that Loren Brown finished first in all meets this year but one and is probably the best cross country prospect that State has ever had. Brown is a sophomore.

The undefeated Green and White cross country team has hung up its spikes for this season with victories in dual meets over three of the most formidable cross country teams in the middle west, besides an overwhelming victory in the Second Annual Central Intercollegiate cross country meet. The Spartans' impressive victories over Marquette, Michigan and Notre Dame were all made by the same margin 20-35. In the intercollegiate meet, State placed all its entries in the first ten to win over its nearest competitor, Notre Dame, by 26 points.

Captain Henry Wyke, Loren Brown, Willmarth, Rosien, Gowan and Roberts are the men who have composed the Spartan team throughout the season. Captain Wyke is the only member of the sextet that will not be available for next year, leaving Coach Mort Mason with an infant team to begin the season next year.

equid but the Carolinian backfield is said to average around 190 pounds. McDonald, triple threat star, is one of twelve letter men available at the southern school.

"Butch" Slaughter, former All-American guard from Michigan, is coach at Raleigh.

The team will go by way of Detroit, Buffalo and Washington, returning by the same route and arriving in East Lansing Monday. Congressman Grant M. Hudson will be host to the Spartan squad while in Washington Sunday.

GYM NOTES

Coach Leonard's wrestlers are getting well under way in preparation for the coming wrestling season. The freshman grapplers will be instructed by Coach Burhans.

Coach Sterry Brown is working on a new plan for taking care of the physical education classes. The plan aims to have a smaller class and more attention to the individual.

Extensive improvements are being made in the swimming pool. For this reason there will be no swimming meets with other schools this year.

With the baseball season still far distant, Coach John Kols has his eye on the future and is lining up a proposed southern trip for the nine in the spring. State has had a championship team the last two years and indications are that the one that will take the field next spring will not be much less potent.

It is planned to play eight games on the spring tour which will take the team over practically the same itinerary that it followed last year. Oglethorpe and University of Kentucky may be added to the schools to be met in the south.

Several M. I. A. A. teams will be added to the Spartan schedule for early season home games, besides several Western Conference aggregations. Michigan will be on the schedule the same as last year for a home and home engagement, as will Notre Dame.

According to Coach Kols, present senior battery practice will be inaugurated just after the Christmas holidays, with Captain Tolles available for mound material and Curcio, the only returning varsity receiver.

First Round Bowling Finished In Inter-Fraternity League STATE FENCING TEAM PREPARES FOR EXHIBIT

One game played and one forfeited is the result for last Tuesday's games in the interfraternity bowling tournament at the Olympic Recreation park. The Phi Kappa Tau bowed in defeat to the Hostellers by a score of 188 to 200, and the Phis did not show up, forfeiting their match to the Pi Kappa Phi, who scored 208 points in their lone game.

Raymond of the Pi Kappa Phi was high man for a single game with a score of 199, and Davies of the Hostellers rolled the high three game total with 487.

Starting the season, the newly organized Spartan Fencers' club, which has just petitioned for recognition under the supervision of Mr. Wauff, will give an all student faculty social party to be held at the Peoples church, Thursday, Dec. 2. Fencing bouts will be part of the entertainment, and the party will take on the aspect of a pep meeting to arouse the enthusiasm of the students for the varsity fencers.

Last week a joint meeting of the men and women fencers was held in the gymnasium, and the following were elected club officers: President, H. D. Sturz, a senior; Vice-president, Eddie Ericson, a sophomore; secretary, Audrey Glenn, a sophomore; treasurer, R. F. Collins, a senior, and entertainment committee, Wm. Erskine, a sophomore.

Eight varsity bouts besides the one given to the winning sorority,
