Drive for Coppers
Next Week

The Blamed Stone

SPORT
Our already overflowing list of athletes who are eligible to enter the hall of fame, we add the name of Jerry Lage, blond Apollo of the junior class, who recently originated a new sport for the multitudes. He has received his B.S. degree in physical education, department of minister sliding. Recently discovered while in the company of the co-eds, his actions were reported by L. L. Frimodig, head of inter-fraternity sports, who immediately realized the competitive value of the sport and started plans for inter-fraternity competition. Scoring will be made by number of non-stop floors.

COPPERS
Competition is anticipated in the Penny Drive held in the Union building. With two huge goldfish placed to catch the glittering coppers of both the co-eds and co-eds. Ancient rivalry between the sexes will be renewed. It is rumored that the co-eds are planning a coup d'etat and thus assert their superiority over the male population on the campus. According to all reports they have already succeeded in undermining the financial condition of many good men. Let's show them we still in open those one-way pockets.

JITNEY DANCE
The perennial favorite, Green Gables, will be forced to close its doors. The Sphinx and Excalibur continue activities such as the jitney dance, scheduled for next Thursday night. A real wild and woolly time is anticipated with stages eligible to competition. A real band eager to blast forth rhythms of modern syncopation.

DISCOVERY
Many a treasure hunter has dug for gold and found nothing but water. The excavators of the W. A. A. Club have the unique distinction of hearing something besides mud in their quest for a foundation sturdy enough to withstand the rampages of the hefty co-ed athletes. The remnants of an old Indian camp were discovered by the shovelful as the work started for the back door of China. Nothing of great value, of course, but mere thoughts of scalping, etc., will start many a girl on the job called "I Wanta Go Home" on that first overnight hike.

AGAIN
Again the question of speeding up the registration lines has been taken up by the college officials. For 70 years this perfunctory action has been taking place. Ah, yes, and for an equal number of years students have stood motionless for hours with a long list of coupons in our frozen hands. Reports show that a committee will again investigate the matter and the solvers will again resolve that the officials are right in their supposition that something should be done. Again we will patiently wait in line with our coupons ready to be clipped and collected.

THE LIMIT
We haven't asked Mitt and his committee just why the title for the Union production was called The Twelve Mile Limit. Perhaps the composer of the play has never been to Detroit, where an absolute state of inertia can be secured before reaching the six-mile limit. This musical comedy stuff is quite our meat, so if the shooting-good action of the real twelve mile limit has been left in the play, we're all for it.

TO SELECT CAST FOR UNION SHOW WEDNESDAY NITE

Charles P. Seager, Author of Story, to Choose Leads and Choruses.

FIFTY IN CAST
Tryouts for parts in "The Twelve Mile Limit," the musical comedy by Charles P. Seager which has been selected for the 1929 Union production will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the ballroom of the Union building. It was announced last night by Milton Ornes, student manager of this year's production. Mr. Seager will be here in person to take over the selecting of the leads and choruses for the show, and will have direction of the play throughout. Selection of the choruses will be made in a different manner this year than has been the custom in recent past years, and the requirement to perform individually will be done away with. A chorus of 24 girls and a men's chorus of 12 will be selected from those who appear for the tryouts Wednesday. Every student who has any ability in the song and dance line is earnestly requested to tryout.
"The Twelve Mile Limit" will be presented at the Gladner theater in Lansing on Thursday and Friday evenings, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. The theme of the story is the usual type of musical comedy romance, supported by a variety of catchy musical numbers. The scene of the play is laid on board a yacht, and the action is carried on by a series of complications.
Mr. Seager, who wrote both the music and the manuscript for the story, will be in charge of the directing of the cast and will be at the piano during the presentation of the show. The selection of the entire cast will be made before the beginning of vacation, in order that the work of rehearsing and the learning of parts may start in earnest immediately upon the opening of winter term.

200 VOICES TO TAKE PART IN XMAS TREE CEREMONY

Over 200 voices will take part in the first annual ceremony of lighting the Christmas tree which is annually decorated with a blaze of colored lights over the yuletide season. The ceremony will take place Monday evening, Dec. 17, in front of the Woman's building, where the Christmas tree is located.
Led by the 75-piece State band, the combined members of the men's glee club, the men's chorus, and the glee club will start a short parade through the campus at 5 o'clock. This will be followed by the combined voices of the organizations singing Christmas carols as the multi-colored lights decorating the tree are turned on for the first time.

ENGINEERING HONORARY INITIATES SEVEN MEN

Phi Lambda Tau, local honorary engineering society, holds its annual fall term swingout today with seven new initiates.
The men are S. B. Hunt, R. E. Reok, R. W. Edson, D. H. Davis, C. I. Hartwell, D. Abbey and J. Raskas. The formal initiation banquet will be held tonight at the Hotel Olds at 6:30. C. W. Otto of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce will be the speaker of the evening while Prof. Adendorff of the M. E. department will act as toastmaster of the occasion. H. T. Helfrich, president of the society will give the address of welcome followed by a response by R. E. Reichow.

CONDITION OF STUDENT HEALTH IMPROVES. OLIN

An interview with Dr. R. M. Olin of the health service revealed the fact that the condition of the students in general was greatly improved over that of last week. During the last few days many students who were suffering with severe colds and the aches and pains of the old-fashioned grippe in a mild form were treated at the hospital. Although this malady has caused much discomfort among the students, it has not proved serious for there has not been a single case of pneumonia or scarlet fever. A few cases of chicken-pox are reported in East Lansing, but the campus has been free from this and other contagious diseases.

FLOATING UNIVERSITY STARTS NEW CRUISE

New York—(IP)—The floating university, after a lapse of one year in activities, is a fact again this year. The university sailed from here this month with 120 students aboard, to return here June 11, after sailing round the world.
In spite of protests, the university is again co-educational.

PRACTICE TEACHERS

Those in arts and science courses contemplating taking practice teaching next term are requested to get in touch with Dean Ryder at once and arrange hours.

PROCESSES OF ENGRAVING TO BE SHOWN WEDNESDAY

Prof. A. H. Nelson, of the English department, announces the showing of a film depicting the various processes of engraving to be shown in room 111, Olds hall, on Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 7 p. m. He has just recently completed arrangements with the John Olier Engraving company of Chicago, publishers of the 1929 Wolverine, for the picture.
All those at all interested in this film are invited to come. Journalism students are particularly invited.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR 'THE PATSY'

Next Theta Alpha Phi Presentation at Theater to Be Rollicking Comedy.
Tickets for "The Patsy," the rollicking comedy sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi which will be presented at the State theater next Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, were put on sale this week at the theatre office, Union and the Book Store. Dummy tickets can be exchanged for reserved seats at the box office of the State theater.
"The Patsy" by Barry Connors, is a modern comedy of domestic life in an average American family. The play abounds with humor and offers a wealth of opportunity for clever acting. The characters are well suited to their parts and the action of the play proceeds with a smoothness and cleverness that carries through to the very last curtain.

Josephine Merrill as Patricia Harrington and William Miller as Tony Anderson share the lead in the comedy. Patricia is really quite clever and ingenious, but she is not appreciated by her family. Tom Ramsdell as Mr. Harrington, a grocery salesman; Alice Stewart as Mrs. Harrington; and Margaret Stephens as Patricia's older sister Grace, complete the membership of the Harrington family and form the nucleus for the action of the play which centers in the Harrington home.
Playing opposite Margaret Stephens, Lewis Snider takes the part of Billy Caldwell, a suitor of Grace. Sadie Buchanan, a supporting part, is taken by Marion Woodworth. Tracy Maynard as Patrick O'Flaherty and Harlow Mene as "Trip" Busty complete the list of characters.
The play is under the direction of Prof. E. S. King, head of the dramatic department. The story on the stage is far more ingenious than the movie interpretation of the same story and promises to meet with unusual success before the college audience.
A Lansing company is leading the furniture for the stage setting, which will be arranged to represent the living room in the Harrington home.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Enrollment of Club Increased to 75, Breaking Record Set.
Election of officers to serve in the Girls' Glee club, which has recently been formed on the campus, took place at a meeting of the new organization held last Tuesday evening in the music building.
Those who were chosen for office were: President, Kathryn Fanner, vice president, Elsa Richards; secretary and business manager, Elizabeth Barber; treasurer, Clara Wilson; reporter, Claire Jacques; librarian, Sarah Shaw.
At the meeting last Tuesday it was decided that the girls should wear some sort of attractive uniform for all public and social appearances. The color and style of the uniform has as yet not been decided upon by the members of the club. The completion of these plans will not be made in time for the first appearance of the club on the evening of Dec. 17.
The enrollment of the club has increased to 75 since the last announcement, which breaks the record that the club had set for itself in regard to membership. Work has already begun in preparation for the first appearance of the club on the occasion of the lighting of the Christmas tree on the evening of Dec. 17. Rehearsals are held on Tuesday evenings at 7 o'clock in the Hort building.
At the Christmas tree ceremony the glee club will sing three numbers, a 16th century carol, "Lullay," "Deck the Halls," and "The First Noel." Members of the mens glee club will also take part in the program.
Among the many performances which have been planned for the club, perhaps the most important will be in February when the girls will give the cantata, "The Rose Maiden."

WARREN SHOOK ATTENDS JOURNALISTIC MEETING

Representing the Michigan State college chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, Warren Shook, business manager of the State News, is attending the national convention of the organization at Emory university, Atlanta, Ga., this week.
The convention, which will take place Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, will include business sessions, sight-seeing, a formal party, and the Georgia Tech football game.

GEOGANGUE HOLDS INAUGURAL FETE

New Geology Club Has Banquet with Attendance of Many Geologists.
Serving a banquet of such toothsome dishes as Scattered Mastodon, Glazed Noddies, and Banded Truff dishes suited only to the epicurean palate of an avid geologist, Geogangue, M. S. C.'s new organized geology club, inaugurated its first annual banquet Wednesday evening in the Blue Room of Hunt's Food Shop.
The meeting was marked by a record attendance of students, professors, geologists from the State Geological Survey, visiting geologists, field men and guests.
Mr. R. A. Smith, state geologist, gave the keynote speech in which he stressed the necessity for absolute honesty, both personal and scientific, in all geological work and commended highly the attitude of humbleness toward good ideas from whatever source, expert or ignorant, in short, the ability to empirically judge and accept on its own merits any solution for the numerous intricate problems of geology.
The assembly was also favored with short talks by F. G. Pardee, mining geologist; O. F. Poindexter, gravel surveyor; L. E. Schuchman, associate professor of geology; and M. C. Guiley, reconnaissance geologist of the Gulf Oil corporation. Mr. Guiley characterized geology as being a laboratory for new ideas and methods, and as a challenge to the young geologist in its requirements of highly accurate work.

This chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma displaces Chi Rho, local scholastic chemistry society. The application for a charter authorizing the founding of the chapter was accepted last June at a national meeting of the society.

COMMITTEE SETS FEB. 8 AS DATE OF ANNUAL J-HOP

Favors, Date, Location and Other Initial Preparations Made. 200 COUPLES EXPECTED
With Feb. 8 chosen as the date, the ballroom of the Hotel Olds selected as the place, and the favors and program decided upon, proceedings for the J-Hop of the class of 1930 are well under way. Initial preparations have reached such a point that the committees can begin the actual planning of details for the party and will begin work in earnest with the opening of the winter term, according to the announcement of John Gould, chairman of the general arrangements committee and class president.
There was a great deal of discussion among the members of the general arrangements committee before the date for the party was definitely decided upon due to its coming in the middle of basketball season. It was finally thought, however, that to set the date late in the term as has been the custom in the past would bring the Hop too close to exam week and would form too much of an anti-climax to the social season. The early date was therefore selected and every effort will be made to obtain permission for the junior class members of the basketball team to attend.
Selection of the Hotel Olds as the place for the pre-eminent social event of the season was finally made because of the facilities offered in such a place. Not only the ballroom but also other parts of the building will be turned over for the use of the junior class that evening. More than 200 couples are expected to be in attendance at the annual affair.
Contrary to custom in the past, the members of the class decided by a decisive vote that they would not have a banquet in connection with the dance this year. This action was taken in view of the fact that the attendance at the annual class party had become so large that the number of guests could not adequately be accommodated.

ARTISTS COURSE TO OPEN JAN. 16

John Langdon-Davies Chosen as First Speaker of Season.
Plans for the artists' series, have been completed and the first number takes place on Wednesday, Jan. 16, when John Langdon-Davies will give a discussion on the topic "Fists Across the Seas." In his speech he will analyze the European's feeling toward the American and explain why the two misunderstand each other.
The committee in charge has been very fortunate in securing this man, according to Prof. W. W. Johnston, chairman John Langdon-Davies' father, who is an English clergyman and his grandfather an electrical inventor. He was educated in St. John's college, Oxford, where he held several scholarships. In September, 1923, the Daily News sent him to Spain as a special correspondent for the military coup.
In England he has been a most popular lecturer and in 1923 was a parliamentary candidate. He has done extensive lecturing in the United States during the past three years, his subjects dealing with labor conditions, social reform, and sketches of literary and political people in England.
His most important work is his "Short History of Women." He has been called the best speaker in England by Maurice Hindus, noted American lecturer.

It's Going to Be a Long, Hard Winter, Says Campus Observer

Winter has come at last to M. S. C. and the student body is once more tripping forth in colobes. It looked for a time, as Thanksgiving came and went, as though we weren't going to have anything more permanent in the way of winter than the now-you-see-it, now-you-don't sort of snowstorm which made the North Carolina State game a time of agony for spectators. But Wednesday settled all that. It's going to be a long, hard winter.
The trouble with this campus is that when it snows it also, so to speak, ices, and the place is just full of slipping walks. Going down you just brace your feet and skid, but on the upgrade the going is tough.
However, there's always a bright side, and the tougher the funnier, the sentiment expressed by the forestry boys, who can now hang out of upstairs windows in the forestry building and chortle at the antics of the pedestrians in trying to navigate the hills out in front. This amusement has been denied them since last spring, but despite this, they have lost none of their rare skill in applying, as just the crucial moment, just the raucous remark which, if anything, will cause the balancing passer-by to become fazed and, as it were, "fa' down." Then is movement indeed.
Successive classes in hort and gym have become more agony than ever, now that one must skid along the icy pavement with a cold wind doing its best to push him the other way; and military maneuvers out in the distance where the army is not to be spoken of without a shudder. The engineering ladies are all down with the flu from having to stagger around in the woods surveying this and that outlying field for half a day. And many another poor soul also. Cold weather and impending exams have combined to undermine the delicate constitutions—about-campus, and the hospital is simply mobbed with people who have succumbed.
But despite all the agony caused by the coming of winter, we're sort of glad it's here at last; the campus looks so unbelievably like a Christmas card, as it always has, and should look, at this time of year. The Christmas tree which will soon be decorated in front of the Women's building wouldn't look like much, after all, without a little snow, and that tree is an old favorite of ours.

POST-GRADUATE STUDENT SUCCUMBS AT HOSPITAL

Gordon S. Matthews, a post-graduate student in the farm crops department, died at the college hospital early Wednesday morning following a ten days' illness.
Matthews, who is from LaChute, Quebec, Canada, came to Michigan State only this fall to work on his master's degree. Connected with the college experimental farm near Batavia Creek, he was working under the Kellogg fellowship on a corn investigation project. Before coming to Michigan State, he was with the department of agriculture at Chatham, Ontario.
He was removed to the college hospital about ten days ago, where his death was caused by a complication of several diseases. He is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews, one brother and a sister. The body was taken to the parents' home at LaChute Wednesday evening.

STUDENT ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY

Pleading guilty to a charge of robbery, unnamed Donald C. Barker of Ionia, a sophomore here, was remanded to confinement pending sentence by Judge C. B. Collinswood yesterday.
Barker was apprehended Wednesday for the robbery of a gas station at 1201 South Cedar street, Lansing, on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 5. He also confessed to the robbery of another station on the east side of Lansing about a week prior. The attendant at the South Cedar street station maintained that he was threatened with a gun, but the student insisted that he used no weapon but simply pushed an empty pocket toward his victim, frightening him so that he offered access to the station. He received over $38 from the possession of the man in charge.
The offense is well known in campus circles, was interested in several extra-curricular activities, and was a member of the Michigan State college band. His fine record at home where he was a leader among his fellows, his splendid college showing, and his otherwise model deportment are expected to ameliorate his sentence.
Barker offered no extenuating circumstances for his offense other than that he was financially embarrassed and dreaded asking for further funds from his father, who is a rural mail carrier in Ionia county. He comes of a highly respected family, held in the highest regard by all of their neighbors and fellow townsmen. The Ionia sheriff expressed surprise that the 17-year-old sophomore had committed the offense, and declared that at no previous time had he ever jarred with the authorities.
Barker attended classes at the college until he was taken into custody Wednesday. As yet the college authorities have taken no action in the matter, awaiting action of the court.

BAND IS TO BE SOUSA'S GUEST

Noted Bandmaster to Appear at Prudden Auditorium Tonight.
Members of the State college varsity band will be the guests of honor at the evening concert to be given by John Philip Sousa and his band Friday evening, tonight, in the Prudden auditorium, according to Leonard Fallender, band director, who is directing the ticket sale on the campus. It is also expected that State band will act as an escort to Lieut. Commander Sousa on his march to the auditorium. This veteran conductor and composer is celebrating his Golden Jubilee by heading his 36th annual tour of America, and a large gathering is expected to witness what may be Sousa's last appearance in Lansing. The increasing age and feebleness of America's beloved "band king" leads music lovers to believe that Sousa is on his last tour.
Mr. Fallender says that unusual interest is being shown by the public in Sousa's appearance, and he advises students of Michigan State college to take advantage of the local campaign, arranged between college music authorities and Mildred Koonsman, secretary of the Lansing Philharmonic association. Tickets are being sold by all members of the State band and at the Union desk.
Besides the regular popular program of famous band and opera selections, Sousa always attempts to do what his great organization can do with the popular song hits of the day. He will be assisted by eight skilled soloists: Marjorie Moody, soprano; Winifred Harbriek, harp; John Dolan, cornet; Howard Goulden, xylophone; Edward Hiney, saxophone; Edward Wall, clarinet; and J. P. Schueller, trombone.

PENNY SAVING TO DRAW ATTENTION OF CAMPUS MON.

Intensive Campaign to Be Instituted Monday to Thursday; Sphinx and Excalibur Sponsor Drive.
The Penny-Saving campaign for the purpose of finishing the porch off the Union building, to start intensively next Monday and extend through Thursday, according to those in charge of the drive. The campaign is to be sponsored and promoted by Sphinx and Excalibur, all-campus women's and men's senior honorary societies.
Monday two large mass bowls are to be placed in the Union lobby to catch the pennies and loose change of the student body. One will be provided for the co-ed donations and another for those of the men. Indications of the progress being made by the two groups will be furnished. Since the co-ed groups of societies and dormitories have been busy for the past two weeks assembling all available coppers, it is expected that they will force to the front for the first day.
The campaign will continue through Thursday, ending Thursday evening with a jitney dance in the Union ballroom. The dance is to be in charge of Sphinx and Excalibur members. Beginning at 7 o'clock, it will last until 10, freshmen co-eds being given the privilege of the extra time. A ticket will be charged for each dancer, the floor being entirely cleared after each number. Both men and women students are expected to come to the affair. "The Playboys," a prominent campus orchestra, has donated its services for the occasion.
Proceeds from the campaign, of which the dance and the various sales being conducted by the co-eds are a part, will be devoted to the completion of the porch off the ballroom. It is planned to enclose it, furnish the interior and provide furniture. Successful achievement of the project will make a necessary and pleasing addition to the ballroom facilities, remedying the present lack of lobby space.

FOOTBALL TEAMS TO BE HONORED

Remington's All-State Elevens to Be Banqueted Here.
Plans are nearly complete for the annual football banquet given by the Central Michigan M. S. C. Alumni Association in honor of the Michigan State varsity and to the high school teams of the state who have made a good record during the season. According to Blake Miller, chairman of the arrangements committee, the banquet will be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 15, in the ballroom of the new armory.
Richard E. Remington, well known football critic of Detroit, will be present as guest of honor with his all-state mythical high school football eleven. As has been the occasion in previous years, the honor team will be presented with small watch charms in recognition of their work. The Bay City and Muskegon football elevens, the two unbeaten class A aggregations of the state, have been invited and it is hoped that the two teams can attend the event. In all probability several other school teams with outstanding records will be invited to attend.
The Spartan cross-country team, which has gone through two seasons without a defeat, will also be guest of honor at the banquet.
According to present plans, an attempt will be made to obtain a speaker of national note to address the group. Several are under consideration by the committee and the announcement of the choice will be made at a later date. Other parts of the program have not been completed as yet but it is expected that a lively card will be presented for those who attend the banquet.
Because of the large crowd expected for the annual event it has been decided that it will be held in the ballroom of the new armory, as last year the Union ballroom proved too small. Over 700 men, including about 200 high school athletes, attended the occasion last year and an even larger turnout is expected this year.

MORE BALANCE

This week a college student disregarded the laws and conventions of society. Meeting up with conditions in his existence for which neither his precocity nor his few years of contact with the world furnished sufficient guidance, he reverted to the primitive predatory instinct and took that which would aid him in his difficulty.

Although the crime cannot be condoned, there were nevertheless extenuating circumstances which arouse a certain amount of sympathy for the student. He encountered difficulties which are somewhat common and, out of regard for others, short-sighted though that consideration was, he adopted the easiest methods of remedying the situation.

It would seem that the relinquishment of parental restraint was premature, the confining influence eliminated before sufficient moral background had been achieved. This circumstance is undoubtedly the cause of many explorations into unlawful pathways on the part of college students. In spite of mental development beyond the average, balance of judgment is evidently not always attained in a corresponding measure. In some cases balance, suitable to the social order, is never satisfactorily achieved. Perhaps such a thing as too early matriculation and enforced absence from home may be a serious factor in social conduct.

EVERYONE ASSIST

An intensive penny-saving campaign will be instituted on the campus next week, funds raised thereby being devoted to further completion of the Union.

Such a drive is somewhat different from the usual type in that the donors will be able to reap directly the benefits which will result. The improvement to the Union is much needed and will amplify considerably the present facilities offered.

The total amount which has been set as a goal by those promoting the drive amounts to three or four hundred dollars, a sum which will need a great number of pennies to approximate it. Collection of the amount is to be carried out by means of huge bowls in the Union lobby where all can see the progress made.

Successful attainment of the fund necessary to effect the improvements will require contributions from every student. If all help, the burden will be slight. In fact if members of the student body give but twenty cents each to the project, the fund will more than be obtained.

Because it is for an admirable and worthwhile cause, because every student can enjoy the results, because it will be another step toward the completion of the Union building, cooperation could be given in the matter by all.

Student Christian Union to Meet in Church Sunday

17 say "Merry Xmas" with same Gift

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 31, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.

I happen to be blessed with a host of very fine friends, mostly "highbrows"—professors, scientists, etc. Generally at Christmas time they show their remembrance and all that with some little gift—a box of cigars, fishing tackle, a book—all that sort of thing.

Well, this Christmas many seemed to centre on tobacco. Now, mark you, these fellows have no communication with each other. They live in widely separated parts of the country, so it was no "put-up" joke on me or anything like that. But here came seventeen boxes of tobacco, and sixteen of them the familiar blue "Edgeworth." The seventeenth was a very heavy walnut, brass-trimmed box, but if I know tobacco, the contents were Edgeworth with a little perique in it. Just coincidence, perhaps, but a queer one. Am not an habitual smoker of Edgeworth, so they weren't catering to any special taste of mine. Looks like a consensus of opinion among the "highbrows" or quite a batch of 'em—that Edgeworth is the stuff, the proper caper for a gift.

Sincerely yours,
F. A. Fitzpatrick

Earliest Greek Letter Societies Organized for Drinking Purposes

"Mystery and secrecy is dear to the youthful mind," says De Lysle Ferree Cass in an article on the history of early secret organizations in the January College Humor. "Here the many secret societies in steadily increasing numbers throughout the country. After the early class and debating societies came Phi Beta Kappa organized in 1776 with aims that were purely social. The Yale chapter was installed as a select debating society, with initiation suppers where the juice of Bacchus flows." It was the first Greek letter society whose active membership was not confined to a single undergraduate class.

In those days the student rathskeller was as characteristic as were pig-top trousers. Almost every college town boasted one or more such drinking places where the students gathered. These parties—never in mixed company—were known as "beer busts," "beer feasts," and "keg parties," and were provocative of good-natured mirth and fast fellowship. They represented no alcoholic craving, but were as peculiarly an undergraduate affection as the insistence upon severely distinctive headgear and apparel, or the hocus-pocus of Greek letter society mysticism.

Phi Beta Kappa was preparatory to the modern fraternity movement. Secrecy was abandoned in 1830 and since that time membership has been almost exclusively an honorary distinction.

"The most dangerous of the secret class was Theta Nu Epsilon, known as T. N. E. and now abandoned almost everywhere. It perpetuated all sorts of excesses and violence with the utmost impunity, encouraging drunkenness, dissipation, immorality. It worked much as the present Ku Klux Klan. Good fellowship, sporty proclivities, liberal spending, and an unusual capacity for holding hard liquor became the determining qualifications for membership. No T. N. E. ever allowed a girl to wear his pin except in tacit commemoration of her moral frailty. The Greek letters of the society's name were popularly alleged to signify 'Thirst Never Endeth.'

"Kappa Beta Phi, directly burlesqu-

ing Phi Beta Kappa, was another sophomore secret society but this lasted only for a decade or so until passage of the eighteenth amendment and the largely prohibitive price of liquor contributed to its extinction.

An engraved certificate signed by the president and by the secretary of the society, will accompany each award. All papers must be submitted to the society not later than June 30, 1929. Students should consult the honorary chairman regarding the rules for these awards.

The awards are made in person at the annual meeting in December. The winner of the 1928 Charles T. Main prize is Robert M. Meyer of Newark College of Engineering. For his paper entitled "Scientific Management and Its Effect upon Manufacturing." Clarence Frank, of the Johns Hopkins university was the winner of one of the $25 awards for his paper, "Condition Curves and Re-heat Factors for Steam Turbines."

A pencil put Peary on top of the world

OTHER explorers had great personal courage, unlimited energy and vision untrammelled; and failed. But Peary had one thing more.

He had the grasp of every detail—as seen in the care which guided the pencil in his frost-cramped hand. After each day's march he calculated a methodical course to make sure of the next day's progress to the Pole.

To face each day's reckoning as if it were the most important of all days is characteristic of men in the telephone industry. That viewpoint, expressed in the varied terms of applied science, laboratory research, financing and management, guides Bell System men in their respective fields of public service.

Many Social Events Planned as Term Draws Near the End

Several open houses and sorority parties, as well as a Union party, are being planned for tonight and tomorrow evening. Friday afternoon, November 30, the Ero Alphan society gave a bridge tea in honor of Miss Josephine Allen, of Iowa State college.

Tuesday evening the Hermian pledges gave a smoker at the house for pledges of other men's societies. Coach Benjamin VanAlstyne and Prof. D. Scheele were the speakers of the evening.

On Thursday afternoon, at the lecture house, other guests at the party were: Dean Jean Krueger, Dean Elizabeth Conrad, Miss Elsie Heller, Miss Neva Lovewell, and Dr. and Mrs. A. McCune. Miss Elvia Krantz, a junior student on the campus, and Mrs. M. Snyder presided at the tea table which was graced with green tapers and white chrysanthemums, thus carrying out the green and white color scheme.

Probably one of the most outstanding parties of the week-end will be the annual venison roast given by the Olympic society on Saturday night. The dinner-dance will be given in the East Lansing Masonic temple. During the dinner hour speeches will be given. John Kelly will act as toastmaster and responses will be made by Lloyd DeVries, Forrest Lang, Leroy Luseo, and James Hasselman. Following the dinner, Stone's orchestra from Detroit will play for dancing.

PEDESTRIAN GETS RIGHT OF WAY OVER MOTORIST

U. S. Court of Appeals Gives Way to Man or Woman Afoot, Regardless of Signals.

It is settled now. The man or woman afoot still holds the right of way over the motorist. Regardless of signals, the motorist takes his freedom from the penitentiary in his own hands when he drives upon a person walking across the street at an intersection. The United States court of appeals said so this week. The American Motorists' association is quite stirred in the matter. But this is final—this court is final.

In effect the court holds that pedestrians have the right of way not only at uncontrolled crossings but also when they have entered an intersection on a green light, and further holds that the pedestrian has the right of way until he reaches the opposite curb without regard to the change of lights during his passage of the crossing.

The decision is regarded by the association's legal department as just and is being called to the attention of the motoring public in order that the motorist may have full knowledge of his legal responsibility.

SOPHOMORES WILL GIVE FALL PARTY DECEMBER 14

The sophomore fall term party which will be open to all members of the student body will be held in the ballroom of the Union on Dec. 14. The plans for this affair have not yet been completed, but definite preparations are going forward under the direction of Steve Koselko and his committee.

Nothing certain could be learned concerning the decorations, but rumor has it that they will be very elaborate and suitable for the occasion.

Although the name of the orchestra could not be ascertained, it is understood that a capable out-of-town organization will furnish the music for this event.

Tickets will be placed on sale at an early date at the Union desk and in all the society houses throughout East Lansing.

Sunday services, from 7 to 8, in the Peoples church will feature two movie reels, one a nature picture. The organ accompaniment will be played by Mrs. Sholl, an organist of rare ability.

Y.M.C.A. AND FACULTY BOARD MEET JOINTLY

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet and the faculty advisory board will hold a joint session on Sunday, in the home of Howard Luscombe, 346 Charles street. The meeting will take the place of the regular Y. M. C. A. cabinet meeting, which was scheduled to take place on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

The nature of the meeting is to formulate plans for a program for the balance of the winter, and to discuss the securing of outside speakers to talk to the members of the church, societies and their friends.

PAN-HELLENIC SPONSORS INTER-SORORITY DINNER

The Pan-Hellenic council is sponsoring an inter-sorority dinner on Dec. 13 in the Union ballroom. At this affair, which will be a precedent for future annual banquets, the scholarship cup will be presented to the sorority holding the highest scholastic record for the past year. This year the cup will be awarded to the Sigma Kappa.

Each society will be represented by 20 of its members who will sit in their respective groups. It is expected that a spirit of rivalry and pep will be stirred by the singing of the various sorority songs. Alice Hunter, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, will present the cup to Charlotte Breidenstein, president of Sigma Kappa sorority. Dean Elizabeth Conrad will also speak to the girls at this time.

This Changing World

To-day, you can see big buildings erected noiselessly—by electric welding.

The structural steel worker is dropping his clattering hammer for the electric arc. Silently, swiftly, rigidly, economically, buildings are being fabricated by electric welding, which knits steel with joints as strong as the metal itself.

Building silently! Nothing seems impossible in this electrical age.

Not only in building construction, but in every human activity, we instinctively turn to electricity to add to the comforts of life and to eliminate the wastes of production—another evidence that the electrical industry is maintaining its leadership in this changing world.

Not only industrial equipment, but electric refrigerators, MAZDA lamps, and little motors that add to the comforts of home, are manufactured by the General Electric Company. All are identified by the G-E monogram—a symbol of service.

STARS TO PRY FROM COURT SEASON TONIGHT

Veteran Team to Take Floor at Ann Arbor Against Michigan.

ANNOUNCES LINEUP

Tonight the Michigan State basketball team plays its first game of the season at Ann Arbor in the Yost field house against the university's five, whose strength is unknown. State's strength, also is untried, but it is certain that Coach VanAlstyne's cagers will give the Michigan aggregation a good battle.

After the workout Wednesday afternoon Coach VanAlstyne announced that he would start Jim Van Eymen and Don Grove at forwards, Fred Den Herder at center, Leroy Russo and Art Flaga at guards. All but Flaga are veterans, having been letter men on last year's team. VanAlstyne intimated that the lineup would undoubtedly be altered as the game progressed. Dickson, last year's captain, and Schau, both of whom began work with the squad late because of football, will no doubt see action before the end of the game.

It is possible that Michigan will come on the floor with the following combination: Orwig and Stagle, forwards; Chapman at center, and McCoy and Rose at guards.

The Green and White squad is in excellent physical condition. Much attention has been given the last few days to a few plays that may be used against Michigan. While the regulars have been getting their share of attention, Coach VanAlstyne is keeping his eye on the material that has turned out since the close of the football season. In addition to Dickson and

WILLMARTH IS TO LEAD THINCLADS

Will Be Third Detroiter to Captain
1929 Teams.

Ted Willmarth, Detroit, for two years a star on Michigan State's undefeated harrier team, was honored this week when his teammates chose him to lead the thinclads next season. Running second only to Lauren Brown, State's outstanding cross-country star, during the majority of the meets, Willmarth has been a valuable asset to the Green and White team, many times following Brown to the tape by a narrow margin. Willmarth has been a major letter winner for two seasons in the fall sport.

Besides making a good showing in cross-country competition, Willmarth has starred on the track team. His duels in the two-mile races last winter and spring with Brown were features of State's track meets. Willmarth has had one more year of competition in both divisions of the track sport.

Schau, Nordberg, Roger Grove and Smead are good varsity prospects and probably will break into the playing lineup soon.

Coach Mason will again have a formidable array of veterans to work with next fall when he begins to form his 1929 harrier team. Only Robert's of the lettermen will be lost by graduation. Capt. Elect Willmarth; Brown; Rossien, a two letter man; Dowd, a sophomore who made his letter this year, and Crowe, who won a letter last season but was injured in the first meet this year, will be out for the team along with several very promising members of the freshmen squad. With this wealth of material, Coach Mason should be able to present a very strong harrier team next season.

U. LITS DEFEAT HERMIANS IN INTER-FRAT BASEBALL

Tuesday night in the inter-fraternity indoor baseball league, the U-Lits came through in next to the last inning with nine runs, to win from the Hermians, 16 to 4. Other scheduled games were not played because of the implement dealers' convention.

Wednesday night Pi Kappa Phi won from Triomega 22 to 4. R. C. Swogger, pitching for the Sigma Phi's, is showing good form.

Two inter-ward teams failed to appear on the floor, so ward D is credited with a forfeit over E and ward E is credited with a forfeit over C. In the other scheduled game B defeated A, 6 to 5. DeHaan, pitching for ward B, was credited with 12 strikeouts. In two successive innings he struck out the first three men that faced him.

STATE ATHLETIC COACHES ATTEND CHICAGO MEET

Ripke; Basketball Coach Benjamin VanAlstyne; Baseball Coach John Kober; and Prof. A. J. Clark, president of the athletic council.

At this meeting schedules for the Western conference, as well as several non-conference colleges, will be arranged.

HOLD INFORMAL INITIATION FOR NEW W. A. A. MEMBERS

Formal initiation of W. A. A. was held last night in the Peoples church for 22 new members who were taken into the association having won the acquired number of points in the various co-ed sports during this term.

The co-ed freshman awards in hockey, soccer, and bowling were given out at this time. The new members of the association are Katherine Tinsman, Adele Foster, Jean Churchill, Laura Barnsick, Grace Connor, Zoe Winans, Sarah May Shaw, Dorothy Troth, Betty Otwell, Winona Peterson, Magdalene Fox, Genevieve Fox, Kathryn Goodier, Violet Thornton, Leone Ford, Magdalene Thornton, Myra Basset, Elsie Janda, Irene Marquardt, Margaret Kaiser, Catherine Lipka, and Marion Kline.

Frimodig Advises Students to

L. E. Frimodig, assistant director of athletics, states that no arrangement has been made between Michigan State and Michigan as to their accepting student athletic books for admission at the basketball game at Ann Arbor tonight. Students are warned against relying on their books to get them into the game. Students are also advised to take sufficient funds with them to gain admittance. Arrangements will be made later as to the use of student's books in regard to athletic contests.

motated without undue expense and unnecessary delay in the evening's program.

The favors chosen by the committee were decided upon after considering several novel possibilities. Much care was taken in their selection in order to find something which would be entirely new and not a duplicate of any previously given at any previous social function. Island Crabbe, chairman of the favor committee, said that the committee agreed unanimously upon the choice of favor and that they believe their selection will meet with the full approval of the class.

The music committee has been active in getting in touch with several nationally known orchestras to furnish the music for the evening's dance, but final arrangements will not be made until some time in the future. Other committees have already begun to formulate plans but they will not take any definite action until the beginning of next term. At that time work will begin in earnest and the eligibility list and list of patrons, patronesses, and guests will be announced.
