THE FIRST GAME in a neat victory over the Michigan tucked under their arm the counters will play the first home Friday when the boys scrimmage the Hillsdale Blues. Due to the display of over a dozen first-men, the students are expected to put in record numbers to the squad in action. No doubt they will take off in the manner of the new style Blues if the superbly crowd is accommodated. The display of the fact that royal station will be turned away from the new Blue in the Army? The Army department is willing and the Blue are clamoring for it, who is tied up in the red tape?

GOING UP gentle reminder to the boys in representing the freshmen class that there is a custom prevailing in the seating of freshmen at the dinner tables. Due to the overcrowding, all freshmen are to sit in the balcony. Let no freshman trespass upon the sanctum of the floor.

HOW ABOUT IT? were curious to know why the basketball team was deprived of the pleasure of being away from the Ann Arbor game last week. We understand that the Michigan coach declared that it wasn't in the rule book for the State boys asked for the reason of their earned trophy. It was indeed when one of the most useful of all inter-collegiate traditions is broken. We do not demand an answer. It wouldn't be polite, but are curious to know "Why?"

LOOKING AHEAD
Over 100 high school boys, who have earned state-wide recognition for their play during the last football season, will be the guests of the college at the annual football banquet tomorrow night. We are very excited as to the honors of our graders from year to year, yet we hold the secret of successful football teams in our own hands.
To show these boys a real good time and acquaint them with the college life our campus. Nothing will more effectively earn the admiration of a youth than a good, first-impression. Start to install the real Spartan spirit to the prospective freshmen of next year.

SERVICE
A sigh of satisfaction will greet the news regarding the change in the system of registration for next year. No longer will it be necessary to take cross-country training in preparation for the event. We offer a sincere thanks to the committee who thoughtfully changed the event from a mad orgy to a pleasant reception party. Let the weather man bring on his coldest weather and his best example of snow storms—for we shall be safe from the wintery blast, tucked away in the Union building, waiting patiently—in line.

XMAS SEASON TO BE ELABORATELY OPENED MONDAY

State Band to Play 200 Voices Take Part in Colorful Affair

MAY SET PRECEDENT

In keeping with the Yuletide spirit the Christmas season will be officially opened on the campus next Monday evening with an impressive musical ceremony to be given at the opening of the all-college Christmas tree.

Let by the State band over 200 voices composed of the various school organizations on the campus will participate in the ceremony, which program is to be one of the most colorful events of the whole college year. The Men's chorus, the Men's glee club, and the newly formed Girls' glee club will all take an active part in the ceremony which is under the direction of Leonard Palmer, Arthur Burnett, Fred Kamen, and Miss Betty Hammers.

Following the singing, "Single Bells to the South and the Spirit of Christ Night" by the Men's glee club, the start fire will be set off by a glowing mass of colored lights. Various Christmas carols and songs will be sung at this time by the vocal organizations. The Girls' glee club will sing "The First Noel" followed by "To Whom Winter Tells No Secret" and "Blunder Song of the Infant Jesus" given by the Men's glee club and the Men's chorus respectively. Concluding the program, the Girls' glee club will sing "Sixteenth Century Lullaby" and "The Hall With Boughs of Holly," the Men's glee club will render "Time of Christmas," and the Men's chorus will sing the "Carol of the Russian Children."

PLAN MILITARY BALL FOR JAN. 25

Extensive Plans Under Way for the Second Largest Social Event of the Year

An annual event of the Military ball, which yearly arouses much interest on the campus, is to be held at the new armory Jan. 25 from 8 o'clock until 12.
This is the second largest social event of the year and is of vital importance in the military circles. Guest of honor Herbert M. Place will lead the grand march.

Much time is being devoted to the decorations and something novel along these lines is promised. A prominent 12-piece orchestra, known throughout the State, has been engaged for the party. An orchestra of the same kind has been withdrawn until the night of the party. That the music will be excellent is readily promised by the committee.

SIXTY MEN TURN OUT FOR FRESH BASKETBALL

Colvin, Former Varsity Guard, to Coach Yearlings; Schedule Yet to Be Arranged.

About 60 men have answered the call for the "fresh" basketball squad, "Red" Colvin, a member of the State varsity court last year, is coaching the yearlings. More men are expected to report next term. There is a great deal of promising material, but as yet it is difficult to pick out any exceptional performers.

Coch Colvin is holding four practice sessions a week, from 4 to 6 in the afternoon. Most of the work for "fresh" court last year, has been based funda-mentals. There have been, however, a few scrimmages.

A definite schedule has not been worked out yet. It is possible that they will meet Alma and Albion "fresh" squads, Calvin college of Grand Rapids, and Grand Rapids and Flint Junior colleges.

FIRST ISSUE OF STATE NEWS TO APPEAR JAN. 11

This edition of the State News will be the last for the fall term. The first issue of winter term will appear Friday January 11. Arrangements for the editorial staff will be completed Tuesday January 8 and news stories will be due in the News office on Wednesday, January 9.

Department representatives will begin work beginning winter term in preparing announcements to be distributed to assistants in that they may be ready to start with the beginning of winter term.
The editorial staff will be given the opportunity to work with the beginning of winter term.

HOLD DEDICATION OF W. A. A. CABIN

Lay Cornerstone for Cabin in Ceremony Held Saturday Morning

The dedication ceremony and laying of the cornerstone of the new W. A. A. cabin was held last Saturday morning at the cabin site in the college woods.
The dedication was written by Helen Murdock and was read by Florence Hartman, 29 president of the W. A. A.

The cornerstone is a block of blue granite that will be installed early from the Michigan quarry. The stone is to be set in place by members of the athletic association. The new members of the Women's Athletic association who were installed on the Thursday preceding, the dedication was in attendance at the ceremony.
Following the dedication, coffee and donuts were served among the crowd of 75 people who were present.

OVER 100 MEN ATTEND FIRST EXTENSION MEET

Approximately 100 members of the extension class of the college attended the opening session of the first annual extension conference held in the little Theater in the Home Economics building last Wednesday morning. President Thompson took up the address and spoke to those attending the conference.

JUDGING TEAM PLACES IN SHOW

Six State Men Represent College in International Event

A total of 21 teams representing various schools throughout the United States took part in a competitive stock judging event at the international judging event at the international livestock show which was held in Chicago recently. H. W. Fulton, Williamston, M. E. Garm, O. A.
W. R. Kline, St. Johns, D. A. McPherson, Lowell, J. W. Murry, Rockford, and Don Speeded, Charlotte, were the members of the team which represented M. S. C. in this event.

The team was given 17th place, but the judging was so close that had the member placed a single sixth of a point in the proper place, M. S. C. would have been awarded sixth place instead.
Besides this the team was given fifth place in judging cattle and seventh place in judging sheep.

In all, 60 classes of animals were judged and of this number the State two animals misplaced, and four classes with more than two misplaced.

STICK FROSH

Another week and the first term of college for over a thousand members of the student body will have been completed. And with the passage of these first few weeks of a college career there will be inevitably a fair proportion of the first year class that will have come to the conclusion that they are unfitted for college.

Twelve weeks out of a total of 144 is indeed a short time upon which to adequately judge such a momentous question. Nevertheless a great number do. The decrease in enrollment for the winter term is always unreasonably large. Last year nearly 250 failed to return. The major proportion of those leaving school are freshmen.

Making a decision on such a short trial of what the college has to offer is nothing more than snap judgment. And the trial is somewhat unfair, for the new student is becoming accustomed to new methods of teaching, study, and self management. The many distractions present for a freshman in the fall term take his attention from the classroom. In short he suddenly begins living an entirely different sort of life to what he has been accustomed. Because of these things, it is perhaps the hardest term of a college career.

Determination upon a course to follow in respect to further educational pursuit is a matter which may well have a disastrous effect on one's whole life. Because of this importance every factor should be taken into consideration and a thorough trial should be made before scholastic ambitions are abandoned.

A year is none too long a time to take in forming an impression of the suitability of a college education. One term is far too short. So dissatisfaction and discouragement at this stage should not be allowed to keep one from the campus next term.

SAFETY NEEDED

For the second time in a year, a student has walked into a street car on Grand River and narrowly escaped death. After the first accident, the street car company promised to take precautions and students watched for cars. This will no doubt be repeated.

But carelessness will develop again soon and an accident of a fatal character will result unless something is done. Nothing will stop students from being engrossed in thought as they return from the classroom, or perhaps the dean's office, nor can they be prevented from attempting to go through a street car.

Some safety measures should be adopted along this stretch of track, from Abbott to M. A. C. at once.

REVIEW

'The Patsy'

Robert A. McNair

It is impossible to characterize the performance of 'The Patsy' given by Theta Alpha Phi at the State theatre Tuesday night, in any way but as an unqualified success. In fact this show was one of the best, if not the best, that the dramatic society ever sponsored.

The cast had spent enough time in preparation so that they were enabled to devote most of their attention to the acting. One was able to forget that it was an amateur production and that lines might be forgotten at any time.

FOUR TEAMS TO DEBATE FOR MSC

Forensic Season to Open Next Term; Many Meets Scheduled.

The men's debating team goes into action during the winter term, having a large number of meets scheduled and having four two-men teams to represent the college. Another tryout for the debate team will be given immediately at the beginning of the winter term for the benefit of those students entering at that time or to those who failed to try out during the fall term.

Two of the teams will use as their debate subject the problem of 'Hydro-electric Power Plants in the Country under Government Control'. The other two teams will use 'The Problem of the Jury System' as their topic. The teams debating on the hydro-electric system will hold a triangular meet with Purdue and Marquette, a dual meet with Western State college, Detroit City college, and the University of Cincinnati.

The teams using the jury system for their subject will have a dual meet with Albion and a single meet with the University of Kansas. They will also debate at the provincial convention of the national honorary Psi Kappa Delta fraternity. At this convention they will debate against a number of Michigan and Ohio colleges. Other meets are also being arranged for all of the men's debating teams.

The men on the debating teams with S. D. Menchhofer as coach are: H. R. Carrol, St. Johns; C. C. Lovewell, Northville; R. Roach, Port Huron; E. L. Brandt, E. Green, Lansing; G. C. Daily, Morenci; B. Dele, East Lansing; A. Knoblauch, Blissfield; A. A. Arnold, Arnold; D. Parish, Fairgrove.

The policy of holding some of the debates before neutral audiences will be continued as there are too many scheduled to be put on in one place. A number of former debaters from this college are sponsoring the debates throughout the state. The Marquette and University of Kansas debates will be held here, but the others will be held at Ionia, Milford, Almont, and other neutral places.

LA COFRADIA INITIATES SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

Seven three-year Spanish students were initiated into La Cofradia, honorary Spanish club, last Friday evening. The club has maintained a B-1 rating at the Peoples church. Only those average are invited to join the society. Those who were given membership were: Alice Tennat, Marian Marks, Helen Spagnuolo, Margaret Yerex, Milton Berg, Shorer Sarjeant, and Arthur Bolker.

The club is holding meetings nearly every Friday evening. At the present time plans are under way for the holding of a formal party for the members of the club and their friends, to be held during the first part of winter term, according to the announcement of Prof. L. M. Shout, sponsor of the club.

On the whole, the entire show went off in an unusually smooth manner.

'The Patsy' as a comedy is replete with clever lines and in addition has in the plot the situation of Tony Anderson unknowingly advising Patsy on the best way to make her to him, which gave opportunity for many 'double meanings'. To relieve the continual humor, there were moments in which Patsy, smoothly and indignation of the audience was demanded. All this was present and these last nothing in the interpretation given by Tuesday evening's cast.

The play was built around the change in character of Patsy, played by Jo Merrill, and her father, Bill Harrington, portrayed by Tom Ramsdell. Grace Harrington, the high hat sister, played by Margaret Stephens, acted the role of villain for the play and was supported in this character by her mother, acted by Alice Stewart. It was on the actions of these two that the character development was judged. William Muller as Tony Anderson, actor for the hand of Patsy besides aiding her as advisor in love making was the center of many of the complications.

The work of Alice Stewart was outstanding. She had a difficult part to play and carried it off exceedingly well. Many demands were made of her for emotional portrayals and she responded to all of them. The acting of Miss Stewart and Margaret Stephens brought out the selfishness and egotism of the characters which they enacted so well that these were drawn from the audience. And we consider this an achievement considering the type of audience.

Jo Merrill's role necessitated her presence on the stage and talking continually. In spite of this however, she gave an excellent, sustained characterization, bringing out the changes in character and transferring from pathos to comedy with naturalness. Ramsdell had to present a similar character change which he did effectively and with force. He and Miss Stewart started off every act with a comedy situation, the portrayal of which had no small part in the success of the play. Miss Stephens' acting was unusually superior to his part and his excellent participation in the complications aided greatly in putting the comedy across to the audience. Lewis Under as the aristocratic lover of the sister, played his part well.

The difference which the audience received this comedy and the comedy of a few weeks ago was apparent. They were in sympathy with the cast from the beginning, which fact made it immensely easier for the actors.

to present the play. The audience understood it and therefore enjoyed the play. Finally, if the dramatic society continues to present plays as good as this the time is not far distant when the O. signs will be decorating the front of the State on Theta Alpha Phi night.

SQUEEZED between giant rolls, heated steel bars flatten to form steel sheets for the bodies of the automobiles that our modern hurrying America demands. So rapidly has this demand grown within the past few years that the American Rolling Mill Company, Westinghouse transformers had to be designed to handle the power requirements of this new mill—the largest of its kind in all the world. To Westinghouse came the assignment of designing, manufacturing, and installing this equipment. Opportunities of this caliber are not rare in an organization with the resources which Westinghouse commands. Westinghouse attracts young men of enterprise and genius because it daily provides a class of opportunities which smaller companies can seldom offer.

SORORITIES HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Scholastic Award Presented at First Annual Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Banquet.

Pan-Hellenic council sponsored its first annual scholarship banquet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. At this time about 200 girls met in the Union hall to honor scholarship by presenting a silver trophy cup to the secretary having the highest scholastic standing during the past year. This year Helene Kappas received the trophy. The same scheme was carried out in green and white, the ballroom being prettily decorated in these colors. The tables also reflected the general color plan with salads of green and white and white tapers in green holders. The sororities sat in groups at their respective tables which radiated from the speakers table. The Colonial trio, consisting of Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. Frances Ayres, Mrs. Helen Zook, Mrs. Marshall, etc., entertained during the early part of the evening. Between courses refreshments and with each other in the dining of some college songs being mingled with those of each sorority. Alice Hunter presented the scholarship cup to Charlotte Bredemeyer, president of Theta Kappa, after which Mrs. H. H. Halladay talked to the girls on the merits of scholarship.

PRACTICE HOUSE GIRLS END HOUSEHOLD DUTIES

Eight girls will leave Practice House Saturday after six weeks of household routine and of entertaining. Elvira Kivita, Katherine Greenhill, Beatrice Gonsky, Elizabeth Anderson, Elizabeth Parker, Phyllis Gonsky, Gladys Norton and Martha Beckman make up the complete list. Yesterday this group were hostesses at a Kids Christmas party for the girls from former groups this term. This party marked the close of their successful stay at the Practice House. The last two weeks have been a series of entertainments at the house. On Thursday, Dec. 6, a tea was given for the members of the Commencement club. On Monday, Dec. 10, a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Paine and on Tuesday, Dec. 11, a tea was given for the entire extension department as part of the department convalescence.

17 say "Merry Xmas" with same Gift

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.
I happened to be met with a host of very fine friends, mostly "highways" — professors, scientists, etc. Generally at Christmas time they show their remembrance and all that with some little gift — a box of cigars, fishing tackle, a book, all that sort of thing. Well, this Christmas many seemed to center on tobacco. Now, mark you, these fellows have no communication with each other. They live in widely separated parts of the country, so it was no "put-up" joke on me or anything like that. But here came seventeen boxes of tobacco, and sixteen of them the famous blue "Edgeworths". The seventeenth was a very heavy "walnut, brass-trimmed box, but if I knew tobacco, the contents were Edgeworths with a little pep in it. Just coincidence, perhaps, but a queer one. Am not an habitual smoker of Edgeworths, so they weren't catering to any special taste of mine. Looks like a consensus of opinion among the "highways" — or quite a batch of 'em — that Edgeworths is the stuff, the proper paper for a gift. Sincerely yours, F. A. Fitzpatrick

He united the country with nails

BEN FRANKLIN made the horseshoe nail a symbol of the importance of little things. "The kingdom was lost and all for the want of a horseshoe nail", goes one of his wise sayings. So when he became Postmaster General, he knew full well the need for proper horseshoeing as one step in punctual mail schedules. The care given to details can still make or break a great plan. In the telephone industry, for example, the development of compact paper insulation helped to make possible the small diameter cable and therefore the vast underground plant necessary to serve large cities. A multiplicity of details, from the testing of long fibre cotton to the "voice with the smile", offer a continual challenge to the Bell System men who unite the nation with telephones.

STIFF SCHEDULE FACES COURTMEN

Following State's brilliant victory of last week over the University of Michigan court five, the interest on the Spartan campus has risen to great heights over the possibility of a winning team for this season. State had a fine season last year, winning the major portion of their games, but it is easier said than done this year. Facing Coach VanAlstyne and his team this year is one of the stiffest schedules a Spartan team has ever had to meet. The usual warm-up teams are missing from the State card this year so it is up to the Spartans to play first class basketball right from the start. Last week a fit opening of the season was made against the Wolverine team. On Friday evening, Dec. 14, the State students will get their first opportunity to see the Green and White five in action. Hillsdale college will serve as the opposition in the Spartan debut here. Although the Hillsdale team is not considered a set-up, it is expected that Coach VanAlstyne will give some of his untried men a chance to show their ability in the Hillsdale game.

State will meet Penn State on Wednesday, Jan. 7. Penn is rated as one of the best teams of the east and will severely test the Spartans. On the following night the Cornell university five will match court activity against the Green and White team.

On the evening of registration day of the winter term, Jan. 7, will come a game that will be very interesting. Ohio Wesleyan, the conquerors of the University of Michigan in football, will meet the Spartans on the East Laning court. Ohio Wesleyan opened the season last week with a decisive win over the Ohio State team and is reported to have a very fast aggregation this year. Coach Benjamin VanAlstyne, State's coach, coached at Ohio Wesleyan for five years before coming here and thus he is especially interested in downing the Ohioans. On Jan. 11 the strong Marquette university five of Milwaukee, conquerors of State last year, will meet the VanAlstyne men in East Lansing.

May Your Christmas be as MERRY as you have made
OLD GOLD'S

A year ago OLD GOLD's holiday message to its many friends was entitled . . . "OLD GOLD's first Christmas." OLD GOLD was then just the infant prodigy among cigarettes. But, thanks to its three million new friends, and its countless old ones, OLD GOLD has grown four hundred per cent. The infant has become a strapping young giant. OLD GOLD is America's fastest growing cigarette. You have given OLD GOLD a wonderful Christmas by your kind patronage and cordial good-will. And in deepest appreciation we say to all our friends . . . "May your Christmas be as merry as you have made OLD GOLD'S."

We thank you.
