SKYHILL DRESSES HUGE AUDIENCE HERE

Australian Soldier, Poet, Playwright Thrills Over 1200 Persons.

ON ARTIST COURSE

the "Keenest Crowd" He Addressed in State of Michigan.

Mr. Skyhill, a keynote of democracy and for its protection, Tom Sky-hill, Australian soldier, poet, and playwright, thrilled a crowd of over 1200 persons in the auditorium of the church last Wednesday night with his brilliant lecture, "Mussolini and the Black Shirts."

Skyhill's delivery was clear and forceful, with descriptions and like poetry, and here and there of humor which momentarily attracted the attention of the crowd.
The lecture, Mr. Skyhill said, was the keenest I have ever given in the state of Michigan, and I am glad to perhaps nearly 100,000 people.

Mr. Skyhill was the first on the college artists course was from the platform of the President Robert S. Shaw.
Mr. Skyhill, who is the son of the late William L. Skyhill, of the Chicago Tribune, and is a leading socialist newspaper, of his break with his party at the end of the war. He told of Mus-solini's service as a private in the Italian army, of the forming of the Black Shirts to oppose the Reds, and of the events leading up to the dictatorship of Mussolini and the fall of the democracy.

Mr. Skyhill emphasized, "and do not forget, it is something that could happen in any country where people are not of their civic duties." With this, Skyhill spoke directly to number of college students and faculty, and back them up with the state books and the constitution.

Mr. Skyhill insisted on the education of children to produce noble and courageous men and women.
It was these things, Skyhill indicated, that Italy had forgotten and out of the chaos that resulted Mussolini came to save his country but to rob it of its democracy. "The conditions demanded a strong man, Mussolini stepped forward and met them." Mussolini is popular, Skyhill declared, because he is romantic, and he offers to Italy some promise of glory that was Rome. There is a story upon the keyboard of the organ.

What constructive contribution made? He is clever but sheer-ly old-fashioned, he discourages going ahead, he discourages encouragement. "But the lecture," the blame is with the Italian people failed to show that this thing called democracy is the most serious thing that can be undertaken.

BULLETIN

On motion of Ralph H. Young, the Athletic Board of Control decided at 5:15 tonight to continue athletic relations with the University of Detroit under the understanding that the game be conducted under conditions arranged by the athletic boards and presidents of the respective institutions. The game will be played in East Lansing November 15 or 22.

PRESIDENT SHAW'S STATEMENT

In considering the unfortunate occurrences following the recent football game between the University of Detroit and Michigan State college, I am conscious of the fact that fundamental ethical principles govern relationships between institutions of higher learning, going far beyond transient incidents of an unpleasant nature and demanding thoughtful consideration.

The questions raised following the recent game are really national in scope, being in no wise limited to the two institutions under discussion.
The handling of football games by the colleges and universities, in fact, American football itself, is an trial.

If the present undesirable features, gaining rapidly in momentum, are not checked and eliminated, football is doomed to lose the favor and support of the American public.

It would seem to me desirable for the University of Detroit and Michigan state college to meet on the football field in 1930, at East Lansing, under conditions and surroundings exactly the same as this fall's game, if this meeting could be made to provide an actual demonstration that the game can be played according to the traditions of the highest type of collegiate spirit.

This result can be accomplished only through complete, cordial and vigorous co-operation on the part of the staffs, students, alumni and friends of the two institutions.

For the second time in two days the athletic council failed to come to a decision in regard to scheduling the University of Detroit next season. At the meeting last night, the council was divided 4-4 on the question.

SNOW SWEEPER GETS TRYOUT

New Machine is Capable of Cleaning All Campus Walks in Six Hours; May Be Bought.

This week's frequent snow falls provided the building and grounds department with an opportunity to experiment with a new and modern snow sweeper that promises to relieve the former unlikelihood of the campus walks.
While purchase of the machine has not yet been granted, the complete success of the try-out and the variety of uses to which the equipment can be put show that it would be a valuable addition to the college equipment.

It was found that with the new machine one man could clean every walk on the campus in six hours, while the former method that used two men and a single horse unit would have taken at least a whole day. It was pointed out that the equipment can be used in the summer months as a combination sprinker and sweeper for the pavements that will soon be constructed on the campus. In addition to this the unit can be used as a general tractor piece.

Under the newly inaugurated junior plan the caretaker of each building is to be in complete charge of the walks leading to his building. It was announced today by W. A. Davenport, building and grounds superintendent.
He added in his statement, "This winter we are going to get after the snow as soon as it begins to arrive and will attempt to keep the walks clean and passable at all times."

CIVIL ENGINEERS HOLD DISCUSSION MEETING

The Concrete Construction Industry was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers held in the Engineering building Thursday night at 8:00 p. m.

J. H. Wason was the main speaker of the evening's gathering which was presided over by President Farley of the A. S. C. E. Professor C. L. Allen of the Civil Engineering department also contributed to the program.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASS PLANS PRACTICE HOUSE

Classes in Home Economics 383, interior decoration, are working on plans for furnishing a new home economics practice house, the former Bissell home on Faculty Row, and will be open for use at the beginning of the winter quarter.

There is now one practice house in use, but because of the larger enrollment in home economics recently, two houses were found necessary in order to fill the requirement of four weeks in the practice house for each home economics center.

The second meeting this morning the council was closed for two hours and at the termination of the meeting had no other statement to make than that the council had come to no decision. A third meeting will be held this afternoon by the body in an attempt to come to a final agreement.

At an informal meeting of representatives of Michigan State college and University of Detroit at Detroit last Monday desire was expressed by both parties to renew relations next fall and approval of such action was to be left to the athletic councils and presidents of the two institutions.

FENCER IS INJURED AS FOIL GOES AMISS

Beverly Gibbons, Sophomore, Injured in Fencing Team Practice Tuesday.

Beverly Gibbons, 72, was seriously injured while fencing Tuesday afternoon when a foil pierced his neck. He was removed to the college health center and later to the Edward W.
Sparrow hospital in Lansing. Dr. R.
M. Olin, college physician, said that Gibbons was suffering from shock than from the injury, which the doctor considered as not serious. Hospital attendants gave his condition as "good" Wednesday.

ATHLETIC BODY HOLDS MEETING

W. A. A. Discusses Winter Sports and Has Entertainment at Little Theater.

W. A. A. held a regular business meeting last night at 7:15 in the Little Theater of the Home Economics building. Several questions of importance to road athletes were brought before the meeting for discussion.

It was decided that horse-back riding will be an individual sport and volley ball will be a minor sport for winter term. Pin ball will not be offered next term.

Following the meeting's brief entertainment of music and dancing was presented by five freshmen girls. The girls were: Ruth Duran, Gertrude Markle, Lucile Hines, Jean Butler, and Alice Gleason. Popular selections were given by Miss Hines and Miss Duran on the saxophone and the piano.
Miss Butler did a tap dance, and Miss Markle and Miss Gleason, combined singing and dancing with several blue-numbers. The girls were freshmen pets with green and white outfits.

The five freshman entertainers were invited to be guests of the W. A. A. at their luncheon at Hunt's Blue Room tomorrow at one o'clock.

gan Oratorical contest to be held on

THETA ALPHA PHI WILL NOT GIVE PLAY THIS TERM

Next Dramatic Production to Be Presented Next Term Says President.

JANUARY 14 PICKED

"The Mistress of the Inn" is Title of Next Play Starring Margaret Stephens.

The next dramatic production scheduled by Theta Alpha Phi will not be given until winter term because it will be impossible to obtain the State Prize by Lewis D. Snider, president of the college chapter of the national society. The tentative date of the play has been set as January 14.

"The Mistress of the Inn," a classical three-act play of comic nature with its setting in Florence, Italy, has been chosen for the second production of the year. The play is considered of exceptional high quality and will be presented in costume. It will be the first time in several seasons that the college Theatricals have acted in costume.

Miss Margaret Stephens, who starred in "Graustark" last spring, has been cast for the leading role. She will play the part of an intriguing mistress who is intent upon having the love of every man she associates with. However, the plot of the play centers around the difficulties which she has in winning over an inherent woman-hater, but as in all good stories and the drama does not end there and the remainder of the plot should be "sub rosa" until the play is presented.

Two other experienced actors who have become campus idols through creditable performances in other Theta Alpha Phi productions will support Miss Stephens in the cast. They are Al O'Donnell, who scored in "The Colonel's Maid" recently, and Jess Bird.

Charles Macgregor, a sophomore, and Bill Kane will round out the cast, which is composed of five characters.

O'Donnell and Bird as the Count and Macgregor respectively, both display devoted affection for the Mistress.
However, it remains for Kane as the Cavalier to add the piece with his attempt to stage off the Mistress in her determined attempt to force him to love her.

VOTE $8500 TO INSTALL COURT

Athletic Council Authorizes Action on Equipping Armory Floor.

Definite steps toward the installation of a portable basketball floor in the armory were taken today when the athletic council voted approximately $8500 to be released from funds of the athletic department for its construction. The H. G. Child, cashier of the armory, has completed plans to start work on the floor immediately.

Prior to the official authorization of funds, revised and modernized plans that promise to make the new floor one of the finest in the country were formulated by W. A. Davenport, building and grounds superintendent, in collaboration with the (Jovan) Manson architectural firm of Lansing.

Although emphatically disclaiming credit for the basketball floor at the University of Michigan after which the local one is to be patterned, Davenport has since paid visits to Ann Arbor to inspect the Wolverine's court and determine its feasibility for State University officials were said to have advised Davenport of various features that could be overcome in a modern floor. It was thought that greater use of steel girders could prove more economical and satisfactory in the long run, if the original costs were not prohibitory.

Installation of a special lighting system, players benches, press boxes, and band quarters is a secondary feature that will also occupy the attention of the campus building and grounds division that will have supervision of the construction.

DELEGATES TO IMPLEMENT CONVENTION ARE ACTIVE

Several social affairs of interest have taken place during the convention of the Michigan Implement Dealers association which has been held in the Armory during the past week.

The first affair was a tea for the wives of the delegates which was given on the porch of the Union building on Tuesday afternoon. The annual banquet of the organization was held in the Union dining room Wednesday evening with a large attendance. The Colonial Trio played throughout the three course banquet. Following the dinner, several brief speeches were given by the delegates. The last session of the convention was held this afternoon.

The Greater Council will hold a meeting next Tuesday at Dean Conrad's at eight o'clock.

MEMBERS OF BLUE KEY PAY BILLS FOR PARTY GIVEN THEM IN 1927

Bills for Spartan Welcome of 2 Years Ago Are Settled By Original Recipients

We have heard of women asking men to parties and then expecting them to pay for it but here is one that even beats that. It is between men, one group giving the party and two years later those entertained paying for it.

Back in the fall of 1927 when Blue Key was still in its infancy it conceived the notion of giving a Spartan Welcome which as memory recalls was given on the parade ground in front of the gymnasium with the prime purpose of being an official welcome from the student body to the incoming freshman class.

Those freshmen have now become juniors and some of them are numbered in the ranks of the underclass honors. The other day their treasurer dropped into the office of a local business man and gave him a check for quite a large sum in payment for services given in connection with the Blue Key Spartan Welcome of 1927.

If any of you alumni who were so kind and thoughtful of the yearling class of 1927 read this article you might continue your thoughtfulness by giving the organization a note of appreciation for paying for their own party which you so whole-heartedly gave them over two years ago.

Olivet.

Michigan State debate season opens Sunday night, December 8, when the affirmative team from M. S. C. consisting of Joseph Kidder and A. A.
Arnold, meet the negative team from Olivet college in the Congregational church at Olivet. This initial meet opens one of the heaviest and most interesting debate schedules ever undertaken by Michigan State according to J. D. Menchhofer, men's debate coach.

William Pratt and Howard Correll will defend the negative side of the question against Olivet's affirmative on Monday night, December 9, at Vermontville. This debate which is being sponsored by Lloyd Correll, 29, will be held before the Men's Brotherhood of Vermontville.

Audience questions will be taken at both of these meets.
The official Phi Kappa Delta question for the year is: "The nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament excepting and forces as are needed for police purposes."

"PAGE THE PRINCE" IS TITLE OF 1930 UNION PRODUCTION TO BE PRESENTED TWO NIGHTS, FEB. 6-7

Selection is Two-Act Musical Comedy Said to Compare Favorably With Such Successes as "Graustark" and
"The Student Prince."

Thursday and Friday nights, February 6 and 7, have been finally chosen for the presentation of the 1930 Union production. It was announced last night by Raymond L. Jennings, manager of the production, and Ray Rogers, manager of the Union. Jennings stated that the second production would be College Night.

"Page the Prince," a two-act musical comedy, is the play selected by the committee and will be given under the direction of the John B. Rogers Producing company of Piquette, Ohio.
The producers expect to send a representative to begin active work on the production the first of January.

The book is by Noble Hill and the music by Carl Hendrickson, well-known middlewest writer of experience and great charm. This production, according to officials of the producing company, bids fair to become one of the most popular ever put out by the John B. Rogers company.

"Page the Prince," comparable with "Graustark," a play that was given by the senior class last year, is this year's delightful theme. One of New York's greatest musical comedy hits, with Marjorie Miller in the title role. The story is similar and the same quaint atmosphere of a mythical foreign country prevails. It is said that the charming and stage settings which are furnished by the company are exquisite.

There are 16 characters in the play and a number of choruses. It is estimated that the total cast picked will not fall far short of forty persons.
These to be chosen by the director sometime in January after he arrives on the campus.

The committee at work on the production are as follows: Program: Joe Thumpe, chairman; Ruth Krause, Al Kidder.
Tickets: Gerald Page, chairman; Bert Albright, Edward Ellsworth, Martine Albright.

Advertising: Edward Gibbs, chairman; Katherine Greenberger, Ted Zachary, Milton Martin.
Scenery: H. G. Child, chairman; Gerald Page, Ralph Murdoch, Andrew Roberts, L. G. Child.
Stages: Martin Horne, chairman; Richard Schmitt, Bob Lowry, Kenneth Schmitt.

Michigan State college was the scene of the twenty-sixth convention of the Michigan Implement Dealers association beginning on Tuesday and ending Thursday. Demonstration Hall was the main point of interest for a very complete exhibit of farm implements was on display there and many meetings of the merchants were held there.

Over 1500 merchants from all over the state attended the meetings during the three-day showing.
The convention formally opened on Tuesday when the exhibits in Demonstration Hall were thrown open to the public. The entire riding hall was filled with farm implements of all kinds. The demonstration apparatus of the college was of particular interest.
Electric apparatus was shown, and its proper installation shown.

On Tuesday afternoon, the first meeting was held. H. B. Dicks, acting Dean of Engineering, presided over the evening address. H. G. Child, vice-president of the association, responded. He was followed by H. C. Waters, president who gave the annual message. The secretary and treasurer then gave their reports. After attending dinner at the Union, they were entertained by the athletic department, which gave demonstrations in boxing, wrestling, fencing, and several other sports.

Wednesday and Thursday was employed in the inspection of the various exhibits, and in both social and business meetings.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE—

The much discussed question concerning Swartz Creek, clown band, and its difference with the Student Council will be settled once and for all at the Student Council meeting next Wednesday night. The entire organization has signed its intention of attending the meeting and it is expected that the different views entertained by the two bodies will be aired at that time.

Swartz Creek has done much for Michigan State college and as an organization its full worth is appreciated. Discussion resulting from action made by the council in asking the present leader to resign since he is not a college student, threatens to wreck the organization. This should not be and an amicable agreement between the two bodies should be the only aim of the interested parties.

Swartz Creek may have been wronged in the public eye beyond its just deserts but Swartz Creek band members are allowing personalities to become larger than the organization or the school. There is no man on this campus who is so big but what the institution would prosper without him. Neither is there any organization so large or prominent that it is almighty and must be bowed down to.

The meeting Wednesday night should be carried on with an attitude of friendliness, casting all personalities aside, and getting to the affair at the bottom. A quick and just decision will be well for both Swartz Creek and other parties interested.

"HELLO"—

Tuesday afternoon three classes discussed the feasibility of bringing influence to bear on the establishment of an "hello" custom on this campus as has been advocated by the State News and Interfraternity council. In spite of the meager attendance at the meetings, many students expressed opinions favorable to such action and some of the backers of the move intend to move forward in hopes that the custom may become a tradition.

Under the present arrangement all freshmen are required to speak to all persons that they meet on the campus at all times, especially to strangers to the campus. First year students should not look upon this as something that "has to be done" but rather adopt it with a philosophical attitude that it doesn't hurt anyone to speak to his fellowmen regardless of previous acquaintance.

Upper classmen must bear in mind that the success or failure of the plan rests with them and not with the underclassmen. Not to return a cheery "hello" offered by a freshman is to openly discourage the idea by those who really have the power and influence to put the proposition over. It is up to us to see that such a mighty move toward an era of increased sociability and friendliness of the undergraduates shall prosper and receive every incentive toward going down as a tradition of Michigan State college.

HEE, FRESH!

Early this week members of the sophomore class distributed posters in prominent places on the campus announcing a second year class meeting. Following immediately in the wake of the sophomores were one or more freshmen who made it their business to see that the signs came down as quickly as they were placed. Such action as this must not be countenanced and severe penalties may be meted out if the guilty party is found out.

Such action as this reminds one of a small pup trying to pick a row with a police dog and as soon as its attention is attracted, turn and run. Differences in opinion were supposed to have been settled last month at the barbecue and no announcement has been made of the hatchet having been dug up.

This childish action on the part of a few freshmen "play-boys" resulted in only a handful of students being present at the sophomore class meeting. It is hard enough to get students to turn out for class meetings without having "small puppies" running around tearing up announcements.

And a writer in Collier's rises to remark that the new long skirts will be an improvement; short skirts made so many girls unkeesy.

And spare a tear for poor Mrs. McPeerson—sitting up all night writing the mail order houses for prices on boxing gloves and shin-guards.

ACT TO PREVENT FILM FIRE PERIL

Build Special Vault for x-Ray Films; Davenport Continues Campus Improvements.

Workmen Thursday opened for use the newly constructed steam lines on the south side of the campus circle, began excavating for a fire-proof film vault under the hospital, and continued revamping the obsolete ventilating system of the gymnasium in line with the program of continual college improvements laid down by W. A. Davenport, Building and Grounds superintendent.

Warned by the disastrous film fires that extracted heavy loss of life in a noted Cleveland hospital, hospital plans have been completed on this campus to prevent such occurrence from happening here. Excavation work has been commenced under the office of the hospital to provide for a modern, fire-proof and air-tight film room that will act as a safeguard for those in the college infirmary. Adjacent to the film room will be built a food storage that will fill a long-felt need in the hospital dietetic work.

Ten-inch steam lines in the west tunnel have been in the process of replacement for the past few weeks. Contractors working all night on many occasions to complete the work. A 14-inch line, 60 feet long was installed leading from the power house to the Engineering building, thence a 40-foot 12-inch line was laid to the Memorial Tower. Transferred to the new lines was made with only one shut-off in the steam that being occasioned last week for a few hours. Plans for a new basketball floor in the armory have not interrupted modernizing the ventilation of the gym to accommodate the expected large crowds on the old floor. Work of installing a new humidifier and erection of a foal-air outlet in the ceiling is now under way and will be completed shortly.

Removal of all poultry equipment to the new plant on Harrison road has left vacant the old sheds behind the Veterinary building. Two of these structures and an experimental dairy barn all in bad condition will shortly be offered for sale to be wrecked, it was announced today. Ground officials are again making arrangements for the annual significant electrically-lighted Christmas tree that is an annual part of the college Yuletide program.

Group picture appointments for the 1930 Wolverine previously set for next Sunday morning will not be held at that time it was announced today by Harlow Meritt, business manager. Extreme congestion of appointments has so overloaded the staff of LeClear studios in Lansing, society and student pictures have been postponed to a future date.

General Electric Announces Coffin Fellowship Plans

The Charles A. Coffin foundation, established some years ago by the General Electric company, has announced that applications are now being made for the Charles A. Coffin Fellowships for 1930-31.

The terms of the Charles A. Coffin foundation made provisions for the award of five thousand dollars annually for fellowships to graduates of the universities, colleges, and technical schools throughout the United States who have shown by the character of their work that they could with advantage undertake or continue research work in educational institutions either in this country or abroad.

The fields in which these fellowships are to be awarded are Electrical Engineering and Physical Chemistry. The committee, composed of Mr. Gano Dunn, representing the National Academy of Sciences, Mr. R. I. Bess, representing the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, and Mr. Harold A. Smith, representing the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, desires to make the awards to men who without financial assistance would be unable to devote themselves to research work. The fellowships will carry a minimum allowance of five hundred dollars. This allowance may be increased to meet the special needs of applicants to whom the committee decides to award the Fellowship.

Candidates for the Charles A. Coffin Fellowships should file applications on forms provided for that purpose, and obtainable from the secretary. Applications and be welcomed from men having to do research work as a part of the requirements for an advanced degree as well as graduates of universities, colleges, and technical schools, but any award to a senior will be conditioned upon his graduation.

The committee requests that all applications first be sent to the dean of the educational institution at which the applicant is or has been in attendance within the year. The committee desires that the dean or other college executive in turn file all the applications received by him at the same time, together with a statement naming the two men applying who in his opinion or the opinion of the faculty are best qualified to receive the award.

Applications must be filed with the committee by March 1, 1930, and should be addressed to secretary, Charles A. Coffin Foundation, Schenectady, N. Y.

VAN ALSTYNE POINTS TO SYRACUSE GAME WITH STRENUOUS CAGE DRILL AS TEAM NEARS TIP-TOP CONDITION

Syracuse Game to Be First Real Test of Spartan Court Men Jan. 1; Gridmen Report of Practice Sessions; Rangy Centers Haun and Schau Fight for Pivot Position.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne is drilling his Spartan cagers strenuously every day in preparation for the Syracuse game, now only a little over three weeks away. Practice is being held each afternoon during the week except Wednesday, when the session is held in the evening. As has been the previous custom, the boys are drilling extensively on the fundamentals, such as shooting, baskets, dribbling, passing and defense systems. Scrimmages have also played a large part in conditioning the men for the initial fray of the season on Jan. 1.

From all reports received at the athletic office, the season's opener is due to be anything but a setup. Syracuse is reputed to have an exceptionally strong quintet this year as in previous years. The Spartan hardwood artists will have a chance to show their mettle from the very start.

Van Alstyne has found a combination which he has used extensively in practice to good advantage. Van Zyl and Don Grove have been working smoothly together in the scrimmages at the forward jobs with Haun and Scott at guards. Boeskoel and Haun have been alternating at the pivot post in the absence of Totten, who has been sick. It is expected that the latter will rejoin the squad after Christmas, however. Although this combination has been used a great deal, it does not mean that these men are sure of their respective positions, as other men have also been showing up well and are making them look to their laurels.

The two new additions to the squad, Roger Grove and Henry "Duke" Schau, guards, are gradually getting in basketball trim after a strenuous season on the gridiron.

The boys will be permitted to leave school after their exams are over, and will report for practice again directly after Christmas, Dec. 26. The team will be picked then from the men who have passed their final exams safely. Van Alstyne is planning to carry as many sophomores on the squad as possible so that these men will have had plenty of experience and be ready to step into the vacant berths left by graduation.

Those who return to school in time to witness the initial game will be assured of a hard, fast clash. Both the New Yorkers and the Spartans will be able to boast speedy clubs this season.

"I think Disraeli will find much favor with the public and greatly increase and yet the public approved it, and it represents the finest traditions of literary craftsmanship," says George Arliss, veteran stage star who plays the title role of this Warner Brothers' Vitaphone picture which comes to the State theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Arliss, in addition to being one of the foremost character actors of the American and English stages, is also an author of note.

"The literary quality of the lines and the dramatic construction of Disraeli are excellent," says Arliss. "Louis N. Parker's original play was highly praised from the standpoint of literary craftsmanship and the talking version has lost none of this quality. If anything, I believe it has been augmented. It is a solid, substantial and tautly dramatic play, and there is a good love story. However, I do not believe a love story is essential to a good play. One of my most popular plays was 'Old English,' the story of an old man, who had been something of a gay rip in his day. There was no love story at all, and yet the public approved it, and it was one of the most popular plays in which I've ever appeared, packing theaters everywhere. 'The Green God,' the title role of this Warner Brothers' Vitaphone picture which comes to the State theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

RICHARD DIX COMES TO STATE IN 'LOVE DOCTOR'

Here are the three rules for love, as laid down by 'The Love Doctor' coming to the State theater next Friday and Saturday, and which cause all the lovers to tremble. First, if you fall in love, say so. If you like, but never let the loved one be quite sure you mean it. Second, make yourself scarce. Be as devoted as you like but don't always be on hand. Third, try and make the loved one jealous.

Richard Dix as 'The Love Doctor' the story from the famous play, 'The Boomerang,' has an awful time escaping his own advice. He being under the illusion that you can forget heart troubles.

'The Love Doctor' is a snappy farce of a young doctor and his society patients, suffering from all sorts of horrible maladies. The women he cures with his kind words, the men with his lovely nurses. Then comes the day when he finds that he is madly in love with one of his nurses, but a young blonde society deb thinks otherwise and goes out to get her man. She almost does—until she finds that the doctor intends to take her with him to an insane asylum and give her all kinds of notables as associates.

STUDENTS GIVE TALK AT GEOGANGUE MEET

Geology Club Plans Series of Lecture Meetings in Future.

A regular meeting of the "Geogangue" club was held December 3, 1929. The most important business of the meeting was two talks given respectively by two students, Lyle Price and Gerald Eddy, on their experiences with the State Geological Survey during the summer.

The club plans to carry the meetings on through the winter term with special speakers every three weeks. Mr. R. A. Smith of the State Geological Department of Lansing will probably give the first talk. His speech will be on limestone of Michigan.

W. A. Kelly of the geology department is to give a speech before a meeting of the Geological Society of America to be held in Washington, D. C. the latter part of this month. Mr. Kelly's talk will be on "The Pennsylvania of Michigan."
