SOPH PROM DATE SET FOR FEB. 28

Annual Second-Year Formal Definitely Under Way; Held Class Meeting Tuesday.

Friday, February 26, was definitely chosen as the date for the annual Sophomore Prom at a second-year class meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of Old Hall.

Complete committee lists having been announced the first of this week, detailed preparations for the major underclass formal of the year are under way.

Directed by Frank Coover, general chairman, five committees are at work on plans for what promises to be one of the most unique and complete underclass parties in the history of the college. Distinctive favors, a national known orchestra, and unusual decorations are in the plan of the group.

A call for sophomore swimmers to compete in the approaching tournament was issued by Howard Jaehne, class president, and members were asked to nominate. A total of 400 swimmers from each of the four divisions of the college. Male members of the class were reminded that with the return to school, new problems in freshman class discipline confronted the class.

The women's major courses in physical education have proved popular this term according to Miss Helen Grimes, head of the department, who reports the following enrollment: 400 in the first semester, 400 in the second semester, 400 in the third semester, 400 in the fourth semester.

The field work plans for the spring term of the course in geology includes only one trip. This trip plans to be very extensive and it is hoped to cover the entire state. They plan to go through the east side of the Upper Peninsula to the Keweenaw copper district. They also plan to go through the copper and iron mines and quarries in that region.

Altogether the expedition is planned to cover about 1000 miles, and it is probable that they will take many side trips to various places of interest.

These events have been scheduled for the Union ballroom for the remainder of the month. It is expected that several more will be added within a short time. These shows for the ballroom may be made at the Union desk. The scheduled events are as follows: Jan. 12 - Sigma Theta Chi club dinner-dance; Jan. 18 - Union party; Jan. 22 - Michigan Press Association meeting; Jan. 25 - Lions club dinner.

Among the new arrivals on the campus this term are the seven books which have just recently been acquired by the library. Department. The books are: a specially equipped issue just behind the zoological department; The department is beginning a study of the life and habits of the leeches, which were brought here from the state department of conservation.

SHORT COURSE HEARS TALKS

Interesting Programs Given in Ag. Hall by Prominent People.

The Short Course Hour Program held in Room 402 of Ag. Hall every Wednesday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:00 was first inaugurated at the beginning of the term just completed. The idea of having such an institution is so that the students may meet and hear addresses given by leading farmers, editors of agricultural publications, and other persons prominent in the field of agriculture. This program is open to all and not to students of the Short Courses alone.

At the meeting held Wednesday, Jan. 15, 1930, President Shaw gave an address to the students. Prof. Clark gave the students a demonstration on the use of gases. This meeting was held in the Chemistry building.

On Wednesday, Jan. 22, 1930, Dean Gedzie (Uncle Frank), college historian, will address the meeting on side-lights of Michigan State College history. At this meeting B. A. Smith of the State Department of Conservation will also speak, his subject being the oil situation in Michigan. This meeting will also be held in the Chemistry building.

Wednesday, Jan. 29, 1930, the students will hear a paper by Prof. H. S. Gentry, Supervisor of Publications on "The Selection and Use of Short Course Publications." Mr. W. C. Gealey of the State Department of Agriculture will tell the students about the inspection service of the State Department of Pests and Pesticides. This meeting will be held in Room 402 of Ag. Hall, and all meetings thereafter will also be held there.

Since the time for Wolverine photographs has rolled around again and the campus is deluged with a flood of little white cards, most of us anticipate an ordeal about as joyous as a visit to the dentist. Each of us has all too many photographs packed away in the trunk of our car, and you are arranging to have any further photographs taken.

Remembering such previous situations, one enters the photographer's reception room with a feeling of impending disaster. The room itself could be called cheerful and restful, or just victims ranged around the wall, eye you with disconcerting intensity. After arranging your card and you, facing the office girl that you don't need a dozen pictures, she tells you to enter the room to be washed, you enter the room to be washed, you enter the room to be washed, you enter the room to be washed.

Meanwhile, the photographer has been making a few preliminary orders for the black curtain. He now enters looking a little and takes some and enters you to come in. You see doubtless, he is coming you to look natural. You are momentarily at one's disposal for words. More repeated looking now. You are being taken to the toilet. You finally make up your mind to get on with it.

VICTORY DAY OBSERVED TEA DANCES PROVE TO BE POPULAR WITH STUDENTS

Students hurrying home for lunch Thursday noon were pleasantly surprised to hear music issuing from the general direction of the Beaumont Memorial tower. It was well attended by both men and women, although the men were being played by Leroy R. Stron, of the accounting department, in celebration of Victory Day, the twelfth anniversary of the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment.

An unusual drink, then another one. He looks baffled, but gives up and presses the bulb for an endless space of time, while the smirk wobbles all over your face. Click! "That's all. Good-bay, Critterden. Union present."

The afternoon meal hour is becoming more and more popular, and bids fair to become a universal form of entertainment with the students during the afternoon on which it is held. It is planned to have different college combinations furnish the music throughout the term, according to Bernard Critterden, Union president.

SPARTANS DROP CLOSE CONTEST TO BETHANY COLLEGE, 36 TO 27; TO PLAY CARNEGIE TECH TONIGHT

State Defeated in Hotly Contested Game on Eastern Court; Ed Scott Shows Way With 13 Points; Captain Van Zyl on Bench.

BETHANY, W. VA., Jan. 17.—The Michigan State college basketball team left here last night for Pittsburgh, Pa., where they will meet Carnegie Technical Institute tonight. Coach Ben Van Alstyne's Spartan basketball team dropped the powerful Bethany college team last night, by a score of 36 to 27. The game here was hotly contested and the score was close throughout, although the Bisons of the east managed to hold a slight edge during all of the game.

The Bethany basketball players played "heads up" basketball at all times to turn back the mid-western five. The locals also flashed a deceptive offense and Michigan State was unable to throw up a defense which could cope with it successfully. However, the Spartans played plucky basketball throughout and rendered a good account of themselves.

Ed Scott, stocky Spartan guard, played a stellar game for the invaders. He got loose to score six baskets from the floor and counted once from the foul line for 13 points and high scoring honors. Two hit tosses, was next in line in State scoring with six points. Don Grove sank a basket from the floor and two from the foul line for four points. Haun sunk two shots from the penalty stripe for as many tallies and Den Herder and Roger Grove each scored one point.

Don Grove holding high scoring mark. Coach Van Alstyne anxious to see Spartans capture Roll-Up More Points.

Don Grove midget forward holds the basketball scoring lead to date. The Spartan flash has rolled up 22 points for Michigan State. Art Haga, Coach Ben Van Alstyne's blonde guard, is in second place with 18 points.

The 1930 State quintet has not shown the scoring powers to roll up large totals scored by other Van Alstyne-coached court machines. They have hit the 30 mark only once and against Syracuse the Spartans scored only 19 points. This condition has given the State coach mentor plenty to worry about.

Six men made all the scores in the first three games and rank as follows:

Player	FG	FT	Pts.
Don Grove	7	8	22
Haga	8	2	18
Scott	4	4	12
Den Herder	5	0	10
Van Zyl	2	3	7
Haun	3	0	6
Totals	29	17	75
