A review of Goldoni's 'The Mistress of the Inn' by Robert Graham

There's nothing pleasant about reviewing a play which didn't click—it's too much like hitting a fellow when he's down. But one of the purposes of a criticism is to tell the truth of things. It just happens that this time the truth isn't as pleasant as it might have been about Theta Alpha Phi's last production.

The fact that "The Mistress of the Inn" broke no popularity records was not the fault of the actors, or of the staging. It was almost entirely the result of an unfortunate choice of a play. Which lets the blame for its mediocrity fall on the shoulders of Director King. Who picked it.

A story without much action, plot or humor is found not to get very far with the modern audience. Such an audience wants excitement, suspense and snap, or a lot of laughs. It would be pretty hard to mix such things with the antiquated formality of Goldoni's work. Whether the play was intended as a quaint bit of life in the olden days, or as a satirical miniature of the human world kept lively by woman, the audience failed to notice. Now-days they don't look for and don't care for such subtleties.

Not only is "The Mistress of the Inn" the sort of play which doesn't appeal to the public, but it is the sort which is entirely foreign to the experience and special abilities of college players—avoid as a consequence of any chance for the well-known collegiate spontaneity. Ad together these two things—unsuitability to the public and to the actors—and the result is inevitably just the result Theta Alpha Phi got last Tuesday night, a lukewarm response from a half-filled theatre.

THE 1930 UNION OPERA—

Once a year it is the custom of the college Union to present a college musical show as somewhat of a splurge for the students and if possible, to bring some financial reimbursement into the Union building treasury. The show is managed, advertised, promoted, and finally cast by students of the college. It involves a great amount of expense, and is put on only by hard work and the sacrifice of many hours leisure time.

You may say at once, "Then discontinue it." But do not wish that. It is the only thing of its kind attempted during the college year, and it seems to possess that bit of glamour, that bit of jazz, which is becoming to a college campus.

The Union building has done much to serve the students and to serve those groups which visit our campus. It is a general gathering place, a center of news, the all-inclusive club of the campus. It is hard, always hard, to ask financial help from the students, but this is the only time of year when the Union does ask such help and they have something to offer in return. The old system of a Union subscription drive has been discontinued.

The Union Opera is a student project and needs student support, and as for the 1930 show, "Page the Prince," we sincerely believe that it is going to be good.

OBJECTIONS TO BOOING—

Of late there has been a far too-evident amount of booing at college basketball games, a practice which is contrary to our ideals of sportsmanship and offensive to our rules of college conduct. Booing is not in keeping with the general attitude of the student body, and we request that those few men who have made their presence so obvious whenever the decision is against our team should correct themselves. Their efforts are not productive of results, but tend only to antagonize the referee and to give an exceptionally poor impression of our college to the visiting team and to spectators. Furthermore booing has been known to lose more games than it has ever won.

It is unfortunate that just a few students can lower the standards of the entire college, and it is up to the rest of us to see that such practice is stopped. We have a captain on the floor who will look out for the interests of his team when he feels the decisions are unjust. Our job is to give the team our support, and not to enter our complaints in the form of boos.

FARMERS' WEEK VISITORS—

Next week will find the campus thronged by many visitors for farmers' week. Some of these guests of the college, may be alumni, some may be parents of students now in college, and some will undoubtedly be making their first trip to the campus. It is up to the students of the college to carry on the old tradition of hospitality and make these people feel welcome.

We are glad that our campus is chosen for such a gathering, for we are proud of the fact that our college was the first to be given over to the science of agriculture. We are primarily an agricultural institution, and though we have grown and spread out into other divisions, we point with pride to our origin. All of us must take part in helping these visitors to carry away with them a wonderful impression of our campus and its student body.

WE APPRECIATE IT—

It was somewhat of a source of pride to us on Tuesday of this week when the Lansing Merchants' association banqueted our football team and staff of coaches. We like to feel that we have the support of the people of Lansing. We are so close to them that we need their support. And when they do things for us, for the college, and the team, we appreciate it.

When the college Varsity meets Marquette on the floor tonight be on the sidelines to give them your support. There are several hard games in the next two weeks and it is going to be a long, hard pull.

CHORUS GIRLS REHEARSE FOR OPENING NIGHT

of him director W. D. Judd is beginning to piece the show together and is getting things in smooth working order for opening night. Photographs of the scenery show a most decorative setting, and the costumes are promised to be artistic and colorful.

Tickets are on sale at the present time at the Union desk and the box office of the Gladimir theater. The show will be shown on Thursday evening, Friday afternoon, and Friday evening. The Friday evening presentation will mark one of the greatest social events of the college, since it is on the same evening as the J-Hop and a large number of party guests will be included in the audience.

ANNOUNCE LEADERS FOR J-HOP GRAND MARCH

Claude Stroh, chairman of the decorations committee, are planned and will be put up late next week. The programs and favors have arrived and several acts of an unique nature have been arranged.

Considerable interest has been aroused on the campus concerning the identity of the orchestra which will furnish the music for the event. The name has been withheld but it is promised that happy music will be forthcoming. Stewart Wisby, chairman of the music committee, has signed up a nationally recognized dance band from the east and will announce the name next week.

STRONG MARQUETTE U. QUINTET TO MEET STATE HERE TONIGHT: HOPE SNOWED UNDER, 55 TO 16

Reserves Play Most of Game Against Dutchmen Tuesday; Don Grove Again Shows Way by Scoring 10 Points; Pinneo Flashes Good Form.

THE powerful Marquette university basketball team from Milwaukee, Wis., will play Michigan State in Demonstration hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Marquette will present a team that has great offensive power and has rolled up large scores in every game this season. The visitors have won six of their 11 games and have met some of the strongest teams in the country and hold a victory over Iowa State university, recently expelled Western Conference school.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne is reasonably well satisfied with his Spartan lineup. The Grove brothers, Don and Roger, are due to hold down the forward positions, with Fred Den Herder at center and Wayne Scott and Art Haga playing guard.

State scored her most impressive victory of the season over Hope college Tuesday evening. Twenty-six athletes, 16 of them wearing the Green and White of State, saw action in the game from which the Spartans emerged with an easy 55 to 16 victory to their credit. Coach Van Alstyne's regulars played about 15 minutes of the game with the Dutchmen and collected 31 points. The reserves garnered the remaining 24 points.

The Spartans scored 25 field goals and five free throws to win in a one-sided manner. The stalwart State defense held the Wooden Shoes to four baskets from the floor and eight from the foul line. The Green and White offense baffled the Hope cagers and bewildered them to such an extent that they were even unable to make a usual percentage of their free throws.

Don Grove, battling Spartan mite, was not to be denied high scoring honors and, although he only played about 15 minutes, he came through with 10 points as the result of five field goals. Dee Pinneo, another diminutive forward, was close on Don's heels with nine tallies. Pinneo sunk four field goals and displayed an unusually good eye for the basket. Scott also scored nine tallies and Haga made eight points.

Reserves Score Heavily

The Spartans reserves took the floor at the start of the game and were ahead 14 to 2 when 10 minutes of the game had elapsed. The State seconds continued to score and held a top-heavy lead, 18 to 7, at half time. The Dutch were held to one field goal during the first half.

Coach Van Alstyne sent his regulars into the game at the start of the second period and during their stay in the game Hope was dumbfounded by the speed and accurate shooting flashed by State. The Wooden Shoes scored three more points on gift tosses during

BANQUET GIVEN FOOTBALL SQUAD

Merchants Association Invites Grid Team; Zuppke Main Speaker.

The 1929 Michigan State college football squad was banqueted by the Merchants' association at the Hotel Downey Tuesday evening. The main address was given by Robert (Bob) Zuppke, football coach of the University of Illinois. C. C. Carlton, secretary of the Motor Wheel Corporation, presided as toastmaster. President Robert S. Shaw, Ralph H. Young, director of athletics, and Coach James H. Crowley made brief addresses before Zuppke spoke. The football players were introduced by Crowley. The staff of the physical education department of the college was also present.

Zuppke said: "One point out of every ten made in Bulletin No. 23 of the Carnegie foundation report on intercollegiate athletics is based on fact—the other nine are born hearsay. He mentioned the report in defense of modern intercollegiate athletics, particularly football."

Those who relish juicy pies are now due for a grand surprise.

Yearling Wrestlers Engage "Dad" Pinneo's Squad Saturday.

Freshmen matmen engage in their first meet of the season this Saturday afternoon. They will meet the grapplers of the Grand Rapids "Y" in the local gym at four o'clock. Coach George "Dad" Pinneo, a national authority in wrestling, always develops a powerful team at Grand Rapids so that frosh grapplers will be assured plenty of opposition.

There will be twelve matches Saturday afternoon all of which should furnish plenty of excitement. Eliminations are being held in the freshman wrestling squad this week to determine State's entries in the meet. Those entered in the eliminations are:

COACH DENIES PRESS RUMOR

Van Alstyne Declares That Michigan Made No Request on Style of Play.

In view of the fact that a very misleading headline and story recently appearing in a metropolitan newspaper has placed Coach Venker of the University of Michigan basketball team as well as Coach Benjamin Van Alstyne of the State court five in an erroneous light, the Spartan mentor made a short statement today.

Coach Van Alstyne stated that the University of Michigan has never asked Michigan State to use any particular style of play whatever. This contradicts the article that was printed some time ago that told of the University's request that the Spartans refrain from using their well known "zone defense" in the annual Wolverine-State game to be played in East Lansing on Saturday evening, February 15.

In discussing the matter, Coach Van Alstyne said that all Big Ten schools are reticent toward scheduling zone defensive team but that this has no particular bearing on the game here this year.

It is true, he continued, "that often in the past the State five has used the so-called zone defense when playing on the small floor in the old gymnasium but very seldom when playing on large floors. With the advent of the large floor in the armory-field house, we have gradually worked into a strict man to man type of defensive play so common to most of the larger institutions."

FRESH RUNNERS DOPED FOR WIN

Tryouts Give Edge Over Sophs for Events to Come in Indoor Meet.

With the initial heats and tryouts of the annual freshman-sophomore indoor track meet run off Thursday afternoon, the event is off to a good start. From all previous dope, the favor seems to be with the yearlings, who should win the meet handily. The frosh entries far outnumber the sophomores, who have only one or two men entered in several of the events.

In the 40-yard high and low hurdles, the advantage is all with the first year men, their rivals having no men up for this event at present. This promises to be a real fight among the youngsters. Several men prominent in high school hurdling are to race against each other for first place.

Most of the men who participated in the interclass meet last fall will be seen in action tomorrow. The pole vault promises to be among the most interesting and hotly contested competitions of the day. Prominent among the contestants are Moulthrop, Arbogast and Fairhall of the frosh team and Carlisle, who alone will try to win honors for the sophs.

The 220-yard dash was run off yesterday, and the finals in the 800 will be completed this afternoon. The trials and semi-final heats in the 40-yard dash and the hurdles will also be held this afternoon.

Four men will be entered in each race, and three places will be given. The selections will include the four best men in each event, regardless of their class.

The meet will start at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon in the gym.

has hardly started yet, real enthusiasm is being shown. At present their work is mainly with fundamentals, but it is expected that enough will have been accomplished by April to put on the exhibit. The participants will be chosen by Miss Darland from the girls out for W. A. A. dancing. Those who take part in the event will receive 50 points beyond those given for attendance at 10 practices.
