DORMITORY ACCOMMODATIONS—

The action of the State Board in providing for a new women's dormitory brings another step in the general forward trend of the college and its facilities. The congested rooming conditions early in last fall term with the necessity for increased numbers of freshman girls living off-campus was sorely felt by the college authorities as a most deplorable situation and tended to get freshman co-eds off to a rather poor start in their college life.

It is our hope that some day there will be suitable and sufficient dormitory space for freshman men as well as women. We do not believe that all of the freshman men are competent to be left on their own during their first months of college. Many of them isolate themselves in cheap boarding house rooms which are a detriment to their health and to their studies, and they become despondent and discouraged. Others hurry into fraternity houses where they are liable to forget their purpose in coming to college or discover too late that they are with the wrong group.

It is our belief therefore that freshman men should be brought together under proper and supervised rooming conditions where they would have an opportunity to meet one another on common ground, and where they would have proper environment for hard study. We believe also that a freshman men's dormitory would have great influence in changing the present system of hectic rushing, in that fraternities would not of necessity need to relieve the pressure caused by inadequate rooming facilities.

We believe that we have the favorable support of many college authorities in this opinion, and we hope that some day the possibility of such a plan will become a reality.

ALUMNI FEE OFFER—

The special offer of a reduced fee to members of the graduating class by the college Alumni association presents not only an economic saving but a logical opportunity as well.

By actual figures those taking advantage of the opportunity will make a saving of two dollars and at the same time receive all the benefits of being an active member of the Alumni association.

In the second place, is it not logically sound that we should become active members of the alumni association of the school from which we graduate? For the two years immediately following graduation we will most especially want to keep in touch with the campus, for it is at that time that our friends, fraternity brothers, team mates, sorority sisters, men and women whom we know, are still on the campus and carrying on the affairs of college life. The M. S. C. Record makes possible that contact with the campus.

Years later, after the first ambitious struggle for success, we will once more turn our thoughts collegeward and wonder what changes have taken place on the campus and what has become of the old gang. Through the alumni association we will be able in part to maintain that touch with the campus which will not let us draw too far apart from the old Alma Mater.

We believe that the senior class will be doing a wise thing if it takes advantage of this special two-year offer and transfers immediately upon graduation from the role of active students to that of active alumni. We hope, therefore, that if this matter is brought before the all-college elections for vote by the class, that they will give the matter their honest and whole-hearted support.

Announce Three Events Scheduled for the Month of March.

Three activities are planned for students during the month of March by officials of the Peoples church, including a play by members of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., a trip to Detroit by the social service class, and the last vesper service of the winter term.

Miss Neva Lovewell, director of religious education, will supervise the trip to Detroit where the social service class will visit a convalescent hospital and an orphanage. Any outsiders with cars are invited to join the group.

The last vesper service of the term will be held in the Women's Parlor of the church at 4 o'clock on Sunday, March 2. Mrs. McCune will read two plays and special music will be provided. Attendance will be appreciated.

STEWART RETURNS FROM TRIP THOUGH EAST

Glen O. Stewart, secretary of the alumni association, has returned to Lansing after a week's tour of the east where he attended meetings of the various alumni clubs.

Tuesday he spoke at a meeting of the western New York club at Rochester, New York. Wednesday at a meeting of the Pittsburgh club. Friday at a meeting of the Washington, D. C. club, and Saturday at a meeting of the Cleveland club.

Stewart reports an enjoyable trip and states that all of the meetings were well attended. He had originally planned to include Buffalo in his tour but plans for the forming of an alumni club there have not materialized and he will not visit this city until later in the year. While in Rochester he met Judge Carberry who, with Stewart was a speaker on the program there. Carberry states that he plans to return to Lansing during the second week of April to be present at the spring practice session of the football team.

ARE LANSING CABMEN AND SPARTAN CO-EDS PARTNERS IN CRIME?

State News Unearths Collusion Between Fair Sex and Taxi-
men to "Gyp" Mere Males

Michigan State college is the taxi-driver's dream of Paradise. This fact was revealed by an under-cover man of the Michigan State News lying in hiding in the office of one of the largest taxi companies in Lansing. The depth of chicanery to which campus co-eds will descend was discovered and conserved by the reporter who was concealed in a manner belittling such dark deeds.

The undisputed testimony is as follows: "In that lack-a-daisical, nasal tone that we always hear when we call for our week-end cabs, 'Don't let me catch anybody trotting off to the depot or hotel stands tonight, youse guys, cause tonight we go to town and make up for the red we wrote all week. Tonight, gang, is college night when all the rah-rah boys shake their girls to a party. And we are the boys that come out on top."

We've worked all week to get contracts with some of the best societies on the campus for their guarantee to keep every taxi and the poor sucker that's paying the meters waiting at least fifteen minutes after the time of their date. And boys, while they wait we reap the profits. Every last-minute dab of powder that them buns put on is just so much more gravy for us and so much grief for your old friends, the college boys. So let's go to bat, gang. I've worked long and hard to get those M. S. C. co-eds to agree to this, and gosh but they're grasping—I had to pay some of the snootier ones."

Edward Everett Horton leads the Vitaphone farce-comedy, which was produced by Warner Brothers, and which comes to the State Friday and Saturday. Patsy Ruth Miller, Johnny

Arthur, Lee Moran, Edward Martindel,
Armand Kalz, Kewpie Morgan, Phillips
Smalley and many others play prominent roles in the screen play, which was adapted by Robert Lord and Arthur Caesar from the original stage play by James Montgomery. Roy Del Ruth directed.

CHAS. KING AND BESSIE

LOVE TOGETHER AGAIN

King, who made the "You Were Meant For Me" and "Broadway Melody" hits in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first musical extravaganza, and who scored again with "Your Mother and Mine" in the Hollywood review of 1929,
for years has been crooning to audiences from the musical comedy stage.

Now teamed with Bessie Love with whom he made his talking debut, he is singing tender ballads in "Chasing Rainbows," which plays Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Co-eds Dressing for Formal Resemble Naval Conference

To look at the student body being partied on a week-end night in all its well-groomed glory of tux and formal gown one would imagine a long and laborious preparation for such stepping out. All of which applies, illustrates the weakness of human judgment.

The masculine wrestling with his hard boiled shirt, whenever between fifteen and five minutes before he hopped out of his collegiate "can" to call for the fair co-ed.

The friend usually takes fifteen more minutes to perform those mysterious rites above stairs that cause him
to wonder if she's making the dress.
About that time she is probably searching frantically in the cavernous depths of her closet among fifteen pairs of shoes for her party slippers. They innocently enough may emerge from the deeper shades in various stages of disrepair and looking completely blotto.

It's a rare evening when there's any hot water. If you are lucky and speak for the previous weeks ahead, your name may be fifth on the shower schedule. If not, well you can be number thirteen and suffer the consequences.

The one good mirror in the house has a waiting line of at least eight around it. There is much dashing about to borrow neckties, to help the sister put on their long hair or to give the room a last minute scrubbing. Pins are at a premium. The contents of dresser drawers are thrown sky high. And though it all one nearly breaks a ling in the midst of the racket to ask one's room-mate if she's seen that compact, only to discover that it is even then going out to a party in someone's else's dimstone purse.

About that time a hard working pledge comes up to announce that above mentioned escort has all but worn out the carpet and is nearing the boiling point. This is the moment to dash headlong into the formal, run a comb through the unruly bob, and make an effectively speedy journey downwards.

Scabbard and Blade Captures Campus

Initiation of Scabbard and Blade occasioned a warlike and martial atmosphere on campus last Tuesday night when the 20 prospective members invaded the college grounds and maintained a strict watch throughout the entire night.

Many rounds of blank cartridges were fired in the course of the melee which caused some apprehension on the part of those not familiar with the good old custom.

Each initiate was required to do sentry duty at some thorofare on the campus. Stray passersby were halted at the point of the gun to ascertain their identity and although some demurred at the unconventional procedure, the soldiers held possession.

IT HAD TO BE GOOD TO GET WHERE IT IS

STATE'S GREATEST CAGE SQUAD IS TO BECOME HISTORY SATURDAY IN LAST SCRAP AT MARQUETTE

Three of Famous Fighting Spartans That Have Gained National Renown in Past Three Years to Play Last Game Together and Become Part of Michigan State Tradition.

THE GREATEST basketball team that has represented Michigan State in many years will pass into history Saturday evening at Milwaukee, Wis., when the famous Spartan basketball team who have been blazing a trail through some of the most powerful teams in the middle west will close its season against Marquette university.

With the playing of the Hill-toppers, the combination that Coach Ben F. Van Alstyne has been depending upon for three years will be taken up. Three members will close their collegiate basketball careers in this game.

Regulars who will make their final appearance are Don Grove, guard forward, Fred Den Herder, center, and Captain Jimmy Van Zyl, forward. These three athletes have formed the nucleus for State's winning court combination for three seasons and next year the Spartan cage mentor must begin virtually at the bottom of the heap again, building up another team.

Previous to playing of the University of Michigan game here a short time ago which State won in a thrilling finish, 27 to 26, Coach Van Alstyne said that he feared Marquette more than any team remaining on the schedule. Notre Dame and Hillsdale college were still to be met at that time. His statement seems to indicate that he expects his proteges to encounter a stiff battle.

Marquette gave State one of the hardest fights of the season in a game played here early in the year. Coach Cord Lips' team led until the last 10 minutes of play and the Spartans finally drove through to win 24 to 17.

Coach Van Alstyne and nine members of his Green and White court squad planned to leave Friday morning at 9 o'clock for Milwaukee. Men making the trip are: Captain Van Zyl, Don Grove, Roger Grove, Den Herder, Scott Haga, Boeskoof, Haun and Schan.

Kappa Alpha Theta took third honors with 11 points. The cup this year was taken from Chi Omega who has held it for the past two years.

Stars of the meet, that attracted a large crowd to the pool, were Dorothy Bowditch, Alpha Gamma Delta, who made 8 points; Marion Marks, Alpha Gamma Delta, with 7 points won; and Rose Morgan, Alpha Phi, and Dorothy Leith, Chi Omega, who each garnered five points.

Summary for the meet in order of placing: Back stroke, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa, and Alpha Phi.

To Hold Volley Ball Tourney

The first volleyball tournament will be held Saturday, March 1. It will be held in the gym annex at 9 o'clock. The freshmen and sophomores will play the seniors.

FRESHMAN WRESTLERS WALLOP SHORT COURSE

State's freshman wrestling team completely annihilated the Short Course grapplers on Wednesday night to the tune of 35 to 5 in the local gym. The match was unique in that every match was decided in a fall, some of which were made with great speed.

Corbin was the only Short Course man to win a bout this gathering the lone five points for his team. E. Tompkins made the most sensational and quickest fall of the afternoon pinning his man in 1 minute and 29 seconds. Tonight the freshman meet the Grand Rapids Y team in a return match at Grand Rapids.

STATE LOSES IN ANN ARBOR MEET

Spartans Take Few Places in Triangular Contest With U. of M. and Ypsi.

As was expected, the University of Michigan and Michigan State Normal college track teams finished ahead of Michigan State in a triangular track meet held at Ann Arbor, Thursday evening. The Wolverine tracksters ran off with first honors by amassing 63 points, the Ypsilanti team was a strong second with 39 points and the Spartans trailed woefully, scoring only 16 points.

Lauren P. Brown, distance ace of the State squad who won an all-American ranking in the two-mile run last year, dropped his favorite event to Arnett of Michigan who jumped over the distance to set a new field house record. It was the second time this season that Brown has been defeated, losing in the Marquette meet also.

Three State men placed, with the exception of Brown. Russell got a second in the high hurdles with Ypsilanti. Dill ranked third in the shot put.

Freshman convocation called for Tuesday was indefinitely postponed due to the absence of President R. S. Shaw, who was called to the bedside of his mother.

Michigan State's first swimmer found up their season Wednesday by being in a strong team wearing the emblem of the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. by a count of 45-32. Dumbert's men were pretty well worn out from a strenuous schedule that took them out and back to the Grand Rapids and Ypsilanti, turning in a season over the State was woefully off from through-

Among the winners under the "Y" colors were Western State, and Michigan as two tankmen who were in the freshman team last year. The captain for next season elected within a week.
