1930 CAP NIGHT SURPASSES ALL FORMER EVENTS

Smooth Program and Excellent Weather Draws Record Attendance.

EXCALIBUR SELECTS

Carruthers, Grove, Breen, Scott, and Pratt Named as Members.

Thousands of town-people and students crowded the drill field in front of the new Armory Wednesday evening to witness the huge demonstration held there to celebrate the twenty-fourth annual Cap' Night. Excellent weather conditions and the orderly enthusiasm of those taking part in the event combined to make this celebration a successful affair.

A brief program presented from the steps of Demonstration Hall opened the activities of the evening. Harold Hahn, former president of the Student Council, introduced the speakers. Douglas Carruthers, the new president of that organization, was introduced and he gave a brief talk. L. L. Phimoidig of the athletics department was the chief speaker of the evening.

Don Grove, president of the senior class, presented the traditional banner bearing the class numerals of each graduating class since 1907 to Gerald Breen, president of the class of 31. Carl Felt, president of Excalibur made the awards to the winners of the college song contest that this organization sponsored. The first prize, a silver cup, went to Professor Arthur Farwell of the Music department; the second prize of ten dollars was awarded to Eugene Hunter, a freshman, and Mr. Farwell also received the third prize of five dollars.

Excalibur honorary senior fraternity selected five new members at this time. The men chosen were: Roger Grove Sturts, Douglas Carruthers, Plymouth Wayne Scott, Fort Wayne Ind.; Gerald Breen, Holland, and William Pratt, of East Lansing.

By the time the program was finished, a giant bonfire had been lighted, and hundreds of seniors in caps and gowns marched about the blaze, casting papers and books into the fire as a symbol that their college days were over.

Led by freshman members of the college Military band, over 500 freshmen garbed only in pajamas marched around the flaming heap, shouting and Theta Alpha Phi and Home Ec. Club Sponsor Work of Amateur Thespians.

Sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary, four one-act plays will be presented in the Little Theater on Wednesday night, June 11, at 8:00 p.m. The ticket sales will be handled by the Home Economics club, and the proceeds will go to that society.

The plays which are under the direction of Prof. E. S. King, coach of college dramatics, will be presented in the following order: "The Eligible Mr. Bangs," "Fourteen," "Unseen," and "Good Medicine."

Listed in the cast of "The Eligible Mr. Bangs" are Eddie Emerson, 30, and Edward Gibbs, 31, who will take the elderly leads, and Mabel Peterson, 32, who will play the part of the juvenile opposite - Garfield, Thatcher, etc. In "Fourteen" Mrs. Christina Gunn, Loretta Gildea, 30, and Lauren Brown, 30, will comprise the cast.

Virginia Harper, Alfred O'Donnell, and Ruth Clark will present "Unseen" and Paul Younger, Gertrude Baizer, and Elizabeth Burke will be the players in "Good Medicine."

The thespians are members of dramatics courses under Prof. King and are inaugurating a plan of presenting short plays every term for the entertainment of college students.

Injured Student Is Reported to Be In Serious State

Last reports on the condition of John Williamson, Michigan State college student injured in a holiday auto crash near Waterville, Mich., indicate that slight improvement had been noticed but that the outcome of the patient's condition is still considerably in doubt.

The injured student is still unconscious and running a high fever. Only once since last Thursday when the accident occurred has she regained consciousness.

The crash happened last Thursday over the holiday period when a car driven by Charles Irrgang, Delphine house, was involved in an accident with two other cars. Two occupants of the machine besides Williamson received only slight bruises.

Captain of Motor Mower Platoon: Ditto, sir.
Captain of Dandelion Exterminator Platoon: Ditto, sir.
Captain of Corn Cutter Platoon: Ditto, sir.
Captain of Sevile Platoon: Ditto, sir.

As each captain salutes with the weapon of his platoon the Major returns the salute with a smile. He faces smartly to the rear again salutes with the spade and announces to the Colonel-Superintendent: All present and accounted for sir!

This worthy returns the salute with an axe and announces: Pass in Review.

To the music of the Elit Band, play the old hymn "Shush, Shush," the entire corps marches three times around the parade field and then steps off to the duties of the day.

Senior Presentation Sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi to Be June 17.

With the election of six coeds for the women's band the casting has been completed for the three-act comedy "Captain Jinks" which is to be presented on June 17 in the Forest of Arden. The production will be the annual spring term senior play and is written by Clyde Fitch, well known New York playwright.

Maintaining the tempo of light comedy throughout the theme of the play will be well translated by a cast of experienced actors. Beginning with the pursuit of a newly arrived prima donna when she arrives in New York from the European continent the first act swings into a fast moving plot where she is pursued by a half dozen would-be lovers and newspaper reporters.

The famous Captain Jinks, a Southern gentleman, soon finds favor in her eyes but the affair is complicated by events which implicate Jinks. The character of Jinks is played by William Montgomery, a veteran actor of Theta Alpha Phi and the Lansing Civic Playhouse, and the part of his opposite Averella is taken by Dorothy Trotter who has played in several presentations of the honorary dramatics society during the past two terms.

Prof. E. S. King, director of college dramatics for many years, is drilling the cast nightly in the Forest of Arden and is rapidly whipping the production into shape in readiness for the staging two weeks away. The outdoor setting is expected to draw a capacity crowd as has been the case in other years.

The inclusion of a live monkey, an opera ballet and a stringed orchestra in the stage effects will do much to make the play the most versatile among former productions. Emotions behind the curtain of an opera, the bustle and glamor of stage life and the star's extraordinary love affairs will be well portrayed by the talented cast which includes twenty-four.

The six women who were elected for the roles are Elizabeth Lee, Loraine Newman, Helen Tripp, Barbara Peck, Lucille Morris, and Jean Churchill. They are being coached for their parts by instructors in dancing.

SPECIAL SUMMER COURSE IS OFFERED

Is to be Given for Graduates Who Have Only Four Weeks' Vacation.

By action of the faculty and with the approval of the State Board of Agriculture, a special summer graduate course of four weeks duration has been prepared. The course is intended for college graduates who are employed as teachers of the Smith-Hughes School county agricultural agents and other extension specialists, who like Smith-Hughes teachers have but four weeks vacation during the year.

The instruction extends from July 7 to August 2. In the four weeks course only six credits may be earned in any one summer. It will be necessary for those who graduate from this course to have a total of forty-eight credits to write a thesis and to pass an oral examination. After several summers the students of this class must spend twelve consecutive weeks at the college.

All inquiries and communications regarding this special session should be mailed to Dean of Graduate School.

Surveying Lines Endangered by Gaping Botanists

New is the time for among other things field trips. Earnest botany students have tried of peering down microscopes trying to find more comfortable positions in their chairs, talking to the girl across the lab table and the like and have petitioned their instructors for field trips. Then when their requests have been granted, they arm themselves with Gray's Manual and a happy smile and dash about the campus in pursuit of knowledge.

It is becoming a very common sight to see a group gathered around some massive pine or cedar, staring upward while a perspiring professor spouts Latin and a few take notes. Then again double files of people wind in and around the botanical gardens looking at flowers and falling off the walks.

And they get in strange places. They burst out from behind banks of bushes and scare unsuspecting surveyors, they stumble over the artists because they are so eagerly examining tree-tops for insects especially for that they fail to see them and they for the event has been caused to play become lost all over the campus and open party of the term an unusually hour after class is over.

The committee have been working all week on the final arrangements for the affair. Under the direction of Howard Jaehnig, chairman, nearly everything was in readiness this afternoon.

Programs done in an unusual and clever way have been prepared and will be given to each couple. They are in two shades of blue and inscribed with the numbers of the class.

The committee on decorations under the chairmanship of Marion Kline has been active this afternoon preparing the ballroom for the party tonight. A novel scheme is being carried out in pastel shades and is expected to set the room off in an unique manner.

Latest reports from Leonard Jean, chairman of the ticket committee, are that over 300 tickets have already been sold through fraternity representatives and the Union desk. Many more are expected to be sold at the door as Detailed plans for the water carnival will be worked out Thursday and Friday. Orders have been given to Henry Morse and his committee. Orders have been given as far as possible in order that the exceedingly large demand for extra copies which may be needed without giving out books which have been subscribed for.

Gerald Eddy, chairman of the racing and tilting, is hopeful that a greater response will be given by the beginning of the week.

Work has started on the erection of the platform from which the king and queen and the judges will witness the parade of floats. Preparations have been made for an elaborate lighting effect.

The Phi Delta "playboys" Jabs" Barber and Alvin Warner have agreed to put on one of their stunts that have earned them an enviable reputation as amateur comedians. The newly founded Potters club is going to stage some water events that are expected to prove both novel and spectacular.

The event to open the open court participation is the opening of the carnival before the Memorial Tower but it provides good amusement to round out the evening's events. The committee does not wish to drop this from the program but a greater response must be had to retain in the program. Contestants may submit their names to Gerald Eddy at the Phi Delta house or the Union.

Prateries and oratories that plan to have the college erect platforms on canoes for the water carnival should put in their orders not later than Tuesday with C. O. Wilkins, comptroller at the old library building.

Special colors or music for boats should be requested through Henry Hartman.

Prof. J. B. Hasselman briefly sketched the history of the Michigan State News, recalling the beginning of the school which was known as the Holabird at that time, the adverse conditions under which it was published and the financial difficulties which had to be overcome.

Guests of honor were See H. H. Hartman, Prof. J. B. Hasselman, Paul A. Martin, Prof. A. H. Nelson, J. A. Porter, P. H. Trotter, L. M. Better, A. C. O'Donnell, Kathryn Farmer, Katherine Lynch, and Dora Worden.

M. S. C. ORCHESTRA TO HOLD CONCERT

Michael Press to Lead Musical Group at Eastern High Auditorium on June 16.

Michigan State College orchestra under the direction of Michael Press will be heard for the first time in concert at the Eastern High School auditorium Monday, June 16. Intensive work on the part of the 50 members gives promise of making the entertainment a surprise to local music lovers.

Under the leadership of Press the student orchestra has had unusual training in preparation for the program. Each string section has as a leader a veteran musician, which is expected to be a factor contributing to the success of the concert.

Elmer Solomon is concert master of the orchestra. Alexander Schuster heads the first cello, Zinovius Kogan,

A STEP UPWARD—

Cap Night is over. The long-awaited release of the frosh from stringent restrictions, the elevation of sophomores to upperclassmen, the juniors graduating to dignified seniors, and the prospective graduates severance of connections with the active student body has come at last.

To the yearlings the year has no doubt been trying; to the sophs rather exhausting, to the juniors just a few months, while to the seniors who have spent their final year on the campus, exceedingly short. The four classes have had some good times mixed in with their scholastic work. But since the Cap Night ceremonies each have stepped one notch higher to assume new and more difficult tasks.

Such an attitude as was shown at the traditional class hostility peace gathering this year is indeed gratifying not only to those campus leaders who planned the event, but also to the faculty and entire student body. A typical college spirit was manifested by the thousands of students and townsfolk that took part in the activities of the evening.

However, in speaking of the recent event, too much praise cannot be given to the Student Council committee that worked out the smooth functioning details for the ceremonies. These men are open to congratulations for the commendable manner in which they handled the affair.

NEARING THE END OF A TERM—

Within a few days the present student body will desert the familiar environment to go to their homes for the summer vacation. The one busy atmosphere of college life will temporarily subside on the campus with only now and then a spurt of activity during the summer school session. Until September to those who remain in East Lansing during the summer, the campus will be deserted and comparatively uninteresting.

At the end of the spring term the students are always glad to get through with their year's work and to get away from the campus. However, it is the general tendency that when September comes those who are fortunate enough to be able to come back, the State students are eager to return to their Alma Mater. This is, no doubt, caused by the democratic spirit which has been built up here. True spirit is surely the basis for a successful college.

During the long summer months many of the students will have the opportunity to meet recent high school graduates who are as yet undecided as to where to attend college next fall. A word at opportune moments many times carries much weight with the prospective freshman.

Michigan State has a record of which every student has a right to be proud. Loyal Spartans can contribute greatly to the success of the college by helping to induce prospective freshmen to attend Michigan State next fall.

THE 1930 WOLVERINE—

Making its appearance on the campus this week, the 1930 Wolverine has been popularly acclaimed the finest annual ever published here. The introduction of new features, a well-handled art theme, and especially fine coverage of the main campus events during the past year are instrumental in making this year's publication popular.

Few realize the immense amount of labor that is necessary to publish a book such as the Wolverine. For over a year, the staff have been working out the plans and completing the details on the largest Wolverine ever issued at Michigan State. An annual, well-edited, is a great asset to the college as it is instrumental in bringing many new students to this campus and it tends to develop more college spirit.

The News wishes to congratulate the editors and the entire staff for their diligent work in compiling the exceptionally fine 1930 Wolverine.

GEOLOGY STUDENTS RETURN FROM TOUR

Group Visited Interesting Points On Two Thousand Mile Trip.

Prof. S. G. Bergquist, head of the geology department, and eleven geology students returned Tuesday from a 2000 mile trip around the state of Michigan when they visited places of geological interest.

Particular observations were made of limestone quarries in Petoskey, Rogers City, and Alpena, a gypsum quarry in Alabastar, copper mines in Calumet, iron mines in Ironwood and Wakefield and a coal mine near Saginaw.

On these special visits the students were accompanied by mining engineers and geologists of the respective districts. Throughout the trip a study was made, also, of the features of the terrain, such as irregularity of surface waterfalls, outcroppings of rocks, and work of glaciers.

The group traveled by truck sleeping out-of-doors and preparing their own meals. L. C. Hubert of the department of conservation made a movie of the entire trip which he plans to develop into an educational film.

Solomon to Appear In Lansing Recital Sunday Afternoon

Public Invited to Hear Student at Central Methodist Temple House.

Under the auspices of the Michigan State College of Music and Allied Arts Izler Solomon, artist pupil of Professor Michael Press, will be presented in the recital this Sunday afternoon in the Central Methodist Temple House at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend and there is no admission fee.

Izler Solomon is a member of the college string quartet headed by Michael Press, and also is concert master of the college orchestra. He has achieved an enviable reputation through his appearances in Lansing and throughout the state. Solomon was born in Detroit as a violinist with the M. S. C. men's glee club. His many successful performances have attracted a large coterie of students. Solomon and his teacher are to be followed with interest.

Solomon has studied under professors in Germany, Czechoslovakia and New York. Lately he has been playing with violin tuners with Leonid Shostak, violinist student of Michael Press. Izler Solomon comes from Kansas City, Kansas.

MICHIGAN STATE'S BASEBALL TEAM, which has been clicking nicely and turned in a string of five consecutive victories, will encounter another big obstacle in the Michigan State Normal nine from Ypsilanti which will appear here Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It will be the Spartans' final game before tackling the University of Michigan team in the second and third contests of a three-game series with the Wolverines June 20 and 21, and looms as one of the most trying on the schedule.

The down-state teachers are not expected to provide an easy spot on the schedule, in fact far from it, and Coach John H. Kobs has been doing plenty of worrying during the week. It will be remembered that State defeated the Ypsi diamond aggregation 4 to 1 earlier in the season with Charley Griffin sawed-off sophomore southpaw who is ace of the Spartan mound squad, hurling his best brand of baseball.

The State nine has lost but two games thus far in the season, bowing to the Iowa State Teachers early in the year and losing a rather huky return game with the University of Chicago which was played in the rain at the Windy City, and hopes are held out for sweeping the remainder of the schedule. This means that in addition to taking Ypsi into camp for the second time this season and then win two more games from the University of Michigan.

The Spartans were able to defeat Michigan here last week 3 to 1, largely through the fine work of Griffin on the mound. Charley's left-handed shots almost completely baffled the Wolverine batsmen and predictions are being made that when he appears in the box again the result will be the same.

Gets Big Assignments

Griffin has borne the brunt of the pitching duties this season and appears the likely hurler against the Normals Saturday. It is "Jumbo" Kahl's turn to throw, but the big right-hander has a sore arm and the assignment will probably fall on Griffin's shoulders. Charley is also due to pitch one of the two remaining games against Michigan with the State moundsmen for the other game now in doubt.

Ed Gibbs, Gladstone galloper, continues to lead the squad in long distance hitting. He is the best slasher who has been developed here in years. To date this diminutive center fielder has bashed out 16 home runs in 15 games and none of these hits has been a fluke as all were long drives to the outfield that have permitted him to score standing up. His circuit clout in the recent Michigan game gave State the first run of the contest.

Capt. Al. Sachs, Johnny Madonna and "Jabber" Barnard are Spartans who have been lapsing a little in their stick work in recent games but these men are expected to again find their batting eyes and commence fattening their batting averages in the next three games.

CAP NIGHT SURPASSES ALL FORMER EVENTS

waving their faded pots as they went suddenly order and dignity went by the board and students became a mass of demons yelling, milling and strung along in the brilliant light of the flames as they ripped the pajamas from each other's backs.

The final events of the celebration were an all-college dance in the Union ballroom and a show at the State theater which was opened to the students through the courtesy of the Biltmore Theater company.

'BROWNIE' RUNS FINAL COLLEGE RACE SATURDAY

Ends Brilliant Career of Track Competition in National Meet at Chicago.

EIGHT OTHERS ENTERED

Spartan Thincad Season to be Concluded; Three Seniors End Careers Here.

By Guilford Rothfuss

"Brownie," a quiet chap of half-point stature, has made a host of friends and admirers during his four years of athletic competition here for his unassuming ways and dogged perseverance which has earned him an exceptional record of victories against the strongest competition in the country. He is always seen and not heard, to use a time-worn phrase and this is the prime reason for both his numerous friendships and running ability.

That perseverance and determination has been responsible for the development of Brownie's running ability is evidenced by the fact that he has a rare record of never having missed a track practice. This shows the serious attitude which he has held toward his athletic career, which is highly commendable in any branch of competition.

Two More Lost

Lewis Hackney, half-miler, and Walter Russel sprinter and low hurdler, will also end their college athletic careers in the meet at Chicago. Both have been consistently good performers and have been responsible for the scoring of many points in meets during the past few years.

Bitting the Ball

The Spartan diamond team has established an enviable batting average thus far in the season, with the squad hitting a .278 clip and the regulars pounding the ball to the tune of .300, according to figures compiled following the University of Michigan game last week.

Eddie "Angel Face" Gibbs, diminutive center fielder, is setting the pace with a .400 clip. Capt. Al Sachs is next in line with an average of .384 and Griffin ranks third with .325.

The Squad Averages Follow:

	AB	H	A%
Gibbs	87	34	39
Sachs	78	30	38
Griffin	52	17	33
Madonna	80	26	33

LIBERTY CREATES TRACK SENSATION

Adrian Coach Amazed at Performance of Fresh Thincads Recently.

"It seems to me that I have heard that name Liberty all afternoon."

Thus spoke Coach Dale Sprankle of Adrian college recently at a dual track meet between his varsity and the Michigan State freshman. The Spartan yearlings topped the visitors 94 to 37 and Liberty, an upper peninsula product from Gladstone, collected 26 points. He won five firsts, the hurdle events, the broad dash, the Javelin throw and the broad jump. He placed third in the high jump.

While his performances are not exceptional, they have been good enough to win in all the meets he has entered with the freshmen and coaches think he has the makings for a stellar varsity performer when he becomes available next year.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED FOR SOPHOMORE PARTY

is customary for occasions of this kind.

Tickets may still be procured from the Union desk.

Patrons for the affair are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kahl and Mr. and Mrs. Miles W. Casteel.

The sophomore party tonight will be the final dance this term which is open to all classes and the general public.

The only social affairs remaining on the card are a few remaining society open houses and term parties. For this reason a larger crowd than usual is expected.

The committees in charge of the affair are Howard Jaehnig, general chairman; music, Bob Sharkey, chairman; Lena Lou Hunt, Ward Kelley,

Betty Owell, Tickets, Leonard Logan

chairman; Hazel Githens, Mabel Peter-

Merkel, chairman; Arthur Ungran,

Maxine Sturgeon, Donna Bartlett

Decorations, Marion Kline, chairman;

Henry Cross, Jean Carruthers, Ralph

Minier, Programs, Katherine Panter,

chairman; Duke Burhans, Don Warren and Ellen Terry.

All seniors are urged to attend a very important class meeting next Monday in Olds hall at 5 o'clock. The main business of the meeting is to elect alumni officers.

SENIORS ATTENTION!

Seniors who wish to receive Michigan State News next year may do so by remitting a check for $1.50 to LeRoy Sample, business manager, in care of Michigan State News.
