New Election System Proves Successful MAMMOTH OVATION GIVEN TEAM; PLAN WELCOME ON RETURN

FACULTY SUPERVISES SPECIAL JUNIOR CLASS ELECTION HELD ON UNION SUNPORCH THURSDAY

Fisk, Emmons, Lee, Foster, Are Winners in Close Race; Hill and Caswell Watch Polling Throughout Day; Effort Made to Put Voting on Absolutely Fair Basis.

Michigan State's newly created system of faculty supervision of student elections went into effect yesterday in the special junior class poll called by the Student Council. The election of a new election system proved to be a success, as the results and the new election system were easily the closest to be recorded in recent years, only one officer being won by more than three votes.

ANNUAL HEADS DECRY SALES

Poulson and Graman to Stage Concentrated Campaign to Boost Subscriptions

Progress of the sales campaign of the Wolverine has taken on the air at a meeting held Monday night in the lobby of the Union building. A sales staff was appointed by an election committee held at that time. This will require four or five weeks and will give the students enough time to make arrangements to subscribe for the annual.

Water Winner, Schwaning was defeated by Emory Foster, Cadillac, in a poll of 191 to 106 for the membership of the third year men. Foster also won last spring's election.

Beginning at 12 noon Thursday, the election was held in the sunporch of the Union building under the constant supervision of the two faculty advisors. The two major candidates were allowed two chief of staff assistants to make up a staff of student assistants that were required to recognize every voter or obtain residence of his status before he was allowed to pass through the booth.

The printing of the ballots as well as the provision of a list of all regularly enrolled juniors was left in the hands of Caswell and Hill. Ballot counting took place at 8:30 p. m. last night in the Student Council room, with representatives of both presidential candidates, the Student Council, and the Michigan State News present. Records in all offices were conducted immediately after the first count, after which the ballot boxes were left in possession of the faculty men.

PLAN FOR RUSH AT SOPH MEET

Nominate Candidates for Vice President; Name Rush Chairman.

Nominations for a vice president were made and preliminary business which relates to the class rush was transacted at the first meeting of the sophomore class at Oids Hall last Tuesday at 5 o'clock.

Wolverine Offers Reduction to Societies

As an incentive to societies on the campus, the Wolverine office has decided to offer a 10 percent reduction to the fraternity or sorority which comes nearest to a one hundred percent subscription list for the yearbook. In case of a tie, the reduction will be offered to all the tying societies.

The staff also announced that a Wolverine key would be given to the salesman who sold the most copies of the book. A suggestion was offered, as well that since many students were going home this week-end they might get there the amount of a down payment, at least, on a Wolverine.

Board Decrees Cut Vacation

Students Who Make Journey to West Point Will Have Cuts Excused.

Bars were finally lowered by the institution in the granting of a right of privilege to students attending the Army game at West Point. Action was taken by the administrative board at an informal meeting Wednesday.

Bungled Student Government

Last spring term the Student Council was taken to task by the Michigan State News for its inefficiency in the management of Commencement time ceremonies. As a result, its members passed a resolution stating that the Council would take complete charge of every all-college event in the future, thus avoiding any misunderstanding due to duplication of effort. Furthermore, the Council promised an earnest attempt at efficient handling of all activities under their jurisdiction.

On the contrary, the Council has again shown itself lax in the management of student affairs. Within the past week, no less than four inexcusable blunders have been made by the Council.

It is more or less common knowledge that special permission for late hours for co-eds must be obtained from A. W. S., the official woman's governing body. Yet the Council announced in this paper last Tuesday that such permission had been granted for the all-college mixer Wednesday night, without any indication having been given A. W. S. that such permission was desired. As a result, the Woman's Council found their hands forced into approving the measure the day of the dance.

Results of this "faux pas" were not of a serious nature because the social committee had been previously informally consulted. However, the precedent is a dangerous one. Of much more serious consequence, that of trifling with administrative favor, is the intolerable bungling of yesterday's team send-off. The Council, in return for permission to hold a mid-week mixer, agreed to dispense with daytime pep meetings that necessitate the securing of classes. Much to the surprise of administrative officials, the arrangement was made at the Wednesday night pep meeting that classes would be excused for one hour Thursday afternoon in order to wish the team bon voyage. No such permission had been granted by the administration; the Council had, in effect, taken the affair in their own hands. In other words, the Council had played both ends against the middle, had promised no class hour exercises in exchange for mixer permission; had failed to make the necessary arrangements for this mixer, and then had staged the class hour exercise (team send-off) without proper administrative authority.

THESPIANS GIVE TWO COMEDIES

Theta Alpha Phi to Petition for Permission to Tour State With Productions.

Two dramatic productions will be offered State students this fall by Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic organization, according to Paul Younger, president of the organization. The first of the pair will probably be staged within six weeks while the second is to be given nearer the close of the fall term or opening of the winter session.

The company has been selected for the first play and the casting has already been completed and work well under way. Paul Younger is to play the main lead while Hannah Lee Bird is to play opposite him in the feminine lead. Others who have been cast in the roles are a following: Paul Younger, Gertrude Hammond, Howard Conrad, Margaret Smith, Irma Caswell, Virginia Morgan, Virgil Burton, Marie Peterson, J. L. Holland and Duane Simmons. Two more parts are yet to be cast.

Faculty Members Attack Student Council Blunders

Comments Made by Huston, Emmons, Dye, Dirks, Giltner, Bessey, Conrad.

Emphatic denunciation of student government on the Michigan State college campus was the tenor of numerous comments made yesterday by faculty deans and administrative officials as the aftermath of the Student Council's farcical handling of Wednesday and Thursday pep meets.

As explained editorially by the Michigan State News today, the council held an all-college mixer on Wednesday night without special late permission for co-eds, and again Thursday afternoon staged a team send-off without obtaining administrative permission for excuse of classes.

Enthusiasm Reaches Heights in Monster Demonstration on Eve of Squad's Departure for West Point

COACHES ARE OPTIMISTIC

Armory Ballroom Packed at All-College Mixer After Peppet; Crowd on Hand for Send-off

Probably the largest crowd of Spartan supporters ever to attend a Michigan State pep meet and all-college mixer was assembled in Derronstration hall last Wednesday evening. Great interest in the coming game at West Point was shown by the 1500 Spartan co-eds who packed the south and west bleachers of Derronstration hall, and student enthusiasm for a victory over the Army football team reached its highest point between 7:45 and 8:30 when the mixer was in progress.

WILL ANNOUNCE PLAY-BY-PLAY GAME ACCOUNT

Tomorrow's game with Army will be relayed to East Lansing by private wire and will be announced play-by-play over the public address system of Washburn's Student Shop and the Union building.

STUDENT BODY TO GREET RETURNING GRID TEAM IN DEMONSTRATION MONDAY

A monster "win, lose or tie" team welcome will be accorded the Michigan State football squad Monday at 10 a. m. on the Spartan delegation's return from the State Army gridiron clash at West Point. At the request of the Student Council and Blue Key national service fraternity, President Shaw late yesterday afternoon granted permission for excuse of 19 classes.

WILL MARCH TO GYM

Protestors plan for the veterans to march to the gymnasium to meet the returning squad west of the college entrance, probably near Harrison road. Richard MacDonald, chairman of the Blue Key fraternity, stated last night that approximately 500 to 600 students will assemble in front of the gym, and then headed by the military band and a corps of red rosettes will march to meet the returning squad.

It can be assured of the play. The Student Council should be commended for facing the issue squarely by admitting the shortcomings of the old system, and then adopting the improved method.

BAD HERITAGE

As the current school season nears its length in reading attention is being paid on this campus to the question of student misbehavior, peepers, team send-off and team welcomes. The problem of making the natural desire of the student body for pep meetings fit in with the necessary administrative desire for the proper scholastic emphasis is a vital one.

This campus is perhaps the victim of an unfortunate heritage left over from the Great War period. It seems that after the war there returned to the college a large number of ex-soldiers, who found the requirements of college regulations irritating. It became their habit to stage periodic "Hobbesian" days whenever the spirit moved them.

The athletic ground football here and has since been a constant source of trouble. While distinctly opposed to such actions, the college administration has always shown itself exceedingly lenient toward student requests for celebrations. In fact, from a desire to avoid facing issues with the student body, the college can almost be said to have leaned over backward.

826 STUDENTS IN MUSIC DEPT.

Division Is Gaining Fine Reputation Throughout State.

Continuing its rapid growth, the music department today announced an enrollment of 826 students, an increase of 89 over the total of last year. This increase is but another phase in the continual development that the department has undergone during the last three years.

Divisions among students taking music are: Applied music or private instruction in piano, voice or other instruments with 134 students; theoretical subjects and public school music courses, with 422; and glee clubs, chorus, band and orchestra classes, with 272. The greatest gain in enrollment was felt in the public school music courses.

The most encouraging fact in the statistics is that many serious students of music, many with very distinct talents, and many also from the better high schools and universities, are entering M. S. C. for musical training. This shows that the music department is gaining prestige and authority outside the school and the state.

Thanks to such leniency the majority of the undergraduate body has come to realize the generosity which them indulges perceptible signs of a wish to cease the smirch of "Hobbesianism" from the campus. However, the student body must also realize that as time goes on periodic celebrations, even though organized, will have to occur with less frequency. Furthermore, it is in the interest of every college man and woman that any ill considered attempts to stage impromptu mass meetings should be nipped in the bud and by the students themselves. The college has been more than generous in its dealings along this line with the student body. It is up to the latter to repay.

The Michigan State News advocates a bitter dose of the Red Cedar river for anyone detected even hinting at any more student uprisings. And this is suggested in entire seriousness. It is time the soft pedal was placed on the "rah rah" spirit around here.

My Ego And Yours

By JOHN TATE, Jr.

It has been at various times the birth of a nation, the death of a nation, and even occasionally the death of a nation due, in all probability, to the strange preliminary inconceivable that is at present causing what appears to be an almost comic embarrassment of a denuded male peepersbook. This is not a suggestion that we have a universal convention.

Since our esteemed dilettante "The Critic" has dedicated his indignation to the better things in life, it behooves us to dedicate this literary misanthrope to the better things of life. The paragraph of error would wrap the paragraph. The price one pays to print.

Centuries in the heavily burdened and faintly colored past, the six of one and a half dozen of the other tribes of Israel made hesitant exodus from the Tabernacle and departed for the Promised Land. For forty years wandered towards the land of Promise. They set a precedent. Pilgrimage of Spartan fame to West Point that is now in progress may be to a superficial observer a far cry from the old Hebrew custom. But it is the same old story in a less embellished cloak.

Whatever the psychological terminology applicable in this instance, the boys are storming the army gates, and may the vicissitudes of erratic fortune incite the men of Cowley with the compelling induction of victory. And it is that is the only intoxication evident among the intrepid supporters of the colorless gleaming in Green and White, then we are a prophet of astonishing incompetence, heretofore of insight, and steeped in stupidity. (This is merely an experiment with the polysyllable.)

The student body of this institution governs itself. This is a privilege guaranteed us by that peculiar constitution upon which our country grew, flowered and decayed. Anyway we elect a group of our peers to represent us and take care of this and that in the way of campus events. Our optimistic

Crystal Gazing

Before going into battle, the Spartans of old Greece always consulted their Oracle at Delphi to determine the outcome of the conflict. The 1911 edition of Spartans looked up an Oracle who, unfortunately, rendered our old faithful crystal that had been neglected for years. Anxious to see whether it still retained its potency, we hurriedly washed off the years of dirt and grime that had collected on its mystic surface. Gazing intently at its heart, we read the following astounding result: "The score was as follows: Army 0 2 0 0 0 0 7 State 7 0 6 0 0 0 11"

In the first quarter, State, through a swift and aggressive attack, scored a touchdown near the close of the quarter. The scoring play was a play that has never been used before by the Spartans. Monnett made the touchdown and also the point afterward. The game at this second quarter, "Lullback" Andy Hishop got off a pass, kick and Army was in possession of the ball near the middle of the field. Madly denied by the sudden score, Army began a march down the field which resulted in a touchdown on a short, quick pass. Catson replaced Handy at guard. Capt. Cross was playing the best game of his career. Jones was injured but remained in the game. Army made many satisfactory times in this quarter.

The second half saw both teams playing cautiously, waiting for a break. Both teams were functioning perfectly. State got the first break and on a spectacular play made the third touchdown of the game. Capt. Price of Army broke through and blocked the kick for the extra point. Army frankly opened up a passing attack which carried them down the field until one of their passes was intercepted by State. Flawley got off a beautiful kick for 35 yards. The game ended with the score still 13 to 7.

This spoke the crystal. The picture it gave was a bit vague at times, but we may have misinterpreted. We think this was due to a slight crack on one side. If it falls in its prophecy, it will be relegated to the ash-can.

Our Platform

Last issue the News published its daring iconoclastic platform. We liked it. It's fun working for a paper that holds its head up in the air and has meals and believes in progress. Fishing around in the slimy depths of the unconscious mind we suddenly came upon an idea whereby we might do our little "bit." Why couldn't we have our own little platform and try and clean up the little things that were too small for the editorial staff of the paper to bother about. Let them busy themselves about big things like "daylight government". So every week we will bring up an attended. Nothing serious, you see, a smaller matter that needs to

RECEPTION IS TO BE TODAY

Faculty Folk Club Opens Year's Work With Affair at Little Theatre.

The Faculty Folk Club of Michigan State College will open its season's activities today with a reception to new members which will be held in the Little Theatre. In charge of the reception are Mrs. W. L. Mailman, chairman, Mrs. Ward Gilmer, Mrs. R. C. Huston, Mrs. Fred Killeen, Mrs. Ralph Young, Mrs. Y. H. Gardner, Mrs. J. H. Koke, Mrs. James Crowley, Mrs. P. W. Fabian, Mrs. H. B. Dicks, and Mrs. J. W. Stewart.

Meetings of the club are held once each month. Aside from these regular sessions the club has four occasional look-club-a-swimming club, a dancing club and a garden club. An interesting program this year provides for several special topics. One meeting each will be devoted to drama, music and art. The committee on hospitality, which functions the entire year, is as follows: Mrs. C. A. Hopper, chairman; Mrs. E. P. Hubbard, Mrs. P. M. Barber, Mrs. J. W. Stark, Mrs. E. D. Hall, Mrs. C. P. Peoples, Mrs. E. P. Newman, Mrs. G. W. Hilde, Mrs. A. H. Nelson, Mrs. J. Tyson, Mrs. W. W. Johnston, Mrs. C. W. Neskin, and Miss Sylvia Medsker.

There is an adequate explanation for the last slip, at least. Since the election was supervised by the faculty, and was the first honest ballot count, in at least three years (the period the council has had charge of elections and in counting votes have made an amazing thing out of the simplest arithmetic, there was really no slip in the program for the members of the organization. After all, they probably felt that there was nothing particularly inspiring about making two plus two equal four, or counting in a conventional manner. There was no opportunity to indulge an aptitude for bizarre mathematics.

Speech Office Offers Course in Voice Correction

Any student on campus who has a defect in his speech is urged to report to the Speech Office and sign up for the course in speech correction. This is a regular course, given free, and consists of two individual conferences a week at which time the student works alone with the help of the instructor. It offers an excellent opportunity to students to correct any difficulty they may have in speaking.

squad together with Coaches Crowley, Caster, Carberry, and Young. Michigan State's crack military band also made its appearance as one of the major units of the program. A spirit of confidence in State's ability to make a good showing against the Army team was expressed by those who spoke at the mass meeting. Coach Young stated his belief that the Spartan team had as much chance as with Colgate last year. Glen O. Stewart, college alumni secretary, estimated that there might be as many as 500 alumni from New England and the east attending the game tomorrow. The spirit of confidence was further shown by speeches from Judge Carberry, line coach, Mike Caster, coach of the last week's Army game, Head Coach Jimmy Crowley, and Capt. Mill Green.

A closing feature of the meet was the drawing of names in the raffish of a tree ticket to West Point and the Army game offered by Herb's store. The drawing was in charge of L. I. Frimosty, assistant director of athletics. The name of Miss Marie Huber, East Lansing, was the third one drawn, which entitles her to the tree ticket. However, in the event that she does not make use of this opportunity, an alternate name that of John Wood '35 was drawn. Special 11 o'clock permission was New York City on Saturday night.

Classes were adjourned yesterday afternoon from 1 to 2 and a final send-off for the team given by the hall ballroom. The council had engaged the services of Nate Fry's piece dance band for the evening and the crowd which packed the ballroom during the dance was as record-breaking as that which attended the preceding pep meet.

A nerve system for energetic skyscrapers

Long before the huge bulk of a new skyscraper looms up, Bell System men have planned its nerve system—the maze of telephone cables and wires so vital to its business activities. From the inception of a building design, telephone engineers work hand in hand with the architects. They determine the telephone needs of thousands of future tenants. Then they plan cable shafts rising from cellar to roof and the grid of under-floor ducts that will put telephones within easy reach of every occupant. There's a real thrill in working out these plans, for without telephones the immense structures of today would hardly be practicable.

West Point Welcomes Invading State Eleven

FOOTBALL SQUAD TO SEE NEW YORK

Gridders to Spend Saturday Night and Sunday in Metropolis.

Michigan State college football players are to spend Saturday and Sunday night in New York city after their game with the United States Military Academy at West Point. The Spartans are to be bunched aboard a train early in the evening and go into the city where they will stop at the Vanderbilt hotel. They will attend a theatre party during the evening and spend Sunday in sight-seeing tours, departing at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The New York state alumni association of the college is to have a reunion at West Point Saturday night following the game.

Novice Jaunt Begins Cross Country Season

Michigan State cross country activities were inaugurated this fall with a novice run which was held this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The run covering three and one-half miles was run over what is known as the short course. The course starting line and finish is at the old field. According to Coach Browne, some of the first year men, particularly Bonowski and Booth, showed some pretty fast stepping for the distance. Bonowski should also show up well towards the front, having turned in some pretty good time in practice. Other men on the squad who will participate in the run are: Gettel, Butler, Gardner, Warren, Moxley and Tappart.

A miniature civil war broke out at the University of Wisconsin when an outstanding debater was barred from honorary membership in a national honorary speech fraternity because he is a negro.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL WINS TRIP TICKET

Marie Salzer Holds Lucky Ducat; John Wood Is Alternate.

Miss Marie Salzer of 409 Park Lane, East Lansing, a freshman in the local high school, held the lucky ticket which won the free round trip by railroad to West Point for the army game. An alternate, John Wood (Ag. 35), who would get the trip if Miss Salzer did not claim it except the prize, was chosen on the fourth drawing.

Drawings from the basket of ticket stubs were made by Messrs. Ralph H. Young, Lyman L. Fanning and James H. Crowley of the physical education staff at the West Point military academy. Hardly had the drawing started when Marie Salzer held up her ticket with each purchase made since school started.

CROWLEYMEN IN CADET CAMP THIS MORNING; LIGHT WORKOUT SCHEDULED FOR AFTERNOON

High Officials of Military Academy Greet Spartans Upon Arrival; to Have Lunch, Dinner at Cadet Mess.

By Clarence Van Lopik
West Point, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The green and white colors of Michigan State invaded the historic grounds of the United States Military Academy at West Point this morning when Coach Jimmy Crowley and his point-a-minute Spartan gridders arrived for Saturday's battle with the Army. The State delegation arrived in the early morning and were met by high officials of the academy and army officers. Twenty-six football men were taken on the trip by Coach Crowley, all of whom arrived at West Point in fine fettle and determined to bring national grid recognition back home with them.

State's team was to have lunch at the cadets mess this noon and were scheduled to have a light workout on Mische field, the scene of tomorrow's battle this afternoon. Tonight they will have dinner at the cadets mess and the eve of the Army battle will find the Spartan grid warriors returning at 10:00 o'clock. Tomorrow morning they will breakfast at nine and will receive their last formal instructions and lecture from Coach Crowley at ten. The game will be called at promptly 2:30 before what promises to be a capacity crowd.

Cornell Coach Relates Freak

Tells How Poor Ruling Robbed His Team of a Score.

Coach Dick Barker of the Cornell college team which fell before Michigan State here last Saturday, 41 to 9, has one for the record books. He reports that in the game with the University of Chicago, one of his linemen broke through and blocked a Maroon punt. The player caught the ball on the fly and ran across the goal line. Officials would not concede it to be a touch-down, saying Cornell the ball at the point where it was caught by the player.

Several days after the game, Barker said he received a letter from the officials explaining that they had been in error on the ruling and that the play really was a touch-down. They apologized profusely but the record books will say Cornell won the game 12 to 9, not to mention the effect that early touch-down might have made in the final outcome of the game.

Apply Early for Reserve Seat Ducats

Applications for reserved seats for the University of Georgetown game to be played in East Lansing Saturday, Oct. 24 must be in the Athletic office before 6:00 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 14 according to L. L. Fanning, assistant director of athletics.

Tickets will be allotted according to seniority—sophomores, freshmen, up until that date. After Oct. 14 applications will be filled in the order received.

Tickets will be mailed not earlier than Oct. 19. Closing dates for other reserved seat games are Syracuse Oct. 21, Michigan Nov. 4.

Warner, Roger Keast, Alton Kierker, Reuben Dell, Clifford Liberty, Sam Schwartzberg, Lester Eko, Russ Lay, Don Warren and Henry Johnson.

Coach Jimmy Crowley sent his proteges through their last intensive scrimmage before meeting the Cadets last Wednesday night. Every member of the squad showed intense interest about his job and the scrimmage workings were literally torn apart. Capt. Mill Gross, diminutive guard and Art Ross were kept out of the hard going as the Spartan coach preferred not to run the risk of injuries. Lester Eko and Reuben Dell turned in good performances in their places.

Wednesday's practice was given over largely to the perfecting of a smooth working aerial attack. Army scouts who have been in the Spartan stands on two successive Saturdays have only witnessed two of State's passes and have no knowledge of the extent of State's aerial attack which will be attempted. Wednesday's practice showed the Spartans had more reserve plays than the optimistic fan had thought of.

Michigan State will go into tomorrow's battle rated as the under dog by practically every eastern sports writer but they are determined that the Army will be their stepping stone to national grid fame and recognition.

The men who are expected to do the most of the Army ball carrying and who will compose the starting line up for the cadets will consist of McWilliam at quarter, Stecker and Senastian at the halves and Herb at full.

"That bully old slogan hits me just right—"

... no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance—no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy—they've got to satisfy! The right tobacco, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!
