FRAT COUNCIL DUCKS ACTION ON INITIATION

Fails to Change Constitution at Regular Meeting Monday Night.

KEEPS ILLLOGICAL RULE

President States That Section Was Drawn Up Last Year as Explanation.

A glaring inconsistency in the constitution governing initiation and sentiment obviously in favor of shortening the period of informal rites failed to stir the Interfraternity Council to action at its first meeting of the term Monday night. Though the announcement sent to each society expressly stated that the business of the meeting was to take up the matter of initiation, the assembly was dissolved into a round table before the subject was broached.

Fixing the blame on last year's constitution for an illogical section in the constitution evidently passed as an excuse to overlook it. When the inconsistency was pointed out in the meeting, Bob O'Connor president, explained that the section was drawn up last year.

The illogical regulations follow:

2. Regular initiations shall be held the second week of the winter term. The period shall not begin 5 p.m. of the Thursday of initiation week and shall not exceed 72 hours in duration.

6. No requirements may be made of candidates which shall take the initiate out of the fraternity house or grounds or be of such a character as to attract public attention except a single hunt or search which must be confined to the Friday night of initiation week.

According to the constitution, informal initiation must not continue over a period in excess of 72 hours but it stipulates that a hunt or search must not be held before Friday night, more than 72 hours after 5 p.m. Thursday when informal initiation is scheduled to begin.

If the constitution is interpreted to mean that informal initiation is not to occupy more than 72 hours of school time, its authors failed to take cognizance of the fact that classes are in session at State until 11 o'clock Saturday. Every freshman on the campus is required to schedule at least one Saturday class.

In defiance of constitutional stipulation, then, the informal initiation season which is to begin at 5 p.m. today will be extended over a period of 90 hours of actual school time.

After asking for the roll call and the report of committees, the only regular business conducted at the meeting, President O'Connor announced that the body would go into a round table discussion of initiation. At least four representatives were prompt to set forth the

INSTITUTE LOAN FUND AT STATE

Lansing, East Lansing Pan-hellenic Group Donates Money for Senior Co-eds.

Institution of a $150 loan fund by the Lansing and East Lansing Pan-hellenic council to be available for Michigan State college senior co-eds was announced today by Dean Elisabeth Conrad, who has been appointed as a member on the supervisory board in charge of distribution of the loan.

Under the direction of Mrs. V. E. LeRoy, chairman of the Pan-hellenic committee in charge of the loan fund, the local councils have accumulated a sum of money, the proceeds of which will be used to loan to deserving senior co-eds.

While the loan is sponsored by the Pan-hellenic group, it has been made clear that all senior girls are eligible for a loan regardless of whether they belong to a sorority or not.

Details of the loan, as revealed by Mrs. LeRoy, were that all senior co-eds who wish to apply for a loan will fill out one of the regular application blanks. This blank will be submitted to Dean Conrad who in turn will report upon the co-ed to the Pan-hellenic council committee. This committee reserves for itself the right to make a final decision.

There is no interest charged if the loan is paid within nine months though a fee of three per cent is charged thereafter.

The action of the Pan-hellenic council was taken after an investigation into the college loan system had shown that there were not sufficient funds available for senior co-eds under college administration. All co-eds interested in a loan are asked to fill out an application blank and give it to Dean Conrad for approval.

Survey Shows Various Degrees Held By College Dept. Heads

Michigan State Deans Hail From Universities All Over the World.

By RICHARD BARRON

Very few of us know much if anything about the educational background of our deans and instructors, and fewer care, but a little investigation in their degrees and where they received them and a little of their experiences before they came to this institution brings to light some rather interesting facts concerning them.

For instance, President Robert S. Shaw had received only one degree previous to the time he came here, that of Bachelor of Agricultural Science, which was conferred upon him by the Ontario Agricultural college. In 1922 the honorary degree of Doctor of Agriculture was given him by this college, then M. A. C. President Shaw has risen to his position without the customary list of letters behind his name and consequently is outstanding in his rise to the presidency.

E. H. Ryder, dean of the Liberal Arts division, which is at present the largest division of the school, was made Master of Pedagogy by the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti and later took his degree of Master of Arts at the University of Michigan. He held five positions before coming here in 1903.

Dean Marie Dye of the home economics department, who was made Doctor of Philosophy in education, Doctor Austin has as an educational background experience instructing in such varied places as rural schools, high schools, and a normal school.

He came here in 1929. Miss Elisabeth Conrad, dean of women, received three degrees from the University of Wisconsin, those of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. She has a diversified background, having studied at the University of Chicago, Bryn Mawr, the University of Michigan, and in Europe, the University of Geneva, Alland, St. Anne, and the Sorbonne in Paris. She joined the Michigan State staff in 1928.

The Michigan Press association will be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 21-23, were disclosed yesterday by the committee in charge of the affair which is to bring to the campus a large assembly of representatives from the state's foremost weekly newspapers.

In connection with the traditional round table discussions which have been planned for the convention with a view of arriving at questions of paramount interest in the weekly field, the question of changing the state system of taxation will be discussed. This discussion will be led by Tom Conlin, publisher of the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill and president of the Iron county taxpayers' association, who is well prepared to discuss the question of taxation in Michigan. Members of the state tax commission who will be in session in Lansing at the time will also be present for this discussion.

The plan to display an engraving plant in the Union building has been worked out so that the new process for the manufacture of halftone cuts at low cost in small plants will be illustrated by J. W. Page of the Newspaper Engraving Equipment company, Chicago. This demonstration is a feature of the convention which is expected to create high interest.

In addition to the list of speakers for the meeting which were announced in last Tuesday's issue of the News, the following are to speak:

Dean Marie Dye of the home economics department, who was made Doctor of Philosophy in education, Doctor Austin has as an educational background experience instructing in such varied places as rural schools, high schools, and a normal school.

Notre Dame Beats Weary Spartans Saturday, 28-25

SPARTANS TRIP RESERVE, DROP NOTRE DAME CONTEST TO GET EVEN BREAK IN 2-GAME SERIES

Thrilling Moments Mark Week-end Battles; Coach Van Alstyne's Men Preparing for St. Xavier; Seeks to Correct Faults Shown Against Irish

While State topped Western Reserve Friday night 17 to 15, they were trounced Saturday by the Notre Dame Irish, 28 to 25, in a thriller. Both games were typically defensive and marked by too-close guarding, numerous fouls, and questionable officiating.

Ray Clifford, Reserve coach, brought up an enthusiastic aggregation fresh from a win over Yale. At the start of the game Al Kinsler found the hoop and put State into the lead. After McCashin had brought the total up to three with a free throw, Gruber and Finnigan helped the things up 3-all. State came back, however, and at the end of the half was leading 10 to 8.

In the second half DePineo got going and added a pair of dunks while the Red Cats added a field goal and a free throw. Scores by Vondette and Kinsler brought the Spartans final total up to 17 while the Cleveland outfit was able to gather but 15.

During the latter stages of the first and second halves the assumed a odd aspect which more closely resembled a class rush than a basketball game and kept the officials busy.

Bill Bessko, Reserve center, continually attempted to foul the Spartan center to the use of his two tremendous feet. It wasn't until the late stages of the first half that the officials called him. The other members of the Cleveland team added to the theatrical tendencies by a constant line of chatter.

Scoring bounces were practically even among the Spartans all scoring 3 points with the exception of Pinoe who garnered 4.

Although removed late in the game for personal fouls, Randy Bessko performed causally at center and in almost every instance got the tip-off.

Notre Dame Game

State took the floor for the second time in two successive evenings against the aggressive and rangy Irish. The South Bend team played a game similar to the Red Cats, breaking fast and displaying an accurate passing attack. They jumped into a three point lead shortly after the opening whistle but this was soon taken up by the Spartans when Vondette turned a dazzling and Bessko added a free throw. Three long shots sunk by Baldwin largely simplified the net and some genuine assistance from Burns and Gruber augmented the Irish score and after McCashin methoded a field goal, McCashin, Kirchner and Vondette took their turns scoring free throws. The half ended in favor of Notre Dame 13 and 11.

The score favored one team and then another during the second period and with four minutes to play, things were even at 22 all. At this point the Keegan men scored three field goals in rapid succession. A do-or-die attempt followed and McCashin scored a dence and Vondette added a point from the foul line. The game ended with State in possession of the ball.

Bill Vondette was the individual star for the evening, scoring seven field attempts and four gratis tosses for a total of ten points. A Kirchner was second high with seven points, besides contributing a splendid defensive game.

The three elements which gave Notre Dame an edge and finally decided the game were the uncanny sharp shooting of Baldwin's long tosses and a greater accuracy under the basket along with the Spartans' inability to score from the foul-line.

State was awarded 18 free throws but was able to convert seven of them. A lighter degree of accuracy from the foul-line would have inevitably ended in a victory for the Spartans.

DePineo, usually good for a share of the points, had a hard time getting to dole should clear the bar at 12 feet before the season is over.

State made but one substitution and that late in the last half when Bessko went in for DePineo. Substitution of Notre Dame were frequent. Keegan sending in four men to act as alternates.

The Spartans will meet the cage team of Xavier University, Cincinnati, next Friday.
