

PLANS FOR ENGINEERS' PARTY NEAR COMPLETION; PROGRAMS TO BE HANDLED AT UNION DESK

Co-eds Will Be Granted One o'Clock Permission; Elaborate Decorations Made by Engineers are Symbolic of the Division; Tickets Were Sold Out Last Friday.

Last minute announcements issued by the chairman of tomorrow night's Engineers' hall at the Masonic temple in Lansing indicate that the dance will begin at 9 o'clock and last until one, although special permission for co-eds has been granted until one o'clock only.

Programs for the party are being issued in the Union lobby all day Friday from 7:30 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. At this time only will it be possible for students to secure programs, and tickets must be shown in securing these tomorrow.

The general chairman for this ball, William C. Burgess, and Wilbur C. Wright, have announced that no more tickets are available, sales having been closed since last Friday. Students expecting to purchase tickets at the door tomorrow night are warned that no more are available.

The balance of the Masonic temple will not be open to the general public but is being reserved for those who attend the ball.

Elaborate decorations have been designed and made by 25 members of the engineering department, and the final touches are being put on them.

PREPARE FINAL CALENDAR FOR FARMERS' WEEK

State's Largest Agricultural Conference Plans in Last Stages.

OPENS JANUARY 30

Expect Huge Crowd Here During Closing Week of Month; Speakers Named

Farmers' Week, Michigan's largest agricultural conference, will be held in one week from Monday, January 30 to February 3, inclusive.

Programs have been issued and plans are now in the final stages of preparation. Last year more than nine thousand visitors were registered here and it is hoped for an even larger representation of the rural folk of the state this year.

Planning for the week will be done by the Michigan State University Extension Service, which will have the honor of presenting the week's program.
