

SENIORS NAME SPEAKERS FOR ANNUAL EVENTS

Dr. W. D. Henderson, Extension Expert at the U. of M., to Give Commencement Address.

THEME CONTEST ENDS

Plan Many Activities in Addition to Traditional Graduation Events.

Plans for Senior class activities are being pushed forward by all members of the various committees. Each committee has been at work for the past few weeks planning the separate events of the Senior season. The social committee has planned parties each week for the remainder of the term with various affairs scheduled for other times during the coming weeks. The commencement speaker for the senior spring term will be Dr. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan. Henderson is the director of the Extension division there. His subject will be announced later. Henderson was selected some time ago but it was not until he was able to attend the commencement exercises here on June 12. Baccalaureate speaker will be Dr. J. W. Piffard, pastor of the East Grand Rapids Congregational church. Dr. Piffard requested to speak at the U. of M. baccalaureate service at that time ago but his subject has not yet been announced. Plans for the water carnival are being completed under the direction of Dick McDonald, chairman of the water carnival committee. The contest for themes of the carnival closes tomorrow and it is expected that the winning theme will be announced within a short time and further plans for the water carnival be made soon afterwards. McDonald stated that it is expected that there will be very few entries in the theme contest and it is expected that the winning theme will be announced within a short time and further plans for the water carnival be made soon afterwards. Engineers Apply For Credit in Standard Military

A plan was advanced today by Dean H. B. Dicks of the engineering department proposing the addition of a military engineering section to the regulars in the college catalog. If this plan is accepted by the members of the engineering faculty, students in the engineering school will receive credit for advanced military training on the graduation requirements.

LABOR PAYOFF TO BE IN FULL

Request Granted by State for Money to Meet Next Week's College Payroll.

Announcement was made today that the college labor payroll would be paid in full on May 5 as a result of action taken yesterday by the state in granting the requests of the college officials for approximately $100,000 in the state treasury. The state treasury recently collected the one issued last week to the effect that the labor payroll as well as the salary payroll would be in full for the remainder of spring term. Faculty salaries are to be paid this week Saturday, April 29, for half the amounts due the same as was done last month. A decision to issue checks in full for labor was made yesterday to remedy the position of students working for the college who count on these checks to meet expenses and who would be greatly inconvenienced if they were cut in half. In the meantime, the legislative bill framed to reduce Michigan State college appropriations for the coming year by $400,000 is still being considered by the committee on taxation in the state senate. The bill was approved in its present form by the House of Representatives in session last week. A statement from J. Schepers, treasurer of the college, was issued today as follows: "We do not know which to issue college funds after what will be done for funds on May 5, as the financial conditions here are as yet very unsettled." He also stated that the condition of the East Lansing State bank was unchanged to date but that work is being carried on by Herman Hagen, conservator of the bank and himself to release funds tied up there.

DEANS REVIEW R. O. T. C. UNIT

State Board of Agriculture Will Be Guests at Parade Next Week.

Before a large crowd which lined the drill field, Michigan State's R. O. T. C. unit presented a retreat parade last Tuesday. This was the second of the spring parades and had for its honored guests President R. S. Shaw and the deans of the various divisions. The parade was given north of the armory on the regular drill field, which location contributed much to the splendid showing made by each division. Cadet Lieut. Col. Frank Emerick, artillery division, was regimental adjutant for the day, and after this unit was on the field he gave "parole" while the R. O. T. C. band "trooped the line." The maneuvers were identical with those of last week and closed with the entire regiment passing the reviewing stand in which was Pres. R. S. Shaw, Deans E. L. Anthony, E. H. Ryder, H. B. Dicks, and R. C. Huston. Lieut. Col. D. R. Rodney, Cadet Col. Horton Stickle, and Cadet Lieut. Col. Burt Huber. The members of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture are the invited guests for next week's demonstration which will be a combination review and parade. This exhibition will be given at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on the drill field north of the armory, weather permitting. The public is cordially invited. Next week the infantry and artillery divisions will have a change in their cadet commanders. The commanders of the infantry companies will be Robert Guerner, Co. A; Kauno Mollanen, Co. B; Emory Foster, Co. C; and Robert Clark, Co. D. Commanding the coast artillery batteries will be R. Hamerschmidt, Battery A; B. Hamerschmidt, Battery B; B. Hamerschmidt, Battery C; and J. Lowe, Battery D.

TONIGHT MARKS FIRST MEETING OF PRESS CLUB

Expect to Complete Organization Under Constitution Proposed Last Week.

EVERYONE INVITED

Pi Delta Epsilon to Disband When New Group Begins Functions.

The Michigan State College Press club will hold its first meeting tonight on the second floor of the Union building. The general purpose of this first meeting will be to effect some sort of formal organization under the constitution proposed at the annual Publications banquet held a week ago. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 and all interested are invited to attend. The new group is planned to act as a successor to Pi Delta Epsilon, a national journalism honorary, which has been organized on this campus for several years. Due to the restricted membership of this body it has been impossible to carry out some of the activities which have been felt to be necessary on the campus. It is believed that the new group with its wider range of activity can supply this need. In Pi Delta Epsilon became famous here for its semi-annual publication, the "Epsilon," a campus rag sheet. After the formation of the new group the old society will disband. The constitution for the Press club was presented to the Publications group at the banquet in the form in which it was printed in last week's issue of the State News. A minor change was agreed upon at that time. The revision was made in Article VI, section 1, which now reads: "An executive board consisting of the four officers of the club." (Continued on page 4.)

List Students to Receive 'ORPHEUS' CAST FINISHES WORK ON PRODUCTION

313 Have Averages of "B" or Better for Fall and Winter Terms.

The names of those students who are entitled to unlimited cut privileges by the attendance office yesterday by the attendance office yesterday. A total of 313 received at least a "B" average and no grade below "C" for the past two terms taken as a unit. This is an increase of 47 over the number who qualified for this privilege last term. These students are cautioned, however, not to cut more than 25 per cent of the total number of classes in any one course. The greatest number of honor students is to be found in the liberal arts division with a total of 52. The engineers rank second with 68. Then come the department of agriculture with 44. The home economics division ties at 33 with the department of applied science and physical education. The veterinary and medical biology department has only 13. The following is a list of those who are permitted voluntary attendance for spring term: Liberal Arts: D. W. Albright, Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Athena A. Andros, J. A. Babington, A. M. Bach, Blanche L. Barnard, Mrs. Ruth A. Barrett, E. H. Benedict, Pauline Marie Bergman, Margaret E. Berry, W. J. Betts, A. I. Black, Lois Brightman, Carol M. Brody, Frances A. Brown, K. L. Bucknell, H. REVEAL UNION APPOINTMENTS

Morgan Outlines Activities of Association for Coming Year.

Announcement of the appointments to the three great standing committees of the Union was made Tuesday by newly-elected Union board president, Gary S. Morgan. Morgan's appointments, grouped under the heads of activities, student relations, and publicity committees, constitute a sort of departmentalized cabinet through which Union affairs will be conducted for this and the next two terms. Chairman of the activities committee is William Macauley, a Union board member. He will have to assist him, Viola Roberts, Tom Warner, and another board member, Marion Lewis. Student relations will be in the hands of Ed Larson, whose committee assistants are Angelica Rodney, a board member, and Stuart McGowan. Gerald Muscott heads the committee that will manage Union publicity. Board members M. Anderson and H. I. Decker, a board member, complete this group. One proposition which the present set of committees expects to develop more than it has been developed in the past is the enlargement of a visiting term. This matter will be given special consideration during the fall term. More immediate problems occupying the committees' attention are Union dances and the one-act play contest. (Continued on page 5.)

BAND CONCERTS TO START SOON

First of Four Popular Spring Programs Will Be Presented on May 10.

Spring concerts by the college military band will again be given this year, according to an announcement by Leonard Falcone, director of the band. These concerts, which have proved so popular in the past, will be given at intervals of two weeks. The series of concerts will begin Wednesday, May 10, and continue on successive Wednesdays throughout the month of May. Seating for the concerts will be furnished. In the event of rain, the concerts will be postponed until the next evening. A notice will be posted in front of the bandstand in regard to when they will be held. Postponed concerts will be presented by the band which is composed of 60 pieces. The band will be in the bandstand at 7:30 and last for approximately one hour and a half. It is interesting to note that the band suffered less loss of men this term than it has for any term in several years. The programs presented by the band will be of the same high quality as they have been in the past. Mr. Falcone stated that he will always try to arrange the programs so that they will appeal to the tastes of everyone. Works by nearly all of the more prominent and renowned composers will be featured throughout the season. The members of the band take pride in these concerts because they are distinctly their own, and present the band in a different light. While well known to the band, the band is to appear at athletic contests and pep meetings, the real musical side of the band is evidenced in these performances given each spring. Although concerts are given primarily for students, during the past many citizens, including East Lansing and surrounding communities, have been attracted to these musical presentations which have become very well known throughout the state. Elk Head Hangs In Club Room Of Union

A magnificent elk head with an antler spread of more than three feet, a trophy of Prof. W. S. Kimball of the mathematics department, was hung last week in the recreation room of the State College (faculty) club on the third floor of the Union building. Professor Kimball bagged this elk about seven years ago, when he was in the forestry service in Montana. It was in an observation tower at the time, he said. "I heard him bellowing away across the river, stalked him, and got an excellent shot at him." Until recently brought to State, the trophy was on exhibit in Kalispell, Mont. It has six points on each antler and is considered an unusually fine specimen. The caribou head which now hangs in the assigned reading room of the library is another prize of the professor's hunting days.

College Ornithologists Construct Bird Snares

Students of Bird Lore Carry on Banding Activities in Botanical Gardens.

By DON MAC DONALD. Did you ever become so interested in the color of his (or her) eyes while taking a Sunday afternoon stroll in the botanical gardens that you nearly fell over those wire, box-shaped bird traps lying on the ground? Perhaps, even then, you failed to come out of that springtime haze, and went so far as to walk blindly into that wall of barbed netting which extends from one tree to another, just a few feet away from the wire traps. At this point you probably became somewhat annoyed and just a little curious as to what might be the purpose of all that paraphernalia. For those in need of enlightenment let it be known that these bird traps and nets have been placed there by college ornithologists (students of bird lore) for the purpose of carrying on bird-banding activities. Observing these wire traps more closely you will see that they bear signs reading "U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Experiment 109, NOT MOLEST BIRDS OR TRAPS." Professor J. W. Stack of the zoology department, secretary of the Inland Bird Banding association and head of the campus trapping and banding station, wishes to impress it upon the students that these signs also apply to the black nets. On occasions in the past some students, probably with the good intentions of freeing trapped birds, which were seemingly suffering badly, have gone to the length of cutting large openings in the netting. Since these nets can not be repaired and are of a very expensive make, it is evident that such "good Samaritan-like" deeds have proved to be very costly. Furthermore, these rescue acts are wholly unbeneficial to the released creatures, for neither the traps nor the subsequent banding have any ill effects on the bird; whereas careless, would-be saviors many times do. In fact, a trapping and banding station benefits and increases the number of birds, as success requires that the locality be freed of the enemies of the birds. (Continued on page 5.)

'ORPHEUS' CAST FINISHES WORK ON PRODUCTION

Classic Opera Will Be Presented At Wilson Theater In Detroit.

TO REPEAT AT LANSING

Popular Demand Forces Return Engagement of Student Performance.

Another milestone will be marked in the advancement of the music department Saturday evening, April 29, when the opera, "Orpheus," will be presented at the Wilson Theater in Detroit after fulfilling a demanded return engagement at the Eastern high school and auditorium the previous night, April 28, at 8:15. Rehearsals have been held regularly during the past several weeks and the same excellence is expected to be repeated when the entire cast of over 200 will journey to Detroit for its premiere there. The Detroit performance was arranged to illustrate to the people of the state metropolis the excellence of performance that Michigan State students are capable of when properly coached and also to reward the cast which has spent much time on the opera. The cast for the return engagement is unaltered. The entire cast numbering over 200, which includes 15 in the ballet, the chorus of 130 and the orchestra of 50 pieces, will again be headed by Beatrice Brody as Orpheus, Naomi VanDusen as Eurydice and Mary Ellen Davis as Amor, the God of Love. The promotion of the opera in Detroit will be carried on by Mr. Wilson, who is heading a committee chosen to secure a patron list. Mrs. McCall is promoting the opera among the various women's clubs. Various organizations in Detroit have offered their aid to assure the success of the production. The Michigan State Alumni association has offered to work under the direction of the opera. BAND PREPARES FOR FULL TERM

Concerts, Parades, and Baseball Games Are Listed for Spring Term.

With a little more than 60 men back in school, the college band is again preparing for a heavy term. In addition to the four spring concerts in the Forest of Arden and the regular commencement activities, the band has a strenuous marching and drill program planned under the direction of Leonard Falcone. As in former years, the band will appear at all parades, leading the other units in the troupe to line and furnish all music for marching. Other appearances will be made at the Notre Dame football game on May 4, the University of Michigan football game on May 24 and the Ypsilanti Normal game on Alumni day, Saturday, June 10. In marching, the band will be headed by the student drum major, James Aldrich. Mr. Falcone and Capt. E. B. Crabill of the military department. Early indications point toward a bigger and better Wolverine this year than ever before. For the last several weeks members of the staff have been working diligently in the Wolverine office. Original features and cuts are being worked out by the staff officials and this year's Wolverine promises to be distinctly individualistic. Well over 300 copies have been ordered and the greater part of the year book is already in the printer's office being proof-read. The price as previously announced is $4.75 and the staff is working hard so as to be able to release the book by June 1.

LIMIT COPIES OF WOLVERINE

Only Books Ordered to Be Printed This Year; Seniors Urged to Order Early.

Only a limited number of Wolverines will be printed this year, according to a statement by Business Manager Jim Potter today. Because of the drastic economy measures, there will not be any extra copies printed and seniors are especially urged to place their orders at the earliest possible convenience. In past years a number of Wolverines over the ordered number were printed to accommodate those who wanted copies and had not ordered them with the result that many of the copies were left over. Early indications point toward a bigger and better Wolverine this year than ever before. For the last several weeks members of the staff have been working diligently in the Wolverine office. May 11 Set as Date For Union Play Contest

With the date for the Union one-act play contest set definitely for Thursday, May 11, only two weeks away, it appears that there will be only three contestants in this year's competition. The three campus organizations which had formally entered casts when Union Board President Gary S. Morgan announced the contest date yesterday were: Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics society, Sewall Arts club and Chi Omega sorority. Of the three, only Theta Alpha Phi entered a cast last year, when four plays were shown in the Little Theater at a single sitting. All three casts are working quickly at present, and names of plays and persons have not yet been released.

JUNIOR FARMERS' WEEK TO BE FEATURED BY PEP MEET, FOOTBALL GAME THURSDAY

Large Attendance Expected at Annual Convention of Future Farmers; Judging Contests, Exhibits, Demonstrations, and Supervised Tours of College on Program.

When the junior farmers of the state make their annual visit to the M. S. C. campus next Thursday, May 4, a genuine football game with first string men in uniform, a pep meeting with the band out in a flag raising, and all classes excused at 4:00 o'clock are planned to welcome them.

The battle between the spring teams selected from the practice squads is for students the highlight of the two-day program of the "future farmers." For the future farmers the two days are packed with judging contests, exhibits, demonstrations, and tours of the college. At the outset of the week, on Thursday morning, it is expected that 1000 to 1500 high school students will take part in the first event, grain and potato judging. The grain and potatoes will consist of Michigan-grown varieties and the object of the contest will be to pick the champion potato and grain judge in the junior class of Michigan. Following this contest, there will be a livestock judging contest. Special exhibits and experimental station projects will be inspected during the hours when the students are not in the judging ring. The contest will be around and see the different things in supervised inspection tours. Some of these tours are listed as follows: "Chain Milk Production" at the dairy barn; Greenhouse and garden crops at the Green House in which Prof. V. B. Gardner will show the junior farmers around the greenhouse and call their attention to the special things which are of most interest at this time of year; "Growing the Forest of the Future" at the forestry nursery, where Dr. J. L. VanCamp will show the young agriculturists through the nursery and show them various kinds of trees of different ages and also a small amount of environmental plantation of foreign species of trees, chiefly from China and Japan. Engineering Laboratories at the mechanical engineering laboratory, in which Prof. L. G. Miller will conduct the students through the power plant and show them the different types of machinery which are of interest.

SPHINX NAMES FIRST RUSHEES

Fifteen Junior Girls Invited to First of Two Parties of Activity Honorary.

Sphinx, local activity honorary society for senior women, will give the first of two rushing parties, a bridge, on Thursday evening, April 27, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, at the Alpha Chi Omega house. The rushees invited are junior girls who have distinguished themselves during their college careers in leadership, scholarship, and character. These same requests are used in evaluating for membership announced later in the spring term. The junior girls invited for the first party are: Barbara Bedford, Doris Blumery, Helen Danmore, Helen Hendrickson, Virginia Holm, Jean Ellen Kelley, Louise Lange, Marian McKee, Annabelle McKellar, Gertrude O'Neil, Virginia Pocak, Betty Shupey, Martha Summers, Mary Mixer, and Mary Watson. Miss Irene Shaben and Mrs. H. H. Malladay, advisors, will also be honored guests. Sphinx members, Betty Baker and Athena Andros, have charge of the affair. Pastel shades will be carried out in decorations and refreshments. A corsage will be presented for high score. The second party, supervised by Elva Covert and Frieda Brief, will be given at the Sigma Kappa house Thursday evening, May 4, 7:30 to 9:30. An equal number of other outstanding junior girls will attend this party.

SOPH CLASS TO SPONSOR PARTY

Announce Plans for Spring Term Event to Be Held May 27.

Responding to popular demand for information regarding one of the main coming social events of the spring term, Clifford W. McKibbin, president of the sophomore class, announced Monday that the date for the Soph spring term party has been set for Saturday, May 27. Although plans for the affair are still in the embryo stage, it is anticipated that the Union ballroom will serve as the setting. In order to make it possible for more students to attend, the expense is to be made much lower than usual by securing some popular local bands to furnish the music. With this same purpose in mind, those in charge are not planning any very elaborate decorative scheme. These arrangements enable them to guarantee that the price of admission will be less than one dollar, and probably, about 75 cents. As details for the party are to be taken care of by a general committee, on which President McKibbin will serve as chairman. Other members of the sophomore class who will assist him are: Evelyn Robinson, M. Rouse, R. E. Kemp, Marguerite Paine and Angeline Rodney.

Plans for Annual Forestry Shindig Are in Final Form

With the completion of the final plans for the 1933 Forestry Shindig, the party promises to be one of the most colorful events of the spring semester and will be held Saturday night in the gymnasium annex, beginning at 9:00.

SOCIETIES AT M. S. C.

The Eclectics are undoubtedly one of the most colorful fraternities on the campus. Campus legend and perhaps experience tells us that the typical "Eclectic" may usually be distinguished by his fluent verbosity, his clever, slick technique with females, and devotion to Bacchus. Even today when the majority of fraternities are sacrificing selectiveness for the much-needed price of the initiation fee, the Eclectics have managed to preserve some savor of individuality, and boast of being the smoothest men on the campus.

Although the Eclectics at present have only 20 active members and two pledges they have won their cut in the campus activities lottery by pledging active men.

Among the better known Eclectics are Bob Porter, president of the house, interfraternity council representative, and Scabbard and Blade man who is a free lancer and believes in giving them all a break. He is also chairman of the senior cap and gown committee, leave it or not. Bob "Terrible Gas" Sonnenfeld, who is nobly upholding the traditional Eclectic technique with the women and boasts of such specialties as Colic, Anderson, and Jean Klockman on his list. Avery man about campus, Paxson, Blue Key initiate, member of the football squad and chairman of the sophomore prom decoration committee, who is one of the reasons why the Eclectics prosper in their new and combative hair before going to class, although he prefers Jean Smith, Ward "Tad" Barnum, treasurer of the sophomore class, who is the campus "rounder" and modestly states that "he can't help it if girls sit next to him in the library. John "Ladies' man" Wolfe, varsity tennis aspirant, who although seen escorting various fair co-eds about is receiving letters daily from a home town turtle-dove, Ed "Dutch" Kramer, Blue Key member, who pays frequent visits to the Chi O house to see Helen Burton, pretty girl, and Thibideau, who is a member of the State News business staff and a burlesque dancer of note. (They play first fiddle in the Cantor orchestra, but is much attached to a wild Irish rose by the name of Corrigan in Gross Pointe Park. Smoothie, Pencil, frosh class president, winner of frosh numerals in football and Blue Key initiate, who is a "hooked" man and makes nocturnal jaunts to the Theta house to see Evelyn Pickett. Eugene Slater, varsity football manager, who takes river strolls with Virginia Wilcox. Theta moral people with 8:30 per mission shouldn't be walking along river bank at 8:45. "Beauty queen" Lohmeyer, who likes his Olga, Ed Green, numeral winner in basketball and baseball who is inexorably loyal to his Detroit girl.

FRESHMAN CO-EDS HOLD CONVOCATION

Betty Baker Gives Report on Results of Questionnaire on New System.

At the weekly convocation of freshmen girls in the horticultural building room on Tuesday, April 25, Betty Baker, chairman of the freshmen convocation committee for the past school year, gave a resume of the questionnaire submitted to the same group two weeks ago. This showed the good and bad points of the system with a view for constructive change for the better in administration of next year. She also outlined the history of the movement and told of the steps in detail, making an appeal to freshmen to sign as cosponsors for next year.

Inter-City Society Gives Ladies' Night Program Tuesday

Ladies' Night was the designation given the monthly banquet of the Inter-City Women's club, held Tuesday night at the Michigan State Union. The topic for discussion was "Famous Poets, and Poets About Poets," and the speaker was Dr. R. H. Phillips of Lansing.

The Inter-City Women's club, once a part of the national Torch club, is an exclusive organization similar to the Rotary club and others. To be eligible for membership, one must have a college degree and be following a profession. The club has a new representative and distinguished member, containing many names of M. S. C. faculty members. These of a more scattering list of would-be members because the membership has been limited to 50.

TURKISH TOBACCO

comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 10,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO

is stored in huge wooden hogheads. Each hoghead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.
