Closing the M. S. C. lecture course, the Right Honorable H. B. Lees-Smith, who has held the important offices of Postmaster General and Minister of Education in the British cabinet, and is present a member of the King's Privy Council, will speak on Thursday, March 15, at 8 o'clock at the People's Club on "Problems of 1934." European political and social conditions and ranking high as an economist, Mr. Lees-Smith will be remembered for his fine lecture here last year.

District Scouts Will Hold Gymkana Here In April

Col. Rodney Heads Committee in Charge of Meet Here
April 14.

Under the direction of Col. Rodney R. Rodney, the Boy Scouts of the Lansing district will hold their annual Scout council will meet on the campus for their seventh annual gymkana, April 14.

Colonel Rodney, as chairman of the activities committee, is mailing a detailed program of the day's event to all scoutmasters of Lansing, East Lansing and other East Lansing county troops. Events will start promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon with an inspection of troops, followed by inter-troop competition in basketball, marksmanship, boxing, wall climbing and swimming. A better appearance inspection will stress the wearing of the Scout uniform with insignia properly placed. This is part of a national effort to put more Scouts into uniform, giving them greater pride in their appearance and encouraging Scout-like conduct.

Every registered Scout will be permitted to compete in the marksmanship event, each being allowed 10 shots on the target range. Student officers will supervise this part of the program. The 12 best "shots" in the Scout ranks will be awarded ribbons, and the troop which has 8 or more entered and which has the highest total score for its 5 best marksmen will be awarded a pennant.

Award Silver Bangle
A silver bangle will be presented to the winner of the boxing contest. Competitors will be judged on performance, quality of technique, and form of a call out of 16 commonly used by Scout camp bangers.

Wall-climbing will consist of eight Scouts, each equipped with bat, coat and staff, who must run 20 yards from a double rank formation to a 10-foot wall, and then scale it without dropping any equipment. Five events are listed in the swimming meet. Back stroke for Scouts under 14 years of age, backstroke for the over 14, freestyle for Scouts under 14, freestyle for those over 14, relay race for teams of four.

In addition to the ribbons to be given individual winners in swimming, marksmanship and boxing, pennants will be awarded troops winning first place in appropriate basketball marksmanship wall-climbing and swimming. With special recognition being accorded to troops participating in all events, the awards will be made at the "retreat" exercises at the close of events.

Following closely upon the performance of "An Ideal Husband" comes the announcement that "Hedda Gabler," a realistic tragedy of Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian playwright, will be presented on the evening of Friday, May 16 by Theta Alpha Phi players. "Hedda Gabler" is entirely different from any production attempted this year, having a tragic plot which demands the utmost in dramatic effort from the small cast of players. It is a most skillful psychological study of a woman who feels that she hasn't received the necessary excitement and satisfaction from life on account of her husband and her attempt to break away from him evolves the brilliant plot of the play.

"Hedda Gabler" is considered one of Ibsen's greatest works, ranking along with "A Doll's House." During the past season it has been presented by Eva La Gallienne of the Civic Repertory theater of New York city and a season never passes but what it is revived by some of the leading players of the country.

The performance for the night of March 16 is being directed by Prof. E. H. Hill, with stage settings by F. H. Kink. Included in the cast of seven are: Louis Adams, Lorraine Sabot, Betty Slagley, Katherine Campbell, John Bratton, John Yale and Maurice King. Of the group, John Yale, Maurice King and Katherine Campbell were also seen in "An Ideal Husband." The Little Theater will again be the place for presentation, with admission set at 25 cents.

Board Names Candidates For News and Yearbook, Suspends Ag Publication

Immediate Discontinuance of Michigan Agriculturist Appears a Certainty.

HAS $600 DEFICIT NOW

Definite Steps Taken by Board of Publications at Monday Meeting.

Suspension of publication by the Michigan Agriculturist, a magazine issued monthly by the students of the agricultural division for the past 12 years, appears imminent following a meeting of the Board of Publications held yesterday noon.

Definite steps along this line were taken when the board passed a resolution to suspend publication of the Michigan Agriculturist, a magazine issued monthly by the students of the agricultural division for the past 12 years, appears imminent following a meeting of the Board of Publications held yesterday noon.

Due to this there will be no nominees for the Michigan Agriculturist on the all-college ballot Thursday. The payment of fifty cents at the beginning of fall term by every student to cover the cost of the paper will also be discontinued.

Financials Are Low
Financial conditions were the main reason for the discontinuance of the magazine. At one time over $600 in debt, the publication deficit had been reduced to $600 by this term, but although some progress had been made it was felt that the paper no longer justified its existence. The lowering of the debt was due chiefly to subsidizing by the state's office and other departments.

DRAINAGE JOB NEARING FINISH

C. W. A. Project, Employing
65, Will Drain 640 Acres of College Land.

A drainage project, one of the last long running jobs, is nearing completion of the college farm land in a northwesterly direction and emptying into the Red Cedar river at Piquette, is being carried to completion by a crew of 65 CWA workers.

This project, planned and directed by the agricultural engineering department of the college, is one of a system of ditches instead of the use of the old open ditch system.

Following the course of the former county drain, returned under both the roadbed of the Here Margulies and Grand Trade railway systems and when completed in the early part of May will drain 640 acres of college property.

In passing under the railroad, it was necessary to dig a 40 foot tunnel 10 feet below the tracks, in this tube which is four feet square, 14 inch pipe was laid and the entire passage was back-filled with concrete.

This project, which is at present about 60 per cent completed, is under the direction of the college agricultural engineering department in cooperation with the roadbed and grounds division.

The Case Tech tells us of a sophomore there who handed in a physics laboratory report with an experiment that had not been performed in three years.

Youngmen Star in Taking Central Intercollegiate; Jackson Wins Two Events

Notre Dame, Favored to Win, Trails Spartan Trackmen; Michigan Normal Drops to Fifth Place; Ottey Wins Two-Mile Run; Pongrace the 880-Yard Run.

Capt. Ralph H. Young's Michigan State track team scored a surprise victory last Saturday evening in the Central Intercollegiate indoor conference meet held in South Bend, Ind., getting 32½ points to defeat a fast field of trackmen from the leading colleges in the mid-west.

Trailing the Spartans were Notre Dame with 21½ points, Pittsburgh with 11½, Western State with 11, Michigan Normal with 12½, Marquette with 9, Butler with 5, Kalamazoo with 5, Hillsdale with 5, and Loyola with 2.

Notre Dame, the pre-meet favorite, and Marquette, another favored team, fell before the State onslaught while Michigan Normal, just a year's champion, dropped down to fifth.

Two new meet records were set by the fast field. Ray Sears of Butler, the A. A. U. 100-mile champion, broke both the C. I. C. and symposium records in the mile run with his marvelous time of 4 minutes, 17.3 seconds. Pittsburgh's mile relay team set the other mark when they covered the distance in 3:42.2.

Capt. Otto Pongrace of Michigan State put on a great final drive on the home stretch to win the 880-

TANKERS HOLD BANQUET HERE

C. E. Pinkston Gives Speech; Tom Morris Chosen Captain.

The Spartan tankmen formally closed their season last Tuesday March 6, with a banquet held at Hunt's Food Shop. C. E. Pinkston, coach at the Detroit Athletic Club, was the principal speaker. Mr. Henry of the Math department, Mr. Prophet, Coach Young, and Coach Daubert also spoke to the team.

The highlight of the program was the election of the varsity and freshman team captains. Tom Morris of Lansing was chosen varsity captain. Morris was an outstanding swimmer in the back stroke events, and self deserves the honor. The honorary co-captains of the freshman team are Botting and Herriman, both of whom are prospective varsity freestylers.

The record of this year's team can stack up with any previous records although the boys did have several meets that would have meant a lot to them. It is hoped that the problem of getting material for next year's varsity team will be solved by the promotion of this year's freshmen to the varsity ranks. Many positions are still left open, and Coach Daubert requests that all men interested in swimming should see him in his office at any time.

JUNIORS TRAIN FOR POLO

Under the instruction of Captain Marion I. Voorhes, five junior cavalry students are being trained to make up State's polo team for next year.

The men, who meet every Monday, Wednesday and Friday for an hour of practice and scrimmage, are Don Freshour, Joe Patton, R. N. Weber, Robert Farley and Ralph Herron.

KENT STATE MAT TEAM DEFEATED

Buck Reavely Tosses His Opponent for Spartan Win.

By TOMMY WARNER

Buck Reavely brought this season's wrestling to a dramatic close by taking a close decision in the last and deciding bout of the match with Kent State last Saturday. After a close 10-minute struggle with Rinaldi, 245-pound Kent State heavyweight, the boys went into overtime. Reavely came back strong against a man whose own weight had begun to tell on him and pinned Rinaldi in 2:14 in the first overtime period and in the short time of 32 seconds in the second, the score was 18-14, State winning.

The meet was marked by several more falls than usual. General, strapping in the 118-pound class, strapping in fast on Johnson and took a fall in 5:10. This was one of the most impressive matches of the meet. Captain Austin State handed Taborsky his first defeat of the season in the 126-pound class after going into overtime with a time advantage of 2:51.

Stevenson walked into trouble against McCort, Kent State, in the 135-pound class and dropped a close match with a time advantage of only 2:18, gained mostly through a beautiful figure four scissors ride. Jacobs, in an attempt to pile up sufficient points for a possible major letter, rode Scott, Kent State, hard in the 145-pound class and finally tired him down to an easy fall.

Conant State's 150-pound man tangled with Littlepage, a fellow inmate, to shade the edge of sportsmanship when excited and finally dropped a very close decision with a time advantage of 1:58. Littlepage was extremely adept at nulling out of advantage starts. Martin, still bothered by his shoulder, dropped his bout in the 155-pound class with Hack, originally scheduled to fight in the 165-pound class. Hack was built like a physical culture ad but had a hard time coordinating himself and was only able to take a fall after putting an arm stretch into Martin and starting his pin over Ames, bad shoulder.

Krunden, in the 175-pound class, struck a tariff in Lukens, rated as the best of Kent State's outfit, and dropped a decision in 9:57. Reavely, in scoring his fall over Rinaldi, handed the boy his first defeat since he entered college competition and won the match from a team which has lost only to Ohio State in the last two seasons.

The summary:
118-pound class—Genson (S) defeated Johnson (KS). Fall 5:10.
126-pound class—Austin (S) defeated Taborsky (KS). Decision, overtime, time advantage 2:51.
135-pound class—McCort (KS) defeated Stevenson (S). Decision, time advantage 2:18.
145-pound class—Jacobs (S) defeated Scott (KS). Fall.

150-pound class—Littlepage (KS) defeated Conant (S). Time advantage 1:58.

165-pound class—Hack (KS) defeated Krunden (S). Decision, time advantage 2:15.

175-pound class—Lukens (KS) defeated Martin (S). Decision, time advantage 9:57.

Heavyweight—Reavely (S) defeated Rinaldi (KS). Fall overtime, 42.

GRIDMEN OPEN TRAINING SOON

Lectures by Bachman Given for Past Two Weeks.

During the last two weeks daily football lectures have been the diet of the anxious aspirants to next fall's varsity eleven. Numerous highlights of the game of football were given by Coach Charles Bachman, including the various types of blocking, the correct technique in tackling, and how to kick and pass.

The football lectures closed last night, however, and beginning Tuesday at 5 p. m. work-out will be held daily in the gym annex, with the men doing their stuff in gym suits. Coach Bachman plans to drill his men in fundamentals during their brief stay indoors. The Notre Dame shift art of timing and instruction in the finer points of punting and passing will all be taken up during these daily sessions. The indoor practices will terminate at the end of the winter term, but with the opening of spring term the squad will work out of doors.

A number of varsity candidates and many of last year's eleven have also been handling the ball up in the gym and the linemen have been strengthening their offensive with the aid of a churning machine.

Besides the varsity lettermen returning a likely group of fresh will resort for duty also a number of men that have been struggling with the books and have experienced the disappointment of being on probation. These boys have not had a chance to show their stuff and Coach Bachman is anxious to see them in action.

Commenting on the possibility of any of the fresh highlights crashing the first eleven next fall, Coach Bachman stated: "This modern game of football has become so complicated that it is usually pretty tough for a first year man to gain a regular berth. However if any of them prove they are far enough advanced, smart, enough, and the best man in their respective position, they will most certainly see plenty of action."
