Bronislaw Huberman

Reception Given For Guest Artist

Bronislaw Huberman, Violinist, is House Guest of Alexander Schuster.

After proving to Michigan State college music lovers his skill on the violin, Bronislaw Huberman, artist on the opening concert number, was the house guest of Alexander Schuster, and followed the concert of Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Stuck at an informal reception.

At the refreshment table Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and Miss Ann Kuch served and their assistants were Mrs. H. B. Weinburg, Miss Tola Richards, and Miss Sarah Shaw. About 50 friends and guests made the evening a pleasantly spent one for the guest of honor.

Mr. Huberman, Mr. Schuster and Arthur Schabel, German pianist who is also on the music department's concert series February 18, were the members of a very well liked trio which toured Europe for a number of years. The men enjoyed talking over old times and also new happenings on the continent. Mr. Huberman's personality is highly enriched when one is reminded that he is the author of many articles on Pan-Europeanism both in pamphlet and lecture form. He has been decorated by the city of Geneva, and by the governments of Poland, Greece and Belgium, and is a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France.

Never actually seeing the academic and music elements combined in a system of education at Michigan State college, Mr. Huberman visited the music classes as taught by Prof. Lewis Richards and others on the faculty today.

He expressed much surprise at the advancement of the paper, which, he really expected that the student would be backward in one or the other. It was Mr. Huberman's comment which is quite true of the opinion that many European musicians hold. There the instrument is played in the hands of the child and at the age of about 19 or 22 the student concentrates in the music and quite neglects his academic training.

The date for the November birthday party has been set as Wednesday, November 21. The program will be in charge of Ethel Rogers and the decorations in charge of Helen Gormley.

Thanksgiving plans will not be definite until an estimate can be made of the girls who will remain, but a special dinner will be served for those who do.

Out of the many smokers given the various pledges of the fraternities, the one given out at the Delta Sigma Phi house last Monday night.

The policy of the pledges has been to invite two pledges from each house and to further friendships among the incoming freshmen.

Alpha Gamma Delta announces the ribboning of three girls, Betty Root, Flint; Lillian Holmes and Lois Rauch.

Exhibits Planned For This Term by Art Department

One of Most Interesting Being Held on Second Floor of Union.

In an attempt to interest students in art at Michigan State college, the art department has prepared a great many exhibits to be shown at the Union, the library and at Olds hall.

At present one of the most interesting displays is being held on the second floor of the Union, where many specimens of commercial art are on show. The exhibit prepared by Mr. Person's class in commercial art represents the work of 15 students in the different fields of commercial drawing and painting. One of the most interesting features of the exhibit are the new types of lettering being experimented with in Mr. Person's classes.

To introduce variety in the different displays the art department intends to change the exhibits about every three weeks. Each showing will illustrate a new and different phase of art as interpreted by the students in the art department.

Mrs. Byers has charge of this department at Michigan State.

Miss Fallgatter was very pleased at the fact that practically all of last year's graduates who were qualified to teach have secured positions.

Sigma Kappas to Play East Mayo in Soccer Finals

Co-eds to Compete for Intramural Plaque in Game Friday Afternoon.

With the defeat of the Chi Omega soccer team Thursday by the Sigma Kappas with the score of 3 to 1, intramural soccer reaches the finals. The final game will be played between the East Mary Mayo team and the Sigma Kappas. This game will be played Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

East Mary Mayo defeated Kappa Kappa Gamma in the semi-finals. In the preliminaries, Kappa Alpha Theta was defeated by the Kappa team, East Mary Mayo won the victory over Alpha Phi. Chi Omega was victorious over Alpha Gamma Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha forfeited to Sigma Kappa.

Intramural soccer takes the place of intramural hockey this year. The plan is to have soccer and hockey in alternate years. The winning team in either of the two sports will be allowed to keep the plaque, which was originally for hockey only, until the following year. If this plaque is won three times in succession by one individual society the plaque will remain in their possession permanently.

Color tests are being given in the freshman clothing selection classes this week. Miss Hillhouse teaches these classes, and is giving the tests to help the girls determine what colors and fabrics are most becoming to them. The girls line up according to skin coloring, and then hold pieces of cloth of different colors up to their faces and watch the effect. Samples of the colors and fabrics which suit her best are given to each girl, to help her in her choice of clothing.

Home Economics Division Will Add Popular Course

A new course, the Survey of Child Development, has been opened in the home economics department this week. This course will be given for the first time during the winter term this year, and will be open to freshman girls in the home economics division.

Miss Lewis is to teach this subject, which will have two hours of lecture and conference and one hour of observation each week. It is to be a two-credit course, and will be listed as Home Economics 133 A in next term's course of study.

There has been a great demand for a course of this type since there have been a large number of nursery schools opening throughout the state. The students will have opportunities to observe children, both of nursery school age and older, however.

ELIZABETHANS PERFORM HERE NOVEMBER 26

Globe Theatre Players From World's Fair Coming to Lansing.

Enthusiastic press comments from nationally-known papers promise the success of the four Shakespearean productions to be given by the Globe Theatre Players of Chicago at Eastern high school auditorium the afternoon and evening of Monday, November 26. The plays, which have been shortened to forty-five minutes each to conform with modern playgoers' demands, will begin at 3:30 in the afternoon for "A Comedy of Errors" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and 8:15 in the evening for "Julius Caesar" and "The Taming of the Shrew." Tickets are priced at 25c for two performances, with reservations being made for those wishing them.

Remarkable on the performance given by the players at "Merrie England" at the Century of Progress Exposition this last summer which drew over 350,000 persons, Charles Collins, dramatic editor of the Chicago Tribune, said in part: "October 31, which is ten days hence, will be a historical date. It will mark the closing of A Century of Progress, second edition, and also the end of the most surprising and most important contributions to the art of drama that can be found in Chicago's annals. I refer, of course, to the continuous programs of Elizabethan plays in the Old Globe Theatre. The sweeping success of this intrepid experiment, coming at a time when the classic stage appeared to be on its deathbed, has been a topic of national interest."

"The occasion is worthy of an eloquent valedictory. The plays of Shakespeare, staged and acted according to the technique of his own period, have been kept on exhibition seven times a day, seven days a week, afternoon and night, for six months. The poetic drama of the Tudor era has proved itself able to compete with motion pictures on their own terms. More than 1,000 performances have been given to audiences which always filled the theatre to overflowing. The final figures for attendance will be in the neighborhood of 400,000."

Another Chicago critic, Ashton Stevens of the American, wrote: "These modest 1934 Elizabethans

Will Appear With Shakespeare Cast

have been the salt of Chicago's drama season. They have done more than all the hoop shows combined to restore a theatrically-deadened community to theater-consciousness. And they have done this with little pomp and less parsley; they have done it with clean, vigorous showmanship, in the best sense of a virile word, and without the first sickening smear of artifice."

The Christian Science Monitor expressed surprise at the high attendance at the plays, but explained: "...this is Shakespeare speeded up to meet the demands of a movie-going age. The plays have been reduced to 40-minute lengths by ingenious cutting which keeps the impression of unity."

An added attraction with the Globe Players this season is the work of John A. Willard, who won many triumphs at the fair during the past summer. A versatile, gifted leading man of wide experience, he achieved in an astounding variety of parts including such roles as Mark Anthony in "Julius Caesar," Antipholus of Syracuse in "The Comedy of Errors," Quince the carpenter in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and many others of equal importance.

In Chicago, Willard played many leading parts under the management of Frank Gazzo at the Kedzie Theatre from 1928 to 1930 in the course of a continuous run of 140 weeks during which he appeared in 1000 performances.

Mr. Willard comes from Pittsburgh, where he attended the School of Drama at Carnegie Technical College on the Roger Mansfield scholarship. Following his university career, he has played in six stock and repertory companies throughout the middle-west.

FERA STUDENTS VIE FOR PRIZES

National Student Federation of America Sponsors
Contest.

Fifty dollars in cash prizes will be awarded for the most original and practicable suggestions for possible research, surveys, or other projects in the field of international affairs which could be undertaken by students holding part-time FERA jobs. The contest is being sponsored by the National Student Federation of America. The contest is open to all enrolled undergraduates and graduate students and also to faculty members. The suggested word limit is 500 to 1200 words. Contest entries must be mailed by midnight, December 1, to the National Student Mirror at 8 West 40th Street, New York City. These entries will not be returned.

A committee of World Peace Foundation executives will judge the contest and their opinions will be final. The first prize will be $25.00, second prize $15.00, and five $2.00 prizes. Some suggestions for possible entries follow. Many enterprises seemingly local, have an international significance. For example, local business enterprises may be dependent for certain materials, or for a portion of their sales on business connections, direct or indirect, in other countries.

Education transcends national boundaries. Perhaps the local community is not adequately provided with publications and other helps in the field of adult education which should include an understanding of other nations as well as our own.

Perhaps a community is in need of more information on world affairs through public forums, newspapers, and other mediums. Possibly a survey of the foreign element in the community would suggest cultural interchanges, study classes, discussion groups, or other projects which could be carried out by FERA participants under faculty guidance.

Complete Plans of Mortar Board

Installation Ceremony Will be Performed on November 24

Installation of Mortar Board on this campus will take place Saturday, November 24. From all reports there are to be a number of interesting doings in connection with the installation. The installing officer will be Miss Katherine Kuhlman, of Dayton, Ohio, who is the extension director for Mortar Board, and who also sent the good news of the acceptance here.

The definite time for all of the plans has been set. The installation is to be Saturday, November 24, with the initiation banquet that night. On Sunday there will be a breakfast for those who take part in the installation, and tea in the afternoon for the installing officers.

There are three members of Mortar Board on the faculty: Miss Irene Shaben, Dean Conrad, and Miss Elizabeth Daniels. According to the president, June Francis, there about 20 alumni members expected to come back to take the initiation. It is a very worthy undertaking for the college, and it will, no doubt, help to place Michigan State on the map with larger colleges.

GIVE THE FRATERNITIES A DECENT BREAK

There is a type of newspaper and newspaperman that seems to take delight in heaping scorn upon the "college boys" and his "frats." And there is nothing more irritating to most student bodies than references to "college boys" and "frats" in the headlines of the daily papers.

Fraternities play an important part in the training and development of many a man in college. There are evils in the system, but we feel that the good outweighs the bad.

What we are getting around is this—it seems to us that the names of fraternities and sororities are dragged unnecessarily into news stories at times—stories that are embarrassing to thousands of their members.

Take the recent Oklahoma case in which a pharmacy student was charged with the death of a co-ed beauty queen. Stories that went over the wires said the man was a member of such and such a fraternity, the girl of a certain sorority. It doesn't seem that such a reference was entirely necessary. Of course it was something that the curious would be interested in knowing and some will see justification for the use of the organizations' names in that curiosity.

But isn't it just as logical that the papers should say that a certain drunk driver or murderer or embezzler is a member of this or that lodge if we are going to print

Salesman Finds Fresh Freshmen

Seller of Wolverines Tells of Disconcerting Experiences With Fresh.

"Have you signed for your 1935 Wolverine?" After this question the salesman may expect any number of replies, and soon is able to catalogue them and then get a line up on the prospective buyer. In spite of contradicting rumors, there are tough freshmen on campus. Their reply is "Naw, ya can't hook me." This type is hopeless. You sigh in despair and are a little sad, because just what would one do without a Wolverine?

The second type is rather wary. "We—ill," says he. Then he is immediately whisked away and there is a 50-50 chance of signing him on the dotted line.

The third answer is truly answer to a maiden's prayer. It's "Huh?" The sucker type is a pip. Two hours later he returns—just to make sure what he signed for. Gad! Too bad some one doesn't sell 'em tickets to Beaumont tower. I don't know, though, this year's crop of freshmen seems to be doing right well; they're bright and alert and will very likely lead us all in school spirit.

Speaking of that elusive and intangible subject, try and sell anything to an upper classman—he has about as much loyalty in doing right by his alma mater as a convict attending Sing Sing college. You'd think one were selling him a severe case of seven year itch. Wolverines are darned nice to have around. They're almost an institution on campus and we want to keep it going—so, hurrah and congrats to the frosh for their swell cooperation.

Thrun Speaks to A.A.U.W. on State System of Taxes

Professor Analyzes Michigan
Taxes and Points Out
New Trends.

Dr. Fred M. Thrun, associate professor of economics here, spoke at the regular meeting of the American Association of University Women Tuesday night on the topic, "Michigan Tax System." The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Patton.

Dr. Thrun gave to the group his definitions of good and bad taxes, and analyzed Michigan's taxes from this standpoint. He also pointed out some of the newer trends in taxation. As advisor to the state tax commission, and member of the Michigan bar, Dr. Thrun is well qualified to discuss the tax system. He has made several studies of taxation, and now has ready for publication a "Handbook of Michigan Tax Laws," designed to help the average citizen to locate and interpret the state tax laws.

SPARTANS MEET U. OF D. IN FINAL GAME SATDAY

Buzolits at center, Reynolds at quarter, Warmbein and Colina at halves and probably Brandtetter at fullback.

Gus Dorais' Titans have been having a week's rest during this part of the season, with no game scheduled for last week-end. Reports have it that his squad has recovered from the series of injuries which have assailed them during the early part of the season and all of the Detroit stars will be in the game. Most concerned are Dick Lutz, stellar running halfback of the Titan team, and Paul Storrie, the pass-receiving end of Doug Nott's heaves.

The Titan line will outweigh the Spartan forwards, which is no new thing for the State line-men this fall. They will have to match the speed and slashing drive of the Spartans, however, if they intend to open many holes through the line for Lutz, Nott, Karpus and Pagan. Detroit has had none too successful a season this year and will be in first class shape to play State. The percentage of games won with the Titans during recent years, under the tutelage of Gus Dorais they have lost only one game to State and another ended in a scoreless tie.

The probable starting lineup for the Titans will be Storrie and Boglarsky at ends; Barrett and Heimer at tackles; Andrusking and Burns at guards; Metzger at center. The starting backfield will probably be Jones at quarter, Lutz and Payne at halves, and Nott at fullback.

the fraternity connection of every college student who gets into a jam?

Meetings of the "Y" Forum are held in the men's student parlors at the church from 12 to 12:45 every Sunday, and are open to all men students.

COUNCIL FETES TITAN LEADERS

Twelve U. of D. Notables to be Guests of Student Council at Banquet.

The Michigan State College Student Council will entertain twelve notables from the University of Detroit campus at a banquet to be held in the main dining rooms of the Union building, Saturday at 12:00 noon. It has been customary in past years for the two schools to entertain alternately, the last banquet being held in Detroit last year.

Word of acceptance to the invitation sent by the Council was received by James Lewis, secretary of the council, and chairman in charge of arrangements.

Guests from Detroit will include: Father Luther, Dean of Men; Marion Look, president of Women's League; Marvin Moran, president of Alpha Sigma Nu; Vincent Thompson, president of Inter-Fraternity council; Leonard Blomberg, president of C. and F. council; Roger Hammes, managing editor of Varsity News; William Fitzgerald, Joseph Kelly, John Sweeney, Rudy Schmidt, officers of Student Union; and two representatives of the "Tower" staff.

State students who will attend will include all members of the Student Council, officials of the campus publications and major organizations.

Contemporary Campus Comment

MAKE A CHOICE

A survey was made recently at Albion college to determine the effect of college fraternities on scholarship. Albion students were divided into two distinct groups, fraternity and non-fraternity. To be listed as a fraternity man the student must have been affiliated with this entire four years, and a non-fraternity group must not have been affiliated at any time.

Under the rigid criterion of selection only 114 fraternity men and 65 non-fraternity men were available from the last seven graduating classes.

The survey committee first made indices of promise in college. These figures were then compared with the achievements of the groups after graduation. The non-affiliated totaled 30 per cent with later achievements greater than promise while in college, compared to 28 per cent for the Greeks.

It was discovered that students with low indices of promise in the fraternity group attained higher achievements. Likewise, students having high indices of promise achieve more later if they do not join Kio Rho Rho.

to explain this result, time charts were made to determine how the two groups used their time. The fraternity men having greater promise participated in extra-curricular and personal activities, while non-Greeks chose curricular activities and remunerative employment.

It is also interesting to note that the bright students able to "get by the passing mark" with little study belong to the fraternity group. A closer correlation between hours spent in study and intelligence is necessary for the non-fraternity man.

Blue Key will render another service on Saturday by assisting the University of Detroit varsity squad while they are upon the campus. Three men have been assigned to check valuables in the locker room for the visitors' service which was extended to State's gridders upon their recent trip to Southern California on campus. Arrangements are also being made to entertain the Titans at a local theater.

EXTENSION DEPT AID IN SUGAR LEGISLATION

The enactment of recent sugar legislation has prompted the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to request the assistance of the College Extension Division in explaining these laws to the best growers of Michigan. The secretary of agriculture is arranging to contract with individual beet growers to hold their produce in accordance with the average acreage of recent years so that the sugar supply will conform to the annual consumption in the United States.

For participation in this project the growers will receive net payments on their 1934, '35, and '36 crops, the initial payment in 1934 being one dollar per ton. Additional payments will be made to insure a parity price for their crop.

The campaign in this state is to be conducted by C. V. Ballard, state county agent leader, with the cooperation of the county agents.

Chorus Quota Set at 250 Members This Year

The chorus, composed of the regular chorus, the glee clubs, and any outsiders who are interested in choral work, has reached its quota, which of necessity was set at 250 members. Because of the increase in enrollment over that of last term the group has been forced to move from the home economics building to Olds hall for their regular Wednesday night practices. They are now at work on "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Lewis Richards, head of the M. S. C. music department. They are also practicing selections for the Armistice day program to be given November 4 by the chorus in conjunction with the military and dance divisions.

PRIEST TALKS TO LOCAL CLUB

Faculty Folk Club Hears Father
Gabriels Speak Friday Afternoon.

"Rome, the Vatican, the Pope, and Mussolini" was the subject of an interesting discussion given before the Faculty Folk Club Friday afternoon by Rev. Fr. John Gabriels. The meeting was held in the faculty clubrooms in the Union building.

Father Gabriels opened his talk with an explanation of the purpose and significance of the eucharistic congress which was held at Buenos Aires recently. He then told of his visit to Rome last year, which marked the celebration of the 1900th anniversary of the crucifixion of Christ.

Mussolini, his background and history, and a discussion of what he has done for Italy, was the concluding trend of Father Gabriels' talk.

Presiding at the tea table, which was lovely with a centerpiece of chrysanthemums, were Mrs. H. R. Hunt and Mrs. Claud Newlin, former president and vice president, respectively. A profusion of autumn leaves and bitter-sweet made attractive decorations throughout the room.

TRADITION: A HELP, NOT A HINDRANCE

A word of advice to you freshmen. Every college and university has its traditions. However, inane they may seem, they are an integral part of campus life. The manner in which you observe them, besides carrying on the true college spirit, indicates your true calibre.

First, freshmen men: Wear your dink cap. They are not intended to belittle you nor to make you the laughing stock of upperclassmen, but to aid you in orienting yourselves to Southern California life. They're not objects of ridicule, but symbols of the spirit of unity with your classmates which is necessary to the true enjoyment of your years at the university, and without which you are "starting off on the wrong foot."

Second, freshmen men: Band together for the freshman-sophomore brawl. The honor of your class is at stake. It is a point of pride for first-year men to attempt to defeat the sophomores in the annual battle.

And, freshmen women: Green armbands may seem irksome to you. Green armbands probably will not blend with your fall ensembles. Green armbands, all in all, are distinctly not attractive. Remember, however, that armbands for co-eds symbolize the same spirit which dink caps signify for freshmen men. You women can and should organize in the same manner.

New, a friendly tip to other freshmen men and freshmen women: No high school jewelry, monograms, or sweaters are ever, in any circumstances, worn by any students of the University of Southern California on campus. You have outgrown your high school days when you step into the halls of Troy. You should have put aside—although not forgotten—the honors which you may have attained before assuming the status of Trojans. Keep them as memories, certainly, but strive to attain new honors, new awards, and new recognition strictly as students of this university.

And about that freshman bible: Carry it with you always while on campus—not because you have been told to do so, but because it will be a help and a source of information to which you can always turn when troubled by unfamiliarity with campus life.—Daily Trojan, Southern California.

Select Subject For Meetings of Alumnae Chapter

The Lansing Alumnae chapter of the American Association of University Women has for its basic topic this year, "What We Have and What We Need." Some subject under this head will be taken up at the general meetings.

AG CLUB INITIATES THIRTEEN NEW MEN

Annual Initiation Activities Take Place During Past Week.

The Block and Bridle, national honorary animal husbandry club, initiated 12 active and one associate member last week during their annual initiation activities. An interesting account of the trip taken by the animal judging team was given by Russell Leonardson. Ted Hoga gave a brief summary of the horse sale held last week. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Mallman of the bacteriology department. His topic was "Antisepsis."

The members initiated were: Robert Lowry, Russell Leonardson, William Uckele, George Whittington, Fred Murdoch, Daniel Balog, Theodore Haga, Carl Sutton, Charles Hodder, John DeVries, Frank Colby and Warren Murdoch. Leonard Blakeslee of the animal husbandry department was the associate member initiated.

of the organization, to be held on the first Tuesday night in each month. At the first meeting, held on October 9, Prof. Fred Patton spoke on "Whither Music."

On the other Tuesday nights, the various study groups are to meet. These include the book club, the drama section, the international relations group, and the neophytes, who are the younger members—women who have been out of college only two or three years.

Officers for the year are as follows: President, Miss Ruth Bowen; vice president, Mrs. VanKensan; recording secretary, Miss Carolyn Cook; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. L. Shaw; treasurer, Miss Dorothy Stophlet.

BESSEY GIVES TALK AT MEET

Professor Goes to Iowa State to Attend Botanical Symposia.

There will be a series of botanical symposia held at Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts November 15 and 16, commemorating six decades of the modern era in botanical science. Professor E. A. Bessey has been invited to give one of the talks. His subject will be "Teaching of Botany Sixty-five Years Ago." Dr. J. H. Muncie and Donald Cation of the botanical department and Dr. C. H. Mahoney of the department of horticulture and A. R. Marshall of farm crops drove through to Ames to attend this conference. In addition to the symposia, a teaching general botany, on Thursday, there is on Friday one on "Erosion Prevention Capacity of Plant Cover" and another on "Applied Botanical Research of Maize."

The first professor of botany and horticulture at Iowa State college was Charles E. Bessey, a graduate of this college in 1869. He was called Michigan State Agriculture college. He was the first to introduce the use of the laboratory method of studying botany at the institution at Ames and one of the first to do it anywhere in the United States. Shortly after he introduced that method at Ames in 1873, Dr. W. J. Heal, professor of botany and horticulture here, introduced it at this institution while Professor Burritt at the University of Illinois and Professor Goodale of Harvard university also introduced the laboratory method about the same year as it was introduced at Ames. In all of these cases the introduction was without knowledge of the fact that it had been introduced at the other institutions.

YEARLING GRID SEASON SHOWS NEW MATERIAL

Win Only One of Four Games But Provide Plenty of Competition.

LINESMEN OUTSTANDING

Several Backs Also Show Much Promise as Prospective Varsity Candidates.

With the blue jerseys of the fresh squad tucked away in mothballs to await another incoming class, a perusal of the season's record just finished will be made to shed some light on future varsity material. Only a handful will remain out to provide the varsity with the needed scrimmage.

To begin with, the record compiled was not impressive but it was successful. The State yearlings amassed a total of 33 points to their opponents' 28, although only one out of the four games was won.

Twenty-seven of the markers were scored against the varsity defense of the Western State Teachers' first year outfit and the one it went through the Detroit line in the first encounter of these two teams.

The first heated struggle was with the varsity reserves, that pack of bench warmers who regard the frosh with no little scorn on the football field. But scorn doesn't win games and the reserves had to buckle down to give over a lone touchdown on the defensive half to stall off a score. Chuck Halbert proved to be the stellar attraction in this fray by his consistent ground gaining and jarring tackles.

In the game against the Titan, another luminary stood out in the State frosh ranks in the person of Dutch Goltz, Big Rapids quarterback. His entry into the game signaled a spurt that set the opposing line back on its heels and resulted in a touchdown. State losing the fray, 7 to 6. Western State Teachers proved an easy hurdle for the blue shirts who were at their peak at this juncture, and behind the classic punting of Pini and the ball-toting of Arnold and Reynolds, the Spartan lads went marching to victory, 27 to 6.

The Kobs' boilerworks trekked to Detroit for the season's windup against the U. of D. with only 40 yards making the trip. On a slippery field and against a team that had played as a team all year, the East Lansing aggregation could only play for the breaks that didn't come and vainly try to halt the advances of one Andy Farkus, Titan's punter and passer. A fumble and a safety resulting from a blocked punt accounted for the full defeat at the hands of the Titans.

This year's squad proved exceptional to those of other years in numerous ways. The vast turnout of 132 candidates at the first of the season stuck by the guns throughout the campaign, 113 games remaining on the rolls up to the final night. Injuries were responsible for most of the suits lined in before the final whistle. Another good point for the books is the manner in which the boys went after their tackling practice. Then Kobs held a stiff session in which the good fathers of Georgetown university would hardly around their seismograph and mutter words about the timing of another earthquake as they watched the needle cavort in its glass case. Vercerelle, Olin, Luck and other huskies were only showing the pins off the shaking tackle fodder.

A good spirit pervaded the whole squad in every practice.

SYRACUSE SIDE LIGHTS

By HARRY WISMER

All good things come to an end and the five-game winning streak of the Spartans was no exception, as they went down fighting last Saturday afternoon on foreign soil to Vic Hanson's eleven, 10 to 0.

State lost, but they are to be complimented on the fine battle they put up against their much heavier opponents. True enough Syracuse was powerful, but I still maintain that if the Spartans had been at full strength they would have been undefeated tonight. It's a serious loss to have such men as Warmben, Klewicki and McCrary on the sidelines.

Ed Klewicki and Jim McCrary were unable to enter the game at all. Ed was handicapped by a serious leg injury and Jim has a few vertebrae out of place which make it impossible for him to run any faster than a tortoise. Warmben was able to play close to half the game, but he still wasn't the man of old. His shoulder was a constant source of trouble and during the course of the fray he had it injured again.

The old adage that a good offense is the best defense was proven again as the superior offense of Ginter, Albanese and company kept the Spartans on the defensive throughout the afternoon. The State offense clicked as long as they had the ball, but the whole trouble was that they couldn't hold it long enough. Fumbles at crucial moments didn't help any.

A special team carrying State students to Syracuse did not materialize, but a large delegation of loyal students and townspeople did make the trip by automobile, and were disappointed even in their team did drop a thrilling struggle.

Talk about your cheering section and school spirit, this university at Syracuse certainly did have it. The fans put on a real exhibition of yelling last Saturday—in fact, one that State followers will long remember.

Michigan State's military band, 85 strong, made a colorful appearance in Syracuse and drew much favorable comment for the fine music and snappy exhibition of marching. The band made the trip by bus.

There were very few who didn't get the opportunity to show their wares in one of the contests and the frequent substitutions gave the coaching staff a chance to get a line on the available material next season. Some of the backs who are sure to get the varsity summons next fall are John Pinski, Mt. Clemens; Charles Halbert, Grand Rapids; Robert Reynolds, Durand; Jack Vercerelle, New York city; George Goltz, Big Rapids; Dick Arnold, Cedar Springs; Jesse Corona, Detroit; Stan Pizanski, Detroit.

Ends who stood out in the games were: Bob McCombs, Muskegon Heights; John Schoenals, Sturgis; Phil Balyeat, Sparta; Jerry Behn, Flint; Art Jenkins, East Lansing; Frank Gaines, Lansing.

Tackles that made the frosh grade: Frank Szczepaniuk, Grand Rapids; Harry Speelman, Lansing; John Boyko, Hamtramck; Art Henk, Grand Rapids; Bob Wesler, Okego; Robert Angell, Hastings.

In the center of the forward wall were such bulwarks as Don Miller, Flint; Bob Elder, Marine City; Jack McKibbin, East Lansing; Walter Luck, Dundee, Ill.; Norm Olin, Grand Rapids; Ken Lay, Williamston.

The oldest local fraternity in the entire country is Kappa Phi Lambda, which was founded at Westminster college (New Wilmington, Pa.) in 1864.

Seniors Play Last Home Game

BUCK 'OLD DOBBIN' KEAVELY

Buck, playing his last year for State, is having a great season. He is a fullback from Durand, Mich., where by the way he never played football. In fact, he enjoys the distinction of being the only man on the squad without previous high school experience. Mr. Keavely for the past two years has held the state intercollegiate wrestling championship. He is senior in the physical education school and hopes some day to be a professional wrestler or a coach.

BOB ARMSTRONG

Arme is playing his third and last year on the Spartan eleven. Bob came here from Benton Harbor where he started in three sports. He and Ed Klewicki are the only two men among the seniors who have or will have won three letters in the gridiron pastime. Armstrong opened this season by being the victim of a tough break, receiving a bad injury in the Grinnell game. He also holds the distinction of being the only honor student among the seniors on the team. Bob is president of the student council, a member of S. A. E. fraternity and a senior in the engineering school.

ED KLEWICKI

The tough guy of the Spartans last year with East Lansing three years ago this fall. Prepped under Hal Shields at Hamtramck high school where he played quarterback. Has been a bearcat both offensively and defensively at right end this year, but has been handicapped by injuries all fall, not seeing any service in the Syracuse contest. Klewicki has also been one of the catchers on the baseball team coached by John Kobs these last two years and should be regular receiver this spring. Klewicki is a senior in the physical education school and hopes some day either to play professional football or coach.

RUSS REYNOLDS

State's contribution to the "Hard Luck" Hank Bruder category, Reynolds, came here three autumn ago hailed as a great prep school performer in his younger days at Flint Northern. Russ ran into the injury jinx and was on the shelf for the last two years. However, he came to the fore rapidly in this year's season and has proven himself to be a great football player. His return of punts has been a sensation all fall and coupled with his fine generalship in the Michigan game, Russ has enjoyed his most successful season. He is a senior in the physical education school and his ambition is to some day be a big time mentor.

HERB WILLIAMSON

Herb is another football player who is pursuing coaching as a career. Herb hails from Muskegon where he played under "Tiny" Redmond. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and a captain in the infantry. Williamson, although weighing but 168 has put up a great game at guard and when Sid Wagner was unable to play in the Marquette game, Herb filled the breach in great fashion. Williamson is very popular among his teammates and his presence will be missed considerably from next year's team.

BILL GILLILAND

"Gilly" as he is popularly known on campus, is playing his last year for dear old Michigan State. When Bill first came here from Gladwin, Mich., he was a fullback, but due to an excess of the leather jugging luminaries, he was shifted to a guard position where he has been formed creditably ever since. Bill with his letter last fall and last year to win another this year. He is a member of Hesperian society.

BEN DEMAREST

Ben has been a victim of misfortune this fall, injuring his ankle early in the season, an injury which kept him out of the first three games. This Lansing lad won his letter last fall and is regarded as a fine football player. Ben is taking physical education and is one of the brightest prospects among the younger generation of future football coaches. Ben is a member of S. A. E. fraternity and is a well known figure on the campus.

JIM MCCRARY

Jim has worked hard these past three years and has made a mighty fine one.

JIM BRAKEMAN

Big Jim Brakeman, the rambling tackle from the city of Detroit, Jim came here widely heralded and ran into tough competition in the form of Art Buss, now with the Chicago Bears. Brakeman is known to all on the campus through his shoe store on main street. Brakeman is studying hotel training and will some day team up with Ralph Hitz to form another winning combination.

LARRY DENNIS

Has been on the squad for the past two years and has worked mighty hard. Larry weighs close to 235 and is a good tackle. He comes from the big city of Detroit and should some day be an outstanding success in whatever he undertakes. He is commonly known as Blimp among his close friends and will some day justify that statement to the greatest degree.

AL BAKER

At Baker, the Bay City flash, played his high school football under the famed Chief Nevitt, the Indian from Haskell institute who guides the destinies of the athletic teams of Bay City Central. Al is one of the best entertainers on the squad and also a very good end. Al played the entire game against Syracuse and did a very fine job of it. He is recognized as a great pass receiver and also a fine blocker. Baker is also studying to be a coach and should make a mighty fine one.

FROSH CAGERS BEGIN PRACTICE

Large Number Report to Perry for Preliminary Workout.

Wednesday night 80 eager freshmen filled the M. S. C. gymnasium in response to the opening call for basketball candidates by Acting Frosh Coach Perry.

Eighty freshmen went through preliminary drills to display their ability before Perry in hope that they may be lucky enough to win the honor of a position on the college frosh team. This record number of candidates further promised the college continued success in this sport as well as increasing interest in athletics at State.

A high spirit ran through the opening practice as the large number of yearlings, resting on the laurels won in their respective schools, started a fierce competition for the popular approval in the eye of Coach Perry. M. S. C. always noted for a basketball team of high caliber, attracted the eye of candidates from states all over the country. This added color to the practice as most of the members were garbed in colors representing their elementary alma mater. Perry expressed approval as he sent the players through the fundamentals of the game—passing, dribbling, shooting, crisp shots. He then organized groups of five for teamwork practice and sent the players around the track five times.

Outstanding individual performances were few, but Schuman, Grand Rapids all-city center, showed that he had all the stuff that he was accredited with. Schuman worked well with several groups and he looks as a strong contender for the pivot position.

Practice was called for Thursday at 4 o'clock in Demonstration hall, but this session was cut short due to the rehearsal for the installation of corps sponsors, to be held Friday night. Coach Perry believed the yearlings would overtax their resources in the presence of the sponsors. Again a large group responded and ran through the same practice as that of Monday.

The next call was given for Monday at 7 p. m. At this time the squad will be purged and 28 supposedly capable men will assume the responsibility of carrying on for dear old "38."

NATIONAL SPORT SUMMARY

By JACK WARNER

Despite the fact that the Stanford Indians have been tied in one game this season, they were placed as runners-up to mighty Minnesota in the national ranking list as compiled by the Associated Press. The country's leading newspaper dopsters named the teams in the following order:

	W. L. T.
1. Minnesota	6 0 0
2. Stanford	7 0 1
3. Alabama	7 0 0
4. Pittsburgh	6 1 0
5. Princeton	6 0 0
6. Illinois	6 0 0
7. Navy	7 0 0
8. Colgate	4 1 0
9. Ohio State	5 1 0
10. Syracuse	6 0 0

Not included in this first ten teams are such powerful outfits as Rice, Santa Clara and Louisiana State. They are all undefeated, but each tied once. This may, or may not, be a measure of the teams as to their chances at the Rose Bowl game. Personally I think it is. And Princeton is the one most likely to receive the invitation.

Minnesota is by far the most powerful team in the country today, but their Big Ten affiliations prevent them from playing at the Rose Bowl. The football fans from Minneapolis have always considered their 1936 team to be the best that the school ever developed. That 1936 powerhouse bowled over North Dakota, 47 to 7; South Dakota, 81 to 0; Iowa, 67 to 6; Wisconsin, 34 to 0; and Chicago, 49 to 0. But they lost to Illinois, 14 to 9, in one of the greatest football upsets that the sport has ever known.

As for this year's season, we don't think that there is a chance of Minnesota being beaten.

Purely tripe. Knox college has been shoved out of the race for the greatest number of consecutive losses on the gridiron. Arkansas City college is now the grand champion with a total of 26 straight losses. However, Knox still has a chance if they get in there and fight. Their record is still a live one, still in the making, but Arkansas had its losing streak end in bitter victory.

A tuition savings trust fund has been created by the alumni of Princeton University (New Jersey) which is designed to help satisfy the need for scholarship funds at that institution.

WE congratulate the team on its past victories, and wish that it may add another to its list tomorrow.
