College Cavalrymen Place High in Events At ROTC Horse Show

Lieutenant Royce A. Drake and Private Joe Lee, Members of the M. S. C. Cavalry Department, Are Wednesday's Outstanding Performers.

By FREDERICK C. OLDS

Thursday afternoon marked the close of one of the most successful R. O. T. C. horse shows ever held at the college show rings on Michigan State campus.

Featuring the largest opening day crowd ever attending this annual event, Wednesday's competition began at 1:15 p. m. with a record number of entries scheduled for performance. Wednesday evening introduced an innovation for the R. O. T. C. show, when a night exhibition was held in Dean demonstration hall, drawing the largest crowd ever to witness a program.

Excellent weather conditions prevailing throughout the two-day program greatly aided the contestants in their record-breaking performances.

Lieutenant Royce A. Drake, regular army officer with the Michigan State military department, was easily the outstanding performer of the show. Riding Watch Me, a United States army horse, and King High, owned by Gerald Peterson of East Lansing, to the only two clean-cut rides in the knock-down and out competition, Lieut. Drake then won the flip for the first place with Watch Me. He then placed first again in a high class field for hunter backs, but Derry Park, Drake also rode in the Thursday afternoon events.

Passing Lieut. Drake closely for individual honors was another rider from the Michigan State college cavalry department, Private Joe Lee of East Lansing, who booted Enthusiast, owned by V. C. Havens of East Lansing, to first place in a thrilling bareback jump Wednesday night at Demonstration hall. Later riding Colonel Dewey R. Rodney's Son Dance, owned by Lieut. Drake on Derry Park, he won second place in the pairs of saddle horses.

Murdoch Takes Tumble
In the bareback jumping event Warren Murdoch, a student cadet in the cavalry department was thrown from his mount and slightly injured. While Sally Baker, Michigan State equestrian, was also pitched from the Arcadia Ridge Farm entry which she was riding in the ladies' hunter class, but mounted and continued competition.

Miss Baker, riding in the student jumping contest (on United States army mounts) won first place in this event on Ed Mulgar. Wayne Chapman on Ralph placed second. Robert Humphrey came in third on Marengo, while Masi Weyer, on Sisher, placed fourth.

Following are the Wednesday summaries:

Wednesday Afternoon
Mixed three-gaited saddle horses shown: Miss M. A. Warden, Cleveland, O.; Miss Margaret, owned by Mrs. Stewart C. Kinney, Jackson, O.; second, Red Tanager, owned by Mrs. Goodwin, Michigan; third, Mountain Air, owned by Miss M. A. Warden, Cleveland, Ohio.

Five-gaited stallions or geldings: Won on Good Evening, owned by Jimmie Kane, Jackson, O.; second, Red Tanager, owned by Mrs. Goodwin, Michigan; third, Mountain Air, owned by Miss M. A. Warden, Cleveland, Ohio.

SYMPHONY GIVES DETROIT CONCERT

M. S. C. Orchestra Featured at International Festival.

The Michigan State college symphony orchestra, under the direction of Michael Press, was the featured organization on the afternoon program of the International Music Festival in Detroit yesterday. This festival is the first of its kind and will continue for several more days.

The college orchestra played Mendelssohn's Fourth Symphony, Arthur Farwell's Suite, "The Gods of the Mountains," and overtures by von Weber and Tchaikovsky. The latter was the "1812" overture which was presented on one of the orchestra's concerts here this winter and received prominent mention at the time.

Other organizations that played on the program were the Henry Ford Trade School German Band, the Christian Chorus of Detroit, in addition to several vocalists.

Waterson, Pitt, Conner, and Warren Are Other Men Who Will Take Office Next Fall.

James Sargent, Lambda Chi Alpha, of Little Rock, Ark., was elected president of the interfraternity council for the coming year at a meeting of the organization held Monday night. He defeated Walt Essler, Phi Delta Theta, in the election and will succeed Richard Wendell, Electa of Saginaw.

Other officers elected were Lyle Waterson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, of Grand Rapids, vice-president; William Pitt, Phi Chi Alpha, of Detroit, secretary; Walter Conner, Theta Kappa Nu, of Detroit, treasurer; and Robert Warren, Alpha Gamma Epsilon, of Charlotte, student council representative. They dedicated for the officers were Ross Clark, Delta Chi, for vice president; Edmund Cotter, Heronian, for secretary; Gordon Collier, Phi Kappa Tau, for treasurer; and Luther Lawrence, Heronian, and Ernest Allen, Delta Chi, both for student council representatives. The newly elected officers will assume their duties at the start of school next fall.

Sargent, the newly elected president, has been active on the campus for the three years he has been at State. He was recently elected president of the Faculty club, and was active on the committee in charge of the last two forestry shindigs. KLUM TO HEAD SIGMA EPSILON

Marzke and Duch Named to Other Offices by Business Ad Honorary.

At a banquet held last Tuesday night honoring eleven new members, Sigma Epsilon, an honor society for business administration students, chose William Klum, 36, of Benton Harbor, to be its president for the next school year. Robert Noel, 35, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, is the retiring head.

In addition to Klum, Carl Marzke of Lansing was elected vice-president, and Victor Duch, Lansing, was named secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Harold S. Patton, head of the economics department, was speaker at the affair, which was held in the faculty dining room of the Union. Other members of the economics staff who were present were Dr. Herman Wynyard, Prof. C. S. Dunford, E. A. Gee and C. S. Logsdon, and Instructor J. C. Davis, and C. R. Upham.

"Ready for Business," a sixteen page booklet containing pictures of students enrolled in the business administration division who are graduating this year, together with a description of their individual activities, fields of interest and practical business experience, was distributed for the first time at the banquet. This booklet, which is published annually by the economics department, working in conjunction with Sigma Epsilon, is sent to approximately 500 business concerns in Michigan and adjoining states. Its purpose is to present to business executives in the best manner possible data concerning the students graduating from Michigan State College each year who will be available for jobs. Results in the past, according to Dr. Patton, have been most gratifying, since a high percentage of those listed in the publication succeed each year in being placed in the business field.

SENIORS

Seniors should get their programs and invitations at the desk in the Union immediately. Also they may now get their tickets at the registrar's office.

AIEE MEMBERS HOLD BANQUET

L. R. Ludwig Speaks Before Meeting of Outstate Groups In Union Tuesday.

The professional members of the Detroit and Ann Arbor section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held a banquet at the Union building Tuesday night at 6:30. Speeches of welcome were given by Dean Durk and J. A. Hanson, secretary of the college. Entertainment was furnished by students of East Lansing high school under the direction of Miss Elliot, a teacher in the school. This entertainment lasted about forty minutes, after which the meeting adjourned to the lecture room in Old Hall because of a need for 200 volts for a demonstration given by L. R. Ludwig.

Mr. Ludwig, the guest speaker of the evening, spoke on "The New Ignition and Its Applications." An employee of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. Mr. Ludwig has studied the theory of electrical discharge in gases for several years. The main body of the speech was about this theory and some of the causes and remedies for "backfires" in vapor or mercury converters.

He has found a great deal of use in generating alternating current from direct current for electric welding machines and electric converters. The tube is very compact and has a great amount of power for its size and operates very easily. Mr. Ludwig said that late developments indicate that there are no limitations in the size to which these tubes can be built to operate correctly. The lecture created a large amount of interest and was considered timely.

POSTAL OFFICIALS HALT HUMORISTS

Two College Magazines Banned Due to Obscenity.

Collegiate humor magazine editors in two universities ran afoul of postal authorities and school officials recently at Harvard university. (Cambridge, Mass.) and the University of Missouri (Columbia), when the latest issues of "The Harvard Lampoon" and the "Show Me" were seized just before they were distributed.

At Harvard, Cambridge police officials, postal authorities, the acting mayor and the district attorney, after scanning the issue which burlesqued a national magazine, decided that it was "obscene, profane and scurrilous." A picture of a nude woman and a story entitled "Desire Under the Mason-Dixon Line" were the main reasons for the action. No official action will be taken against the editors with the matter regarded as just another stunt perpetrated by "The Lampoon."

Because "some of the items in 'Show Me' were lewd and salacious," Arthur W. Hockel, dean of men at the University of Missouri, locked all copies in the university safe to prevent their being distributed. Although no action is contemplated against the editors in this instance, Dean Hockel warned that unless the whole magazine is generally toned down, it will be permanently abolished.

"CHANTICLEER" Committee Nearing Completion of Plans For Water Carnival

Final Dates for Presenting Outlines of Floats and Making Entries for Canoe Events Are Announced; Free Programs to Be Distributed to All Attending Event.

KING AGAIN DIRECTS

John Yale, Margaret Dornbos, and Dorothea Allen Are Cast in Leading Parts.

With the 17th annual senior water carnival, "Milestones of Michigan," only one week away, the committee in charge, headed by Paul King, is busily engaged in completing work designed to make the carnival of this year unique in both form and content. The committee has previously endeavored to graduate classes.

Carpenly crews yesterday began work on the 35 floats which, upon completion next Thursday, will be turned over to individual fraternities, sororities, and miscellaneous societies for conversion into floats symbolic of the topics which have been assigned to them. Each float will represent a "milestone" in the history of Michigan, and the 35 floats, listed and by the down the Red Cedar river, will receive the attention of the complete story of the state of Michigan, from the time of the Indian to the era of Father Coughlin.

"Milestones of Michigan" was first started in 1922, and has since been continued by the same group in the work of Max Argenta, Dorothea Allen, and John Yale, who have since been members of the carnival committee.

An officer who has a float entered in the event will be expected to submit to Douglas Cross of June Branch a date by which the float should be ready for the water carnival.

Contest Deadline Changed
When the committee has had charge of the canoe events, they will provide the canoe paper, they stated that the final date for the acceptance of entries in the water carnival has been moved forward to Wednesday, June 5. For the convenience of entrants, a box will be placed in the library where students may deposit the official entry blanks. Such a blank was printed in the issue of the State News for Tuesday, May 28, and a second one also appears in today's paper.

Members of the sophomore committee, just selected, are Dean Knight, Louis Langdon, Ruth Stacks, Lucy Tranter, and Dana Young. Members of the junior committee, which was selected last year, are Ruth Martin, Mary Ballard, Edith Johnson, Nan Sherman, Virginia Lyon, Nan Galt, and Betty East Ziegler.

The last four members of this committee were added last fall when other members did not come back, and when these girls showed that they had special ability as counselors.

Besides the 30 girls who will act as counselors for next year's freshmen, 21 girls have been selected out of the number who expressed a desire to be counselors to be on a reserve list. These girls will take the places of counselors who fail to come back, and will work on special projects. Other groups who will assist the freshmen counseling system next year will be Tower Guard, which will give a tea for Lansing and East Lansing freshmen early in the year, and the senior organizations recently formed in the dormitories. It is planned that the senior organizations will be in full charge of transfer students.

Girls named on the reserve list are as follows: Jane Anderson, Josephine Boyce, Mary Jane Conway, Mildred Erickson, Elaine F. Lott, Kay French, Ann Green, Annette Hammed, Virginia Harrington, Sally Jackson, Dorothy Kramer, Iris Kramer, Alice Malcomson, Jean McGillicray, Joan McKinley, Kay Melching, Margaret Head, Ewan Stoddard, Myrna Vantassel, Jeanette Wener and Clarinda Wingard.

PI KAPPA DELTA INDUCTS SEVEN

Seven students will be initiated into Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary speech fraternity, at a formal banquet to be held in the Union building tonight at seven o'clock. This meeting will also celebrate the fourteenth anniversary of the Michigan State college chapter of the organization.

After the banquet tonight, Coaches J. O. Menchhofer and J. J. Drake will be presented to members of the two debate teams. The main address of the evening will be given by Dr. David Henry, assistant superintendent of public instruction for the state of Michigan.

Langdon Elected Tower Guard Head

Tower Guard elections Tuesday resulted in the choice of Louis Langdon for president, Dorothy Garlock for vice-president, Nancy Farley, secretary, and Beverly Jane Smith, treasurer.

Next Thursday evening in East Mary Mayo hall the newly initiated members of Tower Guard will meet to discuss plans for the coming year. At this time the new president of the group will present the traditional projects of Tower Guard, among which is the tea for Lansing and East Lansing girls during the first part of fall term.

REVIVAL OF SWINGOUT

With the revival of Swingout this year there arises the same problem that contributed so largely to its inglorious disruption two years ago, the same ban that has detracted from almost every Swingout since this venerable tradition was begun "way back when."

However, we are not here concerned with the evils of intertempore. We are concerned rather with the two essential facts that swingout on the one hand is the most colorful and memorable tradition of all college life, providing as it does the only opportunity outside of commencement for the seniors of every college and school in the University to unite as a single group, and on the other hand the fact that Swingout is entirely incompatible with the spirit of modernity that always has seemed to prevail.

After a lapse of a year, much of the stigma of the last Swingout, in which four students were suspended for their "over-enthusiasm" has been forgotten and the popularity of the event has once again reasserted itself over the justifiable misgivings of the University authorities.

"REDS" ACADEMIC AND OTHER

We must not forget that an epithet is not necessarily fact. Indeed, it may not be intended to be so. If people have a good adjective—good because vague—to apply to persons that they do not like or adopt doctrines that they think abhorrent, it will be used with great freedom and indefiniteness. All newspaper readers know that the term "Red" has been having a great run lately. It employed very much as "Bolshevik" was for a few years after the war.

Education After Graduation

Within a few years, college students will find that they must continue their education after graduation to compete in their particular vocation. A course in graduate work, to keep the individual abreast of the times, has already been established for medical practitioners, and a plan whereby teachers will be compelled to take postgraduate work was recently passed by the New York state senate.

A curious reporter found a most enjoyable hour as the audience of an elderly gentleman who is employed by the building and grounds department. The original idea was that of commenting on the beauty of some new orchid in bloom at the botanical gardens, or to tell of some sickness at the greenhouse. However, it so happened that only the observations of age made an impression.

Paris, cast in this picture as a Broadway entertainer, is lured from the New York stage because of his fondness for the "poines" and also wine and women. After sharing honors with a little dancing girl in a midwest town, he stages a comeback that sets the theatrical world afire.

Miss Keeler is his dancing partner, who is unable to hold her own for the great entertainer, although she continually snubs her, having fallen for the wiles of a blues singer, the wife of a king of the underworld.

Heien Morgan, torch singer and piano sifter, is given a bigger part than usual, while Glenda Farrell is the same wise-cracking, hard-boiled character which she usually portrays, although in this picture she is not the gold-digging type, instead, her entire interest lies in keeping her brother, Al Jolson, from ruination through his own folly.

The catchy tunes, most famous of which is "Latin From Manhattan" and "Go Into Your Dance," are the work of Harry Warren and Al Dubin.
