Missouri, Boston Each Earn Two Berths on Team While Marquette, Michigan, Arizona and Carnegie Place One Man; Three Repeaters.

Seven schools placed men on the 1936 State News All-Opponent team, picked from players who faced the Spartans during the season. Temple University led all opponents by winning three positions on the first team, followed by Missouri and Boston College with two each.

Marquette, the only team to defeat the Spartans, placed only one man, Ray "Buzz" Buivid, who was named honorary captain for the third consecutive year and was named honorary captain for the third consecutive year. Buivid was elected to a half-back post for the third consecutive year and was named honorary captain for the third consecutive year.

State Beats Arizona In Grid Finale

Spartans Finish Season With Record of Six Wins, Loss and Two Ties.

Their season closed with an unexpectedly close 7-0 victory over the University of Arizona Wildcats. Coach Charlie Bachman and his Spartans today could look back at a campaign that saw them rise to the heights, drop to the depths, and coast along in mediocrity on nine consecutive Saturdays.

On a cold gridiron, the Wildcats of Arizona struck back after an early Spartan touchdown and practically played the favorite northerners to a standstill through three quarters. Al Aggett and Steve Sebo collaborated to score the seven points after six minutes of play had elapsed. Sebo going over after catching a pass from Aggett in the Boston lineup that swept to a tie with the Spartans, and Fry was the spearhead of the Missouri attack.

Guepe Heads Second Team

Cooper of Michigan pressed Gintoff for a backfield post and winds up at left half on the second team. Art Guepe and Gembris, the Wayne kicker, were the next in line.

Guepe was named captain of the second team because it was he who called the plays that beat State. Both these teams are strong and represent the best combined strength of the 1936 Michigan State opponents.

Ties Defeat Lambda Chis

Last Second Pass Brings Championship Title to Electrics.

In completing a pass for a touchdown in the last play of the game the Electrics whipped the Lambda Chis 6 to 0 in the final playoff for the fraternity championship. Play was somewhat restricted in a game which saw both teams suffering from the cold, blustery weather and a hard, slippery field.

Until the touchdown pass, the Electrics were ahead in first downs, 3 to 1. Both teams resorted to a passing attack to gain necessary yardage. Jenkins passed to Moyes for the winning touchdown.

Although neither team could make a first down in the first half, the Lambda Chis had the best of it. Hard blocking and spectacular passing were evident throughout the game.

In the second half, both teams filled the air with passes, using running plays only to mix their attack. Time and time again

SPORTORIALS

By AL THEILER, Sports Editor

It's all over but the shouting. Jack Heppinstall tomorrow will turn his eyes toward other sports, will start in his rub-downs and bandaging on Spartans engaged in other sports than football, while Dave Johnson and his managing staff have finished their chores for the year. They've raised the flag over Macklin Field for the final time this year—and now all there is to do is go out and watch the snow flurries fight for seats in the Spartan bowl. What we mean is—football has bowed out.

Tonight Sportorials takes a final fling at the sport for this fall. Others are crowding into the limelight—king basketball will reign supreme soon—indoor track—wrestling—boxing—fencing—swimming—are all coming up.

Coach Bachman had a smooth team all fall. Perhaps its greatest fault was wrapped up in the fact that there were too many players for each position. Three deep at each post they stood, with a junior varsity crowding up that wanted recognition. At the start of the campaign the outlook was bright, but there was little comment about an undefeated campaign. There were too many question marks.

Four games rolled by—the Spartans were still undefeated. But, in that Missouri game at the homecoming here, State fans should have seen the storm coming. The Spartans were outplayed that day. They won only because Missouri fumbled themselves into defeat. And the Spartans couldn't get their offensive moving against a big line. Marquette was the next game, and things went bloomy over in Milwaukee. Boston and Temple followed—both good games. Kansas—Arizona—and it ended there.

Now we begin looking toward the 1937 campaign, and although optimism in football doesn't usually pay off to any winners, the future looks OK. Take a glance at the boys who will be back.

For ends there'll be Games, Nelson, Dehl, Bremer, and McCreich. Lots to be happy about there. Every one of them can catch passes and all are strong on both offense and defense. Yeah, man, the ends will be formidable in '37.

For tackles you can't lose on Spielman and Swartz. Any pair that can go in and share work with Zindel and Sieder must have something on the ball, and Fred Schroeder and Tim Schrader will be in there to help them along.

Gopfert, Beaubien and Dudley will be back for the guards and will be just about as strong as you can expect. Miknavitch and Ailing were the reserve centers this year, and although they still haven't come up with a performance that would indicate that they are coming All-Americans, there is still room for hope. Not bad, then, at the center of the line.

The quarterbacks, Allan Diebold and Chuck Halbert have done a good job this year—they should have improved a lot for next fall. No kick coming there. Then to the halfbacks.

If State doesn't have the strongest pair of halfbacks in the history of the school this department misses its guess. Pingel and Conledge—Business man John and Jackrabbit Jack—both pass, and Pingel can kick—and both can run—both can back up the line. These two boys should have a great year—and will be a combined dose of poison.

Uad Hancy and George Kovachik broke into the line-up all this fall, and showed lots of promise. They'll both be back, and the middle of the backfield should pack lots of short punch.

This is just a once over—it doesn't include any of the other reserves, or the frosh coming up. But right now you can take your pick, and then put your bifocals away for the long winter.

Nobody at the field seemed to notice it, but they were witnessing a fluke of the great American game. It was just at the end. The game supposedly was over—fans flocked on the field—the final score, went up on the scoreboard—State 7, Arizona 0—but the game wasn't over.

Paul Sanderson, sports editor of the University of Detroit Varsity News, is one fellow who likes to get in hot water. He penned a letter to George Andros, of the Michigan Daily, and second mentioned printed the letter in his column. It might be good publicity for Sanderson, but it might have reverse English on it.

It wasn't so awfully long ago, either, that Mr. Sanderson printed a large headline on his page, which read something like this—"Villanova Snaps Titans' Winning Streak of One Game." That rather went against the grain of the students down there, and the boys proceeded to find out just how Mr. Sanderson looked without hair. The inference is plain—live and learn.

Jenkins ran back and threw passes into the waiting hands of his receivers. His teammates blocked out the opposition in giving the receiver time to get out in the clear.

Several times it appeared as though the Lambda Chis were going to cash in and score a touchdown, but every time the losers threatened the Ties would break through and spill the plays.

The Lambda Chis made the first down of the game in the third quarter when Freeman tossed a bullet pass to Ottermann. The score remained this way until Jenkins faked a pass and ran for a first down. Then the Ties fooled the Lambda Chis by completing a flat pass over the center which came close to being a first down. On the next play the Ties made the necessary yardage and went into the lead two first downs to one.

Lash Paces Indiana To Run Crown

Hoosiers Overwhelm Field to Capture Annual Central Harrier Title.

With Don Lash showing the way, University of Indiana cross country team ran true to form here yesterday as the Hoosier harriers swept to an overwhelming victory in the eleventh annual Central Intercollegiate meet.

Indiana compiled a team score of 23 points, less than half the total recorded by Drake University, which surprised most of the spectators by finishing second with 52 points. Michigan State, the defending champion, was third with 37, followed by Ohio State with 59.

The Spartans showed some signs of freedom from the recent 1-C 4-A meet as they competed against the crack field, which brought together the three outstanding cross country teams of the United States.

Wins by 50 Yards

In winning, Lash was clocked in 19:36.2, one of the fastest times on record for a four-mile race. The Hoosier star paced the field by 30 yards at the finish line, pulling away with every step from William Feiler of Drake, who trailed in the runner-up position.

State's Ken Waite, winner of the 1-C 4-A meet could do no better than fifth as James Smith and Tom Deckard of Indiana, crashed through in third and fourth places, respectively. Waite was the only Spartan in the first 10. Gerard Boss, State's second man, was eleventh.

Lash and Feiler battled on even terms for about three and a half miles. They alternated the lead until the final half mile when Lash moved out in front to acquire his commanding lead.

The race was run over a wind-swept course which made things miserable for all of the entries. Lash's time was all the more remarkable considering the weather conditions.

Melverne Trutt, another Hoosier, stepped home behind Waite and the former in turn was followed by Ray Mahannah and Fred Padgett, both of Drake. Earl Applegate became the fifth Indiana to finish in the first 10, breaking the tape following Padgett. James Whitaker of Ohio State was tenth.

The remainder of the field was well scattered at the finish. After Boss was Bob Hills of State. Art Green, another Spartan, was fifteenth.

It marked the second time in three years Indiana had won the championship. The Hoosiers previously had captured the crown in 1934.

The meet brought to conclusion State's 1936 cross country season. The Spartans will meet next Monday for their annual picture and at the same time elect a captain for 1937.

The W. P. A. Adult Evening school at Ohio State university has attracted 1,224 students.

Come And Get It!

No "Soup's On" But Barbecue is On Its Way.

Calling all freshmen... calling all sophomores... calling all their elder brothers and sisters... the juniors and seniors, too... and finally, calling all philanthropic persons anxious to sacrifice themselves for a good cause... come to Demonstration hall at 7:30 tonight and expect action... rival freshmen and sophomore mobs to meet... for their annual hatchet-burying celebration... stand by for further announcements...

And there's a lot more to this freshman-sophomore truce-shedding than eating sandwiches, "slipping cider through a straw," and getting flattened out by the heavy mob... for there will be pep talks... and dancing until 11 o'clock to Red Dremmer's music... don't forget your student books... they are the only acceptable pass-words...

If you aren't leaving town tomorrow for a feast of turkey, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, and the real "dex your hairs" for you are not a forgotten man... there will be a Union dance in the ballroom tomorrow night... with dancing from nine to twelve.

Social activity for next week-end, however, is "absent on leave" but will return the following week-end... the Officers club will hold their dance and installation of sponsors on Friday night, December 4... that same night another red-letter party in the Union ballroom... the Medicine Ball sponsored by the Junior American Veterinary Medical Association... and a long list of smaller affairs...

The Graduate Dances club, an organization for graduate women students, will hold its initial meeting... Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Karl Wright.

The "A-Cappella" choir's presentation of the "Feast of St. Cecilia" attracted a large number of music lovers Sunday afternoon... the audience talked about the beauty of it afterwards...

Last week-end's social story was... the S. W. L. dance Friday night in the Union... the Student club dance in the gym annex the same night... the night at 215 Evergreen partying and the Chi O scavenger hunt, both on Friday night... the Union Dormitory party Saturday... and on Saturday, the Psi S. Sigma Kappa Sigma Kappa of this chapter were hostesses to their sorority sisters from many points in Michigan Saturday. The occasion was the 62nd anniversary of the founding of Sigma Kappa. A banquet was held at the Union in the evening.

The program included a skit commemorating the five founders, a vocal duet by Leona Horning and Gwendolyn Miller, and talks given by Lola Jane Rosenberger, district president, Marcelle Hartman, a Sigma Kappa alumnae and poet from South Bend, and Elaine Wagner Becker, an alumna of this chapter. Dorothy Anderson was toastmistress and chairman of the banquet.

Overnight guests at the house Saturday night were: Lola Jane Rosenberger, Charlotte Brentnstein, Fern Whitman, and Margaret Davis.

Sigma Kappa announces the holding of Dorothy Colthorp, 32, Saginaw, and Virginia Mullenberg, 40, East Tawas, and Lucille Croft, 29, Porterville.

North Hall

Just because this week-end is Thanksgiving, North Hall girls didn't stay home last week. Jane Cordner and Jean Farbank went to Detroit. Ruth Clark and Mary Elizabeth Walsh to Bay City. Elizabeth Welch to Grand Rapids. Mary Knappe to the Northwestern game. Jean Lathrop to Detroit, and Barbara Baldwin to Grand Rapids. Jean Pack and Mary Baldwin had guests. Carol McDowell and Lila Coonrad went to Olivet.

Dean Conrad and Madam Conrad were dinner guests Wednesday.

Constance Clark has returned from Alma, minus her appendix. Jean Stoddard has been called home by the illness of her mother.

Theta Kappa Nu

Bill Ingleson and Watson Connor were in Chicago over the week-end for a Y. M. C. A. conference. After the meeting they went to the home of Bill's parents in Rochelle, Ill.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Margie Berridge, Betty Smith, Sally Howell, Sue Blackney, and Addie Jane Rogers, journeyed to Detroit after the game Saturday and took in two operas. These music lovers camped at the Berridges Saturday night.

Betty Lentz, Chris Campbell and Marian Taylor all spent the week-end at the Kappa house, and Fran MacIntyre entertained Gracie Os-good from Detroit.

Alpha Xi Delta

The last football game of the season brought several alums and visitors to East Lansing for the week-end. Beneva Perse of Battle Creek was the guest of Rachael Minges. Mary Sue Kantz of Flint and Lucille Kelley of Saugatuck spent Saturday and Sunday at the house.

Ruth Griffith spent the week-end in Grand Rapids.

whom attended the party. Social chairman "Lub" Thompson's parents were special guests.

Arthur Kessler will be the guest during Thanksgiving of Miss Helen Vershus at her home in Grand Rapids.

Now that the dorm party is over all the talk is of the Thanksgiving holiday (holidays to many of us) and a preliminary survey shows that the dorm will have but four or five girls here this week-end. They plan great things with their small but select group at dinner in the Union cafeteria Thursday and feel they deserve no one's sympathy... for once they will be able to have all the light or dark that they want and won't get the backache or something after April 1st has walked off with all the bread or cousin Tom got the dandruff.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Alpha Gamma Rho held its fall term party last Saturday night in the Little Theatre. Music was by Ray Vickerstaff and patrons were Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Clark and Dr. and Mrs. Stubbelt. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brannaman, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jensen, W. M. Barton, and T. R. Cox. Delta Sigma Phi

Three members of the Culver polo team were overnight guests of the Delta Sigma last Saturday.

Brother Bellman returned from the upper peninsula with an 8-point buck to show for his efforts.

Phi Kappa Tau

Phi Tau's party, at which the usual decorous atmosphere prevailed, was adequately patronized by Professors Menchhofer and Applegate. Despite the fact that their polo team bowed down in defeat, the Culver boys, guests of Edward G. McNamara, late of Culver, seemed to enjoy themselves at said ding.

Initiation last Sunday morning brought two men into the circle of brotherhood: Al Benfer, and Ed McNamara, both sophomores.

Chi Omega

The scavenger hunt Friday night was the brain-child of Gracie Newins and Mary Jayne Beach, and they carried it through with a bang. Blanche Deutscher was in charge of the hot dogs and doughnuts.

Turning back again to the more formal, the chapter was hostess at a chocolate Sunday afternoon. Betty Lou Ziegler was general chairman.

Jeannette Baird was the guest of Mary Jayne Beach at her home in St. Johns Saturday night.

Alpha Chi Omega

Sunday night, with a buffet supper, the Alpha Chi and their dates had a real supper. Everyone came early and stayed late—but no later than 10:30.

After everyone had gone, and only girls from the house remained, Helen Amerman announced that her Thanksgiving dinner had arrived all the way from New Jersey—so we ate again. Cold chicken, cake, cookies, and jotted nuts took up but a small part of the hostess's mother had sent.

Beta Kappa

May Roy and Herbert Houghton are to leave Wednesday evening for Granville, Ohio to attend the mid-west convention of the Beta Kappa fraternity. The convention is to be held at the Beta Kappa house on the Denison university campus on Friday.

Howard Stafford of Kalamazoo

Zeta Tau Alpha

Patricia Horn of Grand Rapids was pledged to Zeta Tau Alpha Friday night.

Margaret Stevenson, Port Huron, turned up at the chapter house Friday night and stayed over for the whole week-end.

The Zetas and the Kappa Kappa Gammas are having their exchange dinner Tuesday night.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta has pledged Grace Van Brough, '40, of Long Island, New York.

People came and people went this week-end. Among those who spent the week-end out of town were Jean Brooks, Frances Sage, Bernice Proctor, Barbara Smith, and Christine Rothney. Charlotte Yeager returned for a brief but nice visit.

We are all happy to report that Mrs. Roberts is feeling much better.

East Mary Mayo

The last football week-end of the season was completed and the excitement of many guests at East Mary Mayo. Among them were Jean MacVicar of Port Huron, who was visiting Joyce Taylor, May Owens of Detroit, visiting Kay Shepherd, Margaret Kindra of Mt. Clemens visiting Ruth Marshall, Laura Jean Wilson had as her guest Dolores Bettens of Fremont, while Jeanne Richards entertained Virginia Lauber, from her home town, Albion. Marguerite Smith of Greenville visited Alice Gillespie and Peg Davids had her sister Helen up from Detroit. There will only be five girls at the dorm over Thanksgiving. These girls are girls who live at such a distance that they won't be able to visit their family on this great holiday.
