Caucuses to be held Feb. 1. Fresh Will Name Officers for Year.

Class meetings to nominate candidates for the winter term all classes elect officers will be held Monday, February 1. It was announced yesterday by Student Council Chairman Larry Hamilton.

Caucuses will be held by the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes.

The primaries will be held Tuesday, February 11. During the intervening period the election of the candidates will be the order of the day.

Finals will be held Wednesday, February 18. Freshman class officers will be elected at this time. This marks a change, as heretofore they have been elected during fall term.

Student Council, says Hamilton, changed this in order to give the grades of one term more time to elect officers.

Members of the Student Council Board and Liberal Arts will be chosen and the composition of the Student Council as presented for public approval.

The Student Council constitution has been revised during the year. This was considered a necessary reform by the incoming members to determine the actual powers of the organization.

The governing body's scope has been enlarged, and several new members appointed, representing various campus organizations. It is believed that such a move would in all ways agree with student opinion.

The constitution of the Publications Board also marks a milestone in student government at Michigan State and it is felt that the new reforms have been planned. It is considered, however, that again student voice should be heard before final steps are taken.

The freshmen class meeting will be held at 5:30 o'clock in the chemistry lecture room. A meeting of the Student Council will be held in the library.

Students will meet in the large lecture room in the horticulture building. The junior class will meet at the same time, but the new of the meeting has not as yet been announced.

SWL Dance Class Uses Annex Floor

Many Ballroom Variations Learned.

The S. W. L. advanced dancing class met for the second time Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the gym annex. Steps learned were the dip and a fox-trot variation.

In a fast pace on a crowded dance floor, Evan Stoddard instructed and Rita Casper played the piano.

Next week this class will learn the steps of the tango—the tango promenade and the French cha-cha. Another feature will be the question box for questions about ballroom etiquette and special dancing.

The beginning dancing class met for the first time Thursday, January 14, at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium annex. The class was crowded that several members were shifted into the advanced division.

Miss Garvin, assisted by Evan Stoddard, is in charge, and Martha Vial plays the piano.

Pittsburgh Chemist Talks on Appliances

E. W. Gilliland, chief chemist of the Mining Safety Appliance Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., was the speaker for the January meeting of the American Chemical Society held Tuesday evening, in the Kedzie chemical laboratory.

The lecture was held at a 6:30 p. m. banquet in the Sunset room of the Union building.

Opens "Y" Series

O. W. Warmingham

"Y" Lectures Open Sunday

Boston Bible Prof. Begins Religious Talks in the Peoples Church.

Dr. Osbert W. Warmingham, lecturer and professor of English Bible at Boston University, will open the Y. M. C. A. religious lecture series at Peoples church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His subject will be "Think Straight."

The five-week series of talks is well-known speakers. The second of this kind to be sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. is conducted in an effort to make students realize their place on the campus and in the world of affairs. Dr. Warmingham's lecture comes as a result of the wide popularity which he has won on his past visits here.

Besides being a nationally-known lecturer, the eastern professor is a musician, poet, and writer. His wide experience in the fields of education and religion have equipped him for his work at a speaker.

Dr. Warmingham was born in Madras, India, of English parents. He received his early education in English schools. After coming to the United States, he attended Ohio Wesleyan and Northwestern universities, as well as the University of Chicago. He became a faculty member of Boston University after completing studies there in 1917. Since 1920, he has held his present position as professor of English Bible at that school. During the summer Dr. Warmingham acts as a lecturer at the American Youth Foundation camp at Shelby.

Special music for the Sunday lecture will be provided by the men's glee club, who will sing two numbers, "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and "Hear the Lord, O My Soul."

New Monkey Drill Done On A Horse

Cavalry Institutes Course in Gymnastics.

Feeling the need for greater training in horsemanship for those students in the cavalry, the military department has organized a mounted gymnastic class. This class is composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Their drill is called "monkey drill." Bare back riding, vaulting, and pyramids are some of the stunts they are now going through. As the year rolls on they will take on more complicated drill and in the near future they will give an exhibition of their skill before the student body.

Ed MacNamara, a sophomore with senior military standing, is captain of the troop. Ed, up from Culver, is very well acquainted with this type of drill, having taken part in it while attending school.

Captain D. A. Taylor, of the military department, is in charge of the troop. This drill teaches the need of remaining relaxed perhaps, better than anything else, while on a horse.

Informality Is Keynote Of Lecture

Low Saret Reads His Lyrics—Talks on Poetry and Philosophies.

A most human, inspiring poet was Low Saret, lecturer and instructor of the winter term, who last Tuesday night, in what should have been a lecture, read some of his poems and lyrics in the informal atmosphere of a club at his own house.

The thirty-minute lecture, which was held at 8 o'clock, was a most informal affair. Saret, who is a student of the University of Michigan, read some of his poems and lyrics in the informal atmosphere of a club at his own house.

'Tagging' Makes For Variety Of Partners At Union Scuffle

If You've Never Attended This Type of Party, Be Yourself Over to the Union Friday Evening and Try It.

Have you ever been to a "tag" dance? It's not the sort of party you see in the movies, but a most interesting and varied affair. It's a party where you can "tag" your partner and change partners as often as you like.

You see, this is the first "tag" dance ever held at Michigan State, and it's a most interesting and varied affair. It's a party where you can "tag" your partner and change partners as often as you like.

Arrange For Globe Players Bring Shakespearean Plays Here Twice Monday

Three Day Publishers Convention to be Held Here Starting Jan. 23.

Members of the Michigan Press Association are planning toward the date of Thursday, January 23, which marks the annual meeting of the organization.

Concerning its three-day convention at the college, meetings will begin at 7:30 p. m. Thursday afternoon and continue until Saturday morning.

The Michigan publishers will be treated to a program of practical publishing talks and addresses by noted speakers.

Clayton Rand of Clifton, Mass., president of the National Editorial Association, and one of the best known speakers in the newspaper field, will speak at Friday evening.

Advertising manager for the Klinger-Grover and Baker Company, this speaker is recognized as one of the leading advertising men in the field.

Another speaker whose presence should be profitable in building their advertising for 1937 will be A. J. Johnston of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Johnston will speak at the Friday afternoon conference.

Following that there will be a round table discussion on advertising and other problems, short talks being given by Harry Faiming, Peterburg Sun, Helen K. Adams, Dundee Reporter, Robert Russell, Grant County Herald at Ottumwa, and Floyd Bergberg of the Astoria County Independent at Standish.

Time will be given for an informal discussion of the points raised by the four speakers.

Girls Get Home Ec In 3-Week Course

Coeds Get Kaleidoscopic View of Whole Field.

Eight girls may be numbered among the 260 students enrolled in the short short course of eight weeks which is being offered this term. These girls are in the home economics division. This is the first short course offered in home economics since 1929.

The girls have 34 hours of classes per week for the eight weeks, and in this manner, they derive a kaleidoscopic view of the whole field.

For contrast, the program will conclude with a setting of one of the Odes of Horace for mixed quartet, written in the same period.

These compositions will be sung by pupils from the class of Fred Patton, accompanied by one of the ensemble classes of Alexander Schuster. As usual, the program will be preceded by a short lecture and followed by informal discussion, both conducted by Dr. Leonard Ellwood of the music department faculty.

Faculty, students and the public are invited to attend this series of historical programs, which will continue throughout the winter.

The Sigma Upsilon at Oregon State college have introduced the idea of having a hired chaperon at their fraternity during Saturday evenings.

Entrance Tests

Entrance tests for new students entering for the first time this term will be given as follows: Tuesday, January 26, 4 p. m., Psychology test—107 Olds Hall. Tuesday, January 26, 5 p. m., Photograph—Ag. Pavilion, Ag. Hall. Wednesday, January 27, 5 p. m., Reading test—107 Olds Hall. Thursday, January 28, 7 p. m., sharp, Medical Examination for Men—College Hospital. Thursday, January 28, 8 p. m., sharp, Medical Examination for Women—College Hospital.

Any class absences incurred by the keeping of these appointments will be excused by the Dean of the Division. These examinations are compulsory for all new students. Please report for the various appointments on time.

FRED T. MITCHELL, Dean of Men.

Shakespearean Plays Here Twice Monday

'Comedy of Errors' and 'Julius Caesar' Each to be Presented Twice on Special Stage Constructed in Church.

The Old Globe theatre players will present their "Shakespearean" plays on an improvised stage in the basement of the Peoples church next Monday night, January 23. They will give two performances, each consisting of both plays.

The company will be made up of both players and officers, who will be assisted by other performers.

Group Hears Strike Talk

Prof. J. C. Davis Tells Students of Present Labor Situation.

Speaking to a group of students who overheard the faculty room in the basement of the library Wednesday evening, Professor J. C. Davis of the economics department, discussed the present strike situation. This was the first meeting of the term of the International Relations club.

Professor Davis opened his speech with a brief historical sketch of the trade union movement, stating that the American Federation of Labor was begun at a time when such an organization was valuable. Today in many industries, such as the automobile and steel manufacturing, the vast majority of the workers are unskilled and thus cannot qualify as members of the A. F. L.

Factory managers and owners have advocated the company union to take the place of the A. F. L. Under this system certain individuals are elected to represent the workers in the factory for bargaining with their employers. The C. I. O. points out that, necessarily, fear of losing his job renders the individual representative unable to accomplish anything.

The United Automobile Workers, as organized by the C. I. O., are therefore demanding that the U. A. W. be recognized as the only collective bargaining agency in the General Motors factories. The management charges that the union wants to run the plants, but the U. A. W. replies that the union has been granted this right by Studebaker and Nash and that there has been no charge on the side of the management that the union has been attempting to run these plants.

This is a test case for both sides, and it is not likely to be settled permanently for some time. Public opinion will probably play an important part in deciding the outcome.

Left-handed ping-pong playing and finger painting are means of curing stuttering used by the speech clinic of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. T. H. Whitehead, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Georgia, claims that men and women use cosmetics to enhance their natural attractiveness only because they have failed to find "the spring of eternal youth."

After the Texas exposition, the company went on the road. Last Saturday they played at Ann Arbor. As they played to capacity crowds for two nights, it seems that the University students accepted them for what they are, exceptional performers of "Shakespearean" plays.

Students will be admitted upon presenting their student books at the church.

Noted Speaker Arrives Sunday

Prof. Warmingham to Give Four Talks Here.

Prof. Osbert Warmingham, poet, musician, writer and lecturer, with his eastern conception of beauty, comes to Michigan State college Sunday already a friend of many students here. He has lectured often to campus religious groups during recent years and last year he spoke at an all-college convocation.

Prof. Warmingham was born in Madras, India, and acquired his secondary education in English schools there. He attended Oxford University in England. He came to the United States 25 years ago and has studied at Ohio Wesleyan University, the University of Wisconsin, and Boston University. For the last 15 years, he has been a professor of Biblical history and literature at Boston University.

He is well known to college students here through his employment by the American Youth Foundation as a leader at their camp at Shelby, Michigan.

The visiting lecturer will open his speaking program with an address to the Sunday noon group of college men and women. In the afternoon at 5 o'clock he will initiate the Y. M. C. A. winter lecture series with his speech, "Let's Think Straight."

He will address the freshmen lecture group at 5 o'clock Tuesday on "The Achievement of Beauty." His topic for the all-membership meeting of Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 Tuesday evening, is "Spiritual Living in a Spiritual World."

A buffet supper honoring Mr. Warmingham will be held at the church at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening; the price of the supper is twenty cents a plate. Reservations must be telephoned to Miss Sater at the church before Saturday noon, or to any member of the junior cabinet. Barbara Sears is chairman of this buffet supper.

Cagers Face Wildcats, Seeking Revenge For 1936 Loss

Whip Orange To Even Two Game Series

VanAlstyne to Start Three Seniors Against Northwestern Tomorrow.

Hooping a record of better than 50-50 for the first time since the opening game of the season, Michigan State basketball performers are in Chicago tonight resting for their battle with Northwestern tomorrow night.

Coach Ben VanAlstyne took a group of 10 men to the western city in hopes of avenging a 29-25 defeat suffered at the expense of the Wildcats a year ago.

State moved past the 500 mark last Tuesday night by turning back a smoothly clicking Syracuse unit—quintet, 36-30, in Demonstration hall. It was the Spartans' fifth win in nine starts and enabled the team to square a two-game series with the Orange who had won at home last season.

Confident of Winning

With Northwestern playing in-state basketball this season, the Spartans are confident of victory tomorrow night, in the wake of their showings in the last four games. State has played brilliant basketball since Coach VanAlstyne juggled his lineup two weeks ago in Cleveland.

The Spartans turned back Geneva and followed with a triumph over University of Kentucky. Then after losing to Marquette, the State crew came to life and conquered Syracuse, ranked as one of the top-notch clubs in the east. Against the Wildcats, VanAlstyne undoubtedly will start his best lineup which is composed of three seniors, a junior and a sophomore. This is in marked contrast to the team of four sophomores and one senior VanAlstyne has used on occasions this season.

Back With Starters

Eddie Rolan, forward, and Doran Wilkinson, center, both regulars in the 1936 campaign, but benched in favor of sophomores during the early part of this season, have regained a spot on the first team. The pair played impressively against Syracuse.

Ten Osterink will be the other forward with Ronald Garlock and Howard Kraft again holding down the guards.

To beat Syracuse, State employed a bit of strategic play. Using extra men in the foul circle, the Spartans bottled up Syracuse's great center, Ed Sonderman, holding him to a single basket.

Despite their comfortable margin of the final gun, State had to step it the way to triumph. The game was fought throughout with the red-charging hands five times during the game.

Leads at Half

The Spartans topped a 20-17 score at half time, but in the second period Syracuse struck back to take the lead after five minutes of play. Undaunted, State tied up baskets and shortly moved away to a seven-point lead.

But Syracuse, like Kentucky, refused to concede any victory. The Orange dug into the Spartan lead and with two minutes to go had reduced the State margin to one basket, the score reading 31-29.

It was at this juncture State applied the pressure. Kraft swept in on a fast play to make it 33-29 and seconds later Garlock counted a basket and foul shot to clinch the outcome.

Can't Understand

The visitors, accustomed to the loose collecting around New York, were the victims of 16 of the 29 fouls called. The Orange just couldn't understand what Official Jack Travnick and Eddie Powers had against them.

Osterink and Garlock set the pace for State, each rolling up 13 points. The former hit the hoop for six goals and a foul shot, while Garlock made four baskets and five free throws.

Carecki, a guard, topped the leaders with nine points.

State meets two opponents in Demonstration hall next week. The Hawaiian All-Stars play here Tuesday night, while Hope college of the M. I. A. A. will be the attraction Friday night.

SPORTORIALS

By AL THEILER, Sports Editor

This DePaul university cage five that will appear here later on in the campaign is nobody's set-up. Their record so far includes victories over Illinois, current leader in the Big Ten, by a 31-25 margin; over Wisconsin, 33-17, and close losses to Purdue and Minnesota. The Boeltermakers whipped the parochials in one of those high scoring contests—score, 53-45. That, my friend, is a real ball game. Minnesota won from them 34-25.

So don't take the boys from Chicago as a soft touch when they wander into Demonstration Hall. That will be just another one of the great games fans are seeing here this year.

A real crowd turned out for the exhibition Wednesday night over at Steve's. George Spears displayed a technique with the cue that not only amazed the boys but astounded them, and the result is liable to be a brief upheaval in the billiard market hereabouts.

The Recreation was crowded to the gills and Spears not only showed himself to be a great star with the balls but also to have a personality that drew his witnesses.

If you'll wander over to the gymnasium some night, get upstairs into the main section, peer through the dimness, and keep your ears peeled, you'll be sure to catch, sooner or later, a glimpse of one of the best hurdlers in this section.

Spartan track fans will remember him if they were at any of the track meets in Macklin Field a few years ago. He used to run for Grand Rapids Junior College, and he perennially ran off with the hurdling races in the meets at the local stadium.

Harvey Woodstra is his name, and he is a flash on shoes in going over the hurdles. It's a revelation to watch him as he takes the high ones, his long limbs picked up and then slapped down on the boards. He really is a picture of perfect fitness at the event.

If you haven't heard about him before, you will before long. He ran off with the Olympic sectional try-outs in Milwaukee last spring and got to the finals down east. He was finally stopped there, but only by such performers as Forrest Towns and others.

He'll be competing on State's frosh array this winter, and will probably keep well out in front in every event. Then next year he'll be out for the varsity. Watch him go then.

At the University of Florida boxing is ranked as such an important sport that it even takes the headlines away from the great winter sport of basketball. Captain Gene Gishborne of the University of Pennsylvania swimming team won three first places as his team was trouncing Penn State. In a series of basketball games between the University of Southern California and California, the Trojans made the longest run in the history of the school when he intercepted a Notre Dame pass and ran 98 yards to score. That was in 1936.

Coach Jimmie Ehlman of Washington University blames the newspaper reporters for his team's defeat by Pittsburgh New Year's day. "The newspaper reporters did it. I wish they'd made my boys half as mad as those Panthers."

Harris, the negro captain of the 1937 University of Iowa football team, is the first of his race ever to captain a Big Ten eleven. Since Bill Spaulding began coaching the UCLA Bruins, they never have lost a game by one point.

When Kenneth Carpenter, Olympic javelin thrower, came home from the world events, he concluded a round-the-world tour. But he was delayed for over a month because of the strike on the Pacific coast. Paul Sokolay is leading scorer on the Marquette University basketball team. He has a total of 48 points, five more than Glenn Adams. Loyola university of Chicago won its first eleven basketball games this winter. Kansas State has not won a basketball game from the University of Kansas since 1929.

The University of Washington will try the comeback trail on the gridiron next fall, opening with Southern California. Students at Ohio university were upset recently when their school wasn't mentioned in the American Mercury article that rated colleges as to their amateurism. Ray Noble is still playing basketball for Kansas U. He's no relation to the band leader. Edward "Dark Angel" Burke, Marquette university's colored high jumper, who is co-holder of the world's indoor record of 6 feet, 8 1/2 inches, may blossom out this season as a hurdler. He is practicing over the stick now.

Marquette University, which lost practically all of last fall's great eleven, will face the heaviest schedule in the history of the school next fall. Here's the way they'll fire away at the Hilltoppers, in order:

And speaking of hurdlers, which we were a few paragraphs above, Johnny Pingel, he of the throwing arm and nimble feet, isn't too bad at the act. Pingel, in case you've forgotten, is the young fellow who will probably be at that regular left halfback spot on Charlie Bachman's 1937 edition of the football machine. And he's out for winter track now to keep those leg muscles limber.

He specializes in the shorter runs, and as a 440 man is a pretty good competitor. But lately Mike Casteel has been putting the stop watch to him over the hurdles, both low and high, and the form he shows is far from that displayed by an inexperienced man.

Al Aggett, you'll recall, also was a pretty good hurdler. Now Pingel, who will succeed Aggett, is becoming adept at the same event. Maybe that's the way they breed halfbacks around here. But, at any rate, it accounts for lots of the agility both Aggett and Pingel have displayed on the gridiron.

Coach Ben VanAlstyne and the administered a sound drubbing to the boys from along the lake. Van got a good look at the Wildcats, as did the members of his team, when Michigan entertained them down in Ann Arbor. It's doubtful if Ben will attempt to outspeed them tomorrow night. He learned from watching them against the Wolverines that they have just about the fastest squad in the Middle West. Michigan beat them by controlling the ball, and that's how the Spartans will try to take them tomorrow night.

No matter how fast a team is, a well-knit defense with no loopholes will beat them. That's the way Syracuse was licked—and Kentucky—and it will be tried again.

Basketball Loop Now In Second Round

As is usually characteristic of intramural basketball games here, the first games in the Independent Men's league were featured mainly by wasted shots and tight guarding.

Playing every Monday night, the loop has swung into high gear and all sixteen teams have run off their first matches. Play will continue throughout the next few weeks with the winner meeting the champion of Wells Hall.

A game will be arranged between the winner of that game and the Inter-frat champions to decide the campus title.

"Flu" Hits Tankers As Meet Nears

Epidemic Invades Pool and Strikes Daubert Team: Face "M" Soon.

With the date of the opening swimming meet with the University of Michigan less than a week away, Coach Daubert's greatest battle seems to be combating a flu epidemic. To aid in the crusade against a growing list of hospital confinements, Daubert has introduced cod liver oil capsules as a part of the squad's daily workout.

Although Bill Bell and co-captain Ed McNamara have returned to practice and are flashing their old form again, Al Black and co-captain Jim Harryman are still in bed with colds. Harryman returned to the squad the early part of this week, but was forced to return home again yesterday.

George Armstrong and Bob Taser are both showing the speed that Daubert expected of them at the first of the year in the backstroke. Harold Stall is the only breast-stroker working out now, however, and Coach Daubert is looking for more material in this event as well as in the free style dashes.

The freshman squad has stolen the limelight this term while the varsity waits for the season to get under way at Ann Arbor on Wednesday. Ladd Loomis, freshman, who hails from Detroit Northwestern, broke the frosh 200-yard breaststroke record, and Ed Ochocinski, Wyandotte splashier, has set a new 100 backstroke mark. Loomis' time was 2:52.2, while Ochocinski swam the distance in 1:06.8.

Burhans Sets Boxing Dates

Coach L. D. Burhans, boxing mentor, yesterday announced that the final dates for the all-college boxing tournament which will be held during the week of February 9 in the gymnasium. This year is the third for boxing at Michigan State college.

Coach Burhans stated that this year he will undoubtedly have the largest turnout since its addition to the Spartan sports. Gold medals will be awarded in each weight and silver medals for the runners-up in each division. The boxing mentor added that the National Collegiate Boxing rules will govern all bouts. The first requirement for all contestants will be to take at least five workouts to insure proper condition. Every one expecting to enter the tournament will have to sign up with Coach Burhans before February 8.

Burhans emphasized that no one should sign up unless he has intentions of competing. Four pounds over class weight will be allowed but each competitor must weigh-in every day that he fights. The most rigid requirement will be the physical examination at health service which is necessary before any boxer may enter into competition. Preliminary bouts will begin Tuesday, February 9, at 5 p. m. In order to be eligible, one has to sign up before the deadline—and no late entries will be accepted. Each contestant must furnish his own attendant and towels. The length of the bouts will be three rounds of 10 minutes each.

The officers elected were: Floyd Flanders, resident; Richard Leslie, vice-president; Bonita Fisher, secretary; and Raymond Bohnasac, treasurer.

See Wildcat Easy Winner In Mat Meet

Pick "U" Grapplers Over Green State Team in Meet Saturday.

State's green breed of "vacant" wrestlers left this afternoon en route to Evanston where they will grapple tomorrow afternoon with Northwestern's veteran mat team now at the top of the Big Ten.

Only two changes have been made in the Spartan lineup from that which met defeat last week at the hands of the Dearborn Book club. Don Maloney will battle in the 175-pound class, replacing Steve Slezak, and Walt Luicke will be Coach Fendley Collins' choice in the heavyweight event in place of Dale Stephenson.

The Wildcat squad will probably be the same that whipped the University of Chicago, 14 to 12, and topped the University of Wisconsin 21 to 11 in its last two starts.

In the 114-pound affair, Sam Aldrich will clash with Glackman of Northwestern. Gordon Purdy, State's 126-pound wrestler, who hails from Alma, will vie with either Taylor or Lacomme of the Cats. If Lacomme gets the call, Taylor will be used in the 135-pound match against Byron Hall. If not, Harrison will be pitted with the blond State sophomore.

Bar Collins' injured knee is not in shape as yet and he will be kept out of the lineup for the second week. In place of the winner of the all-college tournament, Bill Mason will wrestle in the 145-pound event opposite Laverde of the Big Ten school.

Cliff Deberger, one of State's two winners in the opening meet last Saturday, will meet King in the 155 division, which match promises plenty of action. Wes Orr will also find the going a little tougher than last week when he accounted for the Spartans' only fall against Dearborn Northwestern's rugged 160-pound grappler, Weiss, will be Orr's opponent. Maloney will meet Costa of the Wildcats in the 175 match, and Sueck will attempt to toss Northwestern's heavy Gibson.

Start Play In Faculty Loop

High Scores Mark First Matches in Bowling League.

In the first round matches in the Faculty Bowling league, two teams swept through their first games with three straight wins to assume the leader's position.

The loop, composed entirely of members of the college faculty, bowls every Saturday afternoon. Logsdon approached a perfect game in one line during the first day's play and finished with a score of 276. It was one of the best lines ever bowled at the Recreation. Crawford had a three game total of 651, or an average of 217 per game.

Logsdon added two other good games to his 276 and finished up with an average of 265, while DeVries totaled 598 for a 199 average. Wenner had one game of 233, and Crawford's high was 225.

Corries	3	2289	7 1/3	2	696

Flanders Elected

Officers of the executive council of the Short Course club were elected at a meeting held Wednesday night in the short course office in the agriculture building.

The officers elected were: Floyd Flanders, resident; Richard Leslie, vice-president; Bonita Fisher, secretary; and Raymond Bohnasac, treasurer.

A West Virginia university statistician with a "hydraulic complex" has calculated that all of the institution's buildings use about 3,000,000 gallons of water monthly.

It's Tough, State Swimmers Face Defeat In First Meet

Oppose Michigan Team at Ann Arbor Next Wednesday in Initial Test; Young Hunting Quarter-Milers.

By George Maskin

It's tough, starting the search off with a defeat, but Michigan State's swimmers will not have a chinaman's chance of beating Michigan at Ann Arbor next Wednesday.

Regardless of how Coach Russell Jakes Daubert juggles his lineup, the Spartans will be fortunate to tally 25 points against the Wolverines.

Moreover, the Wolverines will win every first place from State, providing the unexpected happens. One of those surprises came last year when Bill Bell upset the hope in capturing the 50-yard free style dash.

Athletic Director Ralph B. Young is hunting for a couple of indoor track teams.

Francis Calhoun and Anthony Rapen, two of the better 440-yard men, turned in their bids Monday and announced they were through for the year.

"I am going to Texas to take up flying," explained Calhoun.

"Twenty-four days ago too short for my school and working schedule, so I guess I'll have to quit track," Rapen said.

Loss of the pair leaves State with only Darwin Dudley for the 440-yard test unless Dee Weaver, member of the Spartan Inter-collegiate medley distance relay team, is called in.

Women Beat Men In Foils Tourney

Coed Club Trounces Novice Males by 13-9 Score.

The Co-ed Fencing club won a 13 to 9 victory over the men's freshman fencing team in a meet last Saturday afternoon. Four girls and nineteen men took part.

The men, who challenged the co-eds to meet them, are freshmen who have been doing only single drill until the first of this term, and are just beginning actual fencing. The co-ed club is composed of girls who have done at least one term of fencing. Its members teach beginning classes and sponsor meets with girls from other schools.

Two members and two pledges of the club fenced Saturday. The actives were Esther Bishop, who won three out of six bouts, and Margaret Collings, who came out first in four out of six. The pledges were Helen Pratt, who won all four of her bouts, and Eleanor Stringer, who took two out of six.

Frosh Five Rally Beats Port Huron

Spartan Yearlings Score 25 Points in Second Half to Win, 31-19.

With a fresh victory over the Port Huron Junior college under their belt, the State freshmen beat their game against a powerful Western State frosh squad to morning night in Demonstration hall.

Michigan State's frosh cagers trampled the Port Huron Junior college Wednesday night by a score of 31 to 19. After being able to score a total of only six points throughout the first half, the Spartans turned on the steam and outscored the Huronites, amassing the grand sum of 25 points in the last half. Martin Huff, spin Spartan forward, came through with 11 points for high point honors. Bill Misener was the bulwark in the Huron attack.

During the first half the State cagers seemed dead on their feet, although playing a good defensive game. While the Hurons kept piling a lead the State yearlings had trouble finding the hoop. Ability to break through the stout Huron defense forced State to hurry their shots and to prevent them from getting the range.

Port Huron led at the end of the first half 14 to 6. But in the last half the yearlings came back in a scrappy mood with a clicking pass attack. Toward the end of the game the Hurons tired and State crashed ahead, winning the game by a good margin. Accurate passing and ability to cash in on shots from all angles made it possible for State to show a reversal of form from the disastrous first half.

The freshmen defense was nearly invincible with Bruckner and Huff leading the way. Whenever the Port Huron attack threatened the stalwart defense, the frosh broke up the passes to keep the junior college subdued. There were very few fouls and Bill Misener, Huron center, was the only one forced out of the game on fouls.

State's frosh lineup: Dalrymple, Huff, T. McRae, C. Bruckner, G. Huff, G.

Port Huron lined up with M. Misener, F. Harmer, F. B. Misener, C. Schumde, G. Lapitsky, G.
