J-Hop Arranges Two-Hour Broadcast Over WJR

Nominations To Be Held Next Monday For Class Officers

Student Council Constitution is Presented to Students as it Will Appear on Ballots in February 11 Voting.

Class meetings of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes will be held Monday, February 1. They are scheduled for 5 o'clock. The freshmen will meet in the Kedzie chemical laboratory lecture room; Lauren Hamilton, Student Council class election chairman, will preside. Arnold Independent Mens League president, A. B. Belys, will be assisted by Harry's Harrington, Student Council chairman.

The sophomores will hold their caucus in the lecture room in the new building. Clarence Dennis, class president, will officiate, with Room 111, Olds hall, has been selected as the meeting place for the senior class by Howard Swartz, provo, who will lead the meeting assisted by June Hungerford, vice-president.

Candidates for freshman class officers and student council representatives from all three classes will be elected. One representative from the freshman class, two from the sophomore class, two from the sophomore

Personality To Be YMCA Man's Topic

Frank D. Shatz, Prominent Ohio Educator, to Speak Sunday.

Dr. Frank D. Shatz, prominent educator and lecturer, will speak Sunday afternoon at Peoples Church on the subject "What Price Personality?" He appears as the second of five speakers scheduled for the college Y.M.C.A. religious lecture series on the theme "Let's Think Straight."

Dr. Shatz, as well known to people interested in the American youth movement through his work with student groups in this part of the country, has wide experience in educational work has fitted him as an authority on personality problems.

Mr. Union Grad

A resident of Dayton, Ohio, the speaker received his education at Mt. Union college, in his home state, and at Harvard and Pennsylvania universities. He taught as professor of schools in Pueblo and Colorado City, Colorado. In Dayton he served as superintendent of schools and director of the Moraine Park school.

For five years he was connected with Chicago Teachers college as an educational advisor, specializing in "personality" problems. During the past few years, he has spoken at many youth meetings at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Hunt Chairman

Dr. Harrison Hunt, professor of zoology at the college, will act as chairman of the meeting. Sunday Special music will be provided by Miss Margaret Kubitz, soloist from the college music department. Miss Kubitz sings regularly as a member of the Quartet at the church.

An outstanding portrait is Isaac Bishop's "The Kid." And "The Kid" is not a prize fighter, either.

She is a plump, sad-eyed girl in a jaunty green hat with a feather. Another portrait is Alexander Brooks' "My Wife." He has painted his wife as she was after she had shampooed her hair and still had a towel wound around her head.

Other speakers on the Sunday afternoon lecture series include Stewart G. Cole, president of Kalamazoo college, who will speak February 3; Dean W. W. Whitehouse of Albion college, and William Pauley, professor of Chicago Theological Seminary. The sponsor of the series were greatly encouraged by the response given to Dr. Warmingham, the speaker last Sunday.

Student Grange regular meeting will be held tonight in room 401, Ag hall.

The weight of a ship's anchor is approximately one pound for each ton of the ship's weight.

According to Professors S. G. Bergquist and W. A. Kelly of the geology department of Michigan State College, the disastrous floods in the Ohio river valley have been caused by a most unusual combination of climatic and geological conditions although probably the primary reason for the present grave situation is the excessive rainfall we have been having this winter.

J. B. Kincer, chief of the climate division of the Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., is quoted as saying, "The last fifteen months have brought the United States the worst combination of weather ever recorded." We have had four months' normal precipitation less than one month.

This, moreover, is no insurance against drought conditions next summer. The rains we have had this year have not yet brought the total precipitation for the last seven year period up to the amount normally required. Most unfortunate, however, much of this rain has fallen while the ground is frozen.

This, moreover, is no insurance against drought conditions next summer. The rains we have had this year have not yet brought the total precipitation for the last seven year period up to the amount normally required. Most unfortunate, however, much of this rain has fallen while the ground is frozen.

Normally, rainfall is taken care of in one of three ways. It may disappear through evaporation, seepage, or run-off. In this part of the country the climate is so humid that evaporation does not play a particularly important part in removing water. The forests that help in this process have been pretty well cut down in the past four summers, and has learned that insect conditions may be bettered by careful conservation work. In his preliminary surveys of Northern Michigan trout streams, he has found that in most cases there was an increase in the numbers of insects found in the so-called "improved areas", over the unimproved areas of the same stream.

Engineer's Promise Unique Decorations For Ball Tonight

Grease Ball Tickets Gone With Wind Says Van Dyne

Calling time out after two weeks of feverish preparations, the Grease Ball committee, under the leadership of Delos VanDine, announced late yesterday afternoon that the demand for tickets exceeds supply.

The students of the slide-rule and the bent for mathematics will continue a long line of sell-out parties, the result of a succession of local, not nationally-famed bands and a nominal fee, when they escort Maurice Spitalny and his orchestra in the Masonic temple tonight.

The setting planned by Louis Stonebreaker and his committee of 250 volunteers promises to be nothing less than startling. A huge gear is to be a background for the band, with an industry, skyline scene lighting each of the wings. In foreground, a radio tower will light either side, and serve as supports for the words "Engineers' Ball." The scene will be intensified with flood lighting.

Programs, done in black leather and gold-lettering, and the letters M.S.C. cut out, will be distributed to each of the 300 couples in the door. Cecil Hunter, chairman of the programs committee, designed them.

Maurice Spitalny, youngest of three brothers, natives of Russia, who have gained musical fame in America, which they adopted at an early age, brings his orchestra here from Lotus Gardens in the house square, Cleveland.

After years of study abroad Maurice appeared as a concert violinist. For two and a half years he was concert master and soloist of the Cleveland Symphony. He then established himself in the theater pit of Cleveland's R. K. O. Palace.

Turning to the dance-field two years ago, Spitalny organized his 4-piece aggregation which has since played many of the swank spots in Ohio's major cities, as well as the oval Gables country club in Florida.

Patrons for the dance will be Prof. and Mrs. H. L. Pablow, Prof. J. Allen Prof. and Mrs. G. W. Hobbs, Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Jones, President man Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, Secretary John Hannan, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkins, Dean Elizabeth Conrad, Dean and Mrs. Fred T. Mitchell, and Dean and Mrs. H. B. Dirks are included on the guest list.

Eichelberger Advises Coeds To Teach First

Nutritional Expert Declares That Teaching is a Help.

"No matter what field of home economics you plan to enter, get teaching experience first," advised Miss Marcella Eichelberger in speaking to the Home Economics club Thursday night. She went on to say that a knowledge of teaching methods and psychology helps in understanding and meeting the problems of any group with which you work.

Miss Eichelberger is director of nutrition at the Irradiated Evaporated Milk Institute in Chicago, and has taught at the University of Kentucky, so that she has had firsthand experience with home economics in both business and teaching. She referred to the academic world as tolerant in excusing mistakes of the inexperienced while the business world is intolerant of those who cannot produce the goods they are hired to deliver.

In business, she continued, it is necessary to create an intelligent knowledge of your product and to increase its consumption, and first to understand the needs and interests of the group your material reaches. These principles apply to every line—in research, one might know what is needed to devise new products, the advertiser must attract attention to his copy through meeting needs and creating knowledge; the journalist must know what women will read to increase his paper's circulation.

Co-eds to Have Desk in Union

SWL Plans to Accommodate Visitors During Farmers' Week.

The Spartan Women's League is going to maintain an information desk during Farmers' Week in the Union. It will be manned by members for the purpose of helping the guests of the college.

Lawman Churchill, chairman announces that Patricia Pierson, Alpha Chi, will have the desk under her supervision. At the meeting Thursday, Mr. F. A. Fitting, M. S. C. housing director, explained the duties of attendants to the girls who will run the desk. He stressed courtesy, and the handling of rooming accommodations.

The desk will be in the corner of the platform leading to the stairs going up to the dorm and those leading to the Union classrooms. The girls will be organized in shifts, working in their free hours in order that the desk may be constantly manned from 8 in the morning to 6 in the evening.

Maps of East Lansing and the campus will be available for distribution, and information concerning any detail of Farmers' Week may be had for the asking.

Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa held pledging Wednesday afternoon for Laura Ann Pratt, '38, Lansing; Elizabeth Berry, '38, Bay City; Helen Pratt, '40, Lansing; and Margaret Anger, '40, Detroit.

Several Sigma Kappas came sliding back Sunday from weekends spent at home or elsewhere. Betty Kirk went to Grand Rapids to spend the weekend with Catherine Wolcott. Mina Hahn went home to Coopersville, and Wilma Hanby visited her family in Pinconning. Eleanor Schultz, who lives in Rockford, took Irene Brewer and Beverly Smith home with her.

Alpha Chi Omega

Dis 'n Dat

Had Maurice Spitalny been playing in Cincinnati rather than Cleveland, we fancy that Delos VanDine, et al., would have been tearing their hair no end during the past week, recalling what happened to Archie Bleyer in the snow storms of last winter. The engineers have checked their geography very carefully and assure us that the Bresk Ohio river will in no way endanger their band's appearance here.

The Thetas will be showing people through their new house and serving punch (?) and waters from 1 until 5 tomorrow afternoon. All fraternities and sororities have received special invitations, and the K. A. T.'s have given us to understand that every student is even more than welcome. They want a big crowd. The housewarming will continue Sunday when they entertain the faculty, their alumnae and parents, as well as the men who planned and built the house, from 2 until 6 o'clock. We understand that it's swellelegant and we're going over to see just how noiseless those inlaid floors are as well as to have a look at all the gifts that have been pouring in.

You'd better have your t-t drop by the Union desk, via potential J-Hoppers, and make your reservation for the pre-J-Hop dinner dance at the Union. After the hop tickets go on sale there will be a small sized crowd trying to get their reservations.

Remember, the dinner dance is to be given in cabaret style in the Union ballroom from 8 to 10 o'clock on J. Hop eve. Accommodations are being made to transport the hoppers to the Masonic temple after dinner. Nate Fry and his orchestra will play.

One thing more. You may reserve tables for as many as you want, if you do it in time so that the seating arrangements may be calculated before the eleventh hour. And don't forget, you make your reservations now and pay for them when you have your J-Hop ticket and show it at the Union desk.

Sigma Nu's will dine and dance at the Olds on Friday night, as will the Delphines in the Winstons room on Saturday p.m. The A. G. R.'s are having their formal dinner-dance in the Union tomorrow night, while the Hermans and Phi Chi A's radio party at home.

The Y. W. C. A., after their all-membership meeting with Dr. Octavia Wrenham as speaker Tuesday night, will continue activities with their annual Snow tea at the church Saturday afternoon.

Kappa notes— "What Every Woman Knows" will be presented to night and tomorrow evening in the West Junior high school auditorium by the Lansing Civic Players Guild. Elizabeth Lally, talented State junior, has one of the major roles. On Sunday night Perry Widde's "The Confessionals" will be presented in the Peoples church, as a part of a drama tournament among Lansing churches. William Genn, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., plays the lead.

With an all-college dance in the Union on Friday night and the President's ball in the armory Saturday night we think there'll be plenty going on until Monday.

Chi Omega

Chi Omegas are still talking about their party last Saturday night. Seats of alumnae were back to help celebrate. Among them were Helen Sutton, Harriet Kurtz, Adelaide Goenther, Ethel Robinson (Mrs. Lytle Robinson), Virginia Taggett, Margaret Lindke and Anna May Childs, who brought Dorothy Hammond along as her guest. Mary Bruce, Margaret Bonn, Iris Leatherman, Beverly Meekan, and Barbara Bradford represented the Lansing alumnae group.

Eleven Chi O's announced their engagements by dancing the "sweetheart waltz." They are Anthonya Geizer, Shirley Ellis, Dorothy Lewis, Grace Johnston, Eileen McCurdy, Diana Young, Alice Brennan, Margaret Stanton, June Hill, Jane Crowe and Margaret Atkins.

The films already presented and those to come are of modern Germany, showing her technical development, the historical aspects of her cities and the customs and colorful costumes that are fast disappearing.

Throughout the presentation of the films and during the intermission, Mr. Radginsky, of the modern languages department, comments on the details of special interest, his intimate knowledge of German life having been acquired during the fifteen years which he spent in that country.

Last year three such groups of films were offered. A similar arrangement is planned for this year.

About 100 students attended the first showing which took place in the Physics building. Another program will be offered about the end of February. The titles of the films will be announced later.

Zeta Tau Alpha

A buffet supper was held at the house Sunday evening for Zeta's and their guests. Janet Fretz went to Flint last week-end.

Eleanor Hagenbuch was pledged at the house Wednesday evening.

An exchange dinner was held Wednesday with the Chi Omega's. Guests were Grace Newins and Frances Kinsting. Helen Smith of Lansing was a guest of Jean Baum for dinner. Lois Miller was a luncheon guest Wednesday noon.

The assistants will be Marjorie Whitlock, Dorothy Dodd, Norma Erwin, Phyllis Pennington, Phyllis Quick, Margaret George, Ferne Hamel, Laura Konquist, Leah Collins, Evan Stoddard, Marion Beardsley, Alice Lee, Eerna McKenzie, Betty Schriner, Barbara Voley, Willa Lezotte, and Hope Carr.

The first of a series of travel films based on life in Germany was presented to the students of Michigan State January 21. The two films shown at that time were "Summer in Allgaeu" and "From the Chronicles of Dinkelsbuhl."

Soldiers Will Soon Announce Name of Band

Waltz Music by Famous Band Promised by Chairman Lamerson.

Smugly, like a school boy that has a secret, Rex Lamerson, general chairman for the Military Ball, set for Friday, February 12, announced this week that an orchestra comparable with Jan Garber and Guy Lombardo has been signed, but "he won't tell" the name of it until next week.

He promises that the music offered will be mainly of waltz nature, as truckin' and spins don't go so well with formal gowns.

Military atmosphere will be provided by George Branch and his de-molition committee. Tall figures of a cadet and a coed will grace either side of the stage, with a signal eagle in the background ornamentation. Machine guns and other artillery will be placed at vantage points around the hall.

Governor Murphy, his sister, and President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw will be the only civilian guests. The corps sponsors will head the reception line of their respective corps. A group of basic military students, members of Pershing Rifles, will act as a color guard.

Captain Martin of the military department wishes to announce that invitations will be restricted to members of the regular army, the National Guard, and the reserve officers' corps. All those who qualify under these restrictions and who have not received invitations should see him. If it is possible, an invitation will be extended.

Aides to Lamerson include Don O'Hara, publicity chairman; Cecil Hunter, in charge of the band committee; Edgar Kilian, tickets head; John Bingham, programs chairman; Charles Pearson, chairman of arrangements; and Dick Pilkington, finance chairman.

Kappa Delta

Initiation was held Saturday afternoon for the following girls: Barbara Houtz, Annette Meyer, Christine Rothney, Janet Sherratt, Grace VanderBorgh, and Clarinda Winograd.

Tots Adam and Charlotte Yeager were week-end guests.

We entertained visitors at dinner Thursday night.

Revamped Basketball Team Faces Hope Here Tonight

State Upset By Powerful Hawaiian '5'

Carpenter and Callahan at Guards as Team Seeks to End Slump.

Michigan State basketball team will be only one stronger this year.

The Spartans hope to make better showings this year by having their coaches' authority increased. Mr. Fred May, coach of the men's team, has been relieved of his duties.

State takes six games before calling a half with next meeting. The schedule left the Spartans to meet their college hosts, Wright-Wesleyan, Dayton, Michigan, DePaul and Marquette.

Of the seven State-Spartan first half contests, two were wins. The Spartans won, however, in down the Hawaiians, 41-39, last Tuesday night. That is three wins in four. The final point between road to Hawaiians, 23-20, indicates all that could have been done.

Hoppe has played good ball in the M. I. A. A. conference this season. The team is well balanced and may catch the Spartans having another one of those bad nights.

In hopes of snapping the team out of the recent slump, Coach Van Alstyne is sending Bill Carpenter and Lee Callahan back to the guards.

Ron Garpeck, who has been sharing most forward to guards and vice-versa so many times this year that Garpeck himself gets mixed up on occasions, will perform at the right forward berth along side of Howard Knobell.

Tom Gough will be at center.

SPORTORIALS By AL THEILER, Sports Editor

The University of Detroit athlete looks both ways. He gives a great Christian witness and it is better to do the best than the best from the metropolitan area. It is interesting to note that the 1937 football schedule does not include the Spartans.

It seems that the athletic heads of the Toms have reluctantly accepted the request of Michigan State, having taken the 2000 and home arrangements on paper for the present campaign. They have reluctantly agreed to do just what they can do.

What have the Toms up their sleeves? They have not yet been able to determine what they have in mind.

The Spartans hope to make better showings this year by having their coaches' authority increased. Mr. Fred May, coach of the men's team, has been relieved of his duties.

Reports are still to the effect that Rayman won't be with us next fall. Ray, are we scared?

There might be some surprise, however, in the Spartans' ability to hold a meeting in the time of a 16-22 record, but, after all, the Spartans need such morale as well as Orchids agent needed. The Spartans from Ann Arbor, then, know their job and should continue to do it. May, May, is possibly the best-organized, tactfully informed executive to speak about in one pool at the same time and has been greatly helped by his feet to the Spartans' Wednesday night.

Jack Kusley is used to having words written about him—now would be little to his glory. He wants to become an impression. And the whole crew should have the right forward berth along side of Howard Knobell.
