Baby Newscaster

Jack Parker, whose column "Behind the Halls" is a weekly feature in the State News, is the nation's youngest radio news commentator. Parker, who was 21 in September, has been presenting the News show, a six-day-a-week feature, from WJIM, Lansing station, since last November. He began his radio career at the age of 15 at the Flint station, obtaining the job by misquoting his age. He worked there and at the Bay City broadcasting station before coming to Michigan State. For three years he was an announcer at the college station, WKAR. Parker is now maturing in journalism. His home is in Okemos.

Cow at Game

The three Joes, Joe Ruhe, Joe Grundy and Joe Lorber, hitchhiked to Philadelphia for the Temple game. Leaving here at 7:30 Thursday evening, they arrived in Philadelphia at 6 p. m. Friday, which is, according to Ruhe, about three hours ahead of the bus schedule. They had sent the cow skin down with the band and the M. S. C. cow, which is becoming this year a traditional part of State games, scored a real hit with Philadelphia fans.

Mystifies Class

Prof. W. W. Johnston, of the English department, had his class in Greek literature mystified Monday morning. He had told them that he would present a display of mental telepathy, in connection with the study of the drama, in which Lysander was a mystic power.

Professor Johnston came to class with some envelopes and a few blank sheets of paper. He distributed them at random among the class, and asked the seven persons to write a sentence on the paper, and put it in the envelope.

Picking up the first envelope, after some brief manipulation, he quoted a sentence, then asked whose it was. Immediately below raised his hand. Then he opened the envelope, and the sentence checked.

Then he picked up the next envelope, quoted the sentence below, for he opened it, and another student admitted writing it. He continued the process through all seven.

Although many of his students had him psychic, Professor Johnston had actually arranged beforehand with an accomplice.

The first sentence he read, was "Among the genuine ones, but he fellow had agreed to raise his hand. The first piece of paper he asked at was the one that the students thought was in the second envelope. As he picked up the successive one, he quoted it being in the unopened envelope. At least it was a clever trick.

Misses Train

The bass drum player in the Michigan State band missed the train when it pulled out of Philadelphia Saturday night. Late Monday afternoon he had still not been heard from, but his friends expect him to show up in East Lansing soon.

"Dave" is Back

"Ag Hall Dave" is back on his feet in the elevator again. Two months ago he lost the first joint of his right thumb in the elevator. Despite this, and the loss of his left hand 17 years ago, he always remains cheerful and ready to joke with the students, with whom he is a favorite. The faculty and students will be able to sleep 10 minutes longer in the morning, because of the good service he renders. He has operated the Ag hall elevator for 30 years.

Trailerites Are Refused City Sanction

Legality of Gas Station Becomes Topic of Heated Talk.

At its regular meeting last night the East Lansing city council refused to grant special permission for a house trailer to be located on the property of L. F. Newell, 539 M. A. C. Ave., and okayed a no-parking ordinance for the west side of Evergreen Ave. to extend one car-length farther than at present.

TRICKERY USED

The major portion of the meeting, which lasted well over two hours, was, however, devoted to a discussion of the gas station which is being built on the corner of River street and E. Grand River avenue. A city ordinance provides that the consent of over sixty percent of the property owners within a radius of four hundred feet from the building must be obtained in order that the city board of appeals can issue a building permit. A group living in the vicinity of the contemplated gas station were present to question the city's right to grant the permit because, according to B. F. Egan, who with Harvey D. Robey and Dr. E. J. Miller acted as spokesmen for the group, part of the property entered on the petition was over-named as to size and also that trickery had been used in securing the signers.

NO ACTION TAKEN

Mayor L. L. Fyrmody expressed the opinion that it was beyond the council's power to act on the question and that the only way the building could be stopped would be through the property owners securing a court injunction against the owners of the gas station property.

By ten o'clock no definite action on the question had been taken.

PROHIBIT USE OF TRAILER

The council's failure to grant special permission for Rev. Kinney and his son, of Alto, Michigan, both college students, to live in a trailer on the property of L. F. Newell gave further evidence that the city would make no exceptions to the ordinance on house trailers.

The extension of the no-parking ordinance on Evergreen avenue was to avoid double parking by business people who could not stop in front of their places of business to load and unload. In connection with the parking question, it was moved by Alderman C. G. Card and seconded by Alderman O. R. Adams that Chief of Police Haun investigate parking conditions at the corner of Albert avenue and Abbot road.

STUDY PARKING PROBLEM

Chief Haun brought up a recommendation presented to him by the state highway department to pass a no-parking ordinance to cover the area east to the city limits from where the boulevard ends for the reason that the "east-going" traffic over to the left side of the road. The council acted to have Haun investigate the condition and report at the next meeting.

Engineering Heads

Go to Kalamazoo

Dean H. B. Dirks recently attended a meeting of the technical association of the pulp and paper industry at Kalamazoo. Mr. Hall of Pittsburgh, considered an authority on boiler problems of today, led a discussion on methods of controlling the hardness of water used for boiler purposes. It was pointed out that under the influence of the high temperatures and pressures used in boilers today, corrosive chemical reactions take place much more rapidly.

Hold Horse Sale

The animal husbandry department held a sale Wednesday, November 3, of 40 head of pure-bred Percherons and Belgians. An average profit of $300 per head was made. Twelve were sold out of state, seven to Ohio, four to Indiana, and one to Ontario, Canada.

Women's Society to Meet Tomorrow; Tea Dance Listed Today.

Seven parties held by Greek letter societies and the East Mary Mayo fall term dance made up last weekend's social calendar, no all-college events having been planned.

Friday night found the Alpha Chi Omegas dancing in the Union ballroom at their fall term party. The Saturday night events were more numerous. The Hermians, Pi Kaps and Phi Taus entertained their guests at radio parties.

Football programs, goal posts, and extras announcing State's victory over Temple furnished a gay theme for the East Mary Mayo dance. Other fall term semi-formals Saturday night were those given by Alpha Phi, Delta Sigma Phi, and Sigma Kappa.

The divisions of the Women's society of Peoples church will meet at various East Lansing homes tomorrow afternoon. There will be a tea dance today.

Convocation To be Held; No Classes

Sherman Rogers to Talk at Ten O'Clock Today in Gymnasium.

All classes will be excused this morning from 10 to 11 so that students may attend the all-college student council sponsored convocation in the gymnasium.

Speaker of the day will be Sherman Rogers who will talk in behalf of a "National Americanization Crusade."

Rogers' campaign is, he says, "a battle against a highly organized radical and reactionary forces that today constitute a real danger to our American form of government."

"LUMBERJACK ORATOR" Known as the "lumberjack orator," the speaker has spent most of his life in the big woods of the west.

In commenting on one of Rogers' lectures, Dale Carnegie in his book "Public Speaking and Influencing Men in Business" wrote:

"His speech was a huge, raw piece of palpating experience torn right out of his own life as a laborer and a boss of laborers. It didn't smack of books. It was a live thing. It fairly crouched and sprang at you."

The "Tampa Daily Times" said: "His visit here has been interesting and cannot fail to be helpful. One of the most powerful and dynamic speakers in the country, he has driven his challenging and stimulating sentences home with sledge-hammer blows."

In his fight against the organized propaganda that is spreading over America today, Rogers urges the bringing together of all organized groups into a friendly, vigorous cooperation so that organized truth may meet organized revolutionary propaganda.

FLIES TO NEW YORK

After speaking here, Rogers will fly to New York City where he will deliver an address tonight. Tomorrow he will return to Lansing.

Roger B. Wilcox and Clarence Dennis as representatives of the student council were instrumental in booking the speaker. James G. Hays will introduce the speaker at this morning's convocation.

Sales Staff Plans Wolverine Drive

The twenty girls who have been judged as the twenty "best-sellers" for the Wolverine will meet Wednesday at 5 p. m. in the Wolverine office to make plans for a concentrated sales campaign before the yearbook prices go up, according to a statement made by Benita Core, business manager.

Each of the twenty girls will be presented with a small wooden pin spelling out the name Wolverine, which she may pin on her coat. A weekly prize will be given to the girl making the most sales each week, while a grand prize will be awarded at the Press banquet next spring.

Campus Leaders Support "No-Cutting" Agreement

By VADA GRANGER

Putting on our slouch hat and wetting the end of our pencil in answer to the editor's assignment, we slouched about to get the low-down on student reaction to the long-talked of Thanksgiving vacation. Here's what the B. M. O. C. and B. W. O. C. were saying:

Jimmie Hays, Student council president: "The first part of our problem is solved, but the hard part is still here. There will be no double cuts for absences before and after the holidays. That puts it up to every one of us not to take unfair advantage by cutting classes Wednesday and Monday. Remember, they can always amend that resolution about next year's vacation."

Marjorie Gilray, Theta president: "We're all pretty happy about the vacation. The girls are going to be here for all their Wednesday and Monday classes, too. No cutting for us."

William Hasselback, Independent Men's president: "Everyone seems to be pretty glad over vacation. I hope they won't forget those promises about no cutting now."

Eileen McCurdy, Panhellenic president: "Who isn't glad about a two-day holiday? Cutting classes Wednesday? That's the first thing to come up in Panhellenic meeting tomorrow night, and I think all the sororities will stick together with every member going to all her classes."

Similar opinions were expressed by Bill Bell, Interfraternity head, and Charlotte Schmidt, president of Independent Women. The entire campus, pleased with the administration's generosity, seems to be behind the movement to attend all classes Wednesday and Monday.

Spartans Meet Carnegie In Homecoming Battle; Band Praised at Temple

Spartans Hand Temple First Defeat of 1937 Season.

Second-Stringers Star in Owl Fray

Blocked Kick Gives MSC First Touchdown in Last Frame.

Continuing its march back into the national limelight by handing Temple its first defeat of the season last Saturday, Michigan State's football team today is getting for what the coaches say "will be the toughest game of the season."

That game will be played in Macklin Field Saturday afternoon with the Carnegie Tech Skibos, conquerors of Notre Dame and Duquesne, helping the Spartans lower the curtain on the 1937 home schedule. The battle will also feature State's annual homecoming celebration.

START DRILLS

As the Spartans prepared today to settle down to business after enjoying a light drill yesterday, it remained undetermined whether Usif Haney, State's big fullback, will be ready to fill his regular post against the Skibos.

Haney suffered a shoulder injury early in the Temple game which may prove more serious than originally expected. Frank Gaines, another casualty in the East, is hopping around with a sore ankle, but undoubtedly will be in shape by Saturday.

TWO INJURED

Two Spartans on the hospital list last Saturday, Hoxey Schwartz, veteran right tackle, and Ron Ailing, regular center, are certain to face Carnegie.

The Skibos, an "in and out team" this season, always have been tough for State. It will be recalled State had to be content with a 7-0 victory a year ago, although boasting what experts said was a much stronger football team.

State, in defeating Temple before 15,000 fans Saturday, again demonstrated its final period punch, after twice in the previous seasons marching to within the shadow of the payoff line. To win the Spartans duplicated their 1935 thrilling performance against Temple when, trailing by a touchdown, State tallied a pair of markers in the fourth period to capture the decision.

It was the State second stringers who again turned the tide in favor of the Spartans. After State had left the field trailing 6-0 at the half, Charley Bachman rushed

Nate Fry to Play For Homecoming

Dance Saturday

As an added attraction for the homecoming alumni next Saturday night an all-college dance sponsored by the Varsity club will be held at the Union ballroom from 9 till 12 p. m. This will be the only open party of the evening and a good crowd is expected.

Allan Black and Dale Springer, who are in charge of the entertainment, have announced that Nate Fry and his band have been procured for the music. The dance will be informal and tickets can be bought at the Union desk.

Paul Dumont Here to Lead State's Varsity Show Program

Paul Dumont, master of ceremonies for the M. S. C. Varsity show, arrived yesterday afternoon to confer with Gordon H. C. Rather, director of the coming show, and put the finishing touches on the coming show. He came from Tulane university, New Orleans, where he was master of ceremonies for the Varsity show held there last year.

PAUL DUMONT

An unusually good show is in prospect here, especially with the wealth of material you have from the home department. It was Dumont's comment on the Michigan performance thus far. According to him the plans for the show are complete, but will have to be rearranged to fit the time available.

Monday and Thursday night shows will be of as much importance as the finished show. Dumont expects the students to come in large numbers because of the opportunity of watching a show because he also stressed the fact that the success of the show depends on the attitude of the student.

Penelope Learns All About W KAR Radio Transmitter

By BILLIE (DEW) TELL

Penelope, old thing, I had a most different time yesterday. How come? I went through the radio transmitter. You thought my radio writing class went through a couple of days ago? It did. Why didn't I go through them? You're too damned inquisitive. Well, if you must know, I cut that day. Why? Cause I thought we were going to have a pop quiz. Are you satisfied now? But let's get back to the transmitter.

You should have seen all the gadgets and whatchamacallits. Especially one 'igger—it's called the control board and a man sits in front of it when they broadcast from WKAR. Why does he sit in front of it? It's this way. He sees that the voices of the people don't go out over the air too loud.

Everybody has a different voice over the radio. Some are louder than others. So he has a little thingamabob that he uses to keep voices from shouting or getting too soft. The government says that he has to keep it around 85%. Eighty-five per cent of what? I was afraid of that. I don't know. But it must be something important, or the government wouldn't fuss with it. Quiet, Penelope.

When the class went through, several of the kids had their voices recorded. For why? My gosh, you can think of more things to ask than anyone I ever came across. Now, listen, they had their voices recorded so that they'd know what they sounded like over

Frosh Organize; Formulate Plans For Publication

An organization, spontaneous from the freshman class, met Sunday afternoon in the Union at 2:00 p. m.

The purpose as outlined by those who attended were to place the activities of the freshman class in freshman hands.

The need of a literary organ solely for the class of '41 was debated as was the need for faculty backing.

A meeting was planned for next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in organization room 1 of the Union for all interested in the activities of the Frosh. The female element is invited to attend.

The spirit of the "ex-pot wearers" in contrast to that of the sophomores in the last rush was unanimously voted as worthy to be continued and was considered a goal of this freshman organization.

State Prepares For Carnegie Invasion

the ability men into action as the final half started.

As in 1935 the junior varsity didn't score, but it tied the Owls to the point where it was an easy proposition for the varsity to push over two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

The first state game was the result of a blocked punt, Lyle Rockenbach crashed through to another Temple kick and the ball bounced back across the goal line where Tommy McShannock fell on it for a touchdown to tie the score.

Makes Extra Point

Leslie Brockner came hurrying into the game at this point to attempt the try for the extra point. His effort missed the left upright by three feet, but it didn't matter.

The Spartans shortly afterwards worked the ball inside the Temple 20, and on fourth down, Brockner tried for a field goal, again missing his mark.

State moved 75 yards in two plays a few minutes later to drive home the winning touchdown. With the ball on the State 30, Brockner called a fake kick on which Pingel punted the ball to Pearce, who carried left end to the Temple 31.

Then on the next play State used a play which it had borrowed from the Temple bag of tricks, a shovel pass into the line from Pingel to Nelson. The latter cut wide around the Owls' left end and down the south side line to score. He carried a Temple man on his back for the last five yards.

This time Brockner added the kick.

Midway in the first period, State moved to the one-yard line, but on the fourth down, a reverse with Pearce handling the ball cost four yards and a touchdown.

Temple followed its goal line dash with a 66-yard sustained parade shortly after the second quarter started to register. Lukas going over from the four-yard line. Pearce missed the extra point.

Gene Chalk put on a one-man ball carrying act for State in the third quarter, bringing the ball to the Temple 7, where State cut the packman on down.

In the matter of statistics, State outplayed Temple in every phase of the game.

Briggs Acres Block Champs

Defeat Hometowners to Enter Playoffs.

Already some of the teams in the independent men's football league are looking forward to the playoffs with only a few games left to play.

The Briggs Acres team have nothing to worry about, because they completed their season undefeated with a 14 to 0 victory over the Hometowners. They scored their two touchdowns on well executed pass plays from Russ Orr to Bing Miller. They also gained two points on a safety.

This fourth victory clinched the block title for them and assured Briggs Acres a playoff berth.

Bakersboro kept in the running in Block 1 by handing the Abbots a 12 to 0 defeat. L. Holmes scored one touchdown on a long run, and P. Lewis intercepted an Abbot pass and ran for a touchdown to make the other marker.

The third game saw the Vets, who have yet to win a game, go down to Bealton, 12 to 6. In this game Rice was the big gun, throwing touchdown passes to Vahalee and Reimer.

This victory put Bealton far ahead in block 4 with three victories and no defeats. Unless they completely blow up in their one remaining game, they are almost sure to get into the playoffs.
