Fields Gets Chest

H. B. Fields, bachelor instructor in the history department, is the owner of a hope chest that any girl would be proud to have. It is a very feminine-looking chest, complete with linens and even a nightgown. His number was 2300 when he drew it at a drawing of a Kappa Delta tea Sunday afternoon.

The sponsors were quite unprepared for the outcome. That a male should win the lovely chest was thought of by the girls. But the victor belongs to the spoils, so H. B. Fields the chest will go. He has been invited to dinner at the house this evening to be presented with his prize.

Sound Your "A"

Early yesterday morning the girls at several of the dormitories were drawn to the windows to discover the reason for some rather unmelodious singing. There beneath the windows in the cold morning air stood the new pledges of Blue Key singing lustily. One of the girls observed that they might get a permanent recording of some of the world's worst music if there were only some way that they might capture the frenzied breath that came up from the singing group.

Expensive Music

The band members once more have a faint gleam of hope that they might get down to the Orange Bowl game. Their first hopes were dashed when Treasurer C. O. Wilkins, after adding up the cost of transporting the band to Florida, found himself down on the idea. The expense would be $7,500. But now they are clinging to the hope that business men of Lansing will take care of that matter of a paltry $7,500. Amateur statisticians have computed that on the basis of eight matches played at the New Year's day game there would be approximately 4,000 notes blown by the band as a unit. The price of each note would be nearly $2, according to the pseudo statisticians.

Show Postponed

The show must go on in most cases but not for the Union Amateur show. The speedy approach of winter seems to have frightened the amateurs. So their show which had been tentatively scheduled for the last of this term, is being postponed till sometime next term.

No Revolution

Several women of the town apparently thought that a young revolution was budding yesterday morning. City Clerk Harry Lott was besieged with phone calls from housewives who wanted to know the reason for some 200 men, with right-shouldered shovels, marching down the street. The clerk quelled their fears when he explained to each of the callers that the men were only W. P. A. workers headed toward their day's work on a project.

Art Who?

"Art for Art's Sake" is the Theta Alpha Phi, honorary, motto. Their play "Another Language," presented in the Union Wednesday and Thursday evenings, was not produced for profit. In fact, the play's officials announced that there will be a slight deficit. Expenses for this production were large because of the elaborate settings used.

Thanks, J. E.

Eddie Osborne, who has been invited to Pontiac's Intercollegiate variety show, certainly must have made a hit with the listeners on the radio program. For J. E. Doyle, music columnist of the New York Journal and American, suggested in his column that Eddie should sing one of the leading spots on the intercollegiate show to be held in Chicago Christmas eve.

Spartan Girl May Go To Florida for Game If Money is Provided

Funds are Being Solicited From Several Student Organizations.
Conrad Consents To Trip for Coed
State News Will Announce Winner of Contest if Plan Carries.

That Sparty's Gal will be able to take in the Orange bowl game in Miami New Year's day is the hope of Harvey Harrington, editor of the Spartan magazine, which is sponsoring the contest.

The idea, which came as a suggestion from Harris Coates, '35, now employed on the Flint Journal, came to the Spartan magazine as well as the Spartan.

The prize money being contributed by the magazine will be raised from $15 to $25 if such a plan works out. The Student Council, A. W. S. Union board, Panhellenic council, Interfraternity council are the student organizations being solicited to raise the necessary money, estimated to be $150.

TO BE CHAPERONED

The permission of Miss Elisabeth Conrad, dean of women, has been gained to allow the girl to make the trip. She will be chaperoned by a faculty woman making the trip, who has not yet been chosen.

A petition will also be filed with Ralph H. Young, of the athletic department, requesting financial assistance.

Should the drive for funds be successful, the announcement of the identity of Sparty's Gal will be forthcoming in an early issue of the News.

ONE OF FOUR

The winning candidate for the position of the Spartan Girl of 1938 will be chosen from Rita Kasper, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jean McClenahan, Chi Omega, Mary Wessberg, Alpha Phi, and Marion Hasselberg, Kappa Alpha Theta. The ballot-box will remain open until 5 p. m. in December 12.

Should the winner be allowed to make the trip, train-fare and living expenses will be paid up to $150. Newspapers along the route will be informed, and recognition of the girl will be made during the half at the game.

This afternoon the four candidates will attend the tea dance as guests of the Union board.

Clark Gains Name As Literary Critic

John A. Clark, instructor in the English department, is rapidly gaining a reputation as a literary critic. His article "Teacher and Writer" appeared in the November 29 issue of The Commonwealth. He has also written for Saturday Review of Literature, the Sewanee Review, the Southern Review, and the English Journal. His composition, "Colly, Criticism, and Common Sense," published in the Saturday Review of Literature, May 30, 1936, is included in "A Bibliography of Outstanding American Essays" in the Essay Annual of 1937.

Prof. Guy H. Hill will address the Eaton county elementary and rural teachers on December 15, in Bellevue on "Trends in Elementary Education."

NO MORE STICKERS

The Buildings and Grounds department requests that the practice of placing stickers on the entrances to the various campus buildings announcing various events be discontinued. This has reached the point at which there are fresh stickers practically every day, requiring the washing of windows and doors.

The Buildings and Grounds department feels that there are plenty of bulletin boards about the campus on which these announcements can be displayed.

Chemist Will Address ACS

"Biochemistry in Cereal Industry" is Subject of Discussion.

Dr. Frank L. Gunderson, director of research for the Quaker Oats company, Chicago, Ill., will address the December meeting of the Michigan State college section of the American Chemical society. His subject will be "Biochemistry in the Cereal Industry."

The meeting will be held tonight, opening at 6 o'clock with a dinner in the M. S. C. Union. The lecture, which will be in Kedzie chemical laboratory, will begin at 7:30.

Doctor Gunderson has been identified with agriculture and biochemistry for many years. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture in 1924, and he continued at the same school as part-time assistant chemist. He took graduate work in biochemistry at the University of Wisconsin, where he received the Ph.D. degree.

Since 1929, he has been biochemist in charge of nutritional research and control for the Quaker Oats company. He supervises an animal laboratory in which rats and baby chicks are chief test animals. His work includes contact on clinical fellowships, product advertising and label content, product control, new product development, and materials purchasing and specifications.

Arrangements for this evening's meetings are in charge of Dr. Jean Hawks, of the home economics division and secretary of the local branch of the American Chemical society. Society membership includes college instructors and professors, chemistry students, and commercial chemists.

State Gets Show: First in 35 Years

For the first time in 35 years the American Penny show will be held in Michigan.

At a meeting of the American Penny society held Friday it was decided that the show would be held next June in Demonstration hall. Paul Krone of the floriculture department, was elected secretary of the show.

Flowers will be exhibited by peony growers from New York, Ohio, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. East Lansing people will also exhibit.

SEASON TICKETS

Michigan State college is offering a season ticket in basketball this year for the first time in several seasons. The book sells for $4.45 and is good for 16 games. There is a $2.05 saving involved for the thrifty fan. The tickets are on sale at the athletic office.

Defer Action On Contract For Lighting

Council Discusses Avenue Fixtures, Proposed Ordinance.

Action on a contract between the city of East Lansing and the board of water and light commissioners regarding installation of boulevard lights on Grand River avenue was again deferred by the city council at its regular meeting last night. However, the board has gone ahead with construction and has already spent about $5,000 on the project.

The council wished to clarify several minor points in the contract before signing it, but it is probable that it will be signed soon. Lights are being installed on the south side of the boulevard by the college, and on the north side by the city.

A request was presented to the council by Dean Fred T. Mitchell asking for an ordinance to give authority to an inspector employed by the college to enter East Lansing rooming houses for the purpose of inspection. No action was taken on the matter, but members of the council expressed themselves as being favorable to the proposal.

The council also discussed a proposed subdivision near Saginaw road on the north side of the city. This is not expected to come before the council for approval until sometime next summer, but its sponsors discussed current matters of mutual concern.

Charity Box Opens Today

Excalibur Project, Postponed Last Week, to Open at 3:45.

Today at 3:45, the Excalibur charity drive, postponed last week because of the homecoming celebration for the football game, will be opened in the main lobby of the Union.

All fraternities and sororities are urged by Howard Swartz, chairman of the movement, to have a pledge on hand to contribute old clothing, shoes, and galoshes to the goodwill box.

The Community fund and the Red Cross will be the recipients of the clothing obtained in the drive.

WKAR will broadcast the opening according to Jimmy Haye, a member, who conferred with Robert Coleman, station director, on the matter. Bob Ritter, the station's man on the street, will be present with a microphone to announce the name of the societies making initial contributions.

Professor Opens Home To Department Staff

Prof. and Mrs. J. D. Menchhofer entertained the staff of the speech department, of which he is a member, at a buffet supper in their home Sunday night.

Guests were Prof. and Mrs. Donald Hayworth, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson, Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Nickle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMonagle, C. R. VanDusen, G. F. Fischer, and Don Buell.

36 Students To Graduate In December

Winter Term Will Start Monday, January 3.

Thirty-six Michigan State college students today were announced by the registrar's office as candidates for degrees at the close of fall term, December 17.

The list may be revised, as all 36 candidates may not complete their work on schedule. Those eligible for degrees at the end of the term will receive diplomas dated December 17, 1937. They will be eligible to participate in commencement ceremonies next June.

The current fall term officially closes with the last day of final examinations, Friday, December 17. Last classes will be held Monday, December 13, with final examinations scheduled to begin on Tuesday, December 14. The winter term will open Monday, January 3.

The list of candidates for degrees at the close of the current term follows:

Club to Hear Marta Dalen

Swedish Coed Will Tell Tales of Native Land.

Marta Dalen, a native of Sweden, will speak on Christmas customs of that country at the December meeting of the Home Ex Club at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the Little Theater.

Miss Dalen is attending Michigan State this year on a scholarship and has spoken to several groups already. She speaks with an accent but clearly and has many stories to tell of Sweden. She has studied in Sweden and also in other European countries.

This is the last meeting of the Home Ex club before vacation. There will be a Christmas program, and refreshments will be served. All home economics students are urged to attend and others are invited.

Police Send Books

The traffic division of the Michigan State police this week is sending to all drivers two books, "What every driver should know" and "Rules of the road."

Bonding Firm Board Will Determine Fate Of Men's Dormitory

Blue Key Initiates 26 Outstanding Juniors

Twenty-six junior men, the largest number in recent years, will be initiated into Blue Key, the junior service honorary, at a banquet Thursday evening in the Union dining room. Those men will replace the 14 members who were named to Blue Key last year.

Membership is based on service to the college and scholarship. The 26 initiates were selected from a group of 296 men who met the scholastic requirement of the organization, which is 1.33, the all-men's average of the college.

The junior men who will be initiated Thursday evening are: Harold Hoffmeyer, Sparta; Gerald Winter, East Lansing; William Carpenter, Lansing; James Davis, Fremont; Raymond Turner, Mansfield; John Pungel, Mt. Clemens; Raymond Osborn, Cary, Ill.; Louis Randall, Birmingham; David Beid, Ann Arbor; Victor Spaulding, Charlotte; Joseph Rube, Allen; and Robert Bozenberg, Detroit.

A two-day swing out and initiated initiation began Monday at 7:45 a. m. A serenade of dormitories and sorority houses was a part of yesterday's program. Dean F. T. Mitchell will be the principal speaker at the banquet Friday evening which will conclude the initiation of the 26 new members.

Blue Key functions in a service capacity. Last year one of its activities was co-sponsorship with the Board of the vocational guidance conference. They assist with freshman week activities, and part of the orientation program, including one week of freshman physical education lectures in the fall. A cup is awarded annually by Blue Key to the outstanding Spartan athlete. Last year this award was made to Ronald Garlock. Special service projects are also sponsored each year.

Bible Class Has Jubilee

Two Plays are Presented After Banquet in Peoples Church.

The Business Women's Bible class held its jubilee banquet in the Peoples church, Thursday evening, December 2. A banquet of liquor and coffee was served, and the table and candles and programs carried out the color scheme of yellow.

Following the banquet, two accordion solos, "La Campanella" and "Silent Night," were played by Miss Kathryn Freeman, a college student. Two playlets were given, the first "Gossip over the Clothesline" could take place in any backyard. The characters were neighbors whose parts were taken by Mrs. Gifford Patch, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. W. E. J. Edwards as Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. D. D. Worcester as Mrs. Harris.

The second playlet, "Their Yesterdays," was characterized by Mrs. Gertrude Balcock, a Mid-Victorian lady of quality, and Mrs. Myra Bogue, a war general. The scene was laid in London.

Remarks by Mrs. Ralph Shaw and Dr. N. A. McCune preceded the hearing of a church note past by the class, which concluded the evening's entertainment.

Coeds Offered Riding Course

Cavalrymen to Instruct Preliminary Class.

A riding course will be inaugurated for coeds desiring to obtain the equitation art under guidance of the R. O. T. C. cavalry unit. Officially, this 12-credit course will be incorporated in Michigan State college's regular curriculum during spring term.

However, women students wishing preliminary instruction in the rudiments may register at the beginning of the winter term in the cavalry office.

Basic instruction will commence approximately the sixth week of winter term, after the basketball court has been cleared from Demonstration hall.

The hours for this riding will be from 9 to 10 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. All coeds interested are requested to keep this hour open on their schedule.

Additional information may be procured from Captain Taylor.

Picture to Tell Story of Heat

A talking motion picture, "Heat and Its Control," will be presented under the auspices of the M. S. C. student branch, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Wednesday, December 8, at 7:30 p. m. in room 111, Olds hall.

Through the medium of the picture, produced by John-Manville, an actual visualization of the story of heat from the time man worshipped the sun as his only source of heat and light to present-day methods of development and manufacture of materials designed for heat conservation will be shown.

Everyone interested in the problem of heat conservation and the more efficient utilization of heat in industry, is welcome.

Peace Committee Considers Items

The student peace committee discussed the "We Must Wage Peace" items which have appeared in recent issues of the State News, at its meeting Friday afternoon.

Norman Hyatt reported on the committee working on the revision of the Cantic of Praise.

Possible speakers for the annual peace party, which will be held next spring, were discussed. A definite list of the candidates will be formulated at the next meeting.

Approval of Bond Issue Last Problem Faced by Building.

Plans Finished For Structure

Dormitory to be Located at Corner of Orchard and Grand River.

The fate of Michigan State college's proposed men's dormitory will be determined at a meeting of the board of directors of the Ann Arbor Trust company at the end of this week, when its members decide whether they will float the bond issue to finance the project.

When interviewed yesterday, Sec. John A. Hannah said that plans were completed for the dormitory and need only approval of the bond issue.

The dormitory will be situated at the eastern end of the campus, at the east end of the campus, at Orchard street and Grand River avenue. It will house 440 men, and will cost $600,000, according to plans drawn up by Bowd and Munson of Lansing.

According to Dean F. T. Mitchell, the new dormitory will solve the housing problem only in that it will accommodate a number of students equal to the number of new ones expected in the next couple of years. He said that it will enable college authorities to take off the approved list of lodgings a number of unsatisfactory rooms which at the present time are being used.

Short Course - Club to Dine

Entertainment Program is Planned.

The Short Course club will have its fall term dinner in the Union Wednesday evening, December 8. The recently elected officers, Myron Schneider, president, Robert Orwick, vice president, Ole Tanderbold, secretary, and Richard Karner, treasurer, are in charge of the program.

The short course orchestra, led by Allen Knoll, will open the program with several selections of music. C. H. Nickle and G. E. Fischer of the speech department will lead the group in a song fest. Vernon Hinz, president of the ag council will give an impersonation reading, and Fischer will entertain the group with his accordion.

John A. Hannah, secretary of the college, will speak on his trip to Alaska last summer.

Guests of the club will include Pres. Robert S. Shaw, Dean E. L. Anthony, H. A. Berg, Steve Szasz, George Kovachik, Ole Nelson and Mike Kneek.

Potato Queen To Rule Show

Representatives From Four Districts To Vie For Honor.

The state Potato Queen will be crowned at the consumer's Potato Show in Detroit, January 21-30. One of the four district potato queens in Michigan is a queen who will represent her district at the show.

Representative of L'Anse au Loup, the Upper Peninsula, is Miss Homer, Burnside, the district of southeastern Michigan, is Miss Tress, Edmore, the southern district, is Miss Zeller, Charlevoix, will represent northern Michigan. From the four girls the judges will select the one most fitting to be the Potato Queen. Michigan State college is one of the sponsors.

The purpose of the show, which will be held in Convention hall in Detroit, is to boost potato production and encourage consumers to buy potatoes in this state. There will be samples of potatoes representing more than 300,000 bushels available for sale.

Exhibits of special interest will be the value of the potato in the diet, methods of cooking, preparation, unusual ways of using, and the potato poster for the high school student of Michigan.

Chi O's Hold Fall Dance

Celia Merrill Directs "The Other Wise Man" in Church Sunday.

A glistening curtain of amber cellophane lent glamour to Nate Fry's music at the Chi Omega fall term dance in the Union ballroom Saturday night. Christmas spirit was manifested in the lofty Christmas tree which stood in the northwest corner of the hall.

The Kappa Sigs, new brother fraternity of the Chi Omegas, also attended the party with their guests. Between two dances early in the evening the Kappa Sigs sang the Chi Omega "Sweetheart Song," and the Chi Omegas retaliated a short while later with a rendition of a Kappa Sigma song.

The other fall term semi-formals Saturday night were those given by Zeta Tau Alpha and Epsilon Phi. The Phi Kappa Phi, Theta Kappa Nus, Pi Kappa Taus, Beta Kappas, and Hesperians held house parties on the same night.

"The Other Wise Man," a Christmas play taken from the story by Henry Van Dyke, was presented in the Peoples church auditorium Sunday night. The pageant was sponsored by Y. W. C. A. and under the direction of Celia Merrill, head of the dramatics group.

Tea dances will be held in the Union today and Thursday. The Y. W. C. A. Fireside chocolate is planned for 5 p. m. Wednesday in the student parlors at the church.

Roving Reporter Learns All About Sophomore Prom Band

By CHARLES DUTTON

Who is Bert Block? What kind of a band does he have? The inquiring reporter asked himself that when he heard Bert Block and his "Bell Music" had been signed to play for the Sophomore Prom.

He began to wonder even more when he saw how well the tickets were selling. He decided to wander around the Union for a while and find out something about the orchestra.

The first person he talked to was Big Ed Flowers, president of the Union Board, who attended a convention at Purdue last week end. "All the students at Purdue congratulated us on our luck in getting Bert Block for the Prom because they had tried to get him for a party at their college the same night."

Wandering down to the Wolverine office he ran into Benita Core, business manager of the annual. She said, "Being business manager I would naturally look to the financial side. I know that no one will get a poor bargain if they buy a ticket for the Prom."

Bill Ingleson, editor of the Wolverine came in and what he had to say was short and to the point. "He has a good band, I heard him in the East."

Back up in the grill he ran into Ted Matkoff, Soph class president. Of course Ted would be in favor of the band, but what he said cannot be overlooked. "If the band is good enough to play in the Rainbow room at Rockefeller Center it is good enough for me."

Said Harry Spelman, "The Fire Chief." "When we were east for the Manhattan game they told us that he was one of the best bands playing in New York."

The inquiring reporter felt that a little more of the feminine touch was necessary so he questioned

State Invites Prep Gridders

Two Hundred Expected for Banquet Saturday; To Pick All-State.

Approximately two hundred high school football players from various parts of Michigan will be the guests of Michigan State at the annual grid-bust in the gymnasium Saturday, December 11.

This year's banquet is expected to be the best staged since the annual feature was inaugurated in 1919. Richard Remington, prominent football official, will select the "official" all-state prep eleven and present the boys with medals.

Both the Spartan varsity and freshman football teams will be guests, along with the cross-country runners. The Central Michigan Alumni association, which sponsors the affair, indicated yesterday that it appeared to be a sellout.

An added feature this year is the expected attendance of Governor Frank Murphy who has promised to present the Governor's award to the senior gridders who is named most valuable to the State team. Previous winners of the awards have been Abe Ellowitz, Bob Monnett, Art Buss, Ed Wagner, and Sam Ketchum.

Glen Stewart is general chairman. Other committee chairmen working with Stewart are finance, Joe Gwinn, banquet, Jan Brake-man, program, B. R. Proulx, seating, Einar Larsen, publicity, A. A. Appleby, entertainment, Ralph Tenney, invitations, Earl Hotchin, reception, John A. Hannah, and registration, L. L. Finimodig.

Fred Patton To Conduct The Messiah

Huge Pine Tree Opposite Union to be Lighted for 14th Time.

Preparations have been completed for the lighting of the huge Christmas tree on the campus which will take place Thursday evening, December 9. The tree is located on the boulevard opposite the Union building, and its illumination will usher in the Christmas season as has been the custom for the past 14 years.

With the organization of the music department, an appropriate ceremony was started in which the college chorus gathered at the base of the tree and sang familiar Christmas carols as the hundreds of lights were turned on. However, in recent years the chorus, due to stormy weather, has moved its part of the ceremony indoors.

This year the chorus, under the direction of Fred Patton, professor of voice training, has prepared a sacred oratorio, "The Messiah" by Handel, and will present it in the gymnasium at 8 p. m. Thursday. Twelve soloists, all of whom have been selected from the chorus, are students of Patton.

College Bulletin

Will all members of La Cofradia planning to attend the initiation banquet Wednesday night, Dec. 8, please call Florence Digby or Jane Barringer at the Sigma Kappa house before 6 o'clock tonight.

Pershing Rifles will hold a business meeting Wednesday night at 7:15 in Room 15. Demonstration hall to conclude the fall term activities. Uniforms need not be worn except by staff officers. Members who have not paid their term dues are urged to do so at this meeting. Candidates for membership will not be tested at this meeting but are urged to attend. In order that those wishing to see the basketball game may do so, the meeting will be concluded early. The dance arranged to be held Saturday night has been called off.

A meeting to discuss a swing orchestra to be sponsored by the Independent men will be held in the gym annex Wednesday, Dec. 8 at 7:30 p. m. Instruments are not needed for this meeting.

There are a few vacancies in the A Capella choir. Any student who wishes to enter see W. Kimmel in room 102, Abbot hall.

Bondholders Get 10 Percent Bonus

J. Leslie Miller, liquidator for the East Lansing Depositors corporation, announces that a 10 percent dividend on Certificates of Deposit will be paid on December 8. This is the third dividend payment and represents a payment of approximately $34,000.

Persons who hold Certificates of Deposit and are entitled to dividend payment must call at the office of the corporation in the East Lansing State bank for their checks and must present their certificates for endorsement.

With the Modern Greeks

By MARYANN SMITH

The Modern Greeks are evidently definitely determined to stay in the good graces of the powers that be, for at this date nothing rash like clapping or anything has been done lately. One might even think they were acquiring a studious attitude preparatory to hitting the books a week from now. However, things of a milder nature have happened recently to disprove this theory. Here is:

THETA KAPPA NU—The Theta Nus had recent alumni John Hamann, ex-president of the Interfraternity council, back for their radio party Saturday night.

DELTA CHI—Although Christmas parties may seem a little premature, a very successful one was held Friday night at the house. Our sympathy was with those fellows who had early appointments the next morning.

Three alumni, Red Brennan, Reed Taylor and Marley Dayton were with us part of the weekend.

Art Hing, George Sone and Duane Metcalfe, spent the weekend out of town.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA—Don't let this get around, but a bunch of treasure hunters Saturday night found a skeleton buried in the Alpha Chi front yard. We consider this conclusive evidence and proof that there are no skeletons in the Alpha Chi closet. Although they don't have skeletons, the Alpha Chis have acquired three new plots. Jo Wood, Jean Fietland and Marjorie Johnson. They are having a Christmas party Saturday for the officers and pledges.

HESPERIAN—The Hesperians are all in a dither because they have been swapped by dates due to the holidays. It is accounted that in this change of dates, a Bill Verbeke has been swapped with a Bill Verbeke. The Hesperians are all in a dither because they have been swapped by dates due to the holidays. KAPPA ALPHA THETA—The Theta Nus have in the past week entertained Mr. and Mrs. Chase Newman and Miss Marian Kilbourn for dinner.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO—Three men made him so. Bradley Gilbert, Clarence Denney and Dale Hall. Thirteen fellows say.

Barnett, Ariola and Meyer Tie for First in Botany Contest.

The botanical photography displayed in the library show cases this week is the result of a contest held in the botany department. The contest ended last week with three persons tied for first place.

Dean E. A. Bessey, head of the judges. Another contest will be held winter term.

Those being for first were: H. L. Barnett, instructor, his subject being "Photo Micrograph of Phloem"; Elsie Ariola, graduate student, his subject "From Little Acorns Grow"; and James Meyer, Lansing senior, on "Datura Fruit". Ranking second and third were H. C. Beesock's "Symmetry" and Forrest Strong's "Feast of the Forest".

The contest to be held next term is open to anyone. The rules are only that the subject must be a botanical one, the picture must be taken during the contest, and no one can enter more than three pictures.

The botany department is considering the advisability of combining the M. S. C. displays with those of the University of Michigan.
