Delegates Are Impressed

By Elisabeth Conrad, Dean of Women Nancy Farley, Convention President Sally Langdon, Convention Manager Last week Michigan State college attempted one of its most ambitious undertakings in the line of student activity. Ambitions in the efforts of many faculty members, administrative authorities, and students on the campus to promote Michigan State hospitality and friendliness, in the accommodation of some one hundred and fifty students from 50 campuses East to entertain and give them something constructive and worthwhile to take back to their alma maters as well as "the good time had by all."

Delegates at the Associated Women Student's convention were especially impressed with the size and beauty of the campus and no less with the friendliness and charm of the entire student body. One of the girls from a large, nearby university expressed what seems to have been in the minds of many who attended when she said that the most important thing she was carrying back to her own campus from the conference was the spirit of friendliness and co-operation among all students, both men and women, here at Michigan State.

Another delegate expressed the fact that, obviously, one of the reasons for the general atmosphere on the campus is that of the genuine sincerity of our president. This remark was made after his welcome at the formal banquet, and many other delegates wholeheartedly agreed.

To the faculty is due much gratitude for their suggestions and for interest in the program; to the men students is due much credit for their courtesy all during the convention and especially on Friday night when so many of them acted as escorts to the convention delegates, and to the 200 or more coeds who gave so much time and enthusiasm we owe the careful planning and efficiency that made the convention "click," and their cordiality to all delegates. Without doubt the time and effort expended will be well rewarded in a close relationship among the functioning units on our own campus. Reward will also be found in the general building up of the name of Michigan State college by returning delegates.

Not the responsibility and co-operation of few persons, but many, go into making such a project a success, as it has been pronounced by departing delegates and letters received upon their return.

Quotable Quotes

—By Associated Collegiate Press "We adapt ourselves to the mediocre. We spoil many fine bricklayers and plumbers by subjecting them to a college education." The Rev. Raphael C. McCarthy, president of Marquette university, believes there should be fewer college students. "Yep, we ought to have more tests—if we had more of them the monotony of the instructor's lectures would be broken because with the tests to give you your grade, you don't have to pay such close attention in class!" Wayne Wild, South Dakota State college student, has a new slant on the ever-present examination debate.

IN THE ROUGH

WITH HARVEY HARRINGTON AND JACK GAUNTLETT

These Rainy Days . . . strayed into the noogen of Professor Hill, of the education department, much to his consternation. He wandered through Morrill hall the other day well soaked in spring's wanderthought air. He wandered past a classroom of well-known faces and wondered. He wandered so much that he turned back and wandered in. The faces looked familiar so he asked "What are you doing here today?" The class meets on Wednesday.

One not affected by the lazy atmosphere spoke up. "Today is Wednesday."

In spite of his embarrassment, he conducted the class.

When Two Agree . . . to go steady, everyone asks and wonders how long it will last. One of the most recent agreements come to our ears is that of Marilyn (Flash) Reeder and Bob Johnson. According to past performances everyone wonders how long it will last. Confidentially, it looks like a short course.

A Broken Routine . . . came to light last Monday. The discovery came when Prof. Johnston of the English department spent a long hour, playing the nickelodeon machine at that den of stuff called Tony's. We have it, that, in the past it has been his habit to spend minutes indulging in this super pastime at Matthews' across the way.

What Ranks . . . as the fux pas of the month was committed by Janet Hart, who was bidding Art England a fond goodbye Sunday evening at about seven o'clock, when who should come along but Norm Coridon, who had a date with her for the rest of the evening.

A Steakroast . . . at Grand Ledge proved disastrous to Mickey McComb when escort Bob Laycock broke the key off in the car door, and had a merry time getting it fixed.

a little bit INDEPENDENT

SPRING ELECTIONS

This is the last call for all Independent men who desire some practice in the gentle art of campus politics. Tonight, in the home economics building, room 1, will be held the nomination and election of the men who will run on the Independent ticket in the coming spring all-college elections. The fresh have the floor from 7 to 8, the soph take over from 8 to 9, and the juniors battle will be from 9 to 10. Each group is to elect nominees for the offices of president and treasurer of their respective classes, their names to be placed on the ballot in the all-college elections as Independent candidates. Competition for these places has reached an all-time high, so it will be the man with the most backers present at the convention who gets the nomination. You'll need all the votes you can bring to get the nomination.

SING WHILE YOU DANCE

This is one of the features planned for the Independent's Spring Hon. May 21. First introduced at Northwestern University, this innovation made a success of the dance and many budding Frank Parkers and Nelson Eddys. Although the exact plan is being kept a secret, it is promised that you will aided and abetted in crooning soulfully in to your best girl's car at your risk.

CONVENTION DATES

Date Bureau blues are what Charlotte Schmitt and Bob Jackson would be having now if they hadn't been so successful in their date-making for the A. W. S. convention last week-end. But out of the 110 dates finally arranged (probably the largest date bureau project in the country's) there wasn't one legitimate complaint made.

JACK AND THE BEAN STALK

The Independent men of Evergreen Manor are building the float for the senior week water carnival and have completed the plans already. Jack and the Bean Stalk are not new nicknames. Marty Hutt and Don Jarrard, co-chairmen for the fairytale scene the float is to portray.

Selected Short Subjects

... And verily the sound of copper was among them."

"Mad About Music" would be such a good picture that we sat through it twice and rated the collection plate, "In Memory of Will Rogers," both times. Pennies exhausted, the second time we just sat there limply, hoping our friends weren't around to brand us as cheapkates. A worthy cause, however, and done in good taste. Hope they don't make a practice of that sort of thing or it'll be like going to church.

The State theater did itself proud this weekend. The March of Time certainly beats Donald Duck or Bummy Bee or the rest of the Mother Goose vehicles... and the Benny Goodman short was first-rate.

No names, please... But that can't stop us from telling you that a young instructor on campus was an intimate friend of the Mary of "Sally, Irene and Mary," showing at the State this Friday and Saturday. "I knew her well," he said, and, as we put a question in our eyebrows, "well, medium-well."

The young lady is Marjorie Weaver, a Kappa Kappa Gamma from the University of Indiana. Graduated two years ago, went to Hollywood via a movie magazine contest and now she's right up with her with one-third of a title role... Supposed to be a three-star picture, for us the high spot will be the gangling girl with the gummy gums (rubber legs to you) who has had those comic singing bits in "Wake Up and Live," "Thin Lee" and "Love and Hisses." Know who we mean?—Joan Davis.

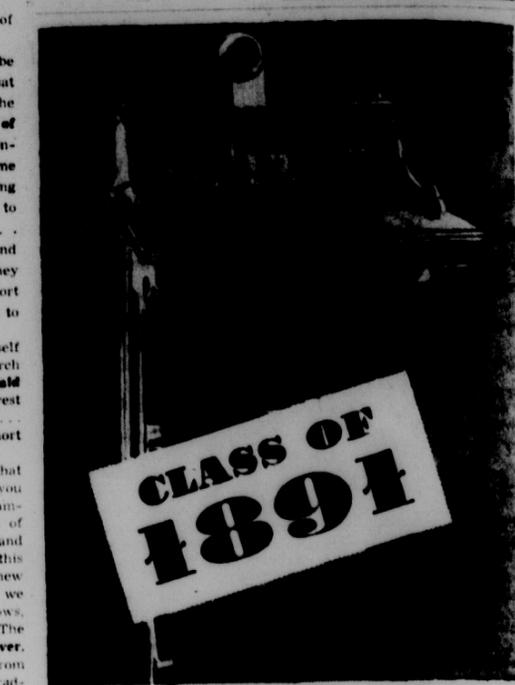

If someone were to ask us for a one-word description of a college student, we'd say "bored." Just too busy—to be bothered, thank you. And so I hang the crepe on my limerick contest and regret to say that some six passes a week will go unwanted because only about half-a-dozen of you are interested in such a matter as getting two passes to the State. I should run a contest for the chosen few! No, this is the last. I thought every American went ga-ga at thought of a contest. Does education take you out of the American class?

Trifles: Bert Hartelius, a little slow in passing cigars, lost no time in finding the river the other night. Do you sip from the bottom of the straw when you finish a coke, too? The Delphic study on their roof. Frances Robinson wears a feather in her hair every day.

If there's a Lucius Beebe on campus he must be in the person of Sam Anker. Corry Dier's dog, Hyacinth, enjoying a doggone-good ice cream in a Mathew's booth. Betty Blackburn lugging a kitten around. Twenty-five of the Theta Kappa Nu's had blinds Friday night. Hollywood on campus: W. C. Fields-Bill Bell.

A group of students were seen Tuesday gathered around the still form of a tree-squirrel which had somehow passed to his great beyond. The scene was the lawn near Beaumont Tower and the students were obviously taking an opportunity to waste time. The only reason this item is of any importance is because we feel that when a bunch of students gather around a squirrel—well, that's news!

The winners for this week, weeded out of the deluge of replies that we received (ahem) are: Clifford Jenks, '39; David James, '39, and Doris Brannington, '39. (Takes the juniors!)

...and how it grew and grew!

In 1891 this writing desk type telephone was installed in a Long Island general store. It was a good telephone, but it could be connected with only a part of the Bell System's 250,000 telephones in the country at that time. Service was slow and expensive.

Year by year this strange looking telephone, with a more modern transmitter and receiver substituted from time to time, grew in usefulness as the Bell System grew longer in reach—shorter in time needed for making connections—higher in quality of service—lower in cost.

In 1937 "old faithful" was retired to become a museum exhibit, but 15 million modern Bell telephones "carry on."

Instructor Explains City Government

By J. I. CASSELL

There has been some controversy as to whether East Lansing should change its charter. Like other institutions, city governments reach a point where changes must be made in order that services may be rendered more efficiently.

The present charter was granted by a special act of 1907. It provided for a mayor-council type in which it was assumed that the mayor would carry out the functions as the chief executive of the city. The council was to be the legislative body, making such ordinances as they saw fit in order to carry out the will of the people of the city. The administrative work of the city, which is the most important work of the city, was also to be carried out by the members of the council, dividing themselves into committees for this purpose.

The members of the council found themselves, as members of the five committees or public committees, etc., performing functions that were more or less technical in character and often led to embarrassing situations in that the members themselves did not always agree. In addition, the time element played a very important part, for if a number of the council found himself on a large number of committees, it meant that he would have to devote a great deal of time to see that these administrative functions were carried out properly.

The grave problem connected with this type of city government is the decentralization of powers in that the administrative work was divided into five parts, each part being carried on by a member of the council. The mayor in actual practice was only a member of the council and a part of the administrative board.

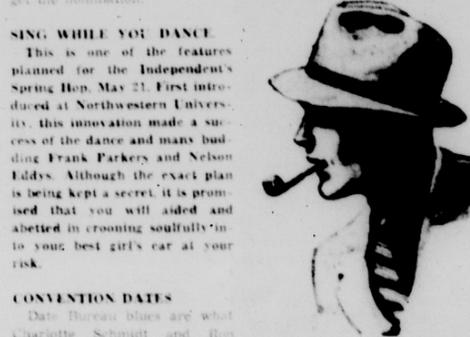

An indefinite tenure. This form of government provides room for the expert in carrying out the business end of the city.

Those who oppose the adoption of this plan point out that the administrative functions are so varied that no one man can qualify for the position. This may be true, but the city manager will be in a position to hire an expert in the fields in which he is not so efficient if the size of the city warrants.

Opponents also state that it is difficult to get the right man for city manager, and this point is well taken. The success of the city manager plan depends upon the type of man who is to carry out the policies of the commission. However, since 1908, universities have been training men for these positions. The University of Wisconsin, in recent days, has elected a former city manager of Cincinnati as its president.

There are 495 cities in the United States that have city managers and the number is increasing every year. There are 40 cities in Michigan that have adopted the plan. Saginaw adopted the plan in 1936, Grand Rapids in 1917, and Grand Haven in 1915. All the 46 cities have adopted the plan since 1914, in which year Cadillac adopted the plan.

Since it has proven so successful in most cities, why not give the plan a trial for East Lansing, which is developing into a rapid growing city.

He Will Lecture On Gardens

CHARLES GIBBS ADAMS

"Gardens and Grounds of National Celebrities in California" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Charles Gibbs Adams, well known landscape architect and town planner from Los Angeles, to be held at the Central Methodist temple house at 8:30 tonight.

The affair is being sponsored by the Alpha Phi alumnae and the Lansing branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association.

Walton Trio Invades Trout Stream

Three members of the faculty, G. Radimersky and H. C. Barnett of the modern language department, and F. Sherman of the entomology department, accompanied by their friend, Mr. Sell of Lansing, spent the weekend on the Platte river, northwest of Traverse City, on a fishing trip. The four men left Lansing on the afternoon of Friday, April 29, and returned late the following Sunday.

Police Issue Burglary Warning

Four East Lansing Breakins Net Over $30 During Week

A warning to East Lansing residents urging them to make sure all windows and doors of their homes are securely locked during the night was issued today by Chief Harold Haun of the East Lansing police department.

The warning came as a result of a series of breakins occurring throughout the city during the past weekend. According to police, four homes were entered and lost estimated at more than $30 in cash was stolen.

FRAT ROBBERY

The largest single theft, police said, occurred at the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, 223 Delta street, which was entered early Sunday morning. Here thieves rifled clothing and pocketbooks owned by Ted Jemms and Jack Grigsby, students, taking $10 in cash and two watches.

Other break-ins reported included the home of A. R. Bowerman, 120 Ganson street, where a pocketbook containing change was taken.

It was believed that the prowler was frightened from there by the barking of a dog belonging to the family.

The homes of Mrs. K. T. Wright, 133 Durand street, and Harry A. Ward, 133 Durand street, were also entered sometime Saturday morning.

GET NOTHING

Police reported nothing was taken from the Ward home, while six gold stamp books and five dollars in cash were stolen at the Wright residence.

Haun reported that the thief apparently enters only homes using the old style locks. By pushing the key out of the lock and inserting a skeleton key of his own, he can gain entrance to the building. In some cases, Haun claimed, the prowler, when leaving the house will close the door after first replacing the old key in the lock.

With the Modern Greeks

—By MARYANN SMITH

PI KAPPA PHI—Martin LaRoss is confined to the hospital with sore throat. The Pi Kaps spent late Saturday in a grand spring purging of the house, both inside and outside. Everything is in order now. There is a rumor that Rube Griewe is switching his affiliations to the Chi Omega sorority due to the fact that he answered the Pi Kappa phone the other evening with a bright, "Chi O House." Rube pinned Chi O Marjorie Tribe some time ago.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA—Jacqueline Howard, Jo Wood, Jean Taylor, Betty Jean Panter, and Katherine Freeman were initiated this week. Margie Buechler sprained her arm in a fall and is carrying it in a sling for a while. The girls like Charlie McCarthy so well they broke down and brought one of his dolls. They held a rousing party Wednesday night.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA—Herbie Hunt finally succumbed to Lois Holt and secured her affections with his pin.

ALPHA PHI—New officers installed recently are: President, Pat Whitfield; vice president, Helen Hamel; treasurer, Judy Hammond; corresponding secretary, Barb Jensen; recording secretary, Frances Patch. A Mother's Day luncheon will be held Saturday.

DELTA SIGMA PHI—Were hosts to the Iowa State polo team here last week. The alumnae drill team from Chicago officiated at formal initiation Sunday.

PHI CHI ALPHA—Election was held at the house recently. Robert Johnson was chosen president. Other officers are: Clyde Randall, vice-president; William Magrane, intertrater; c.o.u.n.c.i.l. representative; Fred Hough, secretary; and Howard Strachan, treasurer.

A radio party will be held at the house Saturday night. Patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. C. Strong. ALPHA GAMMA RHO—E. L. Butz, the National Alpha Gamma Rho inspection officer, and Prof. C. L. Card, faculty adviser, and their wives were guests for dinner Saturday night.

The following men took informal initiation last week: Tom Anderson, Kenneth Slee, Norman Keel, Frank McCauley, Joe Jewett, Dave Diehl, Jim Bailey, Bill Knox, Jack Woods, Francis Campan, Roger Smith, Benson Bowditch and Howard Bessener. Formal initiation will be held May 1.

Sigma Gamma Upsilon will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening at 7:15 in organization room 1 of the Union building.

Fox Speaks to Math Club Wednesday

Herbert Fox, head of the department of mathematics at Lansing Eastern high school, spoke before the Mathematics club Wednesday night.

Fox was assisted by Russell Snyder and Don Wheeler, also of Eastern high school. The talk concerned hints on teaching in general and teaching mathematics in particular.

Forsythe Will Address Physics Honorary

Dr. W. E. Forsythe of the General Electric lamp development laboratory at Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio, will address an open meeting of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary, Tuesday night, May 10, 7:30 p. m., in the physics lecture room. Doctor Forsythe, who is a well-known authority on lamps, will discuss "New Light Sources."

Second Annual Survey Of Year's Events Will be Shown

Program to Include Extra-Curricular and Curricular Activities; Band, Boys' Glee Club, Panel Discussion, Plays Will be Presented

"East Lansing High in 1937-1938," the second annual high school review of outstanding activities, will be presented in the East Lansing high school auditorium, Friday, May 6, at 8 p. m.

The main purpose of the program will be to present to parents and friends of the high school a summary of events of the year. The program will include both curricular and extra-curricular offerings.

A variety of features is scheduled. Two new organizations, the band, directed by Miss Frances Ayres, and the boys' glee club, directed by Virginia Weisinger, will appear. The social science department of the senior high school will be represented this year in a special panel discussion on the general question, "Will the United States Enter the Next War?" Halie Smith is in charge of the discussion.

PLAY WILL BE GIVEN

A goodwill play will be put on by the junior high drama club, a new organization this year, and the TA-2 home room, under the direction of Miss Edith Landley of the junior high department. The home economics club will present a style parade which has been planned and directed by Miss Meta Vosbrink.

The library club will give a skit entitled "Books and the Movies." This club will be remembered for its presentation on books last year. Mrs. A. Althea Walker is adviser of the club.

The junior high journalism students will dramatize "The Dead Line." The Centad staff, which composes the yearbook, have been preparing a skit for presentation on the views in the annual, some of them dating back many years.

LATIN CLASSES TO ACT

Latin classes, under the guidance of Miss Alice Moore and Miss Minetta Nicolai, will present a skit showing how Latin becomes a practical subject, relating it to the English words of common use.

The science group will present "Movies and the Classroom," an outcome of experience with visual aids during the past year. Herbert Graham is in charge. Another science feature will be given by E. W. Kiebler's homeroom. The students recently worked out the various constellations in an electrical demonstration.

Girls of the physical education classes, under the direction of Florence Hoffmar, will dance a series of folk dances.

Senior girl reserves will provide ushers. All other arrangements are being assumed by faculty members.

Norm McIntyre Wins Second No-hitter

Norm McIntyre, U. P. speedball artist, pitched his second straight no-hit game Tuesday night, in the Independent Men's softball league. McIntyre fanned 13 men as his mates slugged out a 12-0 victory over Nick Novosel's Sleeping Beauties.

Mary Mayo pushed over two runs in the last inning, to tie Bakerboro, 2-2, in the other Tuesday game. Don Tuttle, Bakerboro moundsman, held the Mayvites to one hit in the first four frames, but weakened in the fifth to allow two runs.

Jerry Krieger hurried for Mary Mayo, and gave two runs on four hits.

Carr's Kids, behind one-hit pitching by Keith Wise, downed Mack's Boys, 7-0, last night. Five runs on five errors and one hit in the first inning, put the game on ice for Carr's Kids. It was their second straight victory in the Men's league.

Briggs Acres took their second game, winning 14-3, over the Dark Horses in the other last night game. Russ Dien was on the mound for the Briggs team, and gave seven hits. Bill Thibout worked for the losers and permitted 14 runs on 12 safeties, and seven errors.

Snyder's Corners and Evergreen Manor play on diamond one and Bealton meets the Hilltoppers on the second field, in Thursday night's games.

Soph Hurler To Oppose Hoosiers

Kobs Undecided Over Whom He'll Start In Left Field

By DON ANDERSON
Ray Dahlstrom, with one victory already over a Big Ten team this season, will attempt to make it two in a row tomorrow afternoon, when he takes the mound against Indiana.

Dahlstrom is the Soph who hand-cuffed the University of Michigan hurlers last week to score a 9-3 triumph. He is one of the most promising members of the mound staff, and in view of the fact that he is only a sophomore, a bright prospect seems in store for him.

Indiana will bring a veteran team here, one which is bound to give the Spartans a full afternoon. The Hoosiers have won seven, tied one and lost two so far this season, and have split a two-game series with Iowa, a feat which State duplicated last week.

BEAT KENTUCKY
They also have beaten Eastern Kentucky Teachers twice, a team which the Spartans also whipped while in the south.

State will be out to gain an even split in the games with Big Ten teams. The conference mines so far hold a one game edge over the Spartans, Wisconsin beating them twice and Iowa once, while State was beating Michigan and Iowa one game each.

Coach Kobs on the whole is pleased with the performance displayed by his team thus far this season. His pitching staff, which was the question mark early this spring, has come along nicely and he now looks for no trouble from this source.

Face Alma Today

Fisher Belts Homer, Three Singles as Yearlings Enjoy Field Day at Bat

By HAL SCHRAM
Had you been in the vicinity of the gym or Demonstration hall yesterday afternoon you would have heard a long and disturbing series of booms.

No, it was not the military boys practicing for today's parade, but it was the freshmen baseball team trouncing and burying Cranbrook school, 20-10, as a tuneup for today's game against Alma.

The Spartan yearlings connected with 19 hits and a total of 28 bases as three Cranbrook hurlers faced the firing line and saw their offerings go sailing to all corners of the lot.

Henry Sauer, Cranbrook hurler, was perhaps the least successful of the visitors' trio, being touched for 12 hits in the six innings he toiled. He was the victim of the longest hit of the afternoon, a long home run by Alk Fischer. The ball struck at the base of the right field fence.

In addition to his homer, Fischer collected three singles, to lead the yearling attack. Closely behind him came Main, first sacker, who contributed a double and three singles to the yearling offensive attempts.

Jack Griffin started on the mound for the local lads, and gave a good account of himself. In the five innings he gave up two hits and one walk, while striking out seven.

The yearlings had their big innings in the sixth and seventh when they scored five and seven runs, respectively.

Bill Wilson will start on the mound for the freshmen today.

Houses Score In Baseball

Delta Chi, Theta Kappa Nu Take Easy Victories

With Delta Chi's and Theta Kappa Nu's showing the way with one-sided victories, inter-fraternity baseball continued to travel at a fast clip.

Delta Chi's turned in a 9-4 triumph over the Alpha Epsilon Pi's behind four-hit pitching by Bill Smith. He was also aided by good fielding from his team mates and some long distance hitting by Kayo Collins, who got two hits in four trips to the plate, and a home run by Bob Myers.

Dave Goldsmith pitched four-hit ball for the AEP's, but received poor support. Goldsmith also banged out a home run and a single in four times up.

Theta Kappa Nu walloped the Pi Kappa Phi's 11-2 in a slipshod slugfest marred by many errors. Tom Ellison, Theta Nu hurler, allowed the Pi Kaps only two hits and got two of his team's nine hits off of Pi Kap Pitcher Paul Rickert.

In Wednesday night's only game, Phi Chi Alpha tripped the Phi Tau's, 5-4, in an extra inning affair. Don Kilbourn held the Phi Tau's in check for four innings but weakened in the fifth.

Delta Chi tennis team dropped the Phi Tau's, 6-1, 6-2. FarmHouse stopped the Kappa Sigma's, 6-1, 1-0, and Pi Kappa Phi beat the Beta Kappa's, 6-3, 6-2, Tuesday.

Wednesday's matches found Phi Chi's trouncing Phi Tau's, 6-1, 6-2; AEP's nailing out FarmHouse team, 6-2, 2-6, 9-7, and the Tics winning over Delta Sig's, 6-3, 6-3.

Although the varsity will be out of town, there will be two games at Demonstration hall this week. Demagogues play Lansing Red Wings tonight while Saturday Demagogues face Detroit. Both games will start at 7:30 p. m.

Purple Golf Team Next for State

Northwestern university, defending the Big Ten golfing crown, is the next hurdle barring State's path to an undefeated golf season. The Evanston quartet, led by Western conference champion, Sid Richardson, will invade the Spartans' lair Saturday in the first home match on State's schedule.

Coach VanAlstyne will start the same team that has won three straight matches on the road—Ed Flowers, Tom Brand, Roy Nelson, and Bud Tansey.

ONE WEAK SPOT
The veteran infield has been all that could be desired, except for momentary lapses of errors.
The one weak spot is in left field. This position has constantly been a source of worry for Kobs. Wins Bill Beadle definitely out with a charity horse, Dahlstrom, although a pitcher, has seen service in left.
Dahlstrom, however, is too good a hurler to put all his time on out-fielding and so Kobs is still on the outlook for a likely looking prospect. George Levasood, a junior, who is a hard hitter, may be the solution to Kobs' problem.
As in the past, the game will start at 4:10 p. m.

Track Records Certain to Fall In State-Marquette Meet

By GEORGE MASKIN
Saturday's track meet between Michigan State and Marquette will be replete with record-breaking performances, so announces Athletic Director Ralph H. Young.

There is one hitch, however, to Young's prediction—the weather. With a break from weather bosses, Young figures at least a half-dozen meet and track marks will go sailing by the boards.

To start with, Young sees the shattering of the present track records in the half mile and mile relays. The Spartan freshmen of 1937 hold the former mark of 1:32.3, while Western State set the mile record of 3:20.2.

Both Marquette and State have surpassed the half-mile record by wide margins in recent weeks. State won the Kansas Relay 880-yard event in 1:27.1. The Hilltoppers' mile relay has covered the distance in 3:19.1.

WOODSTRA FAVORED
Harvey Woodstra should crack the 120-yard high hurdle record of 14.8 seconds and may equal or slash the low hurdles mark of 23.5 seconds, both of which were set by Wayne's brilliant Allan Tolmich last year.
In Bob Shurilla, Marquette boasts a crack hurdler, but a recent injury may slow up the Topper star to some extent Saturday. He also is an able broad jumper.

The 220-yard record of 21.5 seconds is slated to be erased with Wilbur Greer of State or Kinert of Marquette, the speedster to perform on the track. Kinert ran a 20.7 during last Saturday.

Greer is conceded a chance to beat the now existing 100-yard dash record of 9.7 seconds, which he holds jointly with Tolmich. Bill Carpenter's quarter-mile mark of 49.9 is certain to fall to Herman Carr of Marquette, a consistent finisher under 49 seconds.
RECORDS ARE SAFE
Capt. Ken Waite of State should better the two-mile record of 23:48 set by Indiana's Don Lash last fall, while establishing new American three and four-mile records here. The half and mile records are safe, Director Young says.
In the field events, Ednie Bremer should better his own javelin mark of 182 feet. Dye of Marquette topple the discus mark of 140 feet 7 inches recorded by Bill Faymonville of Notre Dame, and Eddie Burke of Marquette beat the high jump record of 6 feet 3 1/2 inches.
