No. 7

Today's Campus

Bumming Cheap?

One day last week, a hopeful driver was standing at the corner of Michigan and Grand River. He was waving his hand at all cars that went by, in the hopes that some kind driver would give him a lift. A car pulled over to the curb, the high-biker started to climb in, but he realized that the driver was an East Lansing patrolman. The officer was busy engaged in hitchhiking in the street and obstructing a public driveway. The hitchhiker paid a fine of $1.00 and a day in jail.

Her a Polecat

John Van Houten, the Dutchman who works behind the desk in the assigned reading room, has a skunk hole to sell and plenty of explaining to do to nose-minded friends. John, who has a basement suite on Hagadorn road, returned from work Thursday night to find Henry occupying his room. Followed in an encounter which caused Henry to lose his head and John to carry incense to classrooms.

Palooka's History

Don Phillips, State News wag, got the reverse end of a gun last week, and was his face red. It happened thusly:

In History 201, Prof. Mueller digressed from the dry, assistant text long enough to ask Don what he knew about the present situation in Europe.

The busy Don replied that he hadn't even had time to follow the pugacious activities of Joe Palooka in the last week. So much to the enjoyment of the rest of the class, Mr. Mueller took time out and explained to the red-faced Phillips just what was new on the Palooka front.

English Major?

Professor Newman's face was VERY VERY red last Thursday after he unceremoniously denied convention and referred to some man's feet (linear measurement) as many "foots." All 88 students chorled with glee—some went so far as to shout!

Watchdogs, Eh?

Ever vigilant is the term for the varsity club.

Last night a pair of loyal members caught a couple of unwary dogs departing themselves in the Grill, sans pots.

Pats

Upon being informed of traditions, campus customs and such, the freshman culprits pulled the well-known green from their pockets and put them on.

Pines and Needles

"Fine Needles," the weekly magazine put out by the high-boiled boys from the forestry department, announces as its officers for the year, William Orr, editor, and Charles Harris, business manager.

No-Willpower

Stan Pollyea, an ag-econ major, missed a field trip yesterday all because George Maskin, his room mate figured 5:30 was a late alarm clock sound off.

Slept

Unaware Pollyea was to make the trip, Maskin stroled into the room Thursday night and set the clock for a more respectable hour. The result, Pollyea overslept by about three hours.

B-R-R!

Better get your petunias in or under cover.

That perennial campus visitor, Jack Frost, has made his first appearance of the year, and is he reason to 'not-house plants.

With a reported thermometer reading of 28 degrees local Michigan became the coldest spot in the nation at 7 a. m. Friday. Damage was not heavy, vegetable growers who were tardy in their harvesting suffering the most.

Dad Elliott Will Present Four Talks

Social Service Among 35,000 Students Forms Basis for Y Man's Talk

As he begins a four-day visit to the Michigan State college campus, Dr. A. J. Elliott will speak on "What You Ate to Be, You're Now Becoming" in the evening at 7 p. m. Students and townspeople are invited to the lecture.

Y W Presents Year's Plans To Coeds

A ritual service introduced by Y. W. C. A. to more than 200 Michigan State college girls who attended the first all-membership meeting Thursday night in People's church.

Herbert Plans Study Course

Prof. P. A. Herbert, head of the forestry department, has been granted a year's leave of absence for advanced study at the University of Michigan.

Final Rites Held For R. M. Olin

The funeral of Dr. Richard M. Olin, who died October 4, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. The pall-bearers were: Dean E. L. Anthony, Dean I. C. Emmens, Vincent J. Vanderling, John A. Housh, George Alderton, Tom H. King, Charles W. Barnman, and Stanley E. Crowe.

SWL Planning Music War

Plans for a Battle of Music to be sponsored by Spartan Women's League on November 11 are going forward under the direction of Ruth Kittredge, according to Gertrude Brummelhoff, chairman of the league.

Welch Composer Added to Staff

Gomer Llewellyn Jones, from Wales, is the new theory instructor in the music department. Jones has had two of his orchestral compositions performed by the Rochester Civic orchestra and broadcast over the NBC network.

New Forestry Cabin Committee Chosen

Prof. M. E. Deters, A. B. Bowman, and Prof. P. W. Robbins, with Carl Erickson, student representative, will comprise the committee in charge of the Chittenden Memorial cabin, otherwise known as the forestry cabin.

Branaman Tells Block and Bridle To "Think"

"When two people agree with each other all the time, it's a sure thing that one or the other of them isn't thinking."

So George A. Branaman, assistant professor of animal husbandry, told the members of the Block and Bridle club and their guests at their first open meeting of this current school year last Tuesday night.

Speaking on advanced study for college graduates, Mr. Branaman stated that in scientific study no one person may establish truth by merely acting with the authority of an umpire.

Mr. Branaman has just returned from a year's leave of absence which he spent at the University of Illinois doing advanced work.

Y W Presents Year's Plans To Coeds

A ritual service introduced by Y. W. C. A. to more than 200 Michigan State college girls who attended the first all-membership meeting Thursday night in People's church.

Betty Bart, representing the worldwide aspect of the organization, told of her experiences as a delegate to the National Youth Congress meeting which was held at Vassar college last summer.

"Peace, considered the most vital problem facing young people, was the main topic of discussion for the 900 delegates from fifty-two countries," Miss Bart said.

Friendship, as one of the five corners of the Y. W. C. A. program, was presented by Jane Musselman. Virginia Thompson talked on social behavior, another of the important points for Y. W. C. A. Social service was presented by Doris Schoedel, and Mary Colton explained the religious program of the Y. W. C. A.

Hostesses for the evening included Barbara Arnold, Margaret Dugham, Elaine Hudson, Virginia MacMorse, Betty Painter and Kay Umphrey. Betty Jane Mills played background music as the girls arrived.

Interest groups will meet Wednesday afternoon at 5 p. m. The next all-membership meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 12, at the forestry cabin, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Contest to Pick MSC Speech Entrants

One man and one woman will be chosen to represent Michigan State in the state extemporaneous contest after speaking tryouts are held Thursday evening, October 27, in room 9 of the woodshop.

First and second place winners in both the men's and women's local tryouts will receive $10 and $5 respectively. The state contest will be held at Western State Teachers college, Kalamazoo, November 22.

Subjects for the men's contest are: 1-National minorities, and 2-Political and economic isolation of the United States. The subjects for the women's contest are: 1-Socialized medicine, and 2-United States and the European situation.

Students planning to enter the contests should choose one of the broad subjects and be prepared to discuss any phase of it. Tryout speeches will be from six to eight minutes long. The student will draw two sub-topics upon the question he has studied. He will have one hour in which to develop it.

Students wishing to enter the contests should see Prof. J. D. Mendofo of the speech department one week previous to the contest.

Gross Named Head Of Home Ec Club

Dr. Irma H. Gross, associate professor of home economics at Michigan State college, was to be installed as president of the Michigan Home Economics association at its annual meeting Friday and Saturday, at Traverse City.

Mrs. Earl Mosser and Miss Marjorie Thompson, Lansing schools' home economic supervisors, are scheduled to take part in the two-day program which is expected to draw over 700 women from various parts of the state.

The meeting is to be held in conjunction with members of the Michigan Educational association, District 5.

From Princes to Danseuses, They're Here

All the way from McEvert, Saskatchewan, comes William G. McKay. He's a liberal arts student, as is Marjorie Cook, who calls Cuba her home "state."

From the other side of the world is Yeh Hui Lan, a Chinese graduate student in home economics. Canton is the home of her parents. She went to school at the Yenching university at Peking, where she got her bachelor's degree last year. She was awarded the annual exchange fellowship offered by Omicron Nu, home ec honorary, and the American Home Economics association.

Excelsior to Open 'Night Club'

NORWOOD HUBBELL, GERRY WINTER, BETTY JO STEPHENS

Night club atmosphere will pervade the Union second floor next Friday night at an all-college party sponsored by Excelsior, senior men's honorary.

Tables from the grill below will give party-goers a chance to rest between dances and sip cokes or sodas as they wait for Frankie Prindle to strike up his band.

A feature of the party will be tapping of five new members into Excelsior. Names of these men will not be made known until the tapping. These five were selected because of outstanding parts they play in campus activities.

Regular union soda jerkers and waiters have been enlisted by Excelsior to keep patrons well supplied with refreshments. Cigarette girls will vend their wares.

Post Mortems Due at Noon On Tuesday

They're still second guessers but they've moved up from Monday morning to Tuesday noon.

So says James Kelly, Union board member, in announcing the new weekly program, "The Tuesday Noon Quarter-back" which will have its inaugural next Tuesday in the Union ballroom.

The program will last from 12:30 until 1, and admission will be free to all students.

An authoritative discussion of the previous Saturday's game by members of the coaching staff and players will highlight the program.

Frank Bachman or some other member of the staff, and several players will be present at each meeting.

Union Board Will Sponsor Victory Hop

A "Victory" dance to be held tonight after the Illinois Wesleyan game, is being sponsored by the Union board. Dancing will be from 8 to 12 and music will be by Frankie Prindle's band.

Patrons are to be Prof. and Mrs. L. M. Turk and Prof. and Mrs. H. A. Berg. General chairman of the affair is Janet O'Hara.

At a board meeting last Tuesday plans for future dances were discussed. Mr. Prindle announced that a clock for the Union grill is on the way. A nickel music machine for the grill was discussed and the matter referred to a committee of Jim Kelly and George Cahoun.

Frats to Present Open House

The second weekly all-fraternity open house will be held Sunday, October 9, it was announced today by the inter-fraternity council. The open house is a part of the newly formed delayed rush-week program.

All fraternities on the campus will be open for inspection by any person interested in joining.

Glee Club to Turn Romeo for Coed Dorm Serenade

Romantic cadenzas and heart-throbbing, melodious tales of love will be heard from Mary Mayo and Sarah Williams during Tuesday night, October 11, when the men's glee club will enact their Romeo serenade.

A smoker in the Union building will precede the serenade. The object of the smoker is to acquaint the new members of the club with each other and with the older members.

Directly following the serving of refreshments the club will march to Mary Mayo, singing their theme song, "Steady Hearted Men," by Sigmond Rosenberg. The rest of the singing will be impromptu, with better than bar-monic playing a major part.

MSC Men Aid In New Book's Publication

Investigation in problems of education, conducted by Michigan State Teachers college, Olivet and Albion, is now in the climactic stage. Reports have been compiled and the enterprise will culminate with a book published by the University of Chicago Press.

The committee of the program is made up of the president of each college, Doctor Warriner, president of Central State Teachers college, Dr. John Seaton, president of Albion, Dr. J. T. Brewer, president of Olivet, President Robert S. Shaw, and Dean I. C. Emmens, who is chairman of the committee. Dr. Kenneth Heaton is coordinator of the program.

As well as studying the individual problems of each campus these institutions sponsored a thorough investigation of the problem common to all campuses, the problem of Why Students Fail.

No statistics are available in publication yet, but some of the reasons cited in the report are health, financial worries, remunerative work, and lack of future vocational plan at college entrance.

Michigan State investigators of this problem used the personal interview method as well as high school records and tests to determine the cause of poor marks. On revision the results of this work will constitute a chapter in the new book.

The four colleges conducting this study of educational problems represent a high degree of variation in character, size, and curriculum, a plan which has proved advantageous in determining causes in both general and specific cases.

Vet Students Hold Rally

Two hundred veterinary advisers of the Junior American Veterinary and one another at a rally held in the Union Wednesday night.

Two reels of film of Michigan fishing followed by a sham boxing match, were the other attractions. Refreshments were served.

After the faculty was introduced by Dr. Stafoeth, faculty adviser of the Junior American Veterinary Medical association, a talk was given by Bob Johnson, who outlined the program for the year.

The program committee of the J. A. M. V. A. will meet early next week to further develop the program for the term.

Seniors!

Seniors who are planning to qualify for degrees at the end of the fall term are requested to call at the registrar's office and fill out their diploma cards and pay graduation fees at the accounting office. Diplomas will not be ordered until this requirement is met.

BULLETIN

All representatives of campus organizations to the MSC United Peace committee are urged to be present at a meeting Monday at 5 p. m. on the third floor of the Union. There will be an election of this year's officers.

All boys who filed application for work through the YMCA office must leave a schedule of their free hours with Mr. Gerne or their names will be removed from the list.

Athenian Women Plan Meeting

An explanation of the new zoning system and an outline of the coming year's activities will be the main business at the open business meeting of the Athenians in room 1, on the third floor of the Union, Monday, at 7:30 p. m.

Illinois Wesleyan '11' To Test Spartans In Macklin Field

Bachman Undecided About Starting Lineup as State Renews Rivalry With Methodists; Invading Opponents Boast Heavy Squad

By DON ANDERSON

Its starting lineup a mystery to everyone except Coach Charlie Bachman himself, the Spartan football team today set itself to meet the attack of a heavy Illinois Wesleyan eleven which will invade Macklin field a 2 p. m. this afternoon.

Every member of the squad, the managers not excluded, seems to have an even chance to start the game if the going is in practice sessions this week mean anything.

Bachman shifted players from pillar to post as he sought the drive stable lacking in the Michigan game last Saturday.

Game time may find Al Diebold back in his old place in the starting lineup. Al has been bothered with bruised ribs but has recovered sufficiently to cause Bachman to believe him ready for the quarterbacking job.

Jerry Drake, East Lansing junior, also has an excellent chance to crash the starting front. Only recently installed at left tail, Jerry has pleased coaches with his ability and will certainly see plenty of action even if he doesn't start.

In fact, it may be that the second team line composed of Diehl and Bennett ends; Pearson and Gogart, tackles; Moore and Griffith, guards; and Sillsifer at center, along with the third team backfield of Drake and either Pellow or Butniski, halves; Derickson, full; and Klowicki, quarterback, which start the game.

This team has seen plenty of service in practice this week, and Bachman has shown little intention of starting his first stringers. However, starting time may see the varsity in there.

State cannot afford to take Wesleyan lightly. Although defeated 6-0 by Cincinnati last week, the Titans are not a set-up. They boast a veteran backfield with a fairly strong though inexperienced line. Dick Falk, fullback and "Buster Bob" Morrow, a fullback, are two boys who tip the scales around 200 apiece. In fact, the team as a whole averages 195 pounds.

Wesleyan will be remembered as the team which came here a few years ago to lead at half time 13-0. State winning 6-0 only by a last half drive which netted three touchdowns.

This year's Wesleyan backfield is looked upon as the greatest in school history, and should their young line click this afternoon State will have its hands full.

The Spartans came out of this week's training practice in good shape, no serious injuries being reported. Alex Ketzko, left tackle, is bothered somewhat with a lame leg, but is expected to be ready by game time.

Home Ec's to Open Year at Party

A sailing party will open the Home Economics club year's program at the first general meeting, scheduled for this Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Little theatre.

Irma Shunway, program chairman, has announced that Hui-lan Yeh, the Chinese Home Ec scholarship student, will be introduced to the club at this time, and the tentative "log" for the year will be described.

The meeting is open to all home economics students.

Four Men Join 'Y' Cabinet

Three new-men have been elected to the YMCA cabinet, announced Harold Hoffmeyer, 'Y' president at a meeting Thursday night. The new men are Larry Ball who will fill the position of chairman of campus relations.

Herbert Pifer, chairman of peace action committee, and Robert Lufford, publicity chairman.

Larry Ball is a junior in conservation and has been prominent on campus in oratorical and religious activities.

Herbert Pifer is a sophomore in agriculture. He also attended the Lake Geneva conference this past June.

Robert Lufford, a Liberal Arts sophomore, will fill the place vacated by Robert Bottoms whose resignation was accepted with a vote of thanks for past services at the last meeting.

Begin Concert Ticket Sale Monday

Faculty season tickets for the Michigan State College Concert course will go on sale at the accounting office and the Music department Monday, October 10. A limited number of tickets have been available and these will be sold to faculty members. This year there will be no single admission tickets sold at the door or in advance.

Sergei Rachmaninoff, pianist will open the course November 1. Dates for the other concerts are: Raya Garbusovska, cello, January 19; Elton Zuphalst, violinist, February 9; Engel Land, contralto, March 9; and Marjorie Lawrence, soprano, April 19.

An innovation in the arrangement of the concert, consists of the appearance of two artists with the Michigan State college symphony orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Schuster who recently has been appointed to that post.

Raya Garbusovska will play a concert with the orchestra during the first part of the program, followed by her cello recital. Zuphalst will have the same arrangement with the orchestra. A third concert will be given by the orchestra on April 27, the subject to be announced later.

SERGEI RACHMANINOFF

Debaters to Participate In State Tournament

To Talk on British Alliance Question

The entire East Lansing high school debate squad will participate in a state-wide tournament, Saturday, October 15, at Lansing Eastern high school.

The program for the tournament begins at 9:30 with two short talks on the techniques of debate and then goes into a series of debates between teams from various schools. East Lansing is entering two on the affirmative and two on the negative side of the British alliance question.

On the affirmative side will be two teams comprising Ruth Swift, Virginia McKenzie, and June Hyer as one team, and a second composed of Betty Baltzer, Harriet Hillier, and Mary Fagan. The negative will be represented by a team of boys, Leonard Gardner, Leslie Willis, and Frank Groat, and also a team of girls made up of Eleanor Berden, Vera Pennington, and Ann Fagan.

Besides the actual participation in debates, two other members of the East Lansing squad will assist T. G. Harris, Eastern's coach, in helping with details incidental to staging the debates. They are Len Hanzel and Ardis Foster.

On Thursday of the past week, East Lansing participated in two practice debates with Lansing Eastern at East Lansing. Virginia McKenzie, Harriet Hillier, and Vera Pennington were on an affirmative team, and Leslie Willis, Frank Groat, and Mary Fagan were on a negative team.

Revelli Selects Players For Honor Band

Fifty members of the band at East Lansing high school have been honored with appointments to play in the M. E. A. band which will present a concert for the construction of teachers during the coming week.

The students who have been chosen to represent the East Lansing band include: George Miller, Shirley Freeman, Marcus Schaub, Ken Wipsterman, and Lynn Pennington. Miss Frances Ayres is their leader at East Lansing.

The select band is under the direction of William Revelli, director of the University of Michigan band, and nationally known band leader. The band consists of outstanding high school players from this part of the state who play at a clinic of the selection of the convention which also give a concert October 15 at Eastern high school auditorium.

Bid Chosen In Bond Sale

The Nuveen & Company of Chicago was awarded the contract for the sale of the $70,000 bond to finance the new water utility. A special meeting of the East Lansing city council last Tuesday night. The meeting was adjourned until Monday night's meeting. Monday night it was decided to bid the three highest bids by approval of the city council. The bid turned in by the Nuveen and company was the highest of the fourteen bids. Their take quotation was $392,000.

The council had an unusually large number of bids from which to choose. There were 14 bids ranging from $300,000 to $400,000.

Judges to Compete at National Show

The Michigan State college basketball team journeyed to the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, where it will compete in the contest to be held Wednesday, October 11. The team is led by Coach Assistant Professor in the physical education department.

East Lansing Ball Team Honored At Banquet

A banquet in honor of the East Lansing Adams softball team was held at Hunt's Food Shop Wednesday night.

Rollo Adams, local merchant and sponsor of the team, was toastmaster for the evening. He commended the team for its display of sportsmanship and spirit throughout the season. The team finished their schedule with 19 wins out of 26 games.

Each member of the team was awarded a small gold baseball.

Bervig to Take Lead in Civic Guild Play

Mrs. Ruth Bervig, a resident of East Lansing, will play the lead in "Stage Door," opening production for the fall season of the Lansing Civic Players Guild. Other members of the cast from East Lansing and the campus are Pauline Zoller, Helen Olin, Peg Killen, Shirley Cook, and Carol Lott.

The play, written by George Kaufman and Edna Ferber, ran almost a year before capacity crowds on Broadway, and it promises to be one of the best attractions brought to Lansing by the guild.

The first performance will be given on Thursday, October 20, at the West Lansing high school auditorium, and will run for three nights.

Paper Staff Selected

Jean Seavarda and Marion Pearce have been appointed co-editors of the Trojan, Trumpet school paper of East Lansing high school for the present year. The paper comes out every three weeks and the student body under the general direction of Miss Alice Marie, faculty adviser to the staff. "Extras" are issued on the occasion of events.

J. M. Jensen of the dairy department has returned from Chicago where he attended a conference of National Butter Industry meetings. The subject of his talk being "The Prevention of Spoiling the Market With Excess Butters."

CLASSIFIED

RENT: 1000 sq. ft. for sale or lease. Call 2-2444. WANTED: Automobile for sale. Call 2-2444. WANTED: Automobile for sale. Call 2-2444.

High School News Shots

Members of the Trojan Trumpet staff sold programs for the football game with Flint Central Friday afternoon at the field. The programs will be sold again at future home games and proceeds will be used to purchase additional materials for the Trojan Trumpet.

East Lansing has found a new combination for a string quartet consisting of Grace Miller, Marjorie Schaaf, Leonard Gardner, and Bud Bell. The group made a very favorable impression when it played two symphonic movements for the Kate Ketzje club last week.

With almost a hundred girls in attendance, the Girl Reserve tea dance was a big success. Bud Bell and his three-piece orchestra played. Refreshments were served.

The Varsity club held its initiation last Friday, with many varied costumes being the order of the day for the neophytes who "hopped" to participate in the more formal part of the initiation in the evening. After a bohemian dinner, the club attended the Eastern-River Rouge game.

The Senior Home Economics club gave a tea Monday to welcome new members. Shirley Freeman, president, explained the year's program.

The H-Y club has nearly reached its goal of 40 members, according to Lee Cahill, president. The club plans to sell pep pins in the near future.

Community Personals

East Lansing Lodge No. 480, F. & A. M., will hold its regular communication at the temple on Monday evening, October 10, at 7:30.

Mrs. J. E. Greene of 157 South Harrison avenue celebrated her 75th birthday anniversary Tuesday afternoon. The day was marked by WRAR playing "Mother's Day" by her at the request of her son. During the day guests were received from many relatives and friends, and in the evening her son, J. C. Greene of Marquette, and his family came to spend the evening with her, bringing with them the birthday dinner.

Mrs. Emma Hadley of 157 South Harrison avenue is spending the week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. Hadley, at Charlevoix.

Mrs. Anne Matthews of 715 Linden street has been ill with influenza for the last two days, but is well on her way to recovery.

Mrs. T. P. East of Ohio is spending the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. D. J. Wheeler, 360 Marshall street.

Miss Dorothy Baldwin, who is teaching at Crosswicks, Michigan, will come Wednesday to attend the Michigan Educational meeting to be held in Lansing.

Pastor Nearly Dies In Hurricane

Dr. M. J. Fox, associate pastor emeritus of the Peoples church, and his wife were in the Cape Cod hurricane and flood. They barely escaped with their lives. They were kept in the dark for six hours when they were rescued by boat. Doctor and Mrs. Fox are expected back to the church by mid-October.

Medics Attend Post Grad Lectures

Opening Session Held at Sparrow

Ten prominent East Lansing doctors attended the first of a series of post graduate lectures for physicians, held Thursday at the Edward W. Sparrow hospital.

The doctors, members of the second regional district of the Michigan State Medical society comprising Dugham, Eaton, Jackson and Hillsdale counties are Dr. Theodore Bauer, Dr. Oscar Bruegel, Dr. J. K. Hecker, Dr. Robert McGillicuddy, Dr. H. J. Proll, Dr. J. S. Rozan, Dr. E. J. Robson, Dr. Frank Stiles, Dr. J. F. Sander, and Dr. K. W. Toothaker.

Dr. J. E. McIntyre of Lansing, coordinator of the second district, announced the course part of a program of post graduate medicine being sponsored by the University of Michigan, Wayne University College of Medicine, and the Michigan State Medical Society.

Dr. George Beiste, associate professor of skin diseases at the University of Michigan Medical School, and Dr. Carl Camp, professor of nervous and mental diseases, were the speakers at Thursday's session.

Bridge Club Sets Time Record

Organization Enters Twenty-sixth Year

Twenty-five years a bridge club—that is a real record for an organization that is purely social. Next Tuesday starts its twenty-sixth year, when the club will meet with Mrs. R. J. Baldwin of 329 Wildwood.

The charter members are Mrs. E. Looze, Mrs. Stephen Clem, Mrs. A. J. Clark, and Mrs. Walter Dutton. Mrs. Verne LeRoy and Mrs. Baldwin have been members for twenty-three years. Mrs. Edgar Cooley was formerly a member, but is now a substitute member.

The more recent additions to the club are Mrs. Charles Bull, Mrs. Bruce Hartwick, Mrs. R. K. Stow, and Mrs. Charles Bachman, wife of Coach Bachman of Michigan State college. Mrs. L. L. Fromberg, wife of the mayor of East Lansing, and Mrs. J. W. Stack, wife of the chairman of the faculty advisory committee of Michigan State college.

Mrs. Baldwin says they've had a grand time just playing bridge, and the meetings will be just as much fun the twenty-sixth year as they have been the other twenty-five.

Wife of College Employee Dies

Mrs. Hannah Smith, 59, died late Thursday night at her home on South Cedar street, East Lansing, following an illness of two years.

She is survived by her husband, Owen Smith, an employee of Michigan State college, and two sons, one living in Ann Arbor, and one living in East Lansing. The Smiths have lived in East Lansing for 24 years.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock at Gosline-Rubenstein funeral home, and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. The Rev. Robert W. R. Prescott of the Michigan Avenue Methodist church, of which Mrs. Smith was a member, will officiate at the services.

Shark Austin has been added to the English department staff for the fall term only, to assist with the large enrollment of freshmen English classes. Mr. Austin is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Max Strother, proprietor of Strothers' grocery, is shown making the initial purchase of Little America frozen foods, supplied by the Heather wood Dairy of East Lansing. Strother, a pioneer in the frozen food line, chose Little America brand because of its obvious superiority.

Jenkins Picked As Council President

Jordan Jenkins will serve as acting president of the Student council of East Lansing high school following the resignation of Robert Bouwama, who recently moved to Holland, Michigan.

At a recent council meeting, Jenkins was chosen vice-president under the constitution. No provision had been made to meet the problem that presented itself when Bouwama moved away from East Lansing. In the all-school election last spring, only a president was chosen. That left the election of the vice-president to the council this fall. By virtue of his election, Jenkins becomes president.

The secretary of the council for the coming year will be Nancy Dutton. During the meeting a letter from Bouwama was read in which he expressed his regrets at having to leave East Lansing high school and also urged the student council to give their full cooperation to whomever might be chosen in his place.

East Lansing and Lansing girls are to pick up their invitations for the convention Sunday party at the Panhellenic office in Peoples church after 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Their answers are to be returned either at the office or their dorm desks by 4:30 Saturday.

Frozen Food Machinery Installed

Max Strother, proprietor of Strothers' grocery, is shown making the initial purchase of Little America frozen foods, supplied by the Heather wood Dairy of East Lansing. Strother, a pioneer in the frozen food line, chose Little America brand because of its obvious superiority.

Water Color Show To be Presented

The Aqua Chromatic exhibition of water-colors will be shown in the Women's clubhouse on next Tuesday and Wednesday between 2 and 5 p. m. and 7 and 10 p. m. It was announced today by officials of the Peoples university.

The exhibition is said to be the largest ever shown in Lansing, and will include the work of several famous artists. An admission price of ten cents for adults and five cents for high school students will be charged.

East Lansing Club Gives Luncheon

Mrs. R. B. McFarlane, Mrs. E. L. Cobb, and Mrs. Harold Blevins won prizes at contract bridge at luncheon given by the East Lansing club at Hunt's Food shop Thursday.

Auction prize was won by Mrs. A. C. Togg.

New members present were Mrs. G. B. Bix and Mrs. G. K. Glover.

Pinetum Club Fetes Head

Past presidents of the Pinetum club were entertained at a delectable luncheon Thursday at the home of Miss Carolyn Bray, 129 Cedar street, East Lansing. Hostesses were Mrs. E. H. Brooks, Williams, Mrs. Melching, Mrs. Charles Rineshart, and Miss Bray.

Mrs. Melching introduced the eight past presidents attending and presented them with corsages. Mrs. M. B. Kurtz talked on "Development and Work of the Michigan State Health Laboratory" and Mrs. E. B. Coonman, county library board member, reported that the library would be open soon.

AT THE WORLD SERIES:

The lineup of the bleachers late 4 o'clock in the morning. Many of the early birds sleep in improvised beds. Marshall Duff and Dave Telford starting up a bridge game. Vic Spaniolis, Bill Frank and young fans trying to get in a few words. All kinds of vendors, as the dawn breaks. Coffee, hot dogs, candy, chocolate milk. "One vendor for every fan," Spaniolis says in his usual witty way. People sitting on stools, basket baskets and benches. "Selling a stool for $2 now. It'll be $4 at 4 o'clock," one of the vendors who takes advantage of the day for commercial purposes, cuts in. "These are ladies and kids in line." Not to forget the dyed-in-the-wool bleachers, makes

Bring Own Food

Most the crowd brings lunches with them. We forget Andy Frank's crew of ushers keeps the line in orderly shape. There's some sneaking in, which brings plenty of squawks from those in the rear.

The lady with the red hair eyes about the process of touching up her face. "Settle all family problems," harks the seller of the baseball magazine, "Who's Who?" John Law forces the extinguishing of a fire. Fears some-bodies may burn down Wrights field.

Spaniolis takes time out for breakfast. Dan and Telford continue their bridge game. The cry, "They're selling tickets. The inevitable surge. As might be expected the signal is premature.

Plenty of Bucks

Finally the vendors. More cutting in. Cops pull the line. Dollar bills in evidence everywhere. The "best window in sight." You see every man, woman and child in the crowd. A veteran bleacher's comment, "This is the best I've ever seen." The second time he says it. The crowd starts to move. The game will start until 1:30 p. m.

Spaniolis again takes time out to eat. Telford and Duff return to their bridge game. Frank attempts to sell. The coffee vendors and a man who sells "Let's fight" signs are prominent and the crowd thins.

Time for Lunch

Photographers refuse to take pictures where we are. Can't blame them. TIME MAKES ON. Eleven bells. We head to the lunch counter. A park vendor loses aside his coffee pitcher. Goes into the business of buying seas. Then recalls them. A fan gives him $5 instead of $1 and he doesn't know it. Another fan sees the blunder. A fuss starts. Finally the giver gets $4 change. Pays the spotter $1 for his work. The Cubs appear. So does the drum and bugle corps. Bill Lee swings it while waiting for fly balls. New York comes out. DiMaggio, Crossetti and Gordon commence blasting the ball out of the park. The partisan crowd is stunned.

Joe Leads Band

Joe DiMaggio leads the band in a tumber. The fans like it. The National Anthem. The photographers and newspapermen close the field. Dave Dean, Dick Woodruff and the game is on. What wait. The Cubs score first. New York goes ahead as Hank and Jurges perform the best they can jump. Marty's out. The Cubs again lead. Dean and Garner move on down. The eighth inning comes. Chicago on top 3-2. BANG BANG. New York leads. DiMaggio homers. Ninth inning. DiMaggio homers. Dean goes to the showers. The crowd stands to pay the Dizzy a great tribute. Cubs threaten in last of the ninth. No score.

All in Big Rush

The game's over. Another surer. A visit to the press box where thousands of words are coming out of typewriters. The stands empty. People push. Cars move slowly. Jammed street cars and taxis. The El crowded. Seeing the Yankees depart. A 25-man police escort for DiMaggio. What beautiful women with the Champs. Back to the car. The peaceful journey home as everyone except the driver drifts off to sleep. Last Lansing and home. Never again we all agree.

Spartan Harriers Defeat Butler, 20-35, In Opening Meet

Two of Charlie Bachman's Leading Spartan Grid Players

EDDIE PEARCE, halfback, and Big OLE NELSON, end, well might be called the Most and Left of Michigan State's 1932 football team. Nelson stands an inch above the next tallest man on the squad, while Pearce is about a half inch short of being the team's midget. Both will play against Illinois Wesleyan today. Nelson is one of the best pass receivers in the country.

Record Pace Set; Gibson Is Second

Sutherland, Butler Acc. Breaks Tape First With Ease

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—Although failing to keep pace with the record-breaking performance of Southworth, Butler junior, Michigan State's cross country team made a clean sweep of the next eight places to easily defeat Butler university 20-35 in a dual meet here yesterday.

Southworth set a dizzy pace over the treacherous four miles of hilly paths to finish far ahead of the pack. Aided by perfect weather, the Bulldog ace finished in

Fresh to Run

Coach Lauren F. Brown will present the 1932 edition of his freshman cross country team in a dual meet with St. Mary's high Tuesday afternoon on the college course. Several of the freshmen have outstanding high school records and the squad as a whole promises to be one of the strongest in years.

22:45 which was 17 seconds better than the time of Fletcher Gibson, State's first man to finish, and well under the course record.

Close behind in 23:09 came diminutive George Keller who is also coming to the fore this year. Although Keller had an impressive record on the junior varsity last season, he lacked that little something to break into the veteran varsity squad.

The two veteran runners on the team were not so encouraging. Although Dick Frey was good enough to finish fourth with 23:21 he appears to be below the standard to set the pace several seasons. Capt. Harry Butler is definitely off form and displayed nothing in the way of leadership to him by being the last Spartan to cross the finish line.

Roy Febr, also up from the junior varsity, finished only a few strides in back of Frey with a time of 23:23. Ed VanAuker, making his debut as a Spartan athlete, was next in line. Much more will probably be written about this season before the season ends.

Several outstanding players entered, most of them freshmen. Ray Bennett, Ben Mason, Darwin Spangill, and Vernon Pittner are the most promising fresh. Sam Pratt, a senior, is also an early favorite for the title.

In a standing match of the first round, H. Siegel defeated F. Northwest in a hard fought struggle, winning 6-6, 6-5, 6-3.

Other results in the first round are: B. Lewis defeated C. Hamilton; J. Rossignol defeated A. Page; B. Miller defeated F. Knapp; J. Reynolds defeated B. Minkler; and S. Miller defeated B. Carlson.

Mathews is Low In Qualifying

Paced by Jim Mathews, who shot a blazing 70 in his qualifying round over the Red Cedar course, the All-College golf tournament pairings have been posted in the gymnasium.

Tie 'H' Whips East Lansing Strikes Back, Theta Nus Ties Flint Central, 6-6 In Opener

By Don Phillips

With five games played in the Interfraternity League football league, two of last year's powers and another team that will have to be reckoned with, came out victorious in their initial game.

The Theta Nus, who were defeated last year by the Theta Kappas, won a hard-fought game against the Theta Xi team at Lansing, Mich., on Tuesday, when Art Jenkins, star of many Theta victories last year, scored on a five-yard run in the third quarter.

Lansing's Chris, who went to the quarter finals last year, beat the P. Kappas 4-0. The margin of victory was two safeties, the first made on the opening kickoff when a P. Kap was tagged behind his own goal.

Latter, the P. Kap intercepted a Lambda Chi pass behind their goal but the man was tagged again behind his own goal.

The Haskell, third seven and for their victory, however, with the loss of two men, Jimmy Jones received a broken hand which will keep him out of action indefinitely, and Dick Woodruff, injured by a shoulder, but it is hoped that he will be in shape for the next game.

The P. Kap showed that they will have to be considered when they handled the usually strong AGR aggregation, 12 to 0, Saturday, Wednesday night. Both touchdowns were scored by Jones.

In the other games the Hespan defeated the Delta Phi 6 to 0, in a game from Sam Yeger to Red Dodge and the Sigma Nus won over the Beta Kappas 13 to 6 with a touchdown and two safeties.

Freshman "H" Headed For Winning Season

By Hal Schram

Attention sportsmen, the "H" is on the march. Coach John Kobs and his freshman football players are making daily progress in what promises to be the best season in recent years.

With two weeks of practice behind them, the freshmen showed a concentration on back scrimmages in preparation for their first scheduled game against the Varsity Reserve team Wednesday evening. However, because of unforeseen difficulties, this game may be moved back a week in the original schedule.

A flock of speedy and deceptive halfbacks are headed by Ed Dragg, Bob Sherman, Righty Miller, William Davis and his twin brother, Ryan Davis.

With all these and several other prospects reporting daily for practice, Coach Kobs and his staff will continue experimenting next week as they attempt to find the most effective combination.

Eds Jake Speelman, brother of Harry Speelman, Lewis Smiley, Bob McNeil, Howard Shelberg and Walter Kutchinski, brother of State's former end, Hank Kutchinski. At tackles Fred Carter, Don Bos, Leonard Swartz, Joe Buht, and Howard Pound are outstanding performers.

At the guard posts Bill Rupp, Henry Beztagnolis, Jim Findley, and Ken Boudrie have made consistent progress.

Dave Schmidt, Tony Arena and George Danica have been working hard at the pivot slot. At quarterback Floyd Tucker, Bob Heuler and Art Woelfer are playing heads-up football.

Net Tournney Field Nears 2nd Round

The annual all-college tennis tournament got under way this week with the playing of first round matches. The tourney this year attracted its largest field of entries since its inception, 99 aspirants for the title signing up.

The tourney is run each year by Coach J. D. Ball, a line on prospective material for the freshmen and varsity tennis teams. The entries are restricted to those who have not won an award in tennis here at State.

Several outstanding players entered, most of them freshmen. Ray Bennett, Ben Mason, Darwin Spangill, and Vernon Pittner are the most promising fresh. Sam Pratt, a senior, is also an early favorite for the title.

Briggs Acres Wins in Men's Loop

Last night under the arc-lights of Old College field, the second round of games in the Independent league were played.

In the first game, between Briggs Acres and the Chem Kids of Block 4, the former team won when the Oien to Nyquist passing combination checked for two touchdowns and a 14-6 victory.

The second contest, between the Avonlea Boys and the High Fliers of Block 1, was awarded to the latter, 3-1, by virtue of more first downs.

The final encounter of the evening saw the Kingpins and Lute herds of Block 2 battle to a scoreless tie.

The second set of games in the Dormitory Touch Football league will be played next Monday.
