Women Will Chinese Students Act As Discuss Life Technical Advisers

By D. H. TUTT

Campus Offerings is Topic of AWS Fresh Round Table Talks

First in a series of three fall term discussions to orientate freshman women to college life is being held this week, according to Jane Shaw, A. W. S. freshman orientation committee chairman.

It seems that some of them went on a spree in the kitchens of Sarah Langdon Williams last Tuesday and came out with a new type of chocolate cake. The consistency was that of a very creamy milk shake and the cake resembled very dead mud. Bits of crust dotted it like minus stalagmites, and all in all, the scene was decidedly un-fun. But the queerest thing of all was that it tasted swell.

Big Time!

Michigan State students will have the opportunity to listen to all out-of-town football games broadcast direct from the field over WKAR. Sears, Roebuck and company has secured a direct wire from the field to the exclusive use of the college station.

Nature Lovers

Many banks of the Red Cedar are the scene of many study classes these days. The warm weather has provided opportunity for the boys and girls of State to do their studying in the open air. Coal engineers are the bearers of interesting tales. They too have been taking advantage of the long days to get practical experience in surveying the camp.

Sparty Again

Sparty's WKAR program to day will feature an interview of Hu Lan Yeh, Chinese graduate student. Her oriental interpretation of our set up here at State ought to make dial tuning at 3:30 very interesting.

Pistols at Dawn

It was canon at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday night for Bob Zimmerman and Art Hooser as they treated the students of M. A. C. avenue to an impromptu fencing match. Hooser was strapped to the waist. Zimmerman was in pajamas for the occasion; their arena was the spot of light shed by one of the street lights. No fatalities occurred; even the canes came out unbroken. Popular opinion was that the match was a draw.

Add: Antique Ford

The little old Ford mentioned in a previous issue that Glen Jenkins bought from Clyde Campbell rolled right along until John Law stepped in.

Glen was out for a little drive round about and here and there when an officer stepped out from the side of the road to bring up the matter of missing tail lights. That led into another subject on transferred titles.

Result: Lots of argument, one red face and no fine (says Glen).

Off Campus Dorms Elect

Presidents for the three dormitory annexes and the four cooperative houses were elected at house meetings conducted by AWS members last week.

For captains and quiet proctors for each house were also elected at the meetings.

Presidents of the dorm annexes are Grand River Lodge, 262 West Grand River, Betty Pomeroy, Cowen House, 428 Grove street, Margaret Vosler, Bennett Hall, 122 W. Michigan, Mildred Hartman.

The cooperative house presidents are Benson House, 321 M. A. C. Avenue, Elizabeth Emswiler, Rockdale, 406 M. A. C. Avenue, Harriet Gibson, Robinson House, Concord House, 129 Division Street, Roma Jean Fritz.

Because the women's dormitories were unable to accommodate the large number of girls who applied for dormitory rooms this year, there are approximately 100 girls living in dormitory annexes and cooperative houses.

By GEORGE MASKIN
(Sports Editor)

George Koracich, veteran fullback, will not be with Michigan State's football team when the Spartans entrain for Morgantown where they play West Virginia Saturday.

The two-year letterman was dropped from the traveling squad back yesterday by Coach Charley Bachman for leaving practice a few minutes early.

Delegated to the fourth team in yesterday's drill, Koracich, who was acting captain last Saturday, was watching his mates engage in a defensive scrimmage until shortly after 6 p.m.

With darkness lowering over the field, Koracich followed other fourth and fifth stringers in and (Please turn to page 44)

That's a bird's-eye view of the way tryouts for this term's all-college play, "Lady Precious Stream," have been going. The last one was held Saturday night, and by now the stage is pretty well set for regular rehearsals.

Final elimination tryouts are under way now, and the cast will be announced in the near future. Doctor Thompson has said that the quality of material trying out this fall has been the best he has seen since coming to Michigan State.

Quantity has not been lacking, either, as the number who have tried out has been estimated at about 150.

The play will be presented the first week of November, according to tentative plans.

Those who will head discussion groups this afternoon at 5 o'clock are Medith Hirsh, Dorothy Ann Dunn, Alice Cortright, Jean Wyatt, Helen Carson, Margaret Lee, Barbara Sullivan, Euse Wett, Jean Hahn, Jeanne Headley, Pauline Wien, Betty Anne and Betty Niney.

Those who serve as discussion leaders under Miss Shaw are Francis Blates, Jean Berford, Mary Beer, Nancy Brown, Eleanor Cram, Jean Denham, Rose Ella Gossick, Rosemary Lee, Rebecca Lord, Betty Robertson, Doris Schoedel, Anita Sieme and Jean Barbara Wilson.

Cherlene Tempsett and Bertie Johnson, Keweenaw, are doing secretarial work.

Simmons Has AWS Job

A harvest tea will be given by the Athensians October 30, honoring Mrs. Ruth Wagner and Mrs. William Gumm, Athenian advisers, according to Betty Wagner, president.

Miss Wagner has replaced Miss Marion Dixon in the same economics department this year.

Ruth Jean Fritz, chairman of the sophomore girls to the judiciary board, has written requests of off-campus girls to the judiciary board which will be answered by Miss Simmons.

All written requests of off-campus girls to the judiciary board will be answered by Miss Simmons, according to the way the judge voted on them.

Ten zone chairmen for the newly organized telephone exchange have also been selected. They are: Juanita Christensen, Carolyn Rupert, Bessie Wells, Dorothy Whiteman, Hazel Bortond, Elizabeth Bennett, Dorothy O'Neill, and Elmer Coleman.

Other members of the A. W. S. judiciary board are: chairman Linda Evans, secretary, Margaret Killeen, North hall, Betty Johnson, North Williams, Mary Borland, South Williams, Dorothy Darling, West Mayo, Rosa Warrington, Union, Wilma Acker, Panhellenic representative, Frances McIntyre, adviser, Mable Petersen.

Police arrested Waugh Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Dean of Men's office.

R. J. Fritz Heads Committee to Honor Athenian Advisers

A harvest tea will be given by the Athensians October 30, honoring Mrs. Ruth Wagner and Mrs. William Gumm, Athenian advisers, according to Betty Wagner, president.

The first speaker will be Dr. J. Clark and his subject "K Electron Capture by Nuclei." Pictures will be shown at the meeting.

All those interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Police arrested Waugh Tuesday morning after a complaint had been signed by college officials charging him with embezzling funds from the treasurer's office, where he had been employed for two years prior to October 5 as bookkeeper in charge of receipts.

The shortage was found through the office's system of internal audits.

Philip Abbas, violinist and former instructor of "grillo" at Michigan State college, was guest soloist at a concert given by the People's Symphony orchestra of Lansing Tuesday evening.

Mr. Abbas played the cello concerto by Mathias Monn.

Several music students from State assisted the orchestra at the concert.

Kappa Sigs Are National, President States

Rudolph Savio, president of Kappa Sigma fraternity, wishes to speak on the topic "Formation and Destruction of a Paint Film" at a meeting of the local section of the American Chemical society, Monday, October 17, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the lecture room of the Kedzie chemical laboratory. Professor Clark announces that students and other interested persons are always welcome to attend these meetings.

Let's look in on Director Leonard Falcone and Capt. Max Doty, drummers, as they prepare to put the band in shape for fall gridiron displays.

Looking over the schedule of games, Doty and Falcone discuss possible formations, and Doty draws them out on paper, roughly first, then to scale. Copies of these drawings are mimeographed and distributed to members of the band, so they can see on paper from beginning to end, just how each formation is made. A letter is assigned to each rank in the band and a number to each man in the band.

Now let's go out to the drill field late some fall afternoon a week before the coming game, and see how the paper plans are made snap and precision?

On the field, each man or rank, depending on the formation, is shown his position for the start of the formation. The musicians just walk through these preliminary placings, without march rhythm from the drum section. Following observation from an elevated position, drillmaster and director make final adjustment in spacings, dimensions, and other details.

Now the band is ready to try the movement in unison. The drum major signals, the drums beat, and in a series of square corners and straight moving lines, the band shifts about until the desired letter or word is spelled out on the field. This is the band entertains you.

From four to seven hours of practice are required to perfect the drills for a Saturday afternoon's show. The demonstration between halves usually occupies six to eight minutes. This discrepancy in time represents the degree of perfection with which the band entertains you.

dition in first-stringers, to the showers when it finally appeared that there was no chance of his breaking into action. He later said that he also had a slight abdominal ailment at the time.

No sooner had the left than Bill Hanes, first string fullback, accidentally received a bad gash under his left eye which necessitated five stitches. With Hanes out, the coaches sought the absent Kavachuk.

When Kavachuk was not located, his name was scratched from the list of those who will make the trip. To replace him, Bachman picked Charles Acheson, who has been suffering with a chronic horse of late.

BRINGS PROTEST

The action brought considerable protest from Kavachuk's teammates—whether sophomores or seniors. Among the Spartans Kavachuk is rated the No. 1 fullback. They consider him tops as a blocker, line plunger and line backer.

State players had much toil this winter than faced the West Virginians with their best fullback out, indicating Hanes' injury may keep him from playing his usual game.

The veterans pointed out they didn't feel that Asbury Jack Anton or Paul Derridson, the latter two replacements, were as capable replacements for Hanes as Kavachuk. This is Kavachuk's third year on the squad. He played regularly both in 1936 and 1937 and has seen considerable service in the three games to date this season.

Football football no longer distinguishes varsity football. The change came when Interfraternity Director A. L. Farnham, revised the rules to cut out thearsity word. Farnham's move will save the schools the unbecoming pleasure of dancing with brained and scrawled-faced interfraternity girls to themselves.

Danny Rosenblum, State's high pressure salesman has hit a new high in football success. Danny enjoys his comforts and feels the football public deserves the same privileges. Rosenblum has issued up-to-the-minute, manufactured Green and White Specian pillows. Rosenblum's manufacturer solves an ancient problem of keeping men in their seats during a game's intermission.

The athletic department has gone extra fancy this year with its football tickets. A picture of Beaumont Tower mounted on a green background appears on the Syracuse game tickets. Instead of Beaumont Tower we suggest a picture of campus beauties. It would be worth the price of a dollar to retain their picture alone not to forget the game.

Russell (Jake) Dunbar has one unusual swimming practice will start next Monday. That's a month earlier than in the past which most men Jake for something up above. Maybe the loss of several 1937 stars will save Dunbar from getting in his eight hours of sleep.

A round trip airplane trip to Phoenix, Ariz., notwithstanding enough—but not to Mike Custer, State's ace sooty, nevertheless will make the hop this weekend to inspect Santa Clara grid forces. Mike's flying should save the Spartans a few roadstamps October 22.

Rosiley will be renewed in the Terrier Football league tonight as Precinct 1 takes on Precinct 4; Precinct 2 plays Precinct 8, and Precinct 3 encounters Precinct 9. Because of the large number of recruits in Mason Hall that division in Wells Hall, the former have to play between themselves. Already the fireworks are keen as Mason Hall is trying to prove that it is superior in all fields. Wells Hall is trying to uphold its past record of domination in intramural sports.

The last game pitted Bealtown against the Vets of Block 1. It was won, 6-0, by the former on Carpenter's scoring pass to Carey.

Kewpee and Briggs Top Pin League

Bowling in the Rainbow league got underway the other night when the Kewpee Collegiate team and Briggs Builders made a perfect start by defeating the College Drug and Rainbow Amazons respectively, each three games to none.

Moves Notch

Although the only veteran tackle from last year's team, HELGE PEARSON switched over to right end in practice this week. He will perform at the new post in Saturday's game with West Virginia at Morgantown.

Another powerful contender for the Interfraternity touch football championship made his debut Wednesday night when the Kappa Sigmas defeated the Phi Club, 13-0.

They scored their first marker on a run by Everett MacDougal in the second period. Again in the fourth quarter MacDougal ran 40 yards to complete the scoring.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon had some trouble in defeating Fairchild, 4-0, on first-downs. This game which was expected to be in the nature of a pushover for the SAE's developed into a hard fought contest.

Tom McShannock, veteran center, will return to action in the West Virginia game Saturday. McShannock did not play against Illinois Wesleyan in order to give his hand extra rest.

Both squads are pointing for the game and both are determined to win. West Virginia has a big, bruising team who are making no bones about the fact that they are out to beat the Spartans. The fact that Saturday is Homecoming for them will make the Mountaineers doubly anxious to triumph.

As was his practice in preparation for the Illinois Wesleyan game, Coach Bachman has shifted players about continually this week in search of a combination to suit him. The lowly scrub has found himself playing next to the varsity man as the Spartan

Defense Stressed as State '38 Grids for Important Test at Morgantown Saturday; Starting Lineup Remains in Doubt, Changes Frequent in Drills

A squad of 34 Michigan State football players will leave tonight for West Virginia where they will clash with the strong West Virginia university eleven Saturday.

The traveling roster lists three players for every position except at halfback where there are four. The squad will stay at Uniontown, Pa., and will work out Friday at Morgantown, W. Va., returning to Uniontown after the game to remain there over the week-end.

The Spartan football team will leave at 6:15 tonight from in front of the west entrance to the Union building.

Fully recovered from a wrist injury, TOM McSHANNOCK, veteran center, will return to action in the West Virginia game Saturday. McShannock did not play against Illinois Wesleyan in order to give his hand extra rest.

Three Entries Survive Test

Only three of the nine candidates for Sigma Delta Phi, national athletic fraternity, were able to pass the most trials in the two-day dash, 100-yard low hurdles and the high jump. They were George Calhoun, James M. Jones and Conley Mason.

Trials for this athletic honorary will be held all this week. Those men wishing to try out are to see Ervin Dietrich in room 8 of the gymnasium.

The schedule for the remaining events is as follows:

Tuesday: Swimming, 100-yard dash (R. B. Daubert, room 8, gymnasium, 2 to 6 p.m.).

Wednesday: Broad jump, shot put, and baseball or javelin throw.

Thursday: Football punt, 20-foot rope climb, and hand stand.

Friday: Mile run, front hand stand, and fence vault.

A varsity letter may be substituted for any of these events except the swimming test.
