Victory Rally Slated For Tomorrow

Pep Meeting, Fire, Street Dance On Pre-Game Program

As a result of the freshman mass meeting called last night by the Student Council a pep meeting, victory fire and street dance will be held tomorrow night, it was announced by Sam Yeater, head cheer leader.

Meeting in front of the gym at 8 p.m. the entire student body will take part in a mass pep meeting. At 8:30 the crowd will proceed, in the form of a snake-line, to the parade field north of the tennis courts. There the

All freshman men are urgently requested to meet tonight in Demonstration hall at 7:30 for an important meeting.

Car's End Around Nearly Takes Pearce Out

Eddie Pearce, star right half-back on the varsity football squad, escaped injury early last night when the auto in which he was riding overturned in a collision with another car at the corner of Michigan avenue and Clifford street.

Driver of the car, Joseph Gerard, Mason hall, suffered minor bruises. He was admitted to the college hospital for a checkup, but was immediately released.

Traveling west on Michigan, Gerard's car was struck in the rear fender by a car driven by Sam Thuma, 705 Downer street, Lansing. Occupants of Thuma's car, which was headed north on Clifford, escaped without injury.

Landscaping Of Campus in Full Swing

In addition to many new buildings which have been added to the campus in the past year or are in the process of erection, there are several landscaping projects, prepared and directed by Mr. T. G. Phillips, Detroit landscape architect and State alumnus, which will be completed in the near future.

Mr. Clary, landscape foreman of the Building and Grounds department, estimates that nearly four thousand feet of new sidewalks have been added. There is now a walk between the Veterinary and Anatomy buildings, about fifteen hundred feet of walk in front of new Abbot hall, and a long stretch of concrete from Farm Lane just south of the Veterinary building to Mason hall, following the route of the new road.

Grading and seeding about Abbot hall have been completed and shrubs and trees will be set out soon. Between Abbot and Mason halls, on the north side, there is to be a garden surrounded by hedges with a flagstone walk and stone seats.

President Shaw, in his brief address, keynote Michigan State's future policy in regard to student-faculty relations when he stated that "from now on, expansion by purchase is a thing of the past. Our job now is greater efficiency and care in education."

FINANCING EXPLAINED

Hannah explained the financing of each of the new buildings which have risen on the campus in the last eight years. Mary Mayo and Sarah Williams, girls' dormitories, and Mason hall, men's dorm, were not financed through government agencies, contrary to common belief, Mr. Hannah stated.

Time's Supplement Given College

Winners of the Spartan World's Fair contest were announced yesterday by George Cope, manager, with first prize being won by Bob Cook, Applied Science sophomore.

Having sold the greatest number of subscriptions to the Spartan, Cook will receive a free trip to the New York World's Fair via the American Airlines. His trip will include transportation, hotel, meals, and ticket to the Fair. He will leave October 21.

Other winners and their prizes were: Sally Denman, Applied Science junior, choice of a dress featured by the Style Shop; Bob Riordan, Liberal Arts senior, radio; Janice Murdoch, Home Economics sophomore, cocktail table; Anne Hamilton, Applied Science sophomore, slippers.

There was a three-way tie for sixth prize, large caricatures in wood by Ozz Wambach, among Margaret Landan, Virginia Hansen, and Bob Gay. The latter three will be given an additional three days of subscription sales before final winner will be chosen.

College Staff Attends School

Faculty Meets To Discuss Student Problems, Policy

Michigan State college faculty went to school last night in the Union ballroom to discuss college policy and student problems and their relationship to the faculty.

First speaker was Fred T. Mitchell, dean of men, who discussed brief problems of freshman orientation, and of men students.

Elizabeth Conrad, dean of women, explained the big sister system and problems of adjustment of students to college life.

Dr. C. F. Holland described improvements in the new hospital and the wider range of services which is now available to students of charge.

CHAIRMAN REPORTS

Prof. J. W. Stack, chairman of faculty advisers, reported on the activities of the 175 faculty advisers of freshman and sophomore students.

John A. Hannah, college secretary, told of the building program at Michigan State.

"Enrollment at Michigan State has increased 100 per cent in the last five years," he said. "This has necessitated a 60 per cent increase in faculty during the same length of time."

"This tremendous increase in enrollment has resulted in the building program not because we wanted to do so, but because we had to."

MEMBERSHIP EXPLAINED

Hannah explained the financing of each of the new buildings which have risen on the campus in the last eight years. Mary Mayo and Sarah Williams, girls' dormitories, and Mason hall, men's dorm, were not financed through government agencies, contrary to common belief, Mr. Hannah stated.

Student Opinion at U of M Predicts Grid Victory

Editor's Note: The following cross-section of student opinion at Ann Arbor was especially written for the State News by Perry Igney, University of Michigan junior.

By Perry Igney

Now that the plans for the State game rally and riot are well under way, and the band is beginning to get itself all tied up in knots trying to look like a Billy Rose spectacle, feeling and spirit are getting very verbal about the coming football season. Getting people to talk is as hard as giving away free cigarettes.*

In fact, school spirit is running so high in 'bull sessions' that the outcome of the game this weekend seems as inevitable to local partisans as the riot the night before. Here is what a few of them have to say:

Tom Harmon, '40, Gary (you know Tom): "With the breaks we will take State and have a very successful season."

Bob Straub, '40, Traverse City: "Pittsburgh's 'dream backfield' has transferred to Michigan. What else can they need?"

Malvyn Duck, '40, Detroit: "Michigan will win. I hope. But we won't know about the rest of the season until after Saturday."

John Jewitt, '40, Gates Mills, Ohio: "State has a very slim chance to win and so do all the rest of the teams that we are going to play this year."

Perry Gezon, '42, Grand Rapids: "Michigan will win definitely, and they should win all the rest of their games this year."

Homer Biglow, '43, Detroit: "They are wasting their time coming down here." (He's a freshman; please excuse him.)

Archie Krodos, '41, Alton, Ill. (He is the captain): "State didn't look so good Saturday and we are going to do better."

Paul Park, '40, Cinc.: "It looks like a good year for the Michigan like club."

John A. Hannah, college secretary, told of the building program at Michigan State.

Committee to

Too Much Play . . .

In recent nights the class of '33 has been having a great time in serenading the dormitories and marching down the streets of this city and raising a general rumpus. Apparently the frosh are oblivious to study habits.

Too, only three weeks remain before mid-terms. That is the time every year when freshmen are forced to leave school because of inferior work. Concensus of opinion among upperclassmen shows that the first six weeks of freshman year are the most difficult. The reason for this is simple. During the first term every freshman has to make adjustments to his new surroundings.

Here, the student finds no instructor chasing him when he does not get his work in on time as his old high school teacher did. Unless the frosh takes the initiative to ask his instructors in regards to his progress, six weeks may pass without the student knowing his status.

Many freshmen are for the first time out on their own. No parental domination, no close watching, and no one to make their decisions. The young men may feel their freedom is too much to control but it is well to remember that pride goeth before the fall. And fall they will if the frosh do not study.

Some freshmen say "it is too difficult to acquire the right study habits," others say "I want to study but don't seem to have the will power." But this is all the more reason why the freshmen should study-hard. It is far more important to settle down and obtain good marks; after all this is the prime purpose of coming to State.

So, if the freshmen find themselves having difficulty to study, the thing to do is not to go out singing and shouting but dig-in and stay at the books.

Remember mid-terms make or break hundreds of freshmen every year.

SIGMA NU—

Brothers will attend a big reunion at the Sigma Nu house in Ann Arbor Saturday before and after the State-Michigan game.

Johnny Pingel, alum, and Howey Weiss, of the Detroit Lions, visited the house this week between practice games.

ALPHA PHI—

Another one for the books—Carter Gould is now wearing Jack Dodi's Kappa Sig pin—it all happened last Saturday night.

Barbara Smith, who is now teaching in Dearborn high school, was here for the week-end.

Gordon Adams, Jim Church, Norwood Hubbard, Al Trager, and Pete Van Valen were formally initiated Sunday.

It was old home week-end at the Hespie house when alums Jack Hutton, Johnny Brown, Johnny Cook, Dick Phillips, Cort Cromwell, Bob Reitor, Dick Power, and B. D. Eames all came back for the Wayne game.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA—

Bev Bendall was married last Saturday to Phi Delt Don Harmer.

Alums back for the week-end were Carmen Mains, now a teacher in Grand Rapids, Ann Green, who will soon be enrolled at Wayne to take graduate work, and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor Graff.

PHI CHI ALPHA—

Tony Busser is grooming the house football team for a stiff campaign this fall.

Patrons for the radio party Friday night will be Dr. and Mrs. H. Darlington, Prof. and Mrs. C. S. Wilson, and Prof. and Mrs. Donald Cation.

ALPHA OMICRON PI—

Nancy Brown, chapter president, is still talking about the A. O. P. national convention which she attended in Pasadena, Calif., last fall.

Dorothy Pickett, former Pan-Hellenic president, became Mrs. Ray Suchner on June 23 in Detroit and many of the Detroit sisters attended the reception.

Betty McCrea, Janet Englehardt, and Annabelle Pink were initiated last week.

Gerry Keehn, who recently received a diamond from Everett Acker, is beginning her internship as assistant dietitian at Grasslands Memorial Hospital in Valhalla, N. Y.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA—

Georgie Des Jardines, who is teaching school in Flint, and Bruce Peppeler, who is a member of the Marshall high school faculty, were back for the week-end.

Eleanor Cram and Jane Hagen have brand new Hespie pins from Johnny Brown and Ted Caldwell.

SIGMA KAPPA—

Mrs. Bernard Donnelly, traveling secretary of the Sigma Kappa sorority, is visiting the Alpha Tau chapter on October 4, 5 and 6.

The purpose of her visit is to incorporate results of the fifteenth international convention of the Sigma Kappas who are in active and alumnae chapter.

She will be present at the initiation of Betty Jo Driver, Midland, and Miriam Phelps, Grosse Pointe, both sophomores. Mrs. Donnelly is from Berkeley, California.

With the exception of a few special works to which a small charge is attached, all material is available without cost to any student seeking information.

The federal government spends $14,000 for every student graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy.

Plan to Augment Union Cafeteria Service Announced

Dining Room Adjunct May Be Installed To Alleviate Crush

Double Serving Line Also Proposed

By Marian Akire

As an almost direct answer to the State News' editorial of last week on the problem of outsiders in the Union cafeteria came the announcement yesterday by Miss Katherine Hart, cafeteria manager, that a service dining room is expected to be put into operation on the second floor of the Union building sometime next month.

The State News yesterday asked Miss Hart to reply to the editorial which condemned the practice of allowing outsiders to eat in the cafeteria and thus so overfilling the room that students must wait from 30 to 35 minutes before being served.

Miss Hart admitted the inadequacy of the present cafeteria facilities and stated the Union building is a student union and that students should be given preference. Food is served to the students at a low cost, she explained, but outsiders are charged somewhat more thus netting a profit which is turned back into the business to the benefit of students.

Whether or not the practice of admitting outsiders is continued in view of present conditions is up to the Union council, policy-making body for the Union, composed of Secretary John Hannah, Comptroller C. O. Wilkins, Deans Fred Mitchell, Elizabeth Conrad, and Marie Dye, and Union manager, Bernard Proulx.

The steal solution to the problem would be the expansion of the cafeteria quarters to include a double serving line, Miss Hart added. The anticipated new service dining room in the main dining room of the Union is, however,

The band was organized several years ago as a musical group, and its marching debut Friday will mark another "first" in the high school's history.

New uniforms have been provided for the band out of receipts from an alumni orchestra concert held last winter.

Booklet of New Traffic Laws Is Ready

"What Every Driver Must Know," a booklet telling in brief form the many changes in the traffic law which went into effect Friday, is now ready for distribution by Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state.

Thousands of letters are pouring into the Department of State asking for information regarding the new traffic laws.

To expedite the handling of this correspondence, all departments of the Motor Vehicle Division have gone on double schedule and the mailing division is now handling over 10,000 outgoing letters a day.

You may secure one of these leaflets, "What Every Driver Must Know," by sending a card or letter to Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, Lansing.

Contract Let For Yearbook

Franklin De-Kleine company of Lansing was awarded the printing contract for the 1940 Wolverine. Elmer E. White, editor, said yesterday. This completes letting of contracts for this year's book.

The Lansing firm has printed two Wolverines in the past, the more recent in 1933. The 1940 book will be printed in two colors, in addition to black. The cover will be silver or copper plated.

White said: "Printing will start early in January."

The cover contract has been awarded to the David J. Mulloy plant of S. K. Smith Company, Chicago. Engravings for the book will be made by the Indianapolis Engraving company, Indianapolis. Both of these firms had the same contracts for the 1939 yearbook.

A new photographer to take individual class pictures and organization photos has been signed for this year. Crane photographers of Detroit is the new firm.

Taking of pictures will begin October 16. The residence at 344 Evergreen has been remodeled and will be used by the Crane company for a Wolverine photographic studio.

Student is Fined For Speeding

David A. Guyon, Mason Hall, was arrested by East Lansing police early yesterday afternoon for speeding.

Guyon, according to the police report, was traveling east on East Grand River avenue between Charles and Haslett streets, a 35-mile per hour zone, at the rate of 60 miles per hour.

He pleaded guilty before Justice Wartime of East Lansing, and paid a fine of $15 and cost.

Since the first of the month, 14 arrests have been made by East Lansing police on speeding charges. Chief Harold Haun warned speeders today that more drastic measures would have to be taken if the current wave does not subside immediately.

Women's Society Holds Coffee

Norwegian atmosphere prevailed at Peoples church Wednesday when the Contributor's group of the Women's society held their semi-annual meeting. Mrs. H. J. Stafseth, dressed in the national costume of Norway, poured Norwegian coffee at a table decorated with a miniature Norwegian landscape.

Mrs. Orson Ulrey, who spent a year ago last summer traveling in Norway, gave a talk on the native people and their customs. Norwegian music was offered by Mrs. Edgerton H. Gruber.

Acting as chairman of the event was Mrs. U. Brooks Williams, assisted by Mrs. Stafseth and Miss Margaret Beaumont.

THE GORDON DOVER
with button-down roll collar

THE distinctive feature of this fine oxford shirt is the cut of the collar. The points are longer and taper back broadly towards the yoke. The button points are so placed to effect an outward roll of the collar, achieving that desirable casual appearance. College men will especially appreciate this shirt for wear with tweeds and rough finish clothes.

Ask your Arrow dealer for the Arrow Dover $2. It's new and on the way in. In white, blue, also patterns. Sanforized Shrunken (Fabric shrinkage less than 1%). All sleeve lengths and neck sizes.

Wolverines Round Out Drills For Saturday's Battle

*Michigan Coaches Forced to Fight Over-Confidence

By BOB HATTON

Michigan's supposedly mighty grid machine is looking on the State game as a breather this year, according to reports from the Wolverine camp.

In spite of Coach Fritz Crisler's efforts to fight off the stigma of over-confidence, the Maize and Blue gridders seem to be fairly certain of victory over the inexperienced Spartans.

With the story of the Wayne game in their minds the Wolves cannot help but believe that State is not the State of old.

Nevertheless Michigan coaches know that the Spartan line is not to be sneered at and are fearful that perhaps even if the State offense fails to click that maybe the Michigan attack isn't going anywhere against the Green and White forward wall.

Trosko, former All-State back at Flint Northern, ranked third among Michigan's halfbacks.

Crisler's plans now call for starting an all-veteran eleven with the backfield composed of Harmon and Kroner at the halves.

Eavashvski at quarter, and Christy at full. Nicholson and Frantz will probably hold down the flank positions with Smith and Saville at tackles, Fritz and Olds at guards and Archie Kodros at center.

It all hangs in the balance.
