New Home of Basketball

Although Jenison fieldhouse in general is far from completion the fieldhouse proper which occupies the western part of the building is far enough advanced to permit the playing of the State-Tennessee Basketball game there Saturday night.

Today's Campus For Cage Fans

Say are you planning on attending that basketball game tomorrow night? Well just in case you are enter the new Jenison Fieldhouse at its north entrance.

Cagers to Face Tennessee

By Marshall Dann

Michigan State's far-traveling Spartans, weary and crippled from a long journey to the west coast, but back for a four-game home campaign, will meet an undefeated Tennessee quintet here tomorrow night in the first of two inter-section clashes that will be offered to fans in the next three days.

Engineers Sign Bill Carlsen For Formal

Bill Carlsen and his band of a million thrills will play for the Engineers' Ball January 26 in the Lansing Masonic temple, Chris Beukema, general chairman, announced yesterday. The party will be the first large open formal of the season.

Carlsen is regarded by musicians as combining sweet with swing in his dance melodies. He features Mickey Dowd, singer of sweet ballads, and Gill Rutzen, who renders modern swing songs. Carlsen himself plays the clarinet and saxophone, and does his own arranging.

Carlsen comes here direct from the Clarence Hotel in Memphis, Tennessee. He has played at the Theatre Englund and recently concluded a year's engagement at the Casino in Chicago, where he was aided over the Mutual network. Carlsen played two years on the Stage Ball.

Engineers will be given first choice for tickets. Beukema said tickets will be on sale for the engineers from January 15 to and including January 20. Open ticket sale will start then and continue until the night of the party.

Anthony to Appear Before House

Dean of Agriculture E. L. Anthony will travel to Washington, D. C., Monday to appear at a hearing of the committee on agriculture of the house of representatives.

Topic of the hearing will be discussion of development of farm economy in solution of agricultural problems.

Dean Anthony will return Monday night immediately after the hearing.

Grads Get Study Lab

A graduate study laboratory and work department on the fourth floor of Ag Hall.

This is space that was formerly occupied by the physiology laboratory now located in the Veterinary building.

23 Students Get Perfect Fall Average

List Includes 10 Localities; Four High Academically

Twenty-three of Michigan State college's 6,635 students made all "A's" in the term just ended, the registrar's office announced yesterday.

Four others made all "A's" in academic subjects, exclusive of required military training and physical education.

Three of the 23 who made all "A's" are from Lansing and five are from East Lansing.

Students who were listed as making all "A's" follow: Willard J. Burt, Ronald R. Hines, Lucille Burt, Lee Barby, Donald Come, Edward Danford, Jean DuFran, Eugene Elliott, Edna Feltz, James Fox, Jean Grant, Christine Horn.

Arthur Howland, Howard Hart, Marjorie Lebeck, Harold McGee, Sidney Moore, Hester Myer, Richard Redfern, Estelle Rogan, John Scott, Alice Robinson, and Gertrude Van Aken.

Those who made all "A's" in academic subjects included Bert Dick, Robert Lill, Eugene Ross, Marjorie Schmitz.

IML Air Show All Ready

First "Campus Cagers" program will be broadcast Saturday at 2 p. m., followed by the first winter term tea dance.

A weekly half-hour variety program sponsored by the Independent Men's League is an outlet for student talent. "Campus Cagers" will go on the air over WKAR from the Union ballroom, replacing the "Trois de l'Air."

Jon Rusk is the first of three masters of ceremonies who will alternate in the series, each writing his own script.

Art Howland's band will play for the program and for the dances. The dances, sponsored jointly by the Union board and the IML, are scheduled to begin at 7:45 p. m.

Marvin and Lee Osborne, Independent student radio chairmen, are general directors for the series.

Play Reviews Subject of Drama Meeting

Impressions gathered from viewing 14 Broadway plays during vacation will be Don Buell's subject for a short talk at an open Studio Theatre meeting in the Little Theatre at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be open to all interested students.

Students Attend Anti-War Meet

During the Christmas vacation period Robert Johnson, president of college YMCA, and Willard Thomas attended the National Youth Anti-War Congress at the International House in Chicago, as representatives of Michigan State YMCA. Sessions were from Dec. 27 through 30.

Over 500 students participated representing two million young people in the United States from political, student, college and religious groups.

Weather Bureau To Offer Special Sports Service

Winter sport fans will be able to plan week-end outdoor activities on Friday this year without fear of bad weather ruining their plans.

O. W. Crawford, acting head of the East Lansing weather bureau, announced today that a winter sports bulletin will be issued by the weather bureau each Friday morning.

This bulletin will indicate the average thickness of snow and ice at various points in the lower peninsula of Michigan. For each point there will be a listing of sports available, including tobogganing, bob-sledding, skating, ice-boating, and ice-fishing.

Crash Victim To Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Reva Peck, business administration senior who died Wednesday from injuries received in an auto accident, will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in Christ's church in Flint.

Fred Sill of East Lansing, injured in the accident which took Miss Peck's life, was reported in fair condition Thursday by Sparrow hospital authorities.

Miss Peck and Sill were injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck parked for repairs about four miles northwest of Lansing on M-78. The truck driver was uninjured.

Home Ecs Go To Detroit

Four senior home economics students will study at Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit, Michigan, this year.

They are Jean Collier, Marjorie, Jean Bellard, Ektor, Norma Hue, Beaton Harbin, and Mia Rosenzweig Rosenzweig.

Each year the 12 senior home economics students highest in scholastic standing are awarded scholarships to Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit, Michigan.

Completing this year's group of 12, the four who will spend spring term studying in Detroit are Rosemary Lee, Catherine Mary Rose, Grand Haven, Barbara Myers, Detroit, and Mary Jane Zerke, Cassopolis.

Dean Says 'Hell Week' Stunts To Be Indoors

"All activities of informal institutions during 'Hell Week' must take place inside the individual houses," said Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, dean of men, yesterday.

"This is in the Student Council constitution," he added, "but a reminder might help. The only exception to this rule is the Saturday night off-campus ruck, which pledges are usually required to take."

Grades of each pledge will be checked this term to determine whether the pledges are eligible to take formal initiation at that time.

Faculty Women Plan Luncheon

Guest day will be the feature of the Women's Faculty Bridge Luncheon to be held at the Hotel Cadillac at 12:45 p. m. Wednesday, January 10. Mrs. L. C. Emmons and Mrs. Ward Gillette will be co-chairmen for the affair.

Those in charge have announced that reservations are to be made not later than Tuesday, January 9. The same applies to cancellations of reservations.

Beetmen in Denver

Grant Nichol and Richard Bird graduate students doing research work in sugar beets are in Denver this week to attend the national meeting of national sugar beet growers.

They are glad to cooperate in establishing such a hotel providing suitable means of financing the structure were presented and that assurance was given that the building would provide a suitable laboratory for hotel administration students.

Donald Greenwood, chairman of the hotel association educational committee, explained that the building would be used to furnish housing for guests and faculty members and to provide a testing laboratory for a proposed hotel extension service.

In addition it would house and provide a laboratory for hotel ad-

State Enrollment Sets New Term Record As Few Flunk Out

Attendance Tops 1939 Mark By 12%

With less than two per cent of students refused re-admittance because of scholastic failure, enrollment at Michigan State is expected to reach 6,300 today, a new high for winter term.

More than 6,200 students had enrolled when classes began Thursday morning. Because state registration penalties will not be levied until tomorrow and because students are not considered enrolled until fees are paid, final enrollment figures will not be available until after Feb. 1.

However, the number entered when classes started exceeds last winter term's enrollment by 11.3 per cent. The expanded enrollment will exceed last year's work by approximately 360, an increase of nearly 12 per cent in contrast to the national enrollment increase of 7.7 per cent.

Enrollment in the short course division reached a total of 265 with the addition of late comers registering Wednesday and Thursday.

Classes began Wednesday and will continue until March 1. Director R. W. Tenny credits the new dormitories with relieving the usual rush for rooms by the short courses.

Officers List For Formal

James Kelley, F. A., will be general chairman of the Officers' Club formal to be held in the new auditorium Friday, March 1. President Norman Henderson announced yesterday.

All committee members will be informed of a meeting early next week through military classes.

Appointed to the board committee have been Emerson DeWitt, F. A., chairman, Bob Fields, C. A., Fred Pew, Inf., Donald Jones, F. A., Dale Granger, C. A., and Arthur Howland, F. A.

Elmer Kay, F. A., will head the decorations committee, composed of Sam Yeater, Cav., William Zabriski, F. A., Jack Saunders, Inf., Edward Vincent, Cav., and David Laddlaw, Cav.

Invitations and tickets will be in charge of Arthur Parker, assisted by Robert Bayard, Cav., Ralph Bennett, Inf., William Cheney, Inf., George Falkowski, Cav., and Charles Hutson, F. A.

Program committee members are Emil Larsen, Cav., chairman, Simon Puzinski, Inf., Christian Beukema, C. A., Donald Richardson, Inf., Donald Robinson, Cav., and Robert Davis, C. A.

Responsible for patrons will be Marvin Rockwell, Inf., and his committee, George Marble, Inf., Norman Kinrade, C. A., David Stroud, Cav., Ernie Feltz, F. A., and Richard Christianson, Inf.

Finance committee members are Parker Gray, C. A., chairman, Russell Noren, Inf., Daniel Wheeler, Inf., Edward Pearce, Cav., William Merrill, Cav., and Harry Jackson, F. A.

John Beeric, C. A., will be in charge of lavatory, assisted by Robert Spitzer, C. A., Gordon Paulow, C. A., Jack Gifford, F. A., Arthur Armon, Cav., and Leland Beal, C. A.

This is the second in a series of lectures being sponsored by the organization. Doctor Hayworth, professor of speech and dramatics, is in charge of arrangements.

Chapman Receives Annapolis Berth

William C. Chapman, sophomore engineering student from Cadillac, has been awarded a principal appointment to Annapolis, the Naval academy, it was announced by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg this week. He will enroll there the first week in July, 1940.

Appointment was made through a competitive mental examination held October 7 at Lansing, in which Chapman received the highest score among approximately 100 men from the sixth senatorial district.

Chapman is the second Cadillac man to win a place at Annapolis in two years. Kenneth Lindstrom, a Central State freshman of last year, preceded him.

Lutherans to Hear Bailey, Olson

Lutheran Student club members will hold their first meeting this term Sunday at 7 p. m. in the main dining room of the Union-Net Bayley, of the M.S.C. speakers bureau, who will present a short humorous talk, and Paul Olson, sophomore, who will give a musical number, are the highlights of a full program for the evening.

Members will discuss plans regarding the program for the winter term.

B. R. Proulx, professor of hotel administration, stated that the course would provide practical experience to supplement the academic courses now taken by hotel administration students. He stated that he believed the building would help prepare students for better position than they now receive on graduation.

HELSINKI, Jan. 4.—Finnish troops were reported today to have moved into Russian territory at four points between Lake Ladoga and the Arctic Circle. The Leningrad-Murmansk railroad is said to have been broken in several places by the Finns.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Allied sources revealed here today that 40 million dollars worth of war supplies were sent to Finland by the Allies before the opening of the Russo-Finnish war. Allied troops penetrated 100 miles into Germany today, taking prisoners, it is reported.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—In his annual budget message to Congress which he delivered today, President Roosevelt placed national expenditures for the 1941 fiscal year at $5 billion dollars with a deficit of three billions. About one-fourth of the budget, which the president termed as "tentative," is devoted to national defense. At the same time he announced the nomination of Attorney General Frank Murphy to the supreme court. Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson was named to succeed Murphy.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—All German economic councils were consolidated under one department with Field Marshal Herman Goerring as director today. This move was thought to be taken with the prospect of a long war. It was indicated that new war taxes may be expected.

The Test of a Man

Recently a pledge said, "The test of a man does not come to the pledge during Fraternity week, but rather to the active who applies penalties during that period." Elaborating, he stated that any man who is worth his salt can grit his teeth and bend over, while not every man can withhold from swinging "from his heels."

In most cases the big man on campus, the truly 'big fellow,' will not exert his might and power on the cowering pledge. It is the small man who doesn't have other chances to show himself who grasps the "waiting" opportunity and "lays it on." It is the little fellow's one big chance to show off, and he makes the most of it every time.

When it comes to applying other penalties, it is also relatively easy to find the active who amounts to something over the one who forces the pledge to do something, which, unless he were backed by the entire active body, he could never demand.

Last year one house forced a pledge to clean flues on a fireplace, which necessitated his going back of a red hot furnace where he was burned on the arms and back.

Another pledge was beaten and swatted so often that he was severely cut.

A truly 'big' active would have led the way in cleaning the flues and would also have refrained from swatting after the pledge was in such a condition.

While it dare not show on the surface, many pledges state that it is hard to shake hands and affectionately cry "Brother" to one who has swatted him into submission during one Fraternity week.

Fraternities could build a lot of solid groundwork for themselves by showing themselves to be "big men" through-out, and individual members could put themselves into higher esteem with pledges by insisting the Golden Rule.

Still In Effect

Conferences which were limited to sorority, fraternity, and dormitory parties last year, are still hampered at all other parties, according to Richard Nabstoll, Student Council president.

The ruling caused much comment when it was put into effect, but as the party season progressed, critics who were loudest in their criticisms admitted the wisdom of the move.

Reason for the change limitation last year was that those people who attended formally regularly would be able to save a flower item from an already top-heavy bill. Too, the elimination from big journals would enable those people who have a desire to "take in" the big parties, but lack necessary funds, to enjoy more parties.

A year's experience has convinced Prexy Nabstoll that flower limitation has achieved both objectives for which it was created. More people have been able to enjoy additional parties because of the saving. Expenditures have estimated that the average savings costs the student about $1.25, although many cost more.

In regard to retention of the savings ruling, Nabstoll says, "Student Council has made a thorough investigation in the flower situation and has come to the conclusion that the majority of students here approve of it. A few to whom the price of flowers makes little difference have uttered protests, but they number very few."

"It is surprising how many new faces one sees at parties, because of the ruling. Friends of mine who are working their way through college have commented that the saving from buying flowers has made it possible to attend at least four more parties each year," concluded Nabstoll.

Sign Your Letters

"Why doesn't State News print my letter?" That seems to be a common question among contributors to the "You Say This" column of State News. It is a question which has a common answer and a simple solution.

A rule in State News, as there exists with almost every newspaper, is that each and every letter with hopes of being printed MUST bear the signature of the writer. The signature need not be printed, if the writer so desires, but it must be present for use in the files of the newspaper.

At least a dozen letters are thrown out every week, simply because they are unsigned. As a matter of protection and for the sake of files, letters must bear the signature of the writer. Signatures like "Evergreen Mame", "Disgraceful", or "Sophomore" will not suffice. They may be used in the newspaper, but in the files, signatures must be present.

The DAILY WASHINGTON

MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—Those optimistic statements about a short session of Congress are a lot of wishful thinking. The boys will still be on hand when June 1 rolls around.

One reason is that there is so need for them to hurry to get through. The presidential convention won't take place this year until late July or early August. The other reason is that the shadow of the momentous fall campaign will dominate everything said and done on Capitol Hill and the session is a crutch to be one of the most acrimonious and politics-ridden in years.

There will be fierce fighting over the Wagner Labor and Wage-Hour act, over Secretary Wallace's deflation to finance the $300,000,000 farm parity payments, over Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade treaties and above all over the slashed budget.

It's on this last issue that you will see party lines crumble and the boys, despite all their brave economy talk and other lofty sentiments, rally together to save their pork.

For there's political murder in that budget.

The boys don't know it yet, but Roosevelt has ripped $45,000,000 out of the flood-control appropriation, shuffling it down from $115,000,000 to $70,000,000. The cries of anguish that will go up when this is discovered will send the heavens from New England to California and from Michigan to Texas. At least two-thirds of the members of both chambers have local stakes in this appropriation, to say nothing of the hundreds of contractors and thousands of workmen, and with an election in the offing you can bet your boots the boys are going to leave no stone unturned to get their pork. If they don't it may mean curtains for them in November.

The flood control item is just one of a number that got the axe. The highway appropriation, another prime local pork favorite, was cut. When Roosevelt merely recommended that last year Congress nearly had a fit. The boys will jump out of their skins when they see what he actually did to the appropriation this time.

There is one big battle, however, that may not take place.

It's an inner circle secret but some of the President's closest advisers are strongly urging him to duck the trade treaty fight.

The act expires this year but the party negotiated under it continues until they terminate. Practically all the important treaties have been consummated. So the impulse boys are counseling the President to let the law lapse quietly and then next year, if the Democrats win a majority, it will be much easier to re-elect it. If the Democrats don't win then it won't make much difference anyway.

Such strategy, the inner circle point out, will not only circumvent the GOPers who are eagerly waiting their knives to go after the act but for more important, will keep the dynamite-laden issue out of the fall campaign.

It's a good bet that this is exactly what will happen, barring unforeseen developments.

POLITICAL GO-ROUND

After six years of advocating his economic and fiscal theories before committees of Congress as an appointive official, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner Eccles is quietly weighing a different method to get action, namely by becoming a member of Congress.

The one-time leading Utah banker has reached no decision as yet, but he may try for the Senate next year against the veteran anti-New Deal Democratic Senator William King. Both men are Mormons.

Also reported to be harboring secret senatorial ambitions is Arthur Hyde, secretary of agriculture in the Hoover cabinet, who may seek the Republican nomination for the seat now held by Mississippi Democratic Senator Harry Truman.

Next on SENATE'S LIST

Although England is supplying the raw materials two most important commodities in wheat are Italy and Romania.

It is close to make predictions, but some state department officials believe Italy is closer to moving her weight on the side of the Allies than ever before. And the big reason is Russia.

Press dispatches from Rome tell how Italian crowds booted the Russian embassy during the attack upon Finland. This, however, was pure surface sentiment. What the Italians really are worried about is Romania, which they believe is next on Stalin's list.

The creation of a Balkan alliance and a pact of influence between Mussolini's chief dream, now that his other Hitler-inspired dreams are faded.

You Say This

Student Opinion Column

Dear Editor:

Have you heard any of your friends complain because they didn't receive a letter or two when the mailman comes around? I have, and queer as it may seem, they never think that they might be responsible for it.

"I am the letter you meant to write. But you were too busy, or you kept putting it off, or you excused yourself by claiming 'you didn't know what to say.'"

"So I was never written."

"And because I was never written to, there is a question in the mind of one of your friends, or a pleasant bond with someone has been broken, or there is a pain in the heart of one who thinks of you."

"The word that would have brought cheer to the sick one would not written the gracious those you put a favor in a gift never mailed the happy one who wished to know that you still thought of him and the unhappy one who craved a word of sympathy are wondering at your silence."

"I am just a phantom letter."

"I am the letter you did write. Gladly, cheerily I sped on my way, expecting for the warm welcome I knew awaited me when I reached my destination."

"I went into the eager hands of a mother or a father, and I watched old eyes glisten with the moisture of love and remembrance was read and read."

"I went to the absent friend of yours and brought him or her the news of early intimacies, I returned to the picture of their home circle and with them I relived hours of friendly and warm-hearted activities."

"I went to the newlyweds and in your home rejoiced in their delight. I read to the bereaved and your sincere words brought them a comforting ease."

"To a birthday I added the joy of good wishes, I refreshed a shivering man with a warm blanket in the threshold of a career. I brought your words of courage."

"Everywhere I went I spread the warmth of your personality and I brought back to you an overflowing wealth of friendship and affection, your name was loved and remembered."

"I am the letter you did write. I know awaited me when I reached my destination."

Dear Kiddies:
Well, Noel vacation has left you with much more than a hangover and a new year, from the Scotchman's point of view. Not that you could cuddle up to Santa for the pointed "How to Study" manual he sent you, but Patty Piatt got a coin silver bracelet—a plain, narrow band with a hand-beaten dogwood blossom in the center—that must make leaving the turkey's remains for the home folks seem more worthwhile.

Still in the formal vein: Sally Fleck brought back a green velvet strapless formal, Irish lace edging the top, so knock-out it is that we can't believe she made it herself.

M. S. C. is being pleasantly augmented this winter by Ethel Quinn, back after a term's illness and all ready to sport her most glamorous Christmas present. It's a pussy willow blue formal on princess lines, and has a shirred pocket to match.

Proudest skaters on your pond will be Mary Tenney and Jean Campbell, who received skating costumes over the holidays. Mary's outfit consists of a white plaid inner lined jacket and green circular skirt, green skating skirt and jacket, the latter having brown sweater sleeves, is Jean's pride and joy.

Hazrette Ysberg gathered in a lavender and bracelet formed from pearls in gold settings.

Christmas gift or not, Betty Hunt's beige jersey, green leather trimmed neck will always be the acme of smartness, and "Smart" also describes June Jesscott's new wool dress, graced blue with sun-shine plaids in the skirt, long sleeves, and a yolk neck.

Pink wool goods to be turned into a winter school dress, was Betty Yotso's present. Her roomy, Jean Mason, rated a silver bracelet.

Marjorie Allaire is wearing a gold bib necklace over the natural colored cardigan she bought with her Christmas check.

Juanita Christianson has a

Yardley triple vanity compact that she didn't have before, and Emily Telford is now shouting via a red plaid shirt.

Yessir, kiddies, if I say so myself, Santa did his best for the Michigan State coeds, and the preceding examples are just a sampling.

Patience is always a virtue. And State News circulation staff asks students to exercise a bit of patience regarding paper deliveries on this issue. It is necessary to wait until all cards are in from the registrar's office before new routes can be laid out.

So this morning the carriers will follow last term's routes. New routes will be made before next Thursday's issue. Circulation Manager Al Kurtz says.

Finnish-Russian Fracas Still Highlights World News; Nazis Inactive

From Foreign Shores

By Sid Levy
A 1939 drew to a close this week, an embattled world engaged little hope of peace in 1940. War in Europe, highlighted by Finland's valiant fight in its five-week-old struggle with Russia, is generally expected to burst forth furiously in the spring.

Assailed by severe Arctic winter, inefficiency of the Russian troops, and fierce resistance of its soldiers, Finland continues to defy apparently overwhelming odds. Stalemated on the northern front by clever Finnish tactics, both on offensive and defensive, and difficulty of operations in a war under such adverse weather conditions, Russia apparently is digging in for winter.

Fratmen Beat Dorm Groups In Studies

Alpha Epsilon Pi pledges and Farm House active led all organized study groups in scholarship during fall term, Dean Fred T. Mitchell announced yesterday.

Wells Hall residents topped dormitory men with an average of 1,268 as compared to the average of 1,255 average of Mason and Albee halls.

Federally active average for fall term was 1,391, while the pledges averaged 1,156.

New Forestry Annual Is Started

Robert Kreger, forestry senior and editor of a new forestry annual announced Saturday that approval of the book by the Board of Publications and department of forestry has been granted.

The annual will represent a revival of the original "M. A. C. Forester" published intermittently in the Forestry club from 1919 to 1927.

From the latter date until this year Michigan State has been the only major school in the United States which did not issue such a journal, Kreger stated.

The new publication will be called "The Backlog," a name chosen by Al Swanson.

Union Plans New Dining Room

Completion of a new refrigerating system and the shipment of furniture next week will probably make possible the opening of the new dining room on the second floor of the Union on Monday, January 15, Mrs. Katherine Hart, Union cafeteria manager, announced yesterday.

Plans for the new second dining room were begun during the fall and arose out of an overcrowding of the cafeteria due to the increased number of Lansing and East Lansing patrons patronizing the cafeteria.

The refrigerating system and other fixtures were manufactured locally. Mrs. Hart stated it is now ready for the immediate opening of a new dining room.

In addition to the new refrigerating system, dishes and the like will be added. The new dining room will be open from 11:45 a. m. to 1:45 p. m.

Also a part of the new expansion program is a new dining room on the first floor of the Union, which is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

That building has been previously mentioned and has equipment added. Work on the student dining room is expected to be completed this week, Mrs. Hart said.

SPARTAN SPORTFOLIO

By DON ANDERSON

Basketball fans attending the Michigan State-Tennessee game tomorrow night won't be on hand merely to watch two first class teams do battle. The fact that the contest is to be the first athletic event staged in the new Fred C. Jenison fieldhouse should bring the crowd pretty near capacity proportions the first time out.

Students and Michigan State followers have been watching with great avidity the gradual growth of the huge structure just across the Red Cedar for some time. Now that its ever lengthening shadow has reached Gulliverian proportions there is sure to be high interest in the inside appearance of the campus' latest appendage.

Treat in Store for Fans

Should the crowd be of a capacity nature, 3,000 individuals will be in attendance. And what a treat is in store for them! They will find themselves seated in an enclosure 172 ft. by 324 ft. by 30 ft., in which the portable basketball floor, 60 ft. by 120 ft., will be installed. Powerful overhead floodlights will provide plenty of light for everyone.

The University of Tennessee has the honor of being Michigan State's first opponent in the new fieldhouse. The actual dedication, however, will be held over until next year when the whole building, including the gymnasium, is completed. Although the fieldhouse itself is ready for service, the rest of the structure still has a considerable amount of work left to be done.

Sharing the spotlight with the new fieldhouse will be a Michigan State basketball team which has just returned from a western trip with a record of four victories and two defeats out of six games. Over the season thus far the Spartans have won six and lost three.

That is a lot better than most people expected from Ben Van Alstyne's men after the loss of George Falkowski and Frank Schilder and the seeming lack of capable reserves. Although the question of reserve power is still a weight one, a lot has been done toward surmounting this deficiency by the inspired play of the varsity.

In the west, the Spartans ran into teams who were long on reserves. They thought little of using three complete teams in one game. State, on the other hand, was forced to rely on hardly more than seven at the most, and at times, when personnel had worn heavy, this situation proved tricky. Once, a student manager, Everett MacDougall, was rushed into a suit when it appeared as if the Spartans would need his services.

Reserves Still a Problem

Thus, it is apparent that reserves are still Van Alstyne's number one headache. And with Max Hindman on the shelf at the present time with injuries received in the California game, and with Bob Morris limping, the situation is even more acute.

Games with Tennessee, Syracuse, Marquette, Michigan, Long Island, Temple, Baltimore, Wisconsin and Wayne remain to be played. It is pretty hard to look at this list of teams and pick out any soft spots. State should win half these games, will be doing well.

The play of the varsity, led by diminutive Chet Aubuchon, without a doubt one of the best guards in the country this year, has accounted for the time record the Spartans have chalked up so far. Marty Hutt, Hindman, Max Dalrymple and Bob Phillips have also looked good, but have lacked Aubuchon's consistency.

The future success of the Michigan State team depends a great deal on these individuals. Certain of the reserves, namely Morris, Gerard, and Peterson have shown well. If they come along to help out Aubuchon, Hutt, Hindman and Phillips, State won't have so badly against future opponents. And, without going even an inch out on a limb of any sort, we think Michigan State will continue to be a pretty tough nut for other teams to crack.

State Thinclads Await Opening of Fieldhouse

By Joe Simcik

Waiting is the watchword among the Spartan track and field forces as the thinclads begin a new era for the sport here. The opening of Jenison fieldhouse will find them training and competing under more favorable conditions than they have enjoyed in the past.

First of all the trackmen are awaiting Ralph H. Young, who resides holding down the post of athletic director. It is also heard track coach Young has been attending the N. C. A. A. convention on the Pacific coast along with Coachley Bachman and Dean J. Ralph. Hutton, chairman of the athletic council, and is not expected to take over his coaching duties before Monday.

Meanwhile training is getting underway under the direction of Assistant Coaches Lauren P. Brown and Fran Dittman.

The cinder forces are also impatiently waiting the completion of the fieldhouse. Squad members

These Veterans Set Pace This Year

Spartan basketball fans will be given their first opportunity in three weeks to see State in action tomorrow night, when Coach Ben Van Alstyne sends his cagers against Tennessee in the first event to be staged in the new Michigan State fieldhouse. Led by these six stalwart veterans, State racked up four triumphs in six starts on their recent tour to the Pacific coast to hold the season average at the 66 mark with six victories and three defeats.

A Burning Question

By MARSHALL DANN

And the red hot question is still burning brightly. On comes Ben Van Alstyne, his nose up with an expression because he just does not like the idea of having someone else doing a basketball game, but then he had to give in because he could not get out of that red hot inferno now than he could Everett MacDougall's white cotton shirt.

It is generally felt that the Michigan State basketball players are in an exceptional position. The fact that they are so well equipped after all these months of training is a good thing, even if it is a little bit of a surprise.

Now that it has been raining that much longer, it is a little bit of a surprise that the Spartans have not had a little bit of a setback. It is a little bit of a surprise that the Spartans have not had a little bit of a setback.

A Little Red Point

Anyway he turned the bottom over to Mac, who finished the student manager along with his other duties. The student manager is a job that is not very glamorous, but it is a job that is very important.

Well, it is a little bit of a surprise that the Spartans have not had a little bit of a setback. It is a little bit of a surprise that the Spartans have not had a little bit of a setback.

Something went on the floor with the good luck charm in the California game and after pumping about 100 lbs. and before the half ended, Larry Luck turned his back on the Spartans and came out to have Max Dalrymple take a full and not the injury but the injury to the Spartans even upped the score in the final minutes to win the game 41 to 31.

Dyger's Return Boosts Trojan Prospects

Fast Larry Dyger, who was injured in a game with Michigan State, is expected to return to the Trojan team. His return is a big boost for the Trojan team's prospects.

The Spartans' greatest strength as is the usual custom again appears to be in the distance runs where Coach Bryson has his national collegiate cross country champions on hand.

Formal Practice Sessions Under Way

More than 110 athletes were in the minor sports fold today as coaches of boxing, wrestling and swimming prepared to hold full time practice sessions starting next week.

Although informal workouts were held before the holiday recess, all of the teams will have to reach their top form in a relatively short time before the schedules open late this month.

In the boxing department Coach Brick Burhans has been putting his puncher through their paces for several days. This year Burhans will be assisted by Don Ross, former light-heavyweight star.

Bob, a senior, will not be active in competition this season, but will devote his time to coaching the freshman boxers.

Capt. Clint Bradwood, 135-pound Detroit, will lead the boxing squad into action. Other mainstays are Carl Thompson, 150; Herb Sayer and Don Wagner, who will fight it out for the 145 division; Seymour Knight and Ernie Dunn, rivals for the heavyweight position; and Joe Onizewski, 165.

On other lines of the Fordy Collins and Harold (Joker) Daubert have been organizing the wrestling and swimming teams, respectively, for heavy schedule this year.

RIGGS, HUDSON LEAD TEAM

Benny Riggs, 155 pounds, and Charley Hudson, 161 are the captains of the grapplers, who are expected to form one of the strongest squads in the state. Other veterans upon whom Collins will depend are Bill Martin, 141; Dave Platt, 165; Ted Crowe, 136; Leonard Merrill, 136; Jordan Johnston, 121 and Art Faggion, 230.

The wrestling squad is all promising since it contains some of the best trained material in the state.
