BULLETIN

Coincidental with the arrival of Ralph Young and Charley Bachman back on campus from the National Football Rules the National Football Rules Committee meeting at Los An-geles, came the rumor to this corner that Michigan State may play Michigan on the gridiron on that vacant Chicago date next fall, instead of as now scheduled. We understand that State would gladly move Michigan back to that November 2 date, if another date can be found for Kansas State, who now fills that spot. The Michigan game is carded for October 12 at present.

Admittedly. State is an ideal Admittedly. State is an ideal addition to any conference. Her athletic facilities, with the addition of the new fieldhouse, will rank her with the best schools in the country. In the past few years, athletic teams at East Lansing have held their own against the highest kind of competition, and there is no reason to summose that such will not be to suppose that such will not be the case in the future

Other Choices

Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Marquette are other schools which have figured prominently in the speculation although itdoes not appear that any of the three are in a position to accept should they be approached. Pittsburgh has the facilities, but her new athletic policy in regard to the treatment of athletic talent places her somewhat beyond the
