Known As Great Saxophone Player

Jimmy Dorsey, known as one of the world's greatest saxophonists, will bring his band here to play for the 1940 J-Hop, in Masonic temple, February 23, Arthur Howland, party chairman, announced late Wednesday.

J-Hop, leading social event of the season, was recently changed from auditorium to Masonic temple, when the new college building could not be completed by February 23.

Jimmy Dorsey and his band, who will play in Masonic Temple for the J-Hop, Friday, February 23.

Dorsey, who recently defined what swing really is, said that it is surrealism in music. He said that musicians find the same outlet in swing that artists find in surrealism.

Not usually known to party-goers is the fact that Saxophonist Dorsey wasn't always a saxophonist. He started his musical career on a cornet, because that was the only instrument around the house that wasn't a constant use.

His father played cornet and when Jimmy was about 8 years old, the elder Dorsey started him working on scales. After he had played cornet well enough to march in parades, his father switched him to a second hand saxophone, because he felt it was important to musicians to have as many doubles as possible. Father Dorsey wanted his son to be able to take advantage of the rapidly increasing popularity of the saxophone.

Student Club Will Have Swim Party

Swimming will be the entertainment for the Student club party held at 7:30 p. m. at the gymnasium. Following the swimming party members and guests will adjourn to the Peoples church where games, refreshments and dancing will take place.

Don Farmer is chairman of the party and Faith Parkyn will be in charge of refreshments. Those attending are reminded to bring their own swimming suits. Charities will be Mr. and Mrs. Gene and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dittich.

Under the Wire

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—Murmurings that request of President Roosevelt for material aid for Finland was an act of unneutrality rose in Congress today. Vice President Garner took a definite stand against the proposal.

GIBRALTAR, N. J., Jan. 17.—Two thousand pounds of nitroglycerine took the lives of two men today and caused damage for a radius of 30 miles as an explosive plant was blown to bits here in an explosion of unknown origin. Owners of the plant said they believed it was not a case of sabotage as the plant was operating for commercial purposes and that the explosion was merely a "routine accident."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—Protests from CCC camps continued pour into the office of Paul V. McNutt today as camp officials began to feel the blade of the federal knife that is to cut 273 camps off the civilian Conservation corps list as an economy measure.

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN, Jan. 17.—Suggestion by former Premier Lindbergh, of Sweden, that the government send forces to aid citizens of islands formerly held by Sweden but now under rule of Finland was met with applause in the legislative chambers of the nation today.

HELSINKI, Jan. 17.—Fighting in temperatures as low as 54 degrees below zero, lowest in 30 years, Russian troops are reported still falling back on the Baltic front leaving wounded men to almost instantly freeze to death in the intense cold.

LONG ISLAND, Jan. 17.—Four men performed a mysterious disappearance over a 30-foot wall of a prison here today to gain at least temporary freedom. One hundred policemen were immediately sent to their heels.

Wanted—Coeds To Swing at SWL Dance Class

When all those coeds go tripping about the campus it wouldn't seem that they could be wanting in numbers anywhere. But the idea is erroneous because Spartan Women's league is looking for more to fill the gaps at their dancing classes.

Beginners meet in the Union ballroom on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., while advanced class meets at the same time in Agriculture hall on Thursdays.

As no season tick is being sold this year a small charge will be made for each dance.

Lecturer Will Give Fourth Talk at MSC

Making his fourth return visit to Michigan State college, Will Durant, well-known philosopher, historian, lecturer, and author, will speak Tuesday, January 23, in Peoples church. His subject will be "The Ten Greatest Thinkers." He will speak twice, at 7 and 9 p. m.

Durant, who holds a Ph.D. from Columbia university, is the author of "The Story of Philosophy," which has been translated into 12 languages. He is at present working on the third volume of a proposed eight on "The Story of Civilization." Volume II, "The Life of Greece," appeared in fall of last year.

Sometimes referred to as the "best educated man in America," Durant has traveled widely, twice around the world and 30 times across the United States. According to Durant, who was born in North Adams, Mass., in 1885, his boyhood ambition was to become a public speaker, thus earning enough by lecturing to support himself while writing books that would give him a national reputation.

Hillel Extension To Hold Coffee

First Hillel Extension coffee hour will be held Friday evening, January 19, at 7:30 p. m. at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house, 404 Michigan avenue, opposite North Williams dormitory. It was announced by Jack Greenberg, chairman.

There will be a discussion led by a member of the faculty. All students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Lilies, Bourbon Make Hash Of Humor Columns

By Peggy Trout

"A lily in the hand is worth two on the chest" and thus, since the first cave man chiseled out the first job on a stone slab, the world has been blessed (or cursed) with humor columns. No exception is the State News which has witnessed the coming and going of several such literary efforts.

In 1933 a column called the "Spartan Merry-Go-Round" informed the student body that "... a certain Kappa, red-headed and Irish, made a futile attempt to brown an education prof last term by bringing him a snapshot of his hollyhocks."

From the "Spartan Spooner," 1934—"By the way, who was the nimrod who went home after the Mayo party, took down his trusty shotgun and blew 25 shots into the fraternity coal pile by way of diversion?" "The Dope Fiend," a sports commentary column, was featured in the same year.

"The Campus Cynic" in 1935 brought this choice bit: "Found in a menu book: A Kentucky Breakfast:

1 quart Bourbon
1 beefsteak
1 hound dog

Drink quart of Bourbon. Feed beefsteak to hound dog."

It's just a matter of a comma: "I hate foul play boys."

This was taken from the "Piffle About Piffle" column for 1936. It was carried over into 1937 where the following philosophical trifles were expressed: "Well, the more sugar you have in the bank, the

Ice Carnival Date Set At January 27

WAA to Select Queen Monday: Plan For Skating Show, Ball

Date for the Michigan State college second annual Winter Sports Carnival has been set for Saturday, January 27, it was announced today by Dick Alman, chairman of public relations committee for Alpha Phi Omega, who with Spartan Women's league is sponsoring the event.

Features of the carnival included a year ago will be the selection of a carnival queen, ice show Saturday afternoon on the college rink, queen's ball in the evening, and snow train to Grayling Sunday morning.

The queen and her court of seven attendants will be selected next Monday from a group of entries, one from each women's dormitory, sorority house, and management house. Women's Athletic association is in charge of the election.

Other campus organizations working on carnival plans are: Outing club, in charge of the ice show and snow train; Hiawatha club, hockey game during the show; Alpha Phi Omega, queen's ball; Hiawatha club will also take charge of policing the rink, while the budget and printing are under APO direction. Publicity management is under SWL and APO.

Refreshments to be served at the ice show will be under the care of APO also. Committee heads and cast of the ice show are to be announced later.

YW Delegates Plan Albion Trip

"Contract" will be the theme that Miss Emma Sater will use in her talk before the term's first all-membership meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at Albion college this afternoon.

Miss Sater and five guests from Michigan State have been invited as guests of the girls dormitory at Albion for dinner.

There will be an area committee meeting of the YWCA in Peoples church Saturday afternoon. The committee is composed of one representative from each college in the state. Representatives from the YWCA and the YMCA will meet in the afternoon to plan a joint state conference.

Most Soc Grads Of '39 Have Jobs

Figures released today by E. B. Harper of the sociology department revealed that of 26 students graduated in sociology last June 23 have jobs or are continuing on in the field.

Social welfare work has absorbed 13 of the 23. Seven have taken on other jobs in closely related fields. Two are doing graduate study at Michigan State and one is attending the University of Chicago.

Because of increased investigations into relief cases, additional help has been needed. Others have received jobs under the state operated department of social welfare, through civil service examinations.

All but one of the graduates placed have jobs in Michigan. Another is a sociologist on a criminal classification committee at Jackson state prison.

Governor to Talk At Press Meet

Gov. Luren D. Dickinson and Auditor-General Vernon J. Brown are among the speakers scheduled to appear before the 65th annual Michigan Press association convention here January 25 to 27.

Gene Alleman, MPA field secretary, disclosed today. The convention is expected to attract 150 Michigan publishers and their guests.

Other speakers will include Henry Wolfenden, Jr., president of the Michigan Bar association; Orrin Taylor, three times winner of the National Editorial association general excellence trophy; Kenneth Olson, dean of the Medill school of journalism at Northwestern university; and eight Michigan publishers.

Naturalness Will Reign Friday: No Formalities Listed

"Be natural" will be the watchword on campus Friday night, there being no formalities listed. Radio parties will be given at Theta Chi, Alpha Chi, and Alpha Chi Sigma houses.

Loud splashing will be Student debates over in the gym and Robinson Coop house will entertain at home with coffee.

Saturday night two formalities will give the campus an elegant touch. The Interfraternity-Pan-Hellenic dance will be at the Masonic Temple, while girls of all cooperative houses and their guests will "muck" in the Union ballroom. Mason and Abbot hall residents will dance informally to radio music that night.

Wolverine Will Show Dorms

For the first time in its history Wolverine will devote a section to men and women's dormitories. Elmer White, Wolverine editor, announced today.

All the dormitories with the exception of East Mary Mayo will have a page which will include candid shots, cartoons and views of the dormitories.

North and South Campbell and Williams hall will each have a page, as will West Mayo and North hall and W. H. hall. Mason-Abbot club will have six pages of which will contain pictures of the dormitory as a club, with Mason and Abbot will use the other four for individual pictures.

Writing Test Scheduled

Announcement of the annual all-college creative writing contest was made yesterday by E. P. Lawrence, instructor in English and chairman of the contest.

Consisting of three divisions, short story, poetry, and essay, the contest is open to all undergraduates with the exception of the essay division, which is limited to senior students.

Awards are as follows: Short story, $30, $20 and $10 respectively for the first, second and third place; poetry, $15, $10 and $5; and essay, one prize of $25. Deadline for manuscript has been set at noon of April 30.

Judges have not yet been announced, according to Lawrence, but will be persons of known literary merit and preferably writers who have published work in the fields of essay, short story and poetry.

Rules for the contest may be secured at the English office.

Name a Shrub and Wilde Will Find It: He Has Maps

By Sid Levy

Keeping track of trees and shrubs on the State campus requires three card files and several maps with entries totaling approximately 50,000, reports John Wilde, whose official title is "grounds botanist."

With this elaborate system of maps and files, it is possible to easily locate any one of the 1,200 species of trees and shrubs on the entire M. S. C. campus. Plants are filed according to name and location, while a third file is employed to keep track of changes.

Wilde, who was graduated from State in 1932 and returned for his master's degree in horticulture in 1936, is in sole charge of this work and occasionally has student help. His files and maps are frequently used by forestry, botany and horticulture departments for field work. Wilde also cooperates with the conservation bureau of the United States department of agriculture in his work.

Careful Consideration Needed

Possibility of a Finnish loan from the United States has caused much discussion as to far-reaching consequences regarding this country. President Roosevelt believes that loans can be made to tiny Finland without endangering peace. Other national leaders are of the opposite view.

Yesterday the president, in a message to leaders of both houses of congress, dumped the possibility of such a loan into the hands of congress. He suggested that the loans could be accomplished by increasing the funds of the Export-Import bank.

In the opinion of the President, this action would not drag this nation into war. "There is without doubt in the United States a great desire for some action to assist Finland to finance the purchase of agricultural surpluses and manufactured products, not including implements of war."

Roosevelt makes mention of the fact that there is definite opposition to the proposed loan. Objections have been voiced as to "the creation of precedents which might lead to large credits to nations in Europe, either belligerents or neutrals. No one desires a return to such a status," said the President.

To many a loan to Finland would be, decidedly, a step toward involving this country in war. The argument that the Neutrality Act does not apply to Finnish-Russian hostility lacks force. Roosevelt says that it does not affect Finland because of the undeclared warfare.

Undeclared war or not, there can be no argument as to intent of Russia's invasion. It does not seem logical that a rule doesn't apply simply because—the war is undeclared. Finland has set an example for stoicism and the little Baltic nation is to be admired.

But not to the extent of involving this country of 130,000,000 people in war which does not pertain to it. This loan possibility must be mulled over with regard to long range policy.

The adage—soldiers follow in the steps of loans or moneyed interest—seems to apply again in this instance.

Here's something new in bowl games: University of Dayton students are planning a "pansy bowl." The game will be between the "Dazzling Day Dots" and the "Battling Border Bats."

Which doesn't sound a bit pansy-like to us?

Weather Note: Education took a holiday recently at Corners, Oklahoma State Agricultural college—because it wanted to but because it was frozen out of house and home.

When a sudden cold wave descended, all water pipes in the college buildings were frozen. Students and faculty didn't have water—so classes were dismissed until the first thaw. "Thaw, thaw, stay away," was the student chant for several days.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY ROUND

(Copyright, 1935, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—Under Robert Houghwout Jackson there will be a very important shift in the crusading activities of the Justice department.

Murphy concentrated his fire on corrupt politicians. Jackson will train his guns on the powers behind the politicians—business and utility interests.

This does not mean that the "pols" will be neglected. They need not hope for any let-up. Jackson is going after them just as vigorously as Murphy did, and one of the first places on the list to be tackled is boss-ridden Atlantic City.

Behind this shift in emphasis are two factors. The first is that Jackson is less political-minded than Murphy. Jackson is a relative newcomer in politics and has never held an elective office. Murphy has held a number and his thinking is chiefly in political terms.

The second factor is Jackson's strong economic orientation. Like Murphy, he, too, has a long crusading career but his crusades have been against business powers. As a struggling lawyer just out of school in Jamestown, N. Y., he defended a group of street car strikers when they couldn't get another attorney. A few years later he took up the legal cudgels for the local independent telephone company against the giant A. T. & T. and licked it.

As a 40-year-old assistant attorney general he waded into the mighty Aluminum Corporation of America with anti-trust charges, and followed this up with a tax evasion suit against the late Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury and ruler of the aluminum field.

In the last two years, as solicitor general, Jackson has hung up the greatest record of supreme court victories on major economic issues in the history of the tribunal.

POLITICAL GO-ROUND

You don't hear anything about him, but behind the scenes Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and during the 1920s the "midwest" candidate for the presidency, is very active in the GOP campaign picture. Middle-west leaders are beating a path to his door to discuss the various aspirants, and to get aid and advice on the now active movement to organize a bloc of united action at the convention.

Dr. Francis Townsend is bent on forcing congressmen to undergo another show of hands on his old-age pension plan before election time. He is planning to have one of his House followers introduce a discharge petition in order to compel a roll call vote on his bill. Another prominent clergyman who has joined the opposition to continuing the Dies committee is Rev. Walton E. Cole of Toledo, Ohio, dynamic director of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice.

"LARRUPIN' LOU"—One of the most familiar "pressure boys" on Capitol Hill is roly-poly, apple-cheeked Louis B. Ward, Father Coughlin's Washington generalissimo. Also, he is one of the most mysterious.

Last year when he was actively lobbying for the Coughlin-backed "cost of production" farm bill, Ward vigorously denied he had any connection with the radio priest. Ward's story was that he was for Coughlin's bill, but wasn't working for him.

Congressional veterans who have watched Ward's operations for a number of years were skeptical. But he was very emphatic: "I am not a representative of Father Coughlin," he insisted, "nor am I on his payroll."

When this session opened, one of the earliest lobby birds on the scene was Ward. Breezy as ever and sporting a big white cowboy hat, he was on hand again pumping hard for the Coughlin farm measure. But this time it will be difficult for him to deny any Royal Oak connection, for on the masthead of Coughlin's weekly now appears this interesting item of information: "Editorial Director, Louis B. Ward."

Note: Since his appearance in the breath-taking sembozo, Ward has been nicknamed in the congressional cloakrooms, "Larrupin' Lou."

After choosing the desired traits it was the decision of the group that the embodiment of these characteristics is Miss Lane.

Student Opinion Column

Editor State News:

Why can't football players participate in basketball at Michigan State college? Why should this institution, or certain forces within this institution, dictate in which sport a student may voluntarily participate?

There are certain football men who would in all probability be of great value to a basketball squad already weakened by injury. Why were these men apparently dissuaded from participation in varsity basketball when their interest and proficiency in the sport can be shown by the fact that they are playing intramural basketball?

Could it be that they were threatened in such a way that further tranquil college relations would be difficult?

Michigan State has perhaps the best schedule in its history. The team travels from coast to coast, with a consequent responsibility of making the best impression possible. We have a team of which we can be proud, yet a lack of sufficient capable reserve strength greatly decreases our chances for one of our best seasons. Must we remain a one-sport school, with our reputation in major athletic competition depending on the success of the football team?

Michigan State is a land-grant college, supported by state and federal subsidies. The underlying principle of our country is democracy. Let us keep that principle alive at M.S.C. The good of the school as a whole should be more important than any individual sport, and no power should be allowed to prohibit any eligible student to choose a sport or sports in which he may participate.

EVERGREEN MANOR.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Among notable football players who took part in other sports are Kircher, Nelson, Brown, McShannock, Lehnhardt, Nuznov, Pingel, Breiner, and others. Most M.S.C. coaches are two, three, and four-sport men. Charles Bachman, head football coach, has often stated that he is interested in nothing else except that football players maintain their eligibility during the off-season.

PRONUNCIATION

To use a trite phrase, it's all Greek to us, but they say that when it comes to pronouncing fraternity and sorority names, Webster is screwy and anyone who follows him in this case is screwy too. Which takes in a broad territory, and makes all college students fit subjects for the hoagy house.

A classical language prof down at the University of Texas, has muddled up the whole history of the college Greeks by stating that they don't pronounce Phi Beta Kappa "Fy. Beta Kappa." "Fe Beta Kappa" is correct Greek and "Fy Beta Kappa" is correct English, according to the revolutionary or rather retrogressive linguist.

Bell Telephone engineers developed a better microphone

Did you realize that much of the technique of radio broadcasting is an outgrowth of Bell System research? Through the years, Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric (manufacturing unit of the System) have produced many advanced types of equipment for better broadcasting.

One of the most recent is the Western Electric Carthoid Microphone. Built on revolutionary principles, it is now helping many stations to put your favorite programs on the air at their best. Just one more Bell System contribution to your daily life.

Transmitter to Stir Air Waves in Modern Style

By Don Way

Modernism to the tune of the first Western Electric air-cooled transmitter of its type will be found at Michigan State college following the completion of the transmitter's installation about March 1. N. E. Grove, chief engineer of the college radio station, stated today.

A part of the building program, the transmitter has also a shut-down antenna and a foot antenna tower already erected which does away with the necessity for lightning rods and a static drain. The antenna is buried in the ground and connected to the antenna tower which will ground all possible static disturbances.

The transmitter station looks like a small modern bungalow but contains some of the most modern radio equipment. In the operating room are located amplifiers and various other control machines. Off this room is a small office and an auxiliary studio which can be used as a temporary studio in case of weather or communication difficulties with the regular studio in the auditorium.

Back of the operating room will be the power transformers generating 20,000 volts rectified DC electricity. To prevent accidents due to inexperienced persons entering the power room, there is only one door which, when opened, throws a switch shutting off the power.

Tubes in the plant are air-cooled. "These and other equipment normally throw off so much heat that, if the station were operated on a 24-hour basis, there would be no need for any other means of heating the building," Grove said.

The station has its own heating system which may also be used to cool tubes in the summer time. Completion date, originally set for January 31, has been extended to approximately March 1, Grove added.

Masters Began Music Career On Comb

Frankie Masters, whose band has been signed for the Inter-fraternity-Panhellenic party Saturday night, started his musical career on a paper-covered comb and later on a flute.

His parents envisioned a business career for him and sent him off to Indiana university for a commerce degree. He earned his board and room at the Delta Upsilon.

At the end of his freshman year he joined an orchestra and played his way to China. Later he became a bank teller in Robinson, Ill., but he was soon earning more money by playing in an orchestra in his spare time, so he deserted the banking world for that of music.

Since that time he has made famous his "bell-tone rhythm" and has played in such places as Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago, St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, Morrison, Stevens, and Sherman hotels, Chicago; Roosevelt hotel, New York; Continental club, Glendale, Calif., and many others.

Union Board To Extend Grill Hours

Climaxing protests on the early closing of the Union grill on week-end nights, Jim Kelly, Union board president, announced today that action taken recently by Union board will permit the grill to remain open until 1 p. m., and dancing in the mixed lounge from 11:30 to 12:30 p. m. on week-end nights for the rest of the term.

The change was made, Kelly said, to accommodate students attending late shows and parties. Plans include a recording machine to be placed in the mixed lounge for the dancing.

Other action taken by the board included the opening of the new State club room on the fourth floor of the Union building. The room was used during the past term for the taking of group pictures for the Wolverine.

It will now be available to student organizations for meetings and will be used exclusively for that. Filing cases are to be set up in the corridor outside the room and each organization given one for filing club material. The room will be open at all hours of the day, Kelly added.

Presidents of organizations are urged by Kelly to get in touch with B. H. Proulx, Union manager, regarding use of the room.

Spartan Poloists Drop Game to Red Wings

By Tom Green

Michigan State's polo team dropped a 15-7 decision to the hard-riding Lansing Red Wings Wednesday night.

Seven goals, four of which came in the last chukker, rung up by Vanek, Red Wing No. 3, spelled defeat for the Spartans. Emil Larsen drove home 3 points to keep State within striking distance during the first two chukkers. Norm Spatz went in for Larsen in the third period and collected a pair of goals, leaving the Spartan team trailing by only three points, 10-7, as the fateful fourth chukker began. It was at this point that Vanek put on his one-man show to bury the State team beneath a cloud of tanhark dust.

The Spartan "B's" rode to an 11-8 win over Michigan Farm in the preliminary game. Paced by Norm Spatz, who collected six goals during the two chukkers he played, the "B's" showed a good deal of promise for future varsity teams. Fred Gibson, who also played in the first team match, scored two goals in this encounter.

Two spills were seen during the evening as Kent of the B's and Spatz found trouble in connecting with their ponies on the way down. The score in detail:

State	Red Wings
Chase (1)	Lawson (1)
Larsen (2)	Vanek (3)
Robinson (3)
Goals: State, Chase 3, Robinson 2, Spatz 2 (1); Red Wings, Ross 3, Lewis 5, Vanek 3 (1).
Substitutions: State, Gibson (No. 1), Spatz (No. 2).
Goals: Red Wings, Ross 2, Lewis 1.
Score by chukkers:
1 2 3 4 Final
Red Wings 4 2 3 1 10
Michigan State 7 2 1 0 7

Play Resumes In Dorm League

Action resumed Tuesday night on the Dormitory front, featuring four games in Demonstration hall. In the main attraction of the evening, Les VonDerbein, pitcher of the Mason 9, pitched to a 22-11 victory over Abbot 14. VonDerbein, playing head-up, pitched ball, accounted for 14 of the victory counters. Howard Laidie also came through with three field goals for Mason 9. Principal scorers for the losers were Jack Keating and Pete Trezise with 4 points each.

Abbot 16 came through in the last minutes of play to defeat Abbot 18, 20-18, in the fastest game of the evening. The contest went all around play on the part of Ken Lawson, who scored 8 points for Abbot 16, gave the winners sufficient spark for victory. Jim DesChamps, with 7 counters, and George Morris, with 4 points, led Abbot 18.

Michigan State's intramural program may include a basketball tournament this spring.

SPARTAN SPORTFOLIO

By DON ANDERSON

Should Kansas State agree to relinquish their football date with the Spartans next fall, the decision involving the switch of the State Michigan game from October 12 to November 2 would be left directly up to the Wolverines.

The only thing holding up the proceedings now, providing the agreement of the University of Michigan is assured. It is the contract with Kansas State which calls for a game between the Jayhawkers and the Spartans next Nov. 2.

Kansas has exhibited a favorable feeling toward the switch, provided they can find a suitable substitute for the Spartans and provided the cancelled game be played off at a later date, probably in 1937.

It was the Michigan football team, the matter sent out late last week, which started the whole business. State officials have demonstrated that they were willing to the proposal, so as we see it, the change would be up to Michigan should the acceptance of Kansas State be gained.

"We would be more than happy to meet the University of Michigan on November 2, provided that Kansas State agrees to postpone their games with us. Athletic Director Ralph Young said yesterday. "Of course, we would have to gain the assent of our faculty board which passes on such things, but it is reasonable to suppose that they would be agreeable once the acceptance of Kansas State is received."

So far, no definite word has come from the Kansas school. Should an agreement from the be forthcoming, the final action in the whole matter would be right in the lap of the boys down at Ann Arbor.

The Battle Is On!

From the sport pages of the Southern California Daily Trojan comes comment on the recent Southern Cal-Tennessee Rose Bowl game. It reads, quote: "That much-played up battle of All-Americans didn't work out so well. Harry Smith was to come to grips with Ed Molinski and Rob Suffridge and Greeny Lansdell were to be pitted against Johnny Butler and George Cafego. All those men were in the game but Molinski, Suffridge and Cafego didn't look much like All-Americans. Butler lived up to part of his reputation, but he wasn't playing against Mercer or the Citadel. In fact, Ben Sohn outplayed Suffridge and Amby Schindler had it all over Cafego."

This interesting little passage is a good example of the pleasanties that have been going back and forth between the west coast and the hills of Tennessee since the first of January. There was a good deal of hard feeling before the game ever started, and the heart-breaking defeat suffered by the Southern boys only served to fan the blaze. They gave Western sport writers the cold shoulder at their dressing room door after the conclusion of the game, and made biting allusions as to what would have been the score if Cafego, among others, had not been handicapped by injuries.

Alpha Gamma Rho Scores Record Game Total

Alpha Gamma Rho rang up the largest total in interfraternity basketball to date in defeating Alpha Epsilon Phi last night, 21-7, while Theta Chi was leading SAE, 12-9, and Delta Sigma Phi was edging out Epsilon Chi, 16-14.

Marty Butts and Dick Ole carried the team of the AGR at back, the former with 7 points and the latter 14. Marks scored three field goals to rack up 6 of the AGR points.

George Buehler's 6 points led Theta Chi's victory over SAE. The scoring for the losers was evenly divided between Vogtberg with 3 points and Roder and Carpenter, each with 2.

Harry Gardner was the hero of the Delta Sig victory over Epsilon Chi. His 7 points led both teams. Jim Thorburn was high for the Ties with 4 points.

Frosh Cagers Tackle Tech Again

In an attempt to chalk up their second straight victory of the season, Coach Tom King and his freshman basketball team will move into Detroit Friday evening to meet the once-beaten Lawrence Tech team in a return engagement.

Although winning a decisive 27-24 victory over the Detroit aggregation last week, the Spartan youngsters looked far from impressive in this initial contest. Coach Tom King, but, been working hard these past afternoon in an attempt to eliminate poor shooting habits, faulty shooting and poor ball handling.

The element of teamwork has been stressed throughout daily practices and it is hoped by the yearling mentor that the boys will really hit their stride and start moving Friday night.

Coach King has the earmarkings of a great yearling aggregation in this year's squad, one which might equal that of his 1932-33 team which won six straight and sent such notables as Chet Ambush, Maxie Hindman, Bob Phillips, Mel Peterson and Bob Morris into the varsity ranks.

Standouts among some 50 freshmen who reported for early practices are Frank Mekules, all-state center from Detroit, Vince Lombardo, Bill Lynn, Bill Kerr, Earl May and "Rocky" Stone.

Wolverines Threaten Spartan Streak

Game to Attract Record Crowd

By Sheldon Moyer

Enjoying a five-game winning streak, the Michigan State basketball squad will be out to avenge a 33-27 setback by Michigan when the two teams meet here Saturday night in the Jenison fieldhouse.

This highlight game of the season is expected to attract more than 8,500 spectators according to advance ticket sales. The previous record crowd that watched these same teams play in 1930 to dedicate State's portable court in Demonstration hall was 6,800.

STATE FAVORED

The Spartans won that contest 27-26, and in view of their sparkling performances in recent games, they will also be the favorite to capture the first meeting of these two teams in the new fieldhouse.

Michigan State hit its stride last Monday night against the highly touted Marquette cagers, when they held them without a field goal for the last 30 minutes of the game. While State was winning, 48-19, the Wolverines dropped a 48-43 decision to Illinois.

State's squad, which has won all of its five games on the home floor up to date, will be protecting a season record of nine triumphs against three defeats. Fear of weariness after this 12-game stretch has prompted Coach Ben Van Alstyne to ease up the work and for his charges this week. Only the lightest of practice has been held while awaiting the invasion of the Wolverines.

Michigan will bring one of the speediest lines that State has faced this year. The Wolverines are short on stature at the guard posts, but top line Rac, Bob Fitzgerald and Tom Harrison make up for this deficit with their lanky frames in the front line.

RAE FEARED

Rac has always been a source of worry to the State cagers. Last year it was his efforts that were the major factors in Michigan's two victories over the Spartans. In the Wolverines' early season victory at Ann Arbor, however, it was Fitzgerald who paced a fast half attack after the Green and White quintet had led during most of the contest.

Mike Gofak, the Wolverines' ace forward, is a Gary, Ind., high school product who is familiar with the type of basketball played by State's "Gary gang." Gofak is excellent on the floor as dribbler and scoring forward. The passing combination of Rac to Gofak is much to be feared.

At the guards Michigan is well fortified with Herb Brown and the veteran Charley Pink. Pink is the type of ball player that is called to take the scoring loads when they come and let Brown do the long shooting.

Four Games On Independent Schedule

Second-week play in the independent men's basketball league will be completed tonight with four games on the card in the gym. Teams which will be going after their second straight victory are DZV, Bakersburg, and Erie Green Manor. All four will play the first night of independent play.

Beaumont and New... will start the ball rolling at 8 tonight while DZV is scheduled with the Bisons at 7:30. May Mayo meets Bakersburg at 8:15 while Evergreen and Erie Green Manor will tip off at 9:15.
