Spartan Cagers Defeat Temple 23-22 In Return Game

Hindman Sinks Final Shot From Foul Line After Game Ends

State Garners Fifth Straight Win

By Ed Kitchen
Banking everything on the last five seconds of the game, Michigan State's basketball "miracle men" rocketed to their fifth straight victory of the season Monday night, bumping off Temple university, 23 to 22, in Jenison fieldhouse.

Debaters Take 15 Contests Out of 24

Members of four Michigan State debate teams returned to the campus yesterday after winning, or receiving top numerical ratings, in 15 out of 24 debates at the Illinois Normal invitational debate tournament held at Normal, Ill., Friday and Saturday. One hundred forty-eight teams, representing 34 mid-western colleges, participated in the tournament.

Debating in the championship division, in which judges' decisions were rendered, Charles Sayre, senior, and Al Thorburn, junior, upholding both sides of the question "Resolved: That the nations of the western hemisphere should form a permanent union," won three out of six debates, defeating Greenville, Carbondale, and Coe colleges.

The women's championship division team, Ida Mae Stevens, junior, and Frances Hillier, sophomore, also upholding both the affirmative and the negative, won two and lost four debates, defeating DeKalb and Kalamazoo colleges.

In the experienced debaters division, in which team ratings were given rather than decisions, Glen Wagner, junior, and George Herbert, freshman, debating on the affirmative, placed first in all six debates by receiving top rankings over teams from Iowa State Teachers, Olivet college, Ill., Whitewater, Kirkville, Milliken, and Illinois Normal.

Isabel Strieter, freshman, and Grace Sidoti, freshman, also entered in the experienced debaters' division, won four out of six debates by receiving first place ratings over MacMurray college, DeKalb, Carroll, and Wheaton department, and Mrs. Donald Hayworth accompanied the debaters on the trip. Turner judged six of the tournament debates, and Mrs. Hayworth judged intercollegiate panel discussions.

Ten debate teams, composed of 10 women and 10 men, will represent Michigan State college at two conclaves this week.

4-H Club Has Large Group at State

Figures just released by the 4-H club office on the number of former 4-H club members now enrolled as students at Michigan State during 1940-41 show the largest number, 191, are in Agriculture and forestry. Following closely is Home Economics with 132.

Twenty-three per cent of all Agriculture students were former members, while only 12 per cent of all Home Economics students were club workers. The figures also show that the per cent of former 4-H members increases among upperclassmen.

Liberal Arts ranks next to the leaders with 86, followed by Applied Science with 48. Engineering and Veterinary Science are almost even with 37 and 36 each. Medical biology lists 11. One former member is enrolled in physical education and two are classified as special Home Economics.

Honigsheim Writes Sociology Article

Dr. P. Honigsheim, associate professor of sociology here, has had published recently a bulletin entitled "Mysticism as a Factor of International Cooperative Consciousness Throughout History." Written in German, the article was published in Zurich, Switzerland, in the review, "Die Friedens-Warte, the Lighthouse of Peace."

Today's Campus Red Means Go!

The worm has turned, as the saying goes, and campus redheads really have the laugh on their blond and brunette friends. It's all because "The Lady With the Red Hair," which begins a comedy run at the State theater Wednesday. Theater officials announce that the first 100 red-haired young ladies who turn up at the box office during the picture's run will be admitted free - yes, free for nothing.

He's Not Stingy!

Tom Kiszard, from Mountain View, who was on the all-A list last term, isn't stingy with his knowledge. Prof. O. Urey had suggested the group discussion plan of class meetings Monday morning, and had asked for comments from the class on why members in a group are reluctant to speak.

Concert Isn't

Just any couples who have dates attend a concert tomorrow night find themselves embarrassed at the evening's entertainment, might be well to mention that they won't be any concert, Enesco, violinist, was scheduled, but the Nazis won't let out of Rumania. So students lost out on a concert entirely.

Johnson Fills YMCA Post

Robert M. Johnson, Michigan college fall term graduate and former president of the local YMCA, has been appointed temporary YMCA secretary to the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. William E. in November.

Engineers' Ball Tickets

Tickets for the Engineers Ball are on sale in the engineering office of Olds hall instead of in the Administration building as previously stated.

SHOW FUTURE UNDECIDED

Barnhart could not be reached for comment last night and Scitte refused to make any predictions on the show's future without consulting its producers. Howland said he had no further plans for the show and did not amplify his statements made at the meetings.

Beans to Be Theme Of Weeks' Activity

Complaints of dormitory residents may soon be audible as Michigan State college faculty members join in the observance of National Bean week scheduled for Jan. 16 to 20.

Michigan State's new activity book system inaugurated this term, was made to facilitate accounting procedure and to allow students to take full advantage of program features not scheduled before a term's beginning. C. O. Wilkins said yesterday.

Greeks Bring Initiation To a Close

Seventeen fraternities and one sorority climaxed a week of informal initiation for 241 pledges Sunday morning. Fraternity week, which includes constructive features not found in the traditional hell week, has prepared pledges for formal initiation. The list of those who took informal initiation, according to the office of the dean of men, follows.

Figures Show Decrease In 'Flunkers'

A total of 66 Michigan State college students were asked to withdraw from school at the close of fall term, 1940, because of unsatisfactory academic standings, a survey of four of the six division offices reveals. Reconsideration of the cases of 17 students lowered the number to 49 as contrasted with 63 for the same period a year ago.

Kapers Faces An Uncertain Future Life

Future of Kampus Kapers, WKAR variety show, is more uncertain than ever, following action of Local 303, American Federation of Musicians, which last night voted down a proposed cut in wage scale for musicians playing in the show.

Union Votes Against Lower Band Wages For Student Show

After its first broadcast of the year on Dec. 7 from the State theater, the theater management was forced by "high cost of production," to drop the show. Kapers producers were unable to find suitable campus location which the show could afford to hire, according to L. D. Barnhart, director of the show.

SCALE BARS SHOW

Largest part of the production's expense, both Scitte and Barnhart said, was the union wage scale set up for theater broadcasts and applicable to the Kapers orchestra, directed by Art Howland, East Lansing senior. A resolution was introduced at last night's meeting to reduce the scale from $8 to $2 per man, but was defeated.

No method of setting up a special scale is left open, according to Carl H. Dewey, secretary of the local. Authority to make a final ruling on the question was left to the local by national AFM headquarters. Since the membership voted against the measure, its rejection is final, Dewey said.

'Spinsters' List Patrons For Bid Formal

Patrons and guests for the only all-college, all-women bid formal of the year, the Spinster Spin, were announced yesterday by Jean Widick, general chairman. The party has been set for Friday, in the Union ballroom.

WKAR High Lights

BY PATTY JEAN SWELEY

WKAR is reputed to offer one of the best selections of musical programs in the nation, rated among both small and large stations. Consistently "good" music is its aim, and can be heard at almost any hour of the day.

Popular music programs are in a minority but a regular in this group is the 7 to 8 a. m. "Dawn Salute" program, the only request program offered.

CLASSICS ARE POPULAR

Most popular of the specialty recordings, according to R. J. Coleman, radio department head, is "Music of the Masters," broadcast daily at 3:30 p. m. Other specialty shows include "Famous Overtures," on the air at 2:15 p. m. Tuesday; "Famous Waltzes" at 1:30 p. m. Thursday; folk music at 10:30 a. m. Friday; "Music of the Moderns" at 1:45 p. m. Saturday, and "Rhythms of the Dance" at 2:45 p. m. Saturday.

Recorded programs featuring an ordinary variety of selections are usually offered daily and include such shows as the "Musical Timekeeper" at 6 a. m.; "Strings in the Morning" at 8:15 a. m.; "Organ Moods" at 9:30 a. m.; "From the Music Room" at 10 a. m.; "Music Salon" at 3 p. m. and "Listen to the Band" daily at 4:30 p. m. "Musical Moments" is aired at 1:15 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and "Vocal Variety" may be heard at 2:45 p. m. Thursday, or at 2:15 p. m. Saturday.

PRESENTS LIVE SHOWS

"Live" shows are needed to complete any well rounded program, and WKAR offers a goodly supply of them, too.

Monday programs include John Vick, pianist, at 1:15 p. m.; a program sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs at 2 p. m.; and a music department presentation at 4:15 p. m. Siebert and Sydenstricker may be heard at 11:15 a. m. Tuesday, and the Lansing concert orchestra, under direction of George Sutherland, on the air at 1:30 p. m. the same day.

On Wednesday, Henry Simmons

may be heard in a piano program entitled "Pan American Rhythms." "Piano Vignettes" is the only live musical program on the air on Thursday. Jack Strickland, at the piano, is a 1:15 p. m. Friday feature, as are the music department program at 2:15 p. m. and the Lansing concert orchestra at 1:30 p. m.

YMCA to Hold Panel Forum

The student Y.M.C.A. will convene its regular meeting Wednesday night into a panel forum on the topic "America Defends." The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Four different aspects of American defense will be discussed. Y.M.C.A. officials announced, with speakers from each of these fields presenting their views on the subject. A student discussion on defense will follow.

Speakers at the meeting and their topics are: J. C. Davis, assistant professor of economics, "Economic Democracy"; M. M. Knappen, professor of history and political science, "Political Democracy"; Col. A. J. Zerbee, professor of military science and tactics, "Territorial Wealth"; and Rev. Norman Kunkel, "Status of the Church."

MEN ALSO PLAN MEET

Central State Teachers' college will hold a practice debate tournament Thursday at which five Michigan State men's varsity debate teams will compete. Eleven colleges have signed up for this meet.

Robert Turner and Paul Bagwell of the speech department, will accompany both groups.

NYA Numbers 550 Students On Fall Roll

An average of 550 students per month were employed in N.Y.A. work during fall term, it was announced by Glen O. Stewart, alumni secretary and director of N.Y.A. These students were paid a total of $7,500 per month and were engaged in about 250 different types of projects.

Eighty students enrolled in the Agriculture division, 104 in Applied Science, 80 in Engineering, 86 in Home Ec 104 in Liberal Arts, and 36 in Veterinary Science are employed in N.Y.A. work. All students holding these jobs must maintain at least a "C" average.

Most N.Y.A. students are given jobs fitted to their particular interests or which are connected with the course they are taking. For this reason, M.S.C. ranks high in its N.Y.A. work.

One of the most valuable services rendered by N.Y.A. during fall term was tutoring of mathematics classes. Eight students, under the direction of Prof. V. G. Grove, head of the mathematics department, conducted special mathematics classes.

Bergquist Receives G. S. A. Fellowship

Dr. S. G. Bergquist, head of the Michigan State college geology department, has been elected a Fellow of the Geological Society of America. The honor was bestowed by the society at its annual meeting recently.

Thailand Is Neutral; It Just Wants Peace—Says 'Sing'

By LEN BARNES

"Thailand is neither an enemy of the allies nor of the axis powers in the present conflict," according to Singha Tongyai, a second prince of Thailand and a resident of Mason hall.

"Sing," as his friends on campus call him, pointed out that it was the Philippine islands who tried to convince President Roosevelt recently that Thailand and the Japanese were working "hand in hand."

It is thought this attempt influenced

Roosevelt to deny pleas of the Thais for 10 airplanes from the United States, and alienated many other nations friendly to the Thais.

PICKS STATE THROUGH AD

A junior in the police administration course, Sing came to America for the first time in the summer of 1938. He picked Michigan State for two reasons. "Because I read an ad about the college in an English magazine, and because Michigan State offers one of the best police administration courses in the world."

"We (Thailand) are in danger from all sides, and are concerned only with our own welfare," Sing stated. "In the face of this danger we are neutral to the United States, and all nations which leave us alone."

The present boundary war with the French has been going on for more than 40 years, according to Sing.

"It started when the French took a small strip of land along the boundary of Thailand, where the Mekong river bends sharply westward. This formed an opening wedge for France to penetrate further into our country," explained Sing.

"Later, when they took French Indo China, they claimed Cambodia along with it. An area east of the Mekong river near the coast of the China sea, Cambodia is inhabited by people who do not speak the Thai language, so we did not object to this loss," said Sing. "But the other strip of territory had always belonged to us, and our people lived there," he added.

Sing described the west side of the Mekong, eastern boundary of Thailand, as lined with houses of a peaceable people. "Until the French came along, the east side was the same. The French feared a Thai revolution so much that even knives were not allowed our people in this area."

THAI MERCHANTS KILLED

Recently a group of Thais, including two prominent merchants, attempted to cross the river into their native land and were shot by the French. These killings and the following evacuation of all Thais from the east border of the river, brought on the present boundary war, Sing claims.

"It is the best chance we ever had to regain these territories, and in spite of the recent fusing together of the two French parties

Ducks Approve Of Red Cedar's Topical Winter Water

Were it not for scientific progress, Michigan State college would be without one of its popular attractions today, according to a statement by W. A. Devenport, superintendent of the buildings and grounds department. Devenport states that the wintering of the ducks on Red Cedar River is not due to Michigan's fair climate, but to the warm water which is piped into the river, just below the dam, from the power plant.

One of the latest additions being made to the plant is a new steel revolving screen which is being placed in the intake station, on the river side. The screen, which is about 15 feet high, seven feet wide, and weighs about five tons, is being lowered into place by a huge crane.

The screen will keep the dirt in the river water from entering the sump, or receptor, within the station. From the sump the water is pumped into the power plant, where it is used for condensing purposes. From the plant it is piped back into the river at the foot of the dam, where its temperature is such that it keeps the water from freezing during the winter, and forming the winter habitat of the mallards.

New York university will observe its centennial next year.

Spartan Sportlines

By Joe Simcik

We wonder what Charley Bachman is going to say when he finds out that Fullback Jack Germain and Lefthalf Elbert Stark are Florida bound after one week of this term? . . . The two freshman were tagged to carry mail for the varsity next fall. Marquette's seniors who piled up exactly 18 points against State Friday, made 13 points in the first half against the U. of Detroit and then broke loose with 32 points, but lost out 49-45. . . "Wild Bill" Komenich, who is just about half of the Hilltopper team, dumped in 14 tallies. Komenich is no stranger to Bob Phillips and Max Hindman—they played against him in prep games in Gary. . . Starter Bob Von Boregny is still better known to them—they teamed with him at Horace Mann. . . Marquette's Bill Chandler, who saw action against State, takes his orders from Papa Chandler, who is head coach of the Hilltoppers. . . Purdue's Boilermakers, but it wasn't until recently that a locomotive superstructure mounted on an automobile chassis was adopted as the official mascot. . . which led to a new "engineer's yell," intelligible only to engineers—it reads: e to x, dy, dx, e to the x, dx, Cosine, secant, tangent, sine, Three point one four one five nine, Square root, cube root, BTU, Slipstick, slide rule, YEA PUR-DUE.

Temple, who had its undefeated record shattered by the Spartans while they were in the East, lost another heartbreaker Friday to Georgetown, 45-46. . . Michigan State's indoor card for this sports consists of 62 meets, 37 of which are on the road. . . The fencers will do most of the travelling with eight foreign contestants. . . only two are at home. . . Trackmen will show their wares at home three times. . . they also have eight away from home contests.

Lloyd Olds, whose Michigan Normal thincleads have become rather troublesome to the Spartan thincleads, will head the men's track and field committee of the national AAU this year. . . Michigan State will be the scene of three nation-wide sporting meets in 1941. . . national collegiate swimming and cross country championships, and starting today the national pigeon show. . . oops, we forgot to check that one.

Tony Rizzardi of the boxing squad punched out an all A scholastic average for the fall term, a common occurrence to the Iron Mountain slugger. . . Michigan State students playing with the Lansing Pioneers, manager by Ed Randall, made a big hit playing against the Blackman Township Blue Devils of Jackson prison. . . included on the team are Glen Sheuheim, Walter Ball, and Maurice Boister. . . Sammy Nuznov, who held down first base for John Kobs for three years, but who couldn't quite make the grade for Ben Van Alstyne, is burning up the Detroit Basketball Federation. . . Gene Ciolek, former star left halfback and shortstop, who never did play the game here, is also a regular player. . . Lady Luck was a little unkind to State's basketball foes. . . during vacation lanky Bob Fitzgerald, Michigan forward who makes a habit of turning in a fine game against the Spartans was stricken by diphtheria. . . Bill Maxwell of the Kalamazoo Hornets lost a hand on a punch press. . . Barry Ryan, of last year's track team, is now picking them up in a uniform. . . he was conscripted this month.

Three Dorms Share Honors In Intramural Openers

Gleffe Paces Abbot 18 to Victory

The 1941 intramural basketball season got off to a flying start last night when six dormitory teams officially set the 173-game schedule in motion.

Class of competition, however, with the exception of one game, wasn't exactly top-notch. Coach Doug Eaton and his Wells E aggregation battled their way to an 18 to 11 decision over Abbot 17 in the only close game of the evening. The Wells attack was led by Dick Hoeker, a 270-pound forward from North Muskegon.

Hoeker, in spite of his weight, was easily the most outstanding individual player on the court, racking up 10 points for the winners on five field goals. Bob Sharpe racked up six points to lead the Abbot 17 scoring.

Abbot 18 went on an extended scoring spree to completely bury a badly outclassed Wells B quintet under a 37 to 4 barrage. Bob Gleffe, former Detroit Southeastern basketball, led the winners' attack by hitting the meshes for 16 points. Gleffe's ball handling and passing was a leading factor in setting up additional scoring plays.

Under the leadership of Coach Gar Finkbeiner, Mason 1 started a successful defense of their loof crown won a year ago when they easily subdued Wells A 26 to 5.

Women to Shoot In Rifle Tourney

Women's intramural indoor rifle season for 1941 will begin Thursday, according to Lt. E. A. Swartz. Shooting periods are scheduled for Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 4 p. m. and will extend until March 8 with the exception of Farmers' Week.

Individual and team shooting will be practiced. All teams must be composed of at least two members. Each marksman will select five targets for team competition. The two best sets of five targets will count as the score for each team. Individual matches will also be held.

No practice limits will be set, and targets will have a score of 100 with 10 shots, two each in bullseye.

Max's Only Point Wins for State

Intramural FLASHES

By Hal Schram

If Michigan State's 1941 winter intramural tournaments are to be a success and a reality, entries for the doubles handball tourney and the singles ping pong competition will have to pick up before Jan. 18. . . This is the deadline set for entry applications.

Director Lyman Primodig is trying to arrange a telegraphic bowling schedule with several universities and colleges throughout the country. . . If such a schedule can be completed the best five man team picked from State's fraternity league will square off against other fraternity squads several hundred miles away. . . The results will then be sent from each campus simultaneously. . . Schools already under consideration are Syracuse and Gonzaga, the alma mater of Crooner Bing Crosby.

Like an iceberg, the pressure was definitely on Max Hindman, State's slim center, when he walked out alone on the court to try a free throw after the regulation time was over in the Spartan-Temple battle Monday night. If he made it, State won. If he missed it, the Owls might win in the overtime. While 5,500 fans waited with bated breath, Max coolly pitched in the point, his only one of the evening, and the Spartans owned victory No. 7 of the season.

Frosh Answer Sports Call; 120 Report

Over 120 freshman athletes have entered their second week of practice in track, basketball, and wrestling. Track and basketball have both attracted more than 50 candidates.

In track some 50 yearling candidates have reported to Coach Karl Schladehan. Among those who have impressed Schladehan are Robert Currier, hurdler, Detroit; Richard Baker, quarter-and-half-mile from Redford; Richard Caskey, sprinter, Detroit; Leonard Naab, javelin, Lansing; Hugh Davis, sprinter and broad jumper, Lansing; Ralph Manning, pole vaulter, Bay Port, N. Y.; Sam Calvert, pole vaulter, Hazel Park; Lee Bennett, Redford, and Don LeClair, Wyandotte, both weight men.

According to Coach Schladehan, Naab, a Lansing Eastern product, shows definite ability in the javelin even though he has had no high school experience. Hugh Davis also has attracted attention from his coach in the broad jump and the dashes. Davis' fastest high school time in the hundred was 9.9.

Freshman Coach Tom King ran his yearling basketball team through extended ball handling and shooting drills last night designed to add polish to their offense. King pointed out that it was too early in the season to make any predictions concerning the strength of his charges but

Officials Choose Kobs As Head for 1941

John H. Kobs, Michigan State baseball mentor, was re-elected president of the Michigan Officials association at the annual meeting of the group held in East Lansing Monday.

Besides the election of officials for 1941, sportmanship awards were given to outstanding scholastic football stars and a committee was appointed to undertake the planning of a system to select an all-state team for 1941.

added that it seemed on par with past squads.

In wrestling, Coach Fendley Collins plans to have the yearling wrestlers work out against the second string varsity because competition in frosh sports have been eliminated. Only seven yearlings have been out so far but Collins expects more to report this week.

Hindman Sinks Final Shot To Beat Temple

committed after the end of regulation time and thus the game should go into an overtime period. The clock actually showed six seconds after regulation time but the officials finally decided the horn had not been blown before the foul.

Hindman, who had missed two previous free throws, stepped out on the court alone and after shaking hands with Temple Captain Morris Snyder, flicked the ball unhesitatingly through the cords. "When that ball left my hands I never thought it would go through," Max said later.

State was never behind in the last half and trailed the Owls on just two occasions in the first period. Both teams opened up slowly and the Spartans finally moved up to a 6-0 lead. Temple moved up to a 6-6 midway in the half and kept right on going to a 10-7 lead. A field goal by Frank Mekules and three successive free throws by deady Bob Phillips gave State a 12-10 lead as the half ended, however.

In the second period the Spartans ran the count all the way to 19-10 before Temple scored. Three field goals by Howard Kahn and Gorham Getchell put the Owls back in the running again.

It was the drive and ball-hawking of Jolting Joe Gerard that helped as much as anything else to topple Coach Ernie Messikomer's crew. Joe continually broke up the Owls' plays and he put the finishing touch on State's scoring when he sank a free throw to give the Spartans a 20-15 lead in the last five minutes and popped in a field goal to make it 22-18 and start the wild last-minute scramble.

Temple's defeat was its third against six victories, while State has now won seven and lost three. The Owls have lost two of their games to the Spartans and the other, 46-45, at the hands of Georgetown last week.

State Opens Mat Year With Win

Seven Matches Go To Spartans; Sophs Make Clean Sweep

Winning seven out of eight events, six of them by falls, Michigan State's wrestling squad opened their 1941 campaign with a convincing 33 to 5 decision over Wheaton college in Jensen fieldhouse Saturday night.

The Jennings boys, "Cut 'n' Bo," got their first taste of varsity competition and fared very well. Leland Merrill, 136-pound Spartan sensation of a year ago racked up his seventh straight dual victory in intercollegiate competition. Benny Riggs and Chuck Hutson, 1941 co-captains got off to a flying start both winning falls in 6:52 and 5:06 respectively. Bill Maxwell, 165-pound sophomore, turned in the quickest job of the evening when he pinned Cozette in 1:12.

State's only loss of the evening came in the final event when Rogers, Wheaton heavyweight, pinned Jack Orr in 2:45.

Fencers Score In AFL Meet

By way of polishing up their epees and sabres for their initial meet with the University of Chicago Jan. 31, four members of Coach Charles Schmitter's fencing squad journeyed to Detroit last week to compete in the American Fencers' league (Michigan Division) state novice epee and sabre tournament.

Co-capt. George Willis, Detroit junior, led the troupe by cornering first place in the epee event. Co-capt. Francis Thalken, Vine-land, N. J. junior, captured third place in the same event. Leonard Herscher, Owosso junior, also competed in the tournament.

State Athletic Teams Will Take To Road for 1941 Meets

Completed schedule cards in basketball, track, boxing and football guarantee that Spartan colors will fly in all parts of the nation and incomplete calendars for wrestling, swimming, fencing, polo, baseball, golf and tennis meets add further security.

State's basketball squad will travel three more times this year, meeting Notre Dame, Jan. 25, there; West Virginia university, Feb. 8, at Morgantown, W. Va., and Marquette university at Milwaukee, Feb. 22.

TO PLAY THREE HERE
Home games remaining on the cagers' schedule include: University of Michigan, Feb. 12; Long Island university, Feb. 19, and Notre Dame, March 1.

Spartan thincleads will travel to Notre Dame to open their indoor season Feb. 7. Home track meets are scheduled for Feb. 21, Marquette; Feb. 25, Michigan Normal, and Feb. 28, the Michigan State relays.

Seven away from home meets after the opener will carry State tracksters to Champagne for the Illinois Relays, Feb. 15; to Notre Dame for the Central Collegiate, March 1; to Chicago for the Armour relays, March 15, and to Indianapolis for the Butler relays on the same day; back to Chicago for the Chicago relays, March 22, and to Morgantown, W. Va., March 29 for the West Virginia relays. Spartan track men will also compete in the Michigan AAU meet dated tentatively for March 19. The squad will be split up for the Armour and Butler relays March 15.

BOXERS TO TRAVEL
West Virginia's matmen will furnish the opening opposition for State boxers at Morgantown, Feb. 8. Other trips will take Coach L. D. Burhan's scrappers to Temple university, Feb. 10, University of
