Crowd to Sing With Band At Next Game

Marching Display
At Half Will End
With 'Fight Song'

"Success of the band formations during the half at the Michigan State-Marquette football game Saturday will depend on crowd participation," according to Dale Harris, acting director of the band. Students will sing with the band in a special stunt during the half.

Led by Bill Sherman, junior drum major from Clio, the 95-piece band will start its formations on the Marquette side of the field.

From there the band will march to the State side where it will form the numbers "1942." At this time the seniors and alumni will be asked to sing the verse of the "Fight Song."

As the band starts the chorus,
it will form "1943" and the juniors will join in the singing.
"1944" will be formed as the sophomores start singing the second chorus with the juniors, seniors and alumni.

At the end of the second chorus
the band will make "1945" and the freshmen will sing "Had, Had,
the Gang's All Here" with the rest of the crowd.

The last formation will be the band spelling out M. S. C. as it plays the Alma Mater. The Marquette band will also march and demonstrate during the half.

Ray Stanley, program supervisor of WKAR, will direct spectators over the public address system during this special singing.

Rumors that a "Beat Marquette" pep meeting would be held tomorrow night were spiked last evening by Jack Dodds, head cheerleader.

MSC Will Get Committee of Three Four Days For Will Formulate AWS Thanksgiving Final Stocking Rule

Leave Will Start
Wednesday, Nov.
19, End Sunday

Michigan State college students will again enjoy a four day Thanksgiving vacation, it was announced yesterday by R. C. Lamb, registrar.
Vacation will begin at 5 p. m.
Wednesday, Nov. 19 and continue until 8 a. m. Monday, Nov. 24.
HOLIDAY ONCE DEFERRED

This is an occurrence with the date set for Thanksgiving by Gov.
Murray D. Van Wagoner, Litchfield, since it will be a week before legislation in Washington to permanently fix the date as the last Thursday in November, this year probably the last year the vacation will occur on Friday.

Nineteen forty-one is the fifth year that the faculty has granted a vacation extending longer than a single day. For 23 years an additional holiday was not granted to the college, with the result that there were three or four people left in classes.

According to Lamb, the extended vacation was granted by the faculty because of the attitude of the students last year. "Student organizations cooperated beautifully in urging students to do the right thing by not leaving before 5 p. m. on Wednesday and returning in time for their 4-6 p.
classes on Monday. The students really came across last year and gave good cooperation."

MEA Offers Free Tickets For Narvik Mayor's Talk

By Edna Brandt

College students and faculty may get tickets today to hear Theodore Broch, former mayor of Narvik, at 8 p. m. today in the College auditorium, it was announced yesterday by E. H. Thorne, of the college education department. This will be the only session of the Michigan Education association's region 3 convention to which the M.S.C. student body will be admitted.

Tickets will be given out at the accounting office this morning until they run out, the office announced. Only the surplus not used by persons attending the M. E. A. convention will be available.

WAS YOUNG MAYOR

Broch, son of the war minister in the former Norwegian government, was the youngest mayor in Norway before its invasion by Germany. An eye witness of the land and naval battles at Narvik, Broch was twice condemned to death by the Germans, but escaped through Sweden, Russia, Siberia, and Japan.

Though he assisted in the evacuation of refugees from Narvik, Broch had to leave his own family in Norway. The former mayor has an excellent command of English, M. E. A. officials say.

PEARSON TALKS IN MORNING

Drew Pearson, news commentator, author and lecturer, will appear in the auditorium this morning at 9:30 at a general session devoted to M. E. A. members. Pearson is co-author of the "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column which appears regularly in this newspaper.

HAS BEEN FREE-LANCER

Pres. John A. Hammah will welcome the guests at this meeting, and Mrs. Daisy E. Howard, M. E. A. president, will present a message preceding Pearson's lecture.

Author of a half-dozen books, Pearson was head of Quaker Relief work in Siberia, Albania, and Montenegro following the World war. He has traveled around the world as a free-lance writer, was foreign correspondent for Australian, Indian and South African newspapers and foreign editor of the "United States Daily," and as a reporter covered the Geneva Naval conference, the London Naval conference, and the Cuban revolution.

The third general session of the convention, Friday at 1:30 p. m., will be addressed by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Ga.

Pianists Will Open Concerts for '41-'42

VRONSKY AND BARIN

Vronsky and Barin, Russian piano duo which will open the M. S. C. concert series Tuesday, was discovered by Josef Hoffman, the great pianist. Hoffman heard them in London in 1936 and upon his return said that they were "the most extraordinary two-piano team in Europe."

He advised them to come to America and offered to arrange a series of concerts with the leading symphony orchestras of the United States. This year marks their 10th American concert tour.

Moscow was the birthplace of Vronsky and Barin. Following the revolution he studied in Berlin, and took work in composition from Franz Schreker. His published works include a piano-forte concerto, works for one or two pianos and several songs. Among his best known two-piano arrangements are the brilliant Polovtsian Dances from Borodin's opera "Prince Igor" and the waltzes from Wagner's "Rosenkavalier."

by campus opinion, Miss Conrad explained.

To the observation of Miss Lou Dodge, Chesterfield senior, that the "no smoking on campus" tradition is maintained without enforcement, it was pointed out that violators of the tradition are often caught in the river.

Agreeing with Miss Dodge that stockings are a matter of personal discretion, Helen Horn, Jerome senior, said that, as representatives of campus women, A. W. S. should drop a rule unsatisfactory to a large and articulate number. Besides, silk shortage and rising prices might render such a rule impractical within the next few months, Miss Horn said.

Emily Rawdon, Bethesda senior, Vera Deane, Sodus junior, and Shirley Freeman, East Lansing junior, also expressed the opinion that wearing stockings on campus should be accepted as a tradition, without enforcement. Women are willing to keep a tradition whereas a rule invites rebellion, according to Miss Hillier.

Learning towards the side of tradition - enforcement, Doris Ward, Grand Rapids senior, and Evelyn Davis, Fremont junior, emphasized the importance of explaining the stocking tradition to freshmen.

YWCA Has Workshop:
Preparedness Is SWL
Theme for Fall Term

Y. W. C. A.—

In the form of a work shop, yesterday's meeting was open to last year's members, who worked on layettes, quilts, and bandages for general distribution through the Red Cross association. A few interested freshmen were present, but first year students will be generally admitted after the Co-ed Carnival, stated President Grace Nahstoll, East Lansing senior.

Announcing preparedness as their general theme for fall term, Spartan Women's League got under way yesterday afternoon, according to Frances Hillier, president. Study groups concerning art, dramatics, radio, personality, and social service have been organized and will meet on the fourth Wednesday of each month in the Little Theatre.

Saturday at 1 p. m. there will be a half-hour discussion over station WKAR led by Leah Jane Tuttle, East Lansing junior. A project for the term will be a bulletin board to be set up soon in the Union women's lounge.

At the Monday meeting of the W. A. A. three hikes were planned, announced Thelma Elworthy, president. The first will be for freshmen women on October 18, on November 8 the annual cross-country hike will be made. The snow hike will be held on November 30.

BIRCH FOLLOWS MONROE

Ralph Monroe, State distance star, was headed by Glen Birch in the National Collegiate as was Spartan Walt Beardslee by Drake Jeter Richard Gleason.

In addition to Scott, Monroe Thompson, and Beardslee, Coach L. D. Brown has named Maurice Horsk, Walt Mack, and Earl Cady to the State lineup. The race will be run over a three mile course.

Farmhouse candidate, Chuck Johnson, has handed his pin out to Shirley Ann White of Sigma Kappa.
