

People Have More Fun Than Anybody

They Got Yuh!

Freshman mid-term marks will go to five different persons instead of two as has been the custom before, announced Prof. S. E. Crowe yesterday. Instead of the high mark going to the dean, but in addition to the dean, the high mark will be given to the student's parents, the student's adviser, and to the Dean of Women.

Chalk Talk

Students don't sleep and get up with it in classes lectured by Prof. C. C. DeWitt, of the mechanical engineering department, last night they don't in the front of the building. DeWitt was lecturing to a class in materials of construction recently. As DeWitt went into his lecture, a front student began to nod. The teacher turned to the board to write a point in drawing. Suddenly, he threw the chalk at the student. Hit in the head, the student woke bewildered. DeWitt is convinced that at least one student won't sleep in lectures any more.

Strikers May Be Forced to Army, Navy—Davis

War Kitchen

That war-time philosophy, in the opinion of John C. Davis, labor relations expert of the Michigan State college business department, may spell the end before many years to recurring strikes.

Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission, pointed out Wednesday, "the labor situation will become more acute, and each successive strike in defense industries will not only be a problem but dangerous as well."

Advocates strike remedy. What U. S. industry may well expect to see then, he believes, is the offering of one of two alternatives to striking labor. Either strikers will be allowed to retain their selective service exemption ratings and go on working in their defense positions, or draft classifications will be advanced. This means that striking employees who continue to hamper defense plans will have to take their place in the armed forces if they refuse to return to work.

In Davis' opinion too many on-lookers in the U. S. today are anxious to climb on the bandwagon to advocate legislation which would outlaw strikes in the present situation. "Most of these persons overlook two things," he pointed out. "One is the co-operation between employer and employee which is necessary to an efficient organization. Wouldn't be lawful. This cooperation would definitely be lost if there were an action."

Polls Open at 8 a. m.; Council Establishes Four Voting Places

Two Will Run As Sticker Candidates

By George Herbert
With the opening of the polls at 8 a. m. today, student voters, balloting in divisional primary elections, will select a slate of 12 nominees for six Student council positions.

With 26 candidates in the field, today's election will decide the 12 names to be placed on the ticket for the final election which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 18, according to Elections Chairman Fred Quigley.

Although only 24 candidates were originally listed, two "sticker" candidates have raised the total to 26. The "sticker" candidates are running for nomination for the Ag division position in the council and earned a place in the election by submitting petitions signed by 5 per cent of the students in their division. The two new candidates are Dean Radtke, Morris senior, and Morton D. Smerling, freshman.

Winners in today's primary elections who wish their pictures to appear in Tuesday's paper are to come to room 15 Union annex between 5:15 and 6 p. m. Friday. State News columnists will also have their pictures taken at the same time.

Student Directory For '41-'42 to Be Off Press Friday

A limited number of the 1941-42 college student directories will go on sale tomorrow afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m. in the Union only. It was announced yesterday by Business Manager Ellis Brandt. General sale of the books will not begin until Monday at campus stands, and will continue only through Tuesday night, he said.

ADD STREET ADDRESSES

Sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, the book has been enlarged this year both in size and amount of information included about each student, according to Brandt. The book now measures 5 1/2 by 7 1/2 inches, a quarter inch wider and a half inch longer than last year.

Street addresses of students in their home towns have been added, as well as student numbers. A Deadline for freshmen pictures is Saturday, Nov. 15. Freshmen who have not received appointments may call 1-9118 and make an appointment.

Hannah to Talk At High School Conference

A talk by Pres. J. A. Hannah and musical selections by the college men's glee club will highlight the program at Saturday's annual student-principal conference on campus.

Hannah will speak briefly at the luncheon for students and their high school principals Saturday noon, welcoming the principals and other guests of the conference to the college. His talk will be followed by the men's glee club program.

A complete list of schools to be represented at the conference will appear in the Saturday State News.

The conference designed to give first-year students an opportunity to discuss problems of college curricula with their principals, will open with a general meeting in the college auditorium at 9:30 a. m. Members of the college staff have been invited to attend this convocation, according to Registrar R. S. Linton, who is in charge of the program.

Principals attending the conference from various parts of the state will be guests of the college at the Michigan State Temple football game Saturday afternoon. Over 160 acceptances have been received from Michigan high schools, Linton said.

They Aim At Personality Development

By NEVA ACKERMAN

"They're a swell bunch of fellows," says Curtis Beachum of the 890 men residents of Mason and Abbot halls, Michigan State's largest housing project, and he is echoed by Prof. L. J. Luker and M. B. Goodwin. Beachum, director of the two halls, works with Luker, resident adviser of Mason hall, and Goodwin, who has the same job in Abbot hall.

HAVE HANDS FULL
These three have their hands full keeping everything under control in Mason and Abbot halls trying to do more for the boys than furnishing them with a room and food. They hope through counselling and social activities to develop each individual's personality. Their main problem is to get each student to work up to his ability, Beachum said.

Beachum graduated in 1931, one of four members of the first class in hotel administration at Michigan State. Previous to his work in the men's dormitory he was resident manager at North hall for two years. When Mason hall was opened in 1938, he was made resident manager and upon the completion of Abbot hall the next year was made Director of Mason-Abbot halls. Recently he has been named director of men's dormitories.

Council Adopts 'MSC Shadows' Spotlight to Shine On Sponsors Friday

Eklund to Play For Williams Term Party

Members of North and South Williams will dance at the fall term party Saturday night amid an autumn scene of pennants and leaves, according to Doris Johnson from North Williams and Ros Annette Loeffler from South Williams, general co-chairmen of the affair.

Decorations will be taken care of by Lois Rikard and Jane Leuprand of North, and South Williams respectively. Tickets and programs have been handled by June Osborne of South Williams and Gloria MacNey of North. Margaret Simpson represents South and Evelyn Mallick, North, on the patron committee. Music will be supplied by Coy Eklund and his band with the dancing starting at 9 p. m. and ending at 12 in the dining room.

Pep Purveyers Plan Real Rabid Rally For Football Fans

With Saturday's clash between Michigan State's Spartans and the Temple University Owls expected to be the game of the year in East Lansing, student football enthusiasts will hit a peak at the giant gridiron rally which has been scheduled for Friday night, Jack Dodds, head cheerleader said yesterday.

Short talks by players and coaches, songs and cheers will feature the pep meeting. Starting time is slated for 7:15 p. m. in the courtyard west of the Union. Dodds has also promised something new for Spartan fans at the rally.

In case of rain or snow the rally will be shifted to Jensen field-house.

Newmanites to Meet

The Newman club will hold its first mixer of the year at 9 p. m. tomorrow in the Little Theater of the Home Ec building, Chairman Katherine O'Brien said yesterday.

Mayo Will Hold Term Dance On Saturday

With "Spartan Sparty Spin" as the theme, East Mary Mayo hall will hold its fall term party Saturday evening in the dormitory, according to Mary Jane Joseph, Grayling sophomore and general chairman.

Arrangements for the dance are under the direction of six committees. Miss Joseph announced Ann DeCamp and his orchestra will furnish music for the affair. Heading the arranged-dances committee will be Doris Roy, sophomore from Buffalo, N. Y., assisted by Mary Ellen Stack of Milwaukee and Gloria Joanes of Detroit. Beverly Rinker, Jackson sophomore, will handle decorations.

STUDENTS MAY ATTEND

Presentation of ranks will then be given to Jane Esslinger, Royal Oak cadet colonel, Mary Lou Dodge, East Lansing cavalry, Helen McDonald, East Grand Rapids, field artillery; Marjorie Masterson, Grand Rapids, coast artillery; Ruthmary Mangold, La Grange, Ill., infantry; Carol Walcott, Phases, band; and Elizabeth Zerber, East Lansing, Pershing Rifles, before their respective regiments, concluding the installation ceremony.

The balcony of Den hall will be open to students and the public during the corps sponsor installation.

DANCE TO BE CLOSED

Following the ceremony the Military ball will get under way in the Den hall ballroom with Coy Eklund and his band providing the dance music.

A military decoration theme will predominate with a large U. S. flag hanging down from the middle of the ceiling.

The dance will be a closed affair with women dressing semi-formally, military students wearing white shirts with their uniforms and male civilians wearing tuxedos, MacKichan announced.

Patrons for the ball will be Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stuart McLeod, Col. and Mrs. O. L. Davidson, Lieut. and Mrs. Ernest Bremer, and Lieut. and Mrs. L. G. Branch.

Men's Council To Supervise 1942 Brawl

Men's council will have charge of the 1942 Fresh-Soph brawl, Student council voted last night. The move was made to secure better organization and prevent injuries, after a special committee reported on the situation. The report, made by Don Farmer, included four points:

1. Education of students through the State News as to the dangers of unlimited "bawling."
2. Formation of a committee at the beginning of the year to work with the intramural department to select suitable games.
3. Selection of sufficient referees from Varsity club to handle the games.
4. Consultation with women's organizations on arrangements for the post-brawl barbecue and dance.

Student council also approved the constitution of Porpoise, men's swimming honorary. The constitution must now be approved by the faculty committee on organizations.

Bud Hicks, Men's council representative, announced that Spartan hitchhiking cards are now on sale at the Union desk and both book stores.

Eight Judges Go On Practice Tour

Eight members of the Michigan State college livestock judging team left yesterday for a practice judging tour at Purdue university and Lynnwood and Puhner farms in Indiana.

Farm Crops Men Go To Agronomy Convo

Five men of the Michigan State college farm crops department left Tuesday to attend the annual American Society of Agronomy conference at Washington, D. C., which meets this week.

S. T. Dexter will give a paper on Alfalfa at the conference, C. M. Harrison will give one on "Loose Smut of Wheat," and H. M. Brown on "Pastures." Prof. H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops department will also attend the conference.

McDonel Will Speak At Farm Meeting

Karl H. McDonel will be toastmaster at the 17th annual dinner party of the Michigan State Farm Bureau at the Union tonight. The occasion is the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau at the college this week. Approximately 400 delegates representing 12,000 members in Michigan are expected to attend the annual meeting ending Friday.

'Group Votes Unanimously For Measure

Connolly to Report Results to Hannah For Consideration

By BOB ASTLEY

By a unanimous vote, the Student council adopted "M. S. C. Shadows" as the official alma mater of Michigan State college last night at its regular bi-weekly meeting.

According to Council President Tom Connolly, a statement to the effect that the council has made such a move will be presented to College President John A. Hannah today.

ACTION NOT OFFICIAL

Despite the fact that the council has adopted "M. S. C. Shadows" as the alma mater, it still will not be recognized as the official alma mater of this college until it has also been adopted by the administration and faculty boards and the State Board of Agriculture.

It is probable that the adoption will be considered by the faculty and administrative groups in their next meetings on Monday. The State Board of Agriculture will not meet until December 1. The motion, which was passed by the council last night, reads: "We, the Student Council of Michigan State college, adopt 'M. S. C. Shadows'—Page 2

If You Ask Me

Let's Not Fight
The War Right
Here—and Now

By Tom Greene

APPARENTLY SOME PEOPLE are beginning to notice. A few mentions have been made lately of the fact that this column tends to steer clear of the war and go in for the lighter side of things. And incidentally, I am fully aware that there is a war going on, here and in Europe.

THERE DOESN'T SEEM to be any particular need to fight that war in the columns of the State News. Despite the reams of war editorials being poured out by college editors it is doubtful that they can change the tide of the war one bit.

THOSE WHO DEPLORE the "apathy" of Michigan State students are probably right. Probably we should all join in some kind of a drive. Our effort will help the sum total of defense feeling and help Beat Hitler. What they overlook is that many of us will make plenty of effort, very soon.

SOME OF US ARE finishing an education under the dubious security of a II-A or II-B rating, while others in the R.O.T.C. will be called at any time. We'll make the effort when they call us. In the meantime, any other topic of debate is a welcome relief, and the crazier the better.

THE SUGGESTION OF A.W.S. that more time be spent thinking about the war and less about stockings is a good one. It is good now that wearing stockings is optional. State girls never wanted to think about stockings. They were forced to it by a rule that was the laughing-stock (no pun intended) of the country. Now that the sore spot has been removed they are free to think about even more petty annoyances, men, the war, or whatever they choose.

BUT COLLEGE STUDENTS have a right to discuss and think about anything under the sun. If there are worthwhile

Nation's Labor Policy Perilled By CIO 'Board' Resignation

The future of the National Defense Mediation Board and the entire labor policy of the United States government seemed to hinge on one point yesterday—the board's power to function following the resignation of the C.I.O. delegates in protest of the NDMB's decision to reject a closed-shop agreement for the C.I.O. in the nation's captive coal mines.

Following the board's rejection of a closed shop for the CIO's affiliate, United Mine Workers, CIO President Philip Murray and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, resigned from the board. The union took further action yesterday by postponing all pending strike mediation now before the NDMB, on the ground that the CIO is not represented.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, will meet with the union's policy committee tomorrow, and some observers believe that he may attempt to resume the strike which closed the captive mines late last month.

Executive Action Expected
If such action is taken, White House sources say, President Roosevelt may abandon his plan of voluntary mediation.

Nation's Labor Policy Perilled By CIO 'Board' Resignation

The future of the National Defense Mediation Board and the entire labor policy of the United States government seemed to hinge on one point yesterday—the board's power to function following the resignation of the C.I.O. delegates in protest of the NDMB's decision to reject a closed-shop agreement for the C.I.O. in the nation's captive coal mines.

Following the board's rejection of a closed shop for the CIO's affiliate, United Mine Workers, CIO President Philip Murray and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, resigned from the board. The union took further action yesterday by postponing all pending strike mediation now before the NDMB, on the ground that the CIO is not represented.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, will meet with the union's policy committee tomorrow, and some observers believe that he may attempt to resume the strike which closed the captive mines late last month.

If such action is taken, White House sources say, President Roosevelt may abandon his plan of voluntary mediation.

Dalers Face Strong Field In IC-4A Run

Brown Will Start Four Sophomores In Gotham Classic

Hard work and more of the same has been the program for the dalers this week as Coach Lauren P. Brown is coaching his proteges for the big country meet of the year, the IC-4A championship at New York City next Monday.

THREE VETERANS TO RUN

Three veterans of one IC-4A meet and four first-year men will start for the dalers in this 32 mile classic. In last year's Gotham classic, Ralph Monroe was 13th, Bill Brown, 18th, and Walter Beardslee, 22nd. Greenhorns Walt Mack Thompson, Maurice Horskamp, and Art Cody, the rest of the Spartan team, must come in their first big test if they are to win another title.

Back to the Spartans is the record of the defending champions, Rhode Island State. It is known that their record, which won the title last year, is intact this season. The question mark is the Dartmouth team which won the Heptagonal championship last week, hands down. They had won first, second and third ahead of the best that Connecticut, Yale, Harvard, and Columbia had to offer.

THREATEN MAC MITCHELL

Against the individual stars aiming to dethrone defending champion Mac Mitchell, are Don Johnson and Sid Bull of Dartmouth. Bob Nichols of Rhode Island State, who finished second last year, and Frank Leary of Harvard.

Syracuse and Colgate football teams will play each other twice in 1941, October 2 at Hamilton and November 13 at Syracuse.

ATO's, Phi Delts Clinch Block Championship In Frat League

AGR's Defeat AEPI's, 7-0 Hespiers Lose

Four undefeated interfraternity touch-football teams will put their records on the block Monday night when Sigma Nu, block 1 champions, meet Lambda Chi Alpha in the semi-finals of the fraternity playoffs. Title holders in block 3 and 4, Phi Delta Theta and Alpha Tau Omega, clash in the other semi-final game.

CHAMPS CROWNED

Two block champions emerged from the four games played last night as Phi Delta Theta chalked up its fourth straight victory, a two-first-down-to-one triumph over Phi Kappa Tau. The other block crown was won by Alpha Tau Omega with a 7-0 victory over Theta Chi. Late in the third quarter Square Howard LaDue shot a pass to Frank Heerman for a touchdown. Jack Hisslop scored the extra point.

HESPIERS FINALLY SCORE

Hesperian pushed over its first touchdown of the season in the opening quarter against Lambda Chi Alpha when Bob Colinson passed to Bruce McArthur. Lambda Chi Alpha made it a new ball game when John Slueter passed to Art Machler for a touchdown. Late in the fourth quarter, Hesperian was driven back over the goal line for a safety.

Alpha Gamma Rho moved into undisputed second place in block 3 standings with its third straight victory, a 7-0 triumph over Alpha Epsilon Pi.

tual outlawing of strikes. The second point is the 13th amendment which bars any involuntary servitude. Any law which would attempt to make workers return to their job would be immediately declared unconstitutional.

Davis, who has been associated with the Michigan State faculty for 10 years and who traveled extensively in Europe observing economic conditions pertinent to labor in 1937-38, would advocate a mediation board similar to that which has been used in England since the crisis at Donkey.

SEES NEW STUMP

Most men don't like facing economic thinkers today, with the exception of the strike problem, in Mr. Davis' estimation, is the alarming prospect of post-war

America with the entire defenseless population turned out into an idle industrial world.

Reports of the National Resources planning board, he noted, have forecast a total unemployment figure of 30 million men, (about 11 million very out of work in the depression of 1933).

Unless a period of transition is set up in advance, it will hit a low point in modern depression history.

Once the entire nation is united in a single endeavor, most of the minor considerations, such as strike problems, will fall into the background. Probably the strongest possible national defense effort will achieve this result, Davis concluded.

Mason 6. The lone score was counted for by "Boch" Enghardt's run in the first quarter.

Mason 7 defeated Abbot 11, 6-0 while Mason 3 won a forfeit over Abbot 13.

STARS INJURED

Abbot team upset previously unbeaten Mason 4, Tuesday night. This left a trio of teams with four wins and one defeat to their credit necessitating a playoff. Abbot 18 was paired with Abbot 14 yesterday with Mason 4 drawing a bye.

GLIEFE SCORES

Connie Gmell threw a 25-yard pass to Bob Glette, who was waiting at the end zone for the Abbot 18 touchdown. Gmell then ran the ball over for the extra point. The score occurred late in the fourth period after Abbot 18 had completely outplayed its opponents, but couldn't seem to cross the goal line until Glette's tally.

Mason 4 will go into the game tonight as underdog as they have already been beaten by Abbot 13. The Abbot club's passing combination of Grunnell-to-Glette, along with its hard blocking and running of Grunnell, will probably be too much for Captain Tommy Boxery and his boys. Boxery will be depending on the pass catching end Art Zahn and the defensive play of center Bill Saxon.

FINISH UNDEFEATED

The winners of blocks two and three, Mason 3 and Mason 8, both finished the regular season Tuesday night undefeated, being credited with five straight wins.

Mason 3 had to go into an overtime period before it could beat a fighting Abbot 12 seven, 7-1 on first downs. Long punts by Ed Lord kept Abbot 12 out of scoring territory but the Abbot club's de-

'T' Stands for Tomasic Saturday

Temple's Star Halfback Is Rated Among Nation's Best

Handy Andy is coming to town.

No, it isn't the name of a new motion picture starring Mickey Rooney, but means rather that Michigan State's football forces are slated to have a very busy afternoon Saturday on the turf of Mackinac Island.

The Spartans are expected to have a very busy afternoon Saturday on the turf of Mackinac Island.

For Mr. Tomasic, captain and key man of Temple university's gridiron Owls, is the latest in a growing list of dangerous backfield stars that the Spartans have had to face this season. First it was Michigan's Tommy Kuzma, then Jimmy Richardson of Marquette, Kenny Casanaga of Santa Clara, Bob Steuber of Missouri, and Purdue's John Petty.

But if performance means as much in football as in park plugs, Tomasic may be the best of all the towering All-American forwards. Andy, who runs, passes, kicks, makes Temple's field decisions, but not much else, is the No. 1 back along the eastern seaboard this season and the same last year when Temple won, 21-19 in Philadelphia.

TIED HARMON

The Hokendauqua, Pa. Speedster has been boomed for All-American rating ever since he pulled on his football pants for the first time this year. Last season he tied Tom Harmon for the most yards gained in the nation, 1,825, and completed 50 passes in 89 attempts.

Temple followers are already holding him a greater back than Swede Hanson or Dave Smukler, who are considered the peak of Owl grid stardom.

LEADS EAST

The leading point-producer at present in the East, Tomasic scored 36 points in the first three games of Temple's season. Last week he capped up and only passed the Owls to a 14-13 victory over Villanova. Temple has won five of its first six games.

That is the young man whom State is building a defense for this week to say nothing of Al Drinis, Angelo Sparagna, and George Sutch who round out the backfield, and the Owls' big line.

In State's camp it is expected that Coach Charley Bachman will start his all-senior line again against the Owls in what promises to be the game of the year in East Lansing. Will Davis is slated to be back in action this week, and Jack Fetzer may return to the right halfback post.

Williams '9' Nips Ewing Girls, 34-25, For Upset Victory

North Williams scored an upset last night in the intramural volleyball contest as it defeated Ewing-Rochdale House, 34-25.

The co-operative had been one of two undefeated teams in block one until this game. This defeat leaves South Williams, who was idle last night, in the top position.

Kappa Alpha Theta extended its string of victories to four as it defeated Benson-Robinson House, 52-25, to move into the lead in block two as the Kappa Kappa Gammas weren't scheduled to play.

In the other games, Alpha Omicron Pi beat Independents, 37-26; North Hall defeated Chi Omega, 35-32; East Mayo edged Zeta Tau Alpha, 33-10; West Mayo beat Kappa Delta, 36-17.

Quakers Turn Back Alpha Chi Sigma

Winning by the slim margin of one first down, the Quakers turned back the challenge of a raring Alpha Chi Sigma crew to win the block one championship and the right to meet the all-powerful DVZ Monday night at 8 p. m. in the semi-finals of the Independent league.

In the other semi-final game, the Tick Ticks clash with the Islanders.

Although the Quakers defeated Alpha Chi Sigma, 3 to 0 by virtue of a safety in their first meeting, both teams ended their regular scheduled season in a tie making the play-off necessary.

Sigma Nu Five Wins Third Straight

Bob Tolder's 211, the highest individual score of the evening, gave his Sigma Nu team a victory over the Alpha Gamma Rho number 3.9 in the Fraternity Bowling league Tuesday night.

In the other matches of the evening the Phi Chi Alpha defeated Alpha Epsilon Pi 3-0, Lambda Chi Alpha defeated Beta Kappa 3-0, and Phi Kappa Tau defeated Phi Delta Theta 2-1.

Polo Team Will Open Season With Illinois At Champaign Today

Squad to Meet Missouri on Saturday

By Bill Maddox

Coach Capt. Gerald Peterson will unveil his varsity polo team for the first time this afternoon in an outdoor game with Illinois at Champaign. Saturday afternoon the team will journey farther west to play the University of Missouri. The team leaves this morning at 4 a. m. by automobile.

After a week of secret scrimmage, topping off a month of intensive practice, Captain Peterson feels that his team should be able to equal last year's record of no defeats in intercollegiate indoor circles.

POLOISTS IMPROVE

"Teamwork and hard practice are up 100 per cent over last year. This season we have four seniors," he announced last night.

Playing No. 1 is Jack Backus, Berwyn, Ill. senior, and captain. Underneath him is the varsity Norm Spatz, Bridgeport senior.

Managers of all dorm touch-football teams please send your choices for an all-opponent team, to aid in picking an all-dorm team, to Sports Editor, State News office, as soon as possible.

Due to increased appropriations, Spartan poloists have new uniforms and playing equipment. During the summer the I.T.C.C. cavalry unit acquired two new polo ponies that are being trained for action in daily scrimmages.

Small Crowd Hears Concert By Stradivarius Quartet

By Ed Lew

One of the highest musical forms, the string quartet, provided two hours of entrancing music Tuesday night in College auditorium before a small crowd of 800 persons. The artists were the members of the Stradivarius Quartet, accepted as outstanding in their field.

The quartet, the second number of the student concert course, consists of Wolfe Wolfsohn, first violin; Bernard Robbins, second violin; Marcel Dick, viola; and Iwan d'Archembeau, violoncello.

The opening selection, perhaps the program's highlight, was a Quartet in G major by Haydn. The audience was small but appreciative of the artists' skillful interpretation of this typical Haydnish work, with its delicate sweetness and bright melodies. In this work, as in the entire program, the four men displayed excellent musical balance, intonation and coordination, the product of arduous rehearsals.

Even more noticeable than lovely tone quality was the skillful control of dynamics, helped by a well set-up amplifying system. The middle portion of the program was a Quartet by von Dohnanyi, in D flat major. Particularly interesting was the second movement in which a theme is introduced by the cello, taken up later by the other instruments and woven into a delightful contrapuntal passage.

The third movement is opened with a passage for first violin of singular lyric beauty. This theme is also voiced by cello, and a duet follows in which the two instruments echo and re-echo variations on the melody.

For its closing selection, the group chose a Schubert D minor quartet, subtitled "Death and the Maiden." The work was a maze of melodic line, interesting as pure music, but rather dull in comparison with the two more easily understandable numbers on the program.

QUARTET PLAYS WEDNESDAY

The quartet also was heard Wednesday noon at a luncheon of the Michigan State club in the Union building. At a concert Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Music building, Prof. F. Mannheimer of the music faculty appeared with the four in a Brahms quintet.

The group is under the sponsorship of the American Association of Colleges as a part of their arts program.

Spartan Creator Passes

One of Michigan State's "best remembered and most liked" alumni died Tuesday in Los Angeles, Calif. His formal name was James G. Hays III, but to everyone, faculty or student, who knew him at all personally he was "Jimmy Hays."

B. M. O. C. fade quickly from memory, and it takes some accomplishment out of the ordinary to continue to exist as a vital and remembered personality after graduation.

But Jimmy Hays certainly had what it takes. He was president of the student council, head cheerleader, a member of Blue Key, Varsity club, Excelsior, and Phi Delta Theta. Furthermore, he gained what is the true aim of every B.M.O.C., to be truly popular with a great number of persons of all types.

More than just a B. M. O. C., however, he also made a name to last beyond the pale of graduation in his work in student publications. A reporter on the State News, and president of the now-defunct Press club in his junior year, Jimmy drew up plans for a monthly magazine to fill the gap between the State News and the Wolverine. And as a result in December 1936, the present Spartan Magazine was founded and the first issue published.

The progress of his disease was

Student Council President Tom Connelly urges voters to express their preference in today's primary but warned that each voter must present his identification card at the polls to be eligible to vote.

Voting machines and lists of eligible voters will be handled by the divisional councils, Quigley said.

The Nov. 18 election is a special election to fill six new council posts which were created by the passage of a student-approved amendment to the Student council constitution last spring.

The amendment provided for six new council positions by increasing the number of Liberal Arts representatives from two to four, and Home-Economics, Engineering, Agriculture, and Applied Science representatives from one to two.

When questioned as to the possible vote, Quigley said, "It's the first time we've had an election like this in the fall, and it's hard to say how heavy the vote will be. Of course, we want everyone to express his opinion by voting. Quigley concluded by warning, "We want a good, clean election."

The members elected on Nov. 18 will serve through spring term.

Sociologists Plan To Meet Tonight

Sociology majors and interested students will attend an open meeting of Pi Alpha, Sociology club, in room one of the Home Ec building at 7:30 tonight, President Betty Bowser, Detroit senior said yesterday.

Genial, witty, and humorous right down to his final trip to California this fall, he kept up the brave pretense of normal life. But even the most courageous humor failed to halt the poison in his blood, and Wednesday morning word was sent of his death.

AWS Council Meets: Set Date for Banquet Of Panhel Women

A. W. S.—
At a meeting Tuesday night, Associated Women Students' council set Jan. 10 as the date for a conference of State's A. W. S. with women delegates from other Michigan colleges and universities. Purpose of the conference, lasting from Saturday morning through luncheon, is to establish good will between Michigan colleges, and to allow for an exchange of ideas and suggestions on A. W. S. and other women's organizations while there is still time this year to use them.

Panhellenic Council—
Date of the annual Panhellenic banquet has been set for November 27, according to President Miriam Phelps. General chairman of the event, Georgia Eagle, announces the following committees: Doris Holland, program; Norma Henningson, tickets; Virginia Taylor, invitations; Margaret Adler, food; and Nan Rowley, flowers and table decorations.

Home Ec Club—
First open meeting of the Home Ec board was held Tuesday. President Judy Crozier announces highlight of the meeting was discussion of what the club can do for camp boys' entertainment in cooperation with U. S. O. Possibilities of a campus organization.

THE RIGHT RECIPE FOR THANKSGIVING

Go HOME by GREYHOUND

• The right place to eat Thanksgiving dinner is at home—and the right way to get home is by Greyhound! Maybe money doesn't mean anything to you—and then again maybe it does. At any rate you'll save a lot of it traveling at Greyhound's low round-trip fares—and you'll have a lot more fun going with the crowd. Plan now to take this trip to "turkey" by Super-Couch at a super-saving!
