

"It's a curious thing," stated Mardi Gras voting shaman yesterday, "but after a observation I've discovered that it is the women on campus who are doing all the voting for Mardi Gras queen."

"Either the men can't make up their minds, or they are bashful, but they just seem to stand back. We won't even vote, since the money which one you like best goes to the same thing. I think it is shyness on our part, we don't see much that's worth around here."

Love—It's Great

"Poetry often brings up some stories. It unearthed one, waiting for Miss E. H. Sholl, English instructor, yesterday. She came to the term 'all-absorbing love' while explaining poetry to her students, and paused, groping for an example.

"It's like the fellow I met on the street yesterday," she observed.

"As a greeting, I asked him how's everything today?" He replied, "Oh, she's fine!"

Blow Some More

SPATLLE, March 11 (TP)—Miss Sally Rand said today that she is taking a mighty serious problem because of the war, going only 14 of the large fast and semi-transparent balloons with which she clothes herself during her bubble dance. And with a slightly number, said Sally, she doesn't know how or when she can get any more bubbles.

Here to Pile It?

Students snooping around believe the power plant may have started a huge and growing pile of coal in that locality. To realize them that the college isn't getting into the coal business, officials stated yesterday that next year's supply of coal was purchased early to release freight cars for defense work later. This was done at the suggestion of the government. Approximately 20,000 tons will be collected before summer—each ton can be found for all oil according to perplexed buildings and grounds crewmen.

Ship Believed Lost at Sea

WASHINGTON, March 11 (TP)—The 3,275-ton American freighter Malama was listed as "overdue and presumed lost at sea." The last known location of the freighter was given, but it was thought she had been lost in the Pacific.

The Malama, owned by the Union Navigation Co., would be the fifth vessel reported lost in the area. Two tankers, the Empire and the Montebello were sunk a few miles off the California coast by enemy submarines operating in that area during the early days of the war.

A total of eight ships are known to have been attacked in Pacific waters close to the American coast. The Malama was built in 1935 at Newark, N. J. The vessel could normally carry a crew of men.

WASHINGTON, March 11 (TP)—The bill introduced by the Congressional Committee to smash out another tax on the administration, voting 116 to 47 to retain the 1942 agriculture appropriation in sale of commodity credit overration stocks at prices under $100.

LATE FLASHES FROM TRANSRADIO PRESS

Under the Wire

HAVANA, March 12 (TP)—President Batista has signed the bill providing for the introduction of compulsory military service for male Cuban citizens between the ages of 18 to 50. The measure exempts married men with children from the compulsory service and does not apply when the law will come into force.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 11 (TP)—FBI agents and army officials began an investigation tonight of the fire that swept through the floor of a warehouse and destroyed valuable cases of parachute silk. The silk was said to be valued at $2,000 a case.

CHICAGO, March 11 (TP)—President Robert Hutchins of Chicago University defended tonight the policy of granting Bachelor degrees after only two years' attendance and said that the final two years of high school made them full four-year degrees.

Ballet to Add Glamour To Coronation

Dancers Plan To Present Program At Masquerade

Co-starring with "Miss Michigan State College—Queen of Defense" at the Mardi Gras coronation ceremonies will be ballet dancers from Virginia Seminary school of the dance in Lansing, according to Jack Bush, Eng. 43, coronation chairman.

Complete details of the ceremonies have not yet been announced, but Bush said that the program would last about 45 minutes and take place at the masquerade sometime between 10 and 11 p. m. Students and faculty not attending the dance who wish to see the coronation may do so for a slight charge, Bush added.

Students also wished to remind students to vote for the Mardi Gras queen. The boxes along with pictures of candidates will remain in the Union throughout this week and past of next. All money collected will go to some charitable organization. "Let's all pitch in," he stated. "Pennies for defense."

Announcer for the program will be a Michigan State graduate of 1941, Forrest Owen, W.H.M. Lansing radio station of the Michigan network will carry the broadcast.

In Detroit they will sing at two high schools also; Director Edwin Stein said yesterday. Among the singers will be "MSC Alma Mater," "The Cossack," "Away to Rio," and "Whence I View You Comely Grace," "Keep in the Middle of the Road," "Lo, How a Rose Ever Blooming," and "Star Spangled Banner." Ted Hart, L.A. 42, will sing a solo, "I Love These."

Announcer for the program will be a Michigan State graduate of 1941, Forrest Owen, W.H.M. Lansing radio station of the Michigan network will carry the broadcast.

Miss Bourke-White has spent much of her time in Russia attempting to record photographically the progress of the five year plan. Late issues of Life carry her photographs and commentaries on Russia including shots of Stalin, the peasants, and factories. One of her more interesting series was a study of Christianity in Russia. Her travels have taken her to Europe, the Far East and the Arctic Circle. She has photographed New York skyscrapers under construction, steel mills, coal mines and other major industries.

The student body would be at the convocation, Hannah said that meeting time had been changed because "many students work during the evening." At 10 a. m. classes will be cancelled, he said, and 11 a. m. classes will also be dismissed if the convocation lasts longer than an hour. The Union and the library will be closed during the convocation.

As was previously announced for the convocation, the men's glee club will sing for 15 minutes before Hannah's morning talk and 10 minutes at its conclusion.

Without elaborating on the details of his coming talk, President Hannah said that the convocation, the first since the declaration of war, would deal with the student, college, and war.

War's Effect Will be Theme Of Two New Spring Courses

Current history and the economic effects of war will be the themes of two new courses introduced here next term. The courses will be history 130 and economics 462.

Offered for three credits by the economics department, "Economics of War" will be primarily for seniors, according to Prof. H. S. Patton, who will teach the course. Prof. F. W. R. Fee will teach the history department's new course, "Contemporary history in Europe and Asia."

No limit has been placed on the enrollment in Economics 462, Patton said, and the methods of teaching will depend largely upon the enrollment in the course. A text published last month has been chosen for the class, but will not be followed rigidly, he stated. Only prerequisite for the course is Economics 209b or 210b. The

Magazine Pix Take to Talk Here Tonight

Bring Books Back From Vacation For Servicemen—Towne

The 600 book quota set for Michigan State college will be reached without difficulty, J. E. Towne, faculty chairman of the Victory Book campaign, declared yesterday.

That students will, while they are home during vacation, search through their personal libraries for books to be brought back spring term and to be donated to the book drive, is the latest request by the committee, he said.

The student program, handled by Norman Henningsen, which includes the collecting of books from dormitories, sororities and fraternities, and the house to house canvases have been very successful, Towne stated.

The wire baskets which are in the lobbies of the Union and Library, he mentioned, have been emptied many times lately.

Young Officers Receive Army Promotions

WASHINGTON, March 11 (TP)—President Roosevelt today announced the Army's young bloods in high places by naming 37 officers for promotion. The ranking officer promoted is 49-year-old Major General Somervell, commander of the services of supply.

Somervell heads one of the three departments of the new reorganized Army. The President asked the Senate to confirm Somervell's temporary promotion to Lieutenant General.

Twelve Brigadier Generals to be made Major Generals are all in their fighting fifties. These are the officers who will soon lead American troops in foreign theaters of war or who will plan allied strategy.

The President also nominated 43 colonels for temporary promotion to Brigadier Generals. All but nine are in their active forties.

Temporary promotions apply only to the wartime army and will revert to former rank at the end of hostilities.

Dance to Show No Scrimping, Morgan Says

Despite efforts to economize in view of the national defense effort this year's Senior ball will show no evidence of scrimping, Bill Morgan, class president, stated yesterday.

Contrary to rumors being circulated, there will be no additional tickets sold after the original $80 limit has been set," he added.

Music for the ball, which will be held Friday at 9 p. m. in the auditorium, will be provided by Bob Chester and his band with Jack Widick Union band vice-president.

Quayle has volunteered to play because the high cost of union bands makes it impossible to rent one and keep the same low price of admission to the dances, Widick said.

Melting snows caused the Red Cedar to rise slightly yesterday, but although light rains were predicted for last night and today, Widick said he did not expect the river to rise much above its present level.

All money taken in at the door will be used by the Union board to purchase defense bonds and stamps. It hopes to continue the series of dances and will be able to do so with full support of the student body and campus bands, Widick said. "It's an easy way to dance out your contribution to defense."

If You Ask Me

Need a Course?
Yell Loudly—
And Quickly

By Tom Greene

THE HOURS ARE SLOSHING by these days and pretty doggone soon it's going to be spring term. And spring term is going to be the last term for a lot of students who will be going into our armed services. What is being done to help them make better fighters?

WELL, YOU'LL FIND out when you take that required phys ed spring term. That will help achieve physical condition. But there's more to war than just physical condition. There has to be training. The courses authorized at the last faculty meeting will help a little. They are a fine idea, but they don't go far enough.

MATHEMATICS, THAT SPECTRE OF Liberal Arts students, is going to be important. Army and Navy men here to seek officer candidates from the student body have found mathematics the biggest stumbling block. There are students who want to take courses in math. One course that should be given is essentials of navigation. This would be useful in either the air corps or the navy. But there is no such course.

THERE IS ONE WAY to get it, but there will have to be some fast action. If enough students ask for it it will be offered. Some students have already been delegated by the OSD to push the project. They say that if 20 students want the course it can be given. So if you want to take it and have had some essential math such as trigonometry, now is the time to get logging. LEAVE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS AT THE UNION DESK UNDER NAVIGATION COURSE and maybe something can be done in a hurry.

AND WHILE WE'RE AT it, how about some basic math courses for spring term? Students accepted for officers' training are now finding they need mathematics. Under the old schedule only advanced courses are given spring term. Someone has said that we are in a war now. Maybe something can be done toward winning it right here in some of our college departments.

Talking about elections well, the Greeks are all talking about them this week, for almost every home on campus has chosen their new officers for next terms. So let's make that a special campaign issue, or something.

Only a Penny

This is one election where you can't gripe about politics. Whomever the campus chooses as Queen of the Mardi Gras party will be the one who gets the most votes.

Every girl entered has an equal chance.

The biggest difficulty is knowing which of the pretty candidates to vote for. In case you can't make up your mind, flip a coin—then drop it in one of the boxes in the Union.

In any case, start dropping those coins. You'll be voting and at the same time giving money to charity.

Besides, you'll be contributing to making a success of a new party idea at Michigan State.

No Sour Notes

In case you haven't noticed there is one campus organization which has shown plenty of life this year.

This group is the men's glee club, which today is singing in Detroit. During the day it will serenade several high school assemblies and this evening will broadcast over many of the stations of the Michigan radio network.

Time in on the program. It's your glee club and a good one. And it's doing a lot to make Michigan State better known around the state.

Cory Explains Air Protection Set-Up Plans

NEW DELHI, March 11 (TP)—Defense lines were being drawn across central Burma tonight in preparation for expected Japanese assaults on Mandalay and Akyab, strong-holds points for an attack on India.

British Imperial forces were understood to be taking up positions about 130 miles north of Rangoon. The Japs, meanwhile, were moving across the Irrawaddy delta in southern Burma with no opposition. Military and civil authorities in that area were withdrawn when it became apparent that a successful defense could not be conducted there.

Stimson Inspects Panama Defenses

HAILING U. S., March 11 (TP)—War Secretary Stimson made a whirlwind tour of Canal Zone defenses today. Stimson took off from Albrook field in the Pacific side of the Canal-Zone this morning in a heavy bomber. This plane was escorted by a swarm of 20 Japs.

By these plans, East Lansing will be divided into five sectors of which the college campus will constitute one. Two wardens will be in charge of each sector. Sections will be subdivided into posts the campus sector being composed of 12 posts.

There will be four post wardens, selected from the faculty by sector wardens. After the selection of wardens is completed they will be given a training course which will cover the basic information necessary to their positions.

This will include first aid, fire prevention, flying bomb types, gas and blackout instructions.

Cory said the possibility of a final blow to the Canal-Zone depends on the plan of the State Council for Civil Defense, and probably no action will be taken here until instructions to that effect have been issued by the Defense Council.

From the air, the War Secretary viewed the great Panama Canal and Manzanillo locks, Howard Field, and the Gatun locks. The trip took 20 minutes and landed at France Field on the Atlantic side of the Canal Zone.

The War Secretary disclosed that he and the Panama departmental commander, General Angus, had discussed a possible intervention for a time of Balboa harbor and the southern islands which guard the Pacific portal of the canal.

Mark Burdett, another L.A., '44, who will be second vice-president Secretary is Carl Hart, L.A., '43, and treasurer is Murray Langstroth.

ENGAGED is Doris Anderson, L.A., '42, who has been wearing a ring she received from Clarence Hartman, date.

MARRIED is another Kappa Sig junior, Bill Millions of Chicago.

CCC Swimming Meet May Rival Nationals

Field of Eight Likely by Saturday

Bruce Monks

When Knute Rockne, Ralph Young, and Con Jennings organized the Central Collegiate conference in 1926, they probably never realized its possibilities outside the field of track. All State's coach, Charles McCaffree, did. The first annual CCC swimming championship will be held at the Jenison pool Saturday morning.

The event was inaugurated by the State to promote swimming in the midwest, to provide a meet for non-collegiate schools, and to provide a meet for the members of the State squad, who do not participate in the official meet events. Only members of the squad can compete at a time during the season and this tournament will show what the less publicized members of the team are doing. Since this part of the CCC tournament has become an annual event, rivaling the collegiate and AAU events.

This story may belong on the sports page, or it may not. It has to do with athletics—basketball, in particular—but we hesitate to say it has to do with athletes.

Anyway, it's all the result of a challenge fired two weeks ago by the sports staff of the Michigan Daily, the University of Michigan newspaper, to the sports staff of the State News for a basketball game. Originator of this farcical classic was Hal Wilson, Daily sports editor.

The loyal Spartans of the State News promptly responded, so now the game is on for Thursday afternoon—5 o'clock in the Jenison gym. Student books are not required for admission (in fact, we doubt that students would care to witness such a spectacle).

Several other staff members have volunteered to come to the rescue of the sports staff with the result that the State News will have a lengthy but probably impotent cage roster of Tom Riordan, Bill Maddox, Bob Storms, Ruth Kowalsky, Dick Jankoska, Bruce Monks, Sheldon Moyer, Ed Kitzen, Tom Greene, Bill Konde, Ellis Brandt, Ken Kuhn, Bill Johnston, Lloyd Hoxie, Dave Jones and Marshall Damm.

Rudy York Handed Tiger Ultimatum

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11 (UPI)—First Baseman Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers, was told today to take it or leave it. General Manager Jack Zeller gave the hardy first sacker 24 hours in which to sign his 1942 contract.

The State team of five shooters under the supervision of Lieutenant Norman Henderson, finished in 13 telegraphic matches and has emerged with 11 victories. Included among the victims was the expected ruler of intermediate target shooting—the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, 1378 to 1381.

The other schools which were conquered in order of their rankings were M. I. T., Yale, Arkansas State, Ohio State, St. Bonaventure, U. of D., Kentucky, Carroll, Iowa State, Wisconsin and Xavier. The Spartans have averaged close to 1370X1360 in these 13 matches, and the closest score was against West Point, 1378 to 1381.

The members of this undefeated team in order of their rankings are: Bill Seard, Herb Riley, Pete Von Valin, Bob French and Don Hill.

SAE, Sigma Nu Tied; Title At Stake In Relay Today

Surging from behind, the SAE tied the Sigma Nus last night with first places in the mile run and high jump of the interfraternity track meet. In the run-away race with no serious competitors, the two houses have only the half-mile relay left this afternoon to decide the meet.

JONES RESTING

Albert Jones, junior, and his year leading pitcher, has been nursing a sore arm and hasn't pitched this last week. His averages up to them speak for themselves.

Robert Teller, a senior and Carl Getz, a junior, are the only other two returning varsity men for whom percentages have been figured. Joe Sklarick, junior, cut pitcher from last season, is expected to show good results in his practice percentages.

Robert Bobo, Raymond Tscheller, John Garling, all sophomores and Dick Bennett, a junior, complete the list of pitchers with known averages. Garling is the only left-hander in the group. Gordon Miller, sophomore and the only other pitcher out for the pitching staff, is among the group which have not completed averages.

The averages:

Pitcher	Curves	Fast	Slow
Jones	.665	.688	.648
Teller	.687	.694	.611
Getz	.583	.642	.516

TWO HAVE SHUTTED

Outfielders missing from last year include Witte Davis, converted to second from right field; Howard LaDue, who is back at his original position as catcher, and Steve Jakubowski, who failed to return to school this year. Those returning for their old position are Wyman Davis, left field; Capt. Bill Fitzsimmons, centerfield. Both Fitz and Wy are returning for their third and last year.

Other outfielders trying for positions on the squad include Gaylord Klaiver, Ed Ciolek, Jack Fenlon and Forest Craver.

Outfielders making the Southern trip, starting a week from Saturday, will be those Kobs know something about. Wy and Fitz are sure to go but the right fielder will have to be chosen from the other men with Ciolek probably on the inside-track. One or two others will also be selected.

Women's Faculty Cagers Set Styles In Loss to W.A.A.

Although they took all sort of honors for the most colorful uniforms, the women's faculty team lost the annual basketball game with a WAA honor team, 16 to 9, Tuesday night in the women's gym.

The faculty team was captained by Miss D. J. Parker, smartly dressed in a creation of orange bloomers, long black stockings and a natty muddy blouse. Other members who won outstanding

Delta Gamma Mu

New officers of Delta Gamma Mu, national recognition society for college women fencers, were announced yesterday by past Pres. Rachel Friedman.

New officers include Donnie Riesing, president; Constance Tamlinson, first vice-president; and Lois Newman, second vice-president.

Secretary for the coming year will be Dorothy Leathers; treasurer—Jean Desmond; and social chairman—Rachel Friedman. Jean Ketchem will be publicity manager.

Twelve candidates for pledging present at the honorary meeting were given a test for fencing skill. They will be notified as to their acceptance, and pledging will take place the third week of spring term.

Prof. Tom King, adviser for OSD, revealed that the administration possessed several American flags, and the Y.W.C.A. group representative volunteered to place these in various locations throughout the campus.

Bill Schirra, a representative, took the floor to state that it was the duty of OSD to overcome the "lack of student interest in national defense." Schirra attributed the winter term "failure" of OSD to the fact that it had not appealed directly to all of State's students, and gave his views on student defense reorganization for spring term.

Members of Matrix, women's journalism honorary, will have the privilege of talking to Photographer Margaret Bourke-White in her dressing room after tonight's lecture, according to Clarence Carr, E.-A. '42, Matrix president.

House Approval Given To Dies Committee

WASHINGTON, March 11 (UPI)—A militant minority failed today in its efforts to disband the Dies committee at the House passed by a vote of 331 to 46 a resolution continuing the investigation of un-American activities until next January.
