

2,000 Expected For Freshman Week

College Living Cost Raised $1 a Week

Dorm, Co-op Room and Board Prices to Rise Fall Term

Michigan State's dormitories and cooperative houses will experience a blanket $1 per week raise with the beginning of fall term due to rising food prices, Sec. Karl H. McDonel said yesterday. Room and board prices will thus be raised to $11 per week at women's dormitories and $9.50 at Mason-Abbot halls, he said. Co-op rates will be raised to $6.50.

McDonel, who is also chairman of the college dormitory committee, said that the continually rising prices of food had "forced" the committee to this action and that it was surprising the decision had been deferred to this date.

Although the committee considered a raise in rates prior to spring term of this year, opinions of dormitory and co-op residents were asked for, and when their disapproval became apparent the

Miss Greedy Is Added To Home Ec Staff

Miss Dorothy Greedy, formerly from Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa, has taken the place of Miss Evalyn Bergstrand in the home management and child care department, according to word from the Home Ec division.

As part of her teaching activities during second session, Miss Greedy is the resident supervisor of home management house No. 6, the only home management house open this session.

The women living in the house this term are: Mae Burton, Lucille Franzen, Phyllis Trese, Margaret Bedder, Esther Lamphere, Betty Kahrs, Polly Weber, and Louise Roth.

President Urges Parents to Keep Autos at Home

Letter from Hannah Tells Them How to Save Tires

In a letter to be mailed Monday to the parents of all Michigan State students, Pres. John Hannah urges cooperation in the national rubber conservation drive by withholding automobiles from sons or daughters in college unless "absolutely necessary."

Students' cars are usually a matter of "convenience rather than necessity," President Hannah stresses. In view of the need of conserving passenger car tires for essential use, the president recommends that parents permit automobiles only in cases of necessity.

Most cars operated by students are "time consumers," Hannah states. He also points out that as the tire situation becomes more acute, public opinion will oppose such non-essential tire usage.

The president states in the letter that automobiles are hardly a necessity for students living in Lansing in view of public transportation. Students living in East Lansing are within reasonable walking distance of the campus, he says.

Begin New Campus Drive Between Dairy and Ag Hall

Construction of a new driveway was started Tuesday under the supervision of Ward Davenport, head of the department of buildings and grounds.

The project is between the dairy and Ag hall, continuing north in back of the Entomology, Forestry, Botany and Bacteriology buildings, to open a direct route through to the Horticulture building.

Registration Will Equal '41 Yearling Enrollment

Proportion of Men Will Be Up to Last Year; Linton Attributes High Total to Army-Navy Advocacy of More Education

Freshman enrollment at Michigan State will be up to normal levels this fall despite the demands of industry and the armed services, Registrar R. S. Linton predicted this week.

Linton said he estimated that 2,000 or more students—approximately equivalent to the 2,079 of last year—would be on hand Monday, Sept. 21, for the opening of Freshman Week activities.

"The army enlisted reserve program has proved a great boon to our college enrollment," Linton said. "Just as many men as ever will matriculate this fall because this program now allows them to get military training and an education at the same time."

More Engineering Students

He said the college advised freshman men to complete at least a term's work before enrolling in the reserve program.

"Other factors in the enrollment's staying at a high level are the emphasis of the army and navy on education, and the fact that people have more money these days and are better able financially to send their children to school," the registrar said.

Freshmen to Tour Campus

Registrar's office records showed a noticeable increase in Engineering division enrollment. About 125 students have also entered the recently-opened special two-year curriculum for men.

Each incoming student has been assigned to an adviser and will follow the week's activities with a group under the direct supervision of that adviser.

Dance and Picture Are Slated Again For Entertainment

The Union ballroom will be the scene tomorrow night of the third all-college dance of the present session, with Ed Berry's band again presenting the music.

The party will begin at 9 p. m., with students admitted free. One more dance is scheduled for next Friday night.

First of two second session movies, Frank Capra's production of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," was shown last night. Next Wednesday the final movie of the session, "Foreign Correspondent," starring Joel McCrea and Jean Arthur, will be shown. The program, complete with short subjects, will be shown at 7 and 9 p. m. in Fairchild theater.

To Give 'Victory Bulls'

Forty-three pure-bred Jersey bulls, donated by Michigan Jersey breeders, are to be given away Friday at the college picnic grounds, under sponsorship of the American Jersey Cattle club. The presentation is part of a nationwide program this week, in which a total of 1,000 "victory" bulls will find new owners in various parts of the country to improve production of their herds.

Worcester, English Head, Goes Into Navy; Falcone, Band Director, Ready for Army

... to leave for army ...

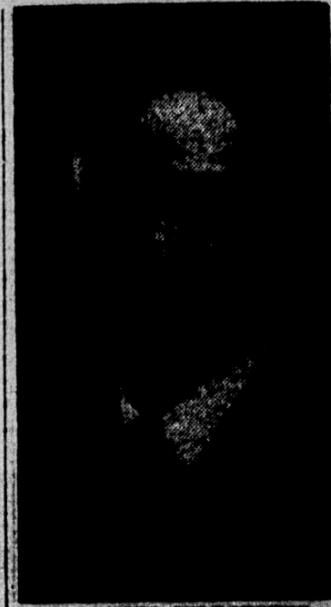

Dr. David Worcester, head of the English department, is now on leave from Michigan State college for "naval intelligence work," it was revealed yesterday by Pres. John A. Hannah, and Leonard Falcone, Michigan State college band director, expects to be in the army shortly.

Doctor Worcester came here last fall from the Harvard university staff. He was graduated from Hobart college and did his graduate work at Harvard.

In the absence of Doctor Worcester, plans for the English department will be laid out by Dean L. C. Emmons when he returns from his vacation next week.

Falcone's leave, to be in effect for the duration of the war, terminates 15 years' work as director of the college's military band. During this time the band of approximately 100 pieces has

Hurrying Holsteins

"Bossie" will have to work harder, too, for the war effort. Prof. Earl Weaver of the dairy department recommends that farmers milk their cows three times a day, instead of the customary two, in order to keep up with the accelerated war-production schedule.

Careless Reading

There has been some misunderstanding because of careless reading of the (carefully written) story in the State News for Thursday, July 30, 1942, regarding the clearing of the library attic," according to Jackson Towne, librarian.

"No bound newspapers are being offered for scrap, nor any bound federal documents nor duplicate magazines, as some people seem to have assumed, after an apparently too hasty scanning of Miss Pur-dy's (good) news story," Mr. Towne continued. "No old unbound newspapers are involved; and certainly no rarities in any category would ever be casually discarded. Incomplete files of the Chicago Tribune since 1940, the Detroit Free Press since 1924, the Grand Rapids Press since 1939, and the State Journal since 1925 represent 90 per cent of the material it is planned to sell as waste."

Vet Forgets

C. J. Schneider of the Detroit Creamery company writes the Michigan State News about two students who thumbed a ride to Detroit with him two weeks ago, and forgot part of their belongings.

Schneider says one of the students was a Vet who left his raincoat. The pair got out of Schneider's car, a green Packard, on Lahser road. The students claim their belongings by writing to Schneider at the Detroit Creamery.

U.S. Opens Exams To Summer Grads

For the third time this year the United States Civil Service Commission is holding its junior professional assistant examination for college students.

Federal positions paying $2,000 a year, connected with important war activities, will be filled by those attaining an eligible rating. Applications must be filed with the commission in Washington, D. C., by Aug. 27.

Planned primarily to recruit college students who will graduate in the summer session, the examination consists of a general test designed to measure aptitude and general knowledge. College graduates, and senior students who will complete their courses by Sept. 30, 1942, may apply. There are no age limits.

No options are specified, although qualified persons are particularly desired in the fields of business administration, public administration, economics, library science, statistics, and mathematics through calculus. Persons who received eligible ratings in the last junior professional examination announced April 13 need not apply, as appointments will be made from both lists established.

Slow But Sure, City Fathers 'Doodit'

A WONDROUS deed was accomplished in East Lansing this week.

It wasn't anything alarming or sensational as far as that goes. But it was something of a reawakening nature; something that made you feel that gradually people will get around to doing things when they find time.

So let it be understood here and now, that this wondrous deed is something which has been forgotten by most people. It isn't anything like the case of the local merchant who refuses to advertise because he has too much student business. ('Cause we'll remember that.)

No, it was just a matter that the State News began editorializing about three years ago. The State News continually stressed the danger of walking between parked cars on Grand River avenue. Yet there were crosswalks in the boulevard, but no spaces laid out for crosswalks at the curb.

Slow but sure, the city of East Lansing has done something about it.

Why, haven't you noticed those brilliant yellow crosswalks which are laid out as no parking zones?

Are You Writing Any Service Men?

EVERY day a lot of everyone's friends go into the armed forces of the United States. And the number of your friends joining up will increase as the days go by.

The President and War department officials say that before the next year is over every able-bodied man who isn't engaged in vital war work where he can't be replaced by a woman will be in some branch of the service.

When they get into the service, these men gradually begin to find out who their real friends are. Many soldiers have told us that their real friends write to them, while their pseudo chums even fail to answer greetings from those who have gone to fight.

Even casual college acquaintances will appreciate a letter from former classmates at Michigan State. Through its column, "Spartans at War," the State News will try to keep its readers in touch with all changes of address of service men.

But whether you used to go steady with him, were his roommate, or just sat across the table from him in speech class, take time to write the service man. It's the least you can do as patriotic Spartans.

Total War to Mean Large Losses

WE ARE on the offensive. For the first time in this war, American forces have moved against the enemy. This first offensive re-emphasizes the need for increased effort on the home front. The operations against the Solomon Islands at the very start cost us one cruiser and damage to other warships.

"Considerable losses, such as are inherent in any offensive operation, must be expected," said Admiral King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet.

We must go from offensive to offensive, if we are to win this war. We can win only by driving the Japs from the territory they have seized, by driving the Nazis from Europe and the Near East. To do this, we must accept losses on a great scale, and we must prepare for these losses.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

A MEETING of retail clerks in Lansing last week-end served notice on merchants in the town that the unions are out to organize employes servicing the retail trade of Lansing.

With their attempts to organize everyone else in the country, it has surprised many that a drive in this direction wasn't started sooner. Probably the biggest reasons were that so few employes work under one management, and that there isn't much profit in it for organizers.

Unionists have apparently devoted their efforts to organizing everything else in sight, and having run out of fields to work on, started in on the retail clerks. Wages can be their only possible gripe in most cases today. For merchants won't, and in many instances, can't match those paid by war factories.

Good Clerks Scarce

Aside from this, the smart merchant has made things as enjoyable as possible for his workers. He knows that the least irritation will make them quit for more lucrative jobs. If he thinks it will make them satisfied where they are, he will even go to great lengths to kowtow to his clerks' desires.

In his own defense, the merchant will cite price ceilings as profit handicappers. He'll tell you the government asked him to keep prices down, while wholesale prices skyrocketed. Then price ceilings went on before he had anywhere near adjusted his retails to the prices he paid.

Then too, many will argue that a good sales clerk names his own price; that they'll gladly pay more to those worth more. Customers have even remarked on the poor quality of clerks that wait on them. Good clerks are hard to get.

Students Stoned Them

And this condition gets worse every day, with men going to the services, and both men and women attracted to war factories.

Union organizers will undoubtedly find conditions which should be corrected. There are those in every business, and unions have done the working-man a great service in seeing that abuses are abolished. Whatever the outcome, unions can't raise wages much. You can't charge more than the traffic will bear.

Some students at Michigan State will remember the fracas caused in 1937 when union agitators got aggressive in East Lansing and tried to organize the college city. The student body met them halfway and drove the burly toughies into the Red Cedar, stoning them all the way to the city limits on the river. Since then unions have steered clear of the town.

ever, in some cases vacancies exist which pay $1,800, $1,620 and $1,440 a year. These positions will be filled by persons willing to accept the lower salaries. Appointees will perform professional, subprofessional, technical, semitechnical, or clerical work in connection with various governmental war activities.

Announcements and forms for applying may be obtained at first and second class postoffices.

Emotional Traits Of Men and Mice Alike, Says Doctor

Rats have emotional and personality traits paralleling those of human beings, believes Dr. Robert C. Tryson, University of California psychologist.

His findings are based on years of observations, during which he has determined that rats are better subjects for emotional and nervous reaction study than human beings.

Dr. Tryson has established that the female rat is more "high-strung," and is capable of more complex and varied emotional responses than the male.

Twenty per cent of the females he found are more emotional than the most emotional male. Likewise, 20 per cent of the males are less emotional than the least excitable female.

He has found the emotional behavior of rats and other rodents varies from the "neurotic," or nervous animal, to phlegmatic rats, almost incapable of very great emotional reactions.

committee cast out the plan.

Dean of Women Elisabeth Conrad said women's dorm waiting lists have been closed, and that only a few off-campus rooms are still available for fall.

Men's Housing Director G. Ron Heath urged East Lansing householders to list their rooms at his office as soon as possible because of the large number of men students coming to the campus to select their rooms early.

Householders should apply for approval licenses at the city hall before listing rooms, and should inform his office as soon as rooms are filled, Heath said.

THINKIN' OUT LOUD

By Sheldon Moyer

ELMER DAVIS' Office of War Information recently published a lengthy pamphlet titled "Four Freedoms."

"The United Nations fight for the 'Four Freedoms,' freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of want and freedom of fear," says the pamphlet.

And from there, it continues to elaborate on the matter for 15 pages. Probably passed over in many cases is a comparatively short preface which elucidates its meaning in short, meaningful words, and concise sentences.

It follows: "The four freedoms of common humanity are as much elements of man's needs as air and sunlight, bread and salt. Deprive him of all these freedoms and he dies—deprive him of a part of them and a part of him withers. Give them to him in full and abundant measure and he will cross the threshold of a new age, the greatest age of man."

"These freedoms are the rights of men of every creed and every race, wherever they live. This is their heritage, long withheld."

"The belief in the four freedoms of common humanity—the belief in man, created free, in the image of God—is the crucial difference between ourselves and the enemies we face today. It lies the absolute unity of our alliance, opposed to the oneness of the evil we hate. Here is our strength, the source and promise of victory."

Coach Bachman Will Issue Grid Invitations This Week

Forty Football Candidates to Report for Practice September 9; Must Rebuild Veteran-Depleted Team

Between 45 and 50 Michigan State football players this week will be mailed invitations to report for early practice Wednesday, September 9, by Head Coach Charles W. Bachman.

With over half of last year's letter winners graduating, joining the country's armed services, the season of 1942 is one of rebuilding. Included among those who received diplomas, who have completed their period of eligibility, or who have shouldered the entire starting line last year's team.

Two Backs Return

Only two of the regular backs are returning. Halfbacks Dick Peppe and Walter Pawlowski, Pawlowski, who weighs only 147 pounds, was the team's fastest running back last fall, while Peppe was the most dependable passer and kicker.

Don Leclair of Wyandotte and George Radulescu of Imlay City are reserve guards who appear to be headed for varsity duty. Dick Mangrum of DuPont, Ted Smolinski of Rogers and Roy Fraleigh of Detroit, may make the grade as starting tackles. Among the end reserves coming up is Glenn Hebert of Pontiac who won a letter as a sophomore. Bob McNeil, from Phoenix, Ariz., who is virtually a regular, is also available for a wing job.

Other reserves whose record last fall and in spring practice would indicate they are near the top are: Pete Fornari of Detroit and Jack Fenton of Richmond, right halfbacks; Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile and Bill Milliken of Chicago, quarterbacks; Morgan Gingrass of Marquette, fullback; and Howard Beyer of Muskegon, center.

Edward Ripmaster of Grand Rapids, who was out of action all last season with a leg injury, will also be available to Bachman in the fullback position.

Many Sophomores

Capt. Vincent Mroz of East Chicago, Ind., an end, leads the delegation of about 20 sophomores. He was freshman captain. Other sophomore prospects, some of whom are pretty certain to establish themselves as regulars after they have had a little experience, are: Gordon Bischman of LaGrange, Ill., fullback; Royden Dygert of East Lansing, and Elbert Stark of Geneva, Ill., halfbacks; Ken Balge of Dearborn, and Bernard Roskopp of Mt. Clemens, ends; Ernest Keckinen, of Detroit, center; Alger Connors of Pontiac and Harry Huber of Detroit, tackles; William Chirota of Detroit and Robert Fischer of Benton Harbor, guards.

Marquette to Meet State Basketball

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 19.—Eighteen games, with two more to be added later, are included on the 1942-43 Marquette university basketball schedule as announced recently by Athletic Director Conrad M. Jennings. It is the longest Hilltop cage card in years.

Home and home games with Wisconsin, Great Lakes, Notre Dame, Detroit and Michigan State are included on the sched-

The halfway mark has been reached and passed in the current softball league races but very little enthusiasm has been shown in the games. Many of the scheduled contests were forfeited. Undoubtedly many more will be.

It seems to us that it is unnecessary for the men in the leagues to request of the intramural department that leagues be formed, and it's time wasted if the teams concerned do not show up. Since those who take the efforts of Mr. Fridmodig and his associates for granted seem to agree, we think that it would be appropriate to call off the games for the rest of the session.

Another who has joined the ranks of homebuilders is Lieut. Stanley P. McRae, three-year letterman in football who was graduated in 1941. He was a guard for two years and an end in his senior year. He married Miss Muriel Melms in Dearborn recently. They will live in Columbus, Ga., near Fort Benning.

The Lansing Quoit Pitching club has been unable to book contests with other clubs in Michigan because of the war. It is because so many of the quoit pitchers are active in war industries.

We just received a letter from Marshall Dann, ex-sports editor of the Michigan State News. Marsh is V-7 training at Columbia university, and just made the first grade which gives him a rank of midshipman. He also was named editor-in-chief of "Side Boy," class yearbook.

In addition, Coach Bill Chandler's basketballers will twice face Bradley Tech, once in Peoria and another time in Chicago.

Double-header entertainment again will be provided at the Milwaukee auditorium on New Year's eve, Dec. 31, with Marquette playing Chanute Field and Wisconsin opposing Harvard.

Interest Wanes In Softball Loops As End Nears

With the softball leagues entering their last week of competition, Mason 6 held a wide lead in the dorm loop, with Twilighters and DZV tied for first place in the independent lineup.

Out of three games scheduled for last night, only one, Mason 4-Mason 6, was played. Mason 6 won its fifth-straight game from Precinct 4 by the score of 8-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Haynes. A Mason 6 rally in the fifth accounted for five runs on four singles, two errors and a double by Dick Lang.

There was but one game played in the independent league out of three games scheduled, when, DZV regained first place by drubbing Gleason's Annex last Thursday, 6-0.

Mason 6 won its third and fourth games at the expense of Mason 2 and Mason 3 respectively, Monday and Tuesday evenings. Bob Haynes allowed but two hits the first night when his mates defeated Mason 2 by the score of 7-2. They repeated the next evening over Mason 3, 4-1.

Prof. Brown Tells Meat Rationing Possibilities

Supply and Demand of Meat Will Be Greatest Yet

The meat-shortage question can only be answered by the size of the crop coming to market this fall," said Prof. George Brown, of the animal husbandry department, when questioned on possibility of meat rationing in Michigan.

The facts, according to Professor Brown are these:

An unprecedented meat crop of 105,000,000 pounds is expected this year, compared to the previous all-time high of 82,000,000 pounds. The farmer is doing his share to boost war production.

There is a large army to feed, and the average allotment of meat in the soldier's diet is greater than in the civilian's diet.

Lend-lease commitments to England have drained our meat supplies on hand.

The purchasing power of people in the United States has grown considerably in the past year. Since the money cannot be spent for consumer goods—automobiles, refrigerators, radios—which are not being manufactured, people buy more food than usual.

Supplies of meat and meat products this year will be greater than ever. But the demand here and abroad for these products may exceed the supply.

made a name for itself by its appearance at football games and spring home concerts.

Falcone, a native of Italy, received his education in band instruments and band technique under Maestro Donatelli, famous bandmaster. After his arrival in America in 1915, he attended and was graduated from the University school of music in Ann Arbor. Although Falcone made his reputation at Michigan State as band director, he is an accomplished violinist and orchestra leader, and is nationally known as a euphonium performer.

While Falcone was on leave of absence during the past school year, his position was filled by Dale Harris. His successor for the "duration" will be announced soon.

CAMPUS CHURCHES

By HARRY WHITLEY

The Rev. H. G. Gaige, assistant minister at the Peoples church, will conduct the morning worship service and preach for the two remaining Sundays in August. This Sunday at 11 a. m. Rev. Gaige will speak on the subject "Keep the Home Fires Burning." On August 30 "Storm-tossed Souls" will be the title of his address.

Mrs. Muriel North Bengry will offer two solos at this Sunday's service: "Eye Hath Not Seen" by Walter Gaul, and "My Creed" by Walter. The guest organist for the service will be Mrs. Winifred Joseph Waldie.

Lutherans to Meet

The regular schedule of the College Lutheran church will be observed this week in the State theater: Sunday school at 10 a. m. and worship service at 10:30. The Rev. William Young, pastor, will have as his sermon theme "Marks of True Christianity."

The subject at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday at 11:00 a. m. is "Mind." The Christian Science service is held in the Masonic temple on M. A. C. avenue.

Children of the faculty, and other children living in East Lansing who are affiliated with the Episcopal church, will attend a Vacation church school for 10 consecutive days beginning this morning at 8:30 a. m. Children four to eight years old will be members of the lower school, and those from eight to 14 will attend upper school.

College Students Help

College Students Mary Mayer, Bill Hartnell, and Harry B. Whitley will help the clergy to conduct this school at Canterbury house on Abbott road.

The service of Holy Communion on Sunday at 8:45 a. m., will be attended by the children and their families. An award breakfast will be held on Sunday, August 30, after the 8:45 a. m. service.

Mass will be said in St. Thomas Aquinas church at 7 a. m. and 9 a. m. Sunday by the Rev. C. M. Winters, pastor.

Takes Fashion Course

Marjory Low, Home Ec '43, is enrolled in the Traphagen school of fashion in New York for a six weeks course. While there she will study costume designing and illustration, and draping, under international authorities on the subject.

Spartans At War

By ELLIS BRANDT

On land, on the sea, and in the air, the products of Michigan State college are doing their part to win this war. Or so a cursory glance at the nation's military services would indicate.

For example, Dick Nahstoll, Student council prexy in 1939-40, is now training for a navy commission at the Notre Dame navy training school, part of the V-7 program.

Ready to Bomb

And L. F. Grundman, a mechanical engineering graduate of 1940 and an A. S. M. E. member, received his silver bombardier wings and commission as a second lieutenant in the army air force last week at the Midland, Tex., flying school.

At the "West Point of the Air," Randolph Field, Tex., is former Alpha Gamma Rho member Robert J. McCauley, of Hicksville, O. McCauley was graduated in 1941.

Spending a furlough with his parents in Lansing recently was Aviation Cadet Stewart Trumble, regularly stationed "at a base in the West."

Now stationed with the coast artillery at Fort Eustis, Va., is recently commissioned Lt. Carl J. Witkop, who was formerly with the Lansing unit of the Michigan State troops.

— THE — WOMAN'S WORLD

By BARBARA DENNISON

Mayo Housemother

Mrs. Edna V. Muir is housemother for East Michigan State college. Mrs. Mayo, only women's dormitory open for the second session, summer school. There are sorority houses or cooperative houses open this session for student use, and only a few private homes.

Late Permissions

The Judiciary Board, women's governing body will continue function the remainder of summer, headed by Kay Welch. New women students are asked to remember that letters requesting late permission permits for late minutes should be in the A. W. S. office Tuesday noon of each week. The Judiciary board meets Tuesday at 4 p. m.

Alumnus on Exchange Line

Carl H. Boehringer of East Lansing, a Michigan State college alumnus, was among the 16 Americans and other nationalities recently reported aboard the Swedish exchange liner, Gripsholm. The vessel which started out from Japan is due in New York harbor Tuesday.
