Naval Forces Slug Casablanca as Oran Falls to Shore Units

Roosevelt Promises More Aggressive Action; Reveals That Plans For African Invasion Were Made Last Year

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP)—United States expeditionary armies wiped out effective resistance along 500 miles of Africa's western Mediterranean coast Tuesday with conquest of Oran, Algeria's second city, and a German report said the Bey of Tunis had granted President Roosevelt's request for the passage of American troops to Axis Libya.

On the Atlantic coast the resistance of Casablanca, chief city of Morocco, was fast crumbling under all-out naval and air assault by U. S. Rear Admiral H. K. Hewitt's heavy warships and dive-bombers and from American armored columns which had infiltrated the city's eastern suburbs with tanks.

Rabat, the normal seat of French power in Morocco, on the coast above Casablanca, evidently was isolated and evacuated by the Vichy commander, Gen. Auguste Nogues.

Hence it appeared that in a matter of hours the United States armies would be in effective control of all French North Africa, save for eastern Algeria and Tunisia.

President Roosevelt revealing Tuesday that the North African campaign grew out of discussions that began more than 10 months ago, said the invasion was going well, and indicated that it was a See AFRICA—Page 4

British Tanks Chasing Nazis Past Tobruk

8th Army Trying to Crush Rommel Before Yanks Arrive in West

By FRANK L. MARTIN CAIRO, Nov. 10 (AP)—Britain's grimly pursuing Eighth army pounded on at the tattered remnants of the Axis Afrika Korps inside the Libyan border today, threatening to wipe out the last of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces even before the Americans could close in on them from the west.

British armor racing to cut off the wildly fleeing Nazis was expected to skirt Halfaya pass in an effort to pin the survivors against the coast, and tonight it was thought probable the pursuing tanks were roaring along in the vicinity of Tobruk, whence the British were ousted ignominiously in Rommel's push last June.

One body of Nazis, caught perhaps by road blocks as their comrades plunged across into Libya, was being engaged along the coastal road inside Egypt.

Gas Rationing Delayed Till December 1; East Faces Further Cut

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Gasoline rationing in the 31 states not now under ration control will be postponed from Nov. 22 to Dec. 1, an OPA spokesman said today, while Secretary Ickes warned that a cut in the four-gallon value of ration coupons in the east may be necessary.

The postponement of rationing in the west and mid-west is necessary because of hitches in the distribution of coupon books and forms over the country, OPA said. Ickes appealed to eastern motorists, stating that unless civilian consumption is cut voluntarily to the irreducible minimum, he could "see no way in which we can supply enough gasoline to maintain the present value of coupons."

Registration of Michigan motorists for gasoline ration books has been postponed until Nov. 18.

Rumor That Girls Won't Be Back Is 'Fantastic'

Returning from a ten day trip to the west coast last night, President John A. Hannah spiked a vicious rumor to the effect that all Michigan State college coeds "would be kicked out of school by Jan. 1 to make way for an army camp."

Informed of the heretofore unpublished rumor by the State News, President Hannah stated that it was "utterly fantastic."

"There is absolutely no basis for such a rumor. Anything is possible in these times, but there have been no indications of such action by either the army or navy up to this date," declared Hannah.

"If there should be any change from the normal routine, everybody will be informed of it in an adequate time, and I might stress they will be informed from an official source.

"So far I have heard nothing to indicate that Michigan State college will not be open to both men and women students either next week or next year," he asserted.

Meanwhile, there was every indication that schools such as Purdue and Cornell—constantly mentioned in the "rumor factory"—were still operating with no interruptions in sight.

Pétain in Africa to Replace Darlan

LONDON, Wednesday, Nov. 11 (AP)—Marshal Henri Pétain, aged chief of the French state, ousted Admiral Jean Darlan as commander-in-chief of all French defense forces today, and reports persisted that Darlan, now disclosed officially to be in American custody at Algiers, may be negotiating to swing France back into the war on the Allied side.

The Berlin radio broadcast angry comment, saying much needs to be explained about the circumstances under which Darlan agreed to an armistice at Algiers.

No authoritative source would confirm whether an announcement of unusual import was in the offing. But it was noted that while it was announced Darlan was captured by American forces, an amplifying statement called him a "guest" of the American commander and emphasized that he was being treated with a dignity commensurate with his achievements and standing as a naval officer.

"There is something fishy about the Darlan affair," said the German official news agency in a Berlin broadcast heard here. "He must be regarded as having been removed from his post.

Teen-age Draft Passes House Without Rider

Year's Training Stripped from Compromise; Goes to Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Backing up the war department, the house overwhelmingly gave its final approval today to teen-age draft legislation stripped of a proposal that would have required at least a year of training before 18 and 19-year old draftees could be sent into combat.

On a voice vote it approved and sent to the senate for expected acceptance Thursday a compromise worked out by a senate-house committee after the two branches had split on the training requirement originally written into the legislation by the senate.

The compromise, intended to break a deadlock of almost a month's duration, left in the legislation provisions for the deferment of essential farm workers and high school students and for the exemption from the draft of men who have passed their 45th birthday, provided they do not wish to be drafted.

It eliminated an original house proposal that would have put drafting on a statewide instead of a local board basis. This section had been written into the bill by the house.

Notables Invited to Installation

Preparations for the annual installation of cadet corps sponsors of the Michigan State college ROTC unit already are nearing the completed stage with the announcement of dignitaries who have been invited to attend.

Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, Mayor Sam Street Hughes of Lansing, President John A. Hannah and the administrative body, and the state board of agriculture are among those invited, Capt. G. H. Branch, adjutant, stated yesterday.

Majel Wheeler, H. E. '43, of Mishawaka, Ind., will be installed Thursday with the rank of honorary cadet colonel.

The eight honorary lieutenant colonels who will be installed to their ranks along with Miss Wheeler, are: Mary Bent, infantry; Shirley Freeman, coast artillery; Marcia Rybarsk, cavalry; Betty Gibson, field artillery; Jacqueline Meehan, Pershing rifles; Mary Jean Wood, quartermaster corps; Betty Jane Youngman, signal corps; and Helen Link, band.

'Brain Trust' of Hitler, Duce and Laval Meets

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini were reported in a huddle with Pierre Laval in Rome tonight, urgently pondering some desperate counter-stroke to offset the smashing American coup in North Africa which exposed all southern Europe to Allied attack.

The desperation of the situation facing the Axis chieftains and their puppet was emphasized by Prime Minister Churchill's outspoken declaration today that the North African action was only the preliminary to a grand assault upon them.

Official confirmation of the reported Rome meeting was

ACP's Jay Richter Reports from Washington

WASHINGTON (ACP)—Contrary to some opinion, college students can still get considerable aid from the National Youth Administration.

The NYA appropriation for this school year was cut from $11,000,000 to $7,000,000—but the amount available to each student remains the same as it was before Congress trimmed the agency's sails.

However, no aid is forthcoming for students who aren't enrolled in courses which are successful prosecution of the war. Courses which so qualify are designated by college administrative officials.

A minimum of $10 per month and maximum of $25 may be earned by an NYA student, although the Washington office of NYA is putting up a "battle in congress for a maximum of $35-$40 a month. The idea is that now, if ever, competent students should be given every opportunity to develop skills desperately needed in war time.

Negro students in some colleges cannot obtain NYA help. But, happily, these students can apply directly to Washington for aid from NYA's special Negro fund, no credit to the colleges which make such procedure necessary.

LETTERS

To the Editor

To the Student "Corpse":
 All right, so I'm griffin! So I think that there isn't such a thing as student spirit at Michigan State college. Want some proof? Just how many of you were out for the Great Lakes pep meeting on the Friday night before that game?

Seventy-five . . . 75 students out of 6,000 were interested enough to give up a coke or a dance to give the team the right kind of backing so that they could go out on that field and really feel like winning a game for you. Seventy-five persons who are really attending M. S. C.

Some people cared, the team for instance, the coaches and the men's glee club, too, were interested enough to give up their time for the ideals of sportsmanship while you stayed home getting ready for your date.

Well—what are you going to do about it? Read this letter and then call me a "rabble-rouser" and let it go at that—or are you going to really "do something about it?"

So you wanted to learn some new yells, you wanted to brag about State's team, you really wanted them to get in there and fight for all they were worth—so 75 of you did come out but it takes a lot more than 75 students and 10 cheerleaders to show the team that we are behind them.

The cheerleaders had the new yells to teach you but you were too reserved and above that sort of thing—and yet you continued to cry because there were no new yells—still you wouldn't take the time to come out to learn them. The team had the spirit but nobody to back them up. When they were winning you yelled didn't you? Like mad!!!

And then we tied with Temple and lost to Washington—so what! We've got another new chance this Saturday against Purdue, haven't we? Sure we have—and this Friday night there's a Purdue rally—it's your chance to come out and show that you ARE with the football squad and that as far as you're concerned they're the best darn team in the country.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

YESTERDAY we were told that the college was to be taken over immediately by a government agency. And our breathless informant wanted to know why in thunder such a piece of news hadn't already been printed in the paper. His story credited about the 15th different government agency already reported to be making such plans.

Students deserve to know about such news when it happens, and they will know. But so far it hasn't come about. Ever since President Hannah's convocation two weeks ago, rumors have had Michigan State college in various stages from elimination of women to elimination of all students.

None of these rumors is based on any facts whatsoever, for the simple reason that there are no facts so far. The army and navy, agencies most likely to make any moves toward colleges, don't know themselves what they will do yet—at least they haven't indicated anything to the colleges.

The astounding part about many of these versions of the fate of Michigan State is that they are coming from persons who should know better than to start rumors if any of us should—certain members of the faculty.

When there is some definite information it will be given to students and faculty at the same time, for they are the ones most concerned. Until then don't be passing out or accepting any stories on it.

But there is one tale some advanced military students would like to believe. It says that only ROTC advanced men will remain in college. Empty buildings, dormitories, and sororities, will be filled up with WAAC trainees. What a good deal for ROTC men. The only catch for them is—it's just a rumor.

Unnecessary advertising—The signs in local grocery store windows extolling the aroma and freshness of various brands of coffee, when it isn't to be had, fresh or stale.

Nazi nonsense—The German intelligence officer named Herr Brain.

For frosh English students—When you copy one book that is plagiarism. When you copy three of them, that's a term paper.

"The Seven Oak Posts" is what they call the line of the University of Michigan grid team. If big oaks from little acorns grow, you can draw your own conclusions.

Among Spartans killed in World War I was the writer of the Michigan State "Fight Song," still used today. His name was Cadet Irving Laskey.

Each of the 58 Michigan State men who gave their lives in the first World war has been honored by the school. In addition to other memorials, an oak tree west of Williams dormitory was planted for each of these men.

Michigan Football Team Returns Home Prepare for Boilermaker Tilt

After almost two weeks of traveling, the Michigan football team returned yesterday afternoon and will begin to work in the gymnasium for Purdue university, and will have a workout today.

The two teams met in a friendly game against the Great Lakes Training station, which was a decided edge. The Spartans spanked the Sailors, 14-0. Purdue was beaten 14-0 in a game played last Saturday.

When all statistics go out, the Spartans and Boilermakers will be in a 0-0 deadlock in Lansing. Last year they had a 0-0 deadlock in Lansing, after Purdue had won in the role of favorite. It is the State that supposedly has the advantage, but as statistics will probably be on an even basis.

A question around the camp is the possibility of the Spartans being able to see action in the Purdue eleven. In the game of Ripmaster and last week, the full-back position was handled by Morgan and Pete Ferrari, who probably start this year.

The Spartan forward wall has been used to going the whole game each week probably again be a line for 60 minutes. Max, Bernie Roskopp, Langrum, Almer Corner, Radulescu, Don LeClair, Ward Beyer, will make starting line.

Quarterback Gilpin may keep him as Coach Charley Bachmann has plenty of replacements to get it's about the only one that can use Bill Milliken, King or Lou Brand as a filler.

The Spartan squad arrived in East Lansing at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, where they were met by school buses and brought to the campus.

The new members of the club are the ropes under the hands of the older members. A. has several things for the next few weeks, then sugar beeting. The W. A. A. sponsored the 10-mile cross country race to Okemos. Jeanne is in charge of this venture.

The group is planning a youth camp at Aurelius. The group will be overnight at a farm near the scheduled circuit.

Another Bachman

The time isn't 1916 and the team isn't Notre Dame but Bachmann is going to start Saturday. This time it's ROBERT BACHMANN and the team is Purdue — which will invade Macklin field this week-end to try to upset the well-laid plans of Spartan Coach Charley Bachman.

Spartan Frosh to Play U. of M. in Ann Arbor Friday Afternoon

The Michigan State and University of Michigan freshmen football teams will renew frosh relationships for the first time in a quarter of a century Friday in Ann Arbor.

Coach John Kobs will take a potentially strong squad to Ann Arbor that so far holds a 13 to 0 victory over Western Michigan frosh.

Following his usual custom, Kobs will not attempt to play his starting team throughout the game at Ann Arbor, but will use all the men he takes to the Wolverine contest.

Boilermakers Prepare for Spartan Game

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 10 (AP)—Purdue university football coaches gave considerable attention today to two "mighty mites" of the Boilermaker squad — Henry Stram and Walter Cook, who despite their small size turned in creditable performances Saturday against the huge Great Lakes eleven.

Interest Lacking In 'X' Country Cinder Meets

Cross Country Coach Lauren P. Brown is looking for a little more student interest in his team. He believes that the current apathy shown may have its source in the fact that meets are no longer held between the halves of football games.

In the days before Macklin stadium was "made over," a running track surrounded the playing field and spectators at football games could witness the start and finish of each race from their seats.

Great Spartan runners of the past such as Clark Chamberlain, Tom Ottey, and Coach Brown himself turned in some thrilling races for the folks who came out to see the "muscle men" — toss each other around on the gridiron.

Track fans will have a chance to see the boys perform when the Spartan frosh and reserves meet Central State here. The best place to see the meets is from the top of the west stand in Macklin field. From there one can observe the start, last mile, and finish of all races.

HERMIE SAYS —

HOW A convict almost became a big-league baseball player after being released from prison, but instead took up writing and developed into one of the nation's best short story writers was told by NBC's Bill Stern in a recent sports broadcast.

It goes back to the time when the late John McGraw was managing the New York Giants. One day, just before the club was scheduled to leave for spring training a man entered McGraw's office. He briefly stated his case to the Giant head.

Pays His Way

"I was just released from prison. I've always wanted to be a major league ball player and I think I've got the stuff. When I was in prison I wrote several articles for which I received $300. I've got the money here and want to give it to you to pay my expenses if you'll take me south."

McGraw hesitated, but when the stranger asked him if he was a convict, Mac snapped, "That's not it; if you were a crook you wouldn't be giving me $300. O' you can go with us."

Popular With Players

The lad, who was named Sid Porter, was hard working and McGraw put him at first base. He lacked the ability to be a New York Giant, but his determination and popularity with both the manager and players kept him on the squad for two months.

Finally, however, McGraw called the rookie aside. "Porter, I'm afraid you haven't got the stuff to stick with the Giants," the kindly McGraw said, "but you said you did a little writing once and so I've gotten you a small position on the New York Times. How about it?"

The hopeful agreed. "I'll have to make good now for you, sir, after the breaks you gave me."

He did. His name? O. Henry.

Mason 5 Creates Block 2 Lead Tie; Defeats Abbot 11

The race for first place in Block 2 of the dorm touch football league was tied last night when Mason 5 defeated Abbot 11, 6-0. At the present time each team has won four contests against one defeat.

In the second quarter, Ed Lord tossed a 30-yard pass to Bob Huston in the end zone. The excellent blocking of Hugh Webster was a strong factor in the Mason five victory. The try for conversion failed.

Mason 8, the leader in Block 1, dropped Abbot 16 by one penalty to nothing. Abbot 13 won by virtue of a forfeit from Mason 6. Abbot 18, possessor of first place in Block 3, won by a forfeit from Mason 2.

The following teams failed to appear for their scheduled games: Mason 1, Abbot 10, Abbot 17, Mason 4.

There's no room for long social conversations on telephone lines today. The wires have a more important duty to perform; they must carry an ever-increasing load of vital military and war industry calls. And it's impossible to expand the telephone system substantially because necessary materials must go into fighting equipment instead.

By keeping all your telephone conversations brief; by looking up local numbers in the telephone directory instead of calling Information; and by using long distance only when your call is most urgent, you will be helping to keep the lines clear for Victory.

Point Limitation Board

Point Limitation Board of A. W.S. will begin the year's program this week with Irene Wade, L.A. '43 newly appointed chairman.

All organizations having a membership of 10 or more are required to have a representative, and lists of officers and members should be taken to the A.W.S. office this week, Miss Wade said.

The purpose of the limitation system is to spread the opportunity of participation in activities among a greater number of students and to distribute leadership of the organizations. Each office and organization membership is allotted a certain number of points and freshmen may not carry more than 20 points.

Upper classmen are limited to 50 points. Before accepting any activity excessive of the limit, women must consult the Point Limitation Board.

Miss Chase Advises Coeds About Cracking Hearts Over Lost Boy Friend

Iika Chase, authoress, actress, and sophisticated wit told a near capacity audience in the College auditorium last night that the philosophy of being a woman involved many things, the most important of which is "to be fair, warm hearted to try gallantly to get your man, and if you lose to take it like a gentleman."

After describing the many trying but nonetheless oftentimes humorous circumstances in which a woman often finds herself, she settled down to prescribe the philosophical solution of those problems. "After all," she consoled, "don't be too heart-broken if you lose the one and only—it can be remedied; it is as if the niche in our heart remains the same but the statues change."

PETAİN AND DARLAN

"In Vichy circles there is no lack of criticism of Darlan's behavior. Darlan turned the North African affair into a personal matter, and used it to achieve a long-nurtured desire for vengeance. Obviously he has been able to forgive Laval whose intervention he was edged out of office of the (ship) last April."
