MBS Commentator Replaces Arnold

I. ROSS MACFARLANE
to speak Thursday

By JOAN MEYERS

Ian Ross MacFarlane, Mutual Broadcasting System news commentator, will appear Thursday
at 8 p. m. in the College auditorium on the current lecture series instead of Thurman Arnold
as previously announced by S.
E. Crowe, director of the series.

Crowe said that he had been informed that cancellation of the Arnold lecture was made necessary by Arnold's detention in Washington by the supreme court Thursday, the day of his scheduled appearance here.

MacFarlane, who has traversed the globe three times as a free lance writer for European and American publications, will speak on "The European Scene."

Since the war began, MacFarlane has spent much time in Europe and will bring eye-witness accounts of his eight months stay in Nazi Germany
and in Fascist Italy, and in England.

His travels as a writer also included sojourns in France, Czechoslovakia, Italy, and the Balkans. He was present in Bagdad during the riots which followed the death of King Feisal, and is believed to be the only foreigner present during the abortive revolution of the Assyrians against the Iraqis.

Other Reservists Not Deferred Reported Due to Go in April

Junior ROTC students and Engineering students of sophomore, junior, or senior standing will be allowed to remain in school while the rest of Michigan State college's enlisted reservists will definitely be ordered to active duty in April, it was indicated by war department officials yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The bulk of the army's enlisted reservists in colleges throughout the United States will be ordered to active duty in the near future,
war department officials said today.

An order was sent Saturday by Major General James A.
Ulio, the adjutant general, to the commanding generals of the nine service commands reminding them that the specialized training program announced Dec. 17 called for induction of most reservists at the conclusion of the first college term ending after Dec. 1, 1942.

That, officials pointed out, means that students will be called on varying dates, depending on whether a college has six-month terms, four-month semesters or operates on the quarterly plan.

Pershing Rifles Ball to Mark Last Event for Duration

Pershing Riflemen will hold their annual Pershing Rifles Ball
Jan. 29, announced Sgt. Jere Potter, general chairman. This event will mark the last term of existence of Pershing Rifles for the duration, and the Ball will combine the all military colors and insignia of the unit to depict the occasion.

Pvt. Harvey Hansen, Ag. '46
and Warrant Officer Rolland Reed, Ag. '45, will have charge of invitations and publicity; and Pvt. Robert Ludwig, L. A. '45, and Warrant Officer Van Stewart, L. A. '45, are in charge of decorations.

Derwood Carn's orchestra will play for the dance, which will be a closed formal. Potter said. Approximately 200 couples are expected.

As announced in Boston
by Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles of the First Service com-

Pres. John A. Hannan late yesterday interpreted the latest war department communiqué on the Enlisted Reserve corps as meaning the bulk of reservists will complete winter term ending March 21, and then be given until April 4 to report for active duty. The communiqué merely confirms previous plans and clarifies the standing of certain engineering, veterinary and pre-medical students, he said.

mand, there are several exceptions to the general induction order for college enlisted reservists:

- (1) Medical and pre-medical students, including dental and veterinary
 - (2) Engineering students of sophomore, junior or senior standing.
 - (3) Advanced ROTC students
(juniors and seniors).

United Nations Reported Agreeing on Supreme Council to Direct War

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The United Nations were reported tonight in diplomatic circles to have agreed on a formula for some kind of a supreme council to direct and unify efforts to win
the war in 1943.

British, United States, Russian
and Chinese officials remained silent on the grand strategy talks known to have been under way, but it is no secret that some extremely important announcement affecting the Allied conduct of the war is imminent.

It is no secret either that a unification of strategy has been high on the Allied agenda for months, nor that as part of this unity, great attention is being given to the problem of coordinating Allied armies in North Africa under a single command.

Recent speculation has centered on Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. army chief of staff, as commander-in-chief of Allied forces in the European theater. Walter Farr cabled to the Daily Mail that "keen observers" in Washington predicted the Marshall appointment. He also said that Vice Admiral Sir Percy Noble,
head of the British admiralty delegation in Washington, might be placed in charge of a united campaign against submarines.

The cry for offensives to crush Germany, Italy and Japan has come increasingly from critics who expect an intensification of the German submarine campaign with 500 to 700 undersea craft.

International Relations Club to Meet Tonight

There will be an organization meeting of the International Relations club today at 7:30 p. m.
in the sun porch of the Union,
according to Lois Hyle, chairman.

Prof. Hans Leonhardt, of the history and political science department and sponsor of the club, will briefly outline the aims of the organization, which concerns itself with current affairs and problems.

The meeting is open to all students, with a particular invitation to political science majors.

Vote 'Yes' by Attending Pop Concert

DO YOU like popular music? Do you like to sing, even if you can't carry a tune?

If either of these things appeals to you, plan to attend the "Pop" concert tonight at 8 in College auditorium. Under the direction of Prof. Roy Underwood, head of the music department, a program has been drawn up embracing popular music—melodies the average college student likes to hear and sing.

The college band and the Men's glee club will be on the program to perform solo numbers varied by combinations with audience participation. It's a new idea here, and it will be free. If the student body shows its approval by attendance, the musical organizations will schedule more "Pop" concerts.

Give your vote of approval by attending, and you'll insure a repeat performance of something the student body can well use.

LETTERS . . . to the Editor

'Students Are Lax'

DEAR SIR: After complaints of laxness, CDC is to be investigated by Student council to determine what the organization is doing.

When they find out why it isn't accomplishing much, they will also find out just what the Coordinating Defense council is. That will be a shock to most of them.

CDC is not an organization. It can neither make nor enforce any laws. It is (supposedly) a meeting of representatives of ALL organizations on and off campus to pool ideas which will aid the war effort.

Supposedly these representatives are the most able and progressive students each organization can send. Committees of these students and their organizations are appointed to carry out the ideas accepted by the council.

That is what CDC stands for, but, unfortunately that is not what it is. It is, with few exceptions, a small, unrepresentative group of uninterested students who represent a larger, more uninterested student body.

The suggestions and ideas that trickle in cannot be forced on the students. In fact they can't be handed to them on a silver platter, because most people at M.S.C. are too little concerned with what they can do to help win the war, and too much concerned with how much the war is hindering their social life.

Six hundred freshman women responded to the Red Cross cry for help by enrolling two of their members in a surgical dressing unit. They support our wounded like they support student defense.

So Student council will eventually find (if it digs deep enough) that it isn't CDC or the organizations comprising CDC who are lax.

It will narrow down to individual students—men soon leaving who don't give a damn, and women, who for all their clamoring about women's rights, I haven't yet seen step forward to take over the men's share of defense work.

Sincerely,
WALTER DOW, '44.

On Mr. Woolcott

Dear sir: An internationally famous writer has died, at the much too early age of 56. Alexander Woolcott was probably the most beloved literary critic of his time.

As a masterful story teller, he endeared himself to thousands. It was his undying interest in human beings that kept him forever young in heart.

Mr. Woolcott was a great man, and a brave man. His series of broadcasts was once cancelled because of his persistent condemnation of Nazi Germany.

In a world of regimentation and hate, it is well for Woolcott's myriad admirers to pay tribute to the man who constantly and enthusiastically championed the worth and dignity of the individual and his aspirations.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

RECEPTION given to the idea of dancing in the Union lounge on Friday and Saturday nights last week-end was even better than expected. There was just enough room for dancing.

Executed by Union board, the idea, which was introduced through its genial president, Phil Althen, should point the way to other constructive ideas. We wonder what else the board has up its collective sleeve.

Professors who haven't prepared their lesson will cringe tomorrow night as questions are fired at them in a reversal of the usual knowledge capturing procedure. It should be great fun to see your favorite professor say "I don't know" on the Quiz Kids program in College auditorium at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

We wonder if the savants are being financially remunerated for the evening's work. Putting ourselves in their shoes, we don't think we'd trade a cozy fireside for a platform watched by 5,000 persons for anything less than $100.

They say, professors, that the dingoes in Tasmania are considerably on the increase this year. Can you tell us where Tasmania is and describe a dingo? Neither can we.

We certainly wish that all the preps we've had who always beat around the bush and change the subject when they don't know an answer were going to be up there tomorrow night. Most professors when confronted with an unanswerable question merely admit they don't know. But then there are the other kinds.

More persons must read the State News than we'd supposed. For the home management houses report they've received lots and lots of calls from women inquiring about a Today's Campus item run last week relative to rolling surgical dressings.

The ladies want to know where to get materials to roll them. They want to supplant the customary bridge game with a rolling bee. Home Ec women say. It sounds like a good idea for a lot of women's clubs of which we know.

Camellias are most beautiful to look at, and gardenias have the best odor. So why don't they cross the two and produce a camellia that smells? Or is the camellia already in the gardenia family?

Last spring the faculty cracked down, banning comps for parties and limited prices to be paid for bands. This was done as an economy measure, and on the surface was a good idea. Local statisticians have figured the 1943 J-Hop comp saving as $525, and the saving on the band as more than that.

Then it would appear that the price of tickets this year should be lower than last, if the band price is cut down. But the unofficial price is 2 cents higher with all taxes added, than in 1942. What's the deal?

Some insiders tell us there was more than lack of a director behind cancellation of the Variety show. The sentiment was expressed that students should vote their time to their closely connected efforts.

So far they haven't done At Ann Arbor, fraternities sororities raised $100 in Bomber stationery fund, just such a show. Such a might profitably cover the abundant spread of the bound game.

ATO and SAE Puck Teams Meet in 'Mural Ice Opener'

More than 750 spectators thronged the balcony of Jenison pool last night to watch the highly touted Ohio State swimming team live up to its reputation by swamping Michigan State, 62-19, in its first home meet of the season.

The Spartans were easy for the Buckeyes, who scored eight out of nine events when he raced in the 100-yard free style. Newton, Saginaw, won Michigan State's event when he raced in the 100-yard free style. The Spartans were able to score in only two other events. Newton gained a tie for first place in the 100-yard free with Martin, and John Johnson and Mary Johnson placed second and third, respectively. Ohio State entered only Newton in the 440-yard free.

Spartan Quintet Returns Home; Stone Still in Hospital

Returning from Chicago yesterday the Michigan State basketball team received its second win in three days, the first being a 27-15 loss to DePaul last night. The Spartans found a regular center, Fred Stone, had to be left behind because of a cold, still in the hospital. Worst of all is the fact Stone probably won't be back before 10 days.

The rangy pivot man's condition took a turn for the worse in the last 24 hours. It is doubtful if he'll be able to get back into playing shape before two weeks. This is Coach Ben VanAlstyne's only Jack Cawood, a converted forward and Tom Paton, experienced sophomore for center job. The picture isn't so good though with Cawood very consistently from the foul line in the two tilts he played center.

Abbot 15 Wins Overtime Thriller From Abbot 14 in Dorm Cage Game

By JOHN PICHURSKI

The outstanding game in the dormitory basketball league last night was an 18-16 overtime win scored by Abbot 15 over Abbot 14.

The count at the end of the fourth quarter was 14 all. Both teams scored a bucket during the overtime minutes, with Bill Thihale scoring the final tally for Abbot 15.

The high point men for the Abbot 15 cagers were Elmer Thiede and Bill Thihale, both with six. Leading scorer for Abbot 14 was Stew Stickel with six points.

Abbot 16's quintet swamped Mason 2, 49 to 10. Dick Edland of the Abbot team led his team with nine field goals, followed closely by his teammate Herb Hackett who tallied 11 points.

In a hard fought skirmish, Mason 5 won a 27 to 14 game over Mason 8. High scorer for Mason 5 was Rex Roseman with 12 tallies. Elwood McCleod took top honors in scoring for Mason 8 having 13 to his credit.

A 22 to 16 win was scored by Mason 3 over Mason 6, with Mason 3's Bill Blanchard and Dick Gibbons netting 10 and 8 points respectively.

Bob Storms of the Mason 6

team was still leading his teammates in points by gathering six buckets for his evening's work.

Mason 7's hardwood crew defeated Mason 4, 31 to 23. Leading tally maker for Mason 7 was Bill Ireland, who cut the meshes for 13 points. Bob Price led the Mason 4 cagers with six points.

In other games played, Abbot 10 took a 12 to 10 win from Abbot 12; Abbot 18 defeated Mason 9, 18 to 13. Don Keften, who scored 10 points, led his Mason 1 team to a 26 to 13 win over Abbot 17. Abbot 11 forfeited its game to Abbot 13.

Five ROTC Units Here List New Cadet Promotions

Infantry Branch Fails to Name New Officers

The military department posted the promotions of ROTC cadet officers in all branches of the service but infantry, it was disclosed Monday.

In the cavalry, Cadet Jack Smith has been promoted to the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel. Cadets Frederick Arner and William Bastendorf have been promoted to cadet majors, while new cadet captains include Leonard Rowe, Raymond Vasold, James Walker, and Frederick Wilson.

Those who received promotions to cadet first lieutenant are: Darwin Aten, Robert Bacus, Roger Blackwood, Roger Bonnie, Ralph Eggert, Duane Faulman, William Gaynier, Joseph Geiger, Russell Howes, Douglas Reeve, Earl Reid, Rob-John Knight, Chester Mackson, Robert Robinson, John Spelman, Allyn VanDyke, and Joseph Vavra.

The field artillery announced their list of promotions as follows: John Ligget, promoted to cadet lieutenant colonel; Thomas Rooney, promoted to cadet major; Richard Reid, promoted to cadet captain; Jack Brown and Gerald Hoyer, promoted to cadet first lieutenants.

Promotions in the coast artillery are: cadet lieutenant colonel, Richard Mangrum; cadet majors, Alfred Cordes, Edward Daszowski, Richard George, Peter Ruppe; cadet captains, James Anderson, Gene Enos, Frank Izzo, Victor Levin, Alfred Porter.

In the quartermaster corps, Robert Dock was promoted to cadet lieutenant colonel, while Robert Fulton and Charles Schlaack received promotions to the rank of cadet majors. New cadet captains in the quartermaster corps are Max Dillingham, Donald MacKenzie, Jay Polen and Loren Tukey. Those receiving first lieutenant promotions were John Bricker, Edwin Ciolek, Jerome Deren, Addison Fuller, William Irey, and William Sherman.

There were but three promotions in the signal corps. Telephone Bourbonnais, promoted to the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel; Limmer Russel, promoted to cadet captain, and Alvin Gaines, promoted to cadet first lieutenant.

January Spartan Mag to Go on Sale Today at Campus Stands

The January issue of the Spartan magazine, packed with features, cartoons, and jokes, goes on sale this morning at campus newsstands, the magazine's managers reported Monday.

Among this issue's features are: "Who Ya Shovin'?" a drama about the Whiz Kids who scare the faculty when they come to Midwestern university; a poem by Jack Webber that out-supers Superman; basketball gossip by Tommy King; a story of State alumnae's experiences in the WAAC; Osric's Passing Tirade; instruction on how to sleep in class; and Touch and Go.

The Spartan will be on sale in the Union, Morrill hall, Olds hall and the library.

(4) Students of sophomore or higher standing in recognized military colleges.

(5) Aviation cadets in the enlisted reserve.

(6) Students in the electronics training group.

The last category was set up at the request of the Signal corps, which asked that students in electrical engineering and other electronics courses be permitted to finish their studies at the discretion of the chief signal officer.

The calls for aviation cadets are separated from the general calls for enlisted reservists, because the aviation group can be inducted only as facilities become available at army flight training centers.

In general, the program is being geared to the specialized training program, under which a number of colleges, contracting with the war department, will provide instruction with their own facilities and staffs, to a total of about 150,000 young soldiers a year.

No final selection of colleges has been made, and contracts are yet to be signed, but the reservists called from college for induction in the army must complete the basic military training of 13 weeks before they are eligible for reassignment to a college for additional instruction.

Officials pointed out that not all of them will get back to college under this program. In the meantime, a number of young men already in the army, who have never been to college, will have completed their basic training and be eligible for participation in the college or specialized training program.

ROMMEL

possible rendezvous with the forces of General Von Arnim.

Allied headquarters in North Africa announced that American troops had thrust into the town of Maknassy, capturing 80 Axis prisoners in an area only 33 miles short of the Gulf of Gabes, and Brigadier General Jacques Le Clerc's headquarters reported that the Fighting French were now operating west of Tripoli and had only 50 miles more to go to reach the Mediterranean.

Rommel's retreat from Libya, meanwhile, had taken most of his forces some 60 miles within Tunisia. Field dispatches reported that all his Italians and the greater part of his German corps were behind the Mareth line in southern Tunisia, and a critical phase was approaching in the Allied effort to cut him down or seriously weaken him short of any juncture with Von Arnim.

There was nothing to indicate that the American action at Maknassy was more than a raid in force and U. S. military sources here warned against expecting an early full-scale blow to the Rommel flank.

Stork Visits Turners

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner (Minerva Ryckman, '33) are parents of a baby girl born Sunday morning at 8:20 in a Lansing hospital.

Both mother and child doing nicely, it was reported. The baby, whose name is Mary Linda, weighs 7 pounds 9½ ounces. Mrs. Turner was formerly the dietitian at Mason hall from September, 1941, to October, 1942, while Turner is now resident manager of Wells hall.

Forces on Guadalcanal Wipe Out Enemy Base in General Offensive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)

By air, by sea and by land, American fighting men going into action in the Solomons over the week-end made important territorial gains, resulting in capture of the village of Kokumbona, seven miles west of Guadalcanal airfield, where enemy stores and equipment were seized.

In addition, fuel- and ammunition dumps on Kolombangara island, 190 miles northwest of Guadalcanal airfield, were wiped out by bombardment from United States air and surface forces, and a large Japanese destroyer and a cargo ship were bombed by United States aircraft in the vicinity of Shetland island.

Naval spokesmen said the air action reported today, taken with that announced yesterday from General MacArthur's headquarters, comprised the greatest air activity of the war to date in the south and southwest Pacific theater.

State Grad Killed in Action

Another Michigan State graduate was reported killed in action in the South Pacific last week-end. Capt. Roger Keast, of the class of 1933, presumably lost his life in New Guinea, which was the postmark on his last letter received by his mother.

A football star of Lansing Central high school, Keast graduated from there in 1939 and entered MSC the following fall. He also played football and was on the track team while at MSC.

Lost Anything? Union Lost and Found Is Open 4 to 5 p. m.

Students Like Casual Union Dances—Foster

"We were well pleased with the conduct and attitude of the 300 or more students who attended each of the two informal dances held in the mixed lounge this past week-end," commented E. G. Foster, Union manager, yesterday.

Foster said that no cokes were taken out of the grill and that smoking was at a minimum. "As long as it continues that way," he said, "we will continue the dances."

The constantly played juke box nearly pays for the cost of help for straightening up the Union, he said, and added that "dancing was probably good for the floor."

Students began dancing about 10:30 each night, and kept it up until 12:30 a. m. Friday and 12 midnight Saturday, according to Foster, and came dressed in togs ranging from skating clothes to formals.

Reading Hour Schedules Nesom for "Bambi"

"Bambi" by Felix Salten, will be given at the second Reading Hour today at 4 p. m. in room 49, College auditorium. Lucia Nesom, speech instructor, will be the reader.

"Bambi" is currently popular because of Walt Disney's picture founded on the book. Miss Nesom is a widely known reader and is director of the speech clinic here.

It is required that speech majors be present, but all students, faculty and townspeople may attend.

Reds Add Up Gain of Long Offense

LONDON, Tuesday, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Red army command announced today

Russian troops in two months had captured more than 200 Axis prisoners and had 102 enemy divisions in flight from Leningrad to the Caucasus, a Moscow broadcast read by the Soviet Monitor.

An order of the day issued the supreme command by Premier Joseph Stalin, "Our troops gained an important victory," that the Russians advanced about 245 miles—the offensive continues.
