Although every man in this term's cast is eligible to be called, "Brother B" hopes it won't happen before curtain time next Wednesday and Thursday. Don MacDonald, L. Past. Future of Theater

In an informative, interesting, but above all entertaining lec-ture Margaret Webster brought a sample of the legitimate theato an audience of about 1,500 when she spoke last night in College auditorium on "The Adventure of Acting."

Speaking in a voice notable for its rich quality and evidence of long training, she outlined what the theater and the actor have meant to the English speaking countries. She punctuated her historical outline with illustrations of speeches of the great plays of the period.

Commenting on the modern theater, Miss Webster believed the American theater to be at a crossroads. Since there can never be enough stars to supply a whole continent, the theater's survival will probably depend on the organization of companof players and regional theaters, supported preferably by popular subscription.

Following the lecture, Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics honorary, held a reception for Miss Webster.

. . Adolf's Version

The Berlin radio said Thursday night German and Italian troops in middle Tu-nisia were "breaking contact with the enemy" and being withdrawn to positions favorable both for defense and attack.

"The methodical withdrawal was absolutely unhamper-ed by the enemy," the report cleared of the last Axis defenses while to the east Allied planes loosed a deadly air barrage on the enemy's rear, striking his airfields, supply depots and transport columns.

Allied tank columns and infantry were reported threatening German positions at Sbeitla and Ousseltia above the Kasserine gap.
Thus; instead of Rommel assuming a dominating position on the Algerian frontier, dispatches showed he was being compelled to pull back his shattered armor toward the coastal corridor in eastern Tunisia.

Eighth Army Active

In the south, his Mareth line appeared due to suffer-a largescale attack from the British eighth army veterans of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery. (The Axis still is getting large numbers of troops and supplies, Canadian Press Correspondent Ross Munro reported from field headquarters. He said an American pilot patrolling the Sicilian straits saw large enemy convoys steaming toward Tunisia and that the pilot had seen 40 large German troop transport planes landing troops at Bizerte.)

mson Asserts Fully Trained for Rommel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP) -Scouting any idea that American troops in Tunisia "green," Secretary of War Stimson said today the forces which repulsed German veterans were inexperienced in one sense only -actual combat with an enemy in a kill-or-be-killed fight.

That, he said, was the one thing that could not be imitated on the training field. In every other respect, the Americans went into battle as carefully prepared as thorough and painstaking training could make them.

THINKIN' OUT LOUD

BY SHELDON MOYER

HE OTHER day an anonymous writer sent us a letter from somewhere in East Lansing. However, the envelope was striped on the edges with persons overseas.

to the envelope.

Holy smokes, we thought. Here somebody mails a letter from East Lansing to East Lansing in an air mail envelope, and then the postoffice charges us another three cents for it.

Now this is not an indictment

Local Mail Service

However, the postal service in East Lansing has been sadly lacking for some time in another respect. Mail service is extremely slow both entering and leaving here for two reasons.

The first is that Lansing, the local dispatching and receiving center for mail, is poorly located from a transportation stand-point. There is not a wide va-riety of trains carrying mail cars to provide the service you might expect in a key transportation center.

Secondly, the number of em-ployes at the East Lansing postoffice is supposed to be based on thorities, also may cause some the regular year around popula-tion of the municipality. Hence minimum. the flow of mail and the person-nel allotted to handle it are way out of proportion when upwards of 6,000 students are added to the population.

Mail to Armed Forces
In a slightly broader vein, it is only fair to point out that in recent months complaints from the public of delayed or lost mail addressed to members of the armed forces indicates there is a wide misunderstanding of how this mail is handled and the difficulties encountered in

These complaints, incidentally, are fewer than the number received during World War I even though the volume of mail

The Causes Are Many

Delays in the mail to the Now this is not an indictment of the wartime postal service. Transportation was within its right because the envelope was distinctly marked air mail, which rates six cents, needs for arms, food or more williams, and naval personnel. even though it was only destined to travel a few blocks.

needs for arms, food or more AWS Council Primaries Today,

Although Today opportunity, at times the overburdened facilities cannot accommodate all the mail, and it must be held until shipping space is available.

Ships must travel in convoys, in the interest of safety, and convoy can start only when the last ship is loaded and can travel only as fast as the slowest the freshman list for ship in the group—all of which consumes time. Transfers of Candidates for pres personnel from one point to another also add to the time required for mail to catch up with the men shifted. Censorship, which is done by the Office of Censorship or military au-

es Back Faster

Ships sinkings by the enemy account for much of the lost mail. Many thousands of letters and packages have been on ships lost by enemy action.

Another thing that puzzles the legion of stamp lickers is why service from the armed forces overseas to them is more rapid and regular. This is be-cause less mail comes from overseas than goes to our armed forces overseas; ships and planes on return trips have more space available, and the location of addressees in this country is more stable than that of overseas personnel.

V-mail In the final analysis, letters are the speediest yet. is much larger, according to veteran postal officials.

Mail for members of the armed forces is delivered by the postal service to army and navy possible, are sent by plane.

DZV 'Victory Queen' Contest Now Has $6,500 in Bonds

Originally aimed at boosting War stamp and bond sales over the $5,000 mark, DZV's Victory Queen contest more than accom plished its purpose yesterday as total sales at the upper deck defense booth reached $6,500.

The contest will be climaxed Saturday night at the Notre Dame basketball game when the winner will be awarded the DZV key on a necklace and an honorary membership in the brother-hood.

An additional contestant, Gloria Bell, has been included in the list of 17 Spartan coeds. The contest opened last Wednesday, when the poster bearing candi-dates' pictures was first display-ed in the Union. Voting, which will close Saturday noon, is open to anyone purchasing any amount of War stamps or bonds

Three $1,000 bonds were purchased Wednesday by a student who has requested his name be withheld. Total sales at the beginning of the competition was $2,450. The stamp booth, which was formerly operated by Pan-Hel and DZV, has been occupied since the opening of the contest by DZV members alone.

'Dummy' Mortar Shell Unites Three ROTC Classrooms

If Maj. Gerald Peterson wanted to put action into his cavalry class yesterday while showing some junior ROTC'ers the 81 mm. mortar, that was just what he got.

The shell he so casually drop-ped into the breech-loading weapon wasn't really a dummy. Although its propelling charge had been removed, the priming charge was still present.

Unworried

The explosion shot the shell's projectile over the heads of the amazed cavalrymen, up through the ceiling into Col. Edmond Stillman's coast artillery class and on through the roof of Demonstration hall. The shell went through an aisle in the classroom where Colonel Still-man was showing slides. Unper-turbed, the colonel said, "Next

The recoil of the mortar broke the table it had been resting on and the rear of the gun crashed through the classroom wall and four or five inches of the mortar protruded into the room where Capt. George Branch was pre-siding over a group of infantry iuniors.

No Casualties

First persons on the scene found Major Peterson still clutching the gun and silently looking about the room for casualties. There were none. A liberal amount of plaster was scattered about the room, on desks, books and the floor.

Prize remark as a result of the "shelling" was credited to Capt. Maurice Wilson, veteran field artillery officer. About 30 field artillery officer. About 30 seconds of silence followed the explosion, and then Captain Wilson remarked:

"Short."

Dorm Drag to Have Patriotic Theme

Corsages will be banned at the Inter-dorm drag Saturday, Flossie Wilkins, general chairman announced yesterday, and all women who appear wearing flowers will be compelled to take them off. The dance, which is semi-formal, will begin at 9 p. m. and not at 8:30 as originally scheduled.

The entire dance will take on a patriotic spirit, with decora-tions accenting red, white and blue. Lowry Clarks' orchestra is scheduled to play from 9 un-

Tickets are on sale in all women's dormtiories. Women living off-campus may secure their tickets at the Administration building up until Saturday
