

Wrong Number

A rather persistent Detroit party earned on a considerable conversation with the State News one afternoon, in hope of locating a friend who Long she said was "one of the editors or some- Stretch thing." Three of these conversations, carried through the facilities of Michigan Bell, failed to get any results. The young lady insisted that her friend had worked on the paper 12 years, rather an impressive record for a student publication.

Lost and Found

It pays to spread it around that you're from Michigan State, at least one of three hitchhikers to Detroit last weekend might be. One of the trio of State-men picked up by a Lansing to Detroit driver on Saturday left behind two pair of gloves, one pair fitting inside of the other. Now the gloveless Spartan can find his property at the Union office.

In his latest surge to higher heights, however, Osric has soared to the ultimate. He now delivers the campus mail.

Stage Helpers Play Vital Role in Term Play

Curtain for First Night of 'Thunder Rock' at 8:15 Today

When the house lights dim and the curtain rises tonight at 8:15 in Fairchild theater on the first production of "Thunder Rock," while veteran campus actors mark final appearances on the local stage, a host of technicians under Morris Cooper, A.S. '44, will be laboring conscientiously to insure the success of the stormy drama.

Student Art Display in Union Ballroom Has Frosh Exhibits

Student art will remain on display for the rest of this week at the annual Art mart now being held in the Union ballroom, according to Don MacKenzie, president of Beta Alpha Sigma, local art honorary.

Since there are fewer entries in this year's exhibit, displays are shown to a better advantage. MacKenzie attributes lack of entries to the fact that the Art mart is usually held spring term, which is "more productive" and gives student artists more time to turn out finished creations.

Freshman exhibits are a new feature of the 1943 Art mart, and are being shown in the dining room with floral arrangements. The frosh pictures seem to have a tendency to depict war-time subjects.

Prize winners will be given "oscars" designed by Prof. L. D. Jungwirth of the art department. Last year's winner was Bob Robillard, '42.

Most entries are water color and oil paintings, while ceramics run third. Noticeable is the lack of craft displays.

Beaten Nazi Army Retreats After Heavy Losses

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, March 2 (AP)—The complete defeat of a series of German attacks in northern Tunisia, in which the enemy's casualties and losses in material were very high, was announced today at Allied headquarters while the Allied forces in central Tunisia continued their successful advance after their capture of Sbeitla.

These troops, pushing forward behind the retreat of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, had occupied not only Sbeitla but Kasserine and Feriana as well. Sbeitla is 18 miles northeast of Kasserine; Feriana is 20 miles southwest of that point.

The Allies had now regained about a third of the territory lost in south central Tunisia as Rommel continued falling back toward the coast.

In three days of action in the north, the Axis was estimated to have lost at least 600 troops and 24 tanks.

Spring Thaws Slow Russian Advances

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—The Red army, which has marched 400 miles in three months, continued to advance against the Germans on the three main fronts south of Moscow yesterday despite the mud of early spring thaws and despite Nazi reinforcements rushed from Holland to the front west of Kharkov.

The Moscow midnight communique told of continuing Soviet successes west of Kursk and Kharkov, in the upper Donets. See RUSSIANS—Page 3

IONIA, March 2 (AP)—Sheriff Leslie H. Murphy said tonight that Montreal detectives had informed him of the arrest of a youth sought for questioning in the death of Clara E. Johnson, 18-year-old Ionia war plant worker whose battered body was found in an open fuel bin last Saturday morning.

The youth arrested in Montreal was identified by Montreal police as Donald Temleco, 17.

Three new dormitory regulations will be voted on: The radio permit rule which has been on trial this year; a ruling to allow men callers on Sundays after 12 noon, and an extension of permission for dating on the terrace or dormitory steps amending the old 4 p. m. limitation.

Dormitory women may vote only in dormitories, and the Union will be used for off-campus and town women, Miss Deane said.

Germans Admit Casualties in Biggest Berlin Blow of Growing RAF Might

FOLKSTONE, Eng., March 2 (AP)—One of the most violent cross-channel duels of the war raged for an hour tonight, with British and German big guns hurling salvo after salvo over misty Dover strait.

LONDON, Mar. 2 (AP)—The Germans late tonight reported 191 persons were killed and 263 injured last night in the heaviest scourge raid ever delivered by the RAF on the Nazi capital, acknowledged through various channels that heavy damage was inflicted, and threatened reprisals—"one day"—on both the British and Americans.

Results of the recheck which increased the casualty totals from the originally announced 89 killed and 213 wounded were broadcast just 24 hours after the 31-minute raid began at 10 p. m. Monday.

(Only a few hours after the raid, a Berlin radio commentator had said in a broadcast heard in New York by CBS that American cities "may not be safe a few months hence.")

(The night attack was the sixth in a row in the non-stop aerial offensive concentrated on German holdings in preliminaries to an officially promised Allied invasion of Europe.

Around 900 tons of bombs were cascaded on Berlin, including two and four-ton block-busters—twice the weight of bombs dropped by the Germans on London in any single night of the 1940-41 raids.

Keeping up the round-the-clock offensive, RAF planes attacked targets in northern France and Belgium today and one squadron damaged 16 freight locomotives, canal barges, lock gates and railroad bridges.

Japs Won't Be Allowed Another Fleet—Knox

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2 (AP)—Before this war is over, Secretary Knox declared today, "we'll utterly destroy the Japanese fleet."

"We'll probably impose upon her that she'll never have another fleet," the navy chief added. "She has exhibited that she is not qualified to have one."

1 That Mussolini demanded it because of heightened fears of an imminent Allied invasion along his coastline.

2 That Italian divisions have been badly cut up in the Russian offensive.

3 That the battle-torn troops possibly were regarded as useless for anything except garrison duty and that both Hitler and Mussolini considered it necessary to have some troops with battle experience in Italy now that the country is directly threatened by Allied concentrations across the Mediterranean.

Mussolini admitted "serious" Italian losses on the Russian front, but cited Italian troops who have had to face "extraordinary tests."

The broadcast also was carried by the Berlin radio.

In Campus Quarters

By Helen Schmidt and Scottie McNeal

EVERYONE seems to be taking advantage of the lull in "big parties" by giving a few of their own. The Mason-Abbot term party will be in full swing this Friday night. The boys will have Derwood Carn's orchestra to provide the trumpet frills and paradiddles, while the couples whirl about in informal attire. Friday night is also the time set for a sweater-radio party at the Kappa Sig house, and on Saturday night the Theta Chis are giving their "Bowery Ball" in the form of a radio party at the house. The Sigma Nus much-looked-forward-to-and-annual-nuthouse-party is on the calendar for Saturday night. Co-Chairmen Don Otto and Frank Northway say that it will be styled after the well-known New Orleans Mardi Gras. Lieut. Fred Perry and Mrs. Perry (better known in these parts as Kay Davarn) are in town and have been asked to act as patrons.

The Phi Taus are planning a big week-end to finish off the term and, from the sound of it, themselves. Their term party will be given Friday night and will be preceded by a dinner at Hunt's. The next night a radio party, with the theme of "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," will keep the boys out of trouble—or will it? In order to keep things going, the Phi Taus and their dates are going to church Sunday morning and then to the house for a buffet dinner. If you see a mass of flesh dragging itself around by some strange means Monday morning, it is fairly safe to assume that it is a Phi Tau—or his date.

Perhaps you noticed a few strange characters among the crowd at the basketball game last Saturday—things like hillbillies, Victorian ladies, feminine football players, and a rey-erend complete with halo. This sort of thing should be explained and here is the "inside information" as they say in Dick Tracy. The Elsworth house was giving the craziest party of the term and the guests were just trying to get themselves in the mood. Every possible method was used to make it the most outlandish shindig ever.

So sorry, but there doesn't seem to be any possible method of bringing this pinning spree to a standstill or even to the point of a lull. Two Theta Chis have parted with their pins in the past week. They are Willard Garwood who has hung his pin on Irene Clark of Dearborn, and Clayton Berry, whose pin is now in the custody of Armol Jean Dunkel of Battle Creek. Two of the boys from the Phi Tau house have also made the great decision. Jack "Boogie" Paul didn't like the idea of going into the army without leaving something behind so last weekend he left his pin with Jean Robinson. Just before that Bob Ferguson passed his pin to Anne Kendrick. This sort of thing is running in two's these days. The night of their term party last Saturday, two Sigma Chis took the opportunity to give their pins away. Bob Weiss passed his pin to Sally Palmer and Ralph Miller's pin is with Doris Smith. If you should see those boys running around with their pin safely on their shirts, it is because of the Sigma Chi tradition that only sweetheart pins are given to the girls.

At long last the great day has come! Ed Sewell, the man from Maryland, has passed his Kappa Sig pin! Mary Starr is the girl who has finally broken down his resistance. The regular procedure of a serenade will be carried out Friday night and the following Sunday night Lou Brand's serenade to Georgia Ladd will take place.

A couple of surprise engagements have come up this week. Jeanne Charlton, Alpha Chi, was the happy recipient of a diamond from Jim Jacobs, and Linda Weber now wears a ring from Rog Sheldon who is from Buffalo also. He is in the Coast Guard at Erie, Pa.

Something new has been added. Fred Simmons, Sigma Chi, gave away cigars for the third time. First he pinned her, then he married her and now it's an eight pound baby girl.

The new initiates of Zeta Tau Alpha are: Shirley Culver, Winnie Wheeler, Grace Leatherman and Joan Woodruff. The Alpha Gams put a bunch of gals through initiation a short while ago. They are Barbara Board, Barbara Sibley, Doris Bennett, Dolly Lockwood, Jean Morrill, Margaret Bullen, Patty Shepard, Kitty Cash, Anne Bonninghausen, Connie Campbell, Doris Vogel and Ginny Anderson.

Phi Tau initiates up-to-date include Bill Cutting, Kay Short, Bud Smith, Henry Banach, Fay Cunningham, Doug Trezise, Ken Winter, Tom Ireland, Bob Ferguson, Bob Sweitzer and Al Berglund.

Leland Stowe, War Correspondent, Will Lecture Here on March 9

Leland Stowe, American ace war correspondent, will be the final speaker of this term's Lecture series when he appears Tuesday, March 9, in College auditorium, according to S. E. Crowe, chairman of the series. Stowe's topic will be "A War Commentary."

As foreign correspondent he has covered the conquest of Ethiopia, and every important front of the second World war—Oslo, Stockholm, Moscow, Bucharest, Istanbul, Ankara, Sofia, Belgrade, Solonika and Athens.

Since July 1941, he has been in Burma, Rangoon, Chungking, India, and recently in Russia.

His ability to forecast the trend of international developments won him the Pulitzer prize in 1930 for his articles on the Young Reparations conference. He is the author of the best-seller "No Other Road to Freedom."

Students will be admitted by student coupon according to S. E. Crowe, director of the series.

THINKIN' OUT LOUD

By Sheldon Moyer

THE LITTLE MAN who wasn't there—we thought he wasn't—has been following us around all week—and is actually here.

A certain senior student, whom we will spare the embarrassment, seems to think the State News is withholding certain information concerning what is going to happen here at Michigan State the rest of the term.

He seems to think we are withholding this information in order to promote higher morale, so that a sudden letdown will not occur, so students will study right through final exams.

This certain senior asked us what we knew, and we told him we didn't know anymore than we had read in the State News, and then we weren't sure. He appeared to doubt us.

Still doubting our word, he set out on a subtle form of investigation. The first thing he did was ask how many exams we had to take. Then he wanted to know if we had much work to make up as we went into the stretch—the last two weeks of the term.

When we told him that we were actually going to the library to study one night, he appeared later to checkup on us—to see if we were trying to throw him off the trail.

True enough, he's an inquisitive soul, just working on what he considers to be a sound theory. Evidently, he figures that final examinations still might be cancelled, or that classes be cut short a week. And furthermore, he must figure that we know all about it, and won't tell.

So in order to find out whether we're holding out, this senior has been conducting a methodical job of sleuthing. If we begin to study just a little bit more, if he sees us in the library, then maybe we're not kidding about what we know. But if he sees us taking it easy, letting things slide, then he'd know that we must know there's nothing to study for.

This really puts the pressure on us, and makes us feel just like a barometer. Actually, we don't know anymore than what has been said before—that classes will continue as scheduled and that final examinations will end on Saturday, March 20.

Then too, it sort of makes us laugh to think that a little man is following us around, basing his future on what we do—because even under normal circumstance—we're sometimes guilty of too little and too late.

All that we know concerning the military outlook of the students and the future program of Michigan State college can be said in three words:

IT'S A MESS!

Madame Chiang Proposes United World Order

NEW YORK, Mar. 2 (AP)—A future in which "this whole world must be thought of as one great state common to gods and men" was held out tonight by Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek as the goal of the United Nations.

The wife of China's generalissimo, in an address prepared for a tribute mass meeting in Madison Square Garden, and broadcast over the CBS and MBS national hookups, urged also the necessity of forgiveness for the enemy.

Spartans at War

By AL BERGLUND

ALMOST enough Spartans are at the New London, Conn., Coast Guard academy to form an alumni club. Cadet Art Isbit wrote the other day to tell us he was there, along with Don Farmer, Delta Chi, '42. Both are studying toward an ensign's rating. C. C. Hurd, faculty member on leave, is a math instructor at the base, and has Ensign Don Ver West, '42, as an assistant.

At the basic training center of the AAF technical training command at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Lieut. Neulon "Ed" Boehm, Phi Tau, '42, was recently promoted from second lieutenant. Boehm is married to Peggy Ayres, Theta, well known Michigan figure skater.

While we're on Phi Taus, one achieved some sort of fame last week when he hopped out of a bomber which flew 2,000 miles into Mexico without a pilot. He was Lieut. Bob Digby, navigator of the plane.

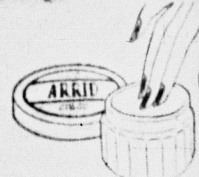

Lieut. Ed Crowe, '40, whose father is director of the general curriculum, is now on duty as a pilot at the South Plains army flying school at Lubbock, Texas. Crowe, who was a varsity wrestler and Wolverine photographer, got his commission as a flyer last August.

And here are three more men home on leave: Lieut. Bob Boerner, Grand Lodge, here two weeks after finishing OCS at Fort Benning, Ga.; Lieut. Hugh Albrecht, paratrooper from East Lansing, and Sgt. Chuck Hamilton, stationed with AAF psychology section at Kelly field, Texas.

Urges Retention of Sports for Morale's Sake

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2 (AP)—For morale's sake, a Pennsylvania representative told the house today, congress should go on record as sanctioning wartime spectator sports and opposing undue curtailments, especially of baseball and football.

The plea came from Rep. Samuel A. Weiss, Glassport (Pa.) triple-threat man—he's a lawyer, a football referee and a congressman.

"Happy soldiers make better fighters just like contented workers make better production men," said Weiss, Duquesne '25. "It is my firm conviction that soldier and civilian morale demands that the government permit spectator sports to continue for the duration."

Quarterbacking his own drive, the Democratic representative said he'll offer a resolution to congress to endorse wartime sports, and disclosed he has written President Roosevelt asking for a conference. "Whether baseball and football are to continue for the duration is now in the hands of your administrative leaders here in Washington," he told the President.

Nine Schools Enter in Annual CCC Here Saturday

The 17th annual Central Collegiate conference will be held in Jenison fieldhouse Saturday with preliminaries starting at 3 in the afternoon and the finals beginning at 7:30 p. m. Competing in one of the largest fields in the history of the annual event will be a total of nine schools entering 109 contestants.

The schools entering will be Albion, Central Michigan, James Milliken of Decatur, Ill., Lawrence college, of Appleton, Wis., Marquette, Michigan Normal, Notre Dame, Western Michigan and Michigan State.

In last year's meet, Notre Dame edged out the runner-up Spartan thincads 48-45. Michigan Normal came in third with 21 points.

In view of the relay carnival held last month, Notre Dame is rated a heavy favorite to take this year's meet. The Irish trackmen took seven firsts to State's two.

Since the CCC-meet is not a Michigan State controlled event, students will not be admitted on their activity books. They may present their books and pay reduced admission for the evening events.

State Mentor Pleased by Work of Swimmers

Back in East Lansing after their third straight win, the Michigan State swimmers are pointing for the Central Collegiate Championships to be held here Saturday.

Coach Charley McCallfree was highly pleased with the showing of the team against Illinois and expects his squad to reach its peak Saturday.

The Illini affair provided the Spartans with their best competition of the current season. Almost every race ended in a "blanket" finish with only a fraction of a second separating the first and second place winners.

The reliable veteran—Ralph Newton came through as usual to win both the 50 and 100 yard free style events. Newton's good time of 24.04 clipped one tenth of a second off Don Ladd's standard in the 50 yard event.

In spite of the rough water in the Illini pool, the "S" tankers turned in fast times in all the races lowering three of the dual meet records.

One of the closest events was the 220 free style where the Illini star, Bill Brekke, managed to touch out Bob Allwardt, who led Brekke until the last two feet.

Consistent point-winners in fancy diving, Larry Luoto and Tommy Barber kept up their winning ways placing first and second in the springboard contests.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Mar. 2 (AP)—Andy Phillip, the chief record-breaker of the record-breaking University of Illinois basketball team, today was elected captain of the 1943-44 team and also the most valuable player of this season's undefeated Big Ten champions.

Phillip, a junior from Granite City, Ill., averaged a fraction over 21 points a game in the 12-game conference season during which he accounted for the following conference records—255 points and 111 field goals in one season, and 40 points and 16 field goals in a single game.

DZVs, Pyjaky Take Contests in Semi-Finals

The DZVs and the Pyjaky cagers will play for the independent crown Thursday night, having won from the Jayhawks and F. S. C. last night in the semi-final tilts.

The Pyjaky squad dropped the F. S. C. in a nip and tuck contest 21-20. Neither team piled up more than a three or four point margin during the entire game. Going into the fourth quarter the count stood at 14 all. The F. S. C. managed to gain a one point lead and hold it until almost the last two minutes of the game. However, in the last 30 seconds of play Henry Karwas intercepted an F. S. C. pass and broke down the floor to sink the winning basket.

Karwas chalked up 11 markers to lead the scoring. Teammate Stan Pyciak followed with eight, while Leo Sendek and Julius Rambat each rang up seven for the losers.

The DZVs plied up a comfortable lead in the first three quarters to down the Jayhawks by the score of 23-18. At the start of the last quarter the athletic brotherhood was in the lead 19-8. Here the Jayhawks seriously threatened to take the tilt when they hit the meshes for 10 points to the DZV's four. However, it was the tight defense and scoring combination that won the contest for the DZVs in the early part of the game.

Ira Aubuchon and Vince Mroz each racked up six points to lead the victors. Norm Pennells paced the Jayhawks with a total eight.

Bill Ireland, Mason 7, Named Captain of Honorary Dorm Cage Quintet

By JOHN PICHURSKI

Captaincy of the first team of the State News all-dormitory league went to Bill Ireland, Mason 7's outstanding forward. Ireland was given this honor after officials of dorm loop games voted him the top player of the season. They also assisted in choosing the other teams' members.

The honorary pilot of the first team finished second in individual scoring with 40. He might have increased his quota, but the last scheduled game was won by a forfeit.

Abbot 13's Elbert Stark topped the league in point-getting by gathering 44 in the course of the season. First quintet-guard Dick Edelen shares Stark's position having also popped in 44 tallies. Edland netted 16 tallies in his team's last game to pull up to Stark.

Lanky George Fredericks used his height to good advantage during the season to net himself a total of 34 points. His smooth ball handling in the center position awarded him the top pivot spot on the first string team.

George Hackman of Abbot 18 has shown exceptional skill in setting up exceptional plays. He also was a better-than-average scorer, finishing the season with 30 tallies.

Bruins Top Wings to Stay in Race

BOSTON, March 2 (AP)—With Bill Cowley, their star center, scoring all the goals, the Boston Bruins kept their faint National Hockey league championship hopes alive by defeating the top-place Detroit Red Wings, 3-1, tonight before a 12,952 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Cowley's three-goal "hat trick," which provided the Bruins with their first triumph in their last six starts, enabled him to regain the league's individual high scoring honors from Doug Bentley of the Chicago Blackhawks. Cowley now has a total of 67 points to Bentley's 65.

A Cappella Concert Sunday to Open Week of Musical Activities

By LEONE SEASTROM

What will probably be the last compact week of musical events given by M.S.C. music organizations for the duration of the war is scheduled to begin Sunday with a concert by the a cappella choir.

Following the choir's performance will be a program presented by the M.S.C. symphony orchestra Thursday, March 11, at 7:30 p. m., in College auditorium. The finale in a series of "pop" concerts will conclude the week of musical events, with the marching band slated for a program Sunday, March 14, at 4 p. m. in College auditorium.

Kimmel to Conduct

The concert next Sunday, to be held in Peoples church at 7:30 p. m., will be presented in collaboration with the Student Christian union. Selections for the mixed choir, under the direction of Prof. William Kimmel, will be taken entirely from sacred music.

Following the old cathedral practice, the choir will sing from the balcony in the rear of the church.

To Contrast Periods

The program will contrast four distinct periods of church music, beginning with sacred music of the middle ages, and continuing with music of the German church of the reformation period. The music of the Russian orthodox church will also be represented, concluding the program with various selections from contemporary sacred music.

Mrs. Helen Roberts Sholl, organist, will also be featured on the program. She will play Cantabile from Symphonie VI by Widor, Sunrise by Demarest and several other sacred selections from Bach, Ceiga, Reger, Purcell and Pachelbel.

College Dairy Faces Dwindling Output of Ice Cream, Flavors

The ice cream output of M. S. C. dairy is steadily dwindling, with only 65 per cent now available of what was sold a year ago, according to Mrs. Margaret Houghton, in charge of the counter in the Dairy building.

The government is taking 30 per cent of the dairy's butterfat, she said, and at the present time the chocolate supply has been cut in half. Consequently, chocolate ice cream of any kind is sold only every third week.

With only 293 gallons of the now rare dish allotted for one month, a complete sellout of everything but ices usually results every day by 4 p. m.

No fanfare will accompany the breaking of the fast, for the government ruled out witnesses to the final chapter in the Indian nationalist leader's self-imposed ordeal.

Only members of Gandhi's family will be permitted to attend the thanksgiving prayer session to be held shortly before the fast ends.

"There is no change in Gandhi's condition and he is in good spirits," said the official government bulletin on the final day of the hunger strike.
