

Women to Keep Same Hours; Classes Begin One Hour Early

Although classes will be moved ahead one hour, campus clocks, and therefore coed hours and senior privileges, will remain as they are when the change-back to eastern war time takes place at midnight tonight, according to Dean Elisabeth Conrad.

In other words, students will have one hour added to their schedules beginning Monday morning. If they leave watches on central war time, to agree with college clocks which will not be moved until Thursday night when the State Board of Agriculture meets, students will go to 8 a. m. classes at 7 a. m. (or 8 a. m. eastern war time). However, women living in college-regulated residences will still be allowed to stay out until 10 p. m. (freshmen, 9 p. m. and seniors 11 p. m.) instead of 9 p. m.

East Lansing time will be one hour faster than college time, just as Lansing will be one hour ahead of the state capitol time.

College students are advised to leave watches as they are, go to classes one hour earlier, come home at the same time they always come home, and stay away from movies in Lansing unless they understand the situation well enough to avoid collecting late minutes.

Today's Campus

... Please, Sirs

When members of the Hesperian society conduct installation ceremonies for their admittance into the national organization of Psi Upsilon, they'll have to get army permission to use their fraternity house. The last local fraternity on campus, the society became a national unit this week at the same time the army took over its house as a military "barracks" for student soldiers.

... Silence Is Golden

"No serenade" is the request made by Lt. F. N. Miller, public relations officer of the 310th training detachment stationed in Mason and Abbott halls. Lack of appreciation is not the cause of the request, but the speeded-up study programs of the aircrewmen can't afford interruption, Lieutenant Miller said. He suggested, instead, that the women be prepared to sing back to the airmen at the World Adventure movie tonight.

Men, Women Split for Senior Series

Senior men and women will meet in separate rooms Monday at 7:15 p. m. for the third lecture of the Marriage series.

The subject "Biological Aspects of Marriage" will include anatomy and physiology, and sex problems.

Women, addressed by Dr. Lydia Lightning, head of the women's physical educational department, will meet in the chemistry lecture room. The men's speaker, Dr. C. F. Holland, head of the College health center, will give his lecture in the horticulture lecture room.

Agencies Rush Work on Food, Pay, Job-Curb

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Lowered prices for some foods were indicated today as OPA drafted dollar-and-cents ceilings for many cost-of-living items and, with other agencies, hastened to carry out President Roosevelt's sweeping anti-inflation order.

Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, sitting in with Mr. Roosevelt at a press conference, said OPA hoped to "roll back" prices in a number of instances, but did not mention any specific ones.

Workers Can't Shift

Along with these disclosures, there was a series of other major developments and repercussions as a result of the President's order:

1. War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt and his aides began working on a program to implement a section of the presidential order authorizing WMC to forbid a worker to taking a new job at higher pay unless it would promote the war effort.

2. The War Labor board instructed its regional offices to See CEILINGS—Page 4

'43 Building Schedule to Double Present Fleet, Says Knox

INDIANAPOLIS, Apr. 9 (AP)—The growing might of the United States navy, with emphasis on airplane carriers and destroyer escorts, was translated into stirring facts and figures by Secretary Knox tonight at an Indianapolis rally opening the second War Loan campaign.

The navy in 1943 will complete more new fighting ships—exclusive of non-combatant craft—than there were fighting ships in service at the end of 1942, the naval chief disclosed in his prepared address.

Warning that "the worst of this war lies ahead of us, and German under-sea power is an ever-increasing peril," he added "We will make further additions in 1944 to insure the obliteration of Japanese sea power and to sweep the German and Italian U-boats and surface ships from the seas."

RAF Sweeps Industrial Centers With Night Raids and Dogfights

LONDON, April 9 (AP)—Industrial concentrations in the oft-battered Cologne area were pounded again today in a dusk attack by swift mosquito bombers of the RAF, winding up a daytime aerial offensive in which Spitfires shot up Nazi supply trains in France and downed four enemy fighters over the Strait of Dover.

Not a British plane was lost in the sweeps, which lasted from mid-morning to dusk and ranged from Le Havre to the Rhine.

"During the day aircraft of the fighter and army cooperation command attacked and damaged several locomotives and other targets in northern France," the Air ministry said tonight.

At dusk Mosquitoes of the bomber command attacked industrial objectives. "From these operations none of our aircraft is missing."

Junior ERC Orders to Be Sent Home

Nearly all junior ERC calls were received by the military department yesterday and will be sent to their homes immediately, according to Capt. George H. Branch, adjutant.

Although there have been a few isolated instances of seniors getting their orders, the majority of senior calls have not come in as yet, Captain Branch further stated.

Women May Still Sign for X-Rays

There are still 175 college women who have not registered for their free tuberculosis chest X-rays, according to Miss Elaine Abbott, representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis association. Last chance for registering in the lower deck of the Union will be Monday.

Cooperating with the tuberculosis association is the Victory speakers' bureau under the leadership of J. K. Richards of the speech and dramatics department. Members of the bureau are giving short talks in dorms and sorority houses on the prevention of tuberculosis through X-rays.

Petri Will Appear As First Concert Series Artist

Egon Petri, distinguished Dutch pianist, will appear as the first artist on the concert series this term, next Tuesday. Born in a musical atmosphere, Petri's life has been influenced by such eminent artists as Tchaikovsky, Grieg, Brahms, and Clara Schumann.

Petri has appeared in concerts throughout Europe and the United States, devoting most of his time in recent years to the States where he has become a familiar figure to concert audiences.

His program Tuesday night will include the following numbers: Four Chorale-Preludes by Bach-Busoni, Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 53, and three selections from Chopin, including Ballade in F Minor, Nocturne in D Flat Minor and Scherzo in C Sharp Minor.

Petri will conclude his program with Rachmaninoff's preludes in G Major and G Minor.

Adventure Series Program Revised

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" starring Leslie Howard will be the World Adventure series movie to be shown today in College auditorium at 8 p. m., according to Prof. S. E. Crowe, chairman of the series. This stirring story of the French Revolution based on a play by Robert Sherwood will replace the originally scheduled "Last of the Mohicans."

A special feature, "The Mormon Melody Kings," male quartet who will arrive here after a series of appearances in army camps, will furnish the first 25 minutes of entertainment according to Crowe.

Because of the postponement of the dance scheduled for tonight, air students will attend the movie. They will sit in the balcony while the civilian students will occupy the main seats.

U-Boats Sink Destroyer

LONDON, April 9 (AP)—Axis U-boats attacking an Atlantic convoy last month sank Britain's famous hero class destroyer Harvester, the admiralty disclosed today, but the loss was avenged by the Fighting French corvette Aconit which sank two of the submarines.

Nazis Abandoning Maharas Leave 12,000 Troops

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Marshal Rommel has started evacuating some of his key officers and technicians from Tunisia to Messina, Sicily, London sources quoted.

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Reuters reported in a Zurich dispatch today that Premier Mussolini was understood to be preparing to evacuate his government from Rome.

By DANIEL DE LUCE ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 9 (AP)—

Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces hastened their retreat today, abandoning Mahares, 50 miles north of Gabes, and leaving nearly 12,000 troops as prisoners of the British and American forces since the eighth army's break-through at the Wadi El Akarit last Tuesday.

It also was disclosed officially that since the opening of the air offensive on the Mareth line March 20, Allied air forces operating in North Africa have shot down 302 enemy planes compared to a loss of 110 Allied planes.

Nazis Outflanked

Under the steady hammering of the British at their rear, the Americans, French and British on their inland flank and the great Allied aerial fleet overhead, Rommel's beaten men were fleeing toward the port of Sfax, 22 miles on to the north, and were retreating northeastward from the inland rail point of Mezzouna, it was disclosed here.

(Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, German military commentator, said the flat coastal area over which Rommel's forces are retreating is "most unfavorable for defense" and that Axis troops were being given no chance to relax.)

Americans Lauded

United States troops, highly praised at a press conference by Gen. Sir Harold L. Alexander, the Allied commander of ground forces, for having kept the bulk of Rommel's armor engaged earlier in the week while the eighth army smashed him at Wadi El Akarit, continued to plug eastward and were reported to have captured the Djebel Mazaila, a height north of Maknassy.

There was a strong possibility that the retreating Axis divisions were running short of motor transport under the destructive assaults of relays of Allied bombers. It was announced that 130 enemy vehicles had been destroyed and another 200 damaged in the past two days.

PROP WASHINGS

From the 310th Aircrew

(College Training Detachment)

By PVT. E. E. HALMOS, JR.
Abbot Hall

THE ENGLISH language, we have been taught, is one of the few on the earth that has virtually no dialects. If you speak English, any other English-speaking person can understand you, though you may slur your "R's" or broaden your "A's" or have other idiosyncrasies in pronunciation.

That's true, excepting in the army.

Disregarding army slang—which makes it possible to carry on lengthy conversations without using a single word of recognizable English—army drill masters have perfected a completely novel pronunciation for ordinary commands that never fails to baffle new recruits.

Most commands given at a training base sound to recruits as though the commander was gurgling violently, ending each See PROP WASH—Page 4

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

(This open letter to men in the service is a weekly feature of the Michigan State News, describing the outstanding events on campus. Clip it out and mail it to a friend in the service.)

Saturday, April 10, 1943.

HI JOHNNY:

It's been quite a week. Big news is the aircrew students for who can overlook the fact that an atmosphere of strictly business has hit the campus? And I do mean hit it hard. There are flights to the right of us, and flights to the left of us, and all of them marching and singing different songs, everything from "Around Her Neck" to "The Caissons Go Rolling Along."

What might be titled the big disappointment of the week was the fact that the coed-aircrewmen dance which was scheduled for tonight in the auditorium was postponed until May 1 by Dr. C. F. Holland, head guardian of the college's health, and Lt. William D. Anthony, medical officer for the 310th CTD. Although it was quite a blow for 1,000 coeds and the air students, too, we heard, it really was for the best because it will help combat the cold germ that is floating around.

Probably by this time all the ERC Spartan men who have been awaiting their orders are winding up their affairs, for all this week orders have been sent to 200 men a day to report April 13 or 14 to either Fort Custer, Fort Sheridan, Camp Grant, or Scott Field.

Oh yes, the 240 senior ROTC men who have been living in fraternity houses were placed on active duty last Wednesday. They will go to Fort Custer sometime next week to be sworn into the army, and given their physical examinations, and they will return as sergeants or corporals with the regular army pay. But they will have to forsake their nice officer uniforms for awhile.

And Johnny, the women are really ruling the campus now and have even invaded publications row. At the State News office, seven women are filling posts vacated by men who left for the armed forces. Pretty soon I think they will call it harem row.

Well, this is all for now, but good luck... keep knocking them off, and I'll do the same with the letters.

Love,

DEE.

CAMPUS CHURCHES

THE REV. N. A. McCUNE will speak on "Registration Day in the School of Christ" at the 9 and 11 a. m. services of Peoples church tomorrow.

Student Christian Union will meet for a fireside hour from 5 to 7 p. m. with "This I Believe" as the topic. Musical vespers follow at 7 p. m.

The College Lutheran church, meeting in the State theater, will hold its weekly worship service at 10:30 a. m., and Rev. William Young will speak on "In the Shadow of the Cross." The Bible class preceding the service meets at 10.

'Communism' Is Subject

Lutheran Student club is scheduled to meet at 7 p. m. in organization rooms 1 and 2 of the Union to hear Dr. Paul Hognsheim, associate professor of sociology, speak on "Communism."

The Wesleyan Methodist church, at E. Michigan and N. Magnolia in Lansing, will be highlighted by Pastor Royal Woodhead's sermon on "Our Sanctification" at 11 a. m. tomorrow. The evening service at 7:30 will continue a series on Jesus with "Christ, Our First Teacher" as the topic.

Masses Slated at Usual Times

St. Thomas Aquinas church, on Abbot road in East Lansing, will hold its regular masses at 9 and 11 a. m. tomorrow, and at 7:15 a. m. during the week. Open forums will be held Wednesday at 5 and 7:30 p. m. in room 1 of the Home Ec building.

Public inquiry classes will continue on Monday and Friday at 8 p. m. at the church.

The First Presbyterian church, at the corner of Capitol and Allegan in Lansing, is continuing a series of Lenten sermons by Rev. Peter Monsma with "The Good Shepherd," at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

In Campus Quarters

By HELEN SCHMIDT and SCOTTIE McNEAL

AFTER this weekend the Sigma Kappas will be worn to a frazzle unless they are superhuman... the doings started yesterday afternoon with a tea in honor of some national and province officers who are visiting them... their guests of honor will be the grand vice-president, Mrs. L. W. Corbett; grand secretary, Mrs. Ivan Schneider; and province president, Mrs. Russell Cole.

Some new Sigma Kappas will be showing their pins proudly after the initiation and banquet today... they will be Connie Helmer, Dee Dearing, Barbara Christianity, Betty Butler, Marg Howard and Marion Murdock.

Sigma Nus Honor Brother

The Sigma Nus are bestowing a post-mortem honor upon one of their brothers who gave his life in World War I... a plaque is being made for James Palmer, outstanding hero, who received the croix de guerre with silver palms, the distinguished service cross, the silver star and citations from his commanding officers and Marshal Pétain.

The love life of the campus seems to be taking a definite slump in spite of its being spring term... evidently most of the men took care of that sort of thing before the end of last term. There are only three items along that line this time.

Tch, Tch... Only 3 Couplings

Ted Himmelein, Kappa Sig and graduate of last year, has given his star and crescent to Lee Leland, Chi O... A sister Chi O, Maryruth Barlow, is now flashing a diamond from Bill Shuttleworth, Theta Chi... Mary Elaine Childs received a ring from Capt. Jack Welch, Kappa Sig of Ohio State.

In order to get into the right mood at the very beginning of the term, the Alpha Chis are going to Peoples church tomorrow.

Five State Wrestlers Win First Round AAU Bouts

Jennings, Maxwell, Marrs, Johnson, Konrad Survive

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—The thrilling circus that annually passes for the first round of the National AAU wrestling championship went through its customary antics tonight and ended the starting field of 140 down to 74 without losing a single "name" grappler.

All the sectional and collegiate bosses who saw action in the seven weight classes that were whittled down got by their opening round opponents, with the possible single exception of Newt Copple, midwest invitation titleholder from Lincoln, Neb.

Match Summaries

Summaries of matches in the National AAU wrestling championships last night included:

145-pound class (first round)
Joe Gishburg, West Side YMCA (N.Y.) defeated Morris Hathaway, Michigan State college, 9-5.

165-pound class (first round)
Donald Johnson, Michigan State, defeated Fred Tarrant, New York Institute of Blind, 8-17.

185-pound class (first round)
Bill Maxwell, Michigan State, defeated Allen Crabtree, Penn State, 7-2.

220-pound class (first round)
Mae Jennings, Michigan State, defeated Patsy Parnagino, Newton, N. J., high school, 8-0.

260-pound class (first round)
John Marrs, Michigan State, defeated R. Losakowski, Weymouth, Mass. high school, 6-4.

313-pound class (second round)
James Laveck, Niagara N. Y., threw Ray Perry, Michigan State, 2-57.

350-pound class (first round)
Ivanis Konrad, Michigan State, defeated John Mahoney, Long Island Complex club, 4-0.

Frimodig Completing MSC Sports Records in Spare Moments

Lyman L. Frimodig, assistant director of athletics and the official keeper of records for State, has spent all his spare time in recent months filling in gaps in Spartan sports history.

When the work is completed Frimodig hopes to have an unbroken record.

He has searched through old copies of college publications, newspaper files and written many letters seeking information. Earle E. Hotchin, member of the class of 1912, for years has made a hobby of collecting odd and interesting bits of information about athletes at the college, and has collaborated in the work.

Jobs Open to Senior Women Are Posted

Spring has a new meaning for senior women, if they are interested in job opportunities, according to Prof. D. W. Kuykendall, director of the Liberal Arts placement office. There are a half dozen or more vacancies for every well-qualified candidate, he says.

Senior women in Liberal Arts who have not completed their registration with the placement office, located in Room 3, Union Annex, should do so immediately. Kuykendall urges, and candidates should check the bulletin board, which is located near the entrance to the Union cafeteria, at least once a week for announcements of job opportunities in which they might be interested.

Frosh Track Men to Fill Vacancies on Varsity Squad

With an eye on the cloudy skies, Coach Karl Schlademan put his charges through a strenuous work-out and time trials yesterday afternoon readying for the coming dual meet with Purdue to be held here next Saturday. The time trials were originally slated to be run off today but the threatening weather caused the time to be moved up a day.

Schlademan's chief aim is looking for any potential point makers among the freshmen and developing them. Things are looking better for the squad with the addition of several new freshman members, in spite of the loss of almost half of its reliable point makers to the armed forces at the end of the term.

Lone Dash Prospect

Biggest freshman prospect in the dashes is Jack Steelman of Birmingham, who incidentally won the 100 and 200 events at the state high school meet last spring.

Detroit's Allan Waite was the 440 mainstay for the freshman squad winter term and is showing plenty of improvement on the outdoor oval. A new name this spring in the yearling ranks is John Von Eberstein of Royal Oak. Von Eberstein has just come out for track this spring and shows plenty of talent, especially along the 440 line.

Running in the half mile with John Liggett will be Joe Kennedy of Niles who was another of the freshmen's best men indoors.

Lyke Is Strong Distance Man

Wardell Lyke from Copemish, a consistent winner in the one and two-mile events during the winter for the frosh, will be a strong running mate for Capt. Bill Scott.

Bill Marshall from Ann Arbor along with Sophomore Bill Roberts, will be the Spartans' main contenders in the pole vault since their loss of Ted Wench to the ERC.

In the broad jump event will be Jim Barbour of East Lansing. Barbour will also be competing in the 220-yard dash. Another strong man in the broad jump is Dick Papps, freshman from Roseville who has low hurdles as his sideline.

Kaveiff Back in Hurdles

Sheldon Kaveiff will be the Spartan freshman mainstay in the hurdle events. Kaveiff, a transfer student from Detroit, left an impressive record behind him during the indoor season.

Phil Durante from Wheaton, Ill., will be aiding Sophomore Nick Migliaccio in the weight event, as well as hurling the discus.

As yet Schlademan has found no prospective high jumper to compete beside Jim Milne, and at present is searching for someone to fill this spot.

Women's Sports

By DEE DEARING

Michigan State's topnotch woman swimmer, Lois Newman, captured fifth place in the 100-yard breast stroke event at the Michigan AAU meet held last night in Detroit.

Joan Province of Detroit was winner of the event again this year. The winning time was 1:32.2.

Miss Newman's timing was 1:36, an improvement over last year's 1:41.

Miss Newman broke her 30-yard breaststroke record in the Michigan State pool three different times last winter term, bringing it down from 24 seconds to 23.2 seconds.

Men Eligible for Degree Total 130; Grad Exam Rescheduled

Registration for Second Test to Close April 27

By JOAN MEYERS
Seniors and undergraduates who wish to take the graduate record examination on May 11 and 12 must register on or before Tuesday, April 27. Examination Counselor Paul Dressel emphasized yesterday.

The tests, which will require two half-day sections just as it did last term, will be given in the afternoon of May 11 and the morning of May 12.

Results of this testing will again be used to determine the eligibility of senior men leaving school for the armed services before the end of the term.

Passing the test for these senior men is regarded as earning average or better for four out of the eight tests as compared with average scores of majors in the same field.

Seniors who did not take the exam at first offering will be required to take it and expense will be borne by the college. (A senior is defined as a student who had 142 credits at the beginning of winter term.) All other students will pay $150 examination fee.

Following is a list of senior men who took the Graduate Record examination and who, in case they are called into service before they complete the usual college requirements, are to be granted their diplomas. They have all been recommended by their deans.

gargle with an ill-tempered bark. This state of affairs does not improve at all, although practice and long familiarity finally make it possible to distinguish slight pauses between barks.

It is often a complete surprise for a new soldier to discover that his non-com commander actually can and often does use excellent, understandable English.

For example, the average drillmaster has no use for the letter "M." He says "forward, HARCH!" for "forward, march." He favors the "H" for the letter "F" wherever possible, too—as "left, harch," "right, harch," "about, harch." By some forgotten process, he has transformed the word "left" (when used to get his men into step) into "hut."

"To the rear, march!" in his mouth, becomes something like "To the Re-ah, Harch!" "Left, face" becomes "layuft, harch." Counting cadence for marching men sounds like "hup, hoop, heep, haw," instead of "one, two, three, four." "Attention" becomes "Atten-HUT."

Of course, there's a reason. Even drill sergeants are human, with human voices. Ordinary mortals can't keep up a constant stream of shouted commands for hours on end without tearing their vocal chords apart. But by bringing up the "hut" sound, mainly by use of the lungs alone, it can be done.

Try saying "Attention" (just as it was meant to be pronounced) in loud, commanding tones. See? Hard to do—and you almost always end up in a girlish squeak trying to sound the "N."

But you can quite easily bring out a full-throated "hut" that will startle anyone in hearing into rigid immobility.

We'll make soldiers out of you yet.

Brooklyn college has disclosed plans for a four-week summer session in which city-bred students will harvest crops by day and attend classes at night.

Foxhole Follies Is Latest Display of Campus Humor

By Jerry ter Horst

When State students see the "Foxhole Follies" of '43 next Friday or Saturday nights they'll be witnessing the three-year-old brain child of those sophomore two-pointers—the men of Green Helmet.

Born in November of 1940, during one of those hushest meetings of the clan, the idea of a Variety show to be produced and acted entirely by State students spread like wildfire.

Follies Is New Title

This year, the Variety show labors under the title of the "follies" and promises to provide a hilarious evening for its audiences when the first curtain rises in Fairchild theater next Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p. m. And according to Gordon Hueschen, A.S. '45, co-chairman, tickets now on sale at the Union desk and at sororities and dormitories are, as in previous years, "selling fast."

Sponsored jointly by Green Helmet and Tower Guard, girls' sophomore honorary, the first Variety show, labeled simply "Spartan Varieties," was performed before a sellout house on May 3, 1941. That year, Kappa Alpha Theta's Thetadone News and the Delta Sig's "Night in the Bowery" walked off with the awards.

Used Dual Sponsors

Last year, SWL shared the producing honors with Green Helmet under a "Hellzapoppin" theme, with the Variety show title being the well-remembered "Orchids and Onions." And again the Delta Sigs took top honors with their version of "Nightmare in Hell's Half Acre."

Weaving these skits into a unified show is an endless headache of gag-planning, script writing for campus wits, and coaching performed for the third successive year by Don Buell, dramatics head.

According to student consensus, the Variety show is as much a part of Spartan life as Beau-
