Dykstra, Seaton Chosen as Speakers at Senior Week Exercises

Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, will be the speaker at the 85th annual commencement exercise on June 12 in College auditorium, Pres. John A. Hannah announced yesterday.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered on Sunday, June 6, by Dr. John L. Seaton, president of Albion college. This service will also be held in College auditorium.

Holds Public Service Record

Dr. Dykstra's career as educator and administrator includes holding the presidency of Wisconsin university since 1937 and various posts in public administration and teaching, culminating in a seven-year term as city manager of Cincinnati from 1930 to 1937.

His most recent public post was his directorship of the selective service program from its foundation in 1940 until April of 1941.

College Leader

Dr. Seaton, who has been president of Albion college since 1937, was announced as speaker at the graduation exercises.

Tapping Services for Honoraries Will Be May 3

Mortar Board and Tower Guard, senior and sophomore women's honoraries, will break tradition this year by holding their May morning sing and tapping services on Monday, May 3, instead of the customary May 1. Co-Chairmen Ada Hough, Romeo senior, and Jean Schmichel, East Lansing sophomore, announced yesterday.

The tapping ceremony has been postponed because May 1 comes on Saturday and it was felt that the following Monday would be more appropriate.

New members for Tower Guard will be announced by Pres. Jean Oviatt, Washington, D. C. sophomore, while Pres. Barbara Scarlett, Owosso senior, will announce Mortar Board's choices.

Sunday evening both groups will join for the traditional serenade of the residences of the women who are being tapped for either organization the next morning.

"Standards for Mortar Board women are based on quality of work, not in the accumulation of offices," Miss Hough said. "Sincerity of purpose, initiative, and quality of work done are the major requirements."

"Tower-Guard standards require character, leadership, scholarship and service," Miss Oviatt stated.

British Raid Nazi Ruhr District

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—The RAF blasted Duisburg with approximately 1,350 tons of bombs in one of the heaviest raids of the war last night, the British announced tonight, leaving that great industrial and transport center of the German Ruhr a vast carpet of seething flames.

For 45 minutes, the air ministry news service disclosed, Britain's biggest bombers dumped an average of 30 tons of explosives and incendiaries every minute.

British airmen also were busy closer to home today. Swooping out of the sun at near mast height over the channel, Whirlwind bombers and fighters bombed and machine-gunned enemy shipping.

The Germans put up one of their stiffest defenses of the city 12 miles west of pummeled Essen, and they claimed 17 of the raiders. It was the first large-scale raid in a week during which

The British mentioned only Duisburg, but the Berlin radio broadcast the German high command statement that several places in western Germany, including nearby Oberhausen and Muelheim, were targets.

Negotiations to Remedy Situation Between Russia and Poland Begun

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Britain opened negotiations toward patching up the differences between Soviet Russia and the Polish government-in-exile today and there were strong indications that the United States was participating in the intensive effort to restore diplomatic relations between the two Allies, severed last Sunday by Russia.

U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant was called unexpectedly this afternoon to No. 10 Downing street, official residence of Prime Minister Churchill. His visit was followed immediately by a conference attended by Churchill, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Wladyslaw Sikorski, the Polish premier.

African Campaign Reaches Climax With Big Push

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 27 (AP)—

French troops have smashed to the outskirts of Pont Du Fahs, their high command announced tonight as the German defenses on the Tunisian bridgehead gave way slowly both at that key Axis supply base and in the Medjez-El-Bab area, and front dispatches indicated that the critical stage of the great battle was near at hand.

Advance to Bizerte

Advancing in numerous sectors in the face of fierce opposition, Allied forces pushed the Axis line back to within 23 miles of Tunis and presumably were even closer to Bizerte.

Ten miles west of Mateur, however, American infantry which attacked the Djebel El Azzog were forced to fall back under heavy counterattacks. But even these troops were able to occupy the Djebel El Ajred in the area south of Jefna, itself due west of Mateur.

Enemy Retreats

French Goumiers, driving into Pont Du Fahs from the southwest, were reported continuing their pressure on the retreating enemy in mountain terrain strewn with land mines.

In the sector between Medjez-El-Bab and the Mediterranean, the Axis rear guard was reported falling back so rapidly before the thrusts of the American corps of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., that the enemy had no time to bury his dead.

Air Force Joins

Aloft, the already overwhelming Allied air mastery was being even further extended. The Allied communique referred to the "increasing intensity" of attacks by the tactical air force on enemy positions and air fields. One thousand sorties by Allied planes were reported.

The heaviest single raid was delivered by Flying Fortresses on Grosseto air field, 90 miles northwest of Rome, on the Italian mainland, hundreds of bombs were cast down; parked Axis planes and airdrome buildings were destroyed.

The Irish got 14 hits in seven innings off Colin "Pinky" Getz, Spartan starting pitcher, and landed on Dick Bernitt for five more in the eighth. Two of their eighth inning hits were successive home runs by Tom Sheehan and Angelo Bertelli.

Notre Dame and Michigan State will meet at East Lansing Thursday to play a game postponed from last Tuesday. In only two of eight innings they went to bat were the Irish held scoreless. Creevey didn't allow the Spartans a run until the ninth and by that time they had a 12 to 0 lead.

Strike Threatens in Coal Industry

By The Associated Press
The threat of a paralyzing, full-scale soft coal strike hung heavily over the nation last night as the United Mine Workers' policy committee bitterly denounced the War Labor board and the number of miners who had already quit work in unauthorized walkouts mounted to over 28,000.

The UMW committee virtually closed the door against consideration of its wage dispute by the WLB—the agency set up by the government to handle wartime labor issues—by the vigor of its language in a request that the government direct continued "collective bargaining without political limitation."

With the UMW committee having apparently ruled out submission of the issue to the WLB, it appeared the probability of a general work stoppage this coming weekend had greatly increased.

It was generally believed in Washington that the government would act swiftly if a general work stoppage did develop.

What action the government might take would be up to President Roosevelt and no one professed to know what he might do, but there was conjecture that the government might take over the mines.

Win Favorable Comments of Michigan State Coeds

By Peg Middlemiss

Since the arrival of the aircrewmen, the outlook for State coeds in "affaires d'amour" has brightened up considerably. Now convinced that the college has not yet been converted to a female seminary, the problem of getting acquainted is uppermost in the minds of many.

Hard to Get Acquainted

Objecting to the accusation of one pre-cadet who wonders why coeds sing to him at night and snub him during the day, Jean McKerring, Flushing sophomore, answers: "I think most of us are anxious to get acquainted with the aircrewmen, but it's pretty hard to strike up a lifelong friendship while they 'hut-two-three-four' all over the place."

Ann Doman, Syracuse sophomore, declares that she's "all out for a bigger and better air force. These fellows are tops. I think, however, that State had better offer the coeds a course in 'How to Out-manuever the Soldiers.' The traffic problem on campus is getting serious, and the air force all but mows us down as they march to classes."

"The aircrewmen I've met are gentlemen in every sense of the word," says Mickey Mikota, Lansing freshman. "They also seem to know our school songs better than most of us."

Warning to Coeds

A bit skeptical is Jean Chapman, Detroit senior, who believes

Request Clears Committee

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27 (AP)—The administration's request for a three-year renewal of the reciprocal trade policy cleared its first hurdle today, with the house ways and means committee voting down Republican proposals that congress assume veto powers over negotiated treaties and otherwise restrict the administration's authority.

Today's Campus

... Drench Parade

The ROTC seniors got a taste of field duty in any kind of weather yesterday. They had just dressed in newly pressed pinks for parade, when the rains came—and hail—transforming the once orderly, spruce unit minus raincoats into a drenched mob. And the irony of it all was that the "squall" was over by the time the parade was ready to go.

... Friendly College

Real evidence that State wants to be a "friendly college" to the aircrew is being shown by Pres. John A. Hannah. He has sent to the parents of the men stationed here a card picturing Beaumont tower, on which a friendly message states: "While your son is at Michigan State college... you may find satisfaction in knowing that he is receiving training which will be useful to him long after the war has ended. We welcome your son to Michigan State."

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By ELLIS BRANDT

TOM HARMON will undoubtedly become a general before very long. He has football legs.

We have the greatest admiration for Harmon's football playing ability, and have no doubt that he is a gentleman and a scholar, but we thought that the publicity he got on his descent into a South American jungle exceeded all standards of normal news judgment.

We especially liked the story in Sunday's papers in which Harmon eulogized Harmon in simple, straightforward terms. "It took dogged Irish courage to get through that jungle," Harmon said, adjusting his halo carefully, "and I gave it all I had."

"The razor-edged swamp grass cut my trousers to ribbons but I plunged on toward the coast. Only the strong leg muscles I developed playing football for Michigan brought me through alive."

True, Harmon was well-known, but that's no reason to send a native boy ahead so that AP, UP and INS are awaiting at the jungle's edge to spread the inside story to the waiting world the moment the hero bursts forth from the underbrush and staggering forward cries, "It was harder plunging through that tangle than through the Michigan State line. Almost as hard as through the Minnesota line. Ah, my beautiful, beautiful legs."

Next time maybe Tom can mumble a play-by-play description into a microphone as he comes through the brush, by courtesy of WJR.

Lots of people felt the same way about Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, who seemed to think that spending half the winter on a raft out in the Pacific qualified him to tell midwest labor unions that they weren't working hard enough. Some of the union gents didn't take it too well.

MSC COEDS seem to be furthering the "good neighbor" policy enthusiastically so far among the air pre-cadets, but we are wondering if something more constructive couldn't be done with the 5 to 6 p. m. time-off the men get than letting them wander down Grand River avenue buying toothpaste.

Perhaps a revival of the coffee hours that were so common last spring is in order, with coeds as professors and some sponsoring group pouring. The main Union lounge would make an exquisite setting for such a melting-pot.

CDC's date bureau is doing a fairly good job, judging by the couples one sees wandering about of a Sunday, but a coffee hour or its equivalent, would be much more chummy and would allow persons to meet lots of other persons instead of one at a time.

THIS is the first spring term in several decades at MSC when politics haven't dominated the campus scene.

Politics have been at times a cancer on the student body, meaning that they've been insidious and dangerous. With a respite from campaigning and petty conniving for the duration, perhaps MSC politickers will get a chance to start with a fresh slate after the war and keep things on a fairly level keel. Perhaps post-war offices will be held for reasons other than the candidate's Greek affiliation.

Meanwhile the women are putting up a fairly good show of how to tick politically. We notice that AWS, for example, elected a woman who was ineligible at the time as president, then waited until she was eligible and held the election over again. Results are pending.

This little incident makes a nice opening shot for the feminine political warriors now taking over the reins for the duration, and before the war's over they ought to be having a fancy hair-pulling at least once or twice a term. We've heard of cases where that happened, too.

81 Students Enroll for Record Exam

Eighty-one students will take the graduate exam when it is offered Tuesday and Wednesday, May 11 and 12, according to Examiner Paul Dressel.

The general test will cover eight basic fields of knowledge and will be given Tuesday afternoon, the first half-day session. The advanced tests will be administered Wednesday morning.

As the room for the administering of the exams has not yet been procured, students who will take the test will be notified by postal card. Each student will be assigned a seat, Dressel said.

Axis Air Attack Indicated

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—The possibility that the Axis may be sending heavy aerial reinforcements to the Mediterranean battle theater, perhaps to combat an impending Allied invasion of southern Europe, was seen here tonight in the wake of a violent American bombing attack on Italy and nearby Italian islands.

Spartans At War

By DON THORNBURY

NOW THAT the WAAC, WAVES, SPARS, and even lady leathernecks have become a part of our armed forces it is only proper that we turn the spotlight on several ex-female Spartans, now at war.

Dorothy J. Duffy, Lansing, '43 has completed basic training at the first women's army auxiliary corps training center at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, and has been selected for specialized training in radio and television at Midland school, Kansas City, Mo.

Contributes to Nurse Corps
Another former Spartan-in-skirts was on campus recently in the form of 2nd Lt. Enid Jo Bailey, who attended State in '39 and '40. She is in the Army Nurse corps and is now stationed at Camp Davis, N. C.

Another MSC student received a flying commission this month when Frank Prescott, Jr., who hit the books here for two years with the class of '44, was commissioned an ensign in the naval air corps at Corpus Christi, Texas.

New Bombardier Born

Word comes from the West Texas bombardier triangle school, San Angelo, Tex., that Paul E. Kenny, Lansing man who was here in '39 and '40, has just been commissioned a second lieutenant with the "hell from heaven men."

The power and fury of the army air forces was strengthened recently as hundreds of Uncle Sam's new fighting pilots, ready and eager to hit Hitler and Hirohito where they can feel it, were graduated from the AAF Gulf Coast center's flying schools. Among them were former Spartan men Lt. Nathan Patland, '44; Lt. George E. McCutcheon, '43; Lt. Hugh Hall, '42; Lt. John S. Townsend, '43; Lt. Willard O. Stevens, '41; and Lt. William S. Burt.

We have run short of material of late so if you would let us know about any dope you have on former Spartan men or women now in service, it would be much appreciated.

And so remember all you 4F's to get back your blondes, purchase more bonds. For all coeds too young to join the WAAC, WAVES, etc., also remember: You'll be helping your he male if you write him by V-mail.

Nelson Acts to Prevent U. S. Rubber Bankruptcy

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27 (AP)—WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson took personal responsibility today for overriding the war department and delaying the 100-octane gasoline program in order to complete 55 per cent of scheduled projects for Buna rubber production. He said he acted last January to prevent "a bankruptcy on rubber" next fall that might invite "a terrific calamity for the United Nations."

Sufficient gasoline is available to meet all immediate needs "if it can be got to the points where it is needed most," Nelson said. In the meantime, he added, the stockpile of crude rubber is diminishing rapidly and only the decision to go ahead with the synthetics program will prevent a "bankruptcy" on rubber in the fourth quarter.

By HELEN SCHMIDT and SCOTTIE McNEAL

SIGMA Nus have discovered a new poet laureate, Johnnie (J. B.) Scott. J. B. takes his inspiration from the haunts of Robert Burns and, according to his discoverers, creates some pieces that border on the sublime.

Now that we have satisfied ourselves with a moment of solemn critical observations unknown to this column, let us slip back once more to the doggerel in prose on the romantic.

A few billboard-size pins of the newly christened Psi Us are beginning to appear on some fortunate females. Barb Appelhof wears Chuck Brethen's, and George Bushnell, from Amherst, has given his to Diane Brownlee, Alpha Phi.

Harold (Rocky) Rockwell, who was elected president of the Delta Sigs before he left for Scott field, Ill., took time off to give his pin to Lois Robinson. Jack Lovett, now an air cadet at Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, gave his Pi Kappa Phi pin to Shirley Holmgren.

Bruce Greneman, Sigma Chi, gave a going-away present of a beautiful diamond ring to Betty Martin before he left for the army. Nona Byers has the additional jewel of a Sigma Chi pin from Jack Goodrich.

Another new set of officers was recently installed by the ATOs. They are President, Harold Schupbach; vice-president, Mel Buschman; treasurer, Earl Potter, and secretary, Bruce Chapman.

Four Theta Chis from the local chapter will journey to Ohio university this weekend to attend a nationwide Theta Chi "corral." The men to represent State's chapter are Bob Laux, Dearborn sophomore; Dick Booth, Monroe, Wis., sophomore; Bill Konde, Dearborn junior, and Nelson Sabin, Riverdale freshman.

Four Series E War savings bonds, costing a total of $300, will supply the navy with a balsa wood life float, capable of sustaining 60 persons.

Prose Contestants Enter Eliminations for State Contests

Two student prose readers will be picked tomorrow night to represent Michigan State college in a state-wide prose reading contest following eliminations in the Studio theater from 4 to 5:30 p. m.

First and second prizes of $10 and five dollars also will be awarded to the winners providing they represent the college in the state contest which will take place on campus Friday May 7.

Speech department heads say the contest is open to both men and women students, and the trials will consist of sight reading from material furnished the student at the time of the contest. Poetry reading trials were held last week.

State Runners to Meet Marquette Here Saturday

By Pat McCarthy

The Michigan State thinclads return to the home ground this weekend when they meet the Marquette squad on the local track oval west of the football stadium Saturday afternoon. Last Saturday the Spartans journeyed to Des Moines, Iowa, where they captured a third and a fourth place in the four-mile and one-mile relay events; respectively.

Weather Favorable

Coach Karl Schladehman is looking forward to the meet Saturday with a much more optimistic eye than earlier in the season. After several weeks of working out in near winter weather, his charges have at last found conditions suitable for a decent practice session without endangering themselves with a strained muscle. They had been unable to work out in the Jenison fieldhouse as the air force physical classes occupied all the available space.

With the freshmen displaying plenty of talent, the track squad shows plenty of promise for a successful season in spite of the usual tough schedule and loss of veterans to the ERC.

Better Performances Due

Upon the advent of the warmer weather, the prospects of better performances are bright as compared to the comparatively poor showings made at the opening meet with Purdue here two weeks ago.

However, Schladehman has his eye on the weather and is hoping that the inevitable rains will restrain from appearing at inopportune times to keep his men from the usual afternoon practice session.

Frimodig Uncovers Old Baseball Record

It will be a far day that the baseball scoring record at Michigan State college is broken. In digging through age-yellowed files, Assistant Athletic Director Lyman L. Frimodig uncovered a score of 53 to 0 made against a team designated only as "Lansing." The game was played in 1886.

Earliest record of baseball on the campus is 1877 when W. K. Prudden, the late Lansing industrialist, was captain of the team. The schedule that year did not open until August 29 and listed games with Jackson, Charlotte, Hastings, Grand Rapids, Owosso and Flint.

The federal order for a 35-mile-an-hour driving limit brought average speed throughout the country down to about 37 miles an hour.

Entries in the golf tournament in group A, according to ladder schedule are Mary Louise Wills, Kappa Alpha Theta, Martha Ann Kotila, Zeta Tau.

Women who are entitled to initiation in the WAA, and failed to be initiated winter term, and also women who are eligible for winter term awards, are asked to be present at the WAA board meeting to be held Monday, May 3, at 5 p. m., in the WAA office, according to Pres. Margaret Mahoney.

From the Bleacher Seat

By JOHN MARRS

WHAT a year this would be for another Galahadian to come to the front in the Kentucky Derby. When the big sorrel won the Churchill Downs classic three years ago with the odds 23 to 1 against his even being close to the front racing history (and the bookies) took quite a wallop.

This year most of the sportsmen who follow the horses have Count Fleet all charted and picked to take the Derby by lengths and lengths. Of course the favorite has won some races during the year that far outshine any of the competitors. But it is odd when the sporting world will stick its neck out so far as to designate who will win the Kentucky Derby in such certainty before the race is run. It's a bad omen, gentlemen.

From the way Coach Charles D. Ball's tennis team knocked the Wolverines around Monday afternoon, predictions are for the outstanding season in Spartan net history. Frank Ziemann went down before the onslaught of Jenks Johnson, much improved Michigan senior, but so have some of the top men in the Big Ten circuit taken a beating from Johnson. Ziemann was not easy and given more time to perfect his offense and develop his accuracy at clipping the deep court corners, he will be potent stuff on the collegiate courts.

Quite a squabble that the boys in the big leagues are having these days over whether or not the dead baseball of 1943 is going to make it through the season. Ford Frick has given national league clubs permission to play with 1942 style balls. Immediately the hitting of national league teams rose considerably.

The whole argument seems to be a bit unnecessary and as silly as the Michigan time change. The manufacturer of the new ball admits that it is of inferior quality and does not meet specifications so what is the use of hollering—throw the thing out and get a ball the boys can hit.

Outfielders say they must play 15 to 20 feet closer in than in former years with the dead ball. Pitchers are getting no-hit games who never got one a season before—some never. If baseball is going to be played under normal conditions, why not the normal ball?

The performance of the day goes to Rookie Jesse Flores of the Philadelphia Athletics who went 15 and two-thirds innings yesterday to beat the Washington Senators 2 to 1 in a 16 inning game.

Philadelphia Wins 16-Inning Contest

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Rookie Jesse Flores today hurled Philadelphia to a 2-1 win over the Washington Senators in a gruelling, 16 inning baseball marathon, the longest in the major leagues this season.

Flores and Early Wynn of the Senators tangled in a brilliant mound duel for 13 heats.

Singles by Irvin Hall and Bob Wagner, a walk, a fielder's choice and an error produced the A's two scores in the 16th.

Flores yielded a single to Gene Moore and walked Stan Spence after two were out in Washington's half of the 16th. Roger Wolff went to the mound for the Mackmen and Bob Johnson promptly lashed a double to right, scoring Moore from second and sending Spence to third. Wolff ended the game by forcing Jimmy Vernon to roll weakly to the infield.

After many postponements and cancellations, the original coed-aircrew dance slated for Saturday night has been made into an all-college dance sponsored by the college.

The dance, which is strictly an informal-date affair, will be held in the auditorium from 9 to 12, and will be open to all civilian students, ROTC, STAR and aircrewmembers. Red Drennan's 10-piece band with vocalist will furnish the music.

Identification Cards Necessary

Identification cards will be the only admission for civilian students, and uniforms will be the form of admission for STAR and pre-flight students.

Since this is strictly a date-dance, cadets who desire dates will arrange for them through the dating bureau.

Novogorod Captured as Fighting Resumes on Leningrad Front

LONDON, Wednesday, April 27 (AP)—A new spurt of fighting on the long-idle front south of Leningrad was reported by Moscow today soon after German radio accounts suggested Soviet capture of the important pivotal base of Novogorod.

The Russian midnight communique, recorded here by the Soviet monitor, said Russian gunners destroyed six German guns, silenced two mortar batteries and demolished 10 blockhouses and dugouts yesterday on the Volkhov front. Volkhov is midway between Leningrad and Novogorod.

that we should follow the example of Oklahoma Baptist coeds who have a list of all married pre-cadets in order to prevent any embarrassing complications.

The problem of height bothers Gerry Schubel, Okemos sophomore. "I'm not losing any sleep over meeting the aircrewmembers," she says. "They're too short. What happens to the slender, and tall ones during their free time?"

Sharp Crackers

Mary Greenfield, Lansing junior, says that "the pre-cadets are sharp crackers—just like the State boys who left. We'll have a lot more fun with them here. We girls should accept them just as we would any other college student."

A new angle is supplied by Helen Muncie, East Lansing sophomore, who maintains: "We've got a long way to go to live up to our 'friendly campus' tradition. From what fellows in other camps write, all the civilians seem to be bending over backward to make the aircrewmembers feel at home. Those two weeks of quarantine didn't help our plans much, but we should do everything possible to make up for lost time."

Although most coeds are anxious to meet pre-cadets, the general impression of the few remaining civilian men is something different again. With their style somewhat cramped, they sing a bitter ballad entitled, "Happy is the day when the air corps goes away."
