Vets to Resign Commissions: Finish College

All veterinarians who hold commissions in the medical administration corps are requested to submit resignations to the military department, according to a spokesman yesterday.

The purpose of this move is to facilitate the induction of these men into the EIC as privates so they may be uniformed, sent to school to complete their training at the expense of the government, it was stated.

MSC's Lucky Day

If it weren't for sugar rationing, butter rationing, and numerous other rationings, Spartans might partake of MSC's birthday cake. Still spry at 86, our alma mater proves that 13 is her lucky number. First college classes at MSC met May 13, 1857, and on the same date in 1925, Michigan Agricultural college became Michigan State college.

He Who Laughs

The nail polish counter in the local five and dime holds attraction for some of the aircrewmen, but only to the extent of harmless liquids to banish tar from the dogtags all soldiers wear. Despite that fact, however, one pre-pre-Last cadet was taking a healthy ribbing from his fellow students yesterday when he asked the salesgirl for some of the polish. He quietly squelched them, though, when he remarked that two little dogtags wouldn't possibly need all the liquid, but he didn't think he would loan the bottle if they could all buy their own.

Lack of Women?

The first senior dance of the season last night developed a sizeable crowd, but Class President Jack Bush had objections to the lack of women. "The surplus of men makes the dance a little lacking," he said. "It shouldn't be that way."

Derfers Made European Commander

Lt. Gen. JACOB L. DERFERS, right, who succeeded Gen. Frank M. Andrews as commander of United States forces in the European theater, talks with Vice Admiral Lord LOUIS MOUNTBATTEN, British commander in chief. They are shown following services in London for General Andrews, who was killed in an Ireland plane crash.

German Resistance in Tunisia Ends As British Capture Nazi General

Memorial Holiday Will Be Observed

Spartans will enjoy an extended weekend over Memorial day, it was disclosed by Registrar Robert S. Lanton yesterday. Classes will be dismissed Monday, May 24, in official recognition of Memorial day, he said.

Memorial day, according to the calendar, falls on Sunday, May 30, but the official holiday will be celebrated on Monday.

Dispelling all rumors to the contrary, Lanton said that Saturday classes will not be dismissed and the school week will begin officially Tuesday morning, June 1.

Nazi Religious Policy Hit

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—The German Catholic hierarchy has issued one of the strongest of its long series of denunciations against Nazi religious policy, the Office of War Information disclosed tonight.

It issued the text of a protest by Catholic bishop in Germany asking relief "against measures directed against the church."

* ALLIED HQ. IN NORTH AFRICA MAY 12 (AP)—All organized Axis resistance in Tunisia ended at 8:15 p. m. to night after the capture of the German commander in chief, Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim, 11 other generals, and 150,000 enemy troops.

Captured today with Von Arnim, 64-year-old tank expert who succeeded Marshal Erwin Rommel, were Maj. Gen. Gert Von Sponneck, commander of the 19th light division, and Maj. Gen. P. Roeh, commander of the 10th panzer division.

It is estimated that the total of prisoners captured since May 3 is about 150,000, said the special bulletin announcing Von Arnim's seizure.

Thus, six months and four days after the Allied landing in North Africa, the battle of Tunisia had ended in a complete triumph, clearing the way for an Allied invasion of Europe.

The nine-mile-wide circle of Axis resistance was reported holding out in the Zaghouan mountains southwest of Cap Bon peninsula, but the enemy was in a hopeless split there and was expected to surrender or be wiped out quickly.

Representatives Chosen from Six Divisions for Student Council Posts

Campus Government Heads to Be Elected Next Week; Committee Plans Memorial Service Honoring Dead

By Peg Middlemiss

New divisional representatives to Student council for next year were elected at a meeting of the group last night. Petitions submitted by candidates were read as a basis for voting.

Anne Eldridge, Grosse Pointe sophomore and member of Alpha Phi sorority, will be the Liberal Arts representative for the coming year. She defeated Kay Becker, Belleville sophomore, 13 votes to three. Miss Eldridge is active in Tower Guard and Freshman orientation.

Home Economics representative for next year is Marilyn Wilson, Huntington Woods sophomore. Miss Wilson is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority and is active in Studio Theater and Spartan Women's League. She won over Virginia Laycock, East Lansing junior, by a count of 11 to five.

The Applied Science division will be represented by Helen Muncie, East Lansing sophomore, who defeated Gordon Huechen, Pigeon sophomore, nine to seven. Miss Muncie is a member of Chi Omega sorority, WAA, PanHellenic council, and is vice president of the sophomore class.

Honorary President Chosen—Wilfred Bennett, Midland junior and member of Sigma Chi fraternity, was chosen as delegate from the Engineering division, defeating Morse Bethson, Lansing junior by a vote of 12 to four. Bennett was recently elected president of Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary.

Representing the Veterinary division next year will be Peter Ruth, Comstock Park junior and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity member. Ruth defeated Mac Cropsey, Marcellus sophomore by a nine to seven vote.

One Petition Submitted—Since only one petition from the agricultural division was submitted to Student council, Kenneth Frey, Caledonia sophomore, was unanimously elected to represent that division next year.

Election of next year's council officers will be at a meeting to be held next week. Peggy Burhans, council president announced.

Conference Shortened—The annual vocational conference will be reduced to one day, Miss Burhans added. Local speakers will be obtained, probably from Lansing, she added. Student council members Vera Deaner, Sodas senior, and Don MacKenzie, Lansing senior, were appointed to work in conjunction with the Victory Speakers' bureau on a memorial service honoring MSC casualties in World War II.

Flood and Fumes Have Their Day; MSC Still OK

Possible catastrophe was averted yesterday when Don Clark, Algonac junior, jumped into the flooded Red Cedar river to haul to safety an unidentified high school girl clinging to an overturned canoe, near the dam behind Olds hall.

Clark and a friend, Henry Anderson, Algonac freshman, were walking along the river bank when they saw the girl, a Lansing high school freshman, clinging to the canoe. Two other Lansing high school girls, also unidentified, who were in the canoe at the time it capsized, had reached the bank of the river.

Clark threw off his coat, shirt and shoes and jumped into the river to rescue the girl who apparently was unable to swim. In doing so he lost his wallet containing $7.50, identification card, and navy reserve papers.

Four men were slightly gassed yesterday when a small chlorine cylinder was knocked over in the stores department.

Before the source of the gas was determined, Frank Mitchell, buildings and grounds electrical foreman; Vern Severance, chief clerk of the stores department; L. H. Cudworth, assistant storekeeper of the department, and Lyons Otto, department truck driver, were affected.

After treatment at College hospital, they returned to work.

Spartan Coeds Debate Adoption of G.I. Life

By LEONE SEASTROM

Whether or not Spartan women should set their alarm clocks for 5 a. m. and hut-two-three-four to classes, for a week, has provided subject matter for much grill gabbing in the past week.

As yet, this brainchild plan of an army week for women is still in the dream stage, waiting to break through to reality when and if coeds involved give the go-ahead signal.

Up to now, it's just "your opinion against mine" and here are some of the "opinions."

Deeply concentrating on their grilling, Peggy Green, Detroit senior, and Jean Lumsden, Royal Oak junior, looked up long enough to say with definite assuredness, quote and unquote, "Corn."

"Army life is the fella's privilege, let him have it," added D. J. Holser, Midland senior.

On the other side of the fence is Barbara Shuttleworth, sophomore from Warren, Mass., who figures, "It will give us a good idea of how the fellas have to prepare to fight for our country."

Backing her up is Barbara Cavan, sophomore from Royal Oak. She believes "It will make State coeds more war conscious and they need it. They ought to be made to realize what the men are doing. I'm all for it."

And from the men's corner comes this opinion. Chuck Burke, Detroit freshman, says: "There's no sense to it. The women know what the fellas are doing. Do they have to go through it to prove it to themselves?"

"I don't think it's a question of whether or not State women could take it, but it isn't very practical. How could we solve all the problems that are bound to come up with such a change over?" so spoke Jane Rowley, Lansing sophomore.

Dot Arrigo, Buffalo freshman, says "It's a crackpot idea" and suggests that "those in favor of it try the WAACs or the WAVES."

Of no such opinion is Shottie Hess, freshman from Bay City. She thinks "it will be heaps of fun and certainly different."

Summing it up is an opinion from one who knows. Mason Abbot resident and aviation student Leonard Shaw from Lockwood, Mo., who said: "What's the use. It's no fun. And besides, why should the women take chances? Once they have the women regimented, the army may take it seriously and draft them."

LETTERS . . . to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:
I am in a quandary which I think is prevalent on campus at the present time. I was a senior ROTC student last term, and now I am a private in the army. I must be in at 11 o'clock during the week and 1 o'clock on weekends.
Well, I don't want to kick. I know we're in war and all that, but here's the thing. I have a girl who works at a factory in Lansing on the 4 in the afternoon to midnight shift. Well, you can see how that is. I see her only on the Sundays that she happens to have off.
How can I keep her interested? We were engaged but I don't think she cares anymore. I would appreciate any suggestions as to what I should do.

A MAN WITH PROBLEMS
Editor's note: After receiving the above letter the editor was in a quandary too. The net result of some thought and a slight amount of research on the subject, however, brings the State News to the point where it is now offering to the campus the services of its new expert on the intricacies of the heart, a senior major in psychology who wishes to remain incognito and will write under the pen name of "Marjory Mix."
The State News sincerely hopes that this will be the beginning of a column of common campus interest and urges every Spartan to write to Miss Mix in care of the State News concerning his or her own problems. Suggestions for a column name will be cheerfully considered. If you write, your name must be signed in order for the News to detect malicious letters, but will be kept secret if you so request.

DEAR ANWP:
My dear boy, I know what stress and duress you must be going through and I truly want to help you.
But if this girl really cares for you, she would certainly understand. There are lots of women who are completely done. She should be happy that you have even a little time together. If you haven't told her these things and explained the situation, do so. If she doesn't understand, I think you should give her up.
I can tell from your letter that you are an intelligent boy and that you deserve the love of an intelligent woman. If this girl's love cannot withstand a minor trial, she is not the girl for a sincere and loyal boy like you. If you talk the problem over with your girl it will undoubtedly solve itself.
Yours truly,
MARJORY MIX

Gentlemen—
The cadets have proved themselves gentlemen at all times, one more instance of this fact being between classes when the cadets play doorman for the women entering the building, even calling their fellow cadets to attention.
To a Certain Cadet—
Please stop knocking over your stool and dropping equipment on the floor in physics lab. You are very disturbing to the boys who had guard duty the night before and want to sleep. Perhaps if you kept awake yourself you wouldn't do these things in the first place.
New Club—
The "Thank God It's Saturday" club held its second weekly meeting at a spot in town Saturday afternoon. Mickey Blythe, charter president, reported that the meeting was a success, inasmuch as a number of new members were initiated at this time.
The charter treasurer and charter vice-president are Jackson Holscher and Hal Greenblatt.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

IN FRONT of the Music building a blue overalled figure bent over, supported by ample denim-covered knees. It whacked formidably at the grass with a scythe.

"Bachman's athletes are looking bigger and better these days," opined a passing Varsity clubman as the lawnmower cut a crooked swathe of green.

"After all those reports he passed out about having to depend on J-F men and 17-year-olds fresh from high school, that specimen is remarkable. I was on B and G once myself, and we never worked that hard. Bach must have succeeded in teaching them to be ambitious after all these years of trying."

The grass cutter never turned around, and you wouldn't have known if you hadn't seen from the front—it was a cog. There has been a lot of publicity on recruiting women for the B and G, but we didn't see until yesterday your first evidence that women have invaded the athlete's bailiwick—cultivating the grounds of the campus.

Presence of females on the B and G makes things final. Men might as well give up for they have been taken over. Most comforting thought is that women who learn to manicure lawns while in college will have begun something they'll find it hard to terminate.

It may well solve the masculine problem of how to get the grass cut and play golf at the same time. Let the little woman do it!

The imagination wouldn't have to stretch too far to visualize waves sweating away pushing the lawnmower on a sunny 104-degree July day, while the husbands relax in the shade of the porch with a cool lemonade in hand.

The real danger lies in the potentialities for feminine muscular development. A scythe or the lawnmower handle would be a much more potent weapon than a puny wooden rolling pin.

But if they could be induced to do the grass skimming at the proper time, say 9 to 11:30 a. m., maybe radio's soap operas would go out of existence for lack of listeners, with a snappy sports cast in their place.

A REPORT from the University of California tells us that pre-meteorology cadets stationed there had to request that coeds be careful not to overdo the entertaining stuff.

One innocent cadet got kissed thoroughly a week ago and since then hasn't been able to do any homework, the report says. His friends report that all he does is walk around in a daze.

"Coeds, please exercise more discretion and regard for the academic pursuits of the armed forces," the report states.

All we have to say is, what a wonderful way to be sabotaged.

Air Force, Sigma Nu, SAE Win Softball Contests

Sigma Nu, SAE, and the air force Non Coms took victories in last night's intramural softball games in the first advancement of the all-college tournament during the week.

Sigma Nu took a free hitting session AGR 10 to 0 in a contest that never found the agriculture boys threatening serious trouble.

The air force Non Coms came from behind in their half hour last inning to win 4 to 1 over the cavalry. Both teams showed fast fielding that held the score down with no long hits being punched out during the play.

Jack Cawood sparked for SAE in their 7 to 4 win over Theta Chi as he made an unexpected double play on first base. Cawood speared a high line drive over his head to come down on the bag, tagging a runner out before the Theta Chi had time to recover.

In the SAE game, ground rules had to be made on hits into left and center field due to a large hole of water left standing in the outfield from recent rains and overflow of the river.

Today's games will find the coast artillery meeting Kappa Sigma on diamond 2, ATO against the Delta Sigs on diamond 3, and the quartermaster against the coast artillery on diamond 4.

Wolverines Down State Netmen, 6-3

Wolverine netmen reversed the earlier defeat at the hands of the Spartans in the match today by taking a 6 to 3 victory over Coach C. D. Ball's squad in Ann Arbor Tuesday afternoon.

Due to rain, the match was held inside the Yost fieldhouse with the Michigan team taking four singles and two doubles matches during the afternoon.

Jack Johnson, Wolverine No. 1, beat Fred Ziemann in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, in the first singles tilt. The veteran Spartan, Frank Beeman, also went down in defeat to Don Lewis, 6-4, 6-2.

Bill Maxwell and Earl May won the Spartan points in the doubles matches with Maxwell leading Dozier 6-2, 6-1, while May demolished Bradley easily, 6-0, 6-1.

The Beeman-Ziemann combination came back to win their doubles bout from Lewis and May, 6-4, 6-2.

Other results in the Michigan meet were:

Singles: Wellington (M) defeated Elliot (S), 6-4, 6-2; Boucher (M) defeated Ott (S), 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles: Johnson and Bradley (M) defeated Maxwell and May (S), 6-3, 6-2; Wellington and Boucher (M) defeated Elliot and Ott (S), 6-8, 8-6, 6-4.

Northwestern Game Cancelled - Rain

Due to excessive rain in Chicago and vicinity, the Spartan baseball team was forced to postpone its game against Northwestern yesterday. Coach John Kobs declared late last night.

No date has been set for the game in Evanston at the present time, with the possibility that it may be scratched from the schedule entirely.

Kobs said that weather in Madison, Wis., was good throughout the two-day series there, but that Chicago had had three days' rain upon the Spartans' arrival for the Northwestern game. Wet grounds ruined all possibility of holding the game, the Spartan coach stated.

From the Bleacher Seat

By JOHN MARRS

The constancy of Michigan rainy weather has cut into the Spartan and intramural sports schedules so much in the past week that the remainder of the term will be overcrowded with postponed games in every field.

The track team was fortunate enough to get off their triangular meet with Ohio State and Michigan last Saturday and remain the only team here to follow their prescribed schedule over the weekend.

The need now is for fair weather for many days in a row in order that the baseball and tennis teams can finish their seasons without too much play being scheduled for one week. More than three games in eight days would be troublesome for the short-handed Spartan pitching staff to handle.

The Cleveland Indians can count themselves much weakened in the American league pennant race for the next two months with the loss of Mel Harder with a broken ankle injury.

Harder has long been the dean of the Indians' pitching staff and insurance for more victories than defeats during a season's performance. The doctors say Harder will not step onto the mound again for two months, which is long enough for his arm to get completely out of condition and to cost the Indians their chances of staying in the league race.

American war expenditures for the first quarter of 1943 were about a billion dollars more than for the entire war year 1918.

6 TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

that will make your trip more convenient—and will help bus travel do its big wartime job

If week-end jams you'd help unravel—Then pick a mid-week day to travel

Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays are the best wartime travel times—and you'll leave more seats for the armed forces on week-ends.

Don't wait until mid-summer's here—Go now before the crowds appear

You'll help "balance-up" wartime transportation by going before or after July and August when travel is always heaviest.

Now when you take a trip some place Please travel light and save some space

"Budget" your baggage when you travel now—take along less luggage than usual, to save extra handling and extra space.

You can't afford to take a chance—Get information in advance

Make a call to Greyhound before you make your plans—get advance information on schedules, fares and bus connections.

Please take your Greyhound agent's tips—On which are the least crowded trips

Your Greyhound agent can suggest the right departure times—when more seats are usually available and travel is more convenient.

Advice that's good these hectic days—Avoid like sin all Holidays!

There's no place like home on holidays—by avoiding travel at such rush periods you'll avoid overcrowding wartime transportation.

Plus one extra thought—

Remember transportation for the men and women in the armed forces, in war plants and on civilian furloughs comes first—so avoid unnecessary trips!

Holland Government Orders Patriots to Resist Nazis

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—Holland's 400,000 ex-servicemen were instructed in unprecedented action by the Dutch government in London tonight to defy a new German registration order and to "defend" themselves against any resulting Nazi attempts to arrest them.

The temper of resistance to the Nazis seemed to be hardening throughout the Netherlands. The admonition to the Dutch former army and navy men to defy the Nazis and defend themselves against them, broadcast by the Free Netherlands station radio Orange and announced by the Aneta news agency, was directed against a German order to these men to register themselves for reimprisonment.

The exile government thus for the first time, even by implication, advised a resort to violence. Previously the government had broadcast appeals for various forms of "mass resistance," but always short of an armed uprising.

Although the Netherlands tonight seemed to be threatening Hitler with the most serious immediate trouble inside his stoutly ruled Europe, the entire continent was rumbling as the Axis warlords stood wholly on the defensive for the first time in more than three and one-half years of war.
