

Seven Spartans See Last Action Against Selfridge

Kobsmen Whip Air Base 4-2 in Tuesday's Tilt

After knocking down the Selfridge field baseball team 16-2 in the first of a home and home series played in Detroit Tuesday, the Spartan diamondmen will play their last game of the 1943 season against the army air base team here today at 4:10 p.m.

Seven of the starting nine today will play their last game for MSC, with most of them winding up three years active participation as members of the varsity. Only Mickey Hoffman among the seniors is going into first duty as one of Coach John Kels' regulars. Farnham made his first try for a place on the team this year.

Getz Hurts Last Game

Pinky Getz will hurl against the air force team today for his last time on the mound this week.

Bob Bernitt was credited with the win there on Tuesday. Getz and Bernitt are both seniors and have been squad members for three years.

Both won their major awards last season.

In center field, Frank Pellerin covered the wide territory, long long fly balls out of the area for the last time in a Spartan uniform.

During his three years as a varsity ball player, Pellerin has played all over the infield and the outfield alike. His great value to the team is consistent hitting.

Howie Ladue is another three-year performer starting today's game. Catcher, first base, and second posts have been listed

Ladue's positions in the past with first base being his present assignment.

Chilean Rated Long Hitter

Capt. Roy Chilean faced stiff competition during his first year on the squad here in his battle for second base. During the past two seasons the censured on the diamond has been pretty much under his control and will be this afternoon. But with Chilean represents one of the longest hitters on the team.

News in Brief

HUNGKING, June 9 (AP)—The Japanese defense line south of Hwajung key to the China rice-producing region, has stalled under the impact of a sudden attack by Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's forces, Chinese dispatches reported today.

ALLIED HDQ IN AUSTRALIA Thursday, June 10 (AP)—A single Allied bomber touched off a terrific explosion at Naha, Dutch New Guinea, yesterday apparently hitting a munitions warehouse, the high command announced.

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)

A senate-house conference committee approved today a measure providing for fining or imprisoning anyone who instigates, aids or conspires to bring about a strike in a war plant or mine taken over by the government.

MONTEVIDEO, June 9 (AP)—The diplomatic ice broke in Latin America today as the new government in Argentina began winning recognition.

Brazil announced its resumption of relations with Argentina under the new President Pedro Ramirez, and Uruguay, Bolivia, Paraguay and Chile were reported to have followed suit or to be planning to do so soon.

Spartan Soliloquy

That ominous silence yesterday where the usual 13-gun salute is given to a governor reviewing MSC troops bodes no good to the Axis. No doubt some of the soldiers parading yesterday will be able to "salute" Axis soldiers with those 13 shells soon.

Optional Furlough for Senior ROTCs to Begin Sunday

Senior ROTC men will begin their 14-day furloughs Sunday before leaving for Camp McCoy. Wis. Men are scheduled to begin furloughs either on this day, or on Friday, according to their own plans. Lt. Col. F. A. Banning, ROTC head, said:

"Furlough papers with all the necessary information will be made out at the ROTC office and may be obtained there. Colonel Banning added: 'Some men will be given one-day passes on Saturday to enable them to start that evening before the furlough goes into effect.'

Men are to report back to Michigan State after their furloughs and will be shipped to Camp McCoy at scheduled periods. Groups will be leaving intermittently, as some men are taking only a few days furlough while others are taking the 14-day maximum. They will receive no transportation allowance but will be given free transportation if they board one of the troop trains which will leave here June 28 and July 2 respectively.

Senior ROTCs will receive medical shots at Camp McCoy and then wait until vacancies occur in their individual branches for Officers' Candidate school appointments. The men will be stationed at Camp McCoy.

Byrnes Appointed Tax Coordinator

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes emerged today as the administration's coordinator of tax policies in addition to his other manifold responsibilities.

The disclosure came in Byrnes' first press conference since he took over the war mobilization post, while President Roosevelt was preparing to sign the new pay-as-you-go tax measure and various government agencies were hunting ways to channel still more cash into the treasury, in line with the president's statement that the government needed more money.

The president indicated at his press conference yesterday that more taxation was desired to close an inflationary gap left by the withholding tax.

U. of M. to Train Marines

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 9 (AP)—University of Michigan officials disclosed today that a group of 300 U. S. marine reserves will train on the campus here beginning July 1.

The marine unit will be a part of a group of 1,300 navy men who are expected to arrive here about July 1.

State Students List Hit Parade; Harry James As Radio Favorites

By PEG MIDDLEMISS

The average Michigan State college student listens to the radio two hours each day and 12 hours a week, according to a recent college survey.

Listed first in preference are popular music programs, contradicting the idea that, during wartime, news broadcasts are in greatest demand.

James Ranks First

Harry James' band headed the list of popular music programs, and was followed by the "Hit Parade," Fred Waring's 15-minute broadcast, and "Spotlight Band."

The use of women announcers met with a favorable response, according to the survey, although most questionnaires specified that they must have low-pitched voices and a pleasing "spirit."

Flying Fortresses Rock Pantelleria

Allies Blast Island After Ultimatum Brings No Reply

ALLIED HDQ IN NORTH AFRICA, June 9 (AP)—The Allies demanded Pantelleria's unconditional surrender yesterday, and when no reply was received American Flying Fortresses and British warships rocked the tiny Italian sea outpost with an other pre-invasion bombardment.

The demand for surrender was made to save the гарISON and inhabitants unnecessary suffering, said a special Allied bulletin which made it clear that Pantelleria "will continue to be subjected to bombing, bombardment and blockade" until it collapses.

Allied planes dropped the final ultimatum of "unconditional surrender" over the badly battered island which is a stepping stone to Sicily and the Italian mainland. When this warning was ignored, the American air forces raced in to bomb the 42-square-mile island under a pall of explosives that left the Italian defenses sheathed in smoke.

After the Flying Fortress attack a big force of British cruisers and destroyers raced in close to shore and began pumping hundreds of shells into the isolated volcanic island. It was the sixth bombardment there by British warships in 10 days.

The results were satisfactory, said an Allied communiqué. "There was a certain amount of retaliatory fire, but our ships suffered neither casualties nor damage."

Women Steal Top Honors in Spring Play Production

Two women stole the show at the first performance of the spring term play, "Her Husband's Wife," last night at Forendt theater.

Playing to an almost full house, the production was heartily enjoyed by the audience of first nighters.

Because of the man shortage on campus, Director Don Buell broke away from the traditional spring term Shakespearean play and revived the 1910 farce by A. E. Thomas.

Merry Lou Pinkham, acting her first major role in a campus play, completely stole the show with her fine characterization of the hypochondriac who, thinking she was about to die, tried to pick her husband's next wife. Gloria Bell, also playing her first big part, did a very good job of portraying the prospective second wife.

Jack Bush, the only veteran in the cast, was fairly convincing as the husband. Although a little young for the part, Bush turned in a good performance, first as an angry, wronged husband and later as a befuddled drunkard.

Phil Molloy drew many laughs with his characterization of the slightly satiric, humorous

COMES the end of spring term and all the State smoothies start making things definite in a romantic way so as not to have any loose ends hanging over during final week.

Helen Lueck is carrying some extra weight on her left hand but she thinks she can bear up under the strain since it's a diamond sent to her from Washington by Ike Pearson, who is in the naval air corps.

Pat Thompson, ever North Campbell way, is also sending sparks from that important finger. Her ring is from Phil McElwee of Grand Rapids.

More strains of Lehengrin. Marcia Rybarsky, Alpha Phi and Bob Rybskamp, Psi U, tied up their twosome when they were married last Saturday in Lansing.

The Alpha Gams gave Jean McNally a shower last Tuesday to prepare her for married life. Jean will marry Doug Carmichael, Theta Chi, on June 19.

Jim Healy, ATO, has parties with his pin, but he's well satisfied that it's in good company.

Jean Shaver, Alpha Chi, is taking good care of it for him. Cordie Morrison is a full-fledged member of Alpha Chi after a rather exclusive initiation last Thursday. It seems Cordie had the measles when the regular ceremonies took place so they had a special initiation just for her.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

BECAUSE things happen along the Winding Cedar, a new column is born. Thus we began this twice-weekly stint a year ago.

And things have happened along the sometimes sluggish, sometimes rapidly coursing river. They weren't the kind of things in the usual collegiate senior year, because we are at war, and no matter how hard you try to pretend otherwise, the war does affect everything.

Some of these unusual things no State student will forget: The FRC and the term-long rumor about when it would be called up . . . rumors about women being moved out to make way for soldiers . . . rumors, rumors, rumors . . . a rumor clinic even to split them . . . the coke shortage which curtailed affections of grillhounds till substitutes were found . . . cancellation of the Water Carnival for the first time in many years . . . the graduate record exams . . . no Thanksgiving vacation . . . confining of all winter term parties to East Lansing for reasons of transportation . . . war stamp corsages . . . small name bands for big parties as a patriotic measure.

No, it wasn't a usual year. We on Publications now had a batful of pride when the State News went daily with services of Associated Press.

It was notable, too, that Wolverine and Spartan and Veteranian held their own while publications in other colleges were fast going on the rocks.

Well do I recall the talk Sheldon Moyer and I had long into the night last spring about the paper's future.

"I've never had a job yet. I didn't make an improvement on," he said in a matter-of-fact, unboastful way. Moyer was like that, and when you came to know him, you expected him just assuming to do the job others had thought impossible.

I hope publishing of the faculty student directory will revert to student hands again after the war. It was published logically enough, by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, until some misguided faculty members chose to make it a totally faculty function.

Advertising objected to last year faculty basis for taking the book over, was approved by a high administrative official, as could be done with that in the future if SDX ran it. This year's faculty published directory was far from error-free, and cost the college upwards of $1,000 to produce, while SDX did it at a small profit because members worked on it.

It is usually the custom of a retiring editor to tear down the existing educational system with a comment that he and his classmates haven't learned much in college. I'll not do that because, as I see it, no professor can teach more than the individual wants to learn.

In addition to a certain amount of knowledge, if college has given you a workable philosophy of life, it has done a lot. It must teach you how to live just as it does how to make a living.

It is hard to realize that Saturday afternoon another college year will be ended, and another class graduated. The closer you come to losing something the more you value it, and it is that way with Michigan State. We will miss it until we come back.

But when we do get back it will be greatly changed. With Pres. John Hannah, one of the most capable leaders it ever had, at the head, State will grow to an enrollment of 10,000 within a few years after the war.

As a column born to report doings along the Winding Cedar, so this column dies. It is a reporter's privilege to take his column with him. For myself and college career, and for all those soon to graduate who have just performed their last official functions, this column is signed . . . THIRTY.

FROM A BLEACHER SEAT

By PAT McCARTHY

THIS Spartan under-squad, except for a few men entering the NCAA, finished one of its most successful track seasons last Saturday when it annexed the state AAU championship.

In spite of some of the lousy spring weather in history, and the loss of 14 of its most consistent point makers to the ERC call, Coach Karl Schladekman succeeded in turning out a combination that captured two dual meets and came out victorious in two state-wide meets.

In order to help fill in the vacancies left by the ERC men, Schladekman looked to the freshmen for new material. Jack Steelman soon held down a slot in the dash events, but left with the draft directly after the State collegiate meet, in which he competed while on temporary furlough. Jack Von Eberstein was soon a regular name on the entry blanks, competing in the 440 and 220 dashes besides running a regular leg on the relay squad. Joe Kennedy came in to help John Liggett in the half-mile, while Ward Lyke turned in good times in the one and two mile runs.

In the season's opening meet the thinclads retained the brown trophy awarded to the winner of the annual State Pindus contest. It was Mel Buchanan, meet all the way, as the lanky hurdler piled up a total of 16 points to put the home squad to an 11-11 victory.

The following weekend eight men went to the Drake relays in Des Moines, Iowa, to take a third and fourth place as their total earnings.

The next Saturday the Spartan thrusters came from behind to take the Marquette under-squad 77-59, by virtue of their superiority in the distance events.

Disaster befell the undermanned in the next meet at Ann Arbor when they fell to Michigan 37-30, and to Ohio State by the score of 41½-25½ in a triangular affair. Al Milne and Jerry Page were the only men to bring in disto for the Spartans.

Most of the team took the next weekend off, as Schladekman journeyed to New York with his men to take 11th place in the NCAA meet, among the best competition the east had to offer.

Hitting them late again the following week, they proceeded to overwhelm all opponents in the 28th annual State Intercollegiate meet to easily grab on first place honors.

Traveling to Milwaukee with a 13-man squad, the Spartans succumbed to a fourth place in the 18th annual Central College outdoor track and field championships. Bright spot in the meet was Len Naab, Lansing junior who captured first in the javelin throw, at the same time smashing the varsity record with a 202 foot throw.

Coach Schladekman owes much of his squad's success to the trio of distance running seniors, Capt. Bill Scott, mile; John Liggett, half-mile, and Jerry Page, two-mile.

In the high jump Jim Milne drew down his share of marks while versatile Mel Buchanan competing in the hurdles, broad jump, shot put, and on the mile relay foursome piled up enough points for two men. Dale Kardatz, recently converted broad jumper and anchor man on the relay, was another of Schladekman's right hand men.

Gus Sunnen and Hank Baker held up the Spartan points in the javelin throws. Bob McCarthy, lone sprinter for most of the season, was the only Green and White dashman to come in only place.

With the final meet of the season Saturday when three or four of the outstanding men go to the NCAA meet in Chicago, there will probably be nonexistent at State for the duration. This won't come about through the action of the athletic department needless to say, but will be forced through the shortage of men from which to make up a team unless the air force men will be given easier schedules which is far from likely.

Soldiers make an average of eight moves by railroad between induction and embarkation for service overseas.

Air Force Drops Atlas Forgers in City League Win

By SGT. ED GOTTLIEB

The Aircrewmen, playing their best scheduled game in the Lansing City league, beat the Atlas Drop Forge team by a score of 6 to 4 Monday evening.

The crew drew first blood when the lead-off man, S-Sgt. Stabler received a walk and soon scored on a double by First Lt. Ernest Jones. The second inning again brought in another run on hits by Pts. O'Brien and Pitcher Klein.

In the fourth frame, Catcher O'Brien reached first via a walk followed by a double by Klein, a single by Stabler and a long triple by Sgt. Nathan, scoring three runs before they could be stopped. The final air corps run came in the sixth inning on a triple by S-Sgt. Hart-L. Scott and Pitcher Klein.

The Atlas team made its only bid at victory in the top half of the last inning when they staged a two-out rally to bring home two runs, bringing their total to 4 runs.

A-S Klein pitched his fast ball for the air corps, allowing only 4 hits as against the 12 hits allowed by Atlas Pitcher Barrett.

BASEBALL

outfill the rest of the infield and complete the senior list on the starting lineup. Marcho, with the best throwing arm on the team holds down third base. Last year he spent much of his time as a shortstop position now held by Jack Dillon, hard hitting freshman.

Reeves has been on the squad for the past two years but began to see heavy duty for the first time this season. During the last game this year, he has developed into probably the most improved hitter on the team and has become noted for his ability to train the infield under foul balls.

Tommy King, another freshman, will take over right field again in today's contest, completing the lineup.

Catch Kobs will be trying for his ninth victory against eleven defeats today in order to move the season's percentage totals well over the .500 mark. With the comparative records of the two teams and Tuesday's win the odds point much toward another victory today.

Graduation Dance Scheduled for C and D Aircrew Groups

SWL Plans Second Aircrew Social Hour for Today

A special graduation dance for squadrons C and D of the 310th CTD stationed here will be held Saturday from 4 to 12 p. m. in the Union ballroom, Lt. F. N. Miller, public relations officer, announced.

The dance, an informal date affair, will be only for men of the two squadrons, Miller emphasized. It will be the last chance for these men to meet Spartan coeds before they leave sometime next week.

Hep Fliers to Play

The "Hep Fliers," 13-piece pre-caDET orchestra directed by A S Roman Tross, will play for the dance. June Hays, former vocalist with Budd Bell's orchestra, will be the featured singer.

Patrons for the dance will be Commanding Officer Maj. and Mrs. Raymond Risien, and Training Director Capt. and Mrs. Kenyon Payne.

These squadrons, under the direction of Lt. N. J. Scott, tactical officer, are the second group to leave Squadrons A and B graduated about three weeks ago and were sent to San Antonio for further classification. Destination of squadrons C and D have not been announced.

Social Hour to Be Held

The last of the spring term social hours for coeds and aircrew students, sponsored by SWL date bureau, will be held today from 5 to 6 p. m. in the faculty dining room, according to Betty Baker, St. Louis junior.

The SWL dating bureau will continue its various programs through the summer session, headed by Jean Hilleary, Flint junior.

Ianitors to Hold Meeting

The annual meeting of public school custodians, janitors and engineers will be held here Wednesday, June 23, R. W. Tenny, short course director, announced. The meeting is usually a three-day conference.

Tower Guard to Meet

A joint meeting of old and new members of Tower Guard will be held tonight at 7:15 at the tower, according to Jean Oviatt, Washington, D. C., sophomore, retiring president.

Hep Fliers Schedule Broadcast Series on Station WKAR

Today marks the first regularly scheduled broadcast of the Hep Fliers, 14-piece aircrew dance band, over station WKAR. The band, directed by A S Roman H. Tross, will go on the air for a 15 minute program at 5:45 p. m.

Broadcasts are scheduled for the Hep Fliers every Tuesday and Thursday, 5:45 to 6 p. m., as long as time and talents are available, Lt. F. N. Miller, public relations officer, announced yesterday.

Although today's broadcast will be made up entirely of popular music by the band, future programs will include short announcements and remarks pertaining to the air force and of interest to WKAR listeners, Miller said.

Speculation Stirs After Pantelleria Gets Ultimatum

LONDON, June 9 (AP) — The Allied ultimatum for unconditional surrender of Pantelleria stirred speculation today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces may have begun invading of the Italian outpost island in the first landing against the European fortress.

Reports of such operations persisted although there was no confirmation in official sources in London.

Both Reuters and the British Press association commented said an invasion would logically be expected in a few hours if such an ultimatum were rejected and Reuters tonight said Rome radio broadcast declared that "overwhelming" allied naval forces are besieging the fortress of Pantelleria."

Allied headquarters in North Africa asserted the island would "continue to be subjected to bombing" until it collapsed.
