

In a move to head off any parachute invasion of southern France, the Fighting French said, the Germans promised to release a French prisoner of war for every parachutist turned in.

Air warfare by both the Germans and Russians continued. A Moscow broadcast said large forces of Russian bombers inflicted heavy losses on the enemy in attacking five German airbases Wednesday night, and acknowledged a German raid on Yaroslavl, 150 miles north-east of Moscow.

STOCKHOLM, June 11 (AP)—Twenty-four hour, large-scale German anti-invasion maneuvers were held in the Oslo area of Norway on May 30, reliable reports from Norway said tonight, while Nazis were reported to have warned the German people that an Allied air attack may reach all corners of Germany "at any moment."

In spite of the exceedingly wet spring this year, senior men are remaining surprisingly dry, with fewer river baths than ever being recorded.

The woman, on the left, is wearing a light-colored dress and is also smiling. They are positioned in front of a large tree trunk. In the foreground, several chickens are visible, including a dark-colored one and a lighter-colored one. The ground is covered with grass and dirt.

Another plea is also being made for MSC women to participate in the SWAV entertainment unit. As a unit is scheduled to go out July 14, women are urged to sign up if they wish to travel with the group.

Fifty women will be needed this summer for B&G work, and as the work is now practically dependent upon women's help, coeds are asked to sign up for this project. A booth will be placed at summer school registration, and at this table women will be able to register for SWAV projects they are interested in. Knitting and surgical dressing classes will be offered this summer also under the SWAV program, according to Sally Seibert, CDC publicity chairman.

All during the year coeds have worked on defense projects, in the defense office, or have completed courses offered by the SWAVes. Coeds who have work-

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch declared today that "internal bickering has hurt the war effort and confused the public," and expressed hope that James F. Byrnes will stop it.

Baruch, chairman of the War Industries board in the last war, has become an unpaid and untitled assistant to Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization (OWM).

Both men have been advocates of simplification and standardization of civilian production in wartime.

Spartans At War

By ANNE COWAN

THE "Memphis Belle," of General Arnold's air fleet, is coming back home soon, and with it Capt. Charles Leighton, former MSC student and graduate of Ohio Wesleyan. Captain Leighton received his wings last July at Mather field, Calif., and shipped out to England as an air force navigator. A brother, Lt. Robert Leighton, is serving in Africa with the armored infantry. He too was a student at MSC.

From Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., comes the news that Pvt. Jack B. Murphy, of Lansing, arrived at the finance replacement training center recently to begin his basic training in finance. Prior to his induction he was a student at Michigan State.

Former Capt. Howard Zindel, graduate of '37, has been promoted to the rank of major. Major Zindel is in the army air force and has been on foreign service 18 months. He was a member of the extension staff at MSC before entering the service. The first woman MSC graduate to become a SPAR is Jane Elmerich, '41, who is now a yeoman third class. She is doing procurement work in San Francisco.

Kenneth Harlow was graduated from the naval air training center, Corpus Christi, Texas, and was commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. naval reserve.

Another navy man is George Gustafson, '41, who is at the navy school at Harvard college. The Vets are well represented by Raymond Bankowski, '38, who is overseas with the veterinary corps.

Two Michigan State graduates have just been transferred to the Stuttgart army air field at Stuttgart, A. R., where they will undergo the last phase of flight training prior to receiving their wings as combat pilots. They are Lt. Charles Hill, '39, and Lt. Edward Pearce, '40. Pearce played varsity football for MSC for three years and was a member of Varsity club.

Rumsey Haynes, who has just finished a successful flight course at the naval air station at Pens. Ind., has been transferred to Corpus Christi, Texas. Richard Haynes has been commissioned a second lieutenant on completion of the engineer's training course at Fort Belvoir, Va.

President Puts OK on Pay-as-you-Go Tax Program

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed the pay-as-you-go tax bill today, even as his aides conferred on a program to raise the $16,000,000,000 in additional savings and revenue he has requested for this year.

The measure approved by the president is the compromise worked out by senate and house after Mr. Roosevelt announced he would not sign the senate's Ruml-like bill granting abatement of a full year's taxes to virtually all of the nation's 44,000,000 individual income tax payers.

The new law grants no relief from the quarterly tax installment due next Tuesday on 1942 tax liabilities. It does, however, give 75 per cent to 100 per cent abatement on either 1942 or 1943 taxes, and sets up a 20 per cent withholding levy against wages and salaries, starting July 1.

The pay-as-you-go bill signed by Mr. Roosevelt sets up this plan of abating taxes in bringing individuals ultimately to a current payment basis where the 20 per cent withholding levy will take care of most if not all of their taxes.

Dramatic Workshop Is to Affiliate with National Honorary

The college Dramatic Workshop of the Air has been accepted by the national fraternity of Alpha Epsilon Rho and will hold its informal initiation tonight.

The officers for the local fraternity are: Peg Hall, Owosso sophomore, president; Mary Jeanette Martin, Chicago graduate student, secretary-treasurer.

Under the faculty advisorship of Joe Calloway, director of radio education, the list of new members includes Nancy Ann Arms, Wilmette senior; Mary Leabie Cooper, Wildwood junior; Thelma Jones, Wyandotte senior; and Jim Laracey, Carrolton senior.

THE LESS SAID . . .

ASK any male State News staff member and he will tell you that revolution has come to the News office.

From now on, they tell us, there will be curtains and flower boxes at the windows. Desks will be changed for lounging chairs and the bridge club will meet every Thursday.

It is expected that a small kitchenette will be installed and the private office will definitely be turned into a complete make-up and dressing room.

Rumor even has it that the floor will be swept once a week.

The paper itself, on the rare occasions that it will come out, will consist entirely of gossip, beauty hints, menu tips, and pictures of Clark Gable and Victor Mature.

And to quote Retiring Editor Len Barnes, all the swearing around the office will be done in soprano.

But ask any woman on the staff and she will tell you that it is not revolution but merely evolution that has finally caught up with the State News and equipped it with an all-coed staff for the first time in its history. And the above rumors ought to be "clinched."

As of today the "New Deal" goes into effect and the State News is a strictly feminine product from now on. In spite of all the predictions to the contrary women have full intentions of keeping the State News on its long-standing professional rating.

And if we can't improve the sheet we can at least keep it on its old level.

WHILE we're still talking Susan B. Anthony, the State News isn't the only organization that will have to reorganize to overcome the desperate man shortage as State verges on becoming a female seminary next year.

On Publications row the Spartan and Wolverine have already named women staffs, and Student council is about equally divided between coeds and delectable men.

But no women's organization is as yet ready to stand for the work done by Excelsior, Blue Key, Green Helmet, Alpha Phi Omega, Men's Glee club and many other organizations.

It such work is forgotten the progress made by these groups in the past is all lost. The important thing in wartime is to keep what we have.

State men in the armed forces like to think that someone is carrying on the old traditions.

Multiple Bombing to Destroy Nazi Cities Promised

LONDON, June 10 (AP)—The strength of the 8th United States air force, which is rapidly approaching parity with the RAF in Britain, will be used to hit the enemy in three, four, five or more places in a single day with bombing fleets capable of annihilating any normal industrial target. Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker disclosed today.

Having doubled in size since March and growing at the rate of 15 to 20 per cent monthly, the U. S. bomber command was able to send nearly 300 of its heavy bombers against St. Nazaire, Rennes and La Pallice in a three-way raid on May 29, the 8th air force commander told a press conference.

Separate, medium-sized bomber forces will be used in multiple raids against pinpoint targets in the future rather than concentrating a fleet of many hundreds over a single city as the RAF does in area bombing at night, Eaker indicated. The chief defensive advantage is to prevent the enemy from concentrating his defenses.

Despite all handicaps, Eaker explained, losses on these small force raids have run less than 4 per cent since the American bombings began ten months ago, and have shown no tendency to increase with heavier operations.

BUENOS AIRES, June 10 (AP)—The Argentine government tonight cancelled orders which have permitted Axis consulates and nationals to transmit code messages to their ships. The government took this step in compliance with the resolution adopted in Rio De Janeiro by American foreign ministers against Axis espionage.

State Tops Selfridge in 10-1 Win

Kobsmen Bank Out 13 Hits Against Air Base Squad; Finish Season with Won-Lost Average of .562

"Pinky" Getz hurled four-hit ball and slapped out two hits in four trips to the plate yesterday to mark himself as the winning pitcher in his last game for the Spartans in a 10 to 1 victory over the lackadaisical lads from Selfridge field.

The remainder of the Kobsmen backed Getz all the way, letting only one error through during the game and played easy, careless ball at times, losing several potential double plays at first base due to late or inaccurate throws. The Spartans took 13 bingles off of Waddell, air force pitcher, in scoring their 10 runs.

Six errors on the part of the Selfridge team, three of them committed to Bob Roth at second base, put men on base continually for the Spartans and allowed Bob Andreoli to score from third on a wild throw in the second inning and to stretch what seemed a sure fly out to right field into a triple when Hank Capron muffed his hit.

State Took Lead in First

Coach John Kobs saw his team take the lead early in the first inning when Mickey Faulkner walked as the first man up. Faulkner went to second on a lead, and on home on a wild throw by the catcher. Three runs in the second and again in the third innings put State safely in the lead.

Getz was never forced to hear a pitch at any time after the second inning and hurled easy ball during the entire game. Twice during the contest he made brilliant fielding scoops of hard hit balls at his shoe tops to toss to batters out at first base.

In the sixth inning, Frank Pellerin was forced from the ball game with a twisted ankle resulting in sliding into second base. Pellerin was safe on the first attempt of the Selfridge infielder to tag him out but was caught off the bag as he rolled. Three his cleats caught in the dirt. Tommy King, fresh from his place in center field, took his place in center field in the last three innings.

Senior Lineup

The entire starting line-up in yesterday's tilt was made up of seniors on the squad. Kobs substituted Barney Cigan for Catcher Bill Reavely in the ninth and for Pellerin in his only games during the game.

Yesterday's win from Selfridge wrapped up the season for Coach Kobs with nine victories against nine defeats for an average of .562 for 1943. During the entire year, the State team played

WAA awards were made last night at the annual spring picnic of the organization which was held at the WAA club, according to Margaret Mahoney, president.

Lois Newman, Hamtramck junior, was named to the WAA honor roll for having received 1,500 points for participating in athletic events. Receiving a mail "S" for 500 points earned were Janet Friday, Doris Ramey, Vera Schneider, Marlene Traxner and Belle Zatzke.

Receiving their numerals for 100 points earned were S. Finley, Gertrude Fitz, Mabel Leonard, Kay McCormick, Marilyn Sharpe. Other numeral winners were Mary Shuter, Pat Taylor, Shirley Thayer and Shirley White.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority won the individual trophy for giving the most points during the athletic season. South Williams received the tennis plaque, and Alpha Phi sorority the baseball plaque. The golf tournament was cancelled because of weather conditions.

MSU women archers took first place in the Midwest of the National Telegraphic intercollegiate archery league and placed 99th nationally. Although this was lower nationally than last year, scores turned in were good. Shooting for the first team was high scorer Margaret Mahoney who had 71 hits and a score of 49. In second place was Mary Armstrong with 69 hits and a score of 365. Others shooting in the first team were Jeannette Moore, Thelma Junker, Mary Kleinhaus, Helen McKindley, Ruth Hankinson and Barbara Muldiner.

FROM A BLEACHER SEAT

By PAT MCCARTHY

SPRING sports, have about taken their last bow for this year on the campus here and sports in general seem to be destined to take another bow for the duration from the present outlook along the Red Cedar.

Athletic Director Ralph Young states that Spartan teams will continue to operate on a full-schedule basis as long as there are enough men on the campus to fill the uniforms for any team and the spirit to play still runs in the student body.

This is the only way to look at the situation but when the bare facts are laid on the table, things look pretty black for State teams ranking among the winning brackets in this part of the country.

Football will be the major sport that will be missed the most on the college campuses of the country, and here at State. From the turnout for the spring practice this year there is little to be nepped up about when Charlie Bachman tries to figure how he will form a team in September.

But from the reports seen in the papers about other schools, and in particular our good friends in Ann Arbor, the mighty Wolverines, it seems that some colleges will be represented pretty strongly on the gridiron this fall.

Coach Fritz Crisler has announced that he will start searching through his student manpower in July for football material. It seems that he has already done some pretty good searching with a guy like George McAtee due on the campus as a physical instructor for navy reserves stationed there. McAtee has a record behind him as a star at Duke in college and with the Chicago Bears in the pro league that makes a coach's heart glad.

According to a recent Associated Press yarn about Crisler plans, the Wolverine coach believes that McAtee will fit very well into his system as a tail-back. Yes, sir, Mr. Crisler, he will probably fit into your system in fact, it is the opinion of this columnist that McAtee would fit into anybody's football system.

It may seem a bit odd to some people, maybe and maybe not—but this hits the questionable spot. How come the Michigan teams have such promise of being service men on their teams next fall and we here must let our soldier-students who have excellent athletic records in other schools come and go without their seeing duty on the Spartan "Varsity"?

The prime goal in much of the training that the air force students receive here is to put them in tough physical condition. For those who would participate on varsity teams, what better way would there be to reach this goal? That service men will be benefited by entering into varsity competition in other schools seems to be the theory. What is wrong with Michigan State that that theory will not work here?

For the present, these questions must go about unanswered. But in the months to come it is the fondest hope of this columnist that the service students here will be included on Bachman's roster by September. Then perhaps we will be able to cry on as Young plans.

Continued, aeromedical research and constant checks in battle areas have resulted in some 400 improvements in Flying Fortresses.

MSC to Obtain Food Orders for Buying

A certificate system to facilitate procurement of foods by schools under contract for training military personnel and by certain vessels was announced today by the War Food administration. Michigan State college has been included in this program.

These contract schools and ship will buy set aside and quota exempt foods under the certificate plan, effective next Tuesday. Set aside foods are those, such as meats and canned fruits and vegetables, of which certain quantities are reserved to meet government requirements. Quota exempt foods are those which government agencies are permitted to buy in excess of civilian quotas, including such items as tea and spices.

Eligible schools are those holding written contracts to feed personnel of the armed services, and which have been specifically authorized by the armed services to purchase set aside and quota exempt foods. Eligible ship operators are those under contract with the War Shipping administration.

Under regulations issued this week, representatives of these schools will provide a certificate to food vendors in obtaining restricted foods. Heretofore procurement difficulties have arisen because there has been no official means of identifying eligible institutions.

School to Receive Army Engineers for Training

Three hundred basic engineers will arrive here sometime between June 14 and July 12 for three terms of training, Director S. E. Crowe, coordinator of the new army student training program, announced yesterday.

The 300 students, who will begin classes July 12, are mostly high school graduates, with a few men of limited college training. All students will be below 22 years of age, Crowe said.

Wells hall will be the probable residence of the basic engineers, according to Sec. Karl McDonel.

The training program will include physics, chemistry, English, geography, history, physical training and military training. Crowe said that this same program would continue for three terms, with some changes in the number of hours carried. In the second term more emphasis will be placed upon science.

"Indications are that eventually there will be 750 engineers, including both basic and advanced students, in training here," Crowe stated.

Placement Offices

Senior women graduating in Liberal Arts, who have not yet accepted employment and who are still on the job hunt, should continue to keep in touch with the Liberal Arts placement office, according to Prof. D. W. Kuykendall, director.

"The placement office wishes to serve to the very best of its ability alumnae who have need of its facilities," he said. Demand for women graduates continues to be brisk, he added, commenting that there are still many more opportunities than there are qualified candidates available.

Marshall Returns
